

Ship Explodes, 20 Feared Dead

TOULON, France (Reuters) — Twenty persons were missing and feared dead today after a giant Norwegian tanker exploded and sank in the Mediterranean before dawn after colliding with a small French cargo-passenger ship.

The 52,371-ton tanker, the Silja, blew up about 20 miles off the French coast immediately after a grinding crash with the 8,169-ton Ville de Manjuga, French maritime officials said here.

The 20 missing persons all were from the ill-fated tanker which was en route from Genoa to oilports on the Persian Gulf.

Apart from those feared dead, four persons were reported badly injured and two others less badly hurt.

The French ship, carrying passengers and cargo from Marseille to Madagascar, was swept by fire after the collision and two of the crew were badly burned before the blaze was extinguished.

Ships, planes and helicopters hurried to the scene after the collision.

Rescuers said later there was a little debris on the surface of the sea. Rescue ships plucked 19 persons out of the sea, including six injured, and found two bodies from the Norwegian tanker.

Another 18 persons were missing, including four women. It was not known immediately if the women were passengers aboard the tanker or wives of crew members. The tanker carried a crew of 35 and the four women.

Smoke still curled up from the French ship when it arrived at this south of France port this morning and anchored outside the harbor.

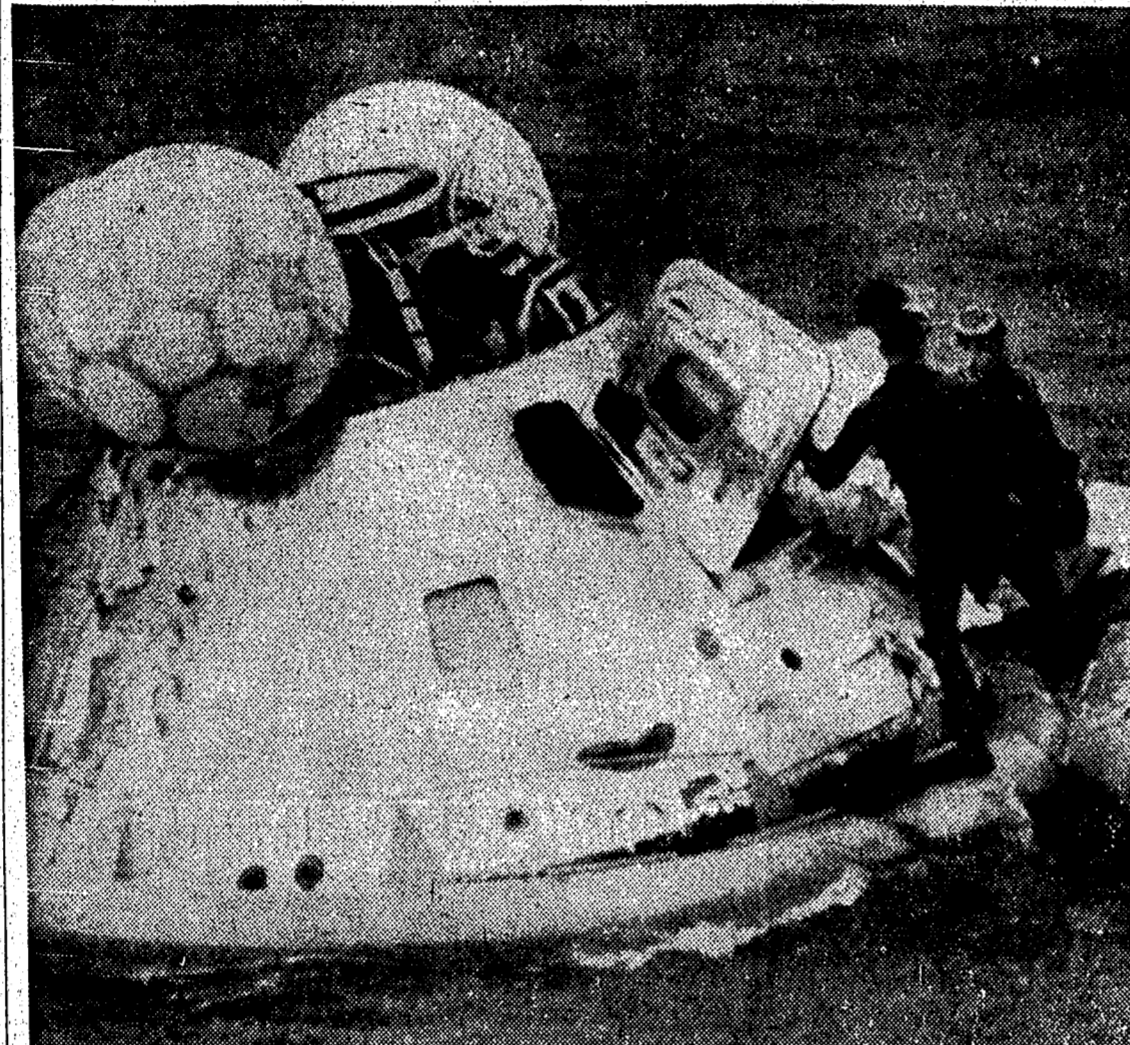

Rescued seamen from the tanker and members of the Ville de Manjuga's crew agreed that the collision and the explosion occurred quickly.

Some said the Norwegian vessel sank within a minute. The explosion was so loud it was heard on the French coast.

The Silja was not carrying any oil cargo when the collision occurred, but oil from the ship's fuel tanks spread over the sea forming a slick about 1½ miles in diameter.

Early this afternoon, the slick seemed stationary in the calm seas, but there were some fears that it might move towards the holiday beaches of southern France.

Men From Moon Return In 'Excellent' Condition

Minor Snags Overcome Before Journey's End

ABOARD HORNET (AP) — The men who opened the Moon Age returned to their home planet today, blazing back through the earth's atmosphere to a landing in the Pacific about nine miles from this recovery ship.

President Nixon was among those who waited to greet the space heroes.

The Apollo 11 ship, carrying Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, hit the water at 12:50 p.m. EDT, climaxing an adventure in which two men walked the surface of the moon for the first time.

On landing, Apollo 11 turned upside down in the three- to six-foot waves and the astronauts inflated flotation bags to right it. The same thing happened to Apollo 7 when it landed last October.

"We're still in stable two (upside down)," Armstrong reported, "but slowly righting ourselves."

Eleven minutes later, with aircraft and helicopters overhead, Armstrong reported his spaceship bobbing right side up. "Stable one," he called out.

The landing was not visible from the carrier because of a combination of a hazy sky and the fact that it was just after dawn in the Pacific.

USED BINOCULARS

As did hundreds of sailors on the deck of the Hornet, Nixon craned and peered through binoculars as he tried to see the descending craft.

The first report from the recovery forces said the crew was in "excellent" condition.

Live television from the ship showed Nixon peering toward the horizon. When word came that the astronauts were safely down, he clasped his hands and smiled. With the president was Col. Frank Borman, who commanded last December's Apollo 8 moon orbit flight, State Secretary William Rogers and Space administrator Thomas O. Paine.

The Hornet, stationed about 950 miles southwest of Hawaii, steamed toward the landing point.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins were lifted one by one into a helicopter which deposited them on the deck of the carrier at 1:57 p.m. EDT, one hour seven minutes after splashdown.

Widow Sues B.C. Cabinet

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Florida woman whose husband was killed in a Fraser Canyon fall last year, Wednesday filed a writ in British Columbia Supreme Court against the provincial government and four B.C. cabinet ministers for "general unspecified damages."

Mrs. John Kulzer of Daytona Beach is suing the government and provincial secretary Wesley Black, recreation minister Ken Kiernan, lands and forests minister Ray Williston and public works minister William Chant.

She claims damages for the death of her husband and injuries to her son when a rock ledge at the Hell's Gate lookout point the two were standing on gave way.

NEIL ARMSTRONG
... A Name to Remember

Nixon watched from the bridge as the helicopter approached. The ship's band played.

Nixon clapped and waved as the helicopter touched the deck, and hundreds of sailors cheered the returning moon heroes.

A small truck hooked on to the helicopter and pulled it, with the astronauts inside, to an elevator, which lowered them to the hangar deck.

There, the astronauts transferred into a 35-foot trailer where they will stay during a 2½-day sea-air trip to the Manned Spacecraft Centre, Houston, Tex. There they face 16 days additional quarantine.

Welcoming them to the trailer were Dr. William Carpenter, NASA physician, and John Hirasaki, NASA engineer, both of whom volunteered to be isolated with the astronauts.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins looked like strangers from another world as they stepped off the helicopter and walked the 12 steps to the quarantine trailer.

Labor Situation Still Murky In Several Disputes At Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — One labor dispute involving 3,000 grocery clerks locked out of 103 supermarkets for two months appeared to be breaking up today, and another dispute between longshoremen and maritime employers worsened with the rejection of a conciliation report.

An official of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union said British Columbia's 3,200 stevedores voted overwhelmingly Tuesday and Wednesday to reject the report, which recommended an 18.3 per cent wage increase over two years and a 24-hour, seven-day port operation.

SOME TO OPEN
The union has agreed to the second point but is holding out for $51 a shift in return for a guaranteed 40 hours work a week. The report didn't recommend 40 hours until the second year of the agreement.

In the supermarket dispute,

Shop Easy, High Low and Food Fair stores were scheduled to re-open today with the return of members of the Retail Clerks Union. Safeway and Super-Valu are expected to remain closed.

Key to the dispute is the 800 meatcutters who narrowly rejected a wage offer and voted to continue their picket lines at Super-Valu stores. The grocery clerks refuse to cross the lines.

TALKS RESUME
On-again, off-again negotiations in the strike by 6,300 telephone workers in B.C. were to resume this afternoon under federal mediation officer Don Tysoe, acting on instructions from federal labor minister Bryce Mackenzie.

In the two-month strike by 550 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, the B.C. Federation of Labor began an intensified boycott of Imperial Oil products. Imperial is one of six oil companies struck by the OCAW.

Grits Seem Likely To Win In Battle On Closure Rules

OTTAWA (CP) — All signs pointed to the government being successful today in bringing in its motion to close off debate on new Commons rules.

There was no indication that the opposition would try to hold off the closure motion for another day. Conservative, New Democratic and Creditiste parties worked hand-in-hand Wednesday to stave off a closure. But today, a full-length sitting day rather than the abbreviated Wednesday sitting, appeared to be weighted in the government's favor.

The full-length sitting day means that the opposition would have to come up with a blizzard of procedural questions and delaying tactics to stymie the government. They were successful Wednesday in part because they only had to stall for a few hours.

For most of the four hours of the normally-abbreviated mid-week sitting, the opposition raised points of order, questions of procedure, and motions to adjourn debate and so frustrate Donald Macdonald's proposal as government House leader to lower the boom.

Nasser Utters Challenge — And Loses 9 Of His Jets

TEL AVIV (CP) — Israeli air and ground forces brought down nine Egyptian warplanes today in renewed fighting along the Suez Canal, Israeli military sources reported.

The action followed a threat from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt that Arab forces are ready to win back territories lost in the six-day war of June, 1967.

The downing of nine Soviet-built Egyptian warplanes would be the biggest single day's bag of Arab aircraft by the Israelis since the 1967 hostilities.

Military sources here said Israeli jets shot down three of the Egyptian planes, Hawk ground-to-air missiles brought down three more and anti-aircraft fire got the others.

As the jets fought, Israeli and Egyptian guns blazed across the 103-mile canal which divides Egypt from the Sinai Peninsula, seized by the Israelis in the June 1967 war.

The Israelis said their jets attacked Egyptian gun positions in the third air strike across the canal since Sunday.

Up to now the Israelis had claimed to have shot down 33 Soviet-built Egyptian planes for the loss of five Israeli warplanes since the 1967 war.

A military spokesman in Cairo reported air and ground fighting was under way along the Suez canal. He said Israeli jets swept over Egyptian air defence positions but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire and jet fighters.

The air action on the waterway began with Israeli jets hitting Egyptian gun positions.

Then, the Israelis said, Egyptian aircraft attacked Israeli positions on the Israeli side of the canal.

It was not immediately known whether any Egyptian aircraft crashed on the Israeli side or how many aircraft were lost in aerial combat or by ground fire.

One Israeli was badly wounded and four lightly wounded on the ground.

The army said the action along the canal was still continuing an hour after the MIG attack.

B.C. Tories Caught Off Guard By Bennett's Election Call

VANCOUVER (CP) — The long-dormant British Columbia Progressive Conservative party without a seat in the provincial legislature for years, has been caught off balance by Premier W. A. C. Bennett's announcement of an Aug. 27 election, party leader John de Wolfe said Wednesday.

In a news release titled "Statement of Defiance," the Tory leader said the timing of the election "has knocked out our intended candidates (and) also meant that we cannot gear up any effective campaign for those first-class younger men who were prepared to stand in the Vancouver area."

Tories won't sit this election out, Mr. de Wolfe said. He said he will release a list of his personal choices of the best man among the three viable political parties for 54 of the 55 seats in the legislature—reserving one seat to Point Grey should he decide to run himself.

