ARTIST-STUDENTS PRESENT PLEASING CONCERT, OCT. 27

Large Audience Hears Celia Gomberg, Paceli Diamond and Jorge Bolet
In Recital

FIRST OF CULTURE SERIES

The artist-students of the Curtis Institute of Music presented a delightful evening of entertainment before a large and appreciative audience last Thursday evening in Bomberger Hall. Celia Gomberg, violinist; Jorge Bolet, pianist; and Paceli Diamond, soprano, of the Philadelphia institution, pleased the gathering with their fine interpretation of the masters. Eugene Helmar, pupil of Mr. Harry Kaufman, accompanied the artists.

Miss Gomberg opened the program with Tartini's "Fugue in A major." Particularly good was her rendition of Fritz Kreisler's "Gypsy Caprice," a pathetic and plaintive melody in true gypsy style. The "Hebrew Melody" was very well done, and showed an intense feeling for the race in the minor strains of the number.

Jorge Bolet, Cuban pianist, played for his first group four songs by Robert Schumann, "Des Abends," "Aufschwung," "Fabel," and "Ende vom Lied." Very notable was the clarity and melody of the slow parts and the splendid technique exhibited in the long chromatic passages.

The soprano, Paceli Diamond, has considerable experience, having sung with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company for several seasons. She is a pupil of Harriet van Emden. The "Soldier's Bride" was well received by the audience. A Russian girl

REPUBLICAN PARTY STAGES

POLITICAL RALLY IN GYM.

Ursinus was the center of attraction for approximately 600 people last Wednesday evening when the Republican party staged a political rally in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

For one-half hour preceding the opening of the meeting the Ursinus College Band very ably entertained the inflowing crowds with fine music.

The meeting was opened by singing "America" which was led by Mr. Rushong, the local postmaster. Then followed an array of speakers representing the Republican party in national, state, and local capacities.

It was clearly no place for Democrats, especially if such persons happened to be sensitive. Roosevelt was assailed from every possible angle—justly or otherwise—and the election of Hoover was urged by all the speakers.

While the remarks were centered for the most part around the presidential candidates, two candidates, one for Congress and the other for the state legislature, presented reasons why they should be elected to their respective offices.

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD

FOR PROF. HARRY BRETZ

Memorial services for the late Professor Harry Bretz were held in chapel on Thursday morning. The address for the occasion was delivered by Dr. Omwake.

Reviewing the life and character of the deceased professor, Dr. Omwake stressed his extraordinary cultural background. Details of the death were read from an informal letter which was sent to the president by Harry Bretz's brother, a professor at Cornell University.

Dr. Omwake emphasized the fact that, in addition to other notable characteristics, the former head of the French department had a wide and accurate knowledge of all kinds of things, and that he was known for his excellent research work and other intellectual activity.

NO CLASSES ELECTION DAY

According to a statement issued this morning by Dr. George L. Omwake, the College will suspend academic activities on the general election day, November 8. This will enable all students of voting age to go home to cast their ballots.

TELEGRAM TO HOOVER

For the satisfaction of the Republican National Committee, the editor of the Weekly sent the following telegram to Herbert Hoover, president of the United States: Hon. Herbert C. Hoover, Washington, D. C.

Poll of over eighty percent of student body and faculty of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., gave Herbert Hoover a three to one victory over Roosevelt. Straw vote which was conducted by the "Ursinus Weekly," student publication, showed that Thomas ran close third to Democratic candidate. "The Ursinus Weekly"

FACULTY STRONG FOR HOOVER

By Harry F. Brian

If Ursinus students have anything to say about the matter, then one can depend on it that Herbert Hoover will still be parking his presidential derby on the White House hat rack for the next four years, thus disproving all reports to the contrary that there would be a Democratic lid adorning the illustrious peg after March 4th next. As the saying goes, "Figures don't lie," and we certainly have enough figures here to make George Washington's renowned "rep" turn pale and hide.

If it were true that "as Ursinus goes, so goes the nation," then we would see Hoover, on election day, swamping the ballot box returns by a 3 to 1 margin over Roosevelt, the only opponent in the running conceded an even chance for victory.

All told, there were 426 votes cast out of approximately a possible 525, which includes the student body, the faculty, and the officers of the administration. This is quite a fine percentage when one considers that the

URSINUS REPRESENTED

AT A. A. U. W. CONFERENCE

Ursinus was represented at the Pennsylvania-Delaware District Conference of the American Association of University Women Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29, by Dr. E. B. White, Florence Brooks '12, and Florence Benjamin '30. The conference was held partly in Wilmington and partly at the women's college, the University of Delaware.

One of the outstanding speakers on the program was Dean Bernice Brown of Radcliffe College who discussed a meeting of the International Federation of University Women at Edinburgh last summer, a convention which is held every three years.

Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse of the Institute of Women's Professional Relations at the Women's College in North Carolina reported on the results of recent research in regard to vocational opportunities for women. She also described the general economic status of women.

One of the major interests of the A. A. U. W. is the maintenance of international graduate fellowships for women. Two of the holders of these scholarships gave interesting accounts of their opportunities and experiences made available by the A. A. U. W.

