Juniors Sign Phil Emerton for Prom; "Hawk Island", Mystery Play, to Be Staged

Cast to Be Selected By Tryouts Tomorrow Night at 6:30;
Price of Prom on April 5 Reduced to $3.50

Plans for Junior Week-end begin to materialize as Phil Emerton and his Diamonds are chosen to supply the music for the Junior Prom on April 5 and as "Hawk Island" is selected as the junior class dramatic production for the following evening.

Phil Emerton's orchestra, directed by Leo Steele, has been featured in the Atlantic City Steel Pier and Municipal Convention Hall for the past four summer seasons. He has had engagements at La Casa, Sunnybrook, and Hershey Ballroom, where he has been given acclaim by those attending.

Emerton's band, consisting of eleven men and a girl vocalist, was chosen for the 1933 Junior Prom at Villanova, where he was nominated as the most popular dance aggregation appearing there since Ozzie Nelson in 1930. In 1930 he was selected as one of the first ten leading orchestras of the East.

According to plans, skits will be featured, interspersed between dances. The tax for the occasion has been set for $3.50 per couple, 50 cents less than last year.

"Hawk Island", by Howard Irving Young, a mystery in which the murdered is twice murdered, has been selected as the play to be presented by the junior class on Saturday evening, April 6.

This play was first produced at the Comedy Theater in London on January 23, 1931, under the direction of Sewell Collins. Its setting is in a summer residence on Hawk Island during the latter part of August at 8:30 p. m.

The cast consists of eight men and five women. Tryouts for these parts will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in Bomberger hall. Any member of the junior class is eligible and, if interested, urged to tryout.

The group of possibilities originally considered by the committee were as follows: "Hawk Island", by Irving Young; "The Tavern", by George M. Cohan; "Seven Keys to Baldpate", by George M. Cohan; "Captain Applejack", by Walter Hackett; and "The Fourth Wall", by A. A. Milne.

The committee, advised by Dr. Reginald S. Sibbald, consisted of Robert Deen, Chairman; Alma Ludwig, Dora Evans, and Donald Ohl.

URSINUS ALUMNI GROUPS TO MEET IN NEAR FUTURE

Dean Kline to Address York Alumni at Banquet Friday Night

The Ursinus Alumni Associations of Philadelphia and of York will hold their annual meetings within the next three weeks.

C. William Duncan, an interviewer and columnist for the Evening Public Ledger, will speak on the subject, "Close-Ups of Famous People," at the dinner of the Philadelphia alumni. Their annual banquet will be held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on Friday, March 1, at 6:30 p. m.

Mr. Duncan is an experienced speaker, and has rounded out his third year as president of the Philadelphia Sports Writers' Association. The musical part of the program will feature a famous radio artist and a well-known pianist. A dance will follow the more formal part of the program.

Wives, husbands, and friends of Ursinus alumni will all be welcome guests. Announcements of the reunion have been sent to all alumni in the district. Leighton K. Smith, president of the association, urges that those alumni in the district who might not have been sent announcements because their addresses were not known plan to attend the banquet in any case. All those going are requested to forward their $2.50 to him as soon as possible.

The other officers of the association are: Evelyn Cook, vice-president; A. Lloyd Myers, secretary; and D. L. Helffrich, treasurer.

College Determines Why Students Leave

Survey of Student Departure Conducted by Registrar

LACK OF FUNDS MAIN REASON

In order to determine why students in College leave voluntarily, the Registrar's office at the present time is bringing up to date the study of student losses.

A few years ago a survey was made of withdrawals from September 1925 to June 1931. The completion of this study indicated that there are in general three reasons for departure: (1) normal operation of the College process, namely, graduation; (2) action of the Faculty because of the inability of the student or because of behavior; and (3) voluntary withdrawal. Greatest student losses in the past have been caused by the third of these, voluntary withdrawal. In the six years covered by this survey, only once, in 1927-28, did the Faculty action exceed this group.

According to compiled statistics, those who left college of their own volition did so because of financial difficulties, illness, dissatisfaction with living conditions and courses, or change of vocational plan. During 1929 withdrawal was at its highest, 44, of which 25 were men and 19 women.

In addition to this project, the Registrar's office is attempting to determine what those students accomplish who enter college by examination. This system of entrance examinations was installed in 1928 for those in the lower one-third of their high school class. In 1932 it was employed for those in the lower one-half.

By reviewing the entire eight year period, the College attempts to decide whether or not this entrance system is accomplishing its purpose.

Committee Appointed to Plan Newspaper Convention Here

A committee of Weekly staff members has been appointed to make arrangements for the spring meeting of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, to be held here on Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13, with the Ursinus paper as host.

The committee, which will meet next Thursday noon at 12:30 to organize, consists of: Jesse Heiges '35, chairman; Anna Grimm '35, Mildred Fox '35, Ione Hausmann '35, Dora Evans '36, Frederick Mueller '35, Thomas Glassmoyer '36, Thomas Bedlow '36, and Kermit Harbaugh '36.

Separate business and editorial sessions of the association will probably be held on Friday afternoon, April 12, and on the following Saturday morning and afternoon. A social affair will occupy that Friday evening and a final banquet will close the convention on Saturday, April 13.