Three Conservatives ran in the last election, in 1966, and received a total of only 1,408 votes. Mr. de Wolfe has already publicly endorsed Premier Bennett in his South Okanagan seat and New Democratic Party leader Tom Berger in Vancouver Burrard, along with Recreation Minister Ken Kiernan in Chilliwack.

He said in the statement the Tories' campaign will be one of "maximum voluntary effort and minimum expenditure" because it is his task to rebuild and organize the party for future elections.

Mr. de Wolfe said he rejected the Liberals, "hived for the majority of its votes in such areas as Shaughnessy and the university area," as unwelcome; the NDP as "unsound; and the Social Credit party as a "one-man party that was born with" Premier Bennett and will die without him.

Elsewhere in the campaign, the three parties represented in the legislature were busy arranging publicity and nomination meetings before the Aug. 23 deadline for nominations.

NDP campaign workers were compiling travel plans for provincial leader Tom Berger, who had to cut short a northern tour Tuesday after Mr. Bennett's election announcement. Mr. Berger's election itinerary is expected to be announced at a new conference Friday.

Killers Grab Treasures

IZMIR, Turkey (Reuters) — Several men stole archeological treasures worth more than $5,000,000 Wednesday night from Izmir Archeological Museum and killed the night watchman, police said today.

Police said the men apparently had attacked and bound the nightwatchman, Ismail Altintas, 60. They stabbed him repeatedly and finally strangled him before making off with 118 valuable pieces.

Mont Blanc Claims Yugoslav Climber

BONNEVILLE, France (Reuters) — A 52-year-old Yugoslav fell 2,600 feet to his death after reaching the top of Mont-Blanc, Europe's highest mountain, police reported Thursday. A helicopter recovered the body. Two other Yugoslavs in the climbing party returned safely after the ascent of the 15,770-foot peak.

NEW INTEREST IN AZTECS Gods, And Others, Appeased

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Despite Carmen Perez's bare-breasted appeasement to the Aztec rain gods, a thunderstorm forced the cancellation of her Wednesday matinee performance.

But the rain gods relented at night—and the shapely Miss Perez bared herself for 23 seconds in what she insists is being true to Aztec tradition.

Miss Perez, a member of the Flying Indians of Acapulco, has brewed a legal storm by her topless performance as a sacrifice to appease the rain gods.

Police—Aztec tradition or not—arrested her Tuesday on a charge of indecent exposure.

However, Miss Perez received a reprieve Wednesday, not from the rain gods, but from Circuit Court Judge Harvey Neelan who issued a restraining order against the vice squad from arresting her until he could review the controversy at a hearing today.

Miss Perez and the troupe are appearing at Milwaukee's annual Summerfest.

A Summerfest spokesman dismissed the idea that Miss Perez resumed her topless sacrifice as a publicity stunt to attract audiences.

In any event, Miss Perez has spurred a sudden interest in Aztec culture in Milwaukee. Every seat for the Wednesday night performance was sold.

Names In Historic Niche

The touchdown ended a flight of eight days three hours 18 minutes during which Apollo 11 travelled more than 750,000 miles.

Armstrong and Aldrin etched their names beside history's great explorers on Sunday when they flew the fragile craft named Eagle to man's first landing on the moon.

Hours later, Armstrong, then Aldrin, strode the lunar surface, leaving their footprints in the powdery terrain.

Monday, in another gripping moment in this drama of the ages, Armstrong and Aldrin blasted Eagle off the moon and rejoined Collins orbiting overhead in the command ship, Columbia.

They fired themselves out of lunar orbit to start a leisurely 60-hour return trip.

WEIGHT REDUCED

Before hitting the atmosphere today, the astronauts jettisoned a service module attached to the command ship. The shedding of this equipment bay exposed the heat shield and reduced Apollo 11's weight from about 32,000 to 12,000 pounds.

"You're good for landing," mission control told Apollo 11.

'You're Right On Target ...'

During the hottest part of re-entry, ionized gases enveloped the plunging spaceship and blocked radio communications for more than three minutes.

Before losing contact, Armstrong took a last look at the scene of Sunday's adventure and reported: "We have the moon in the field of view right now."

While Apollo 11 still was in the blackout period, its fiery plunge was sighted by a tracking plane, which made radio contact.

It disappeared for a few minutes in a cloud bank and then came back in full view of the cheering sailors on the deck. "You're right on target," the

"I still say you should have brought back a smaller rock!"

They slammed into the outer limits of the atmosphere, at 400,000 feet altitude, like a speeding bullet. Their 24,602-mile-an-hour speed was dramatically slowed by the thickening atmosphere, and forces six times the pull of gravity pressed the spacemen against their couches.

Hornet radioed Apollo 11. Five minutes before landing three small parachutes popped out to stabilize the craft. Seconds later, at 10,000 feet, three main 83.5-foot chutes blossomed majestically and Apollo 11 floated gently downward into the Pacific at 22 miles an hour.

Originally, Apollo 11 was to have landed 250 miles to the west. But a forecast of thunder showers for that area prompted a change. The astronauts steered to the new site by changing the angle of the spaceship as they dipped into the atmosphere. It was the first time in the Apollo program that manual action had to be taken to change the course of a ship during re-entry.

Haggard Briton Flown Home After Spy Swap With Soviet

LONDON (CP) — Haggard, pale and nervous, British lecturer Gerald Brooke returned to London in a Russian airliner today after being released from four years of Soviet imprisonment.

"I feel sort of numb—I haven't really got used to speaking English again," Brooke told a news conference at London Airport.

He was wearing the grey suit in which he was arrested and a red striped British school tie. His face was drawn, his hair was cropped short.

Brooke, 30, was released after Britain agreed to exchange Soviet spy Morris and John Cohen for him and two young Britons held in Russia on drug charges. Negotiations for the swap extended over 11 weeks.

Prime Minister Trudeau said Wednesday the government has not yet decided whether to condemn the American anti-ballistic missile system or co-operate in its construction. He was replying in the Commons to NDP Leader T. C. Douglas, who noted that Mr. Trudeau stated March 19 that the government would be making a decision on the matter. Mr. Douglas later asked whether the government intends to take no decision at all. Mr. Trudeau said the government is anxious to get back to the job, an apparent reference to Commons procedural debate Wednesday which kept the cabinet in the chamber.

It is expected that this amount may be reduced by $4,500,000 by Jan. 1, 1970, at which time accounts of less than $25 that have been inactive for 30 years or more will revert to the Crown and will not be recoverable. Accounts of $25 and over will be held in perpetuity for the rightful owners but no interest will be earned after Dec. 31, 1968.

Next Moon Trip To Be Longer

HOUSTON (AP) — Astronauts aboard the next U.S. moon-landing adventure, Apollo 12, plan to walk on the lunar surface twice as long as the Apollo 11 explorers. But they won't leave earth before Nov. 10 and may not go until January.

Later flights, probably beginning with Apollo 13, will take astronauts to rougher mountain regions as part of a four-year program of exploring the moon. While a final decision has not been made, Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, Apollo program director, said Apollo 12 probably will try to land on a relatively flat plain in the western half of the moon near the lunar equator. Apollo 11's landing site in the Sea of Tranquility also was on the moon's equator, but in the east-central section of the moon's visible face.

Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad, 38; Richard Gordon, 39; and Alan Bean, 37, are tentatively scheduled to blast off sometime between Nov. 10 and Nov. 17.

But last April, Dr. Wilmot Hess, chief scientist at the Manned Spacecraft Centre, recommended that six months elapse between Apollo flights after the first lunar landing to give scientists more time to analyse rocks and photographs returned from a previous mission.

B.C. ELECTION

The NDP leads in nominations with 40 candidates. Social Credit has 34 nominated and the Liberals 17. Skeena New Democratic MP Frank Howard ended weeks of speculation Wednesday when he said definitely he would not seek a provincial seat in the August election.

He was MLA for the riding from 1953 to 1956 and has been MP for the same area since 1957. He had been asked to run again provincially by Mr. Berger. He said he would be campaigning for the party, however.

Attorney-General Leslie Peterson, speaking at a nomination meeting in suburban Burnaby, said Social Credit must seek new support from old Liberals and Conservatives to keep B.C. safe from socialism. He said it would be disastrous for the province to flirt with Berger-type socialism. "Don't be afraid to ask Liberals and Conservatives for support or even to take an active part in the campaign," he said. Liberals are expected to kick off the campaign Friday with a speech by leader Dr. Pat McGee in Kamloops. Mr. Berger will also speak there Friday at a nomination meeting of the NDP. Both leaders have rejected the idea of a coalition with another party in the event of a minority government after the election.

They could then apply this knowledge to the next flight, Hess said, giving scientists a better idea of what astronauts should look for to get the most out of the mission.

While Gordon remains in lunar orbit taking care of the command ship, Conrad and Bean are to take two excursions outside the lunar module for a total of more than five hours. Neil Armstrong walked on the moon two hours 14 minutes, while Edwin Aldrin spent one hour 44 minutes outside.

Because of the ease with which the Apollo 11 explorers moved around the lunar surface, however, Conrad and Bean may be allowed to stray farther from the lunar module than planners previously believed could be done safely.

Apollo 12 also will carry a more elaborate set of scientific experiments to leave on the lunar surface to listen for moonquakes, see if the moon has a magnetic field and study radiation streaming from the sun.

Warrant Out For Bishop

L'AQUILA, Italy (AP) — The carabinieri issued a warrant today for the arrest of a Roman Catholic bishop who, as a captain in the German Army during the Second World War, relayed an order for the execution of 17 Italians in the nearby village of Filetto.

The warrant calls for the arrest of the Rt. Rev. Matthias Defregger, auxiliary bishop of Munich, if he ever "sets foot in the territory of the Italian Republic." It said the carabinieri, or national police, of L'Aquila want to question him about "the episode of Filetto."

The warrant was issued after a Communist member of Parliament petitioned the general prosecutor of L'Aquila's court of appeals to try Bishop Defregger as the person chiefly responsible for the executions.

After details of the case were disclosed by the West German magazine Der Spiegel and confirmed by a Frankfurt prosecutor, Julius Cardinal Döpfner, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Munich, pleaded for understanding of the actions of his auxiliary bishop.

Valley's College Going Portable

A 10,000 square-foot portable building is being shipped to Kelowna to accommodate an expected influx of Okanagan College students this fall.

The location enables college students to take advantage of laboratories and libraries already constructed in the vocational school.

When replaced by a permanent building the portable structure can be dismantled and shipped elsewhere.

Dr. Grant said the move out of the college's secondary school location will relieve an undesirable situation of 1968, the mingling of first year university students with secondary school students.

SEEN and HEARD

Mavis Matheson, a 17-year-old visitor from Saskatchewan began to have second thoughts Wednesday about the Okanagan black widow spider.

A local fisherman was the only one who caught any trout on a trip with two of his buddies last week.

Dr. Keith Winter, who joins the teaching staff of Okanagan College this year, has received a writer of the year award from California.

You could almost feel the bearing look on the little boy's face as his mother lead him into a Bernard Avenue bank.

Dr. Keith Winter, who joins the teaching staff of Okanagan College this year, has received a writer of the year award from California.

The college principal said the institution will never be able to accommodate the entire Okanagan in one structure and plans are for a number of centres to be built.

One of the believe it or not column: a teen-age girl slugging through the dust and 90 degree sun on St. Paul Street Wednesday wearing a heavy denim jacket buttoned to the throat and a pair of slacks.

The old van parked in the City Park was at one time obviously part of a plumbing and heating firm in Kelowna.

Kelowna is handicapped in the college field as there are no "old buildings" sitting idle that could be utilized in place of a new structure.

People sometimes forget that those in high places are human too. Therefore there were some wry grins Wednesday at the sight of Dr. R. F. Grant, Okanagan College principal, and his executive assistant Richard Ketchum, hastily gluing together a model of the new college building.

SUNNY skies with afternoon and evening cloudy periods and a few showers are forecast for today and Friday in the Central Okanagan.

Final plans for the mammoth portable arrived in Kelowna today and although no completion date has been set, Dr. Grant said the structure would be ready for the coming term.

Shoppers in a local supermarket this week were amused to see a man munching on a piece of meat while he wheeled his grocery cart around the store.

A tentative Aug. 12 date has been set for the South Okanagan Liberal Association nomination meeting, constituency president Tom Finklestein said today.

Not Guilty Plea Heard

Trial by magistrate was elected today in court by a Kelowna youth charged with trafficking hashish.

Dennis Karlo Schaeffer, who was arrested in the RCMP Valley-wide undercover drug investigation in June, pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Passenger In Hospital

PEACHLAND (Staff) — A Calgary woman is in only fair condition in Kelowna hospital today with injuries suffered in a two-car crash three miles south of here, Wednesday.

Mr. Fred (Mary) Mayhew was injured when a car driven by her husband was involved in a rear-end collision with a vehicle driven by Robert James Harris, of Sidney.

Two 12-year-old girls, Ann Langdon and Joanne Harris, who were riding in the Harris vehicle at the time of the crash were treated and released at Summerland Hospital.

