To Appear In Spring Festival

Lou Nell Russell

Dennis Lilly

Claude E. Rose

Spring Festival Concert Will Be Given By College Chorus May 21

The College Chorus of 125 voices and Symphony Orchestra of fifty pieces will present a festival concert Sunday afternoon, May 21, in Van Meter Auditorium at 3:30.

Featured in the annual spring appearance of the College Chorus under the direction of Claude Rose will be "The German Requiem" by Johannes Brahms, one of the great works for chorus and soloists.

Appearing as soloists with the chorus will be Lou Nell Russell, sophomore soprano from Princeton, and Dennis Lilly, senior voice major from Bowling Green who will sing the baritone role. Miss Mary Chisholm of the music faculty will be the piano accompanist.

In its second appearance of the spring season, the Western Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Hugh Gunderson will perform Beethoven's Eighth Symphony as the opening portion of the concert. Following the intermission the chorus and soloists will perform the "Requiem"—a sacred oratorio work in seven parts with soprano and baritone solo parts.

The score of the Brahms work was completed in 1866, and it is understood that it was written in dual memory of his beloved friend, the composer Robert Schuman, and his mother, to whom Brahms was greatly attached. According to biographers of the great Austrian composer, Brahms intended this work to be more philosophical than theological; however, he called freely upon philosophical texts from the German Bible, using no consecutive arrangement in the order of movements.

Since its early performances immediately after the work was completed "it has become clear that "The German Requiem" ranks among the loftiest music ever given to the world."

The Brahms work was presented on the local campus on May 14, 1940, with Elizabeth Johns, soprano, and Ivan Rasmussen, baritone, as soloists. The chorus was directed by John Vincent and Mary Chisholm was the accompanist.

A large audience is expected to hear this annual spring festival concert by the chorus and orchestra.

Frolic Starts This Afternoon

This afternoon and tonight all residents of Western dormitories are invited to join the Potter hall sponsored blue-jean frolic at Beech Bend park.

Afternoon activities begin at 3:30 with swimming, boating, etc., with a barbecue dinner at 6:30. Square dancing with Floyd Stamm and his Country Cousins starts at 7:30 to 9:00. From then to midnight the Red and Gray orchestra will provide the music for round dancing with a complete floor show at intermission.

Free transportation will be provided from the Administration building at 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30. All this for ten cents.

Senior Reception Set

Miss Ercell Egbert and Miss Marie Adams are acting as co-chairmen on the committee for planning the annual faculty reception for June graduates of Western. The reception will be held next Friday on the campus in front of Potter hall from 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Seniors Hear Dr. Moore Talk

Contributions to society which Western's 1950 seniors can make during the last half of the twentieth Century were outlined by Dr. Earl A. Moore, class sponsor, in his May 3 senior day chapel address.

Dr. Moore's speech was entitled "Symphony of Life."

Senior class president, Fred Barlow, responded for the seniors. He expressed appreciation to the college from the class for the benefits derived during four years at Western.

Keys to an outdoor bulletin board were presented to President Paul L. Garrett by Wendell Burns, chairman of the class memorial committee. The seniors are giving this board to the college.

Trophies And Awards To Be Given In Chapel

As a feature of the chapel program to be presented in Van Meter Auditorium next Wednesday, the presentation of various awards and trophies will be made. A special program of music will be given by the Music Department preceding presentation ceremonies.

Trophies will be presented to the college by the military department, College Heights HERALD, the basketball team, golf team and the tennis team. Among other awards to be made will be special certificates to be presented to students who were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Western Seniors Hear U. Of K. Dean Of Men

"Today's college graduates will be the leaders of tomorrow," Dr. A. B. Kirwan, dean of men at the University of Kentucky, Wednesday morning told the senior class of Western State College.

Dr. Kirwan, a member of the history department faculty of the University of Kentucky, delivered the chapel address at Van Meter auditorium this morning. Members of the June graduating class wore the traditional caps and gowns to the program. The traditional processional and recessional were held before and after the chapel hour.

Dr. Kirwan discussed the qualities of leadership and spoke generally on "Developing Yourself As A Leader."

