Three One-Act Plays Presented

Comedy, Drama, and Farce Form
Group of Plays Given by Curtain Club

MR. AND MRS. SIBBALD COACH

Comedy, drama, and farce made up the well-chosen group of one-act plays presented by the Curtain Club on Friday evening in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium for the benefit of the 1934 Ruby. Well-balanced humor and dramatic situation delighted the small audience. Unusual programs and speed in the changing of scenery added to the performance.

Although exaggerated make-up and the necessity for prompting detracted from the merit of the first play, the others were exceptionally creditable. Heradah Newsome '35, Dolores Quay '34, James Russo '34, and Luke Kochenberger '34, deserve especial commendation. Much of the excellency of the performance is no doubt due to the expert coaching of Prof. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald.

Indian Summer

The action of Meilhae and Halevz's "Indian Summer" takes place in Touraine, France, at the house of one Mme. Lebreton. Mme. Lebreton's roomer, Monsieur Briqueville, is the object of a conspiracy on the part of his nephew Noel, the landlady, and Noel's wife Adrienne.

When Noel appears and the conspiracy is bared, his uncle admits that Adrienne's charm more than outweighs her inferior station. Noel is forgiven by virtue of Monsieur Briqueville's Indian-summer love for Adrienne, which, in the words of Mme. Lebreton, "warms but does not burn."

The cast:

Adrienne ... Sarah M. Ouder Kirk '34
M. Briqueville ... Robert Brandaur '36
Noel ... Everett Danehower '35
Mme. Lebreton ... Heradah Newsome '35

Across The Border

A ranch in southern Arizona is the scene of "Across The Border", by Colin Clements. Ed. Hopper returns in desperation from a supposed search for cattle thieves. Despite the protests of his wife Marthie, he declares his intention of giving up ranching at once and leaving his wife and young son to shift for themselves. A "woman in Frisco" is the cause of his decision.

Meanwhile the sheriff, who has also been a member of the searching party, arrives and tells Marthie that her husband is the real thief. Ed had sold the cattle to the supposed thieves.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Posters Informing High Students of Open Scholarships Are Mailed
by College

An attractive poster bearing announcement of four Open Scholarship awards was mailed last week to twelve hundred high schools and preparatory schools in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and nearby states. The scholarships are for $300 each, and are open to young men who become candidates for admission from approved secondary schools.

As previously, selection for these scholarships will be based on the following points: (1) Qualities of personality, character, and leadership; (2) scholastic ability and attainments; (3) physical vigor as shown by interest and skill in athletic sports, or in other ways. Open scholarships are renewed to the holders from year to year for the four years of the college course, provided a satisfactory record along the several lines of qualification mentioned is maintained.

Awards will be made June 1, 1934, by the Faculty Committee on Scholarships after full inquiry concerning each applicant has been made. Application must be made before May 1, 1934, and should be addressed to the Committee on Scholarships, Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa. Students now in College, as well as alumni and friends of Ursinus, are urged to invite likely prospects of whom they may have knowledge to submit applications for consideration.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $2.50

Dean Whorten A. Kline will be the guest of honor at the annual Philadelphia Alumni Dinner, as a part of the round of celebrations of that popular administrator's forty years of service to the College. The event, as announced in a previous edition of The Weekly, will be held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Ninth and Chestnut Streets, on Friday, March 2, at 6:30 p. m. Other speakers will be T. A. (Toni) Daly, veteran Philadelphia columnist, and poet of national reputation, and E. S. Moser, Editor of the Collegeville "Independent", known to hundreds of alumni as "Dad," who is expected to provide some interesting reminiscences as a neighbor of the College for nearly six decades.

Notices of the gathering have been mailed to all alumni whose names appeared on the secretary's list. The committee in charge wishes to take this opportunity, however, to invite all alumni and former students in the Philadelphia area to attend this event.

