Old Warrior Ike Dies After Gallant Battle

Fighting Heart Fades Out After Sequence Of Attacks

Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander in the Second World War of the mightiest armed force ever assembled and former president of the United States, died today.

The announcement of the general's death was made in a somber voice by Brig.-Gen. Frederic Hughes Jr., commanding general of Walter Reed Army Hospital who said that Eisenhower had "died quietly at 12:25 p.m. EST after a long and heroic struggle," and that he had died peacefully.

"Mrs. Eisenhower and members of the immediate family" were nearby at the time of death, Hughes continued.

He added that President Nixon, former President Lyndon and folksy grin from a hospital window when a United States Army band, observing Salute to Eisenhower Week, serenaded him on his birthday Oct. 14.

The grin was undimmed from 1944, when it heartened Allied troops mobilized for the awesome thrust through Normandy to the heart of Nazi Germany, from 1948, when he became president of Columbia University, New York from 1950, when he assumed supreme command of NATO forces, and from 1952, when both Democrats and Republicans sought him as their nominee for U.S. president.

As a Republican, he swept into office and four years later won re-election in what was then the greatest landslide in history.

That made him the only Republican president of this century to win successive White House terms.

DIDN'T LIKE POLITICS
Despite this stunning political victory, Eisenhower disdained always partisan politics and privately made no secret of a dislike for politicians.

"I think in the general derogatory sense you can say, of course, that I do not like politics," he told a 1955 news conference.

And despite his rise to Supreme Allied Commander in Europe during the Second World War, he was no fonder of what he called "this damnable thing of war."

While in the U.S. Army, Eisenhower said he wanted only to see "people in my profession permanently out of a job."

He left office after his second four-year as president proud that he kept the peace; but warning against the growing influence of a "military-industrial complex."

Doctors made no mention of the congestive heart failure March 15 until after Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, said at a party that the general had endured a "particularly bad" day.

Reporters questioned the hospital and were told of the latest onset of heart trouble.

Eisenhower had been in the hospital since April 29 last, when a heart attack felled him in California after a round of golf. He was transferred to Walter Reed and there suffered three more, his seventh coming on Aug. 16.

Since then he had gained vigor, walked short distances, received President Nixon and former president Lyndon B. Johnson, and grinned his famed

Chinese Troops Mass On Border

MOSCOW (AP) — Chinese troops are digging in with a freshly equipped command post and new communications system on the tense Soviet-Chinese border in the Far East, a Soviet army colonel reported today.

The colonel said the Chinese are "throwing a few explosive mines onto Damansky Island" where two bloody clashes between Soviet and Chinese troops took place earlier this month. The Chinese call the disputed island in the Ussuri River Chen Pao.

The report by Col. Sergei Borzenko made no mention of any fighting since March 15.

Writing in Pravda, the colonel said he looked through "optical devices" on a hill near the disputed frontier and could see a Chinese observer sitting atop an abandoned brick factory not far away.

Borzenko said the island, claimed by both Russia and China, soon will be flooded by the spring thaw of the Ussuri.

His report in the Communist party newspaper indicated that neither the Soviets nor the Chinese now occupy the island. It normally is uninhabited.

"At night," Borzenko wrote, "from this side, opposite the island, sounds of earth-moving work can be heard, and farther away there are explosions."

"They are blowing up rocks, equipping a command post and laying communications lines."

The colonel's report also described some activities of the border guards indicating the Soviet are braced for further fighting.

The first two clashes were about two weeks apart.

Mining Sparks MLAs

VICTORIA (CP) — Mining activity in parks again sparked debate in the British Columbia legislature Thursday as the New Democratic Opposition renewed its accusations that the Social Credit government has opened parks to private mining companies.

Such charges have been repeatedly made in previous sessions.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan said the government claimed that a "very small number of claims" issued in 1906 and 1920 had obligated it to issue more claims and give permission for Western Mines lead, zinc and copper mine at the head of Buttle Lake, in Strathcona park, on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Strachan accused the government of changing legislation to allow the mine to operate.

"It is a sorry, shabby story of Buttle Lake and the pollution of that lake," Mr. Strachan said.

Ken Kiernan, now minister of conservation and recreation but who from 1956 to 1963 served as minister of mines, accused Mr. Strachan of deliberately misleading the house.

SAID NOT FACTUAL

Referring to Mr. Strachan's charge that legislation had been changed, Mr. Kiernan said: "I want to tell you this is not a statement of fact."

Anguillans Ready To Welcome Britain's Envoy Lord Caradon

THE VALLEY, Anguilla (Reuters) — Residents of this occupied island today prepared a warm welcome for Lord Caradon, permanent British ambassador to the United Nations and a Caribbean expert known for his liberal views on colonial questions.

Speaking to 300 cheering islanders Thursday, Anguilla leader Ronald Webster said: "Let us pay a welcome to Lord Caradon. He is my guest."

But British authorities emphasized they do not regard Caradon as Webster's guest, saying the ambassador is coming here to assess the situation since the British invasion March 19 before making recommendations to Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart in London.

Caradon however is expected to meet with Webster who returned triumphantly to the 6,000-population island Thursday after several days in New York which included a visit to the United Nations.

FOCUS OF ATTACK
Since the bloodless occupation by paratroops and police, Tony Lee, the British commissioner here, has been given viceregal powers and has become the focus of islanders' attack on the British invasion.

It was feared by some observers here Lee may be sacrificed in negotiations on the island's future.

Moderates as well as radical Anguillans believe the best starting point for any negotiations during Caradon's visit would be for the ambassador to announce the island's constitutional severance from the federation of St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla.

Anguilla declared independence from the federation two years ago and its stateless situation along with British claims of Mafia-type elements on the island led to the invasion.

Norse Skipper Fined $250

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Capt. Kyre Jacobsen of the Norwegian sealing vessel Polariskel was fined $250 or sentenced to two months in jail Thursday when he pleaded guilty to charges of killing seals within Canada's territorial waters.

The charges arose from an incident March 15 near George's Island in Hamilton Inlet, off the east coast of Labrador. The ship was arrested a week later.

Hippie Newspaper

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fines totalling $1,500 were paid Thursday by the hippie newspaper Georgia Straight and two staff members, minutes before a county court deadline expired.

The newspaper editor Dan McLeod and writer Robert Cummings were convicted two months ago of libelling Vancouver Magistrate Lawrence Bellard in a column last July. The newspaper was fined $1,000 and McLeod and Cummings $250 each.

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Czechoslovakia defeated Russia 4-3 today in a crucial game in the world hockey championship and stood one step from the world title.

It was the second Czech victory over Russia in eight days. Now the Czechs need only a tie against Sweden Sunday to take the title for the first time in 20 years.

Czechoslovakia leads the six-country tournament with eight victories and a single loss—to Sweden 2-0 March 19—for 10 points.

The Russians, who are 7-2, have 14 points. They play Canada Sunday in the final game of the two-week tournament. A win over Canada would give Russia 16 points while a Sweden-Czechoslovakia tie would give the Czechs 17 and the title.

Fire Demolishes Valley Landmark

Fire swept through the Duck Lake Inn early today, destroying the nine-year-old building before firemen could halt the blaze.

The fire was already well-started when a neighbor, Mrs. George Anderson, called in the Winfield Volunteer Fire Brigade at 1:30 a.m.

Members of the Vancouver Ballet Company, returning from a concert in the area, first spotted the fire as they drove past in a bus. They checked inside to see if anyone were trapped or asleep, then woke Mrs. Anderson.

In spite of the early hour, a large number of spectators arrived to watch the blaze, which Mrs. Anderson said appeared to start in the kitchen area.

The inn recently opened on weekends for business after closure for the winter, was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Kilba, 654 Roanoke Ave. They bought the building two years ago from Max Jacobi, well-known Kelowna wood carver who built the structure nine years ago.

An undetermined number of Mr. Jacobi's wood carvings were destroyed in the fire, and several outside the building were slightly damaged. (Mr. Jacobi carved the bears that stand guard in Kelowna's City Park.)

"The building was engulfed when we got there," Winfield fire chief Ben Crookes said today, describing the fire-fighting operation.

The brigade's fire truck and tanker were sent to the scene, and about 27 men fought the blaze until 4:30 a.m. All that remains today is the concrete foundation and chimney.

Mr. Crookes said the fire apparently started on the south side of the building, but the cause has not been determined. Brought to the scene after the fire was extinguished, the owner could not help in discovering where and why the fire started.

Although the Duck Lake Inn had gasoline pumps on the site, they were not endangered by the blaze. Firemen, however, spent most of their water wetting a propane gas tank and oil storage tank, both in the path of the fire. The streams of water kept the tanks from exploding.

Mr. Kilba, the owner, was not available for comment, but estimates of damage from the fire are in the $30,000 to $40,000 range.

The building was insured.

Red China's Hand Seen in Trouble At Montreal

Nationalist China's ambassador in Canada said today that Canadian recognition of the Communist Chinese government could be treated by Hsueh Yu-Chi as an Ottawa service club that the student riots in Paris last year were—according to responsible French officials—instigated and financed by the Communist Chinese embassy there.

SIR MAX AITKEN Britain's best

There will be a slow grain shipping pace out of Vancouver in the next couple of weeks. Trade Minister Jean-Luc Pepin told the Commons Thursday. Mr. Pepin was peppered with opposition questions concerning movement of grain to ports from the Prairies and the flow of shipping from those ports. He sparked a flurry of questions himself when, replying to Jack Horner (PC—Crowfoot), he blamed the opposition for slow grain movements from Vancouver.

Mr. Aitken, chairman of Beaverbrook Newspapers Ltd., urged a luncheon audience in Ottawa not to be deceived by pessimistic talk about Britain. "Britain denigrates itself but it doesn't do so badly," he told the Canadian Club of Ottawa. Sir Max is son of the late Lord Beaverbrook and publisher of The Daily Express of London. Britain, he said, had the best strike record of any Commonwealth country. British farmers have increased production by four times and halved their labor force since the war. He predicted British genius will continue to assert itself in the world assisted by the country's $11,000,000,000 in overseas assets—one-eighth of them in Canada.

O. St. P. Aitkens, who helped found Okanagan Helicopters Ltd., will retire as chairman of the board after the annual meeting of shareholders April 25. A member of Okanagan's board since the company's inception in 1947, and chairman for two years, Aitkens will stand for re-election as a director, a company announcement said in Vancouver.

Fire claimed the life of an elderly couple early Thursday in a blaze that caused extensive damage to a bedroom of their home in Vancouver. Peter Kaayk, 82, and his wife Julia, 72, died in hospital after suffering burns in the fire.

Franz Olah, a former interior minister and once one of the most powerful men in Austria, was sentenced Thursday in Vienna to a year in prison for fraud. The court also ordered that he be given only bread and water one day every three months of the sentence.

Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky offered in Saigon Thursday to go to Hanoi if necessary to discuss peace, but also threatened a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam. Speaking a few hours before Viet. Cong delegates at the Paris peace talks rejected Saigon's offer to hold direct secret talks, Ky said he is ready to travel to Hanoi "if Ho Chi Minh invites me."

The national assembly voted unanimously Thursday to name lawyer Louis Marceau of Quebec City as Quebec's first ombudsman or public protector. Mr. Marceau, 42-year-old dean of law at Laval University, will get a salary of $30,000 a year to handle complaints against government administration.

Nanaimo Mayor Frank Ney Wednesday told nearby Lantzville ratepayers this Vancouver Island municipality may double within the next 10 to 15 years and invited them to consider the possibility of amalgamation with the city. Integration of the area would make available more money for recreation facilities and do away with duplication of many services, he said.

Mines Minister Frank Richter said in Victoria Thursday that British Columbia could have a viable steel industry if the federal government gave it aid equal to its investment in the Dosco Steel plant in Nova Scotia. The reference to the Dominion Steel Company came in the legislature as debate started on estimates totalling $5,329,268 for the department of mines and petroleum resources in the coming fiscal year.

Reservation Indians are being cemented into the status of "special people" despite all the preaching about integration, Mark Smerchanski (L-Prov-echer) charged Thursday in Ottawa. He accused Manitoba government officials of making political hay with federal funds intended to spur economic development programs on reserves and said such programs at times raised unnecessary barriers to Indian integration in the surrounding region.