ALUMNI TEA

After the Drexel football game Saturday, November 5, Dr. White will be at home to all alumnae girls and their friends who would like to come to Shreiner for tea. Invitations are being extended only through the Weekly and are intended to include everyone.

EMINENT GERMAN ACTOR TO APPEAR ON URSINUS CAMPUS

Max Montor, Internationally Famous Dramatist to Render Recital Under Auspices of Schurz Memorial

GENERAL PUBLIC INVITED

Max Montor, eminent German actor, will render a program of dramatic representations at Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., Wednesday evening, November 2, 1932, at 8.00 P. M. The recital will take place in Bomberger Hall.

The program will consist of:

1. The Assassination of Caesar, from the Shakespearian play.
2. The Rialto speech from "The Merchant of Venice," by Shakespeare.
3. The Parable of the Three Rings, from Lessing's "Nathan der Weise."
4. Scenes from "Faust." This will be presented in German.

Mr. Montor, now of New York, is touring the country under the auspices of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, an organization desiring to develop the cultural relations between the United States and all German-speaking countries. Headquarters of the Foundation are in Philadelphia.

Mr. Montor is internationally famous for his dramatic representations. He was born in Vienna and prepared at the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatic Art in Vienna. His first stage attempt was the part of Mephistopheles in "Faust" presented in Zurich, Switzerland. Extensive tours led him through Austria, Germany, and Switzerland, with long engagements at Hamburg, Munich, and Berlin.

His American career began nine years ago. He has acted in Strind-

Plans For Organization

Made By College Chemists

Tentative plans have been formulated for the introduction of a Chemist's Club at Ursinus. The purpose of the club will be threefold, namely:

1. To increase creative interest in chemical research and chemical education.
2. To present recent important chemical discoveries and achievements as a supplemental educational development not covered by college courses, by,
 - (A) Extensive and intensive study of periodicals and monographs.
 - (B) Lectures given by large industrial chemists, and investigators.
 - (C) Visual training and through motion pictures—if possible.
3. To foster a high standard of intellectuality among members.

The club will be primarily a specialized organization. It will attempt to offer an intensive program which will be productive of creative interest inscientific achievements as distinguished from the pseudo-scientific.

The membership will be limited to students who are taking chemistry preparatory to accepting industrial or teaching positions. It will be closed to members of the Biology Club and to members of the Dr. Jas. M. Anders Pre-Medical Society.

Any interested person may secure membership by consulting either Dr. Russell D. Sturgis or Wm. H. Evans, the sponsors. Dr. Sturgis will also be the advisor.

GLEE CLUB SCHEDULES TWO

CONCERTS NEXT MONTH

The members of the Ursinus College Glee Club are rehearsing almost daily for their approaching engagements. Two concerts have been scheduled for the near future. On November 9, at 2.00 P. M., they will appear at Phoenixville High School. The second concert will be given at Royersford High School on the evening of November 10.

This season the Glee Club will have a large repertoire. Many special features have been planned in conjunction with the chorus. There will be two quartettes. They will represent the two types of male quartettes. One group will render the "sweet and low" numbers and the other group will sing the humorous one's. In addition to the quartettes several soloists may be selected from the members of the club.

BANQUET BRINGS FATHERS' DAY PROGRAM TO CLOSE

Dr. A. W. Zerbe and Dr. Thomas R. Brendle Speak at Annual Banquet; President Omwake Presides

"JING" JOHNSON SPEAKS

A banquet was held for the fathers of Ursinus students in the upper dining room after the game with Gettysburg on Saturday, October 29. President George L. Omwake presided.

Before introducing the speakers of the evening Dr. Omwake spoke of the increased zeal of the student body for intellectual improvement. He attributed the cause of this to the improvement of the college by the addition of the Science Building.

Dr. A. W. Zerbe, the father of Robert B. Zerbe '36, of Tremont, Pa., spoke of the fine spirit of Ursinus students. He believed the Ursinus spirit to be one of the most noticeable features of the college.

The "great guiding spirit" of Ursinus College was stressed by Dr. Thomas R. Brendle, the father of Mary '33, and Helen Brendle '35. Dr. Brendle is the pastor of the Reformed Church in Egypt, Pa., and is gratified to know that Ursinus is under the influence of Christianity.

"Jing Johnson" spoke of athletics at the college. He cited the fact that

WRESTLING CANDIDATES

REPORT TO COACH CARLETON

On Monday afternoon the candidates for the Grizzly wrestling team reported to Coach Prof. Carleton. There were between forty and fifty men answering the call and about thirty of these were freshmen.

This year the Bears have Captain Paris, Alspach, Peterson, Robbins, Tropp, and Citta from last year's varsity squad. All of these men are in excellent condition and are looking forward to a successful wrestling season.

Coach Carleton is intent upon getting the team in shape and practise has already begun. The exact date for the first meet has not yet been definitely decided upon, but it will be held soon after the Thanksgiving vacation.

The schedule for the team is not complete as yet, thus far the tentative schedule includes the University of Pennsylvania, Franklin and Marshall, Temple, and Swarthmore.

