HILARIOUS COMEDY STAGED BY DORMITORY COMMITTEE

Clever Thief Foiled by Crafty Sleuth
Posing as Neurotic

STUDENT TRAINS NEW TALENT

Hilarious comedy featured the one-act play, "Thank You, Doctor," by Gilbert Emery, which was presented last Saturday evening in the gymnasium.

The play was a melodramatic farce, moving rapidly through a series of ludicrous situations to an abrupt climax. The story is centered about the attempt of a clever woman thief to make away with a valuable pearl necklace. In order to do this she devises an ingenious scheme whereby she poses as the niece of an eminent psychopathologist, has the necklace sent over for demonstration by the jeweler, and frames the jeweler's assistant as a mental "case." Her plan works well, until upon making her escape she is caught by a detective who has been posing as an imbecile.

The role of the attractive, persuasive, scheming thief was quite convincingly played by Sally Ennis '37, who carries on the deception until finally nabbed by the astute detective.

Irving Rappoport '36, was clever as the jeweler's assistant who endeavored frantically to establish the fact of his sanity and retrieve the necklace while he was being held by the doctor for mental observation.

The austere psychopathological expert who was deceived by the actions of the thief was well portrayed by Chester Albright '34.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS FRESHMAN GIRLS AT TEA

Upper-Class Girls Give Readings and Musical Selections

The girls of the Freshman class were entertained at a tea given by the Ursinus College Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. John Lentz on Thursday afternoon, November 16.

Musical selections contributed to the enjoyment of the gathering. "Way Down Upon the Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Juanita" were sung by the entire group, accompanied by Victoria Mollier '37.

Alice Richard '35, and Betty Neast '34, rendered a waltz by Brahms, arranged as a violin duet.

Freda Schindler '35, sang "I Love Life," by Mana-Zucca, and Dorothy Patterson '35, gave a reading entitled "Minnakin and Mannikin".

Several piano solos were rendered: "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" was played by Sylvia Acri '35, Friml's "Amour Coquet" by Florence Frosch '34, Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" by Ruth Levegood '35, and a selection entitled "A Little Yellow Dog" by Victoria Mollier '37.

In the absence of the president of the Woman's Club, Miss Helen M. Ferree '14, Mrs. K. Emmet Latschar, chairman of the social committee, explained the place of the club in the life of the college. Its aim is twofold: to be of help to the girls on campus and to serve as a connecting link with the College after graduation.

I. N. A. CONVENTION MEETS AT JOHNS HOPKINS

Gregory and Heiges Represent Ursinus Weekly at Annual Fall Conclave

BEST PAPERS GIVEN AWARDS

Representatives of the Ursinus Weekly were present at the annual fall convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, probably the most elaborate meeting the organization has ever had, held last Friday and Saturday, at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

At that time nationally known speakers of the newspaper world gave talks to over 90 delegates from 30 colleges, the cups awarded semi-annually were presented to those two newspapers having the best editorials and the best news items, and six colleges were admitted to membership in the organization.

For excellence in news items Lehigh was first, Pittsburgh was second, and Temple and Washington & Jefferson tied for third. Bucknell was awarded first place for the best editorials, while Lehigh and Johns Hopkins received second and third places respectively.

Dwight Gregory '34, and Jesse Heiges '35, representing The Weekly, were present at all the sessions, the first of which was held on Friday afternoon. Hyman Levin, the president of the association, introduced the

CAST CHOSEN FOR CURTAIN CLUB OFFERING "FIREBRAND"

An Italian comedy of the sixteenth century will be presented by the Curtain Club on Saturday, December 9. The plot is built around the character of Benvenuto Cellini, a sixteenth century artist and scoundrel. The historical background of the play is not entirely authentic.

Tryouts for the newly-selected play were held on Wednesday, November 15. The cast chosen includes a number of those who did outstanding work in "The Young Idea," and "The Black Flamingo," presented by the Curtain Club last year.

Robert Dresch '34, will portray the character of Cellini, the renowned goldsmith, the leading character of the play. The part of the model, Angela, will be taken by Dolores Quay '34. Adding a great deal of intrigue to the plot is the character of the Duchess, to be interpreted by Betty Luther '34. Opposite her Luke Koch

I. R. C. Gives Armistice Program at Open Meeting

Disarmament and the work of the Disarmament Conference were the main subjects of discussion at the open meeting of the International Relations Club held in the West Music Studio last Tuesday evening. The program was one of a special nature planned in celebration of Armistice Day.