The Committee is especially anxious for a large turn-out to pay fitting tribute to Dean Kline, who has served as an active member of the Fac-

NEGATIVE N. I. R. A. TEAM COMPLETES THREE-DAY TRIP

Defeat Western Maryland by a 3-0
Decision; Other Debates Are No-Decision Affairs

Completing one of four three-day trips on the schedule of the Men's Debating Club, the team upholding the policy of making the N. I. R. A. permanent has returned, after having debated at Franklin and Marshall, Western Maryland, and Gettysburg, last week. Thomas Glassmoyer '36, Kermit Harbaugh '36, and Jesse Heiges '35, constituted this team, which participated in two no-decision contests, and were victorious by an unanimous decision of three judges in the one debate in which a verdict was given.

At Franklin and Marshall on February 21, Wilbur Twitmore and Martin Green represented the Lancers. For Ursinus, Thomas Glassmoyer '36, delivered the constructive speech and answered the opposition's questions, Kermit Harbaugh '36, cross-questioned, and Jesse Heiges '35, summed up.

Western Maryland was defeated at Westminster by a 3-0 decision of the MEN DEBATORS LOSE FIRST HOME CONTEST TO WEST. MD.

The men's debating teams of Western Maryland College and of Ursinus engaged in a forensic encounter in Bomberger hall, Thursday evening, February 22 on the question, "Resolved: that the essential features of the N. I. R. A. should be made the permanent policy of the United States government."

Western Maryland College upheld the affirmative side of the argument, the speakers being Robert Holder and Maurice Fleming. The Ursinus debaters were Clyde Straub '35, and Rubin Levin '36. A decision of 17 to 13 in favor of Western Maryland was returned by the audience which acted as judges. Professor Donald G. Baker acted as chairman.

Dr. Hart to Speak at Week of Prayer

Will Speak at Chapel Services
Wednesday Morning at 11 o'clock

FORMER PASTOR AT PENN

The Rev. John R. Hart, Jr., Ph.D., better known to the students of the University of Pennsylvania and to many other young people in this region as "Jack" Hart, will be the speaker for the annual Week of Prayer, to be held under the joint auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, February 27 and 28 and March 1. Interesting and beneficial programs have been planned for this occasion.

Dr. Hart will speak at the chapel service on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, at which time he has chosen as his subject, "Economics and Religion". While it is this service at which the entire student body is given their best opportunity to hear this forceful and interesting speaker, it is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Tuesday evening's subject is scheduled to be, "Health, Life and Religion".

At the meetings on Wednesday and Thursday evenings opportunity will be offered for open forum discussions which Dr. Hart will lead after he speaks. Some of the topics which the speaker is planning to discuss at these meetings are, "Personal Relationships," "Christianity and Progress," "Science and Religion," "The Meaning of Prayer," and "The Religion of a Ph. D."

The personality, experience and ability of "Jack" Hart make him especially fitted for the task of speaker and leader of our Week of Prayer meetings. He speaks straight-from-the-shoulder and in language which is understandable among college students particularly. His long association as chaplain of the athletic teams at the U. of P., at which institution he earned for himself some wide renown as an athlete, and his work as the college pastor for the Episcopal students at Penn, along with numerous work at youth conferences in many parts of the country qualify him for wide hearing at Ursinus.

Dr. Hart is especially hopeful of being able to speak to some of the athletic groups while he is on the campus. Also, private conferences may be arranged by students. Appointments for these conferences should be made through Norman Shollenberger '34, president of the Y. M. C. A.

Music Club Program Features Vocal and Instrumental Solos

A program of vocal and instrumental solos featured the first of a series of regular monthly meetings of the Music Club, held last Tuesday evening in the West Studio. In addition to several persons already known to have talent in this direction, the program brought out some promising new voices. In the business part of the meeting, seventeen new members were admitted to the club.

Howard Michener '37, sang "Sunrise and You". This was followed by the singing of "The Lamplight Hour" by Anne Grimm '35, after which Irene Takacs '34, played a variation of Schubert's theme, "Hark, Hark, the Lark!" arranged for the piano by Liszt. Next on the program was a tenor solo, "Trees" by Mario Farias '35, followed by a violin solo, Schubert's "Moment Musical" played by John Clark '34, and then by "Somewhere a Voice is Calling", sung by LeRoy Landis '36. The story of the opera, "Mignon", was read, after which Kathryn Prizer '34, sang "Dost Thou Know That Fair Land" from the opera. She sang in costume appropriate to the part. J. Raymond Christy '37, sang the tenor solo "I Arise from Dreams of Thee" as the concluding number of this program. The vocal soloists were accompanied by Victoria Mollier '37, while Walter Kelly '37, played for the violin solo.