A limited number of members of the Weekly staff, approximately 12, will be permitted to attend all sessions of the association. Several newspapermen of note from Philadelphia have already agreed to speak here, but their names will not be released until the middle of March.

ALPHA SIGMA NU SORORITY CONDUCTS VESPER SERVICE

Vesper services were held last night in the college chapel at 6:00 p. m., with Alpha Sigma Nu sorority in charge of the program. Victoria Moller '37, played an organ prelude, followed by the call to worship, read by Troupiere Sipe '35. Following the singing of a hymn, Sylvia Erdman '37, read the scripture and Dorothy Patterson '35 offered a prayer. Anne Grimm '35, sang a solo, entitled "Teach Me to Forgive," by Ward Stephens.

COLUMBIA PROGRESS GROUP STUDIES EDUCATION POLICY

Plans Are Being Made to Eliminate
Four Year Preparation

In an effort to begin a movement in recommending students for college, irrespective of the number of years spent in secondary schools, the Columbia University Progressive Education Association has, since 1928, been making a study of students who will be ready to enter college in 1936.

This eight year study was begun in twenty secondary schools throughout the country. Its purpose is to speed the education process by enriching the curriculum so that pupils in these high schools can work on a basis of ability, instead of spending the traditional four years in meeting requirements.

Ursinus College, having seen the merits of the movement, is taking part in the project now undertaken by the Progressive Education Association. Some of the students whose advancement is being surveyed have indicated an interest in entering Ursinus in the fall of 1936.

On February 18 the colleges and secondary schools which have volunteered in this project are holding a conference at the Faculty Club at Columbia University to discuss future movements along the line of this objective.

FIRST 64 PAGES OF RUBY TO GO TO PRESS, THURSDAY

The first 64 pages of the 1935 Ruby, including the senior section pictures and write-ups, will be in the hands of the printer by Thursday night, according to the editor, Harry Brian '35.

Practically all pictures have been sent to the engravers for the entire book, leaving only the write-ups of student organizations and the feature section yet to be done. The history of student clubs and committees will not be traced, as in last year's Ruby, but a complete and frank discussion of their doings since last September will be printed.

Students who have seen pictures of the various organizations have expressed themselves as being pleased with the informality and naturalness of the groups. The theme throughout the book will be a tasteful informality, contrasting with the formal write-ups and photographs in the last Ruby.

Many more pages will be devoted to sports, illustrated by action pictures, many of them taken when the participants did not realize they were being photographed. Senior pictures will be run four to a page in order to provide more space for other features than was available last year. Information from the engraver indicates that this yearbook is nearer completion than nearly all other small-college annuals in this section.

EXPENDITURES' COMMITTEE TO SUPPLY ALL TICKETS

At a recent meeting of the Committee on Student Expenditures the following resolution was adopted:

"In the future every organization planning a function for which admission is charged must purchase its admission tickets from the Committee on Student Expenditures." Mr. Russell C. Johnson has been designated as the person from whom the tickets can be procured.

These tickets will be used in place of those formerly purchased by the organizations themselves, and will be the only accepted means of admission.

Dedrick and Sipe Tie for May Queen

Final Elections Tues. for Queen,
Two Class Attendants,
And Representatives

WIEAND TO MANAGE PAGEANT

The final election for May Queen will be held tomorrow at noon to break the tie now existing between Troupiere Sipe '35, and Prudence Dedrick '35, and to choose two attendants and a student representative from each class, preferably a true all-around leader and student.

As a result of today's election, Dorothy Wieand '36, is manager of the pageant, having been chosen from a group consisting of Dorothy O'Brien '35, Sara Helen Keyser '36, Dorothy Witmer '37, and herself. Sara Jane Stephen '35, president of the Women's Student Council, was elected as the Scholarly Figure representing Ursinus.

The Central Nominating Committee consisting of Troupiere Sipe '35, president pro tem; Prudence Dedrick '35, Dor's Roach '36, Emma Kirkpatrick '36, Sylvia Erdman '37, and Sarah Warner '37, received petitions for nominations. They chose as candidates for May Queen Helen Brendle '35, Troupiere Sipe '35, and Prudence Dedrick '35.

The Pageant Manager is always chosen from the members of the Pageantry class. Her duty is to take charge of the business side of the pageant. All accounts are in her name, and she is responsible for all bills contracted. She also manages all the general details of the pageant, receives the reports of committees, checks upon activities of the separate production groups, etc.

Character tryouts will be held next week. All girls wishing to tryout for such a part should read the pageant in the library and should become familiar with the pantomime sheet found attached to the pageant. The exact date of the tryouts will be announced in the Weekly for next week. A character tryout list will be placed on the bulletin board in Bomberger.

Rev. Clayton H. Ranck Engaged As Speaker For Week of Prayer

Rev. Clayton H. Ranck, pastor for the Reformed Church students at the University of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker at the week of prayer to be sponsored at Ursinus by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., on next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, February 26, 27, and 28.