The history of the Disarmament Conference, recently suspended because of Germany's withdrawal, was reviewed by Kermit Harbaugh '36. The first session of the Conference was called in 1931 by the League of Nations at the instance of Germany's request for status equal to that of

MEN HOLD TRADITIONAL FOOTBALL SEASON SMOKER

Freshmen Entertain Sophomores and Upper Classmen with Boxing and Wrestling

VARSITY PLAYERS SPEAK

Wrestling and boxing bouts were features of the smoker held in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium last Wednesday night. A large and enthusiastic crowd of men students attended the affair, which is held annually under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., usually before the last home game of the football season.

"Reds" Bassman '36, acted as referee and master of ceremonies. The first bout of the evening was a hotly contested wrestling match between "Jim" Burke '37, and "Bob" Black '37, which Burke won on a fall.

A bout between Lauer and Edger-ton, both '37, was won by Lauer. A boxing match between Reynolds '37, and Wynkoop '37, was declared a draw.

Boyer '37, threw Kelly '37 (of steamboat fame) in a good wrestling match, while a boxing bout between Lipkin and Barnes, both '37, was stopped after "Abie" landed a solid blow on Barnes' jaw, knocking that lad to the canvas for several seconds.

The "grande finale" of the evening was a wrestling match between Halberstadt and Albright, both '37, won by the latter.

During the evening several impromptu speeches were delivered. "Jing" Johnson gave a rousing talk in which he praised our football team highly for their work this year. He mentioned the fact that although ninety per cent of the players have had no previous varsity experience, they have held their seven opponents to a total of four touchdowns, a fine

Pep Rally Dedicated To Senior Gridiron Warriors

Tropp, Sommers, Seiple, and Detwiler Speak

Swarthmore being the final home game of the season, the pep meeting on Friday night was dedicated to the senior football men who played for the last time on the home field last Saturday.

"Jimmy" Russo, '34, head cheerleader, was in charge of the meeting. He presented each Senior member of the squad to the audience. "Wally" Tropp, captain of the Bears, came first to the platform. He confessed that two successive defeats were too many, and added with emphasis, "We've got to come through tomorrow!" "Elmo" Sommers and "Hank" Detwiler expressed the hopeful spirit of the team, while "Minnie" Seiple nonchalantly from the balcony asserted that the spirit of the team should lead them on to victory.

An array of red-sweated bandmen offered spirited music for the meeting, and "Peewee" Schaeffer, '34, could be seen again behind the drum. Rousing cheers were led by "Jimmy" Russo, '34, "Larry" Berardelli, '35, and "Len" Heck, '35.

Cheers for the freshman football team and the soccer team followed, and the traditional singing of the campus song brought the rally to a close.

WOMAN'S DORM. COMMITTEE SPONSORS BAZAAR AND TEA

A bazaar and tea was held in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium on Saturday afternoon after the Swarthmore game and in the evening after the play. The Woman's Dormitory Committee was in charge.

Four attractive booths were arranged at one end of the gymnasium. Pottery, novelty jewelry, bookends, linens, and pennants were among the articles on sale. Ruth Hamma '35, Dorothy Horne '35, Ione Hausmann '35, Betty Neast '34, and Lillian Barnett '35, took charge of the booths.

A refreshment booth was opened in the evening, to which Martha Franklin's cakes and candies attracted many buyers. Helen Lewis '34, and Alice Bowers '36, presided.

Unsold articles will again be placed on display at a later date.

Wyoming Seminary Bows to Cubs, 6-0; Jakomas Races 73 Yards for Only Score

FROSH-SOPH GAME THURSDAY

The Ursinus frosh completed their football season Saturday, in a blaze of glory by defeating Wyoming Seminary, at Wyoming, 6 to 0. The Cubs by virtue of this victory maintained their unbeaten, untied and unscored upon record. A seventy-three yard run back on a punt, by Jakomas, was responsible for the only score of the game.

The "Sems" were unable at any time to break through the powerful phalanx of the Swedemen and it was only through the use of passes that they were able to gain. Ursinus, however, started off by getting two first downs in the opening minutes of play and made their other five during the course of the game.

Early in the second quarter, the "Greek" received a punt on his own 27 yard line, and, aided by excellent blocking, spun, sidestepped and straight-armed up the field for a touchdown. This run and the strong defense work of the team were the features of the game. Bassler and Jakomas were taken out in this quarter.

SEASON'S LAST SOCCER GAME ENDS IN DEADLOCK

The Grizzly booters closed their official soccer season Saturday morning by playing two extra periods to a 3-3 deadlock with the Temple Owls on Longstreth field. Barcliff's goal in the last period saved the Cherry and White from defeat.

The tilt was the Bears' toughest of the season and was evenly waged. The home boys led all the way, though never by more than a one-point margin. The passing attack of Coach Baker's booters was especially noticeable.

Fisher, center forward, led the Bears with two goals, while Boysen added the other. Mollinger was high scorer for the visitors, notching two tallies, while Barcliff accounted for

TREASURERS TO MEET WED.

