my name is i am a herod alphon associate professor of business analyticals at maine business school i'm teaching business intelligence and analytical courses for our mb programs which currently enrolls almost 400 students
i'm deeply honored for this award and really grateful to be recognized by my students mentoring students really means a lot to me in my teaching most of our mb are offered as online classes so it is especially important to provide
with a valuable learning experience by paying attention to students particular needs in their studies and the work with them in small groups or one-on-one basis in such a way students can really feel they are engaged in class work and develop a better understanding of the course content taught in class and how it can tremendously help them in their career development sometimes students and i actually worked together to solve immediate real world problems in their everyday jobs and in the meantime many of our students are working professionals some of them been part of the middle or senior management team of their companies so mentoring

also is a study process go in both directions when i teach
they also shared with me their professional experiences that really benefit my teacher as well thank you
