This thesis studies the open problem of packing rectangles.

Is it possible to pack rectangles with dimensions $1/n \times 1/(n+1)$ into a unit square?

The aim of this thesis is analysis of the problem and the related algorithm.

Attention will be focused mainly on the implementation of this algorithm and on study of its functioning.