

Kent Academic Repository

Full text document (pdf)

Citation for published version

Graye, Sarah Marie (2021) There is no journey; I stay put. . Text and image.

DOI

Link to record in KAR

<https://kar.kent.ac.uk/88318/>

Document Version

Other

Copyright & reuse

Content in the Kent Academic Repository is made available for research purposes. Unless otherwise stated all content is protected by copyright and in the absence of an open licence (eg Creative Commons), permissions for further reuse of content should be sought from the publisher, author or other copyright holder.

Versions of research

The version in the Kent Academic Repository may differ from the final published version.

Users are advised to check <http://kar.kent.ac.uk> for the status of the paper. Users should always cite the published version of record.

Enquiries

For any further enquiries regarding the licence status of this document, please contact:

researchsupport@kent.ac.uk

If you believe this document infringes copyright then please contact the KAR admin team with the take-down information provided at <http://kar.kent.ac.uk/contact.html>

Journey Around Our Rooms (<https://research.kent.ac.uk/journey-around-our-rooms/author/as708/>)

18 May 2021

Kent (<https://research.kent.ac.uk/journey-around-our-rooms/category/kent/>)

University of Kent (<https://research.kent.ac.uk/journey-around-our-rooms/category/university-of-kent/>)

There is no journey; I stay put

I have a chronic respiratory illness* and often work from my bed. My condition means I'm not able to sleep flat (something you don't realise is a luxury until it's taken away). But the plus side is that my specialist pillow puts me at the perfect angle to "lounge and work".

I've purposefully covered the wall opposite my bed with a selection of beautiful art prints, so I have something to gaze at when I look up from my screen. The woman in the central print (by American painter Ryan Pickart) is called "Pina" and I admit to occasionally talking to her.

I've mocked up my photo to look like a polaroid picture to represent this is just a "snapshot" of one instance of what it's like to live with a chronic illness: other people's experiences of living with ill health are different from mine.

(*I have idiopathic emphysema with focal collapse and fibrosis. There's usually at least one person who's interested in my diagnosis and I think sharing and allowing conversations helps the disabled community be seen.)

Sarah Marie Graye is in her second year of a part-time PhD in The Contemporary Novel: Practice as Research at the University of Kent.

Contact us

Recruitment and admissions:
Call us on +44 (0)1227 764000
(tel:+441227764000)
All contacts

University of Kent
Canterbury
Kent
CT2 7NZ