Reverend Ranck will address meetings on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6:45. At the first one, he will discuss "Balanced Living," stressing religion's part in accomplishing it. At the chapel service, a week from Wednesday, the speaker will discuss "Religion as a Release." Immediately following his arrival on campus, Reverend Ranck will meet with the "Y" cabinets, which are now caring for the details of the program.

The speaker has previously been a guest on the Ursinus campus. He has expressed the wish to meet as many of the students in individual conferences as can be arranged. He will remain on the campus for the three-day period, and may conduct one or two special meetings in addition to those now definitely planned.

Swarthmore Bows To Ursinus Coeds

Sylvia Erdman Is High Scorer
As Varsity Score Piles
To 21-16 Mark

J. V.'S ALSO RECORD VICTORY

Picking up momentum since the tilt at Bryn Mawr, the Ursinus coeds, varsity and seconds, crashed through the Swarthmore basket tossers, on Friday afternoon, with a 21-16 and 27-13 victory respectively.

Offering strong opposition to the Bear array, the visitors began at the initial whistle to drop the baskets in their favor. Coach Snell's substitutions predicted a tide-turn, but the lead already given allowed a Swarthmore three-point edge at the close of the first half.

Showing a marked improvement over the opening periods, the "U" lassies staged a gallant comeback in the third. Sylvia Erdman '37, sophomore home forward, began time after time to roll the ball through the Grizzly net, while Gina Fenton '37, opened up on strong defensive action.

In the last quarter the center combination, consisting of Captain Pru Dedrick and Doris Roach, clicked on almost every play, each time tossing the ball in the "U" direction. Th's intercollegiate battle, which terminated in a 21-16 victory for the Bear coed basketeers over the Swarthmore court force, also marked the debut of Edna Meyers '38, who in her substitution showed up as fine future material.

Following the varsity contest, the Ursinus J. V.'s battled the Swarthmore scrubs in a match which was throughout a win for the Red, Old

CASTLE MORO ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT ANNUAL LORELEI

Gym Decorated in Valentine Motif
For Dance Friday Evening

With their collegiate escorts the Ursinus coeds last Friday evening, February 15, danced the light fantastic in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. It was the Lorelei—and from eight o'clock to the last stroke of midnight, couples could be seen swaying to the strains of Jack Klein and his Castle Moro Orchestra.

Decorated in red and white, the gymnasium was a scene of silhouetted cupids, hearts, and arrows, showered over all sides of the walls. Even the programs, which were seen flashing here and there during the course of the evening were heart shaped.

The Castle Moro Orchestra of ten men and a male vocalist directed by Jack Klein supplied exceptionally good dance tunes and specialty numbers. The committee in charge reports many compliments received from the dancers on his music.

The chaperones for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Kuhr Wiencke, Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Willauer, and Dr. and Mrs. Marcus C. Old. Mildred Fox '35, Eleanor Lyle '35, Doris Roach '36, Camille Kurtz '35, Albert Gaumer '36, and Abe Lipkin '37, comprised the committee appointed by the student councils for the occasion.

Editorial Comment

A PRACTICAL CHECK

The Council on Student Expenditures is formulating a plan whereby it will supply tickets for all student dances and plays, and check afterwards on the number sold. Classes may have formal invitations printed and used just as formerly, but the designated tickets must be used for admittance to affairs.

In this way the council, in addition to having an effective check on expenditures, will have a better check on receipts. Both the committeemen and the sponsoring organizations will be protected. The first will be able to present a checked report, and the latter will be better protected against possible misuse of funds.

Classes, councils, and clubs sponsoring dances can further aid the work of the committee by demanding detailed financial reports from their treasurers and committees to be read at meetings of the organizations. The requirement of making such reports, while not necessarily aimed to prevent dishonesty, should at least lessen the unwise expenditure of money.

Incessant urging that members of student organizations check on their own finances to prevent waste may or may not bring results, although the advice to do so is sound. The Council on Student Expenditures, however, is working in a practical way to help students preserve their monetary resources. Its most recent action is a welcome step in the right direction.

INSTITUTING A FORUM

Rumors, now virtually confirmed, that a forum for discussion of current topics will be begun early in March on alternate or on all Sundays should please a majority of students.

If the committee in charge can secure able speakers on problems of the day, the forums should have a much wider student appeal than the vesper services they may replace. Ursinus is located in a district where leaders in many modern fields of endeavor live, and students should profit by that fact. A local forum conducted by these leaders should be of real interest, and should encourage students to consider off-the-campus problems.

The argument in favor of careful consideration of present problems is old but worth repeating. If a student has knowledge of the problems of the past—in history, economics, and religion—and their solutions, he has something of value. Inability to apply that information to present situations, however, means that the student will have merely knowledge but not wisdom.

The "Y" organizations have shown by their sponsorship of the forum idea that they are live groups, awake to the needs of the day.

A GAME OF EAVESDROPPING

Eavesdropping or inquisitiveness are not generally accepted pastimes for college students, but they do act as sports when they reveal just what is foremost in the minds of the school administrators.

Recently, representatives from 60 colleges met at Upper Darby High School to initiate an experiment—gathering together pupils and parents in order to help them solve problems of further education. If this meeting is analyzed, one conclusion, at least, can be drawn: the problem of finances is the fundamental one facing prospective students.

