

TITLE:

The comparison of total body fitness and body versatility by the country pupils in the third years of Czech primary schools with the pupils of the third years of primary schools in Czech big cities.

AUTHOR:

Michaela Hůlová

DEPARTMENT:

Program for future teachers for secondary schools (I.ST), Master's, combined, Faculty of Education

SUPERVISOR:

Mgr. Věra Kuhnová

ABSTRACT:

The issue of declining physical fitness and physical versatility children nowadays is evident from many other studies. To what extent is the child's physical versatility and overall physical fitness in the third grade of primary school pupils also a lifestyle associated with the place of residence of the village amenities, technical equipment of primary schools and, ultimately, value orientation of children and their parents the time to a common physical activities?

On these questions it tries to answer this thesis. Means to compare the physical fitness of students in this study used a test battery Badge Eventing Olympic champions. Labour is trying to describe possible aspects influencing any difference in physical fitness of students third grade through questionnaires and interviews with physical education teachers and parents.

KEYWORDS:

body fitness, third grade of primary school pupils, parents, school equipment, city equipment