Final Word From Victoria

Four re-zoning applications presented Monday at a public hearing for community planning area one, Winifred to Westbank, will be sent to Victoria for final approval.

Driver Hurt In Accident

James Irwin Davidson, Kelowna, suffered minor injuries in a single car accident at Highway 33 and Mill Creek Bridge about 3 a.m. today.

An estimated $800 damage was done in the mishap, which was the only accident reported to Kelowna RCMP during the night.

Patrols failed to locate anyone waiting for the friendly creature to surface.

Okanagan People Wait To See Who Designated

On again, off again Vernon is in again. The northern city can't quite decide just how far it wants to participate in the Okanagan Regional Industrial Development Council, but "the door is open. We'll carry on," declared Mayor William Halina, who threatened to abandon the council because of financial disparities in the cost-sharing structure of the three participating cities of Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon involved in the industrial promotion board.

Just where the council itself is going and what can be done about getting there was the subject of a two-and-a-half-hour debate Wednesday. Formed four years ago to take advantage of benefits to be awarded under the Federal Area Development Act, the group has been waiting for the government to decide which areas will be re-designated, since the region came under the act's wing July 1, 1965.

Trying to shed some light on the matter, R. R. McMaster, regional co-ordinator for the department of regional expansion, Ottawa, told the meeting he expected "new" designated areas to be named by "the end of this month."

Chairman F. D. Stuart, mayor of Penticton, thought Premier W. A. C. Bennett was in favor of the "whole of British Columbia" as a designated area, a premise that found agreement with Mayor R. F. Parkinson.

The three-man safe boating team, headed by supervisor Don Crompton, of the University of British Columbia, will hold demonstrations and instruction clinics at City Park beaches at 2 to 7 p.m. and 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Grass fires kept the Okanagan Fire Brigade busy Wednesday, although no other blazes were reported.

The safety tour began June 28 on Vancouver Island and so far has covered Kamloops, Barkan, and currently Vernon, in its Okanagan itinerary.

Senior Citizens Seek Facilities

A brief recommending construction of a multi-purpose activity centre for Kelowna senior citizens in the proposed new aquatic building complex was presented to city council Tuesday.

An urgent need of facilities for recreation and social activities for the aged is emphasized in the brief, presented by representatives of the Volunteer Recreational Services. The phenomenal increase rate of the number of people over 65 residing in Kelowna and the prediction Kelowna is destined to become a mecca for retiring Canadians and Americans stated in the brief are chief reasons why the city should consider an activity centre.

The Volunteer Recreational Services assembled the data relating to the need for an activity centre. They believed that future permanent resident tourists would provide a basis for a steady, growing prosperity in the community and such a centre would serve their needs for companionship and recreation.

A multi-purpose activity centre would provide social, recreation, education, counselling, general advisory, health, housing, and community services for the seniors.

The elderly, faced with increased free time and isolation at a time of decreasing physical capacity, need to be understood in terms of how they see themselves and their potential to utilize their experiences on their own and the community's behalf.

An opportunity to participate creatively in the community would prove to the elderly and the community that they can be independent, self-directing and productive individually and through groups.

The centre would be a fitting memorial to honor Kelowna seniors who have contributed financially and labor-wise to the original Aquatic club which was destroyed by fire June 14.

The centre would be patterned after the Silver Threads activity centre in Victoria. Administration would be a board of consultants, comprised of business and retired professional people, and three levels of government: personal donations and productive enterprises would finance the centre.

The City of Kelowna would provide light, water, phone and general maintenance of the centre; the provincial and federal government would provide salaries for employees of the centre through Canada assistance plan welfare department and the B.C. government would provide a sports and fitness grant to cover equipment and supplies for sports and recreation.

Additional funds would be available through members of the centre fees and fund-raising activities such as teas and bazaars organized by the senior citizens. Also rentals of the facilities to other community groups when the building was not in use would help finance the centre.

Traffic, Tax, Fraud Cases Heard By Magistrate Today

Bail was set at $250 cash in a charge of failing to stop at a flashing red light.

Millman was charged as a result of an accident July 7, in the coast city.

Speeding charges brought a $50 fine to Henry George Reglin, Kelowna who was caught going 52 mph in a 30 mph zone on Glenmore Avenue and Clifford Comis, also of Kelowna, was fined $75 for going 73 mph in a 50 mph zone on Highway 97.

Radar caught Norman Morrison, Kelowna, travelling at 70 mph in a 30 mph zone on Black Mountain Road, July 12, and he was fined $75.

All pleaded guilty.

A not guilty plea was entered by James Dalke, Kelowna, also charged with speeding.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

Short Takes

The face of Short Takes is red, very red. A couple of days ago we made some comment about a letter being mailed here on a Thursday morning not being in Oyama by Saturday noon. Well, there was a reason and it was not the fault of the post office. We made the goof ourselves. We addressed the envelope and we typed "Campbell" instead of "Cameron". So the letter was not delivered, naturally. While our face is red, we are nevertheless a little glad it happened this way. In our original comment we pointed out that we had always felt the local p.o. staffs were doing a pretty good job but the incident of the letter made us wonder a bit. Now our confidence in the local—repeat, local—p.o. has been restored. Our mental lapse mixed up the clans, and probably neither Campbells nor the Camerons would approve of that.

We, in our naivete, had assumed that when the criminal code in respect to capital punishment had been amended, it would put an end to the breaking-of-the-law by the federal government. But how wrong we were! The law now abolishes the death penalty for all but those who kill policemen or prison guards. Now, at the very first opportunity, the federal cabinet has removed even this, it has done so by commuting to life imprisonment the death penalty the courts, in accordance with the law, had imposed on Otto Borg, the slayer of a policeman. The cabinet has done a disservice to the law-abiding citizens of Canada and it has made a mockery of the criminal code. More, it has sold our police and our prison guards down the river. Even more serious, it has encouraged contempt of the law in a time when the law certainly needs all the respect and the support it can be given; but the federal cabinet has calmly and deliberately broken the law. If the lawmakers of the country cannot abide by the rules they themselves have set, how in the world can they expect law-abiding citizens to do so. And how can they expect criminals to have any respect for the law?

It seems to us that one of the worst corners in the area is that at Pandosy and KLO-Cedar. Both the east and west approaches to this Pandosy intersection are dangerous. It is outside the city limits but it does seem to be one of those rural intersections which should have a traffic light.

And speaking of traffic, have you taken a drive down Lakeshore Road lately? If you haven't don't bother; if you have you will know the traffic conditions are getting worse and worse. A second road to the Mission is long overdue. Ethel or Richter should be extended and made the main road, taking the pressure off Lakeshore. Even a nincompoop can see traffic to and from the Mission is going to increase so why not now take steps to eliminate conditions which will be deteriorating steadily during the next year or so? Why not get at the obvious now before it becomes a nightmare?

The first meal eaten on the moon highlighted bacon. What no apple pie and cheese?

A bouquet for the city gardening staff under Geoff Cottle. The hanging street baskets are prettier than last year and certain flower beds are more attractive than usual. That on the Queensway-Water corner of the city hall property for instance. And some in City Park as well. The judicious use of those low begonias is most effective.

A few months ago we commented that the Americans in their space program, did everything right before the eyes of the world and were prepared to pay the price of failure. Certainly the story of Apollo XI demonstrated this fact when probably the largest audience ever seen in the world watched in detail the progress of the astronauts: The American approach differed sharply from that of the Russians who never give the world an inkling what they are doing until—and unless—the program is successful. One wonders how many unsuccessful shots the Russians have made? How many have been successfully buried? One knows about the American attempts. Indeed, one is almost a part of them.

Hot Under The Collar

Your car gets just as "hot under the collar" as you do in aggravating summertime traffic jams, G. Conway Parrott, president of the B.C. Automobile Association reminds motorists.

According to the BCAA, overheating is one of the major causes of auto breakdowns—and added traffic congestion.

Mr. Parrott said over-heating is a by-product of stop-and-go traffic, and is caused by excessive engine idling on warm days.

If your car over-heats this summer, the BCAA suggests following these steps:

Don't turn off the engine if the temperature gauge starts to rise or the warning light indicates over-heating.

Instead, if stuck in a long line of waiting cars, shift to neutral and race the engine moderately for 30 seconds at about two-minute intervals. If the radiator continues to over-heat, drive the car off the road, turn off the engine, raise the hood and wait until the temperature gauge registers well below boiling point or until the warning light goes off.

Remove the radiator cap by turning a little at a time to release pressure slowly, using a doubled towel or thickly wadded rag to protect your hand. Keep your face away from the radiator while turning the cap. Check the water level. If it is low, restart the engine and add lukewarm water with the engine running.

Never add cold water to a hot radiator. Cold water may crack the cylinder block of a hot engine, and cylinder blocks are very costly.

If the boil-over occurs again, have the car checked at the nearest service station.

Compulsory sprinkling regulations went into effect in Kelowna to assure all users of water a fair share of the supply. Those in even numbered houses to water lawns and gardens on even numbered days, and in odd numbered houses will water on odd number days. Glenmore municipal council has also decided to impose sprinkling regulations.

In Passing

When three suitors and their parents showed up in Bulandshahr, India, to claim the hand of a rich village girl, the elders decided to let her make the choice, which she did with such good grace that the two rejected youths stayed on for the wedding.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TYPICAL ATTITUDE

Sir: The undersigned has just read the item regarding pollution in the July 21 issue of your newspaper.

The last paragraph (quote) "What angered the chambers of commerce was the timing. They and Mr. Lofmark are worried the pollution scare will put a damper on the tourist trade." (unquote) is typical of the attitude prevailing in the Okanagan, i.e.: Let's get the tourist dollars and to hell with the people who live here all year around.

Obviously the so-called good businessmen and community elite don't care about the type of heritage they pass on to the next generation as long as they take all the money they can now from the tourist.

After living near the lake this past 10 years or more one has only to look at the increased algae and weed growth along the lakeshore from Vernon to Pentiction. See the scum from motor boats and submerged and floating junk lying near the shoreline. Even an ordinary and untrained eye can see this. For an even better idea look at the water sample exhibit in the lobby of the South Okanagan Health Unit.

We should be thankful for men like Dr. Clarke and Mr. Alcock who bring the pollution problem out in the open in spite of the opposition. Hopefully before it's too late other public minded citizens will take up the fight. Let's not have our lakes as polluted as those in the east just because of a selfish bunch who don't care about the future of the Okanagan.

One would think the city councils and chambers of commerce would be the first to get behind pollution control measures and not fight against it.

Yours Truly

EXCITING TIMES

Sir: These are exciting times! Mankind is in a great transitional period. The recent moon landing has given rise to these following questions: From where do we come? What are we? Where are we going?

Vast amounts of money, time and energy are spent for a formal education. Because it is argued, in learned circles, that the solution to the world's immediate and mediate needs are education, men the world over anxiously and relentlessly search the universe for more knowledge and probe further and further into unknown regions, hoping that the answer to all his searching and probing will be found.

It is a prophecy that the result of education will be the production of the educated man of 1984 who will speak the language of science. Will this educated man be a ruler of his fellowmen by the mean and brutal processes of efficiency of George Orwell's book. It is hoped that the scientific and educated man will be a wise and trusted servant of mankind? If so, will he have the courage to rescue from the test tube of education the elements of love?

While the next 20 years may yield the answers, today mankind is duped and enslaved by the pursuit of formal education. Not until man realizes that security does not lie in material possessions, skills and knowledge, but instead upon a divine existence, a divine relationship. Now more than at any other time in the history of man there is a need for him to become aware of this divine relationship. Not until this is realized and made manifest will man be truly educated.

Yours Truly,
V. B. SHARP
Kelowna.

MARCH ON CITY HALL

Sir: I recently wrote a letter advocating a cultural, academic and tourist approach to industry in Kelowna and the Okanagan in general. In addition to the native fruit industry, of course.

I've received a few letters from Kelowna both agreeing with the opinions I expressed. These are people of some importance in the community. I thank them for those letters.

Too bad those well-meaning people have learned nothing from the young people of today who if their firm conditions not acceptable, are willing to do something or at least be heard.

My middle-age types are so complacent and security-conscious. It's one thing to gripe over a few drinks and correct conditions in the privacy of our living rooms—it's another thing to get down to council meetings and make ourselves heard.

City councils are open to outside influence. Witness how municipal governments everywhere will never decide a crucial matter back to the voters in a referendum to have them decide. We continue to elect chicken councils.

Kelowna citizens can decide what type of industry they want and how much pollution they are willing to tolerate.

Responsible Okanaganians should not leave protest to the young people. Protest is legal and six hundred thousand percent more desirable than complacency.

If you don't want Kelowna to become the Apple Pittsburgh of Canada—March on City Hall!

Respectfully,
SID BARRON
71 Dock St.,
Victoria

COVER UP

Sir: May I express my thoughts regarding pollution of Okanagan Lake and its effect on the tourist industry. It would seem that for the tourist, all facts on pollution should be either denied or saved until winter when the tourist season is over.

The people who live in and around Kelowna have gradually seen the lake become worse; heard the facts through the health unit, but we have hoped something would be done before it was too late. Meanwhile sewage is constantly flowing into the lake. But let some facts come out during the tourist season and we are told 'loud and clear' that the lake is not polluted, etc., etc.