CURTAIN CLUB TO PRESENT

SCHAFF PLAY, DECEMBER 2

On December 2 the Curtain Club will give the annual Schaff play, its first formal presentation of the year. The play is entitled, "The Black Flamingo," by Sam Janney. It is a thrilling mystery set in the background of the French Revolution; a blend of comedy, tragedy, mystery, romance, and gripping melodrama.

An open reading will be held on Tuesday, November 1, for members of the Curtain Club, and try-outs will be held two days later. The cast includes thirteen excellent characters, nine for men and four for women. The committee in charge consists of Floyd Heller '33, chairman, Dorothy Patterson '35, Margaret Deger '33, Charles Gompert '33, Clair Hubert '33, and Walter Welsh '33.

SENIOR CLASS PLANS TO

HAVE HALLOWE'EN HOP

An informal "Hallowe'en Hop" is being planned by the senior class for next Saturday night, November 5. All students are cordially invited to attend.

Those seniors on the committee are: Philip Citta, chairman, Mary Brendle, Gerald Smeigh, Rhea Wheatly, Joseph Diehl, and Helene Gohs. Dancing will last from 8 to 12.

Two dollars a couple will be the entrance fee, payable at the door. Negotiations are being made for an orchestra, but it has not yet been signed up. Let your false faces, clown suits, and tuxedos at home.

Jones, G-burg Substitute, Makes Spectacular 85 Yard Run and Scores the Only Touchdown

CENTER OF LINE IMPREGNABLE

"It just wasn't in the books for an Ursinus victory," describes in sports parlance the plight of the Ursinus team on Saturday in its annual tussle with Gettysburg. Coach McAvoy's Bears fought hard throughout the whole game; they outplayed their opponents the greater part of the time. Yet, it seemed that the Grizzlies just didn't click at the crucial moments. The result was that the Bears lost what may be aptly called a real "hard-luck" game to Gettysburg on Patterson Field. The final score of this fray was: Gettysburg, 7; Ursinus, 2.

The result of this game throws the position and possible outcome of teams in the Conference standing in a complicated position. This was Ursinus' last Conference game of the season. Before the game on Saturday, Ursinus was conceded an excellent chance of winning the title. For the Battlefield boys, it was the first Conference game of the season. They had not, this season, been picked as a potential title contender in the Conference.

Jones Stands Out

To those present at the game, there was one personality in the fray who will long be remembered. He is Al Jones of Mt. Carmel, Pa. This particular lad is a junior at Gettysburg College and a substitute quarterback on their football team.

He was involved in the critical plays of the day. It was he who ran the ball back, from the opening kickoff of the second half, 85 yards for a touchdown—the feature of the day. In the same quarter he checked an Ursinus drive deep in the Gettysburg territory, when he intercepted an Ursinus pass. In the final few minutes of the game, with Gettysburg holding the ball about a yard from their own goal line, the same Jones, purposely, scored a safety for Ursinus by placing the ball on the ground behind the Gettysburg goal line. With the short interval of the game remaining, the final

SOCCER TEAM SCORES FIRST

INTERCOLLEGIATE VICTORY

After tying the strong North East high school soccer team in a practice game on Thursday, Coach Don Baker's soccer team scored their first intercollegiate victory by defeating Gettysburg on Saturday by the score 2-1. The game was replete with thrills. Many clean executions of head play and checking were exhibited by both teams.

In the first period, both teams had several excellent scoring opportunities, but the clever play of the fullbacks checked the threats.

In the second period, after several threats at the Gettysburg goal, Russ Fisher passed to Rapp, who cleverly shot the ball through for the first score. The Gettysburg collegians tied the score and Ursinus once again scored to take the lead. Ellis booted a long one, which was true and ended the scoring for the day.

Diskan, Brian, Stratton and Trumbore played remarkable games in the backfield, while Fisher and Stout showed up well on the forward line.

Editorial Comment

AN OPEN FORUM

Within the past few weeks there appeared in the "Mail Box" several letters to the editor of the Ursinus Weekly. Each of these letters had something important to say and the replies to some of them created a genuine interest on the part of both students and faculty.

The Weekly staff wishes to encourage the expression of student opinion on current campus problems and conditions. It always has been the policy of this publication to look favorably on the sentiments and criticisms of the students.

However, we wish to add a few precautions to the above remarks. There is always danger of a good thing being overdone and this certainly should not be the fate of the above mentioned column. It is hoped that students will refrain from using it as a means of expressing their personal grievances against one another. Such is not the purpose of the column. Letters should be of interest to a large number and should not be directed as arrows at one another. On the other hand, it is understood that the editor must reserve the right to reject any communications not suited to this paper and its purpose. Obeying these precautions we will be able to make the "Mail Box" a permanent feature in our paper. Let us, then, stay within bounds and be reasonable about what we send to the editor and this column will be a permanent addition to the Ursinus Weekly.

THE PRESIDENTIAL STRAW BALLOT

The results of the presidential straw vote were very gratifying. Over eighty-five percent of the student body and faculty expressed themselves. This shows just one thing.