The government has checked with the CBC over a news report last weekend on a uranium discovery in Quebec, the Commons was informed Thursday. Robert Stanbury, parliamentary secretary to State Secretary Gerard Pelletier, said he had asked the CBC about the report and had been told that the corporation believes its employees exercised proper journalistic practice in the March 21 report. There had been time between the Friday night report and the opening of stock markets Monday for comment and clarification. The CBC also said that a spokesman for the company involved did not contradict the report itself but only the tonnage involved.

Canada has lodged protests with France, the European Common Market and trade-agreement headquarters in Geneva against subsidized price-cutting by France in world barley trade. Trade Minister Jean-Luc Pepin denounced the French trade practice before the Commons finance committee delegates at the Paris peace talks. He said Canada has made representations about it in Paris, with the common market and at Geneva, headquarters of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

David Lewis, deputy leader of the New Democratic Party, said Thursday in Toronto Canada should withdraw from NATO and other military alliances and begin looking for a new international role. Mr. Lewis, member of a parliamentary delegation which recently toured NATO countries, said he saw no hope for NATO fulfilling the main hope he had for it—a detente in Europe and a political-negotiated peace between East and West.

Proposed new laws on abortion, homosexuality, impaired driving, firearms and lotteries passed another parliamentary hurdle Thursday as they won approval from the Commons justice committee.

The committee rejected seven attempts to kill or narrow the new therapeutic abortion clause, the most controversial portion of the 120-clause bill.

The 20-member committee began work on the Criminal Code amendments March 4 and Liberals, Conservatives and New Democrats engineered a number of minor changes.

The single major amendment to win passage went through against the wishes of the government and was proposed by Liberal C. Terrence Murphy, MP for Sault Ste. Marie.

It softened the penalties and procedure for a new provision that would make breath tests for blood alcohol compulsory and make a reading higher than eight one-hundredths of one per cent an offence.

The government is expected to try to reinstate the original penalties—the same as those for impaired driving—when the bill comes up for third reading in the Commons, its next major stage.

The abortion clause would follow therapeutic abortion where a hospital committee certifies that continued pregnancy would endanger the life or health of the mother.

THEN HE IGNORED CRYSTAL BALLS

EDMONTON (CP)—Highways Minister Gordon Taylor told the Alberta legislature he gave up looking into crystal balls some time ago.

Len Werry (PC—Calgary Bowness) asked how long it would take Mr. Taylor's department to complete work on Highway 2 between Calgary and Edmonton.

"I gave up looking into crystal balls some time ago when I visited Chicago and put a dime in a machine," the bachelor minister replied.

"I received the answer that I was very beautiful and would be the mother of six lovely children."

Judge Claims He's Victim

TORONTO (CP)—Countercharges by Provincial Judge Lucien Kurata that he is the target of a police conspiracy to destroy him marked the seventh day of an inquiry into his behavior.

Judge Kurata testified Thursday that a minority of members of morality (the police morality squad) were dissatisfied with a few of the judgments he had handed down.

He said that testimony by policewoman Mrs. Marlene Watson and two other police officers should be disregarded by Justice Donald Keith, commissioner of the inquiry, as a "pack of unmitigated lies."

"Are you suggesting she is part of a police conspiracy to destroy you... because some members of the morality bureau are displeased?" commissioner Gordon Ford asked.

"That's what I said," Judge Kurata replied.

On Wednesday, Judge Kurata denied testimony by Mrs. Watson that he had led her by the hand to his office Nov. 15 and had touched her breast and mentioned undressing.

He also said he had never seen Catherine Lonsberry, an admitted prostitute, who accused him of taking her to his office Nov. 1 and committing an indecent act in her presence.

He said he could think of no motive for Mrs. Lonsberry's testimony "except as a person who seeks to gain notoriety."

Wilson Starts Lagos Meet

LAGOS (Reuters)—Prime Minister Wilson of Britain started talks today with Nigerian leader of state Gen. Yakubu Gowon expected to cover British arms for Nigeria and the bombing of Biafra.

Wilson, who drove to Gowon's heavily-guarded military headquarters for the talks, intends to present various proposals for halting the fighting, informed sources said.

But Gowon is expected to press Britain for more arms for a final push to crush secessionist Biafra.

There have been complaints by Nigeria that arms deliveries have been delayed, and Wilson is believed ready to give Gowon a report on opposition in Britain to the arms policy itself and concern about news of indiscriminate air raids on Biafran villages.

Some speculated the prime minister might urge a bombing pause in the 20-months-old civil war while fresh efforts would be made to resume peace talks.

WANTS STATES UNITED Nigerian leaders have ruled out any ceasefire until Biafran renoucer Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu renounces secession and accepts the principle of a united 12-state Nigeria.

Voters Whittle At U.K. Labor

LONDON (CP)—Disgruntled British voters continued Thursday to pick away at the Labor government's majority in the House of Commons, ousting Labor from one seat and re-installing Conservatives in two others in parliamentary byelections.

It was the first test of voter sentiment in Britain since November and it showed that Prime Minister Wilson's government has had no more success at regaining popularity than it has had correcting the national economic problems which cause public discontent.

Walthamstow East riding in London rejected its former Labor affiliation and elected Tory Michael McNair-Wilson, 39, a hard-campaigning public relations executive. He turned a previous Labor majority of 1,800 votes into a Tory lead of nearly 5,500—a swing of 16 per cent.

The Conservatives had previously held the other two seats, Weston-Super-Mare and Brighton Pavilion, with comfortable margins but their leads were greatly increased Thursday. At the seaside area of Weston-Super-Mare, Labor fell behind even the Liberal candidate as Tory farmer Alfred Wiggin, 32, won out.

At Brighton, former Conservative MP Julian Amery celebrated his 50th birthday by winning. Son-in-law of former prime minister Harold Macmillan and minister of aviation in 1962-64, he had been defeated in the 1966 Labor landslide.

McNair-Wilson polled 13,158 votes. Labor candidate Colin Phipps got 7,671. In the 1966 election, Labor, 20: 15,703, Conservatives, 13,808 and Liberals 3,229.

Amery got 17,638 votes to 4,654 for Labor candidate Thomas Skeffington-Lodge. Liberal Nesta Wyn Ellis drew 2,711. In 1966, the Conservatives drew 22,687 to Labor's 16,333.

Wiggin polled 29,211 votes compared with Liberal Edward Deal's 8,739. Labor's Nicholas Bosanquet drew 6,504. In 1966 the vote was Conservatives 27,733, Labor 15,340 and Liberals 10,173.

The results brought a predictable demand from Conservative party headquarters for Labor to resign and call a general election. There was an equally predictable rejection from government quarters.

Wilson has until May, 1971, before he must call another general election.

After Thursday's election, this was the standing in the Commons: Labor 345, Conservatives and allies 260, Liberals 12, Republican Labor 1, Independent Conservative 1, Welsh Nationalist 1, Scottish Nationalist 1, Speaker and deputies 3, vacancies 5. Total 630.

Alberta Will Enter Medicare But Health Minister May Quit

EDMONTON (CP)—Health Minister J. Donovan Ross was firm Thursday when he told the legislature Alberta will enter the federal medical care plan July 1. But he was vague about his own political future.

Dr. Ross, an admitted opponent of the federal scheme, said in an interview he had made it clear at the Social Credit leadership convention last year that it was "not my desire to remain in public life."

"I believe that with the advent of medicare it would be desirable for a new man to take on the health portfolio."

In announcing the province's entry in the medical care scheme, Dr. Ross said that in addition to medical services, the proposed plan will include the services of optometrists and chiropractors and dentists "up to certain limits."

The provincial share of the costs will be met by a premium to be set later by a provincial authority.

He said the rates probably would be close to those established in British Columbia and in Manitoba where the plan becomes effective April 1.

"Probably about $80 for a single person and $120 for a couple with a premium rate for families," Dr. Ross said. He did not elaborate on family rates.

Basic rates under the existing Alberta Health Plan are $76 for a single person, $152 for two persons and $200 for three or more persons in a family.

Consideration will be given to people in low-income groups under programs of the welfare department.

WILL HAVE ROLE Dr. Ross said there will still be a role for Blue Cross and Medical Services Incorporated to provide "a package of options" when medical care becomes a reality.

Commenting outside the house on his own political future, Dr. Ross said he will remain as an M.L.A. "and serve my time out" but will not be averse to accepting the lands and forests portfolio.

He said although the situation "may have had some personal effect on me, it would never force me to resign."

"However it would be desirable for a new man to take on the job and if Premier Strom feels there is some way this can be done, I would go along with any changes he would make."

Premier Strom declined comment on any cabinet shuffle.

The Blue Angels Same Old Thing Regatta To Perform Here Not Repeated This Year

The Blue Angels, the crack United States Navy aerobatic team, will fly into Kelowna this August for two performances on the Thursday of the 63rd International Regatta.

Valley residents who thrilled to performances by the Canadian Forces Golden Hawks, the Red Knight and the Golden Centennaires, will be equally impressed by the Blue Angels, who fly aircraft capable of 1,600 mph, more than twice the speed of sound and nearly three times faster than any team aircraft ever seen in the Okanagan.

Confirmation of the Blue Angels performances in the afternoon and evening Aug. 7 has been received from the chief of naval staff, USN, Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. Alice Runnalls, in charge of Regatta entertainment planning, said "securing the Blue Angels was an exercise in persistence. A pitch for this internationally known group was initiated Jan. 16 last year and through diligent negotiations with U.S. Navy officials it finally paid off. The local Regatta liaison officer with the Blue Angels is retired RCAF Group Capt. E. C. Snider, assisted by Regatta co-ordinator Jim Hayes.

Mrs. Runnalls said, "this is not the first time Kelowna has confounded the experts by enticing these national and international attractions to a smaller city. Regatta seems to have adopted the philosophy of the former Kelowna centennial committee—if you don't ask, you don't get."

The Angels use seven aircraft, F-4 Phantom jets, with four in the main performance, two for solo work and one for familiarization flights.

And, talk about flying experience; the seven pilots have a total of more than 1,000 combat missions chalked up in Vietnam and Korea. The whole team consists of 100 people, transported from shows in a huge transport aircraft.

The Blue Angels have been thrilling flying fans throughout the world for 23 years and their routine will look familiar to fans of the Golden Hawks and Centennaires, except for the speed, which is considerably faster.

None of the manoeuvres are stunts, but serious fighter-pilot tactical efforts, learned at high altitude and brought down to eye level for show purposes.

Like the Canadian teams, both of which have been disbanded, the Angel pilots use the formation diamond formation, with wing tips only three feet apart. The Angels claim they fly their diamond tighter than any other aerobatic team in the world, at times with their wings completely overlapping, with speed slowed from near supersonic, to a near stall.

Their performance is certain to be a Regatta highlight.

If you have avoided the Kelowna Regatta for the past few years because you thought it was dull, you had better get set to change your thinking this year.

Although the famous Okanagan water spectacular is more than four months away, current planning indicates Canada's greatest water show will indeed become the greatest.

Kelowna and district people who seek activities for more local participation may find themselves with so much to do, three days might not be enough.

The Kelowna International Regatta Association got the challenge last fall at a public meeting, which focused much criticism about "the same old thing every year" onto the executive's shoulders. The challenge has already been met, with a bigger executive, full of fresh ideas to keep you busy on land, in the water and even in the sky.

New ideas already almost outnumber the old Regatta standbys and more fresh concepts are coming at every executive meeting.

By the time Aug. 6 rolls around you won't recognize the "old Regatta, both in its appearance in and around the City Park and in its attractions. By the time the show winds up Aug. 9 your thoughts of "it's about time they came up with something new," will be replaced by "how could they come up with such an improved show in only one year?"

Want proof?

Try some of these to tickle your participation fancy:

- The most bands ever for the Wednesday evening parade, probably 20, compared with the usual dozen or less. They'll come from both Canada and the United States and some will stay the whole four days to keep you entertained.
- The fastest aerobatic team in the world, the United States Navy Blue Angels, flying 1,600 mph aircraft in not one, but two shows on the Thursday.
- The popular Tommy Hunter show, straight out of television, for three nights at the Ogopogo Stadium.

• A joint Kelowna Musical Productions-Kelowna Little Theatre comedy revue, OK Days, running nightly at the Community Theatre from Monday to Wednesday.