Treasurers of all campus organizations except fraternities and sororities are requested to attend the first meeting of the newly-formed financial organization on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in room 7. Instructions will be given at that time concerning the method to be used in keeping accounts.

The title "Committee on Student Expenditures" has been chosen for the body. Professor Maurice O. Bone will serve as chairman.

Revamped Ursinus Backfield Shows Power as Garnet Is Easily Overcome

DETWILER AND BASSMAN TALLY

The Ursinus football machine regained its winning stride on Saturday at the expense of the Little Quakers from Swarthmore, when it trampled the visitors underfoot by a 13 to 0 score. A small crowd witnessed the dreary battle down on Patterson Field, but it was a delight to Ursinus followers to see the Bears ring up their fourth straight victory over the Garnet, their ninth in the twenty-nine game series.

The stubborn defense of the Pfannmen almost proved to be too much for the Grizzlies at times, but at other times the revamped Ursinus backfield ran through the Little Quakers at will. As it was, the aerial attempts of the Bears produced both markers, but several other times when touchdowns seemed inevitable, fumbles or penalties ruined the Bears' chances. Swarthmore, on the other hand, gained plenty of ground in midfield, due mainly to the efforts of Bill Orr, flashy Garnet back, but only once did they threaten the Grizzly goal, and that was in the final period against most of McAvoy's second stringers.

Walt Price Heaves Both Passes

Walt Price, who until Saturday's game played a substitute role on the Ursinus team, was on the firing end of both of the touchdown passes. In the second quarter he tossed a short pass to Bassman, who was already waiting in the end zone, for the first score of the game, and in the third period he lofted a 30-yard aerial to Detwiler, drafted to the backfield from his former tackle position, for the second and final touchdown of the game. Captain Wally Tropp kicked the extra point this time and the final score read Ursinus 13; Swarthmore 0.

MAIN LINE DEFEATS HOCKEY TEAM IN SPIRITED ENCOUNTER

"Bups" Francis Scores U Goal; Buek Wins Main Line Points

The girls' hockey team met their second defeat of the season on Saturday, when they journeyed to the Merion Cricket Club, where they encountered Main Line. As in the Swarthmore game, the final score was 2-1.

Though handicapped by a wet, slippery field, Miss Snell's girls played a spirited game. The forward line with excellent teamwork, time and again carried the ball into their opponents striking circle just to have a fullback send it flying down the field. At the close of the first half Buek, left inner on Main Line's team, scored the first point.

VESPERS

"Hymns and Their Meanings" was the theme of the Vesper service held on Sunday evening in Bomberger hall.

Rose-Marie Brubaker '34, spoke briefly on the significance of "Day Is Dying in the West," "Fairest Lord Jesus," "Immortal Love," "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee," and "Abide With Me." After its meaning had been explained each hymn was sung, accompanied by Sylvia Acri '35, at the organ.

Editorial Comment

NOTHING TO DO OVER WEEK-ENDS?

So much has been said about "dead" week-ends on campus that the subject seems almost trite. But perhaps we have failed to hit the nail on the head.

Do students go away over week-ends because there is nothing to do at College or is there nothing to do because they go away? The answer may be "Both"!

During the past few weeks have you not wished you could attend a meeting of some organization in which you were interested but been unable to do so because of the pressure of exams? Or maybe you have followed your non-academic interests to the detriment of certain studies. Even Jo College sometimes does the one and Bookworm the other.

On one occasion last year Dr. Goepf of the piano department gave a recital at the request of the Junior Advisory Committee, and only a handful of Freshman girls attended. The concert was planned for their special benefit, but anyone would have been welcome. Furthermore, Dr. Goepf's performances are well-loved on campus, and a great many students would like to hear him more often. Why, then, did they not take advantage of this opportunity? Because more pressing affairs crowded the recital out? It looks that way.

Last week the Woman's Club gave a tea for the Freshman girls—on Thursday afternoon; the Y. M. C. A. held a smoker—on Wednesday night; tomorrow evening the Music Club is presenting a program which promises to be unusually good—but we wish we did not have four classes the next day.

How about it, Council on Social Activities? Would it not be possible to hold events of general interest over week-ends instead of during the week? If the plan should be defeated by a continued week-end exodus, then the student body would have no cause for further complaint. Let us try not more activity but better arranged activity.

EXAMINATIONS IN RETROSPECT

The whole College has weathered another strenuous examination period and as usual we have heard much about the futility of this means of checking up on the knowledge we are supposed to have acquired. Nevertheless, the fact remains that this method is practically the only means our professors have of determining a system of grading. Whether we like it or not it will undoubtedly be continued for some time to come.