The college youth of today is wide awake and interested in the affairs of the world about him. We are not discussing or commenting on the results of the poll. These will be found on the front page of this issue. What we do wish to point out is the splendid response and interest of the student body.

There was a time when the college youths took a back seat and let their elders run the government as they wished without the younger generation having a word to say. Those days are past. The young people now actively discuss political problems, read the newspapers intelligently, and, if not able to vote in the general election, use their influence for their favorite candidate.

Colleges and universities all over the country have conducted straw votes with varied results. The men and women of Ursinus must be commended on their fine help in making the vote a success.

Y. W. DISCUSSES SOCIALISM

AT THIRD POLITICAL RALLY

The third in the series of political rallies sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., was held in Bomberger on Wednesday evening, at which time Mrs. H. L. Carter explained and defended the principles of the Socialist Party.

Helen Van Sciver '33, president of the Y. W., again presided, and immediately turned over the meeting to the speaker.

"The Socialist Party, formerly looked down upon," said Mrs. Carter, "is now a respectable organization gaining a larger following every year. The party realizes that it cannot place Norman Thomas in the presidential seat at the coming election, but it does aim to poll five million votes, which will be four million more than have ever before been cast in its favor."

"Socialism is not merely a political party," explained Mrs. Carter, "but an economic and philosophic theory as well. It believes that poverty, crime, unemployment, and graft in politics will continue as long as the present capitalistic order is in power."

After her talk, Mrs. Carter answered questions and objections raised by members of the audience.

The meeting was then closed in order that those who wished might attend the county Republican rally scheduled for eight o'clock in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

At previous gatherings the platforms of the Republican and Democratic Parties were presented. The meeting next Wednesday will be devoted to an open discussion of all parties, and on election day each girl will have the privilege of voting on a regular sample ballot for the candidate of her choice.

MEN'S DEBATING CLUB

HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

The Webster Forensic Club, the debating organization open to all men of the college, held its first meeting of the year, last Monday night, October 24. Ober Hess, '33 welcomed the new members especially, a group which included both upper classmen and freshmen.

An open forum on contemporary political conditions brought forth a spirited discussion of the R. F. C., the presidential election, and such practices as "log-rolling." Prof. Carter, men's debating coach and advisor of the club, said that all those showing real interest in debating were virtually sure of taking part in at least one inter-collegiate debate.

Acceptance was given to the invitation of the University of Pennsylvania to hold a radio debate early in January on a subject to be chosen by Ursinus. Ober Hess, '33 and Jesse Heiges, '35 were chosen by the coach to represent Ursinus at that time.

A special effort is going to be made to increase the total enrollment of the club, mainly by the acquisition of freshmen interested in this activity. Minor requirements for entrance are being established.

ORCHESTRA SELECTED

FOR PAN-HELLENIC BALL

All those interested in dancing please report to the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on December 3, at 9 P. M. The occasion is the Pan-Hellenic Ball under the direction of the "Blue Moon Orchestra."

The committee has chosen the favors and plans for decorations are well under way. As it is the first formal of the school year, there is no doubt that it will be the outstanding feature of this semester.

GAFF

from the GRIZZLY

Puh-lease! Mister Kling-a-mun! Serch langwitch!

Me pal, also of the faculty, Mr. History Department, dropped out to Wabash over the week-end. Dear Old Wabash! They probably think Ursinus is a queer name for a college.

Who was the game practice for, Northeast or Ersinus?

The Derr Hall "Play Boys" went on another "Tear" Friday. It's a shame the physics dept. wasn't on hand to enjoy itself.

The author of "Diary of a Co-ed" seemed to know just what it is all about. Gaff is wondering whether he is a "wreck" or a "Gigolo." Come on A. C. A., what's the dope?

Oh well, the carpenter's house probably wouldn't burn anyway.

"Ethelbert" and his blase grin were much in evidence over the week-end. Oh well—we can't get all the breaks.

Another noble experiment—James E. Palm attempting to drive a car.

WORLD POLITICS DISCUSSED BY INT. RELATIONS CLUB

At an open meeting of the International Relations Club on Tuesday evening, October 25, the personalities of four men outstanding in world political affairs were discussed by Clinton Bigelow '33, John Clark '34, Ione Hausmann '35, and Jesse Heiges '35.

The meeting was called to order by President Eugene H. Miller, '33. After transacting the necessary business, president Miller asked Clinton Bigelow '33, chairman of the program committee, to take charge of the meeting.

Mr. Bigelow was the first speaker of the evening, the subject of his remarks being Benito Mussolini. In his talk, he brought out the high points of Mussolini's political career, showing the influence of Nietzsche's philosophy upon him. He emphasized the fact that Mussolini is revered and enthusiastically supported by the common people of Italy.

John Clark, '34 presented an account of the political accomplishments of Ramsey MacDonald, leader of the British Labour Party. Mr. Clark clearly pointed out the far-reaching effect of Mr. MacDonald's political philosophy. He stressed the fact that the Labour leader is strongly opposed to war and stands whole-heartedly for disarmament.

