

Abstract

The aim of this work is to describe based on the theory using games in the youth sport training. The next object is to find out, if we can develop skills through games and give examples of games. The work is based on literature and researches. We found, that learning skills may be more effective using games.

Keywords: Game, implicit learning, training, kids