• A 30-mile canoe race, starting and finishing at the City Park, featuring professional paddlers from as far afield as Flin Flon, and amateurs from throughout Western Canada.

• A bathtub race, also 30 miles, and only the second of its kind on the continent; tailor-made for local people who want to participate in the Regatta.

• More to see and do in and around the City Park than you have ever seen before, for people of all ages and interests.

• And that's just the beginning. By the time the new-look Regatta executive gets through pleasing you, you will be amazed at how many thousands of hours they spent making the 63rd Regatta truly the best ever.

Details of what's in store were reviewed Thursday night at a Regatta general meeting attended by more than three dozen people.

They were told by Lady of the Lake Marina Maundrell and her lady in waiting Val Paul that "you have the best men possible planning the Regatta this year and their enthusiasm has transferred to us easily."

They were told a group of Kamloops sky-divers would plunge through the dark night skies above the City Park carrying torches to a watery-drop zone.

They were told the Canadian National Railways is interested in running scenic train trips to and from Vernon during Regatta Week and that local scouts and cubs are considering a two-afternoon ice stamped at the Memorial Arena.

"They heard of a spectacular 'crownarama' planned for Wednesday night, featuring a host of local people and all 12 Lady of the Lake candidates.

You will be hearing a lot more of this busy group in the coming weeks and early in August you will be able to pass judgment for yourselves.

A bit of advice: be prepared for an action-filled week.

Jeunesses Musicales Concert Series Ending Here Saturday

Dancers from the Vancouver Ballet Society's training program, under the professional direction of Franklin White, will be on their toes Saturday night in the Kelowna Community Theatre.

The fourth and final presentation of the Jeunesses Musicales concert season will be a polished look back-stage into a concentrated ballet training program, as seen from the eye of the director, student and theatre-goer.

Mr. White, former leading male dancer of England's Royal Ballet, will attempt, with company, to give viewers a basis for ballet appreciation. During the performance he is said to demonstrate dance routines while presenting a witty commentary.

The program is reported to contain a spontaneity missing in a strictly choreographed ballet. According to Mr. White, "It has to be seen, particularly by my favorite type of audience—the unconvinced, un-converted and downright anti-ballet people."

"I think the program explodes the myths about ballet," he said, "particularly the fears of males of being seen at a ballet performance."

"The performance gives a background of common sense and understanding of this easily understood and enjoyable art. It is not really a 'ballet', but an active demonstration of some of the material of ballet," he said.

"What makes a dancer? The dedication, hard work and discipline needed from an early age—the comedy and tragedy of their lives. This is what we'll be trying to show—realism."

"This is not a look at a local ballet school," said the director. "It's a glimpse of what makes a dancer good enough, in the minds of his instructors and of the knowing public, to join a ballet company."

The program starts at 7:30 Saturday, with tickets, on sale at the door.

THE 'FASTER THAN SOUND' U.S. NAVY BLUE ANGELS ... Practising for Two Kelowna Regatta Performances

SEEN and HEARD

Many things are habit-forming and Jack Brown is entitled to slip once in a while. The city's recreation man last year was given a dinner and a trip to Mexico by his friends, after working his recreation beat for seven years without a real vacation. That's right, Jack got hooked on the south of the border bit and this time, at his own expense, he's taking his whole family.

L. R. Stephens, Kelowna, will be honored Friday with a special dinner presented by his company, Okanagan Federated Shippers. Mr. Stephens is retiring from the firm after 50 years of service. The dinner will be held at the Capri, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Embrey of Lake-shore Road, near the mouth of Mission Creek, has for the past five years kept track of the return of swallows to Kelowna and every year according to her records, they come on the same date. Thursday she looked out her window and there was the advance group of four or five and the date is the same, as it has been for five years, March 27.

Jim Pantan, an old friend of Kelowna's and the whole Okanagan, was given a vote of thanks at Thursday's Regatta general meeting. Best remembered in recent years, for handling the commentary during straight and comedy diving at the Regatta night shows, Mr. Pantan is now looking after recreation matters for the provincial government's community programs branch.

The Daily Courier's Company of Champions (aquatic division) is open for challenges in the Ogopogo. Bathtub Race, planned for this year's Regatta. Arrangements are under way to have a prize (including one day's supply of bubble bath) awarded to the winner. A special classification (for beginning bathubbers) will have to be arranged and people who prefer baths to showers may be excluded because of an unfair experience edge.

If the family jalopy needs a 'fresh-up' job, the place to go is to Capri shopping centre Saturday where the Job's Daughters are holding a car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. And you'll get a penny change back from $1 when you settle the charges.

What ever happened to the good old service station spring change-over? Every fall the signs appear—winterize; now, probably only naturally, the new signs say "summerize."

Or does that mean there really won't be much spring-like weather in these parts this year, that we'll go from winter to summer, so a spring change-over won't be required?

One More Try To Get Services

"One more appeal" will be made soon by school district 23 (Kelowna) to have city water and sewer lines servicing the proposed secondary school on KLO Road.

A meeting of trustees with the city's engineering department March 19 confirmed the city's earlier refusal to provide the services to the site—which is beyond city limits. The trustees were told to go to the provincial government for help.

Tentative arrangements are being made to present the case at a council meeting within a few weeks, although the city has said "there is nothing more we can do."

T. R. Carter, chairman of the board's building committee, said at Thursday's board meeting if the request is again turned down, the construction will have to go ahead with plans for a septic tank and well.

Mr. Carter, however, brought some happier news from the trustee-city meeting. A section of Birch Avenue, adjacent to Dr. Knox Secondary School,

Young Delegates Plan UN Future

If students ran the world, and it looks like they might, life would be a lot more exciting.

With a liberal sprinkling of mini-skirts among the odd burros, the giant Kelowna model United Nations assembly swung into full sessions today.

More than 100 students, representing the 128 UN countries, were seated in Kelowna Secondary School as the five special committees began work on their resolutions.

Another 300 students and sponsors gathered here from B.C., Alberta, the Northwest Territories and Washington State high schools, are acting as aides and special advisers.

The 400-student delegates were welcomed to the city by Ald. R. J. Wilkinson, who told them: "There are a lot of people looking at you and to you, and as such you have assumed a responsibility."

"I suggest you treat that responsibility with respect."

Kelowna's Lady of the Lake, grade 12 KSS student Marina Maundrell, welcomed the delegates, "as a Kelowna Secondary student myself," and issued to them a personal invitation to attend Kelowna's Aug. 6 to 9 Regatta "en masse."

Following the official welcome, a film, "Beyond Conception," dealing with forms of contraception, was viewed by the delegates.

BOARD BRIEFS

More Construction Soon For District 23's Schools

Construction valued at $250,735 at various properties was announced Thursday by school district 23 (Kelowna). Tenders have already been called for four activity rooms, a library, corridors and other projects at these schools—Westbank elementary, Lakview elementary, West Rutland elementary and Wood Lake elementary. The board was reminded the provincial government will soon lift a ban on approval of funds for activity room construction.

At the orientation meeting, Mr. Orme and his assistants interviewed 130 teacher training students, made 33 job offers and have 14 acceptances so far.

Trustees gave themselves a pat on the back Thursday—the annual auditor's report shows a budget surplus for the first time in three years. Although the amount of this year's surplus will not be made public until June, secretary-treasurer Fred Macklin said, "We have come out fairly well this year, with some money to spare."

The board's 1969 budget is now in Victoria for government approval, due back April 15.

REGATTA BRIEFS

More To See And Do Planned For City Park

In keeping with the new-look Kelowna Regatta, a host of new attractions are planned for the Kelowna City Park during Regatta Week. Grounds committee chairman Roger Tait told Thursday's general meeting of several new attractions, designed with participation in mind for people of all ages.

Gone forever is the "walk through the park in an hour and see everything" idea and in its place "let's give everyone something to do, as well as see," attitude.

Also planned is a Bernard Avenue mall, from Water Street, around the corner along Abbot Street, for three days and nights. In this area alone there will be enough to keep most people busy for many hours, especially if you like dancing, eating or painting.

On person with a vital interest in the new concept is finance committee chairman Ted Runnalls. He hasn't said much to date about fitting everything into a balanced budget, but he shares the mood of confidence that a good Regatta, one that will please local people, will be a financial success. He asked the 10 committee heads Thursday to take a close look at their budget requirements, then have them all in by April 20. As in all other departments, financial arrangements are being made earlier than in past years.

Directors and about two dozen citizens were told of promotion work to date by Jack Cooper and of future plans, including at least one more trip to Spokane, this year's honor city.

Training of the 12 Lady of the Lake candidates, the most ever, has started, five judges have been selected and judging will start earlier than in past years. The new Lady of the Lake will be crowned on the opening night of the Regatta.

And, for a light touch, negotiations are under way to arrange a visit by Vancouver's popular (in some quarters) town fool, Joachim Folks.

Four Months For Albertan

Jack Anderson, Red Deer, was sentenced to nine months in jail by magistrate D. M. White today.

Four concurrent sentences, three of three months each and one of nine months duration, were imposed after Anderson was convicted of writing worthless cheques to obtain groceries, gasoline and cash. The offences occurred in January. One charge was for an amount of more than $50.

The man has been in custody since early February, when he was arrested at the RCMP detachment headquarters in Kelowna while laying a complaint against another person.

R. S. Porter, Anderson's lawyer, recommended the man serve his sentence where psychiatric help is available, and also requested charges pending from Alberta against the man be heard here. The court concurred with both recommendations.

The only other conviction today was against R. and A. TV Clinic, 350 Lawrence Ave., which was fined $25 for failing to file a 1968 T-2 income tax return.

SUNNY weather, with winds, light is forecast for the Kelowna area today and Saturday. The low temperature tonight and the high Saturday should be 25 and 62 respectively. Kelowna recorded the second highest temperature in Canada Thursday, with 66 degrees. Pentiction recorded 68, as Canada's hot spot. Kelowna's overnight low was 32, highs and lows recorded on the same date a year ago were 54 and 39, with a trace of rain.

APRIL 10

Kelowna 4-II Club members are invited to an organization meeting April 10 at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Allan, Strimel Road. The purpose of the meeting is to elect an executive for the nine-member 4-II Garden Club, soon to be organized for this year's activities.

One-Eyed Monster Vehicles Contest Nearing Conclusion

The six-week battle by local service stations against one-eyed monsters (improperly lighted automobiles) is almost over.

Problem is, it's still a toss-up who's winning, careless motorists or safety-conscious service stations. More and more of the one-eyed cars have been seen in the past week.

Pete Rattel, organizer of the contest to sell as many seal-beam headlights as possible, says operators will get together Wednesday to count their tallies of sales, and award the first prize, a portable car vacuum cleaner.

Ho also has an explanation for the increase of one-eyed monsters: "Now that the snow is gone from the roads, a lot of pebbles and gravel is being thrown up by cars; and these smash headlights."

The surest way to get your headlight smashed by flying gravel, Mr. Rattel warns, is to tail-gate the car in front of you. He feels this is one major reason so many lights are being broken.

In northern B.C. the problem is so bad that police have authorized the use of plastic shields to protect headlights. These shields are illegal elsewhere.

To date between 400 and 500 of the headlights have been sold by local service stations, Mr. Rattel estimates, and a final surge of selling continues this week.

Tuesday Deadline Nearing For Your Family's Pet Dog

Provincial government officials are getting "dog-tired" of district canines running loose and without required licenses.

Bert Manson, provincial government agent in Kelowna, said today rural dog-owners should have had their animals licensed by Jan. 1.

Provincial licenses are mandatory for all dogs outside corporate limits. Fees are $2 for a male animal and a spayed female; $4 for a female and $20 for a kennel.

Kelowna dog-owners have until Tuesday to obtain 1969 licenses.

For a male over four months, the fee is $5; for a female over four months the fee is $10. The license for a spayed female is only $5, but a certificate showing the dog has been spayed must be produced.

City officials said dogs caught running at large will be impounded.

Real UFO Of Stunt?

Was he looking at a real UFO, or another plastic bag and candle stunt?

An unidentified Cadder Avenue, man said today he watched an object in the sky for about five minutes at 1:45 a.m. today. He didn't have an explanation, "but whatever was in the sky didn't agree with neighborhood dogs, who tried to frighten the object away by barking."