Ione Hausmann, '35 presented the facts regarding Senator Borah. He was a lawyer in Indiana for some time, but became actively interested in politics in 1912 when he was elected to the Senate. He has been in the spotlight of American politics through his discussion of income tax and other questions of national importance.

Jesse Heiges, '35 put forth the views of Hitler, German Fascist Leader. He is being supported today by the great mass of youth in Germany as well as a considerable part of the ruined middle class. According to Mr. Heiges, it is generally thought that he is a man who has been extraordinarily successful in procuring votes by making vague promises which he would not be able to keep if he were elected as president of Germany.

Following these presentations of outstanding characteristics of the four leading personalities of the day, all present joined in an open discussion of them. Dean White added several interesting comments, and also read from a travelogue by Dean Crawford of Swarthmore College regarding the value of the floating university.

GIRL'S GLEE CLUB MEETS; PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

The first meeting of the Girl's Glee Club this year was held after lunch on Tuesday, in Bomberger. About thirty, including a number of freshmen, signed up for membership. Practice was begun immediately, and the chorus sang an anthem the following morning in chapel.

Miss Hartenstine who directs the group is planning to present Glee Club concerts during the year, and asks the whole-hearted cooperation and support of every member.

The Tower Window

WE hear a good deal about seasonal conditions in business. Certain lines of manufacture take an upturn in the fall, merchandising improves as the holidays approach, grain drops to its lowest figure following the harvest and pending the storage of the crop. I wonder if the public is aware that the business of a college president's office is seasonal also. We have passed through the season of adjusting all sorts of matters incident to the beginning of the new academic year. This first season—one of organizing and adjusting the educational machine usually takes all of the first month. Then comes the season for handling the finances. We are in the midst of the financing season now. Following this will come the editorial season when the new catalogue and the promotional literature of the year must be gotten out. Following that we have the convention season—meetings of the various associations and societies with which the work of our institution is related. The work of the convention season is a little more vital and exacting in our office because for at least three of the organizations the Ursinus College office is the secretariat, if we may borrow a term from the League of Nations. Founders' Day and Commencement bring their seasonal tasks, and the entire year is open season for all kinds of public addresses ranging from painstaking papers to more or less offhand speeches.

The financing season is fraught with stern work. The first duty consists in studying the Auditors' Report. The income and expenditures of every department in the past year must be critically examined and compared item by item with the corresponding figures of the previous year. Then comes the task of building the budget for the year now getting under way. Past experience, current income and estimated needs conspire to determine the figures. If an institution remained static from year to year, budget making would be easy, but where there is constant growth, as is the case with Ursinus College, there is large room for discriminating judgment, or to put it more simply, for wise guessing. In a budget of about $325,000 we have found it possible to guess right within a thousand or two in making up the combined estimates of the several departments.

ALUMNI NOTES

On October 16, the orchestra and chorus from the Royer-Greaves School for Blind gave an entertainment in Christ Reformed Church, Littlestown, of which Rev. H. H. Hartman, '94 is pastor. The founder and Principal of the school is Mrs. Jessie Royer Greaves, '92. Doctor F. S. Linderman, Hon. '10, pronounced the benediction.

The pupils of the school for blind gave a series of four entertainments with demonstrations of their vocational training at the Jefferson Lutheran Church, St. Paul's Church, of which Rev. E. M. Sando, '04 is pastor, and the First United Brethren Church in Hanover.

'19, '00, '12—At the eighth annual Conference on Secondary Education which was held at the Teachers College of Temple University on October 28, 29, Wallace C. Savage, principal, Upper Darby Junior High School, served on the conference committee. The conference topic was "Education for Participation in Changing Social Order." C. B. Heinley, principal, William Penn High School, York, Pa., was a scheduled participant in the sectional meeting discussing the topic "Guidance." E. A. Glatfelter, principal, Hannah Penn Junior High School, York, Pa., served in the same capacity at the Mathematics Conference.

'18—An article entitled "My Message" written by Purd E. Deitz, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church, Philadelphia, appears on the editorial page of the October 27 issue of the Reformed Church Messenger.

'09—"Abandoned Quarries" is the title of an article written by W. Sherman Kerschner, D. D., published in the Reformed Church Messenger of October 27.

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor of the Weekly:

We are deeply humiliated and shamed by Mr. Wenner's fine letter in the last issue of the Weekly. We feel sorry for the welfare of our college when a group of twenty-five or thirty boys—pardon any exaggeration as to numbers—represent the THINKING element of our school. In a student body of approximately 500 there can't possibly be 475 morons. Mr. Wenner notwithstanding.

In reference to Miss Brubaker's grievance, no religious discrimination was intended in Mr. Rappaport's case. It was merely a series of physical exercises designed to make him appear conspicuously simple, and in our humble opinion this was a complete success. Furthermore, the aftermath proved others to be just as simple. Again, if religious respect were given all classes on this campus, then, why serve meat to "Will" O'Donnell on Fridays?

Now, Mr. Wenner and Miss Brubaker, in any modern social order, especially at a liberal arts college, it is assumed that the members of that order are broadminded enough to be able to distinguish between an act done out of pure fun, to teach a lesson in a jovial manner, such as the act in question, and one which is performed out of disrespect and consideration for a religious order. "As we think, so we are."