Yet there is one practice that has prevailed which deserves to be hit and hit hard, and that is the practice termed "cribbing" by college students. Although it is not widespread, there is a certain small group on the campus who insist upon resorting to this method to get through many of their courses. Such underhand methods should not be tolerated either for the good of the individual or for the good of the school.

Most of us will agree that there are other things to be gained from a college education, and among these character building is not the least important. But surely character cannot be strengthened by resorting to such cheap methods in the examination room.

Distasteful as it may be for the professors to act as policemen in the examination room, nevertheless, this is probably the only means by which this practice can be effectively checked. Therefore, until the small group that insists upon resorting to such unfair means to pass courses can be eliminated, no individual should resent rigid supervision of the examinations by the professor.

NEW PLAN ADOPTED FOR INSTRUMENTAL ENSEMBLES

An entirely new plan for the College Band and Orchestra has been decided upon by Mr. J. W. F. Leman, the director. Both the band and the orchestra are to be enlarged so as to allow not only students but qualified players from Collegeville and vicinity to participate in these organizations and to take part in public concerts to be given by them.

Thursday evenings have been reserved for the weekly rehearsals of both groups. The band will meet at 7 o'clock in Bomberger, and the orchestra at 8:15. All men who are capable players are eligible to join the band. It is intended that the symphony orchestra be made up of both men and women far enough advanced in music to take part.

Prof. F. I. Sheeder will receive applications for membership in these organizations.

WOMEN STUDENTS TO HEAR PRES. OF MEDICAL COLLEGE

The Junior Advisory Committee has completed arrangements for bringing Mrs. Logan Wistar Starr to the campus on December 5. This will be the third of a series of programs being sponsored by the committee for the women of the college.

Mrs. Starr is president of Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, located in Philadelphia. She has travelled extensively, and is especially interested in missionary work in Asiatic countries, to which the Woman's Medical College has sent a number of physicians.

Mrs. Starr's experiences are very varied, and she is well known on campus as a fascinating speaker. The Junior Advisory Committee suggests that the girls of all classes take advantage of the opportunity to hear her.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Friday, November 6, in Lit. class—"We'll have a test either one week from today or next Friday, I'm not sure which."

Stratton almost lost his membership in the N. R. A. His fall was mighty 't'other day in class.

Speaking of falls, the Public Safety Commission has decided to put an iron fence around the platform in Room 2.

A bit of smart repartee: Craig J: "I like your haircut, Spencer." Spencer H: "Yeah, it's almost as bad as yours."

The 28th carload of string beans has just been opened. Only three more left, folks!

Yes, yes, we all know you're president of the Freshman class, Mr. Barnes. But please go ahead and finish your meal.

More smart repartee: Scene: Ed. class. Mr Tyson: What is likely to be the behaviour of a native of Iowa when he goes to New York? Craig J.: He'll break loose. (Laughter)

Mr. Tyson: Did someone ask what part of Iowa you came from?

The Ugly Duckling is whose little passion flower?

Did you know that there is a copy of Homer's Iliad in the library translated by Pope and edited by Church?

Hoppes, at the Muhlenberg game—"Four minutes to play! Now do like you did at Gettysburg—only make it good!"

Telegram received by Nurse Mayberry: "Accident. Ally shot in leg. Come at once." Figure it out for yourself.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

Deflation and inflation are now good football terms. In addition to denoting the amount of air in the pigskin, they are assuming a more fundamental importance. By reading the papers of neighboring colleges, we find that some schools are using the process of deflation, while some are very definitely inflating. Deflation in small-college football means the tendency to remove emphasis from athletics by reducing the number of scholarships, and by playing against colleges of the same size. Inflation is, of course, the opposite. (Somebody will call it reflation, any day now).

Whether to inflate or deflate is an open question. The tendency in this matter seems to be deflationary in comparison to what it was several years ago—which doesn't prove much. Many points are offered on both sides, and colleges not many miles from this one have adopted different policies.

The President of Swarthmore last spring was quoted in the Philadelphia newspapers as favoring competition of small colleges primarily with small colleges. Lehigh is now turning to the smaller colleges for its competition (or will do so next year).

On the other hand, we find that West Chester State Teachers College has only a few teachers colleges on its schedule, and is playing such schools as Villanova, Albright, St. Joseph's, which were heretofore considered out of its class. Lafayette has gone in for major league football with a vengeance, taking on Penn, N. Y. U., Columbia, and Colgate. An editorial in the "The Lafayette" is headed "Down with Deflationists"—and it speaks of economics only in terms of money taken in.

Regardless of any decision a college makes on the question, a large minority or a small majority usually takes the opposite stand. All of which means that it is "between the devil and the deep blue sea."