In issuing invitations to various colleges for the conclave, Mr. J. H. Tyson, principal of the Upper Darby High School, stated: "The most serious question at the present time in many homes is the financing of college education. The representatives of these colleges should therefore be prepared to answer questions dealing with opportunities for students to secure financial assistance of one type or another."

At present approximately 50 per cent of the Ursinus students are receiving help from some source, either through government help, college self-help, or private funds. The College is assisting to the limit of its capacity. Yet, according to the Registrar, "practically all letters which come from possible future students make reference to need for financial assistance." What is the solution?

We cannot here solve a problem which is a headache to all officials. We can, however, recognize the facts as they are and see that no solution could result from two alternatives: (1) withdrawal from college, and (2) discontinuance of aid.

Among the alumni and friends of Ursinus the problem might wander, until it might find light of day. It might meet those who could contribute annually and see the purpose of their deed. It might reach the hands of some who possess private funds which could be employed to supplement those agencies now active at the College.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

Sororities Nab New Members

Over 30 maidens received bids to the five local sororities this past week, and were it not for an extra heavy police guard about the bid box, dire consequences might have resulted from the confusion caused by the rush to greet newly selected sorority sisters. Not only did handshakes and gratulatory words flourish, but kisses, hugs, screams, giggles, and gurgles were so common that many of the male onlookers were almost mistaken for pledges by the elder Greek maidens in their mad stabs for their chosen ones.

Joe Ursinus, when interviewed concerning the big haul, observed, "The whole affair reminded me of the times when we used to play cops and robbers with the pledges breaking out of the jailhouse and darting into groups of safety."

Lorelei Lures Loving Couples

Ursinus' best, mediocre, and worse dancers appeared in full bloom at the heart-throb dance of the year, Friday night, and despite the fact that most of them forgot their ice skates, the palpitating strains of Jacques Klein sifted through the ether of Johnson's Terpsichorean Pagoda in romantic style to delight the multitudes.

The "Lorelly" was a success financially, and the Tuesday and Saturday nights to come will prove whether or not it was a success socially. New faces in the Ursinus social world showed up Friday night, as did new dresses, new shoes, and new chaperones. Hearts were tacked all over the wall and most likely bobbed up and down in many swains' throats when they saw who their next dance was with.

COLLEGIATE SPOTLIGHT

THE GLEN GRAY CORPORATION

Glen Gray and the Casa Loma Orchestra, which holds the record for appearances at college and university functions, present new ideas in band organization as well as popular dance rhythms.

Glen Gray is president of the Casa Loma Corporation in which members of the band are stockholders, drawing quarterly dividends from the profits as well as regular salaries.

New members are added to the band only after they have been passed on by a board of directors on the basis not only of musical ability but congeniality and personality.

This has led to the saying in musical circles that Casa Loma is organized like a business firm and run like a college fraternity.

Originality may be the keynote in their popularity. Casa Loma set a record by playing for more than 70 collegiate affairs in 40 states in three seasons.

Personal Paragraphs on Timely Topics

What is your attitude toward the current tendency of introducing survey courses in the larger fields of knowledge?

William Evans '35: "This educational program is highly commendable. Students not specializing in any particular branch are given an extensive knowledge of the whole unit without the detailed intensiveness of specialization. The interdependence of each part and the correlation of these to the major field are amply covered in survey work."

Sarah Helen Keyser '36: "In theory survey courses are quite appropriate. They afford the student an opportunity to explore a particular field and decide whether or not he wishes to go further into the subject. In practice these desirable results have not always been attained. Instructors have often been over-anxious to include too much technical work in the survey courses, with the result that the student receives nothing practical and sometimes loses interest in the subject."

Florence Roberts '37: "Survey courses are desirable to provide students with a broad knowledge of the fields outside their choice. The value, however, is lost when stress is laid upon minute details of little importance to the average person. Unless the survey is organized to present a practical knowledge of the field, it merely requires time that could well be devoted to another subject."

Robert McLaughlin '36: "Today's world demands specialists. It realizes that ordinary men do only one thing well. Survey courses divide the interest and cloud the purpose of the college freshmen. The student preparing for life should acquire his general knowledge along with, and build around, his specialty, rather than separate from it."

Mary Elizabeth Grounds '38: "Survey courses are valuable to those interested but lose this value when made compulsory. Some students desire a general knowledge of a subject, and to those students these courses are recommended. On the other hand, making them compulsory instills a hatred for the subject that may eventually lead to a great deal of prejudice against it."

Paul Guest '38: "If survey courses are introduced into a liberal arts college they will provide a more complete education up to a certain point. By comparing the amount of unimportant facts that would be omitted to the amount of extra ground to be covered, a happy medium could be secured and this point reached."

Some of the dance score cards looked like football line-ups with every position filled but the waterboy, but after all, variety makes the dance. The biggest difficulty we had was changing our cleats for the fast and slow numbers; N. Schoenberger, local cobbler, arrived just ten minutes too late with a fresh supply of Alpine sticks for the sliding couples, and 'twas a shame, for it would have been a sell-out for him.