The Unthinking Majority.

To the Editor of the Weekly:

There appeared in your last issue of the Weekly, in the article covering the Muhlenberg game, a statement which was neither true, nor did it serve in any way to portray to your readers the high ethical and sportsmanlike playing which is the primary consideration given by our coaching staff, and which is an integral part of our training, as evidenced by the success of Ursinus teams and the compliments of outside coaches and officials.

It is not to defend myself against your careless statement that I was "ejected" from the game for "fighting," for I challenge anyone to point out any instance of unsportsmanlike conduct in my four years of inter-collegiate football, as much as it is to make your sports reporters conscious of how and why Ursinus plays football.

In the first place, our coaches will not tolerate "dirty" playing, but they teach us to play the game, and to play it hard—every man is honor bound to his fellow players to give to the contest his utmost skill and energy.

The 'why' is just as clean cut. Someone said that the battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton, and the same principles of conduct as taught to our men are fundamental alike to good soldiers, good players, and great statesmen. The wearing of the U is a magnificent charter of character and conduct, and the boy who practices these principles of conduct on the football field has acquired the finesse with which to carry that practice into politics or business.

May I suggest that in the future your reporters represent the game as it has been played; to be truly journalistic in their reports; to acquire a keener sense of perception; and to sharpen their technical knowledge of the game so that they may be able to differentiate between clean, hard playing, and that which is unsportsmanlike, for instance, "fighting." Remember, any Ursinus player is representative of his team, and any reflection on his conduct is a reflection on his, and your, team.

MATHEMATICS GROUP GATHERS IN SCIENCE BUILDING

The Ursinus College Math. group held its first meeting of the year on Monday evening, October 24, at 8.15 p. m., in the tower of the science building. The meeting was called to order by Gerald Smeigh, '33, president of the club, who welcomed Freshmen and other new members.

Dr. Clawson, advisor of the club, made a short talk in which he explained why the mathematics group was better than others. This was followed with remarks by Prof. Manning, who spoke of the value of the new science building, and by Dr. Klingaman, who voiced the importance of perseverance in one's work.

The recreational part of the program was in charge of Miss Fiamingo, '33. It consisted of getting acquainted, a reading entitled, "Three Men in a Boat" by Miss File, '35, games and refreshments.

REV. FAYE OF NORRISTOWN ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A. MEETING

"Incomplete Passes" was the subject of a very stirring and interesting message delivered by Rev. Edwin Faye, Ursinus graduate and former Bear gridiron luminary, at the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held Wednesday evening, October 26, in the West Music Studio, Bomberger.

The speaker told of five "passes" which are often incomplete in the lives of people today. The first was that of "ability" which does not fall into the arms of "application." "Goodness which does not combine with gladness is a second incomplete pass," said Rev. Faye. He further pointed out that "verbosity" without "veracity," "conviction" without "courage," and "Churchianity" without "Christianity" are passes which will be grounded on the gridiron of life. Many interesting illustrations served to forcefully impress the audience with the challenge which this message contained.

Rev. Faye was introduced by Jerome Wenner, '33, the president of the Y. M. C. A. Opening devotions, consisting of a hymn, reading of scripture, and a prayer, were in charge of H. Allen Cooper, '35.

DR. J. B. PRICE SPEAKS AT ENTHUSIASTIC PEP MEETING

Traditional 'Sinus spirit, led by the cheerleaders and the band, was exhibited at the pep meeting in Bomberger Friday evening before the Gettysburg game. After several peppy selections by the band, Benny Zamostein, '33, chairman of the Booster Committee, presented Doctor J. B. Price, '04, of Norristown, former coach of football at Ursinus, and college physician. Doctor Price recalled the first encounter of the Bears with Gettysburg, and praised the noteworthy cooperation of this year's team. Jerry Smeigh, '33, said a few words on behalf of the players.

"Jing" Johnson, '16, director of athletics, gave a short talk, concluding with an effective poem on sportsmanship.

Frosh cheers interspersing the speeches and numbers by the band, gave added indication of the support of the school. Singing of the Campus Song, followed by roll call of the freshmen, closed the meeting.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETS AT GLENWOOD HALL

The English Club held its regular meeting at Glenwood Hall, on Monday evening, October 24, with Dr. Homer Smith as the speaker of the evening. Dr. Smith, after reading the constitution of the club, and explaining its purposes, spoke briefly on the lives of Tolstoi and Gorky.

Gladys Ulrich, '33, the president of the English Club, presided at the meeting. Joyce Strickland, '34, was elected secretary-treasurer to fill a vacancy in the official personnel. There was some discussion as to the method of taking in new members this year, and some plans were made which shall be announced in the near future. At the next meeting several members will read papers which were assigned at this meeting.

COLLEGE SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Ghosts, goblins, games, pumpkin pie, apples, and cider were the delights for all those who attended the Halloween party sponsored by the College Department of the Trinity Reformed Sunday School. A large number of college students turned out, and all entered into the spirit of the occasion with interest—almost too much interest on the "corpse" hike!