Even the minister of health for the province, elected by the people to serve in that position, rather than face the facts and do something to benefit the situation, would rather take the easy way out and deny the facts.

True, some of the resort owners are losing business, but do these people live in Kelowna the year round?

It is the children of the people who reside in and around Kelowna who swim in the lake for the summer season, not just a week or two as most of the tourists do.

Let us with families here shout 'loud and clear' that the lake is polluted. Let's have the facts printed for all to see, and let's support our health unit in what they are trying to do.

Let's keep the subject alive, now during the tourist season, when it hurts the most, and maybe, just maybe, the ones with the power to do something about the situation will be embarrassed into doing something.

Come on folks, if you have any interest in the lake, let's do something before it's too late.

Sincerely,
"LOCAL MOTHER"

First Aid Suggestions For Choking Spells

By DR. GEORGE THOSTESON

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What first aid should my husband give me when I have choking spells?

Sometimes I choke when I'm eating, and sometimes just from swallowing saliva. I jump up and gasp for breath, with my arms raised, and walk around in anxiety, and think my heart is going to stop.

My husband gets desperate and feels so helpless, not knowing what to do to help me. We live in a rural area so we can't get a doctor quickly.—Mrs. G. R.

Some people are more subject to choking spells than others, often because of otherwise harmless little habits they have acquired. Don't talk or laugh with a mouthful of food! And chew food well before swallowing.

If the spells are quite frequent, an X-ray of the esophagus or gullet, may disclose a cause. Sometimes spasm or a diverticulum (pouch) in the esophagus can be a cause.

As for first aid, here are some do's and don'ts.

Don't pace around the room. Walking and gasping makes things worse. Remember that food (or sometimes liquid, or other material, even saliva) is trying to slip down through the windpipe, instead of going down through the gullet to the stomach.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

July 24, 1969 . . .

Simon Bolivar, the hero of South American liberation, was born 186 years ago today—in 1783—in Venezuela. After two defeats he led an independence campaign in 1818-19 which freed the native province from Spanish rule. He founded the republic of Colombia and added to it Ecuador and Peru. The northern part of Peru adopted the name Bolivia in his honor. However his autocratic methods brought discontent in peacetime and he resigned in 1830, dying in the same year.

1534 — Jacques Cartier landed at the site of Gaspe, Que., and took possession of Canada for France.

1922 — The United Nations approved a British mandate for Palestine.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—United States forces advanced to within sight of the Cherbourg docks; Russian troops reached a point 75 miles from the Latvian border; United States bombers hit the Ploesti area of Romania.

Walking around and gasping for air are wrong because, first, the walking tends to jar the obstruction deeper into the windpipe, when what you want is for it to come up—so it can then be properly swallowed or spit out. And as you gasp for air, the suction can draw the obstruction deeper.

Don't slap the victim on the back when he is standing up or sitting up. Again, it can jar the obstruction deeper.

And don't try to remove the food (or other obstruction) unless you can see it very clearly. Merely probing around with the handle of a teaspoon or such is dangerous. It may force the obstruction so solidly into the windpipe that it cannot be dislodged.

Here are the do's:

Have an adult lie face down on a table or couch, with head hanging lower than the hips. Then a slap on the back can help dislodge the obstruction, and (because the head is down) any movement of the obstruction will be upwards in the windpipe, not downward toward the lungs. In other words, make gravity work for you, not against.

Moving the person from side to side in this prone position also may help loosen whatever is in the windpipe.

(With small children, the most effective method is to hold the child upside down and slap him on the back—but hardly practical for adults!)

There are cases of people choking so seriously on a bone or chunk of unchewed meat that they began to turn blue. Advice, given over the phone in some of these cases, was to tickle the nose or dash a bit of pepper or mustard powder, if handy, in the victim's face, bringing on a sneeze that expelled the obstruction. But in most cases the method outlined above usually does the trick, and more quickly.

Note to Mrs. C.S.P.: No, there is no reason to think that reserpine (used to reduce blood pressure) would cause blackouts, and I would look elsewhere for the cause.

BIBLE BRIEF

"For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad."—2 Corinthians 5:10.

It will be disappointing at the judgment for a lot of people to be faced with the reality that they must give an account of their own sins and shortcomings and not others. "Every man shall give an account of himself to God."

Kennedy Probe 'Not Over Yet'

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The investigation into Senator Edward M. Kennedy's automobile accident in which a woman passenger was killed "isn't completed—not by a long shot," says a supervisor of the Massachusetts registry of motor vehicles.

The supervisor, Georges W. Kennedy, no relation to the senator, commented Wednesday after the state agency announced in Boston it has temporarily suspended the senator's driver's licence because of the accident.

Registry officials noted such action is fairly routine in cases involving a fatality.

The suspension was based on a preliminary finding that the 37-year-old Massachusetts Democrat was at "fault" in the accident, which claimed the life of a young Washington secretary. Kennedy has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, a secretary to the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, died in the accident.

The wreck occurred late Friday or early Saturday, when Kennedy's car went off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island, adjacent to Martha's Vineyard, a larger island south of Cape Cod. The vehicle landed upside down in a tidal pond. Miss Kopechne was trapped in the car and was drowned.

SUFFERED NECK SPRAIN

Kennedy escaped with what his doctor said was a mild concussion and a neck sprain. Kennedy said he was taking Miss Kopechne to catch a midnight ferry from Chappaquiddick to Martha's Vineyard.

"If the hearing results in a finding of no serious fault on Senator Kennedy's part," the registry said, "his driver's licence will be reinstated."

No date has been set for the licence session, but a court hearing is to be held here Monday on the complaint accusing Kennedy of leaving the accident scene.

Its purpose will be to determine whether a summons should be issued against Kennedy, bringing him to trial.

The senator, widely viewed as a 1972 Democratic presidential candidate, did not go to the police until almost 10 a.m. Saturday, nine or 10 hours after the accident.

Edgartown Police Chief Dominic Arena still wants to find out what happened in the time between the accident and the time Kennedy reported it.

"We are satisfied that the accident is an accident, Arena said. "What happened afterward is the reason for the (leaving the scene) complaint."

Arena said he wanted particularly to talk with the persons who were reported to have attended a party with Kennedy and Miss Kopechne on Chappaquiddick prior to the accident.

Arena said he had "asked for outside help" from the district attorney's office, but had received none.

In New Bedford, District Attorney Edmund Dins issued a statement saying he had received no formal request for help from Arena.

Kennedy said Tuesday when he returned from Miss Kopechne's funeral in Pennsylvania that he would make a statement "at the appropriate time." So far he has not made one.

ATTENDED PARTY

Ten persons—five men and five women—are said to have been at the party besides Kennedy and Miss Kopechne.

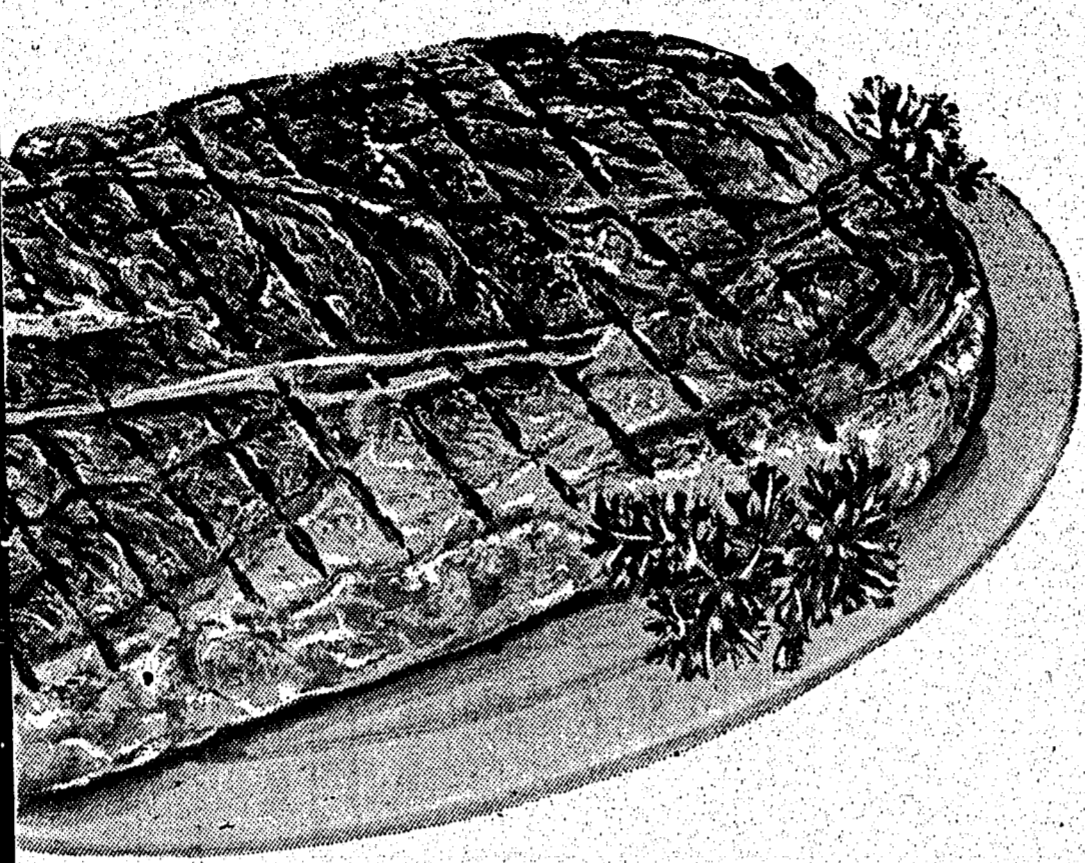

The men have been identified as Joseph Gargan, first cousin and close personal friend of Kennedy and the man who rented the cottage where the party was held; Paul Markham, former U.S. attorney for Massachusetts and another close Kennedy friend; Ray LaRosa and Charles Tretter, who, with the other three, had made up the crew on Kennedy's boat in a yacht race earlier Friday off Edgartown; and John Crimmins, Kennedy's driver.

The women are said to have been Esther Newburg, Nancy Lyons, Kennedy's secretary; her sister, Mary Ellen; Rosemary Koogh; and Susan Tenenbaum.

In a police statement, Kennedy said he tried repeatedly to rescue Miss Kopechne after the accident, but couldn't locate her.

He didn't say how he got back to Edgartown, who took him or what time it was when he arrived. He said he went to the police as soon as he fully realized what had happened.

Bertrand Cuts Work Load And Distributes Portfolios

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand distributed additional portfolios to four of his Union Nationale cabinet ministers Wednesday, easing his own workload.

The 53-year-old premier, who suffered a heart attack last year, turned over his justice portfolio to Provincial Secretary Remi Paul, 48, and relinquished his intergovernmental affairs portfolio to Marcel Masse, 33, minister without portfolio in charge of the civil service.

The finance post, vacant because of the resignation last week for health reasons of Paul Dozola, went to Immigration Minister Mario Beaulieu, 39, while Solicitor-General Armand Maltais, 35, took over as minister of financial institutions, companies and co-operatives, a position filled by Yves Gabilas until his retirement.

Mr. Dozola represented Montreal St. Jacques in the national assembly and Mr. Gabilas Trois-Rivieres.

The shuffle was seen as a move to give Mr. Bertrand and his main supporters in the cabinet time to put their own stamp on the government and put forward their own policies following the party's leadership convention last month.

Mr. Beaulieu, member of the national assembly for Montreal Dorion, was elected in a by-election last autumn and was immediately appointed immigration minister.

He was the party's director-general and served as personal secretary to the late premier Daniel Johnson.

Mr. Paul, who entered the House of Commons in the 1957 Diefenbaker sweep, was elected to the Quebec house of 1966, served as Speaker for two sessions and was then named provincial secretary.

He is member of the national assembly for Maskinonge.

Mr. Masse, member for Montcalm, was elected in 1966 after leaving a teaching career and was given responsibility for the government's negotiations with public employees.

Mr. Maltais, member for L'Amouille, was a Quebec City lawyer before being elected near the end of the Duplessis era.

Welcome Set For Space Trio To Be Matched Against Lindy's

NEW YORK (AP) — The tickertape parade President Nixon has set up for the Apollo 11 moonmen will inevitably be measured against the salute this city gave a flying hero of an earlier age—Charles A. Lindbergh.

New York plans to welcome the astronauts Aug. 13 after they get out of post-flight quarantine in Houston, Tex. After their New York appearance, they plan to fly to Chicago for a parade in the Loop, then to Los Angeles for dinner with President Nixon.

Lindbergh's arrival here on June 13, 1927, three weeks after his historic New York-to-Paris flight, is a tough act to follow. The New York Times estimated the crowds at 4,000,000, a figure which, if accurate, would have been equivalent to two-thirds of the city's population at that time.

Four hundred excursion boats, jammed with 30,000 on-lookers, filled New York's Lower Bay with a din of whistles as Lindbergh touched down aboard the amphibious plane San Francisco.