The play, entitled "Sparkin", by Conkle, is a comedy of mid-western farm life in Nebraska. Those to compose the cast are Freda Schindler '35, Mary Helen Alspach '36, Alice Plunkett '38, and William Tempest '35.

This play is being directed by Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald.

On Monday night, February 11, the affirmative from Ursinus College and the negative from Lincoln University clashed on the question, "Resolved, that Pennsylvania should adopt a system of socialized medicine."

Paul R. Shelley '36, in his constructive speech, and H. Allen Cooper '35, in his cross-questioning, represented Ursinus in the affirmative by showing the need for reorganization and the merits of adopting the socialized system. Abraham Morrow and Ellsworth Hill, of Lincoln, opposed, contending that government should nowhere enter medicine, and showing that socialization where attempted has failed.

VARSITY CLUB TO PURCHASE TWO URSINUS' GOLD NOTES

Men to Discontinue Lending Money To Other Organizations

At a recent meeting of the Varsity Club final action was taken on the matter of investing the club's profits for the year.

It has been the policy of the club in the past to buy the College's interest-bearing gold notes. On account of the unusually large profits realized on the Grizzly Gridder this year, two of these $100 gold notes will be purchased. The ultimate aim of the Club is to amass a fund, the interest of which will be used for a scholarship or loan.

A final report on the Grizzly Gridder is not yet available but there is every indication that the profits will total at least $275. At an earlier meeting of the club it was decided that for the present year the editors and business manager of the publication would receive 40 per cent of the net proceeds instead of the usual 33 and one-third per cent. The profits from this football program constitute the main source of income for the Varsity Club.

A motion was made and carried to the effect that the Varsity Club goes on record as henceforth refusing to lend money to other campus organizations. Plans for the annual Varsity Club banquet were discussed. The committee in charge of the affair, as

Women Debaters to Entertain Freshmen Coed Squad Tonight

The Women's Debating Club will entertain and be entertained by the freshman debaters this evening, at 8:00 p. m., in the Day study.

The program will be offered by six freshman girls who will weigh the question, "Resolved, that marriage and divorce laws should be made uniform in the United States." The affirmative foundation will be given by Misses Pailonis, Wingate, and Basow; the negative, by Misses Harley, Roth, and Benscoter. The remainder of the squad, however, is also invited to attend.

On Tuesday evening, February 19, at 6:30, another group of the freshman girls' squad, will consider the question, "Resolved that pre-school age training should take place in the kindergarten and nursery school instead of in the home." This will be upheld affirmatively by Misses Beck, Goodman, and Whitaker, and negatively by Misses Schlaybach, Plunkett, and Ballinger. Tuesday evening will mark the second time for the consideration of pre-school age training.

PLACEMENT BUREAU BEGINS TO CONSIDER POSITIONS

Education Office is Preparing List Of Qualified Students

A placement project is at present under way in Professor Eugene Michael's office. The purpose of it is to acquaint approximately 250 school superintendents with the names of those Ursinus graduates who are prepared to teach but are still unemployed.

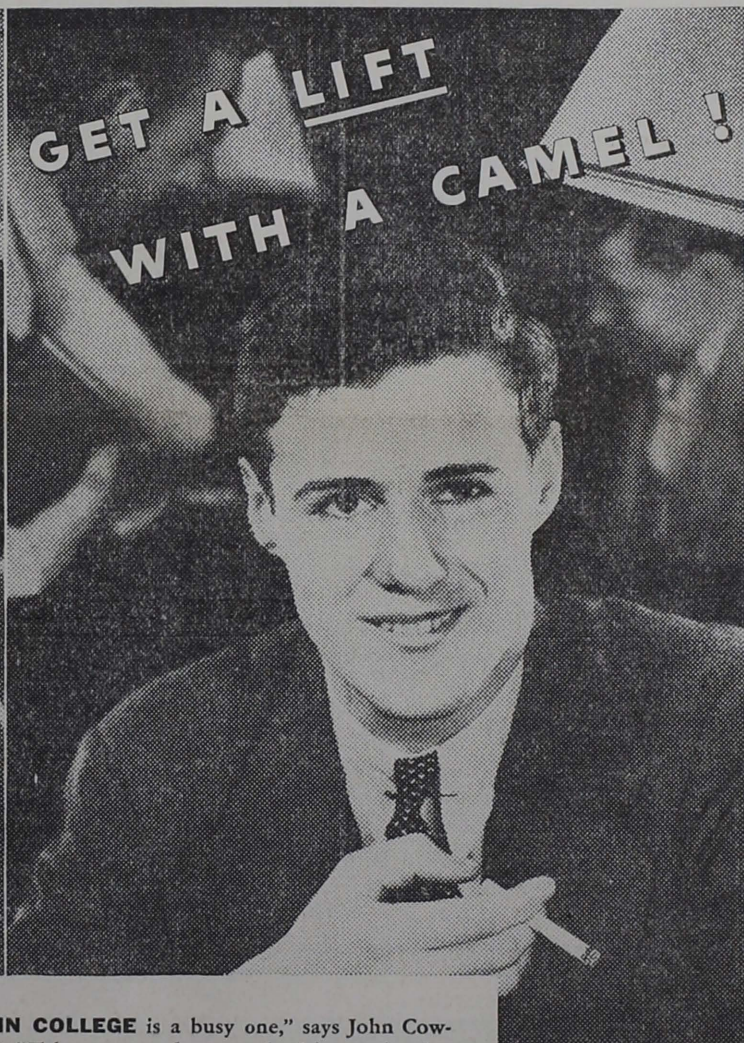

Last year this project was instituted for the first time as an outlined policy. At that time a list of last year's graduating class, together with their address, qualifications, and extra curricular activities, was sent to over 225 high school superintendents. This list included only those who had met teaching requirements.