The Music Club will sponsor a concert on the evening of Founders' Day.

Bears Break Losing Streaks as Chase Five Downs Mules; Matmen also Win

Grizzlies Net First Mat Triumph of Season as They Trounce
Bullets, 19-13

WILL MEET RUTGERS SAT.

On Saturday afternoon the Grizzly wrestlers scored a decisive victory over the Gettysburg matmen at the Battlefield institution, score 19 to 13. In gaining their initial triumph of the season the Bears conquered their foes in five of the eight matches. Two of the bouts were won by falls and three by time advantages.

Reynolds and Krouse both lost their matches in the 118 pound and 126 pound classes. The former was pinned, and Krouse had to default when he aggravated an old rib-injury. Ed. Dannehower, 135-pounder, notched the first five Ursinus points, when he tossed Cain in four minutes. Capt. Shollenberger gained an impressive time advantage over his Bullet adversary in the 145 pound class.

Gene Bradford gained his second triumph of the season when he out-wrestled Bowers to gain a time advantage in the 155 pound class. Red Bassman continued his undefeated streak when he tossed Captain Leber of Gettysburg. "Battle" pinned his opponent in three minutes. Sam Levin in the 175 pound class lost on a time advantage. With the score reading 16-13, Kravitz, Grizzly heavyweight, had to win to give Ursinus a victory. He proved equal to the occasion and succeeded in gaining a time advantage over Brown.

PLANS TO BE FORMED FOR VARSITY CLUB BANQUET

Man Prominent in College Athletic World To Be Secured As Speaker

Plans for the third annual Varsity Club banquet are being formulated. As has been the policy in the past, the affair this year will be held on a day during the week preceding the spring recess. Thursday, March 22, has been set as a tentative date. The speaker for the occasion has not yet been definitely announced, but it is expected that a man prominent in the college athletic world will be secured. Where the banquet will be held rests in the hands of the committee.

Last year, the scene of the banquet was the Freeland House in Collegeville, and Connie Mack was the principal speaker. For the first time, at the 1933 banquet, certificates recording the complete achievements of the individual members of the Varsity Club graduated the preceding year were presented. This policy will be again carried out; Varsity Club members who graduated in 1933 will be invited back to receive their honors.

A committee has been appointed by Robert E. Bennett '34, president of the group, to make all plans and arrangements for the annual affair. The members of this committee are: Irving E. Sutin '34, chairman, Robert H. Cunningham '34, Henry S. Detwiler '34, Jesse G. Heiges '35, and Lachman Rinehart '36.

DERR AND DAY ARE TIED FOR TOP HONORS IN LEAGUE

The lead in the Inter-Dormitory League has narrowed down to two teams as the thirteenth game was played Saturday. Derr and Day have won three and lost one each. Freeland and Stine are deadlocked for second place with three victories and two defeats each to their credit. Brodbeck dropped two more to Stine and Freeland, and hold third position, Curtis remains in the cellar, having lost all of their four starts.

How They Stand:

Team	Won	Lost
Derr	3	1
Day	3	1
Freeland	3	2
Stine	3	2
Brodbeck	2	2
Curtis	0	4

High scorers are Heiges, Freeland, 35; Gensler, Day, 30; Bonkoski, Day, 30.

Chase Quintet Bows to Albright
But Snaps Streak as Mules
Fall, 43-37

JOHNSON, GRENAWALT STAR

Flashing their best form of the season, Ursinus emerged from the doldrums of a nine game losing streak to upset Muhlenberg, 43-37, Saturday. The win marked the initial league victory for the Bears in seven starts and their second triumph in eleven for the season.

