

Isolation and molecular identification of Nipah virus from pigs

ABSTRACT

Nipah viruses from pigs from a Malaysian 1998 out-break were isolated and sequenced. At least two different Nipah virus strains, including a previously unreported strain, were identified. The findings highlight the possibility that the Malaysia outbreaks had two origins of Nipah virus infections.

Keyword: Nipah virus; Malaysia