Thousands lined the shores. Lindbergh was shuttled to the city's welcome boat and an hour later he stepped ashore at the Battery.

WINDOWS CHOICE SPOTS

The tip of Manhattan was jammed. The brokerage firm of Hemphill and Weeks had turned down an offer of $1,000 for the use of its windows at 42 Broadway as parade vantage points. Other choice floors had rented for an average of $300.

The procession, headed by 15,000 soldiers and sailors, crawled up lower Broadway. At times the blizzard of falling ticker tape and paper was so thick it cut off the smiling Lindbergh from view and dimmed the bright afternoon sun.

All along the way the crowds grew thicker. The noise occasionally drowned out the voices of radio announcers trying to describe the scene.

Overhead, a skywriter scrawled "Hall Lindy" across the sky in smoke.

At City Hall, Mayor Jimmy Walker looped the city's Medal of Valor around Lindbergh's neck while 3,000 invited guests looked on and a crowd of 100,000 roared "Lindy!"

The protest was made to Elmer W. Hallowell, agricultural attaché at the U.S. embassy in Tokyo, the spokesman said.

Japan imports about 4,000,000 tons of wheat annually, of which more than 40 per cent comes from the U.S.

Japan Raps Trade Move

TOKYO (Reuters) — The Japanese food agency has protested against an American decision to exclude Japan from price cuts in the purchase of American wheat, an agency spokesman said today.

LINDA DIBONA and Bill Martin-Viscount will appear with the Banff School of Fine Arts ballet to be held in the Kelowna Community Theatre Aug. 16 at 8:30 p.m.

Festival Ballet Coming To City

The 1969 edition of the Banff School of Fine Arts Festival Ballet will offer Kelowna audiences an exciting contrast of classical and modern ballet. The ballet will be held in the community theatre Aug. 16 at 8:30 p.m. and is sponsored by Kelowna Rotary Clubs. There will be two ballets choreographed by Gwynne Ashton, ballet mistress of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet and a member of the school's ballet division since this summer. The first, Sur La Plage is a delightful romp, complete with bathing belles, beachcomber, and lifeguards bedecked in the costume and spirit of the Roaring 20's. It was first produced in South Africa for the Pretoria Theatre Ballet. Costume designs for the Banff production are by J. McKillop, with music by Waldteufel, arranged by Richard Cherry of Johannesburg.

The second ballet by Gwynne Ashton, Entre Joux is in the more classical tradition, set to the music of Bizet's Dance Boheme arranged by James Clouser, former member of the Banff School ballet division staff presently dancing and teaching in New York. Entre Joux is full of light-hearted fun and spirit.

The ever exciting Eva von Gency is returning to teach modern jazz at the school and will also dance in Here and Now, a new ballet which she has choreographed in collaboration with Michel Boudot, especially for Banff's 1969 Festival Ballet. Here and Now has four parts—group spirit, loneliness, love, and celebration. The overall theme is best expressed in a sentence, "There is no time, only now, a perfect experience in the perfect momentum." Miss von Gency's partner for this ballet will be Michel Boudot of Montreal, a new member of the Banff staff and founder of the Canadian Choreographer's Workshop in 1963. Actively engaged in teaching, performing and choreography, he has danced with Les Grands Ballets Canadiens, the London Festival Ballet and several London West End shows.

Bill Martin-Viscount and Linda DiBona are again returning to the school and will be featured in Spring Waters and the bravura Esmeralda pas-de-deux. The first of two ballets, Spring Waters, music by Rachmaninoff, employs acrobatic technique of amazing difficulty and deep lyrical emotion to convey the impression of ice turning to water after a cold Russian winter. Mr. Martin-Viscount first performed this ballet in Moscow in 1966 when he was with the Bolshoi Ballet being trained and coached by the highly esteemed Alexei Yermolayev.

The second of two ballets, Esmeralda, is a stunning pas-de-deux performed only in Moscow by the Stanislavsky-Demirovich Ballet and London's Festival Ballet in England. The pas-de-deux was first choreographed for Mr. Martin-Viscount in Moscow but will include variations which he has since incorporated.

Mr. Martin-Viscount and Miss DiBona have been performing and teaching in New York, Dallas, Puerto Rico and elsewhere in the U.S. since last summer. The final ballet, a Spanish dance Rondalla has been choreographed by Lynette Fry Abra, former soloist with the Royal Winnipeg Ballet and now living in Calgary. The ballet is based on a Spanish theme in the Jota style. The central figure is a young boy. As the curtain rises he is sitting in a pool of light playing his guitar—very sad. One by one the boys and girls in the number join him. Eventually happiness returns and the ballet ends in a gay fiesta. Rondalla will feature the music of Hector Villa-Lobos, Enrique Granados, Manuel De Falla, Joaquim Turina and Isaac Albeniz.

The Banff Festival Ballet Orchestra will include professional musicians from all across Canada under the direction of Dr. George Brough, assistant conductor of the Canadian Opera Company for many years.

Quebec Exchange Students Attend Bridal Fashion Show

Bridal fashions and all the outfits a summer bride would want to include in her trousseau were modelled at nine charming models at the noon hour morgensbord Wednesday at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club. Sunny skies, 80-degree temperatures and the rolling green lawns of the country club provided the perfect setting for the informal display of summer wear. The show, sponsored by the Kelowna International Regatta Association, was under the direction of Mrs. Donna DeMara, regatta social director.

Lady of the Lake Martina Maundrell, assisted by her lady-in-waiting Valerie Paul, handled the commenting with poise and warmth, making the guests which included exchange students from Quebec feel very welcome.

Fashions modelled from a local ladies' shop featured bridal dresses and formal gowns for bridal attendants, patio and pants gowns in summery prints, and coat and dress ensembles with all the accessories for a bride's going away. Pant dresses, bikinis and coverups, and slacks and matching tops were all a part of the colorful display.

Models taking part in the fashion show included six of the lady of the lake contestants, Rona Loyd, Miss Teen Town; Sandra Curtis, Miss Lions; Susan Harvey, Miss Legion; Barbara Melnyk, Miss Kiwanis; Suzanne Glover, Miss Kelowna Musical Productions; and Judy Smith, Miss Kelowna Associated Canadian Travellers.

Modelling fashions that can be worn by the woman over 21 with ease were Mrs. Betty Colinson, Mrs. Hank Van Montfort and Mrs. Joan Crouch. This fashion show was the last for this year's lady of the lake contestants. The girls' next public appearance will be Aug. 5 at a Capri coffee party, where they will make speeches and meet the judges of the contest.

'Garbage Burners' Blamed For Blazes

More than half of 27 fires which have devastated acreage in the Kelowna Ranger District have been caused by human carelessness, the B.C. forest service reported today.

Garbage fires especially have been cited as the villain in a "rash of new fires" which have struck in the area recently.

"The forest service is urging the public to take every precaution with fires, particularly campfires and when burning garbage," a ranger spokesman said.

"It is essential that burning permits be obtained for a camp fire or any open fire to burn any debris," the spokesman said.

Some of the more serious outbreaks recently were fires Sunday at Westbank and Peachland believed started by garbage fires which escaped.

Forest service crews, with bulldozers and water bombers, were on the scene of the Westbank blaze which, advancing on a mile-wide front through scrub brush and hayfield, overwhelmed the local volunteer brigade.

In Peachland local crews had held the blaze from reaching any property but load-dumps by three water bombers were repositioned to bring the fire under control.

Rangers cautioned that the fire hazard in the area is "high" now and a week more of hot weather, coupled with high winds could drive it to "extreme".

Only increased moisture at the 5,000-foot and up level keeps the fire hazard from reaching its worst category.

Psychedelia And Dog Prints For Staid Law Court's Park

Everything from psychedelic art to the family poodle's paw prints can be used to decorate the hundreds of two-foot-square concrete tiles that will be used in the Vernon Law Courts Park—to be launched officially by Premier W. A. C. Bennett, Aug. 2.

Individuals and non-commercial organizations throughout British Columbia have been invited to create a tile for the huge mosaic. Department of public works officials at Victoria state that clay moulds will be provided during the ceremonies and, thereafter to any interested person or group.

"The idea of the project is to have a broad cross-section of the history and the contemporary flavor of this region reflected in the completed work," said Patricia Jordan, minister without portfolio and MLA for North Okanagan, who is coordinating the project locally.

Premier Bennett, Mrs. Jordan and other members of the cabinet, will be in Vernon for the 17th Social Credit Anniversary Party the same day.

Fair Draw And Meetings Spur Peachland Interest

The Peachland Community Fair Committee draw for a barbecue was made Saturday in the office of Mayor Harold Thwait.

Winner was Mrs. Anne Webster.

On hand to officiate was Peachland Mayor Queen, Linda Sanderson.

This draw was sponsored by the fair committee to raise money for new steps at the community hall, another project will be completed by volunteer labor later this month.

The Peachland First Baptist Church Sunday School annual picnic was held Saturday at Gellatly Beach, Westbank, a short program and sports events were held.

SPECIAL MEET

A special meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 69, Royal Canadian Legion, Peachland, was held this week to discuss a letter received from the LA of Branch 40, Penticton.

The letter said a Red Cross Blood Donor's Clinic is being planned at Brenda Mines during the first part of August and requested the LA's help with this clinic.

The letter suggested that nine helpers would be needed on each of two shifts.

The secretary was instructed to write to Penticton and express the group's willingness to work on this worthwhile effort.

Mrs. J. R. Davies was appointed to contact helpers in the community both from the LA membership and others interested and arrange transportation to the mine.

ANNIVERSARY

A well known Peachland couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Champion, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Wednesday with a family "get-together".

Rutland Pool Opens In Spite Of Delays

After many delays caused by unexpected problems the Rutland swimming pool is now open, and the seal of approval placed upon the facilities by the health inspector.

Delays in receiving the filter system and other incidents held up the opening.

Paul Druitt, the life guard and Red Cross instructor, has drawn up a program for weeks ahead, which should give everyone interested an opportunity to swim, and provide lessons for non-swimmers.

All adults interested in classes are asked to register at the Table Supply; or see Paul Druitt personally, at the pool.

Due to the shorter swimming season than had been anticipated the family season tickets are reduced.

Those who paid in advance may obtain refunds by presenting their receipts to Mrs. Walter Mallach.

July 28 to August 1 is "Survival Swimming Week", and president Art Patterson, chamber of commerce endorses the program.

He urged all families to participate.

Among courses are "drown proofing" and "how to don a life jacket in water".

Following is the daily timetable for the various activities and swim periods at the pool:

MONDAY
9 to 11 a.m.—(daily) swim classes, 11 to noon, Rutland

TUESDAY
Same as Monday, except 6 to 8 a.m., early morning adult swimming, 6 to 8 p.m., public swimming and 8 to 9 p.m., adult classes.

WEDNESDAY
Same as Tuesday, except no 6 to 8 a.m. adult swimming.

THURSDAY
Same as Tuesday, with 6 to 8 p.m. swimming.

FRIDAY
Same as Monday.

SATURDAY
Public swimming, 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

SUNDAY
2 to 5 p.m., public swimming, 5 to 7 p.m., Swim Club, 7 to 9 p.m., public swimming.

Park Publicity Cause Of Walk

If you want to stretch your legs for a good cause, the Okanagan Similkameen Parks Society has a jaunt that might fit your community spirit stride.

The society is sponsoring a hike to Sheep Rock and Snow

(Brent) Mountain Sunday in an area 20 miles west of Penticton and Summerland to publicize its promotion of Apex Alpine Park.

The "walkathon" is about 12 miles return trip with an elevated climb of 2,000 feet through forest trails which ascend, during the last mile, among multi-colored alpine meadows and includes summit views of the Coast Range, Cascades and the Okanagan.

The society assures "plenty of water" along the way, and hikers are advised to wear sturdy footwear and provide their own lunch.

Bringing along a camera with plenty of film is also advised.

The group will meet in the parking lot of Long's Building Supply, 1575 Fairview Ave., Penticton, at 7:30 a.m., and all those wishing to participate are asked to contact Leon Blumer at 2-0609.

Peachland Class Underway Again

The first session of the Peachland Red Cross swim classes sponsored by the parks and recreation commission ends Friday when a Red Cross examiner tests swimmers. Registration for the second session will be held 11 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday, at the swim bay.

An adults' class will be held Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Eight adults have already signed and Nan Gluschenko, head swimming instructor, said she can take another two or three.

Fun Has Ended For Pro Golfers

MONTREAL (CP) — The light-hearted, good-natured fun is over and the seriousness of making every shot count starts today as the Canadian open golf championship gets under way at Pinegrove country club in nearby St. Luc.

A total of 152 professional and amateur golfers from 12 countries tee off today in the 60th annual national championship, which carries a $125,000 purse — $25,000 to the winner.

Most of the contestants in the 72-hole tournament toured the 7,090-yard, par-72 layout leisurely Wednesday in a final tune-up.

The main attraction was a threesome of British Open winner Tony Jacklin, Bob Charles of New Zealand runner-up to Jacklin in the British Open, and Roberto de Vicenzo, third in the British tournament.