ROTC Units Pass Federal Inspection With Flying Colors

By Tom Mason

Western's Air and Ground ROTC units passed Federal Inspections last Friday with flying colors, according to Major William Pace, PAS&T, and Major Glen A. Sikes, PMS&T.

The Air has already received word that they were given top rating, that of "satisfactory." The Ground will not be officially notified until June.

"Very Favorably Impressed"

The president of the Army board of Inspectors, Colonel Henry W. Robinson, however, did say: "We are very favorably impressed with the Ground unit. The review was excellent, as was marching, presentations of awards, wearing of uniforms, and personal appearance of the individual student.

"Good discipline and enthusiasm of all concerned greatly impressed me. Instruction in classrooms was superior and the response, alertness, and attention was excellent."

Colonel Robinson, senior officer of the Ground party, told Major Sikes that he was so impressed with the policy of presenting awards to outstanding cadets that he plans to recommend this policy to the Second Army to pass on to other ROTC units.

He also stated army facilities would raise the Army's unit efficiency 30 per cent but the present facilities are compact and adequate.

Air Officers Pleased
The board of officers for the Air Force which was headed by Colonel Rex J. Elmore, was well pleased with the unit.

They considered the program successful in that it is voluntary and the enrollment has been increasing so that, whereas 1948-49 enrolled 134, 1949-50 had an increase of 92 to 226. The student body was termed properly uniformed, satisfactory in parade and review. A surprisingly large interest was shown in students organizations such as Pershing Rifles and the Prop and Wing club.

The inspecting officers said all instructors were well qualified and all except PAS&T have attended instructors indoctrination course at Berrin Air Force Base. There are four full time instructors with over 10 hours per week in the classroom work. PAS&T teaches AS IV and spends around 10 hours per week teaching and checking other in-

Talisman Queen Crowned At Ball

Mrs. Betty Webb Cox was crowned the 1950 Talisman Queen last Friday night at the annual Talisman Ball. The queen was crowned by W. Frank Cole Jr., Talisman King. Karen Gunderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Gunderson, was crown-bearer.

Mrs. Cox and Mr. Cole led the grand march which followed the coronation ceremonies at 11:00 o'clock.

Ray McKinley and his orchestra furnished the music for the most vivid social activity of the spring season. The Ball was sponsored by the staff of The TALISMAN year-book. Hours were from 9:00 to 1:00. Dick Zaruba, member of the year-book staff, was master of ceremonies. The following were presented as "Campus Favorites": Frances Smith and Greg Colson, Sue Gervin and Alvin Almond, Sara Booher and Gene Rhodes, Mary McLain and Buddy Cate.

Mrs. Cox is a senior home-economics major from Tompkinsville and was attendant to this year's Military queen. Mr. Cole is a senior from Bowling Green, majoring in biology and English.

Approximately 800 attended the dance.

Reunion Planned

Western's classes of '28 and '29 will hold their first class reunion on June 1.

The reunion will be on the campus with the first meeting at 10:00 a.m. in the Cedar House.

According to the Personnel Office, the two classes had a total of 325 members.

Last year's class of '24 held a reunion on the campus. This was the first class to graduate from Western.

Cotton Hop Planned

Western's junior class will sponsor the last dance for this spring in the form of a "Cotton Hop."

The dance will be held in Western's gym on Friday, May 19, from 9 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Admission will be 75c, stag or couple.

Music will be furnished by the Red and Gray Orchestra.

Keyboard Concert Will Feature Johana Harris

By Edith Love Hawkins

On Tuesday evening, May 16, Johana Harris, pianist, will be heard in concert here. The program, postponed from April 20, is scheduled for 8:15 in Van Meter Auditorium.

Her program includes: "Organ Prelude and Fugue in D Major," Bach-Harris; "Sonata in F Major," Mozart; "Improvisations," Bartok; "Prelude," Harris; "Impromptu in G Major," "Chorale Variations," and "Fococota," Schubert; and "Etude in F Major," Stearinsky.

"Leading Pianist"
Mrs. Harris, who is frequently referred to by critics as "the leading feminine pianist of the country," is a member of the Western faculty. Since the fall semester, the Harris has commuted from Nashville each Friday to conduct classes here. Dr. Harris, the composer of several of the compositions listed above, is professor in composition and music literature. Mrs. Harris is piano instructor.