Previous to the installation of this project last year, the Ursinus placement bureau worked through the medium of letters, which were written to school administrators. These contained informal requests to consider Ursinus students in case any vacancies should occur.

The plan of placement now in use succeeded definitely in securing, in its first year of existence, positions for two students last year. According to Professor Michael, it is being continued this year because of its apparent success.

"LIFE IN COLLEGE is a busy one," says John Cowdery, '38. "Take my case, for example: I have a leaning toward dramatics, and spend every minute possible studying the drama and playwriting, in addition to the work required by my general course. On top of that, I have a job that takes up three nights a week. So you can see my time is pretty full. I get tired...feel 'blue' sometimes when my energy is at a low ebb. Then a Camel sure does taste good! It's really swell how Camels bring me back. Although I smoke them all the time, Camels have never made me feel nervous."

HALL CHEM GROUP SHOWS MOTION PICTURE SERIES

Method of Extraction of Bromine To Be Tuesday's Reel

Prior to the formal meeting of the Hall Chemical Society on February 11, 1935, a picture on "Manufacturing of Iron and Steel" was shown to the society as well as all people interested. The pictures, which were distributed by the Bureau of Mines, showed the commercial process and industrial application of the two much-used metals.

Later at the meeting the president discussed the club dues, Ruby space, and suggested the idea of securing a key or pin symbolic of the chemical society. The matter of membership eligibility was also taken up, and a committee was appointed to draw up an amendment in regard to it.

On Tuesday, February 19, a picture on "The Commercial Extraction of Bromine from Sea Water" will be shown at 7:30 p. m. This picture, which was released by the Don Chemical Company, is in great demand by the various American chemical societies because of its practical value in showing the process used to extract bromine from sea water.

In line with this project, the Hall Chemical Society plans to have additional pictures in March and April and also to introduce outside lecturers.

N. Wright Attends Conference On the Cause and Cure of War

Nellie Wright '37, was sent as Ursinus representative to a conference on "The Cause and Care of War," held last Thursday at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. Delegates from New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, and Maryland attended both morning and afternoon sessions.

Among the speakers on the program were Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, whose topic was "The Price of Peace." Dr. Dewitt Clinton Poole, director of the School of Public and International Affairs, from Princeton University, and Senator James P. Pope of Idaho, addressed the gathering concerning the United States and the league of nations.

The morning session featured chiefly the reports of the tenth national conference on the cause and cure of war and a following discussion by a delegate from each of the five states participating.

LANTERN ELECTS G. STOUT FOR NEW BUSINESS MANAGER

The Lantern Council has announced that its next issue of the Lantern would probably appear on or about March 15. Already material has been received, and according to the tentative plans, the coming issue promises to be a success.

Since the historical articles of December's issue met with such approval, an interesting dissertation on the Schwerkfelders has already been accepted for publication. Besides the usual book reviews and drama criticisms, some clever short stories will be featured together with an article on propaganda.

Since the previous issue, the Lantern staff has been more fully organized with its new business manager, George Stout '35, and his assistant, Elizabeth McBride '36, who will also head the art department which concerns itself with all the various illustrations including the cover.

Charlotte Tyson '37, Eugene Shelley '37, Elmer Schmidt '36, and Edward Ellis '35, have been appointed the new literary editors whose responsibility it is to edit the various contributions to that department. The work of the poetry department has been assigned to Ruth Hamma '35.

WOMEN DEBATERS TO OPPOSE LEB. VALLEY ON MUNITIONS

With a dual debate with Lebanon Valley College, the women debaters will open their 1935 season. The question will be "Resolved; that nations should agree to prevent international shipment of arms and munitions."

The Ursinus negative side, upheld by Nancy Pugh '36, and Dorothy Thomas '35, will travel to Annville. The affirmative, Thelma Smith '36, and Florence Roberts '37, will remain at Collegeville.

Although this will be the first debate to be held, it is not the first on the schedule. The dual contest planned with Drexel to be held last Friday night on the question, "Resolved, that Pennsylvania should adopt a system of socialized medicine," was postponed because of illness.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to an open discussion on this topic.

RABBI BARNETT ADDRESSES JOINT "Y" MEETING TUESDAY

Subject Deals With Contributions Of Judaism to Religion

The Student Christian Associations of the Ursinus campus began their series of "religion-recognition" talks by having Rabbi Isidore Barnett, of Norristown, address an assembly of students and visitors on Tuesday evening, February 12, in Bomberger chapel.