Charles is the defending Canadian Open champion. The three played several experimental putts, after sinking the original ball, before a gallery of up to 500.

JACKLIN LEADS
None kept a score, but an approximate count showed Jacklin at 69, de Vicenzo at 70 and Charles at 73.

Jacklin was probably the biggest winner Wednesday.

He took $5 from a tournament marshal who wagered Jacklin that the golfer would not be able to clear his tee shot over a small river which runs across the fairway on the 375-yard par 4 fourth hole.

The British Open champion walloped a drive that easily cleared the small river. One observer said a drive of 225 yards would be needed to cross the river, which runs through the course seven times.

"I told him I didn't want his money, but he insisted on me taking it," Jacklin told reporters after his round.

"He had a bad bet anyways because I knocked my drive over the water earlier."

Jacklin played nine holes earlier in the day before joining de Vicenzo and Charles for the practice round.

UNABLE TO SLEEP
He was up at 6 a.m. Wednesday, unable to sleep because he had not yet adjusted himself to the time difference between England and Canada.

De Vicenzo complained of a stomach disorder but agreed to practice with Jacklin and Charles. After getting away a good drive on the third hole, Jacklin asked de Vicenzo how he felt and the Argentinean replied: "I'm not sick anymore."

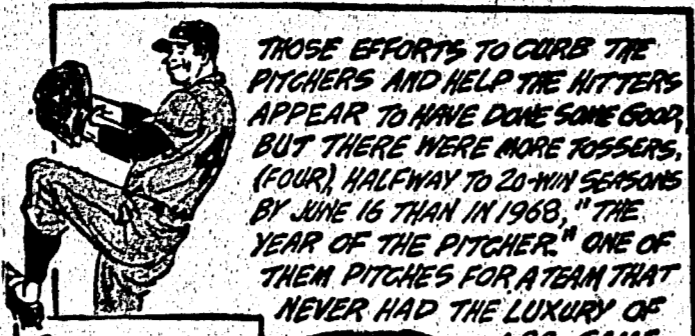

Charles said he had trouble with his drives but otherwise played well.

Sam Snead, winner of 131 golf titles, said the Pinegrove course would be a "good test of golf."

"This is the toughest course in Canada I've ever played," he said. "It's the longest one."

Snead said the greens were hard underneath and soft on top, which would cause the ball to "spring." He said, some of the golfers might find themselves going over the greens with some shots if they weren't careful.

Title To Rovers In Softball Loop

Rutland Rovers claimed their fourth hits, including a second home run by White.

The Vernon OK's were unable to muster much of an offensive against winning pitcher Arnie Rath, as they managed only four hits, two off the bat of Alex Kashuba, the batting champion of the recent Molson Tournament. Rath gave up only one walk while striking out four Vernon batters.

Rutland picked up three runs in the second inning as they jumped on losing pitcher Keith May for three hits, singles by Arnie Rath and Don Krochinsky and a four-bagger by Gord Runzer.

In the third inning Don Schneider led off with a single and was brought around to third on Lorne White's single. Schneider was tagged at the plate trying to steal, but on a second attempt White scored the only run of the inning.

The fourth frame saw the home team shutout but in the fifth the Rovers showed some of their unexpected power as they scored two runs on home runs, one by White, followed by Joe Ueyama.

Four runs in the sixth completely eliminated the Vernon threat, as reliever Gerry Altwasser was hit hard giving up

Golf Expert In Montreal To Watch Canadian Open

MONTREAL (CP) — Harry Obitz, golf consultant in the Grand Bahamas, member of the Professional Golfers Association and considered an authority on golf, is in Montreal for a look at the Canadian Open.

Although he now lives in the Bahamas, Obitz holds a life membership as professional at Fred Waring's Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., club.

It is something of a goodwill man for the Bahamas and in particular is golf consultant for the Bahama Islands Development. He is head of the Lucaya Country Club of Freeport where his eight professionals put on shows to demonstrate Obitz' preachings that "the swing's the thing."

Obitz gets around to many of the major tournaments and knows scores of the players. His advice is frequently sought.

He spent half an hour Wednesday on the Pinegrove putting green giving advice to Wilf Homenuik, the rugged little pro from Winnipeg.

Obitz brought with him to Montreal two of his young pros at Lucaya. Gary Groh is a sure

Lions Beat Toronto Argos With Late Pass To Young

VANCOUVER (CP) — Quarterback Paul Brothers sent Jim Young on a 97-yard pass-and-run romp with 1:35 remaining Wednesday night to give British Columbia Lions a 27-25 victory over Toronto Argonauts in a Canadian Football League exhibition game before 21,510 fans.

Young's spectacular run from deep in his territory had the crowd on its feet, but the game wasn't decided until rookie Toronto place kicker Tom Johansen missed a field goal attempt with less than six seconds showing the clock. It went for a single.

Brothers also hit offensive end Jake Scott for a first-quarter touchdown.

However, it was soccer-style kicker Ted Gerela who kept the Lions in front with four field goals, one from 52 yards, and two converts. Gerela, who is taking a regular turn on defence this season, also added a single when Gerry Sternberg had to concede a blocked kick in the Argos' end zone.

Tom Wilkinson, a second string import quarterback, sparked the Argonaut offence when Wally Gabler flattened out early in the third quarter.

Wilkinson hit Mel Profit with a 13-yard touchdown pass at 8:57 of the third quarter and

BABE RUTH BASEBALL

Trail, Coquitlam Remain Undefeated In Playoffs

By AL SIMPSON

What a difference a little pebble can play in the fortunes of a baseball club.

A small stone played a big part in Trail's favor Wednesday as the Kootenay club escaped with a narrow 2-1 victory over favorite Saanich in the second day of the provincial Babe Ruth baseball championships being played at Kelowna's Elk's Stadium.

With the score deadlocked 1-1 in the sixth inning and a Trail runner on second base, in the tournament's most exciting and important game to date, Trail's Joel Tremblay drilled a base hit to centre field but Saanich's Glen Campbell, possibly the best player in the event, playing the position, threw a perfect strike to catcher Randy Johnston, a throw which would have easily nailed base runner Dale Costanzo, only to have the ball hit the pole and skip over catcher Johnston's head allowing Costanzo to score easily with the game's winning run.

The victory for Trail, along with Coquitlam's 4-1 triumph over North Van earlier in the day, left the two clubs as the only undefeated teams remaining of the original seven entered. Only one though, Inter Community, has been eliminated from the double knockout tourney. They bowed 7-2 to Nanaimo in the third game of the day.

Trail pitcher Morley Levick, a 14-year old righthander, limited Saanich's big bats to just three hits in hurling the distance for the victory. The hardluck loser, Tim McManus, also went the route but was touched for five hits, two in each of the pair of innings in which Trail scored single runs.

Trail scored in the opening inning on Kevin Oliver's double and Len Ircandia's run-scoring single and held that 1-0 edge until the sixth frame when Saanich finally tied the score on a Trail error and Rich Jones' single.

That set the stage for the fluke play half an inning later, a play which took the momentum out of Saanich's attack. Saanich, however, still has another chance at coping the title, one which they should win as the club is the best all-around squad in the tourney, despite their heartbreaking loss. They meet North Vancouver today at 5:30 in a loser's bracket game. Trail waits until Friday when it meets head-on with Coquitlam.

Saanich 000 001 0-1 3 1
Trail 100 001 x-2 5 1
Tim McManus and Randy Johnston; Morley Levick and Gary Picone. W-Levick; L-McManus.

GAME FOUR
Coquitlam, the other unbeaten team, scored its second straight 4-1 victory edging North Vancouver on the combined pitching efforts of Steve Francis and Andy Williamson.

Leadoff hitter Bill Warner had a hand in the scoring of all four Coquitlam runs, scoring twice and driving in another.

North Van 000 100 0-1 4 3
Coquitlam 102 100 x-4 6 0
Tom Bogue and Al Vyner; Steve Francis, Andy Williamson (6) and Jeff Benner. W-Francis; L-Bogue.

GAME FIVE
In a loser's bracket contest, Nanaimo capitalized on eight Inter Community errors and 10 base on balls to breeze to an easy 7-2 victory over the Vancouver representatives.

The win for Nanaimo allows them to face host Kelowna in a 2:00 p.m. contest today with the loser of this contest joining twice beaten Inter Community on the sidelines.

Inter Community gave their own ball game away on their poor play but Nanaimo pitcher

Marc Crane pitched a steady game, not allowing the Vancouver team to muster any kind of a sustained offense.

Nanaimo 310 002 1-7 4 1
Inter Commun 010 000 1-2 6 8

Marc Crane and Jim Gallaway; Ken Davies, Mike Gilbert (6); Davies and Doug Wolstenholme. W-Crane; L-Davies.

Today's schedule only has two games but an added feature will be the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League contest between the Kelowna Labatts and the Kamloops Lelands to be played immediately following the 5:30 game between Saanich and North Vancouver.

The Labs, 11-8 on the season, will try and strengthen their hold on second place with a victory over the last place Lelands. The game should start about 8 p.m.

Sale Rumors Of No Help

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The announcement by a Portland newspaper that it was unable to pin down persistent rumors that the Seattle Pilots of the America League are interested in buying the Portland Beavers did nothing to boost the financially troubled team to victory Wednesday.

Portland lost both ends of a Pacific Coast League double-header to Tacoma, 4-1 and 4-3.

In other PCL action Tucson dropped Spokane 2-1, Phoenix slipped past Vancouver 6-5 and Eugene needed 10 innings to defeat Hawaii 6-5.

The Portland Oregonian said Wednesday it had learned from a reliable source that an official of the Seattle Pilots has been in contact with some PCL teams advising them to sit tight on final approval of change of ownership at Portland to the end of the season.

The community-owned Beavers are $35,000 in the hole and 2 1/2 games behind the league leader, Tacoma.

Golf's one game that hasn't changed much since the good old days. A hook is still a hook. A slice is still a slice. And at the nineteenth hole, good old-fashioned flavour is still an Old Style Beer, slow-brewed the natural way. Follow through with an Old Style.

Power May Be Trouble In Journeys To Stars

HOUSTON (AP) — The moon high temperature and pressure the nuclei of two atoms until they fuse and release vast amounts of energy.

The energy, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration official says, will come from the mysterious nucleus of the atom.

"We at least know in principle what the source of energy could be, and it requires only an invention to make it available," said Dr. George Mueller, NASA's associate administrator for manned space flight.

"That source of energy, of course, that I'm referring to is the same one that fuels the sun—fusion of hydrogen to make helium."

Mueller referred to nuclear fusion—bringing together at high temperature and pressure the nuclei of two atoms until they fuse and release vast amounts of energy.

ENERGY FOR BOMB
Uncontrolled nuclear fusion already has been achieved. It is the source of energy for the hydrogen bomb.

Controlled fusion, in theory at least, would make the same amount of energy available, but in small quantities as needed. A rocket fuelled with just a few ounces of deuterium or tritium, heavy atoms of hydrogen, could travel for years.

Released as heat, fusion energy could be converted to propel a spacecraft, generate electricity or even manufacture life-giving oxygen through some yet undefined chemical process.

Under development but not yet flown in space is a rocket engine using another nuclear reaction, called fission.

Mueller said present technology, including this engine, will allow exploration of earth's solar system.

EXPLORATION POSSIBLE
"It seems quite clear that the planets of the solar system are well within our ability to explore both manned and unmanned at the present time," he said.

"Our technology will permit us the necessary energy to carry out such exploration."

The nuclear fission engine uses the same reaction that provides energy for the atomic bomb. Fission is the reverse of fusion. The nucleus of an atom of uranium, or its near cousins, is split, giving off energy.

But the fission process has several disadvantages.

Fission gives off harmful radioactive wastes. Fusion does not. In addition, the fusion process produces greater amounts of energy per unit volume.

Scientists at Los Alamos (N.M.) Scientific Laboratory have spent $30,000,000 in the last 12 years studying how to harness fusion. They are stymied by their inability to contain a fusion reaction at the necessary high temperatures and pressures, although they have produced a tiny fusion reaction for less than 1-1,000th of a second.

DISTANCE A PROBLEM

But even if science perfects a fusion engine and life support systems for manned flight to the stars, the enormity of the distances poses virtually insurmountable problems.

The nearest stars are several light years away. A light year is the distance light travels in a year, or 1,000,000,000,000 miles. If a spacecraft were built that could fly at close to the speed of light, constellations outside the solar system might be in reach.

But Albert Einstein's theory of relativity says that the speed of light cannot be exceeded, and experiments with atomic particles have confirmed the theory.

Even at light's speed, the outer limits of the universe could take millions of years to reach. Space voyagers returned to earth might find their planet completely changed and all knowledge of their mission forgotten.

School Collapses Killing Fifteen

KANNAMAM (Reuters) — A new elementary school which had been opened only 24 hours collapsed during a savage storm here, killing 15 children and injuring 92, officials in this village in India's Kerala state said. Screaming mothers ran into the building trying to save their children, ranging in ages between five and 10.