This will be the third local appearance of the artist. Last winter's orchestra concert featured her as soloist, and she and her husband presented a chapel program in December.

Mrs. Harris, holder of countless musical honors, began her career as a child prodigy of six. Beula Duffey, as was her name then, gave a concert in her native Ottawa, Canada. She was described as "a pretty wisp of a thing with long curls, an uncanny ear, and a prodigious memory." She is still very small, exceedingly lovely, and critics say, possessed of the same God-given talents.

Concert and Etude
Since the time of the child prodigy, however, she has put much education and more than twenty years of concert, broadcasting, and recording experience behind her. She

Senior Named To Attend Mountain Laurel Festival

Dorothy Agnew

Dorothy Agnew has been selected Western's candidate for queen of annual Mountain Laurel Festival, according to an announcement by President Paul L. Garrett. The Festival will be held in Pineville, May 25-27.

Miss Agnew was chosen by the student body from a field of 15 candidates nominated by the faculty.

The candidate, a senior biology and mathematics major from Owensboro, was valedictorian of her class at Owensboro High in 1946 and entered Western the following fall.

She was secretary of her sophomore class and a junior campus favorite and this year was attendant to the Military Queen and the Homecoming Queen. She is assistant editor of the TALISMAN and a member of the biology club.

The only Western candidate ever to become the Mountain Laurel Queen was Miss Mary Evelyn Walton, Greenville, in 1934. She is now Mrs. Lon Rogers, Pikeville.

Last year's candidate was Miss Betty Topmiller, now Mrs. Dan Ward.

Story To Break Soon

Dr. Neil Plummer of the University of Kentucky faculty made a startling prediction recently, according to the University KERNEL. He said:

"Lexington's first drowning of the year will probably occur within the next two or three weeks. The victim will likely be either a small child or a University of Kentucky student."

Dr. Plummer went on to give the probable site of the accident and added that if the law of probabilities works as well this year as it has in the past, newspapers will publish such a story soon.

With the water sports season starting, a similar prediction could be made about Bowling Green.

Although much has been accomplished in safeguarding the lives of those who bathe and a system of rescue has been worked out to aid those who get into difficulty, it is a fact that real safety in the water is largely a matter of personal safety.

With a little common sense on the part of swimmers who are prone to overestimate their capacities, this prediction could be disproved and, more important, a life saved. DON'T OVERESTIMATE YOUR ABILITY. THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN.

Don't tell me that worry doesn't do any good. I know better. The things I worry about don't happen.

Book Marks

Books On The Mature Mind

Recently outstanding works have been produced by a husband and wife, both writing in the field of applied psychology. They are Harry Allen Overstreet and Bonara Wilkerson Overstreet.

Mr. Overstreet's book, THE MATURE MIND, is a best seller. HOW TO THINK ABOUT OURSELVES by Mrs. Overstreet, though not a best seller, has also been very popular.

THE MATURE MIND discusses maturity of the mind and the forces—economics, politics, family life, education, and religion—that shape up.

One reader said that she thinks perhaps Mr. Overstreet has neglected the important part a sense of humor plays in our development.

Rabbi Ben Ezra's theory that old age can be the best part of life for people with maturity of mind is convincingly proved in the book. But Mr. Overstreet believes that only a minority of people are really mentally mature.

HOW TO THINK ABOUT OURSELVES is a sensible book with good literary style. It discusses our everyday problems and how to meet them. Also, it shows the influence of heredity, culture, habits, and tradition.

Another of Mrs. Overstreet's books, BRAVE ENOUGH FOR LIFE, is also in the library.

The collection of books on Jewish life and culture has recently been increased by a gift of six volumes from the Jewish Chautauqua Society.

These volumes, by authorities in their fields are contributors to our Judaism.

Five of the volumes are THE BIBLE AND OUR SOCIAL OUTLOOK by Abraham Cornbach, published in 1941; Gerson H. Enelow's 1917 publication, THE FAITH OF ISRAEL; ISRAEL IN CANNAN by Jacob S. Golub, 1930; and Abram L. Sachar's THE JEWS IN THE CONTEMPORARY WORLD, published in 1930.