The subject of Rabbi Barnett's address was "The Contributions of Judaism to Religion", or more specifically, "Why I Am a Jew." He stressed the fact that the Jewish faith is based upon the commandment "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind; and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Among the desirable traits of Judaism which the speaker mentioned were the striving for justice, truth, and brotherhood, and a universal God, the practice of high moral and ethical ideals, and finally, the belief in religious toleration.

Shelley, Straub, and Lipkin To Debate in Three Day Tour

The first debate on the munitions question was held here last Wednesday evening with Albright. Ursinus upheld the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

Abe Lipkin '37, gave the constructive speech and answered the questions of the opposition. Eugene Shelley '37, cross-questioned the Reading men and presented the summary. No decision was made.

This week the men begin the first of four three-day debating trips. Abe Lipkin '37, Eugene Shelley '37, and Clyde Straub '35, accompanied by Coach Harvey L. Carter, will journey to Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, and Western Maryland.

All debates will be on the Oregon plan, and will take place tonight, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

BEARS DROP CLOSE CONTEST TO MUHL. COURTMEN, 37-36

Giant Center Leads Muhl. Offense; Calvert, Heiges Lead Bears

The Bears' jinx came in the form of a 6 ft. 6 in. giant, who was a major factor in subduing the Grizzlies by another close score 37-36, Wednesday night. Although Ursinus was headed but once, and that was only for a short time at the opening of the second half, in the first 36 minutes of the game, they allowed the game to slip from their fingers as Libs Lebensperger sank two field goals in the last four minutes.

Between Cliff Calvert's foul, which was the opening score of the game, and his field goal, Captain Johnson also netted a bucket, which totaled up to give the Bears a 5-0 lead. However, the Mules were not to be vanquished so easily and they in turn ran up five points while Ursinus maintained their lead through a lone foul. From here until the close of the first half, the Chasemen held to the lead by a scant margin, and the whistle blew leaving the Bears a margin of 15-13.

Skrovaneck opened the scoring in the second half with a two pointer which tied up the game and shortly after Cuchran added another which together with Lebensperger's foul gave the Mules an 18-15 lead. Ursinus came back directly, however, and again took the lead through two baskets by Johnson and another by Heiges.

Toward the latter part of the second half, the score was knotted at 23 all as Johnson was eliminated via personals. A foul gave Muhlenberg a short lead but a barrage of field goals by the Bears sent the Grizzlies to a 29-24 advantage which the Mules could overcome only a short time before the contest ended.

With the score standing at 33-33 Costello converted a foul which everyone thought would mean the game for the Bears but Lebensperger shoved a two pointer through the mesh to retrieve the lead for the Mules. Grenawalt then came through with his second bucket of the game but the Muhlenberg giant repeated his act to nose out the Bears in their fifth close game.

The line-up was as follows.

Muhlenberg Leads Loop Race As Bears Drop to Sixth Place

Johnny Utz's Muhls continued in first place in the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate Basketball League at the end of another week of play as a result of victories over Ursinus and Albright. The Allentown boys had tough going against the Grizzlies, nosing them out by one point in the final minute of play. The Albright Lions, however, went down to a crushing defeat by the count of 51-26.

Gettysburg raised its average by also chalking up victories over F. and M. and Drexel, the latter by score of 57-14. Drexel divided their fortunes, taking Lebanon Valley into camp in a nip-and-tuck fray, 32-31. Albright forced her way out of the cellar by winning her first contest of the year, Lebanon Valley falling before them 53-48. Meantime, Ursinus slipped further down toward the bottom of the list.

CUB BASKETEERS DEFEATED BY VILLANOVA FROSH, 43-19

Game Marks Cat's 16th Frosh Win; Capt. Sholl Leads Scorers

The undefeated Villanova Frosh stormed over the little Grizzlies' basketball team in Wednesday's preliminary game and completely washed out the Ursinus '38 cagers, 43-19. It was the Wildcats' sixteenth straight victory and the Collegeville freshmen were powerless beneath the onslaught.

A sparkling passing attack kept the ball hovering near the Ursinus basket, and the few times the Cubs had the ball in scoring position the impregnable Villanova defense formation kept them from under the bucket.

In spite of the final score the little Bears held the count to 16-12 at half-time. A renewed Kitten attack rolled over the tired freshmen and into the hoop in the final frame. Joe Sholl of Ursinus led both teams in scoring with eleven points.

Coed Non-Varsity Basketeers Smash Into Interdorm Season

With three contests already played, the non-varsity coed basketeers have smashed into their interdorm season.

Last Tuesday's schedule included two games—Day vs. Firecroft and Glenwood vs. Lynewood, with Day as Glenwood coming through respectively as winners.

Captain Ada Young's Day group, consisting of Markely, Paxson, Baker, Witmer, and Billet, throughout took the upper hand over Janet Bardsley's Firecroft sextet, Collins, Missimer, Eisenberg, Hoover, and Roberts.

The same afternoon the Glenwoodians swamped the Lynewoodians with a 24-2 victory at the final whistle, "Renny" Renneberg having dropped eight of the baskets. The Lynewood lineup showed Misses Wood, Olp, Leisse, Santo, Jones, and Kline in action. Against them were Ginny Fenton's conquerers, consisting of Lyle, Renneberg, Bauer, Bishop, Taylor, and Smith.