WM. MITCHELL SUCCUMBS

William Mitchell, who for more than twenty years was an employee in the kitchen of Ursinus College, retiring after the death of Mrs. Webb, former dietitian, died on November 17. Funeral services are to be conducted at the rectory of St. Eleanor's Catholic Church at 8:30 on Tuesday morning.

FRENCH CLUB TO HOLD INITIAL MEETING TUESDAY

The initial meeting of the French Club will be held on Tuesday evening, November 21. The constitution, as drafted by the appointed committee, has been approved by the faculty. The club is a new organization on the campus and is under the direction of Prof. Reginald S. Sibbald. All students interested in French are invited to join.

The first meeting will be devoted largely to business matters. Officers will be elected and a time will be chosen for the regular monthly meetings.

The programs for the year will include plays, speakers, conversation, and a study of French language and culture. Only French will be spoken at all times, under penalty of a small fine.

COLLEGE IS HOST TO CARMEL QUARTERLY CLUB

The Quarterly Club, a men's organization of the Carmel Presbyterian Church of Glenside, Pa., held its annual pilgrimage to Ursinus College last Saturday. The members attended the football game in the afternoon, and had dinner in the upstairs dining room at six o'clock.

The president of the club, Mr. Cole, presided at the dinner. Songs led by Mr. Walter Eddowes, music director of Carmel Church, added novelty to the program. Mr. Russell "Jing" Johnson delivered the principal address.

Mr. S. Earle Hoover presented the greetings of the club to the College, and Dr. George L. Omwake responded with a welcome to the organization on behalf of Ursinus.

About a hundred persons were in attendance.

BETA SIGMA HOLDS DANCE

The fire hall, attractively decorated for the occasion, was the scene of a dance given by Beta Sigma Lambda on Saturday evening from 8 to 12.

Two radios furnished the music, and when appropriate programs were not to be had Frances Prince '34, came to the rescue at the piano. Ice cream, jelly-doughnuts, and coffee were served. (Incidentally, no water could be found on the premises.) Professor and Mrs. J. Harold Brownback chaperoned the dance.

The Tower Window

I spent a half hour in a city book shop last week looking over the new titles. I was struck with the number of books dealing with our changing civilization, also with the unfamiliarity of the writers' names. Except for H. G. Wells, the authors were unknown to me. I imagine they are mostly young writers; naturally so, because older persons find it difficult to see eye to eye with an age so characteristically young. The older writers may be given credit also, because of their more cautious judgment, for not rushing prematurely into print with their views.

How far have we gotten in this "period of transition," as many are disposed to call it? Have we reached the point where the volatile elements have begun to crystallize or are we still in the nascent stage?

Is the worst over or will there be yet greater disturbances? According to Mr. Wells there are great cataclysms still ahead. A veritable "war cyclone" threatens Europe like a black cloud on the horizon, and the outcome will be slow but sure recovery in the form of a world-embracing Socialist State!

It was only a few years ago that Jan Smuts announced the new day in his famous saying "Humanity has struck its tents and is again on the move." It is quite probable that we are much nearer the start of the great trek than its end, and that we have not yet reached a point of sufficient eminence to enable us to see where the end of the journey lies. Or changing the figure and looking round about, "we cannot see the woods for the trees."

When in Greece, following the Persian Wars, the great Hellenistic Age was ushered in, the street corners and parks of Athens were full of speakers who freely expounded the new deals of that day, but it was a hundred years before these "sophists" gave way to the real philosophers who interpreted the new day in terms of universal truth. It was only after the nervous paroxysms of the era of change had subsided and the new Greek life had become fixed, that the meaning of it all could be clearly seen.

We would not discourage the critics from running out the implications of present day trends into some kind of finality, but we would not want to stake our future unqualifiedly on the prognostications of the best of them at this stage of the game.

MODERN NOVEL IS SUBJECT FOR ENGLISH CLUB DISCUSSION

The modern novel is the form of literature to be discussed by the English Club at its regular meeting on Monday evening, November 20, at Glenwood.

Reports are to be given on Roark Bradford's "Kingdom Coming" by Marion Kern '35, and on John Galsworthy's last novel, "One More River", by Mildred Fox '35. Joyce Strickland '34, will present a paper on the treatment of the Negro in literature.

COLLEGE HOST TO REFORMED CHURCH WORKERS' MEETING

Dinner was served at the College on Thursday evening to a delegation of workers from the Reformed Churches of this district, who meet annually at Ursinus to consider the problem of raising funds for benevolences.

The Rev. Carl G. Petri, of Skippack, author of the campus song, was in charge. The speakers were the Rev. Howard Obold, of Perkasio, Pa., and the Rev. J. Rauch Stein, D. D., president of the Philadelphia Classis of the Reformed Church. Louis Mitchell, '34, led the group in singing.