Records of books checked out for two weeks and reserve books show a steady increase since January, 1950.

Probably this is due to the large number of research papers being written.

Figures on book circulation give evidence that this is the busiest term yet.

Books and periodical circulation during March and April show a marked increase when compared with last year's statistics.

There has been a special increased circulation of periodical literature. This means either that topics for papers are on subjects demanding current material or on subjects of interest to magazine writers.

Two hundred fifteen books are listed in the latest edition of "Library Leaves" as being recently added to the library.

"Library Leaves" is published at intervals during the school year by the library. It lists each book recently added, along with its author, publication date, and card catalog number.

Each book is listed under its heading as to fiction, biography, general works, philosophy and psychology, sociology and economics, education, science, music and art, literature and language, history and travel and books for young people.

Anyone may obtain a copy of "Library Leaves" from the library.

KISSING A LIONESSE

The best column we've read lately is Hal Boyle's exotic account of kissing a vegetarian lioness.

"It is like being shaved suddenly or having one side of your face scrubbed by a warm towel covered with sandpaper," Boyle says. "But there's natural affection in it. A lioness puts real feminine enthusiasm into her smooching."

He describes the 350-pound lady lion as friendly, responsive, and cooperative—which is more than we can say for some girls.

You should see Carle Barnes Jr.'s brilliant photographic commentary of campus life, CAMPUS ZOO (Doubleday), which was recently released. It's hilarious.

A 75 pound unfinished statue of Moses holding the Ten Commandments recently disappeared from the courtyard of the Art Center at University of Louisville.

The statue, stolen during Religious Emphasis Week there, displayed the seventh Commandment conspicuously. The U. of L. CARDINAL reports that the thief must have been a man because of the weight of the piece of art, unless it was done by a professional lady wrestler.

Western Picked As Site For 1950 KCA

Western will be host to the Kentucky Classical Association's annual convention next fall, according to an announcement by Miss Sybil Stonecipher of the Foreign Languages department.

The teachers of Latin in Kentucky are tentatively scheduled to convene here at the same time of the Third District Education Association's meeting.

Dr. Walter Kaulfers, of the University of Illinois, is scheduled to be the principal speaker. This is the first KCA convention to be held in the western part of the state in more than ten years.

HILLTOPICS

They've Crammed 399 Weeks Into A 52-Week Year And Now We're Adding Just One More

"Straighten up!" What? I'd heard that all day during Federal Inspection, but this time it wasn't a sergeant, but a girl who reminded me. Yes, I should have known that nobody slumps during Good Posture Week! Somehow I'd missed out on the fact that the local mayor had officially proclaimed May 1-7 Good Posture Week.

THE SAME THING happened to me during National Book Week. Just as the week drew to a close a librarian asked me what I'd read. Well, there was Lil' Abner, Dick Tracy, and ESQUIRE. . . . "What books?" she wanted to know. Book Week had caught me just like Boy Scout Week—unprepared.

This is National Music Week (May 7-13). At the beginning of Music Week last year, I undertook to learn piano. After seven rigorous days, I could play the first four bars of "London Bridge"—with one hand too. That was the extent of my music education.

Such has been the extent of my every venture. My trouble is that I never follow through.

Still, by the time one gets started on one week, he's told to begin celebrating another one. In May, for example, it's confusing that we count ten different weeks in a four-week month. Never thought it could be done, but here's how: Besides National Music Week, this is also National Family Week, and National Be Kind To Animals Week.

ONE WESTERN COED is really celebrating this week by being nice to all the dogs on the campus. Every canine she meets gets some choice kind words and some petting. What we really need is a Be-Kind to Boy Friends Week.

But what do we get? Well, next week is National First Aid Week. After that (May 21-28) comes National Poetry Week, sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, sponsors of other such weeks as Garden Week in April.

Now, of course, there are weeks to please all tastes—such as National Doughnut Week, National Hot Tea Week and National Cold Tea Week, National Kraut and Frankfurter Week, National Pickle Week, National Honey Week and also National Honey for Breakfast Week.

