MESSAGE FROM SOUTH AUSTRALIAN PREMIER, DON DUNSTAN,
FOR 1974 AUSTRALIAN SURF LIFE SAVING CHAMPIONSHIPS.

I am very pleased to have this opportunity to welcome interstate competitors and visitors to the 1974 Australian Surf Life Saving Championships.

Two things I believe will very quickly become apparent during your stay in the Festival State: South Australians are a friendly, hospitable people and our beaches are superb.

Glenelg, the site of the championships, is also one of the most attractive, distinctive seaside resorts in Australia.

The dedication and bravery of the volunteer work of the Surf Life Saving Clubs has, justly, earned them an international reputation. They combine sportsmanship, recreation and community service in a way which is a model for others to follow.

We are delighted that South Australia was selected as the venue for this year's championships and I extend my best wishes for a successful and enjoyable competition.