The man said the object was "about as high as an airplane," toward the Kelowna Airport, in line with Rutland where man-made flying objects have been reported.

The man said the object appeared to be "10-feet-wide and 10 feet long... it was stationary for a couple of minutes, then slowly disappeared."

If the object was a prank, the pranksters are staying up late and taking a chance on a small audience.

Renovations At Underhill

Renovations at the Underhill Clinic, including the addition of a second floor, started this week.

A clinic spokesman said the renovations were nearly completed of the building as laid out in the original plans. He said the second story was being added to provide more office and administration space. No estimate of the cost was available.

Sale Will Help Teens

The Kelowna Teen Town, one of the most active and effective Teen Towns in the province, is holding a bake sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, in Dyck's Drugs, 545 Bernard Ave.

Teen Town president, Mike Pretwell, said the sale's proceeds will be used to help send delegates to the B.C. Teen Association convention at Port Alberni, running from Wednesday to Saturday next week.

"We're trying to get about 20 kids there, who will be paying a large part of the expenses themselves," said Mike.

Not Eisenhower The Great But Eisenhower The Good

Former President Eisenhower is dead. Almost 80 years old, for months he has put up a good front with a faulty heart that was plainly ready to give up.

Ike was an old soldier. His day has passed. His twilight to him was a vast twilight. The guns are long since quiet and the armies he led have retreated into the kind of history that smells chiefly of the pages of an old book.

Elegant young intellectuals between puffs at their long cigarette holders—some of them men, some of them women, and some of them dubious—today scoff on stage and over TV at the type of battle Ike and his armies knew. Churchill is a bit of a joke, they say; wars were unnecessary at any rate, and who cares as long as the new intelligentsia gets paid to tell humanity what it should do and how it should behave.

An old soldier, Eisenhower, but no older than thousands and hundreds of thousands of his contemporaries who answered the only real question of heart and conscience and took the ultimate risk to turn back a threat to everything they knew was worthwhile. They saw no new Jerusalem, but they gave other generations a chance. If war settles nothing, or never did, 1914 was a mirage; 1939 was a burlesque. Hitler is a ghost, like the Kaiser, Napoleon and Caesar.

Not Eisenhower the Great, but Eisenhower the Good—that is how he will be recorded on the scroll of American presidents. Many stronger men have occupied the White House, who have excited more admiration, respect, fear, reverence, even worship. But none has ever been so loved.

Perhaps never before in history did a leader wield such massive power with so warm and human a touch. Certainly the United States and the world, East as well as West, can be thankful that when the thermonuclear age dawned with all its terrors and temptations, the man in charge of the major arsenal was also one of the great pacifiers of all time.

In a strange and portentous sense, Ike Eisenhower has died with his generation. Maybe he wondered, in his final hours, whether it was worth it. We don't wonder if he did. We suspect he knew it was. He respected humanity. He knew its stuff. Let him rest. He has earned it.

Argues Case For Logging

(Victoria Times)
Just when the conservation message appears to be getting through to the deepest boardrooms, along comes another voice from the past to confirm that this is an educational task which is never completed. The latest example of thinking carried over from another era comes from Mr. William F. Wilson, the new president of the Canadian Lumberman's Association.

Arguing his case for logging in parks, Mr. Wilson said there is no need to set aside big tracts of land for parks because most tourists never go far off the road network into the backwoods. Without commercial development, he said, few people use the parks because they don't like roughing it in the bush. "I've done that lots of times in the lumbering game and it's not much fun," he added.

It appears that Mr. Wilson is as much out of touch with trends in recreation as in conservation. The evidence clearly shows that more people each year are seeking solitude and quiet than only untrammeled areas can provide. And as the pace of modern life becomes more hectic, their numbers inevitably will increase.

The obligation on this generation is to ensure that parkland now held in the people's name is not encroached on by interests supporting Mr. Wilson's point of view. Progress has been made in this direction as values and attitudes change, and it is hoped that Mr. Wilson does not speak for all members of the association.

Wilson's Action Justified

(Calgary Herald)
The British government may expect some criticism for dispatching paratroops to occupy the rebel Caribbean island of Anguilla. On the surface, this action appears to be an example of a powerful nation suppressing the right to self-determination of a small but intensely proud island nation.

But, on a deeper level, the Wilson government's action was justified, and in the long run it should prove to have been in the best interests of the 6,000 citizens of this tiny island community.

There is reason to believe that some of the grievances of the Anguillians are legitimate, and that Britain is prepared to acknowledge them.

Unfortunately, in the latter half of the Twentieth Century, the prospects for true Anguillian autonomy are dim. The island is strategically located in the Caribbean, and if permitted to continue its wayward drift it could easily fall victim to an unfriendly, possibly Communist power. Even more probable at the present time is the danger that prolonged British vacillation could attract gangster elements to the island and make it a centre of vice.

Big Celebrations Planned To Mark Capt. Cook's Visit

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — Large-scale preparations are under way here to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the first visit to New Zealand of the famous navigator Capt. James Cook, who landed Oct. 9, 1769.

Ceremonies, memorials, statues, plaques, exhibitions, coins, stamp and chart issues, awards, books, and visits by foreign dignitaries are planned to mark the occasion. New Zealand was discovered by Maori voyagers who crossed the Pacific in primitive canoes, perhaps as early as 800 A.D. The first European visitor was a Netherlands captain, Abel Tasman in 1642, but no one followed in his tracks for more than a century.

Cook's visit marked the real beginning of European influence. He made two further voyages to New Zealand, and thereafter many ships followed. It is estimated that there are already some 200 Cook memorials round the world at places he discovered or points he visited.

There will be more after the New Zealand commemoration.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Please Say A Word About Keratosis . . .

By DR. GEORGE THOSTESON

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you say a word about keratosis? I have a hard time explaining to friends why, although I appear to be healthy, I have to go to a dermatologist. The keratoses appear on my face. Why are so few people affected? I am 71. —C.T.

I can't agree that few are affected. Many are. And it makes the best of sense to have a dermatologist check them, and remove them when warranted.

A keratosis is a local thickening of the skin. Most are flat. Some may be raised and pyramidal and look like a tiny horn. Some keratoses are removed for appearance's sake. Some however, may be precancerous. Any change in size or character of the keratosis indicates that it should be removed, before it can start to cause real trouble.

Removal is by electro-desiccation, which is simple: a bit of novocain, buzz-buzz with the electric needle, and the defect has been removed. I've had a few removed myself, and I'm a fair number of years younger than you are. Ignore the wonderment of your friends. Like other skin disorders, some folks are subject to them, others aren't. Keratoses, usually scattered and appearing mainly on face and arms, are more common among individuals who over the years have been much exposed to sun and wind. The type of skin a person has also has a considerable bearing on the matter.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has a disease called gout. His father says it is caused from nerves and that it can be cured. However, a friend says there is no cure and the chances are it will cause damage to the kidneys and kill a person. Now my husband is upset and doesn't know whom to believe. —A.J.K. Gout is not caused "by nerve". It is a disorder of the body's metabolism, preventing adequate expulsion of excessive uric acid by the system.

There is no permanent cure, but with modern medications the uric acid level can be controlled very effectively in most cases.

Gout does not attack the kidneys directly. However, when the uric acid level is permitted to rise, there is much greater risk of kidney stones forming, and such stones can be painful. Over a period of time, repeated stones can, of course, seriously damage the kidneys, but saying that a person will die of kidney disease just because he has gout is a vastly exaggerated statement.

The Royal New Zealand Navy will publish a new chart of the country, with a copy inset of Cook's chart, as the basis of all subsequent New Zealand charts.

The government will subsidize monuments at other significant points and the National Historic Places Trust proposes to erect plaques at several places not hitherto marked. Gisborne also plans a statue of Nicholas Young, 12-year-old cabin boy on Cook's ship Endeavour, who first sighted land and gave his name to the headland he saw—Young Nick's Head.

Until now there have been two well-known statues of Cook in New Zealand: one in Christchurch, and a fine marble one at the Captain Cook brewery in Auckland. More than one copy of the brewery version is being cast in bronze for bicentenary uses.

Cook made five main landfalls at points on the New Zealand coast on his first voyage, and celebrations are planned at all. The Queen and Prince Philip will visit New Zealand as part of the commemoration, but not until March, 1970. The tour is apparently timed mainly to coincide with another commemoration in Australia, which Cook visited after leaving New Zealand.

There is some disappointment that the New Zealand visit has been timed after the significant dates of Cook's voyage to this country. Some localities are even considering whether to delay their ceremonies in the hope of ensuring the inclusion of a visit by royalty.

CANADA'S STORY

Maritime Merger Planned 100 Years Ago

By BOB BOWMAN

Once again there is a strong movement to have Canada's Atlantic provinces merge into one. Premier Louis J. R. Robichaud of New Brunswick is urging that a study be made. The Economic Council of Canada has advocated the union. It is also an integral part of proposals made by Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia for more efficient Canadian economy.

There was a similar plan in the Maritimes (Newfoundland was not included) in 1864, but it was sidetracked by Confederation. On March 28, 1864, Nova Scotia became the first of the Maritime colonies, as they were then, to authorize a delegation to go to Charlottetown in September and discuss the possibility of union with delegates from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Prince Edward Island was lukewarm to the idea but agreed to be the host. Then Canada asked to be invited, and the meeting eventually led to Confederation instead of Maritime union. There are many people who believe now that the Maritimes would have been better off if they had gone their own way. Canada was in the throes of a railway-building boom in the 1860's and it was the promise of a railway that was largely responsible for New Brunswick and Nova Scotia agreeing to joining Canada. Prince Edward Island held out until 1873, and then joined Confederation because her own railway had got into deep financial trouble. Canada offered to pay off the debt. Today Maritimes union seems attractive because it would bring about more economic co-operation, and lessen costs of government. Once again Newfoundland's position is not clear. In 1864 Newfoundland did not send delegates to the Charlottetown conference but was represented at the Quebec conference later in the year.

War Clouds Loom Over Middle-East

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

War may again be imminent in the Middle East, this time with results less easy to predict than last time. The Arabs are massing men and material on Israel's borders; they have been increasing their air forces. How long can Israel give them to perfect their plans and personnel? On the other hand, it is also pertinent to ask what Israel can gain by another round.

The Israelis now occupy the best possible frontiers they could have. The Jordan River is their natural frontier on the east and there is nothing beyond of much use to them. On the north they control the heights and by holding the Sinai they control their southern maritime approaches, while exploiting the mineral resources of that peninsula.

But they have disadvantages also. The new Arabs they have absorbed are more militant than those who were in Israel before the 1967 war. There is an active Arab fifth column within Israel and the very large Arab population is shielding the commandos and terrorists who come in from Arab lands to hit and run.

To attack across the Jordan and into Syria and attempt to hold more territory would give Israel more hostile Arab civilians to manage. To attack and then withdraw would look to the Arabs as an Israeli defeat, a confession of weakness: Arab leaders would claim they had beaten back another Israeli invasion and would be believed by the Arab populace which longs to believe in a victory against Israel.

What then is left for Israel? The answer must be: air and sea strikes at Arab countries, another spectacular raid against Arab airforces. But would this work a second time? This is not inconceivable. The 1967 invasion used exactly the same tactics as the 1956 invasion and on the second occasion Egypt was caught napping.

But there now are Soviet instructors, good military officers doing their best to lick the various Arab forces into shape. These Soviet officers have taken measures against another surprise Israeli strike which would destroy the Arab air forces. Arab planes are better dispersed and sheltered; the system of warning posts is more advanced; pilots are kept at a higher state of readiness in expectation of a strike that the Arabs believe such a strike may come is evidenced by the imposition of blackout on Egyptian cities.

In fact, it would not be fanciful to surmise that the Russian advisors have planned a trap of sorts for the Israeli air force with good anti-aircraft and surface-to-air missiles, planned to provoke an Israeli strike which would occasion huge losses for the Jewish air force, losses hard to make up quickly now that France has restricted its sales of planes to Israel. But one should not underestimate the ability of the Israelis to come up with new things.

No, Boys, It's Not A Dance Routine Says Irate Biafran Drill Sergeant

Their left knees began pumping higher than the right. They shaved heads dipped lower. A slight rotating movement began with their shining black shoulders. "Don't dance. Don't dance," screamed the sergeant.