Add to your list Want Ad Week, National Safety Week, Brotherhood Week, National Baby Week, National Parking Week (traffic improvement, that is), Boys and Girls Week, International Golden Rule Week, National Thrift Week, and Forest Protection Week (next week, too).

EXACTLY 399 weeks (U. S. Chamber of Commerce figures) now come during a 52-week year. We're going to make it 400 by proclaiming just one more—Be Natural Week.

During these gala seven days, it is hereby ruled that no student shall be required to laugh at a professor's joke after its third airing.

Slumping and slouching are not to be frowned upon.

Students are not to be reminded that certain kinds of parking are not approved by the General Federation of Womens Clubs.

No person shall be required to attend a recital while Arthur Godfrey is on the air.

What else? Nothing at all. You make your own rules and stay busy too, for it's later than you think. Two more weeks, then comes that week to end all weeks—Final Examination Week.

Musical Notes

By Edith Love Hawkins

Ah! Spring fever! My dad has always said that I am the laziest varmint alive. Right now, I feel inclined to believe arguing the point to be so much wasted energy. So if the "notes" are "flat", just blame it on the season. Supporting a pencil's enormous weight for any length of time is unbearable.

Student recital coming up! Thursday, May 18, choral room, 7:30. C U There?

The high school musicians provided some humorous incidents during the state festival. One poor bass player tripped on the radio wires and fell flat on Van Meter's stage. However, he wasn't stopped by a minor happening of that type. He collected himself and gave a superior performance.

Another bass soloist, string this time, played in the music building at 10:00, and arrived, panting, for an ensemble performance at Van Meter, instrument in hand, ten minutes later. Her cry of, "I can't carry my bass that far that fast!" reminded one of the faculty members of another high school student. She was a twirler in a Tennessee festival. Her practicing had been strenuous, and she was quite out of breath. Or, as she explained to the judges, in an excellent example of a southern drawl, "Ah's all out of puff!"

Mr. Baxter, Miss Chisholm, and Miss Bale represented the department at the annual May luncheon of the Bowling Green Music Club. The program was broadcast.

Students of the Music department will furnish the chapel program on Wednesday, May 17.

Design Contest Prize Is Tour

An all expense European art Study Tour under the auspices of International Study Tour Alliance will be first prize in the Cellini Compact contest of the Elgin American Division of the Illinois Watch Case Company, according to an announcement by Allen B. Gellman, president of Elgin American.

An entry, the design for a powder compact reflecting the Italian Renaissance style of Benvenuto Cellini, may be submitted by any undergraduate student, or graduate student up to 25 years of age, who is enrolled in a college or art school.

The design, which may be in any medium — tempera, water color, etc. — should be scaled to actual size. Entries are to be sent to International Study Tour Alliance, 12 East 46th street, New York, 17, N. Y., and must be postmarked before midnight May 31, 1950.

ISA has announced special student flight — from New York to London and Paris to New York, from early June to late September. Applications for these flights and for ship transportation may be sent to the above address.

Vets Guidance Staff Changed

The Veterans Guidance Center, located in the basement of the Kentucky building, reports recent changes in its training office personnel. These additions are due to enlarging some offices and doing away with others.

Mr. Charles H. Bryant, AB'38, MA'49, who has been with the local Guidance Center for the past four years has been assigned a similar position with the Veterans Administration in Lexington.

The following named personnel have been transferred to the local Guidance Center: Mr. W. D. Gill, Jr., Louisville; Mr. Jack A. McCord, Lexington; Mr. Oakley E. Lanham, Somerset. The new personnel will act as training officers. Two secretaries have also been added to the staff: Miss Naomi Bradley, Somerset, and Mrs. Jessie F. Gray, Tompkinsville.

It was erroneously reported in the last issue of the HERALD that J. H. Claggett's story, "The Lantern," appearing recently in COLLIER'S was the result of his experiences on a P-T boat in the Pacific. Mr. Claggett's story dealt with pioneer life in Kentucky.

Operetta Presented By Sixth Grade Students

By Helen Kirby Myers
"Hansel and Gretel," an operetta by Humperdink, was presented by the sixth grade of the Training School Tuesday evening May 9, at 7:30 P.M. at the Little Theater.