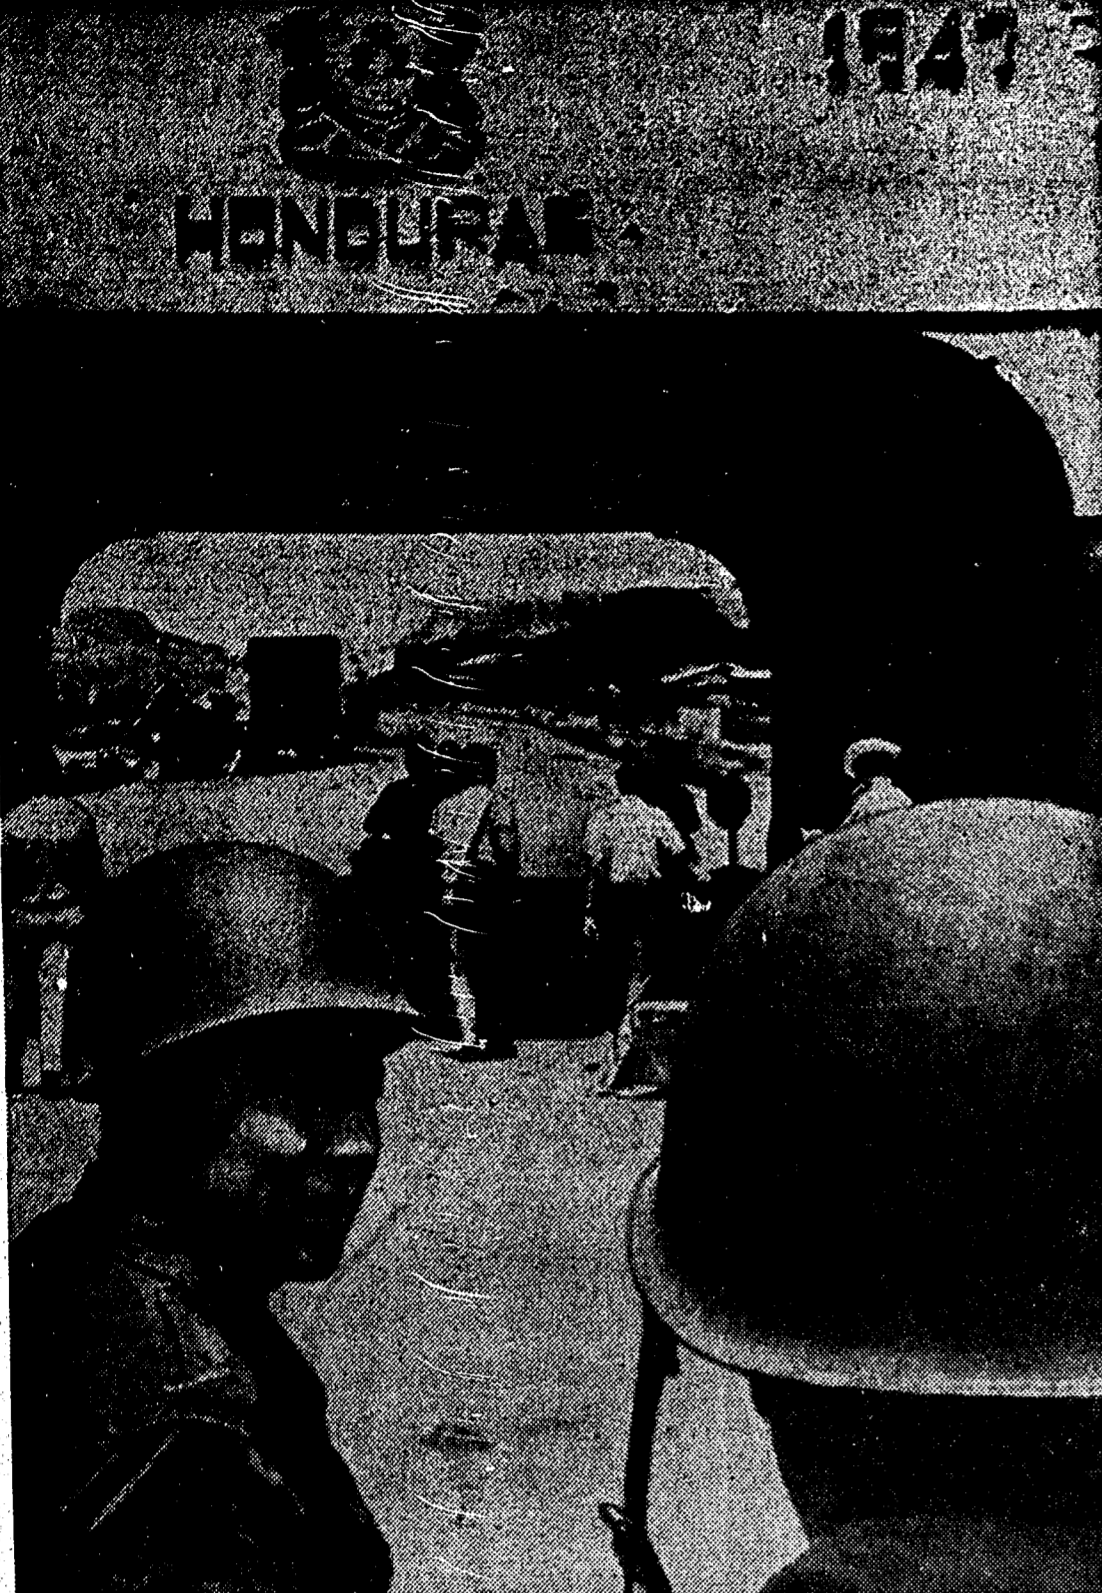

FISHING PARADISE

There are more than 200 rivers in Norway providing salmon and sea-trout fishing.

Moscow Expels 2 U.S. Tourists

MOSCOW (AP) — The newspaper Soviet Latvia, organ of Latvia's Communist party and government, says two American tourists, Paula Lazda and his wife Irena, have been expelled from Russia for allegedly trying to smuggle out an anti-Soviet article while on a visit to Latvia.

AN EARLY START
Lund University, in Sweden, was founded in 1660.

PRESIDENT INVADERS TOO

The President of El Salvador, Fidel Sanchez Hernandez, centre, crosses the Goas-coran River into Honduras to review Salvadoran troops. El Salvador later charged Honduras with breaking a ceasefire by firing upon Hernandez while he was reviewing the troops. The dispute continues.

Advertising Campaign Seen On Compulsory Breath Tests

OTTAWA (CP) — An advertising campaign is being considered to prepare the public for the compulsory breath test law, it was learned Tuesday.

The law was passed by Parliament last month but may not become operative before mid-fall, in time for the Christmas season.

The delay will give police a chance to arm and acquaint themselves with the new equipment.

Meanwhile, the justice department may advertise to make the public aware of its rights and responsibilities.

The feeling is that the law is too tough to spring on an unformed public.

It compels a driver to give police a sample of his breath if asked. If he refuses, he is liable to the same penalties as those for impairment.

If the test reveals a blood alcohol reading of eight-tenths of one per cent or more, this will be considered automatic proof of impairment, opening the driver to a $500 fine and three months in jail.

The penalties are higher for succeeding offences.

One point that is not clear in most people's minds is how much alcohol it takes to produce a criminal reading. The amount varies with the size of the drinker.

In many communities in Canada, the breath test may not be a problem at all, simply because the police force will not have the equipment.

The hand-made Borkenstein breath tester to be used in Canada costs about $1,000 and is hard to get. It is made in the United States and reliable sources here say there is a high demand for a limited quantity.

East of Ontario, the breath test has had little use. Quebec alone is expected to need 40 balloons and has less than a handful, Ontario and the West are said to be better equipped.

Meanwhile, the RCMP is giving courses to municipal police in the use of the equipment.

Congress Delves Into Drink And Hears 4 Ex-Alcoholics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. senator, an Academy-Award winning actress, a judge and a clergyman turned a Senate hearing into a session of Alcoholics Anonymous as Congress delved into the problems of drinking.

The senator, Iowa Democrat Harold Hughes, a reformed alcoholic, was chairman of the session Wednesday as the witnesses related their life-shattering experiences with alcohol.

"The skid row bum on the park bench and I are the same person," said actress Mercedes McCambridge. "The only difference is that I am sitting here with my sense of dignity and self-esteem because I know I have my right to my life. The bum needs only to be shown that he has the right to his."

Miss McCambridge, who won an Oscar as best supporting actress in 1950, gave a moving account of her successful fight over alcoholism.

She described alcoholism as a disease but said only a few doctors understand it.

Hughes, chairman of the Senate special subcommittee on alcoholism and narcotics, said his subcommittee would dramatize to Congress the magnitude of the problem and write legislation "that is practical and that is on a realistic financial scale not previously dreamed of by this government."

Details of the legislation were not spelled out but Senators Jacob K. Javits (Rep. N.Y.) and Frank E. Moss (Dem. Utah) have introduced a bill to authorize $170,000 during a five-year period for the treatment of alcoholism.

Putting alcoholics in jail is not the answer, said Judge Ray Harrison of the Des Moines, Iowa, municipal court. He outlined his program of sending drunks to classes in his courtroom one night a week to discuss among themselves their drinking problems.

Harrison noted he had been in jail 18 times for public drunkenness before curing himself 26 years ago.

Rev. Michael Sheen of Boston told of nights he was "so saturated with liquor that I could barely stand up." Until he found himself last April, he said, his drinking shattered his life, his family and his faith.

Liquor Probe Raps Witness

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — A member of the Royal Commission inquiring into British Columbia's liquor laws Wednesday rebuked Jim Vernon, president of the B.C. Hotels Association, as the commission completed its 10-day tour of the Interior.

Ed Lawson said he totally rejected statements made by Mr. Vernon last week charging "biased and slanted reporting" by Vancouver newspapers on the commission's hearings. He said Mr. Vernon was over-reacting.

Mr. Lawson also criticized Mr. Vernon for a statement decrying the "abysmal ignorance" of some persons presenting briefs and asking for changes in the province's liquor laws.

He said Mr. Vernon's statements were "unfair and unwarranted criticisms" and Judge C. W. Morrow, chairman of the three-man commission, agreed with him.

"Aware or ignorant, anybody is entitled to come before us and those remarks (by Mr. Vernon) may have had the effect of dissuading people to appear before us," Mr. Lawson said.

Mr. Lawson also clashed with Albert van der Horst, a lawyer and co-owner of a Kamloops hotel, who asked for special government legislation for the hotel industry.

Mr. van der Horst said the hotels don't want competition from neighborhood pubs, restaurants or taverns.

He said the hotels are opposed to barmaids, sale of beer at sports events and sale of alcoholic beverages in grocery stores as some briefs to the commission have suggested.

Mr. Lawson asked why hotels should be granted special protection when restaurants and other businesses are not.

Vancouver Donates A 'Yes' To Youth Employment Group

VANCOUVER (CP) — City council has approved a $2,400 grant for Youth Employment Services (YES). Alderman Art Phillips recommended that the grant be used for honorary wages for volunteer unit managers and office operating expenses for the organization, which is finding summer jobs for senior high school students.

YOUTH SENTENCED

NEISON (CP) — Dale Stanley Edey, 19, of Nelson Wednesday was sentenced to two years less a day definite and two years indeterminate when he pleaded guilty to a charge of trafficking in hallucinatory drugs. Edey was arrested last week with 162 tablets of LSD and 51 capsules of mescaline in his possession.

$1,000 TIMER

NANAIMO (CP) — Bill Walter, 18, of Nanaimo has won the $1,000 first prize for correctly predicting the fastest time in last weekend's third annual Nanaimo to Vancouver bathtub race across Georgia Strait. The youth guessed two hours, nine minutes and 20 seconds, one second short of the official time set by Glenn Filippini, 14, of Coquitlam.

WHITE SPOT CHARRED

VANCOUVER (CP) — An east-end Vancouver White Spot drive-in was destroyed by fire Wednesday. A spokesman for the chain estimated damage to the building and equipment at $150,000. He said the fire started when one of the deep-fat fryers exploded.

BACK REGISTRATION

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Trustees in the Kamloops school district Wednesday approved a resolution calling for year-round registration for rural voters which will be presented to the British Columbia School Trustees' Association convention in October. The resolution asks the department of education to allow voting tenants and resident electors in rural areas to register anytime after Aug. 31 and before an election. At present, rural voters can register only during the month of August.

FINED IN DEATH

NANAIMO (CP) — William Morris Kilgour, 43, of Wellington was fined $500 Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving in connection with the death of an elderly Cedar man June 8. Kilgour was originally charged with criminal negligence after the body of James Adrian Young, 70, was found in a Nanaimo hotel parking lot.

MAN CONVICTED

MATSIQUI (CP) — Richard James Monroe, 39, of Abbotsford Wednesday was sentenced to two years less a day after being convicted of armed robbery. Monroe was arrested after $130 was taken from a grocery store in this community 30 miles east of Vancouver and the proprietor was threatened with a shock absorber.