SORORITY PLEDGES

The following women students have accepted sorority pledges:

Alpha Sigma Nu: Hermine Loos '34. Chi Alpha Tau: Leia Amole '35, Janet Bardsley '35, Ruth Levengood '35, Wilhelmina Meinhardt '36, Alice Richard '35, Jane Stephen '35, and Evelyn Virgin '34.

Sigma Omega Gamma: Anne Bernauer '35, Frances Prince '34.

FORENSIC CLUB PICKS QUESTIONS FOR DEBATING SEASON

Four three-day trips and debates on two questions have been planned by the Men's Debating team for the coming season. The questions to be debated are: "Resolved: that the essential principles of the National Recovery Act be made the permanent policy of the United States government", and "Resolved: that all banking institutions be owned and operated by the United States government." This decision was reached at the meeting of the Club held in Bomberger hall last Monday evening, November 13.

A general discussion on the first of these subjects followed the formation of the club's plans. The essential features of the N. R. A. were decided to be three in number: first, government supervision of the self-regulation of industry; second, increase of the purchasing power of the people; and third, the development of a monopolistic form of industry. A short time was spent in securing arguments for and against the resolution.

LITVINOFF AND ROOSEVELT APPEAR AT DEBATING CLUB

An unusual program was presented at the meeting of the Women's Debating Club held at Shreiner hall on Monday, November 13. Two of the members demonstrated how a semi-formal discussion should be carried on. Dora Evans '36 took the role of President Roosevelt in a discussion of the Russian situation with Mr. Litvinoff, impersonated by Elizabeth Kassab '36. The program was the second of a series being held by the club. At each meeting a different type of discussion is featured. Thus far the results have been gratifying.

At the business meeting of the club the admission of new members and cooperation with the newly-formed financial organization were discussed. It was decided that upper-class girls who wish to apply for membership might do so by giving their names to any member of the club. In order to comply with the requirements of the financial organization, the secretary-treasurer is to work in collaboration with the manager of the teams. Arrangements were also made for the entertainment of visiting teams.

Plans for the next meeting of the club include a humorous debate.

COLLEGE IS GIVEN TREES

Two young bamboo trees were recently planted at either side of the south entrance to the Science Building. These semi-tropical additions to the campus verdure were the gift of Mr. J. W. Bullen, president of the Bullen Chemical Company of Folcroft, Pa.

Y. W. C. A. CONSIDERS

CONDITION OF THE NEGRO

An inspiring devotional service was held by the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday evening, November 15 in Bomberger hall. Mary Hutchings '34, opened the program with the piano selection, "Deep River."

The scripture was read by Marion Hageman '34, who also gave a brief talk on the condition of the negro in the United States. There are four methods by which the negro population might be decreased: deportation of a large group to Africa, the creation of a caste system, or the establishment of negro quarters. The real solution, however, lies not in these but in an attitude of friendliness and understanding. It is for the young people of today to regard the negroes as people.

Mary Hutchings '34, played the negro national anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing", after the words had been read by Miss Hageman. A prayer brought the meeting to a close.

Y. M. HEARS PROF. BOSWELL

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting held on Wednesday evening, November 15, Professor James L. Boswell gave a talk on "What Religion Means to Me."

Professor Boswell explained that he believed religion to be "loyalty to an ideal." This ideal should develop as the individual develops, making our religion a changing one. He considers the Christian ideal to be "justice", a principle in direct accord with Christ's teaching of the Golden Rule. Adherence to an ideal involves an intellect capable of impartial judgment, a spirit of self-sacrifice, and faith in the principles of one's ideals.

In conclusion Professor Boswell expressed a feeling of optimism concerning the future. He has confidence that ultimately the principles of justice will triumph over the forces which are seeking its subjugation. Such a triumph will bring a more stable and orderly society and better relationships among individuals.

THERE'S ONE BEST TIME

To Telephone Home!

You'll agree, once you've tried it, that half past eight is the time to telephone home.

At half past eight the day's rush is over. Your time is free for a leisurely telephone chat.

At half past eight the same is true at home. It's the best time to catch the family all together.

At half past eight (and this is most important) low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. You can then save as much as 40% on your call. For example: If your home is 100 miles away, a three-minute connection will cost only 35 cents!

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE of the LOW NIGHT RATES ...

Call after 8:30 P. M., and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

Charges may be reversed.

GARNET SUCCUMBS TO BEARS

As early as the first period, the revamped Bears, with Bassman, Captain Tropp, Detwiler, and W. Price forming the new backfield combination, started a scoring drive. But the culmination of this campaign upon the Swarthmore goal line was fruitless when Walt Price's pass from the 11-yard line was grounded in the end zone.