The Bear courtmen romped off to an early lead, 6-1, and were never headed, the Mules trailing 21-13 at the half and failing to break down this lead in the final chapter.

Roy Johnson and Willie Saalfeld divided the scoring honors for the night with seventeen. Johnson, who is among the five leading scorers of the loop, bulged his total to draw up on the leaders, and was easily the star of the night.

The victory coming after a prolonged losing streak will better the Bears' chances of pulling something out of the ruins of a disastrous court campaign, as four conference tilts remain on the slate.

The Ursinus five clicked for the first time since the initial fracas of the season, when the Chasemen defeated St. Joe's. Johnson's ability to grasp the tap-off from Cuchrane kept the visitors constantly on the defensive, while Fuller Grenawalt turned in the best game of his career, holding his man in check and racking up ten points on his own hook.

The Albright Game

Inability to convert foul tries cost the Ursinus courtmen another basketball game, as Albright nosed out the Bears 38-36, last Tuesday night in the Pretzel City.

Editorial Comment

WORTH AN HONEST EFFORT

During recent months quite a bit of publicity has been given to various proposals looking to the improvement of the chapel services. The Y. M. C. A. is even now, we believe, engaged in a survey of student opinion on this question. And the faculty-student committee studying campus problems has this matter in mind for thought and suggestions. Dr. Omwake recently made some very direct recommendations as to the student cooperation in assuming a worshipful attitude in the chapel once the organ has begun the prelude. He very properly pointed out the fact that a large part of the success of any worship service consists in the attitude of those in the audience or congregation.

The latest remarks from President Omwake on this situation were in the line of what we feel was proper commendation of the student body for their acceptance of his proposals, as evidenced by somewhat better attendance and a marked improvement of attitude on the part of those attending. While there is yet much room for improvement on both points, it certainly is but giving credit where credit is due to comment favorably on this indication that the students are willing, most of them, to do their part in making chapel worthwhile.

In all fairness, however, it must be pointed out that the part of the audience, however vital to the success of a chapel service, is after all but the more negative half of the matter. Students are discriminatory in religious matters—and by every right ought to be. And it is our honest opinion that the major reason for the attentiveness and interest which the students displayed on the occasion of the commendation by the President was the fact that Professor Witmer led a very interesting program, one which displayed careful preparation and thought as to the interests of the students. Unfortunately, this cannot be said of many of the leaders of our chapel services in the past.

On the other hand, can we really expect every one of our faculty members to be adept at leading chapel? Some have undoubtedly ability in the matter of presenting a valuable contribution to student thought—perhaps an equal number (maybe more) undoubtedly do not have this ability. But this is no criticism of these faculty members. What we do think it is an indictment of the system of assigning the chapel service by rotation to each faculty member, regardless of talent or ability. It does not always follow that a good instructor in the intellectual field is going to be naturally a good leader in the religious sphere.

Many students have a serious interest in getting something out of the chapel service. These have been largely disappointed in their quest in the past. And all students will show an interest, we firmly believe, if something worthwhile and interesting is presented to them. We feel that many students would be capable of leading fine chapel services—more capable than some faculty members. We feel that frequently outside men, clergymen and others, might be available for the leadership of chapel services. Our College pastor, certainly, would lend his experience and ability to this matter. But whether those or other recommendations are followed out, we feel that something definite should be done from the standpoint of the chapel seats.

We have spoken plainly, but out of our honest convictions on this matter. Students will attend chapel, the majority of them, at least, whether it is compulsory or not, if they will get something when they attend which compensates them for the effort. And if the chapel should be part of our College program certainly it is worth an honest effort on the part of students and faculty alike to make it worthwhile.

"JACK" HART WORTH HEARING

The news columns of this and previous issues carry the information that the Rev. Dr. John Hart, Jr. is to be on the campus this Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday for the annual Week of Prayer. This announcement, to any who know the Rev. Dr. Hart, is sufficient to warrant their attendance at the services he will address.

