Darling Helen, & so you are alone again. Strange a little family of 3 should live apart each in a corner of a triangle. I'm glad you have enjoyed even a short visit with Wanda. As for old me, I'm with you always. For you can have me whenever you like just say Come, & down to Daggitt I fly on the wings of love & Santa Fe. Anyhow I mean to see you as soon as I get Sticker off my hands. It seems a small job that should have been finished long ago. But many cares & sickness spoiled me for composition, & only lately could I do any really good work. I feel fairly able at last & am getting ahead. Am writing it all over again & enlarging it & full sure it will be a good useful little booklet that will please you. I hope it will be in the hands of Houghton Mifflin by the end of the month.

I'm keeping the house nice & bachelor tho I be. I had Fong washing the windows beating the rugs sweeping & dusting in great style the other day. I hate the idea of ever parting with it. Perhaps you may like to live here in summer. Time will tell. Your business now is to get well & I'm so glad you are getting on so prosperously in that great work, & so cheerily merrily.
Ever all yours John Muir