Blocked Punt Starts Scoring Drive

However, the offensive of the determined Grizzlies was not to be denied, and the second period found the Garnets giving ground before the attack of their opponents. A blocked punt started the scoring drive when Orr's kick was recovered by Ursinus on the visitor's 15-yard stripe. Tropp and Price plugged the line until a first down was registered on the 3-yard line, then Walt surprised the Garnet defense by tossing a short pass to Bassman behind the goal line. Tropp's try for the point was low. A fumble on the Swarthmore 7-yard line by Ursinus ruined another excellent scoring opportunity just before the half came to a close.

Detwiler Snares Long Pass

After a penalty offset the greater part of Tropp's 27-yard gallop to Swarthmore's 28-yard stripe in the third quarter, the Bears took to the air again to score their second touchdown. Seiple and Price alternated in heaving the ball, and finally Walt threw a short one to Minnie, good for 7 yards, that placed the leather on the Garnet 30-yard stripe. On the next play, Price faded back and tossed a high, floating spiral that cleared the Swarthmore secondary and landed in the outstretched arms of Hank Detwiler as he was striding across the Little Quakers' goal line. The score mounted to 13 as Tropp's kick crossed the bar.

From this point on, most of the Bears' second stringers played the game, and against them, the Swarthmore backs made considerable headway, especially on end runs. They carried the ball from their own 20-yard line to the Grizzlies' 28-yard stripe before their attack was broken up when Davison intercepted Orr's pass. Just before the game ended, Tropp brought the stands to their feet when he broke loose in midfield and galloped 40 yards to the Garnet 10-yard line before being downed, but the play was recalled and a penalty was inflicted on the locals for off-sides.

Albright on Turkey Day

This was the last home game for the Ursinus team, which closes its current season on Thanksgiving Day at Reading with Albright. Thus far the Bears have registered four victories, tied two, and lost the same number. They will be seeking victory No. 5 on Turkey Day against the Lions, and from the looks of things on Saturday, have an excellent chance.

The role of Beatrice, the mother of Angela, who is constantly placing her daughter in pursuit of Cellini, will be taken by Esther Lightner '34. Ascanio and Emilia will be portrayed by William Evans '34, and Sarah Mary Ouderkerk '34, respectively.

Minor roles include Polverino, taken by Everett Dannehower '34, Ottaviano, James Russo '34, and Pier, Mario Farias '35. Sara Kitchen '34, and Elizabeth Krusen '36, will be ladies-in-waiting. Soldiers will be represented by Donald Ohl '36, Robert Deen '36, Irving Rappoport '36, and Joseph Russo '34.

"The Firebrand" is being coached by Professor and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald. Rehearsals are being scheduled, and committee work is going ahead rapidly. The play promises to equal the successes of previous years.

er due to injuries, and, although the Greek returned to the fray, Bassler was unable to reenter.

The third quarter resulted in a kicking duel between Bonkoski and Rando, and the final quarter saw the losers resorting to passes which resulted in their only first downs but never threatened.

In as much as the varsity team is composed of mostly sophomores, and a remarkable season has just been completed by the freshmen, an interesting game is anticipated next Thursday when these two classes will clash in their annual game.

speakers. Byron Price, the chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Washington, spoke briefly on the necessity of maintaining integrity and truthfulness in newspaper work.

Following business meetings and informal discussions on Saturday morning and afternoon, a formal banquet at the Emerson Hotel brought the fall meeting to a close. Lee McCordell, of the Baltimore Evening Sun, who received honorable mention in the recent Pulitzer Prize competition, introduced the speakers.

Sir Willmott Lewis, the Washington correspondent to the London Times, gave the principal address, offering timely advice to the "embryo newspaper men." "There should be a moral admixture in the practice of journalism. Freedom of the press can be preserved only by the writers for it."

The Mayor of Baltimore, Howard W. Jackson, officially welcomed the convention to the city and stressed the opportunities which would open up for youth within the next few years. Frank B. Noyes of the Washington Star, who has been the president of the Associated Press for over thirty years, traced the history of that news-gathering agency, and emphasized the necessity of being unbiased in news reporting. Short talks were also given by the deans of Johns Hopkins and George Washington University, and by Watson Davis, Director of Science Service.

Brodbeck Leading in Inter-Dormitory Football Conference

Curtis trailed Brodbeck by half a game as the Inter-Dormitory Football Conference reached the half way mark. Brodbeck tops the league with three straight wins and no losses, while Curtis is undefeated in two starts. Curtis has a chance to tie Dorm No. 1 for first place when they meet Derr today.

Brodbeck turned in two wins during the past week, overwhelming Stine, 13-0, and nosing out the Freeland Parsons, 6-0.

