

Decentralized Technology in Centralized Networks - DTU Orbit (08/11/2017)

Decentralized Technology in Centralized Networks: Interpretative Flexibility of Rainwater Percolation in Copenhagen

General information

State: Published

Organisations: Department of Management Engineering, Centre for Facilities Management, Systems Analysis, DTU Climate Centre

Authors: Nielsen, S. B. (Intern)

Pages: 57-67

Publication date: 2000

Host publication information

Title of host publication: Urban Infrastructure in Transition : Networks, Buildings and Plans

Publisher: Routledge

Editors: Moss, T., Marvin, S., Guy, S.

Edition: 1

ISBN (Print): 9781853836893, 9781853836947

Chapter: 4

Main Research Area: Technical/natural sciences

Links:

https://www.routledge.com/Urban-Infrastructure-in-Transition-Networks-Buildings-and-Plans/Moss-Marvin-

Guy/p/book/9781853836893

Publication: Research - peer-review › Book chapter – Annual report year: 2000