Getting new army men to abandon their instinctive responses to rhythm in favor of military precision is only one, and a relatively minor, problem in a camp training Biafran soldiers.

A visit to a camp holding 400 recruits provided an insight into the nature and preparation of the common fighting man in the Nigerian civil war.

The installation contained a mixture of hefty youths and hollow-chested, brawny boys. For the most part, the recruits appeared to be in the late teens and early 20s.

Under a tree, 50 youths sat holding long sticks—which substitute for rifles in Biafran camps of this sort.

A sergeant was showing them the parts of a real weapon—a Madison automatic rifle. "And this is the plunger," he cried. "The plunger," he demanded. "Plunger," the men yelled back in unison.

LEARN TO AIM

In a field among palm fronds stuck in the ground to camouflage the camp against air attack, men were learning to aim. They were in four lines. The man at the front of each line had a rifle. The rest had sticks.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

March 28, 1969 . . . Canada's foremost humorist, Stephen Leacock, died 25 years ago today—in 1944—at Toronto. A native of England, he was a pioneer political economist in Canada, as well as an historian of early Canada and the British Empire. He is best remembered as a humorist, and his works have been translated into many languages.

1939—Spanish insurgents captured Madrid.

1949—Sir Albert Walsh was appointed lieutenant-governor of Newfoundland.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—American aircraft bombed French targets; Munitions Minister Howe told the Commons Canada would build its own Douglas transport planes after the war; a Maritime battalion on the Canadian Corps front near the Adriatic sent patrols against the German coast of Tollo.

"Close the bloody left eye, cried the instructor as the youths sat and squinted down their sticks toward a row of bulletseyes.

Capt. Vincent Onuoha, head of the camp, said the recruits are here three weeks before being sent to forward areas for what he called "battle inoculation." They get to fire three to five bullets here.

"We need the ammunition for the real thing," he explained. After 19 months of war, the Biafran regime has begun to intensify a civil and military mobilization.

The effort appears to have other purposes—to live out a long siege by surrounding Nigerian forces if that should become the course of the struggle, or to beat back any new offensive by the Nigerians aimed at crushing this last major town under Biafran control.

HUNT ABLE-BODIED

Idle, able-bodied men of 18 to 35 are being sought out in market places. Government agencies have been instructed to list their men not doing essential duties, so that the employees can be drafted for military or paramilitary purposes.

Female "freedom fighters" in green teeshirts and slacks have been digging air raid shelters. A "band army" formed in December is at work clearing the bush to produce carbohydrates that now are scarce in the Biafrans' diet.

San Francisco, L.A. Shake, Not Quake

LOS ANGELES (Reuters) — Rumors that a major earthquake may soon destroy Los Angeles and San Francisco have become so widespread that two eminent scientists have issued a formal denial.

The civil defence officer here has been flooded with requests for disaster kits. Alarmed citizens have jammed switchboards at the California Institute of Technology for information from its earthquake research department.

According to the rumors, the earthquake will strike on Good Friday, April 4, and wipe out all major cities on the California coast.

Dr. Charles Richter, developer of the Richter scale for measuring a quake's intensity, issued a joint statement with Dr. James Brune, a noted geologist who works with him at Caltech.

"Wild predictions of disastrous earthquakes are not supported by scientific evidence, and are frightening California needlessly," it says.

Skoplick, however, note that Richter is going to Washington to deliver a lecture on Good Friday and will be 3,000 miles away from here.

Scotsman Founded McGill Scene Of Tonight's Show

MONTREAL (CP) — McGill target of tonight's planned demonstration by supporters of a campaign to transform the university into a French-language institution, traces its origins back to a Scottish fur trader appalled at discovering in 1781 that "only one boy in five can read and write."
James McGill, founder of the 148-year-old English-language university, immigrated to Montreal at the age of 19 and soon after was leading a group agitating for school reform.
The British government responded in 1801 by creating the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning.
Twenty-three years elapsed between the founding of the institution and the appointment of a principal and four professors.
In 1811, McGill—by then a prosperous fur trader—wrote his will and bequeathed to the Royal Institution 10,000 pounds and his 46-acre Burnside Estate in downtown Montreal, the site of the university's main buildings.
His will contained two stipulations: That the university be established within 10 years of his death and that one of the colleges bear his name.
McGill died two years later and there followed a long period of legal wrangling between the executors of his will and the family of McGill's widow who refused to abandon the estate.
Although the courts had not settled the matter of the ownership of the estate, the executors of the will, led by Bishop John Strachan, in 1821 obtained from King William IV a university charter.
In 1824 they appointed a principal and four professors and five years later conducted a formal opening of the university.
It was not until 1835 that the ownership of McGill's estate was settled in favor of the university's board of directors. On Sept. 6, 1843, a building was opened and teaching began with 20 students.
At the end of the First World War, student enrolment was 2,390 and prior to the Second World War in 1939 it stood at 3,286 but jumped to 6,368 in 1946 after veterans returned to studies interrupted by the hostilities.
Enrolment for the current academic year is 16,351 with 13,752 of these students coming from Canada.
Only 1,695 of the Canadians are from provinces outside Quebec.
Of the 12,057 Quebec students, 1,228 are French-speaking.
In terms of percentages, 74.7 per cent are Canadian and 25.3 per cent come from other countries.
Members of the teaching staff totalled 897 in 1967.
Statistics released this year by the administration show that it costs a student more to study at McGill than it does at the University of Montreal and Laval.
Fees for a bachelor's degree, arts or science, are $701 yearly while the University of Montreal and Laval University in Quebec City charge $573 and $540 respectively.
McGill's faculty of engineering charges $740 compared with $507 at the University of Montreal and $540 at Laval.
Average fees paid by students at the three universities in 10 faculties indicate that McGill students pay $664, compared with $558 at the University of Montreal and $526 at Laval.
McGill's worldwide fame comes mainly from the reputation earned by its faculties of science, medicine and engineering.
It was at McGill shortly before the 1900s that Lord Ernest Rutherford proved the natural transmutation of elements and evolved the theory of the radioactive disintegration of atoms, laying the groundwork for the atomic age of the 20th Century.
Since 1963 the university has been offering students an in-depth study of French Canada.

Offer Rejected By Barbara Jo

BALTIMORE (AP) — Barbara Jo Rubin, the leading female jockey in the U.S., has rejected offers to ride in the $10,000 Lady Godiva handicap, an all-girl stakes scheduled for Suffolk Downs April 19.
"Barbara Jo has made a place for herself among all jockeys," trainer Bryan Webb, Miss Rubin's contract holder, said Thursday of the 19-year-old who has won 11 thoroughbred races.
"She has nothing to prove by riding against girls," Webb said. "She's out of that class and what would it prove if she won or if she lost?"

Stiffer Penalties May Face Late Payers Of Income Tax

OTTAWA (CP) — Stiffer penalties should be imposed upon people who are late paying their income tax, Auditor-General Maxwell Henderson said in his annual report to Parliament.
Noting that six-per-cent interest is payable on taxes paid after the due date, April 30, he said penalties over and above this for late payment "could be of material assistance" to the national revenue department in trying to make tax delinquents settle their accounts.
At the end of the last fiscal year, March 31, 1968, unpaid taxes amounted to $278,000,000, he said.

The auditor-general, Parliament's watchdog over federal government spending, took a hefty swing at Expo 67.
He said revenues were recorded so poorly at the Montreal world's fair that the joint auditors—himself and the Quebec provincial auditor—refused to certify the correctness of $101,438,000 out of total revenues of $140,984,000.
The report presented Wednesday deals with the 1967-68 fiscal year.

RECOMMENDS STUDIES
In it, Mr. Henderson took the government to task for allowing a number of uneconomical or wasteful expenditures to continue unchecked year after year.
It might help, he suggested, if Parliament commissioned a management study of government organization at least once every 10 years.

REGULAR AND KINGS

Ike Brought Humanity To Peace And Even War

WASHINGTON (AP)—From the day he entered West Point to the day he left the White House 50 years later, Dwight David Eisenhower achieved personal popularity seldom matched in the United States. His grin and folksy nickname were his hallmarks.
There was a simple plainsman's eloquence about Eisenhower that touched Americans. He had no flair as an orator, little sophisticated wit, and no flamboyance.
But "I Like Ike" was a national sentiment—so much so that the Democratic and Republican parties both sought to make him president, even while his political persuasion was unknown.
He was the only Republican president in a generation. And his party controlled the House of Representatives for only two of his eight years in office, yet he rolled up majorities matched previously only by Franklin D. Roosevelt in his first two terms.
He was a career soldier who called war "this damnable thing," who said he hoped to see "people in my profession permanently put out of a job."

AVOIDS POLITICS
It was characteristic of Eisenhower that in his speech to the 1968 Republican national convention—piped to the delegates from his hospital room—he subordinated politics to a plea for "travelling the pathways of peace, with honor and justice."
Peace and honor. The words surfaced again and again in a brilliant career that was a succession of peaks with few valleys: general of the army, allied commander-in-chief for North Africa, commanding general of Allied powers in the European theatre, chief of staff of the U.S. Army, president of Columbia University, two terms as president of the United States.
A ways he spoke of the strength of America, "Let us first remind ourselves of the greatness of this nation and its people," he told the Republican convention. "Let's not waste time this year searching out someone to blame, even though some seem more disposed to concede rather than to stand firmly for America."

HAS THIRD ATTACK
Less than 12 hours after he spoke, Eisenhower was stricken with his third heart attack of the year—the sixth one since 1955. He was unable to watch the convention on television, but was told that Richard M. Nixon, his vice-president, had been chosen as the Republican presidential candidate for the Nov. 5 presidential election.
"I am delighted," were the words relayed from the hospital room.
He had endorsed Nixon shortly before the convention started, the first time Eisenhower had used his prestige publicly to attempt to influence the party's choice of a nominee.
Nixon responded in his acceptance speech by declaring: "Let's win this one for Ike!"
Eisenhower, 34th president of the United States, was the third of the seven sons of David and Ida Stover Eisenhower. One of his brothers, Paul, died in infancy; the others were successes in their own right: Arthur, a banker; Edgar, a lawyer; Earl, an electrical engineer; Milton, a government official and college president; and Roy, a druggist.
Their grandfather travelled west with the wagon trains in 1878 and settled near Abilene, Kan. Their father failed with his general store and moved his family to Denison, Tex., where Dwight was born Oct. 14, 1889. A year later the family returned to Abilene and the father took a job in a creamery.

WAS GIST IN CLASS
Young Eisenhower graduated first in a class of 166 from West Point in 1915. As a lieutenant at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., he met a Denver girl, Mamie Geneva Doud at a party. They were married July 1, 1916. A son, Dwight Doud, born a year later, died of scarlet fever at three. A second son, John Sheldon Doud, followed his father to West Point.
In the 1930s, then Maj. Eisenhower accompanied Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the Philippines. Early in the Second World War, he came to the attention of Gen. George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, who summoned Eisenhower to Washington. Ike was sent to London to make recommendations about the organization and development of American forces in Europe. To his surprise, he was named to the European Theatre command with orders to execute his own plan.
Eisenhower first headed the expeditionary force to North Africa in 1942 and early the next year was made commander-in-chief of all Allied forces in the North African campaign.
In 1943, Eisenhower was named Allied commander for the invasion of Europe. D-Day came on June 6, 1944.

New Home Economics Course Includes Family Relationships

CALGARY (CP)—A girl still has to know how to cook and sew in the push-button age. But in today's home economics classes the traditional skills of the housewife are only the beginning.

"Food preparation and clothing construction need less emphasis today, while consumer education, nutrition, personal and family relations, home management, child development and housing are more relevant to the needs of society," says Dr. Edith E. Down, co-ordinator of home economics education at the University of Alberta.

Calgary school board consultants agree the old beginner's project of stitching together an apron is obsolete.

"A class has to be fun because girls have so many other interests besides homemaking," says Elizabeth Cooney, consultant with the separate school board.

Girls in elementary school told her they detest making an apron. Mrs. Cooney encouraged them to make decorative collages for their rooms instead, using the sewing machine to put lace or braid trim on different materials.

MUST FOLLOW CHANGE
Education must follow the family's change from a production unit to a consumer unit, says Mrs. Cooney.