The operetta was under the direction of Mrs. Rogers Magee. Charles Lively was accompanist. Miss Margaret Curd, her classes and student teachers, made the third act stage settings and posters, and Mrs. Frances Dixon is the supervising teacher.

"Hansel and Gretel" was presented in three acts. The first act was set in the interior of the cottage. In the act the chorus sang the "Goose Song" and "Little Brother, Dance With Me" with a dance presented by the chorus. The second act took place in the forest. The songs presented in this act were "Little Man Standing in the Wood" by Betty Booher and Chorus; "Children's Prayer," by Angels and Chorus, Angel's Pantomime, by Angels. The third act was set in the forest with the cookie house. A beautiful and weird witch dance was presented by Beverly Vetsch. Songs were "Oh Happy Be" by the cookie children and chorus and a "Prayer" by the cast.

The performance deserves credit and praise. The children played their parts well and the entire operetta was given with perfection and color. A well-decorated stage provided an ideal background.

The cast included Henry Gammans as Hansel, Betty Booher as Gretel, Delbert Spencer as Peter, a binder of brooms, Mary Ruth Grise as Gertrude, his wife, and Beverly Vetsch as the Cookie Witch. The Sandmen were Lerond Curry and Jerry Morehead. The Cookie Children were Linda Lou Stewart, Alma Vale, Carol Kelly, Barbara Kay Anderson and Joyce Farnsworth. The angels were Carol Ann King, Sally Milliken, Wanda Sherry, Phyllis McCormack, Wanda Poteet, Caroline Craddock, Shelly Fitch and Mary Ellen Wood. The dancers Joyce Jones, Yvonne Thomas, Celest Natcher, Charles Kelly, Jimmy Hall, Lerond Curry and Barbara Johnson.

Colonist, II, Winston Churchill's gray coat, proved a staunch conservative. Running for the first time on a track with turns to the left, Colonist bore wide to the right at each curve, closed with a rush but lost.

Dye To Receive Life Saving Medal

Members of Warren Post 23 of the American Legion have voted unanimously to award a seventeen-year-old College High student a Life Saving Medal.

Presentation of the medal to Jack Dye, who was credited with saving two men from the chilled waters of Barren River on March 25, will be made in June at a Legion meeting here, Commander E. Banks said.

Dye, a recruit in the local Service Company of the National Guard, is to be awarded a governors commendation and a medal from the Adjutant-General's office at Fort Knox in August. Because he is not considered a member of the Armed Forces, he is not eligible for the Soldier's Medal.

An expert swimmer, Dye plunged into Barren River to assist David Travis and T. A. Willis, both of this city, to safety after the motor boat in which Travis and Willis were riding had capsized. A third occupant of the boat, Willard Heley, 23, was drowned.

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40 Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "rhubarb" (missions against enemy transports). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Write for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Colonel and Mrs. Basil D. Edwards announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah, to William G. Rueter, Jr., of Boston, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rueter, of Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass.

Miss Edwards was graduated from College High school and is now a senior at the University of Michigan. Mr. Rueter served with the 99th Infantry Division during World War II and is a member of the class of 1946 at Harvard university.

Miss Patsy Adams

ADAMS-BRYANT

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Adams of Rockfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Patsy to Joe Ell Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bryant of Rockfield.

The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, June 1, at the Broadway Methodist church.

Mr. Bryant attended Western and served a year in the Navy.

PUCKETT-COLE

Miss Joanne Puckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Puckett of Owensboro, and W. Frank Cole, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Cole of this city, were united in marriage at 7 o'clock Saturday night at the First Christian church in Owensboro. The Rev. R. L. Alexander, pastor, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole have gone for a short southern wedding trip, at the conclusion of which they will make their home at #15 Chestnut street.

The bride attended Western and was a member of the HERALD staff.

Mr. Cole is a senior at Western and will receive the B. S. degree in June, following which he will enter the air force as an officer and continue work toward the LL. D.

Personals

James W. Case has been promoted to corporal with the Fifth Air Force at Nagoya Air Base, Nagoya, Japan. Corporal Case attended Western before enlisting in 1948.