On Wednesday afternoon Dr. White's Shreinerites met a close 9-8 downfall at the hands of the Glenwood bunch.

The coeds voted to direct the interdorm contests are as follows: Day—Flora Cooke '35, manager, Ada Young '37, captain; Shreiner—Vivian Jensen '37, manager, Ray Newsome '35, captain; Glenwood—Ginna Fenton '37, manager, Queenie Lyle '35, captain; Lynewood—Hannah Leisse '38, manager, Kay Wood '37, captain; Firecroft—Janet Bardsley '35, manager, Nellie Wright '37, captain; South—Anne Grimm '35, manager, Nancy Pugh '36, captain; and Maples—Eleanor Bothell '37, manager, Lillian French '37, captain.

TEMPLE GRAPPLERS DEFEAT GRIZZLIES IN SLOW MATCH

Hepner, Bradford, Bassman, Garner Points for Ursinus

Temple University's wrestling team proved too strong for the Ursinus Grapplers on Saturday evening at the Thompson-Gay Field Cage, winning by a score of 22½ to 7½.

Coach Bohn's proteges swept victoriously through the lightweight bouts and annexed two of the four heavyweight bouts. Three men accounted for the Ursinus points, Tom Hepner checked the Temple onslaught by gaining a draw after two overtime periods, "Reds" Bassman and "Gene" Bradford gained a pair of time advantages to boost the Ursinus total to 7½ points.

In a slow bout Delia defeated Frank Reynolds by a three-minute time advantage.

Wilbur Wire made his first appearance this season, taking the place vacated by Dick Pierce. He drew as his opponent "Crusher" Stepansky, who won without too much difficulty.

"Moon" Turner, lost a tough match when he fell a victim to a pin hold in the first part of an extra period. Tommy Hepner and Demetriates fought to a draw, when, after two additional periods, neither could gain the necessary time advantage.

Bradford Wins

"Gene" Bradford wrestled in his usual fine style and defeated Captain Harris of Temple. This was the most interesting bout of the somewhat dull and listless match.

In the 165-lb. class, Captain "Reds" Bassman easily defeated his Temple rival by an eight-minute time advantage. His opponent, Wiener, played turtle and remained in his shell most of the match.

Johnny Grimm and Pollock tangled in another bout which was practically even. Pollock, who seemed to be fatigued, stalled successfully through the closing minutes of his bout, securing a victory by barely ten seconds.

Alex Kravitz, who has performed very well this season, was pinned by Miller of Temple in four minutes.

The summary follows:

118 lb. class—Delia, (T.), defeated Frank Reynolds, (U.), by a time advantage of 3 minutes.

126 lb. class—Stepansky, (T.), pinned Wire, (U.), with an half-nelson and crotch hold. Time—5 minutes. (3 minutes in first period).

135 lb. class—Curtis, (T.), pinned Turner, (U.), with an arm lock in the first extra period. Time—12 minutes, 30 seconds.

145 lb. class—Tom Hepner, (U.), and Demetriates, (T.), wrestled to a draw.

155 lb. class—Gene Bradford, (U.), defeated Capt. Harris (T.), on time, 3 minutes 50 seconds.

165 lb. class—Capt. Red Bassman, (U.), defeated Wiener, (T.), on time, 8 minutes.

175 lb. class—Pollock, (T.), defeated Johnny Grimm, (U.), on time advantage, 1 minute 9 seconds.

Unlimited—Miller, (T.), pinned Kravitz, (U.), with leg hold and body press. Time—4 minutes, 50 seconds.

DAY STUDENTS, CURTIS, DERR TIE FOR FIRST IN DORM LOOP

Intramural Basketball Ends Second Week of Competition

The Inter-dorm basketball race ended its second week of competition in a three-way tie for first place, two teams contesting second position, and Stine winning its first victory of the season.

Day maintains its place among the leaders by virtue of an earlier string of wins although beaten by Curtis, 23-18, for its initial defeat.

Curtis, in turn, remains among the pace-setters, dividing a pair of games in the weeks competition. Its victory over Day was matched with a loss to Freeland on Saturday by a score of 21-11.

Derr advanced its status in the league by defeating Stine, 28-7, in typical Dog-house manner.

Tied at Four hundred with Brodbeck is Freeland, beaten by the former in Wednesday's free-for-all, 23-11.

Brodbeck eked out an extra-period victory over Stine on Monday, 20-18, which decision was totally reversed later in the week by a sharp-shooting Stine outfit, determined and fully able to crash the win column. The score of the second game was 22-16.

COLLEGIATE SPOTLIGHT

Answers to queries at Minnesota revealed that not a single student in a class had any doubt about the theory of evolution and 20 per cent of the class had not heard of Pontius Pilate.

At Creighton University there is a sign on the door of the dean's office, "Get your grades and pass out quietly."

The Allegheny Weekly advises. It is better to remain silent and keep teachers in doubt than to say something and let them be sure.

A mystery explained. At the University of Utah, because of the numerous marriages which resulted from the men and women studying together in the library, the president has made a rule that the coeds must occupy one-half the building and the men the other half.