"For example, women used to make all their clothes but it doesn't always make sense now

For a simple little dress to wear around the house, nine times out of 10 you can buy it more cheaply than you can make it. We've got to be realistic enough to tell the girls this.

"And I think it's to a housewife's credit to use a cake mix. Who wants to see a harassed housewife taking a home-made cake out of the oven? You can't tell me her husband wouldn't rather she used a mix and took a few minutes to look lovely."

Dr. Down told a recent Alberta Teachers Association convention "we're wasting our time in home economics" unless every lesson is a management lesson.

By September, 1970, the university's general home economics program will be dropped in favor of a degree course in family living. It will deal with clothing and textiles, food and nutrition and family studies.

Garter Belts Slip In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Figures today from Dominion Bureau of Statistics show shipments of brassieres and garter belts slipping in Canada.

Total shipments of Canadian-made foundation garments in the last quarter of 1968 were down to 518,025 dozen from 538,687 dozen in the same period of 1967.

Deliveries of corsets and corsettes stretched to 13,797 dozen from 12,552, but all other categories were down—bras to 350,123 from 365,310 dozen, girdles to 129,871 from 144,516 and garter belts to 18,234 from 20,289 dozen, the latter possibly because of a shift to pantie hose.

EAST DOES MEET WEST

4-H Home Arts Learn Modelling

A meeting of the Kelowna 4-H Home Arts was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Kinney on Saturday. At this meeting, May 23 was decided upon for the annual achievement day. The last deadline for the sewing, accessories and record books of the members is May 10. Nothing will be accepted after this date.

Alayne Gordon made up a chart of 18 different materials and asked the members and leaders to name the fabrics and in some cases the dye finish. She also brought a large catalogue which displayed Paris fashions.

After the meeting, Mrs. Eric Sherlock helped the members with their modelling and gave all the girls helpful hints on how to improve their modelling and look natural. The next meeting will be on April 19 at 1:30 p.m. in the 4-H Club Room.

Showers Honor Bride-Elect

OYAMA (Special)—Two miscellaneous bridal showers were held recently to honor bride-elect Carole Steele of Oyama. The Easter theme predominated the setting for the shower held for the bride-elect at the home of Mrs. I. G. Paton of Winfield.

Guests from Oyama, Winfield and Vernon gathered to wish the honoree best wishes for her forthcoming marriage. Darwin Paton dressed as the Easter bunny assisted Miss Steele unwrap the array of gaily wrapped presents.

Miss Steele was also the honored guest when 20 friends hosted her at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. M. Hounslow of Vernon. Both occasions were delightful surprises for the bride-elect and enjoyed by all who attended. Miss Steele's marriage to Ralph Hounslow will take place on April 12 at St. Edward's Catholic Church, Winfield.

ANN LANDERS

A Belt In The Kisses Can Cause Trouble

Dear Ann: A boy I've dated only twice took me to a drive-in Friday night. Halfway through the picture he put his hand where it had no business being. I slapped him right smack in the face. Unfortunately I bent his glasses. He looked very surprised. Then he hauled off and slapped me back. I was stunned.

We didn't speak until we reached my house. When I got out he said, "Nobody slaps me and gets away with it. If I never see you again it'll be too soon."

So now I'm the one who is wrong. How did I get into this spot? Am I REALLY wrong?—Miss Huids Off.

Dear Miss: He should not have put his hands where they had no business being, but you could have made your point without hitting him in the kisser. In the future, babe, use your vent cords and keep your hands where they belong.

Dear Ann Landers: Strange how people are ready to swing into action if a boy shows the least little sign of being "slashed." But they are blind as bats when it comes to little girls.

My cousin's daughter will be six next week and I am deeply concerned about her. Everyone thinks it's cute that she loves her daddy so much she tries to be just like him. They say she is a real tomboy but she will grow out of it in time. Well, she is not growing out of it.

I bought her a doll for her last birthday and watched her "play house." She took the role of the father.

Her hair is cropped short. Her mother dressed her in slacks, summer and winter, and she even walks like a boy.

I've hinted that all is not well but the parents don't get the idea. Does this sound like trouble to you?—Aunt.

Dear Aunt: The authorities with whom I checked say six years of age is too young to tell whether a child's inclination to behave as a member of the opposite sex is serious evidence of homosexuality.

The parents might profit from a session or two with a child psychiatrist. They need to know what is producing these unnatural responses in their little child. Little girls usually imitate their mothers. Are they competing for the child's affection and is the father winning? Is the mother hostile and thereby alienating the girl? Did the father want a boy and decide he's going to make one out of the girl? When the parents understand the answers to these questions they may help the child feel comfortable in her natural role.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 20, female, and while you wouldn't call me fat, I'm not skinny either. I want to lose 10 pounds. A friend told me of a diet that sounds great. She said if a person eats just one thing (any amount—there is no limit) the weight will melt off. According to her, the chemical reaction of DIFFERENT foods, one against the other, is what builds fat. Does this make sense to you?—Night Seams

Dear Seams: No. If that one food is macaroni and you eat a dishpan full of it everyday, you won't lose any weight.

Kooky diets might take off a few pounds temporarily, but, like MacArthur, they will return.

Confidential to Must Be Made Of Wood: Fake it, Sister. Since you know how important it is to him and he tries his darnedest, put on as good a performance as possible. This is noble duplicity. It takes nothing from you and it can do wonders for your marriage.

Da Vinci invented the principle of the modern helicopter, but he was interested only in how birds flew. Scribbled throughout his later notebooks, between the drawings of machines and the calculations, is the phrase: "Tell Me if anything ever was done." — The Boston Bruins meet the Canadiens at the Forum in Montreal.
7:15 p.m. — Mallets and Brass (c) — This week's special guests are The Boss Brass of Rob McConnell and singing star Dianne Brooks. McConnell is one of the finest musical arrangers in North America and

PROGRAM UNDER WAY
CALGARY (CP) — A program to curb farmers' financial losses by controlling mastitis, a disease that inflames cows' udders, is being conducted in the Calgary region by the Alberta agriculture department. Paul Hodgman, assistant district agriculturist, says it should result in more consistent high-quality milk.

Anne Of Green Gables Faces First Test On World's Stage

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian comedienne Barbara Hamilton says she is keenly aware that her forthcoming London West End debut as Marilla in Anne of Green Gables is the first test of Anne on an international stage.

In an interview before leaving here, she said Anne is the first Canadian musical to leave home ground, and much depends on its April 5 preview and April 15 official opening in London.

It's also the first time in Barbara's 20-year career that she's had a chance herself to star in the major leagues.

True, she made her Broadway debut in 1951 in a revue, Razzle Dazzle, but it folded quickly.

She returned to Broadway with a straight play in 1960, Robertson Davies' Love and Label. It lasted three performances.

Barbara is best known to most Canadians for regular portrayals of the small-town club lady in Spring Thaw revues for 10 years running.

"I always hated those club lady parts," she said. "I always thought my best comedy was that which had some pathos."

She said that for all the parts she has been good in she has "had to commit some kind of blackmail to get."

"I was supposed to do Spring Thaw for two weeks in Charlottetown in the summer of 1965. I had been in Anne on CBC twice as the shop clerk and I knew I could play Marilla.

"Don Harron and Norman Campbell (the authors) didn't think I could do it. Alan Lund (the director) didn't think I could do it. They told me I can do the comedy stuff, period.

"They needed me for Spring Thaw. . . I persisted and they relented—but only for the first year."

Harron, Campbell and Lund have come about-face. Though Barbara is signed to the London production for 12 months (producer Bill Freedman, formerly of Toronto, refused her an option to be free for Charlottetown this summer) they want her back for Anne's trip to Expo 70 in Osaka, Japan.

"What they didn't realize was that I understood Marilla from the word go," said Barbara. "She is me in many ways. Everyone thinks I'm a sophisticated swinging actress. But really, I'm a prude with a Scotch-Presbyterian background."

TV Regulation Still Unsolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of regulating television programs was raised at the National Association of Broadcasters convention and left where it was before—unresolved.

As expected, Senator John O. Pastore repeated Monday his proposal that the NAB Code Authority be given the power to pre-screen programs to eliminate excessive sex and violence. He said it would be a step away from government censorship.

The Rhode Island Democrat first made the suggestion last week during hearings by the United States Senate communications subcommittee which he heads.

Two networks, NBC and ABC, gave it guarded approval. But both said in reality the final authority for program content would remain with the networks.

CBS President Frank Stanton said he found it impossible to approve the idea.

Pastore said Stanton "did assure me that CBS would intensify its corporate efforts in this regard."

New Look At Kelowna Drive-In

The Kelowna Drive In Theatre opened for the season Thursday night under new ownership and new management.

The 630-car drive-in, formerly owned by Herbert Stevenson and Trans-West Theatres of Prince George, has been bought by Odeon Theatres, Canada through its subsidiary in Vancouver, Astro Films Ltd.

New manager, Gerry Dow, said the actual running of the theatre will be done by the Odeon company under terms of the agreement.

Mr. Dow said the company now owns outright or operates a total of 145 theatres across Canada and 16 more will be acquired shortly.

Other Interior drive-ins owned by Odeon include the Skyway, in Vernon, and the Sundowner and Skyway in Kamloops.

"As part of such a large organization, with affiliations with the J. Arthur Rank group in Britain, we're assured of first-rate films here," Mr. Dow said.

He said pictures to be playing at the recently re-built Kelowna Drive-in will usually be "move-overs" up from showings in Vancouver.

"Some of the films will be from direct release in Toronto and Vancouver," he said.

The 27-year-old manager came to the Valley from New Westminster, where he ran his company's Odeon Theatre. Before that he managed the Totem Theatre in North Vancouver.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Irish McCalla, 40, was granted an interlocutory decree Monday after saying her marriage broke up because she refused to vote for Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver for president. She said her husband, actor John Patrick Horgan, 39, told her "he couldn't be married to anyone so stupid."

Working On New World Of Sound

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP) — Flora Clark, a deaf Toronto librarian, is working on a new world of sound here.

She has taken a year's leave from her University of Toronto library job to develop a communication program for deaf youths, teen-agers and children in Ontario mental hospitals.

Her government-sponsored program, squeezed into a classroom-office, started at the Orillia hospital last November and soon is expected to spread. Miss Clark, a library science graduate of a college for the deaf, can speak and read lips.

Part of the pilot program she runs involves puzzle construction, painting and the teaching of sign language.

Two of her pupils have already acquired the signals for a couple of popular words in the early vocabulary of any child—cookie and candy.

Pope Announces Fund For Latin America

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul has announced the establishment of a Vatican development fund for Latin America with an initial outlay of $1,000,000 to be used for agricultural projects in Colombia. The pontiff visited Colombia last August.

BROTHERS WILL RETURN
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tom Smothers of the Smothers Brothers said Wednesday they will continue their television show next fall despite what he said was a CBS refusal to relax censorship. Tom and Dick Smothers have been disputing with the network over censorship practices, with Tom declaring recently: "If drastic changes aren't made, we won't do a show next season."

Watts Has A New Movie Theatre As Writer's Dream Comes True

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It might seem odd to have a dedication ceremony for a theatre marquee, but in the case of the Watts Movie House, the event seemed reasonable.

The brief ceremonies took place one morning last week on East 103rd Street, which rampaging mobs took apart in the Negro riots of four years ago. One of the journalists who covered the story was David I. Zeitlin of Life magazine. He noted that Watts hadn't a single movie theatre.

"Originally there had been 17 movie houses in southeast Los Angeles," says Zeitlin, now a producer for Universal. "But they had all been closed down."

"The blacks considered them merely an extension of the white establishment and hence they were against them."

Zeitlin believed something should be done to bring film entertainment to Watts, and he began soliciting help from influential persons in the movie industry. For two years the industry supported a low-cost movie program at a junior high school. But seeing movies at a school didn't appeal to the Watts youth, and the project folded.

DONATE CASH

The campaign for Watts theatre continued. Cash donations came from Robert Wise, Sidney Poitier, Paul Newman and other film figures. National General Corp., operator of theatre chains, donated a projector and seats. Columbia Pictures provided a sound system. The Southern California Gas Co. gave a heating and air conditioning system.

The site of the theatre was significant: It had been a super-

The former supermarket has been used to develop new plays, including Big Time Buck White, currently appearing off Broadway.

The renovation, to be done mostly with Watts labor, is expected to take two months.