Being personally acquainted with the speaker, we pass on this information, that you may realize the value of his coming to us and avail yourselves of the opportunity to hear him. "Jack" Hart—everyone calls him that—is a young people's man through and through. Although he organized and led a very successful baseball team in the semi-pro ranks under the name of "Jack" Hart's "Old Timers", as far as that being an indication of his personality it is a misnomer. At Penn he was an athlete, and he has kept his athletic interests alive ever since his college days. He has had real and varied experiences for the task he comes to Collegeville to fulfill, and his forceful personality and youthful spirit add reason upon reason to point your way to Bomberger while "Jack" Hart is on our campus.

WOMEN'S DEBATING CLUB DISCUSSES RECOVERY ACT

Discussion of the National Recovery Act was featured at the meeting of the Women's Debating Club held on Monday evening, February 19, at Shreiner hall. The N. R. A. is the subject for debate this season so spirited discussions took place.

Plans for forth-coming debates were made and the meeting ended with an impromptu humorous debate.

The Women's Debating teams of Ursinus College will debate on Monday evening, February 26. The question for debate will be, "Resolved: that the essential features of the N. R. A. should be made the permanent policy of the United States Government".

The Ursinus negative team will travel while the affirmative team will be at home. The Oregon Plan of debate will be used in both encounters.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

It has been said that impressions are best created when one is dozing or sleeping lightly. Music, conversation, etc., that pass on in the presence of a dozing person are vaguely remembered at the time being, but often are remembered much more distinctly later.

Anyway, who of you gentlemen in the western dormitories fail to remember the usual A. M. routine when you are just breaking off from the loving arms of Morpheus. If I remember correctly, it runs something like this:

"All out, everybody out! No sleepin' this morning, we wanna hurry and get cleaned up. We don't want no foolin'. Mitchell, fer goodness sake, shet off that infernal radio. I tell you, Hunter, yours is the dirtiest room I ever seen. You fellows is the sloppiest bunch that ever roomed here. All you do is make dirt fer me to clean up. Serves you right fer bein' on the dean's list—why, it's a wonder you don't all flunk out. You all oughter be on the list, maybe you'd study a little. Oh, my back's so bad, I can hardly bend over. I made up 117 beds this morning already, that's some work, I tell you. Who broke this winder? Now mind, you'll pay dear fer this—I'm gonna report the whole crowd of ya. Why a body don't get nuthin' done 'cept cleaning up fer you pigs....."

And so on until noon. Oh well, after several years of this, some of the hardier boys are even able to sleep right on through this tempest.

Patriotic sons of Ersinus celebrated February 22, Poppa Washington's birthday, in a most auspicious manner. On Thursday after lunch, the colonials, favored by typical Valley Forge weather, launched an attack on Fort Derr, concentrating the main offense on General Bald Eagle's quarters. The attackers, favored with plenty of ammunition and moral support, left their impression on two window panes before the General sent frantic messages for aid to his first subordinate, Colonel Tiger Turner. But Turner proved to be another Benedict Arnold, for he was merrily helping the enemy in their campaign. Old 311 was badly battered and dent before the General barred his shutters as a signal of surrender.

The attack then began to shift to 211 when suddenly, out of nowhere, the W. C. T. U. (Woman's Christian Treasurer's Union) intervened and prevailed upon the warriors to hold out for peace and no more busted windows. The attack ceased, classes were resumed, and George's birthday went on.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

After four years it seems as though one of the woman haters of the campus has gone "soft", for none other than Lew Peters is raving about his "Millie" and insists on taking walks past Shreiner hall at all hours of the night.

"Women, women, ah me" quoth the mighty Brandaur.

Perhaps the chapel late-comers would be more prompt if the old "alarm clock in the organ pipes" idea were revived again.

Howdy thar, pard. Are you playing on the "squaar" wid me.

Social and Personal

Messrs. Dishpan, Zemo, Dog-Catcher Lee, P. Citta, and C. H. J. X. K. Kraft, noted cadaver cutters at Temple Med., revisited their former hang-outs on Thur., "Official Med. School Homecoming Day", at Ursinus. The sofas in the women's halls reported an increase in business during their brief stay.

We hear from reliable sources (himself) that "Big Roundtop" Worster is planning to go to Utah with all his girls and become a "moron."