The committee in charge was composed of Jerry Wenner and Helen Van Sciver, both '33, Richard Shaffer '34, and Margaret Paxson '35. Mrs. Sheeder, one of the class teachers, was the guest of the group, and helped in arranging for the party.

FRATERNITY NOTE

The Rho Delta Rho fraternity banqueted at Pierre's in Philadelphia, last Friday night, October 28. William Pole '35 was formally initiated into the fraternity at that time.

'21—The Rev. Francis C. Schlater was installed as pastor of Calvary Church, Turtle Creek, Pa., October 21, by a committee of Allegheny Classis.

'30—Thomas T. Kochenderfer is in Jefferson Hospital recovering from a critical illness.

VESPERS

A simple but impressive musical service was featured at the Sunday evening Vespers, October 29. The program opened with a solo, Applefield's "Mood Pensive" interpreted by Chester Albright, at the console of the chapel organ. Next the assembled group joined in singing two hymns. Again Chester Albright gave a fine solo, playing Stibbin's "Cantelina." A beautiful hymn, sung by the group, closed the service.

VARSITY HOCKEYISTS AND SECOND TEAM PRACTICE

Due to unforeseen circumstances, the hockey game with Lebanon Valley was postponed to a later date. However, to fill the vacancy, the first team met the second stringers in a practise game. The teams appeared evenly matched and the ball was carried up and down the field, never remaining near either goal for any length of time. Then "Bups" Francis shot one of her well-aimed goals. The blue-suited players equaled this almost immediately afterward when a pass from "Babe" Quay to Sara Helen Keyser found its way between the goal posts. Just before the halftime whistle blew the varsity tallied twice.

In the second half the second team was on the defensive, but allowed only one shot to find its mark. But in spite of five penalty corners, they were unable to score.

Final score: 4-1.

The line up was as follows:

Varsity	Pos.	2nd Team
Lyle	right wing	Flynn
Blew	right inner	Keyser
Francis	center forward	Quay
White	right half	Pfahler
"Babs" Ouder Kirk	center half	Grim
Richards	left half	Grim
Wheatley	goal	Bardsley

Substitutions: Roach for Godshall on 1st team; Godshall for Roach on 2nd team.
Umpires: Snell, Ulrich.

whose husband has been dragged off to war is dispossessed by her family. This striking number reflected the sad spirit so often found in the music of that country.

Perhaps the best known of Miss Diamond's numbers was the "Mon coeur s'ouvre a ta voix" ("My heart at thy sweet voice") from Camille Saint-Saens' opera "Samson et Dalila." She sang the famous aria in a pleasing manner with rich tones and fine coloring. Her encore "Trees" was well received.

The program was made possible entirely through the kindness and generosity of the Curtis Institute.

The program:

- Fugue in A major ... Tartini-Kreisler
- Gypsy Caprice Fritz Kreisler
- Romanza Andaluza Pablo de Sarasate
- Miss Gomberg
- Des Abends Robert Schumann
- Aufschwung Robert Schumann

BEARS OUTPLAY GETTYSBURG BUT LOSE TIGHT GAME, 7-2

Ursinus bid for a touchdown was stemmed there.

Bears Fight in Vain

The Bears frequently throughout the fray were in scoring positions. It seemed that the Ursinus machine just couldn't click at the critical periods of the play. A long Ursinus pass over the goal line was muffed, spoiling the Bear's chance for a sure touchdown. In fact, only four of the eighteen Ursinus passes were completed; the windy weather was far from ideal for throwing passes.

In the final few minutes of the battle, the most golden of Ursinus opportunities presented itself. Shuman ran back a kick to the Bullet's 37 yard line; Eachus' pass to Paul was good for 17 yards; line plunging brought the ball within 4 yards of the goal where it was lost on a fumble.

First Half Even

Although the Bears were favored to be an easy victor before the game, the first half did not give much of an indication as to this. Ursinus outplayed the Battlefield boys the greater part of this period, but the stubborn Gettysburg line did not yield a great deal. The Bears had more first downs than their visitors in this half and offered a serious threat in scoring. However, Gettysburg did learn in this period that the center of the Ursinus line, the combination of SMEIGH-BENNETT-PARUNAK, was really strong. Ursinus had found in this period that the Bullets were prepared to break the Bear aerial attack. There were no substitutions for either side during the first half.

What a Second Half!

At the opening whistle of the second, Lodge got off a splendid kick to the 15 yard line where it was picked up by Jones. He followed a good interference about 15 yards up the center of the field. Shifting to the right of the field, he encountered little difficulty in negotiating the remaining 70 yards and the only touchdown of the afternoon. Immediately following this, Morris, an artful kicker, was inserted in the Gettysburg lineup to try for the extra point, at which he succeeded.

The Ursinus play, the remainder of the game, consisted chiefly of a passing attack. Many were close to materialization. On the whole, excepting one, they were of no avail. The one completed that counted was the heave that came in the final few minutes, from Eachus to Paul, and was largely instrumental in the drive that brought the Bears to the Bullets' 4 yard line. This drive terminated with a safety to the credit of Ursinus, as its climax.