First-run films will be provided free of charge by the movie companies, and a minimum admission charge will admit Watts residents to the 400-seat theatre.

"We've done everything we could do," said one of the speakers at the dedication. "Now it's up to the people of Watts to make it a success."

B.C. Dancers Demonstrate What Their Art Form Is All About

The B.C. Ballet For All is presented by Jeunesses Musicales of Canada, under the direction of Franklin White and some of the students from the newly formed professional training program of the Vancouver Ballet Society. It explodes the myths about the art form, and the fears—of males in particular—at being seen at a ballet performance.

The ballet will be presented at the Kelowna Community Theatre Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. In fact, Mr. White delights in an audience of anti-ballet people, for he feels he can convince them to appreciate the art form.

Ballet—girls in funny skirts being held on the tips of their toes by dubious boys in white tights—that is somewhat the reaction of many people who have not been exposed to this means of idea communication. Television does not help, showing ballet, as it mostly does, as an excerpt out of contexts and inadequate introduction squeezed in between other acts and personalities. Most of the major ballet companies add to the misconception of what ballet is about. When on tour, they mostly show one of the five classical ballets composed during the latter half of the last century.

The program given by Mr. White gives a background of common sense and understanding of this extremely easily understood and enjoyable art. This is not a performance of ballet, but a very active demonstration of some of the material of ballet: what makes a dancer, how the athlete is formed from an early age, the dedication, hard work, and discipline which makes the army seem like a rest cure, comedy, ideas, or sheer realism—all this is ballet, and much more, shown through the wide range of excerpts from internationally known ballets of all periods.

GOES BACKSTAGE

The presentation takes the audience back stage into a concentrated form of a training program where few selected children are accepted only if they wish to become professional dancers. This is not a look at the work of a local ballet school, but the wider range of endeavors which comes between them and the entry of the very few dancers who are physically and mentally good enough to join a ballet company.

The presentation is somewhat unusual in the fact that Mr. White both speaks and dances in the demonstrations, often both together. He has been acclaimed internationally as a witty and intelligent speaker with a great sense for the ridiculous. A full description of the program is impossible to give as much of it is improvised according to the reaction of the audience, and has a spontaneity lacking in a scripted event. It needs to be seen, particularly by those who are Mr. White's favorite audience—the unconvinced, unconverted and downright anti-ballet members of the public, both young and old. These programs are aimed to hold the interest of all age groups.

Mr. White, a former principal dancer of the Royal Ballet from England with whom he danced for 24 years before settling in Vancouver, spent a large part of his career touring the world, giving similar demonstrations of ballet with members of the Royal Ballet and the Royal Ballet School.

Since he came to B.C., local dancers who undertook advanced training with his program and demonstrations, have been accepted into the Royal Ballet School, the National Ballet School of Canada, the School of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, and the schools attached to the Harkness and Robert Joffrey Ballet Companies, following a tradition set by many of the present young principals of the Royal Ballet Company who gained their first stage experience in demonstrations of ballet similar to those now being given by Jeunesses Musicales.

IT'S THE AUDIENCE
Comedienne Phyllis Diller boasts that she never gets stage fright. "It's the audience that's frightened," she says.

ALJE REPORTS

No Victory In Penalties

By ALJE KAMMINGA

FINAL STATISTICS released by the B.C. Junior Hockey League verify what most people have suspected since the end of the season.

One of the great contributing factors to the downfall of the Kelowna Buckaroos in their semi-final series with Penitcton Broncos was penalties.

In the top 18 playoff scorers, not one Kelowna name appears. This, of course, could be explained by the fact the Buckaroos only played four games while both Penitcton and Victoria played seven.

But in the penalty department, the same logic obviously doesn't apply. The first three names to appear are all Buckaroos and in the team totals, Kelowna nearly doubled the total compiled by the nearest rival.

KELOWNA BACKED UP a total of 101 minutes in their four games, averaging slightly more than 25 minutes a game. The penalty box, their closest rival was Penitcton, which, in seven games, totalled 65 minutes in penalties or an average of slightly less than 10 minutes a game.

Assuming Penitcton picked up that average in every game, it means Kelowna played approximately 15 minutes of every playoff game with a man less than Penitcton.

The totals also seemed to have a bearing in the final scoring statistics. Kelowna scored but 10 times in their four games, lowest total of any of the four teams to make the playoffs.

Victoria Cougars, third among the penalized teams, scored 42 times, 12 more than Penitcton, second among the four teams.

LEADING IN THE individual penalty brigade was Larry Lenarduzzi, who, during the regular season, compiled a total of 170 minutes in 40 games. The rugged centreman established a league record in leading all BCJHL players in penalties during the regular campaign.

In the playoffs, Lenarduzzi finished with 24 minutes, an average of six minutes a game and approximately two-fifths of Kelowna's total. Second in line was Dave Yarocki. He totalled 20 minutes, an average of five minutes in every playoff game.

Third spot went to Gene Carr with 18 minutes.

Adrian Blais of Victoria was a full six minutes back of Carr in fourth place—in spite of playing three more games than any of the top three.

AT THIS MOMENT, it seems Canada's greatest achievement in the World Hockey Championship being played in Stockholm is going to be a 3-2 loss to the Czechoslovakian National team.

Which, if you care to look at it in another light, is a little like suffering a heart attack when what you really wanted was a bit of an upset stomach.

But after so many years of failure by the Canadians in the world tournament, this country's hockey fans must be growing more accustomed to being second or third (this year probably fourth) among the teams competing.

About the only things the Nats will bring home, as they seem to do every year, is the dubious honor of being the most-penalized team in the tourney.

TEN KELOWNA GYMNASTS qualified for the B.C. Age Group Championships to be held Saturday at the University of British Columbia Memorial Gym.

Leading the contingent are Sally Sullivan, Pam Turvey, Karen Craik and Wendy Bernrot, all members of the Tyro Girls' team. The Tyro girls already have the Kootenay and Okanagan Championships in their possession and should do well at the coast.

Coach Jack Brow says he hopes they can return with some measure of distinction but, in letting his philosophy get the better of him, he says: "win or lose, experience will be the big winner—I hope."

Argo Boys making the trip are Steve Brow, David Lidster and Bill Sullivan while Argo Girls going are Penny Botham, Shannon Clerke and Leslie Andrews.

REMEMBER WHEN . . . Toe Blake, Montreal Canadiens' captain and leftwinger, won the Lady Byng Trophy 23 years ago today—in 1946—as the National Hockey League player combining sportsmanship and ability. Blake, the team's leading scorer with 29 goals and 21 assists, served only two minutes in penalties during the 1945-46 season in which Canadiens finished first and won the Stanley Cup.

Three Acquisitions Prosper Since Landing With Cards

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of off-season trades may spark St. Louis Cardinals to their third consecutive National League pennant.

The Cardinals acquired outfielder Vada Pinson, catcher-first baseman Joe Torre and infielder Bob Johnson in baseball trades and all three seem to be prospering with St. Louis.

Thursday was a good example as the three collected five

SPORT SCENE

The Okanagan Auto Sport Club is holding a rally Sunday starting at Capri at 11:30 a.m. This rally will be about 115 miles in length and 50 per cent pavement, finishing back in Kelowna. Everyone is welcome and normal rally equipment is recommended.

There will be a registration day for boys 7-10 years of age, who are not currently registered with one of the local juvenile soccer clubs, Saturday at 1 p.m. in the South Rutland Elementary School. Boys wishing to register for this year's juvenile soccer action are invited to take advantage of this supplementary date. The fee is two dollars and boys are asked to bring birth certificates.

Registration for little league baseball will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Kelowna Memorial Arena. Boys between the ages of eight and 12, as of July 31, 1969, are eligible. Registration fee is $3 and all boys must bring a birth certificate and be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Even boys who played last year must register again.

Prince Rupert Thursday defeated Alberni Athletics 70-64 in the first game in the best-of-three final of the British Columbia men's basketball championship.

Wayne Haldane scored 27 points for Prince Rupert and Larry Letohnen 21 for Alberni. Second game will be tonight.

Three soccer players were disqualified for life, another suspended for one year and the other seven members of the team disqualified for two months Thursday in Bari, Italy, for attacking a referee during a match.

Officials said all 11 members of the Casarano team of southern Italy chased the referee, Giuseppe Lupio, and beat him when they became angered at a decision he made in a game with Lizzanello last Sunday.

hits and led the Cardinals to a 4-0 victory over New York Mets in an exhibition game.

Tony Conigliaro also continued his revitalization for Boston with his first home run since his eye injury in August, 1967, and it helped the Red Sox to a 4-3 triumph over Cincinnati Reds.

In other games, Atlanta Braves stopped Baltimore Orioles 7-1, New York Yankees nipped Minnesota Twins 2-1, Washington Senators tripped Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 in 12 innings, Philadelphia Phillies downed Detroit Tigers 5-4 in 12 innings, Pittsburgh Pirates bounced Chicago White Sox 6-2, Oakland Athletics edged California Angels 3-2, Houston Astros defeated Kansas City 5-1, Seattle Pilots beat San Diego Padres 6-3, Montreal Expos trounced Los Angeles Dodgers B team 8-1 and San Francisco Giants outslugged Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Pinson, coming off his worst year in 10 major league seasons with Cincinnati at 11, raised his spring average to .450 as he singled in one run, singled to set up another and made two good catches.

Torre, acquired for Orlando Cepeda after two bad years at Atlanta, tripled and singled. And Johnson, a utility man from Atlanta, drove in another run with a single after delivering a single and a double in an 8-4 B squad victory over the Mets' B team in the morning.

Conigliaro, well on his way to making a startling comeback, singled in one run and then homered against a stiff breeze. Carl Yastrzemski singled in another Boston run to increase his average to .452.

New Putting Stroke Helping Sam Snead

MIAMI (AP) — Sam Snead has a new putting stroke—his pool room special—and he says he feels like he's 16 instead of 56.

"I feel so good I believe I could go out and shoot a 50," Snead said Thursday after firing a five-under-par 67 in the opening round of the $200,000 National Airlines open golf tournament.

Snead, who has won more than 100 tournaments in a career spanning three decades, found himself only one stroke off the record-setting pace of young Dewitt Weaver, out front with a 66.

Top Canadian was Wilf Homenuik of Winnipeg with a 71, followed by Al Balding of Toronto at 72.

George Knudson and Alvie Thompson, both of Toronto, shot 74s and Ken Fulton, formerly of Trail, B.C. and now of Montreal, had a 76.

Directly behind Weaver and Snead were seven pros bunched at 68—Australian Bruce Crampton, Lionel Hebert, Dale Douglass, Dick Sikes, Dave Stockton, Butch Baird and Frank Beard. There were 13 players tied with Arnold Palmer and Gary Player at 69.

But everybody's eyes, entering the second round over the 6,927-yard, par-72 Country Club of Miami course, were on Snead.

"I think I can still play as good as any of these young fellows from tee to green," said Snead.

"Now I've got a new putting stroke, and I believe I've got it licked."

Snead puts normally from 15 feet and farther away. From 15 feet in, he uses a stroke similar to the croquet style but standing sideways instead of astride the ball, now illegal.

The left hand is held at the top of the club and the right, the pushing hand, is about a foot farther down the shaft. Formerly, Sam held his hand behind the shaft and shoved the blade.

"Now I grip the club in my right hand the way you would grip a cue stick in playing pool. I've got a much better touch."

Girl Jockeys Miss Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Prospects of a woman breaking into jockey ranks on Jockey Club tracks in Ontario this year are not heartening.

The only woman so far to suggest she might like to give it a whirl is Barbara Jo Rubin of Miami, Fla., who earlier this year broke the all-male barrier in the United States.

The trim 19-year-old said on television here earlier this month that she would like to get a mount for the opening of the Ontario thoroughbred season at Toronto's Greenwood track. But when the racing season started March 24, all the riders were men.

"She has never made application to us for a licence," Bruce Walker, Jockey Club director of publicity, said Thursday.

"I checked with the Ontario Racing Commission the other day and they have had no application from her, or any other woman."

"Personally, I think her suggestion on the television show was just a publicity stunt—fishing for some offers."

"She was asking $1,000 just for an appearance at one of our tracks—not a ride, just an appearance. The Jockey Club just wasn't prepared to pay that kind of money."