The local tonsorial artist is getting so many rush orders for the monkey style of haircut that it has become a habit with him—everybody gets one whether they order it or not.

Even so, the son of Hershey's foremost barber still has plenty to learn about his old man's trade.

THE head of our English Department who always has the latest news from the world of literature, tells me that Kipling whose books have all borne the sign of the swastika, has ordered his publishers to leave it off his latest volume. This is because of the negative affection which he holds toward the German Nazi leader, Adolf Hitler who has made the swastika the sign of the new Reich. "Now," adds the professor, with a quizzical smile, "what are you going to do about the swastikas of Bomberger hall?" I wonder how many of the hundreds of persons who pass in and out of this building know that the sign of the swastika is embedded in the tile flooring of the portico. It is there many times in the border of the floor. Shall we of democratic America, in protest to the dictatorship of Germany, tear up these tiles? No, and why? Because the swastika belongs to the ages and Herr Hitler is of but one generation. (Perhaps Kipling thinks his book is but a single generation also).

The swastika is defined in the Oxford Dictionary as a "primitive symbol." Indeed its history dates back to prehistoric times. Schliemann found it on art objects dug up on the site of ancient Troy, but it belongs, in origin, rather to the ancient Asiatic peoples. The name swastika is from the Sanskrit and is a combination of two words meaning "well" and "to be." Hence its mythical implication of well-being, good fortune or good luck. It is thought by archaeologists to have been an instrument used by primitive peoples for striking fire. It has also been thought, because of its angular character, to represent lightning, and thus the source of light—the sun. To the sun worshippers it was highly sacred. It was a sign of benediction, of good omen, of health or life.

The swastika belongs to the entire ancient world. Although it is assumed to have originated among the Aryan tribes of western Asia, it belongs to ancient Japan where it was painted on coffins, to Thibet where in modern times explorers found it painted on the doors of the hovels, to Scandinavia, to Italy, and also to the prehistoric peoples of Mexico and Peru.

After the advent of Christianity the swastika became one of the many forms of the cross employed in Christian art—the crux gammata, made by placing four of the Greek letter gamma together in symmetrical fashion. Historians claim that its use in the Church was independent of its pagan origin and significance. It came into use in the second century and is believed to have been chosen because the early Christians had to have a cross that could be displayed or hidden as circumstances might require. The shape of the swastika lent itself best to such conditions. In church art it is sometimes called the "Flyfoot", an early English rendition of "fill foot", referring to the decoration employed to fill in the foot or lower part of the church window.

In modern times it is variously used because of its decorative value and because of its significance of well-being. In view of its having had a place in the sentiments of nearly all peoples of the world in all ages, its present use by the Nazis of Germany seems a mere circumstance. As for the tile floor in the portico of our esteemed liberal arts building, it will not be torn up. The little swastikas symbolize human culture and that is what the building itself stands for.

DR. GOEPP TO SPEAK FEB. 28

The Junior Advisory Committee is sponsoring a meeting to be held in Bomberger hall on February 28 at 4:30 P. M. at which Dr. Philip Goepf of the College music faculty will speak on "The Future of Musical America". He plans to discuss present problems found in our musical fields, the existing trends and representative American composers.

In the near future the Committee is planning to have a speaker from the Women's Horticultural College at Ambler, Pennsylvania on the campus to tell of the activities and work of that institution.

HENRY K. BOYER, FREELAND SEM. GRADUATE, SUCCUMBS Served as Speaker of the House of Representatives, Later Named State Treasurer

Henry K. Boyer, a graduate of Freeland Seminary, passed away at his home in Red Hill, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, February 17.

Mr. Boyer was a school teacher, lawyer and a prominent figure in politics. At the age of 16, he began his career as a school teacher and for three years was principal of a grammar school in Camden, N. J.

He read law in the office of Benjamin H. Brewster who later became attorney general, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar. Ten years later he was elected to the State Legislature where he served as Speaker of the House of Representatives for several years. In 1889 he was named State Treasurer.