Day broke their losing streak by holding Derr to a scoreless tie, in which neither eleven offered any serious scoring thrusts. Stine returned the Commuters to their losing ways by handing them a 6-0 setback.

Curtis showed plenty of power in giving Freeland their second reverse of the week, 12-0.

The loop lead will probably be settled when Curtis and Brodbeck clash on November 27.

HISTORY-SOC. SCIENCE GROUP

TO HEAR JAMES T. YOUNG

Dr. James T. Young, head of the Political Science department of the University of Pennsylvania, has been secured to address a meeting of the History-Social Science group to be held on Monday evening, November 27.

Dr. Young is the author of "The New American Government and Its Work," the text-book used by the Political Science 1-2 classes. During the summer of 1932 Mr. Philip Willauer '30, worked with Dr. Young on the revision of this text.

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT OF

S. S. GIVES NOVEL PARTY

A scavenger hunt featured the party of the College Department of the Reformed Sunday School, held on Friday evening, November 17, at the Boy Scout cabin. The entertainment was in charge of Dorothy Horne '35, Mabel Shelley '36, Margaret Paxson '35, Marion Hageman '34, Norman Shollenberger '34, Harry Fenstermacher '37, Daniel Chestnut '37, and William Evans '35.

The party was divided into two groups and each was given a list of objects to be procured. The list included such things as Professor Sibbald's signature, a knife, fork, and spoon, a Norris Theatre advertisement for the week of November 13th, the telephone number of Lawrence Angstadt, Oley Pa., a Public Speaking text-book, a hair as long as possible from the tail of a cow, a calendar for the month of October, 1933, the last issue of "Ballyhoo," and A R N signature. The last was found to be Miss Mayberry's signature.

After the groups returned to the cabin, the party gathered around the fire, and cocoa and cookies were served. Short monologues were given by Margaret Paxson '35 and Ruth Hamma '35, and the evening was concluded with group singing led by Gilbert Bartholomew '35. Prof. and Mrs. Sheeder chaperoned the affair.

DANCE AND MEMBERSHIP PINS

PLANNED BY VARSITY CLUB

Plans for an informal dance to be held on the evening of December 8 were discussed at the Varsity Club's first meeting of the year. This dance, if approved, will take the place of the Pan-Hellenic Ball which formerly was scheduled for that date. Due to recent action of the Inter-Fraternity Council, the regular formal dance will not be held this year. The Council on Social Activities will decide tonight whether the dance is to be given under the auspices of the Varsity Club or of the Inter-Sorority Council.

Robert Bennett '34, the president of the club, brought up the idea of having pins for members of the organization. This plan is followed in the letter-men clubs of other colleges. The only action taken was the appointment of a committee to study the project and make a report on it. The committee appointed includes Harold Seiple, '34, chairman, Dwight Gregory, '34, and Mario Farias, '35.

A financial report was made by the treasurer, Harry Brian, '35, and unanimous approval was given the proposal to pay the bill due the 1934 Ruby.

The Collegiate Spotlight

At Raleigh, N. C., plans are under way for a college which will have an indefinite term, will eliminate all classes, and will graduate students when they can satisfy outside examiners that "they know what they profess to know."

We would gladly consider the policies of the Amherst administration. There, professors who delay more than ten days in giving students marks, are fined a dollar for each additional day.

The "Smith College Weekly" tells us—"Success consists not so much in sitting up nights as being awake in the daytime."

the other world powers. No great progress has been made along the line of disarmament in the past two years, and Germany's recent withdrawal has rendered its work useless. In the course of his talk, the speaker brought out the fact that six points must be agreed upon in order to make disarmament effective. The most important of these include the abolition of aggressive weapons and the establishment of a permanent organization to maintain the principles adopted.

"Germany's Withdrawal from the League of Nations and the Disarmament Conference" was the subject of a brief talk presented by Janet Bardsley '35. She stressed the fact that Germany left the League because of her inequality of arms, and that she was the second world power to withdraw within the past year.

The final speech of the evening was delivered by Allan Claghorn '34. He summarized a report on "Social Justice", which was one of the round-table discussions sponsored by the World Alliance at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on Saturday, November 11.

"THANK YOU, DOCTOR"

Ione Hausmann '35, was effective in the role of the businesslike assistant to the doctor.

The part of the detective who posed as a neurotic was played by Fulmer Hoffman '36, who gave a fine interpretation of the antics of a psychopathic case, to wind up at the climax as a crafty sleuth.

The play was in its entirety quite well performed, and its success is in large measure attributed to the skillful direction of Virginia Meyer '34. Acknowledgements are also made to William Solly '36, Peter Kutra '35, Craig Johnston '35, Robert Dresch '34, and Frank Reynolds '37, with whose generous assistance the play was staged.