"But, if she ever does apply for a licence to ride on our tracks, I'm sure there would be no difficulty. She's been licensed for tracks in the United States and I'm sure these licences would be honored here."

The Jockey Club operates Greenwood and Woodbine thoroughbred tracks in Toronto and another at Port Erie, Ont.

Canada Loses 4-2

Sweden ended Canada's chances for a medal here Thursday, defeating the national team 4-2 on three third-period goals.

Sweden could be the spoiler in the final reckoning Sunday. Sweden was responsible for Czechoslovakia's only defeat, 2-0 March 19.

The Swedes have an easy game against the United States Saturday and then take on the Czechs Sunday.

Two more Swedish wins would give the host country an 8-2 mark and 16 points. If the Russians lose to the Czechs and beat the Canadians, they too will be 8-2. If the Czechs defeat Russia but lose to Sweden, a three-way tie will come into being.

It would take some fine mathematics to pick the winner in that event based on scoring.

The Russian champions mounted to a share of first place with 4-2 and 3-2 victories over Sweden and defeated the United States 17-2 and 1-8-4, Finland 6-1 and 7-3 and Canada 7-1.

Czechoslovakia stayed right up with the Russians going into the ninth round by defeating Canada 6-1 and 3-2, the U.S. 6-3

Hockey Crown Decided Today

STOCKHOLM (CP) — The suspense has built up for a week, helped along by Czech nationalistic fervor, and now the stops are being pulled out as Czechoslovakia and Russia go at it again in world hockey today.

If the Czechs win the crucial game they will only need a tie against Sweden Sunday to take their first title in 20 years.

If the Russians win they will likely retain their title for the seventh straight time. Russia winds up the two-week tournament Sunday against Canada, regarded as easy pickings.

The Czechs and Russians meet in the ninth round of the 10-round tournament tied for first place. They have identical 7-1 won-lost records and 14 points.

SUPPORT THE CZECHS

The Swedish fans have made no bones about their support of the Czechs. They will be pulling even harder tonight because a Czech victory would give the Swedish team a chance to force the title race into a three-way points tie on the final day.

All the pent-up emotionalism of the Czechs, still bitter over the occupation of their country last August by Soviet and other Warsaw pact forces, was ready to break out again as it did last week.

The Czechs upset Russia 2-0 in their first meeting last Friday. It was the best game of the tournament and it produced a highly-political reaction.

Czech supporters waved anti-Russian banners, spoofing the Soviets because they had no tanks to help them here. The Swedes taunted the Russians with pro-Czech chants, drowning out Soviet partisans.

Czech players refused to shake hands with the Russians and turned their backs on them at the end of the game.

Czechs went wild with delight in Prague's Wenceslas Square. The next day the Czech Communist press called the victory a triumph of brains over brawn.

Czechoslovakia last won the world title in 1949 at Stockholm, defeating Canada's Sudbury Wolves 3-2. The Canadians finished second.

CANADA LOSES 4-2

BIDDING QUIZ

Each month, in the Bridge World magazine, a panel of experts give their opinions on problems submitted to them in advance. The questions are always of a controversial nature and it is not surprising that opinions are sometimes vigorously expressed. There was quite a difference of opinion on this problem:

You are South, North-South vulnerable, and the bidding has been:

South West North East
2 ♠ 3 ♦ Dble Pass

What would you now bid with the following hand?

♠ AKQ97 ♠ AQJ6 ♦ — ♣ AK82

The question was posed as a match-point problem, but it can be treated as a rubber bridge problem also.

Of the 58 members on the panel, 24 voted for four diamonds; 20 for pass; 14 for three hearts.

Here are some of the views expressed:

FISHBEIN: Four diamonds. No problem for me. I might get out by passing, but I will not take that chance for 1 trick. I can do better with the clubbid. I will not settle under a slam.

FIELD: Four diamonds. I know partner knows the vulnerability too, but we may still be cold for seven hearts.

KAHN: Pass. I hope my partner knows what he's doing. If so, we have no slam and West will make only four or five tricks.

MILES: Pass. If South had opened with one spade, North could not double two diamonds without a fair smattering of general strength; he certainly should not double with Spades xx, Hearts xx, Diamonds Q-J-10-9-8-7, Clubs J-xx. But, after a strong two-bid, the double with this type of hand is the only type of double that makes sense. There is no need for North to double just to show a smattering of strength, since South is obligated to bid again.

The penalty double with strength in the opponent's suit and nothing on the side is the only kind of double that makes sense after a two bid. This double means that the defensive chances are very good and the offensive chances are almost nil.

REMEY: Three hearts. There are two risks in any call you make. First, if you pass, you could easily miss a slam. Second, if you bid and there is no slam, you might have beaten three diamonds four or more tricks.

Partner would then turn to a sympathetic kibitzer and quip: "I'll remark, 'He probably thought I was asleep and didn't know the vulnerability.' However, to be frank, this is really not much of a problem with me because I never get partners good enough to have kibitzers.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

You can make Saturday a few days by planning smartly. Handle routine affairs in the A.M. hours, since there's indication of an interesting opportunity being presented after noon. Relief from the pressure of details then will give you a better chance of studying the new offering.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a pleasant outlook for most well-planned and cleverly managed interests, especially those involving job and financial concerns. If you set high goals for yourself this year, you will find them in close circles during this time next year. Best periods for occupational advancement: April, July, September, November, December, January and February. On the monetary score, you are currently in an excellent cycle for advancing your status — one which will last until June 30. Consolidate gains then, and make no further moves toward fiscal expansion until Sept. 1, when you will enter another excellent 4-month period for increasing assets.

Where personal interests are concerned, interesting opportunities for travel are indicated during July and August; also, in October and December. The period between early May and mid-September will be highly auspicious for sentimental interests and, as with travel and recreation, also October.

Do try to avoid friction in close circles during July and August, however. A child born on this day will be both intellectually and creatively inclined; could succeed in almost any profession he chooses.

TOPS IN SKATING CLASS

There were no tears shed by these smiling youngsters last week in spite of the fact the figure skating season was almost at an end. The silverware each of them is holding is enough to tell anyone this group made out all right during the year. As members of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club, these young skaters topped the Junior B division in competitions held Sunday. They are, from left to right

Suggestion For Munro

TORONTO (CP) — Health Minister John Munro will be told next week that Canada needs an instruction and research centre like the Gymnastic and Sports Institute in Stockholm, Sweden.

"It would be an ideal place to situate national teams and measure the members of the teams for perfect condition," says Charlie Patterson, an official in York University's research department who is to make a report to the minister this week on his recent trip to Stockholm.

Patterson, inventor of a hockey mouthguard and helmets for various sports, said in an interview that the Stockholm Institute has equipment and research facilities capable of measuring the potential and condition of athletes.

The various equipment measures strength, fitness, lung capacity, heart capabilities, individual muscle ability and gives a broad picture of how well an athlete could compete in a certain event.

The Stockholm school offers a two-year course for 1,500 students planning to teach sports and physical fitness and Patterson says one of its rooms "can simulate conditions in any place in the world; temperature and altitude included."

Election Held In Badminton

Peter Reed was re-elected president of the Kelowna Badminton Club Tuesday at the group's annual meeting.

Ted Weys was elected vice-president, Louise Brooks treasurer and Margaret Weys, secretary. The club decided to hold its spring general meeting Sept. 16 at which time various committee chairmen will be elected.

Regular badminton playing times will continue until Easter after which players wishing to continue will have to contact either Mr. Reed, Mr. Weys or Mrs. Brooks.

Husband, Wife Combine At Badminton Tourney

TORONTO (CP) — Judi and Bruce Rollick turned a badminton-court romance into a wedding almost two years ago, and Thursday night they received a surprise anniversary present a month early.

The young couple from Vancouver is the first husband-and-wife team since 1922 to win the mixed-doubles title at the Canadian closed badminton championships. And Rollick thinks he knows why it took 47 years to produce a winner.

"Most couples avoid playing together," said Rollick, who begins defence of his Canadian open title today.

"We have a problem in practice. There is a tendency to say things like: 'Why did you try that shot, you clod?'—something you wouldn't normally say to anyone else."

The Rollicks upset defending champions Rolf Paterson and Mimi Nilsson, both of Vancouver 18-17, 7-15, 15-8. But that was after Judi had taken the women's singles crown, defeating Allison Daismith, also of Vancouver, in straight sets, 11-7, 12-9.

Second-seeded Miss Daismith, who won the title in 1967, and Mrs. Rollick were both members of Canada's Uber Cup team this year.

Meanwhile, Jamie Paulson of Calgary crushed Yves Pare, his doubles partner from Montreal, 15-4, 15-6, to go undefeated through the three-day tournament and retain his men's singles title.

Now Pare wants to train with Paulson and Channarong Ratanasuang, a former member of Thailand's Thomas Cup team who now coaches in Calgary, for a position on the British Empire Games squad.

"There's the Thomas Cup trials next year, too," Pare said.

Paulson and Pare won their third doubles title in as many years with 15-8, 15-4 victory over Greg and Geoff Harris, 21-year-old twins from Edmonton.

Marge Shedd and Barbara Hood, both of Toronto, took the women's doubles title, defeating Mrs. Rollick and Miss Nilsson, 15-10, 15-9.

Rudy Hartono, 19, of Indonesia, who retained his all-England singles title last Sunday, heads the list of world-class players from 13 countries in the open. Six members of the Indonesian Thomas Cup team are expected to compete.

Leafs Eliminate Detroit As Pulford Paces Attack

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was only a few weeks ago that Bob Pulford's job with Toronto Maple Leafs seemed in jeopardy.

Pulford, a 13-year veteran of the National Hockey League, wasn't scoring many goals and his checking had fallen off. It appeared likely he would be traded.

But manager-coach Punch Imlach of the Maple Leafs stuck with Pulford and the sturdy left winger-centre played an important role in Toronto's 4-2 victory against Detroit Red Wings Thursday night.

Pulford scored the winning goal and assisted on an earlier score as the Maple Leafs clinched a berth in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

In other NHL action Thursday night, Philadelphia Flyers took Los Angeles Kings 4-2 and Boston Bruins and New York Rangers played to a 3-3 tie.

END WINGS' CHANCES

The victory moved fourth-place Toronto eight points ahead of fifth-place Detroit in the Eastern Division and ended the Red Wings' chances of grabbing a playoff position. The season ends Sunday.

Pulford's goal, his 10th of the season, came at 16:08 of the second period and gave the Maple Leafs a 3-1 lead. He scored on a rebound from a shot by Mike Walton.

Other Toronto scorers were George Armstrong, Floyd Smith and Paul Henderson. Alex Delvecchio and Frank Mahovlich connected for Detroit.

Pulford drew an assist on Armstrong's opening goal at 8:18 of the first period. Mahovlich's goal was his 48th of the season, tying his previous best goal-scoring season—48 with Toronto in 1960-61.

TRAIL BY THREE

A crowd of 14,508 at Detroit watched the Maple Leafs move to within two points of third-place New York. The Rangers and Maple Leafs meet twice this weekend.

A gathering of 14,659 at Boston saw the Bruins stay in the running for first place in the Eastern Division. Boston trails first-place Montreal by three points, but plays the Canadiens twice this weekend.

Johnny McKenzie's 28th goal of the season early in the third period gave Boston the tie.

Scoring the other Boston goals were Ron Murphy and Fred Stanfield while Jean Ratelle, Jim Neilson and Harry Howell replied for New York.

McKenzie scored his goal at 5:47 of the final period by outmanoeuvring Neilson and firing an 18-foot shot past goalie Ed Giacomin of New York.

CLINCH FLYERS' WIN

Don Blackburn and Bill Sutherland scored within the last two minutes of play to give Philadelphia its win before 11,689 hometown fans.

The victory moved third-place Philadelphia three points ahead of fourth-place Los Angeles in the Western Division. Both teams have two games remaining.

Blackburn broke a 2-2 tie at 18:18 of the final period with a 25-foot shot. Sutherland scored his second goal of the game—this time into an empty net—at 19:46.

The other Philadelphia goal went to Garry Peters while Ed Joyal and Gary Croteau connected for Los Angeles.

The third-place finisher in the Western Division will meet St. Louis Blues, who have clinched first, and the fourth-place finisher will face the second-place Oakland Seals in playoff action starting next week.