Leaving Harrisburg in 1898, Mr. Boyer was appointed superintendent of the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia and held that post until 1902. The present Mint building was erected during his superintendency.

Mr. Boyer then retired from active participation in public affairs and devoted his time to the management of a large dairy farm near Evansburg, the town in which he was born. He donated a large tract of land to the Evansburg School District on which a school bearing the name of Henry K. Boyer, was erected. In 1924 Mr. Boyer moved to Red Hill where he lived until his death.

Private funeral services were held on Wednesday, February 21, at noon, in East Greenville. Mr. Boyer is survived by a niece and a nephew.

Freshmen Receive Colors at Annual Color Day Exercises

The annual Color Day exercises were held in Bomberger hall on Thursday evening, February 22 under the auspices of the W. S. G. A. The platform was decorated in red, old gold and black, and candles provided the necessary lighting effects.

After a short business meeting, the processional was played by Victoria Mollier '37, while the officers and freshmen representatives took their places on the platform. Marion Hageman presented the Y. W. C. A. colors to Flora Youngken, after which the audience sang "Follow the Gleam". A. A. colors were presented by Marion Blew to Virginia Fenton, followed by the singing of the "Fight Song." Martha Moore, president of the W. S. G. A. presented those colors to Dorothy Witmer, after which individual colors were presented to all the freshmen by the members of the Junior Advisory Committee. All joined in singing the "Campus Song", and Victoria Mollier played the recessional in closing.

It's about as good as a tobacco pouch

"THIS Granger package is what I call good common sense. It's just about as good as a tobacco pouch.

"Here's what I mean—it keeps the tobacco right, and you can fold it up smaller after every pipe. That makes it handy to carry.

"And I want to put in a word for the tobacco while I'm at it. Granger keeps a pipe clean as a whistle, and man, it is cool.

"I want to say Granger is just about the best tobacco I ever smoked."

CHASEMEN WIN, LOSE GAMES

Making but four out of eighteen tries from the fifteen-foot line, Ursinus suffered their ninth straight on the nose, despite the work of Roy Johnson, who had a gala night, amassing 18 points to lead all scorers.

Albright enjoyed a 7 point advantage at the half, but the Bears evened this up during the final period and finally wilted at the tape in their usual manner to drop another close court tilt. The defeat automatically eliminated Ursinus from the possibility of winding up the league season with a .500 average, it being their seventh setback in as many conference starts, but five remaining to be played.

Ursinus outscored the home dribblers in the final half, 18-15, but fell short as the Lions halted a dangerous rally near the end. Albright converted 8 out of 16 free tosses, but was outscored from the field, 16-15.

Whose Money?
The appearance of Luke Kochenberger '34, of "Ghost Train" fame, was met by applause. Mr. Kochenberger as usual merited the enthusiasm of the audience in his portrayal of Henry, the irresponsible poker fan.

Having signed over all his money to his capable wife Isabel, Henry is embarrassed by a one-hundred-dollar poker debt. He attempts to rob his own safe, but is interrupted by the arrival of "Issy." A quarrel ensues, but "Issy" remains firm in her determination to pay no more of Henry's poker debts.

However, the curtain falls upon Henry, armed with double the wherewithal to pay his card debt, 'phoning his cronies for a place in the next game. The cast:

took this advantage and the half ended with Ursinus on the short end of a 17-15 score.

At the close of the third period the score was knotted at 26 all and it remained so until two minutes before the final whistle. It was at this time that Tworzydlo scored one of his two field goals and then followed up with a foul and these points proved to be the margin of victory.

Frosh 46; Perkiomen 31

Swede Paul's Ursinus Freshmen went on a scoring spree Wednesday night, swamping Perkiomen Prep at Pennsburg, by a 46-31 score. The cubs took an early lead which was never threatened throughout the contest.

The same starting lineup that beat Villanova Frosh took the floor for the Cubs at the starting whistle. Once again they clicked smoothly, so that at half time Ursinus led by the wide margin of 24-12.

Although coach Paul shoved in his substitutions in the second half, the Preps still found tough opposition and the game ended with the Little Bears' lead increased to 46-31.