FIRE HAZARDS

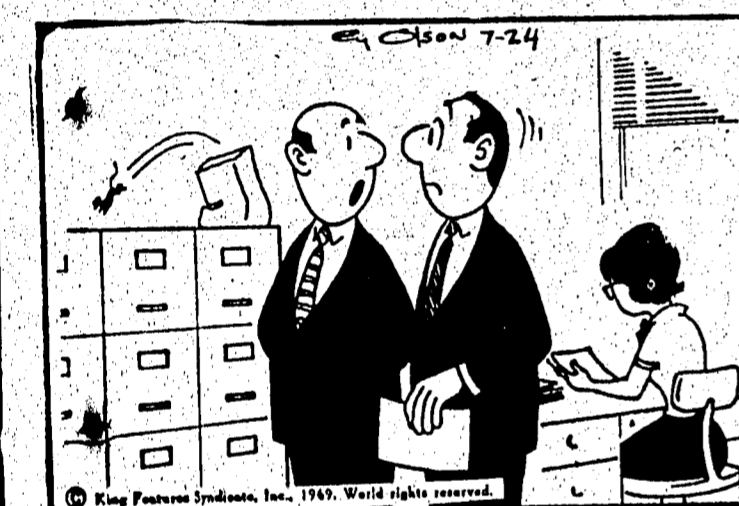

VICTORIA (CP) — The Forest Service says at least 15 of the 22 new forest fires which erupted Wednesday were caused by careless campers or berry pickers. However, only one of the 110 now burning throughout the province is causing firefighters concern. The Hardwicke Island fire east of Kelsey Bay has spread to 190 acres and is burning up a steep mountainside. Smoke and fog have hampered tration for rural voters which

THE BIDDING:

East	South	West	North

Opening lead—four of spades. Anyone can win tricks with aces and kings; the real challenge is to win them with deuces and treys. Here is a fine example of the art.

South was declarer in three notrump and West led a spade. East won with the ace, and cashed the A-J before exiting with the nine and led the queen of diamonds to dummy's ace.

Declarer's prospects were certainly dim at this point, but they brightened considerably when he led a club to the ace and West showed out.

This was a highly significant development because it meant that the ace, who has shown up with four spades and no clubs—and had to have exactly five diamonds (on the bidding)—was found to have started with four hearts.

After South had cashed four club tricks, this became the position:

Declarer now cashed the nine of clubs and discarded the ten of diamonds, placing West in an extremely unpleasant predicament. West could not discard a diamond because that would make dummy's deuce of diamonds a trick, nor could he discard a heart because that would make South's deuce of hearts a trump. So South made three notrump.

Of course, the contract would have gone down with an opening diamond lead or a diamond shift by West at trick three, but who would be mean enough to find such a method of defense and spoil this tale of the deuces?

Earliest S. Vietnam Polling 'Unlikely Before Two Years'

SAIGON (Reuters) — President Nguyen Van Thieu suggested Tuesday night that elections could not be held in South Vietnam for up to two years after a peace agreement was reached at the Paris talks.

"It might take about two years to have them because it will take about one year for all foreign troops to withdraw from South Vietnam, six months to discuss modalities of the election with the other side and six months to prepare the elections campaign," a presidential spokesman quoted him as saying.

Thieu was speaking informally to 1,872 local government officials at a closing ceremony of a rural pacification training course at the coastal resort of Vung Tau, 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

It was the first time he had indicated what timetable he had in mind for elections on the lines of those he proposed to Viet Cong July 11, an offer that was rejected by the National Liberation Front.

The presidential spokesman, Lt.-Col. Tran Van Lam, qualified Thieu's remarks by saying: "It was just a supposition, just an estimate, no plan, something improvised giving a rough idea for the consumption of local cadres."

The South Vietnamese constitution provides for presidential and national assembly elections in late 1971.

The official armed forces Daily Tien Tuyen (Front Line) today quoted Thieu as saying at Vung Tau that he had known before making his July 11 offer of an election showdown that the Communists would not dare to accept it.

But the initiative created for South Vietnam a good impression internationally and among the American public, the paper quoted him as saying.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Friday will be governed by fine planetary influences. It will be an excellent period in which to put over progressive ideas, launch new ventures and, generally, to advance all worthwhile goals. Favored, on the personal side: Romance, marriage, travel and outdoor interests.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, as of Sept. 1, you will enter a splendid three-month period in which to advance job interests in such a worthwhile manner as to not only merit the attention of superiors, but to bring you increased profits—in fact, where finances are concerned, your outlook is more pleasing than it may have been for some time, and if you grasp all opportunities to advance your monetary status during October, November and December, you should make still further strides along these lines in late March, May and June. Other good periods for work interests: January, March, June and next July.

Personal affairs will also be governed by generous influences during the next 12 months, so look for harmony in domestic and social relationships; also interesting developments where romance is concerned. Most auspicious periods along the latter line: August, late November (especially glamorous!), December, February, May and June. Do not take next July's "romances" too seriously, however. Truly ideal influences favor travel in August and October of this year; January and mid-1970. A business trip, quite possible in late September, should prove enormously gratifying.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a truly regal personality; could make a great success as an entertainer or, with his flair for the dramatic, an outstanding trial lawyer.

Back To Drawing Board For AL All-Star Line-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American League went back to the drawing board today in search of another plan to win the major league baseball all-star game.

And the AL's biggest stars disagreed over the reason why the National League has won the last seven encounters.

"They got more stars over there," said Reggie Jackson of Oakland Athletics after Wednesday's 9-3 loss to the National League.

The NL grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first inning before a crowd of 45,523. Both starters were the pitchers of record as Steve Carleton of St. Louis Cardinals picked up the victory over Mel Stottlemyre of New York Yankees.

"We don't have players like they have—like Mays, Aaron and Clemente," Jackson said. "And no Banks. And no Marichal. But we have a younger league than they have. Most of our players on the field were younger than theirs."

"So give us time—we'll be there."

Frank Howard of Washington Senators said: "I have to admit we needed this game bad for league prestige."

"I've played in both leagues and I think the American is as big a league as the National. These things seem to run in cycles. Our league will be back.

Jackson, at 23 representing the AL's younger generation, and Howard, at 33 representing the older generation, were the key players in the American League's plan for ending NL superiority.

HAD POWER HITTERS

Home-run hitters Jackson, with 37, and Howard, with 34, were the leading elements in a starting unit that had the edge on the National League starters, 179 homers to 105.

But the NL Wednesday hit three homers to the AL's two and outlived them 11-6.

Howard and Bill Freehan of Detroit Tigers collected home runs for the Americans, while Jackson failed to get the ball out of the infield in two times at bat.

Willie McCovey of San Francisco Giants hit two for the Nationals and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati Reds hit one.

Denny McLain, Detroit Tigers 14-game winner and the scheduled AL starter was in Detroit Wednesday morning to keep a dental appointment.

He was expected back in Washington for Wednesday's game but did not appear on the American League bench until the National League was batting in the second inning.

He arrived while Bench was building the National League's lead to 3-0 with his first homer, following a single by Cleon Jones. And he was sent to the bullpen to get ready while the Americans got one back on Howard's homer.

SCORES 5 RUNS

But McLain was still warming up while the National League exploded in the third inning for five runs on five hits off John Odum, including McCovey's first homer.

The Americans got one back in their half of the third inning on Freehan's homer, and then McLain was summoned to pitch. He became the victim of McCovey's record-tying second homer. Only three previous players in all-star history had hit two in one game—Arky Vaughan in 1941, Ted Williams in 1946 and Al Rosen in 1954.

McLain left for a pinch hitter when the American League came to bat.

The win gave the National League a 22-17-1 edge in 40 games. But Ted Williams, Washington's manager and a coach of the Americans under Smith, reminded everyone all streaks have to end sometime.

"When I came into the league we were beating heck out of them," said Williams. "Since about 1950 they've been knocking us around pretty good. They've had some great players over there."

"But seven in a row. That ought to stop pretty soon."

DAVE RAIMY in dispute

Raimy Row May End

WINNIPEG (CP) — General Manager Earl Lunsford of Winnipeg Blue Bombers says he thinks halfback Dave Raimy will remain with the club.

Lunsford said in an interview Wednesday following a three-hour meeting concerning Raimy that nothing is definite yet, but "I think it will all be resolved" by today.

A dispute between Raimy and coach Joe Zaleski developed before a Canadian Football League exhibition game at Hamilton. Raimy was sent home by Zaleski after a verbal clash with Winnipeg's young quarterback, John Schneider.

Since then, Raimy was asked to skip a workout Tuesday, while management pondered the problem.

Talk of trades involving Raimy blossomed in the wake of the altercation.

Toronto Argonauts coach Leo Cahill was reported in contact with the Bomber camp Tuesday but Cahill would not confirm a report he had offered five or six players for Raimy.

In an interview Wednesday night, Raimy said he is confident his problems with coach Zaleski and the team will be ironed out.

"I talked to management about three times today, and it looks pretty good as far as I'm concerned," he said.

Second-Half Drive Question Faces Tigers And Cardinals

Can Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals put on a second-half drive and again finish on top in the American and National Leagues?

That is the big question as the pennant races resume today in major league baseball.

The Tigers and the Cardinals generally have been written off as repeat champions this year, but baseball is an unpredictable game and there always is a chance.

The Cardinals open a home stand against San Francisco Giants tonight in third place in the NL's Eastern Division, 11 games back of the first-place Chicago Cubs.

The Tigers similarly open a home stand against Kansas City Royals, also in third place in the AL's Eastern Division, 11½ games behind the leading Baltimore Orioles.

The Tigers appear to face a more difficult task than the Cardinals, since Baltimore is rolling along at a .677 clip with 65 victories against 31 defeats. Boston is second with a 4-42 record and the Tigers next at 52-41.

The Cards must overtake Chicago Cubs and New York Mets. The Cubs, who play Los Angeles Dodgers today, are on top with a 60-37 record, 4½ games ahead of the Mets who have a 53-39 mark. The Cards are just one game above, 500 at 49-48.

Los Angeles and the Giants are in the thick of the fight with Atlanta Braves for first place in the NL's Western Division, so the Cubs and Cardinals face a stern test today.

Atlanta plays at home tonight against Montreal Expos. In other NL games, Cincinnati is at New York, Philadelphia at Houston and San Diego at Pittsburgh.

Minnesota Twins, seeking to increase their four-game lead over Oakland Athletics in the AL's Western Division, play at Cleveland tonight while the Athletics are at home against Washington Senators.

New York is at California, Boston at Seattle and Chicago White Sox at Baltimore in the other AL games.

Dispute On Professionalism Rumbles In World Hockey

By STERLING TAYLOR Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Canada, a relatively small power in international politics, has started a move that may prove a giant's role in world hockey.

And the European countries, chief beneficiaries of Canada's past generosity, have been shaken by the first rumblings of more far-reaching repercussions.

The tremor started at a mountain resort in the Swiss Alps early in July when Canada was refused a plea for help in the form of open world hockey competition.

The objective behind the plea by Hockey Canada—combining amateur, professional and government forces—was to establish world amateur competition as the ultimate goal of Canadian youth.

The cry for help was denied by a European philosophy that could not fathom the inner workings of a government which allowed professional interests—the National Hockey League—to take the country's best players.

"Our governments would simply enact a law that would make these top players first available to our national team," the Europeans argued.

an emergency meeting between the Scandinavian countries and Canada in hopes of solving the problem which means an appreciable financial loss to Finnish and Swedish hockey.

Dawson, displaying a bulldog determination, refused to alter his decision.

"By refusing to help us solve our internal problem, they have cut off the hand that feeds them," Dawson said.

AHEARNE STYMIED

Ahearne said it was the first time during his tenure as international hockey czar, dating back to 1954, that he was unable to mend an internal rift.

"It seems the walls are beginning to crumble around me," he said.

But, perhaps Ahearne in his steel-trap thinking foresaw the inevitable outcome of the first sortie.

Canada will reapply for open competition in 1971 at the IIHF council meeting in Winnipeg next March. A refusal will almost certainly mean this country's withdrawal from world competition in 1971.

This is the conjecture of a number of European members and one expressed in no uncertain terms by P. A. Schweers, president of the Dutch Ice Hockey Federation.

But it is more than idle conjecture. An informed source says it is inevitable unless this country is given a chance to use her best players in international competition in 1971.

This will represent a break-up of the actual foundations of the IIHF. Without Canada, the world tournament's A Pool will become a competition among Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Russia with little meaning.

DROP TOURS

No amount of rebuttal could sway this European thinking and they refused to support a Canadian proposal that would allow NHL players to compete in the world championship.

Nevertheless, Hockey Canada attempted to state its position as a unifying force between amateur and professional interests.

When these explanations failed, the first step in the master plan to tumble the walls of resistance was taken. Signifying Hockey Canada's united front, Earl Dawson of Rivers, Man., president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said tours of Sweden and Finland by Canadian club teams will be discontinued.

The effects of this move were felt immediately within the IIHF.

J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, president of the IIHF, called an emergency meeting between the Scandinavian countries and Canada in hopes of solving the problem which means an appreciable financial loss to Finnish and Swedish hockey.

Dawson, displaying a bulldog determination, refused to alter his decision.

"By refusing to help us solve our internal problem, they have cut off the hand that feeds them," Dawson said.