The lineup:

Ursinus	Pos.	Gettysburg
Paul (C.)	left end	McCarty
H. Levin	left tackle	Smith
Parunak	left guard	(C.) Stoner
Bennett	center	Cowell
SMEIGH	right guard	Mumford
S. Levin	right tackle	Murgard
Taylor	right end	Kosma
Shuman	quarterback	Jones
Tropp	left halfback	Howard
Lodge	right halfback	McMillan
Eachus	fullback	Nowicki

Score by periods:

Gettysburg	0	0	7	0-7
Ursinus	0	0	0	2-2

Touchdown: Jones. Goal after touchdown: Morris (placement). Safety: Jones (intentionally grounding in end zone). Substitutions, Gettysburg: Gilbert for McMillan, Ewing for Mumford, Morris for Gilbert, Mulligan for Nowicki, McGinnis for Howard, Eden for Kosma, McMillan for Morris, Gilbert for McGinnis, Mumford for Ewing, Howard for Mulligan, McGinnis for Howard, Messinger for Smith, Nowicki for McGinnis, Olkewicz for Nowicki. Ursinus: Sommers for Parunak, Farias for SMEIGH, Seiple for Lodge, O'Donnell for Taylor. Referee: R. S. Keyes, Lehigh. Umpire: J. Howard Berry, Penn. Head linesman: F. R. Gillinder. Penn. Field judge: L. J. Korn. Swarthmore. Time of periods: 15 minutes.

PRESIDENTIAL POLL SHOWS

A LANDSLIDE FOR HOOVER

majority of the non-voters were probably day students who simply could not be distracted from their studies, or possibly from their heated touch football contests back on the hockey field. Nevertheless, the election went on! Of these 426 votes, we see 221 cast by men students, 172 by women students, and 33 by faculty or administration members.

To prove that the Republican element is strong at Ursinus, one must look at the overwhelming majority our Herbert has ... 268 votes, in fact, as against 88 for Roosevelt, and 66 for Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate. William Upshaw, Prohibitionist, came crashing through with three (3) votes, but, as for Communism, we may say that it's still in its infancy at Ursinus, only one vote being accredited to Mr. Foster.

By groups, we have these figures recorded. The men students say Hoover—131 times, Roosevelt—only 48 times, and Thomas—a close third with 38 votes. Incidentally, the votes cast for Messrs. Upshaw and Foster were by male students (therefore proving that boys can be different as well as girls).

"Herbert Hoover is our choice" say 114 girls, while 34 other demoeselles chime in that Franklin D. Roosevelt is the man for them. Mr. Thomas also runs a close third in the co-ed poll, carrying 24 votes.

And now, our faculty! Exactly 23 of the 33 that voted favor the retention of the elephant, while 6 others would rather ride the donkey. This, of course leaves 4 others who would delight in seeing Mr. Thomas ride into the White House on a ... (gosh, what is the Socialist beast of burden??)

Interest ran high during the taking of the ballot. Every student who voted was anxious to see whom his roommate or neighbor would vote for—and therefore he could place his bets accordingly on the campus-wide presidential betting racket.

For the information of these would-be money-makers, allow us to suggest a few tips.... a bet against Thomas means a trip to Freeland, for the parsons are 100 percent for Norman. Stine Hall is all Roosevelt—enter or keep out, as you desire. Derr Hall—well, who cares?

Communism reigns in one corner of Curtis, but Brodbeck is just a plain mixture of votes. We're told that the girls are betting on this campaign—so any "hall information" would be worthless. Now to wait until Tuesday, the 8th, and see what kind of prophets we have here at Ursinus.

berg's "Dance of Death," (Captain Edgar), in Ibsen's "Rosmersholm" (Rosmer), opposite Eva LeGallienne in Ibsen's "The Master Builder" (title role), with Walter Hampden in "Hamlet" (The Ghost), in Los Angeles in "Merchant of Venice" (Shylock), in Sudermann's "Magda" (The Pastor), and more recently in Elmer Rice's "Street Scene," Pulitzer Prize Drama.

Mr. Montor has been invited by many universities and colleges in the United States during the past few years. Ursinus College is fortunate in securing the services of so talented a performer.

All members of the college, as well as the general public, are invited to attend the recital. There will be no admission fee.

BANQUET ENDS FATHERS' DAY

70 percent of the men are actively engaged in varsity sports. None of these are on the ineligible list, but a large number are on the unlimited "cut" list." Two things predominate in our sports: The boys are engaged in athletics because of interest in the game rather than hope of financial reward or glory, and the morals of our men is comparable to that of big league players rather than small college athletics."

The singing of the Campus Song concluded the banquet. Both students and fathers felt that the dinner was an excellent climax to the Fathers' Day program.

"I like to watch you smoking your pipe!"

"IF EVER I SAW a picture of content, it's you when you're puffing on a pipeful of Granger. And I admit I like the fragrant aroma myself."

It is surprising how much better a pipe tastes when it is filled with tobacco that's made especially for pipes. And the Granger package is just right, too.