Norris H. Barbre, BS '43, a former member of the physics department faculty, was a visitor on the Hill this week. Mr. Barbre is now the head of the Textile Materials Engineering Laboratory Department of the Army at Philadelphia. He has thirty-five men and women under him who conduct research on textile items for the U. S. Army.

Elizabeth McChesney, BS '41, was a visitor on the Hill Wednesday.

May 10. Miss McChesney is located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. She is a member of the Headquarters Air Materiel Command, which she has been with since 1942. This division furnishes and distributes supplies for the entire Air Force.

The annual dinner for the Infantry and Air ROTC seniors was held at Archway Inn, Wednesday, May 10.

The Prop and Wing club had a party at MacFarland's, Thursday May 11.

A social will be held at Beech Bend, May 18 for all ROTC cadets. Transportation will be furnished from the Hill, but definite arrangements have not been completed.

MUSIC EDUCATORS
Paul Ferren and Mrs. Bill Rouden were the featured speakers at the annual May luncheon of the Music Educators club. The meeting was held at Manhattan Towers on Saturday, May 6. This last program of the year was attended by 50 members and guests.

CLASSICAL
A picnic held Wednesday evening was the final meeting of the F. C. G. Classical club. The picnic was held at the home of Dean and Mrs. F. C. Grise.

Guests included Miss Fannie Holland of the Training School, Mrs. Ethel Jones Moore of Bowling Green High school, and Arnold Greg, and Kathy Guesse.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
Officers for the summer semester were elected by the Arts and Crafts club at its meeting Monday night.

Officers elect: President, Veachel Rafter; vice president, Jack Craig; secretary, Raymond Fulkerson; treasurer, Kenneth Hall; sergeant-at-arms, Clyde Luttrell; historian, Earl Le Doyen; reporter, David Ransom.

Discussion was held on prizes to be given at open shop.

CONGRESS DEBATING
"RESOLVED: That the federal government should provide a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense," was the subject of a debate at the regular meeting of the Congress Debating club Tuesday night May 2 in the library.

Leonard Curry and Lewis Cravens presented the affirmative viewpoint, losing to Lewis Faulkner and George Simpson, negative.

All members are urged to be at the library Tuesday night at 7 o'clock for the election of officers.

LE CERCLE FRANCAISE

May Day was celebrated with the wearing of lilies of the valley at the last meeting of the French club Tuesday evening May 2 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Gunderson on Maryland drive.

The Gunderson children, Karen and Sonia, sang French songs for the club, which concluded the year's program with a talk by Miss Marjorie Clagett, sponsor, reviewing the year's work and looking ahead to next year.

PROF AND WING

Members of the Prop and Wing club heard Charles Bridges, manager of the Bowling Green Airport, speak on "Relation of Civilian Flying to Military Flying" Monday, May 8.

Mr. Bridges pointed out the benefits the Air Force got from the civilian in 1939-40 and how such training speeded up our pilot training during the war. He also explained that man has had a desire to fly since Adam and discussed the discovery of the air plane.

The possible flying program for advanced AROTC cadets at Western was discussed by Mr. Bridges.

WESTERN PLAYERS

Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Roberts and son, Gary, were hosts to the Western Players at a party at the Roberts home Monday evening.

Gary, II, played "Bert" in the Western Players' recent presentation of ALL MY SONS.

The Players' annual dinner-dance is scheduled for May 17th at Manhattan Towers. This will also be the last meeting of the group this year. Officers for the next year will be elected at that time.

Members are invited to bring guests and are requested to make reservations now with Joe Kimbrough.

CURRENT TOPICS

Mrs. Stierrett Cuthbertson entertained members of the Current Topic club and a group of friends at a luncheon recently at Manhattan Towers at which she presented her grandson, James V. McGoodwin of San Antonio, Texas, as guest.

Mr. McGoodwin, a former Western student, is executive vice president and general manager of the Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is regarded as an authority on the industrial development of Texas and has recently been appointed by the governor of that state as a member of the Texas Economy Commission.

Dr. Warner M. Willey, of the education department, will deliver the commencement address at the Olmstead High school tonight.

R. D. CHENOWETH, Western band leader, will lead the Western Concert to be given at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in Van Meter.

Certificates Required For Transferring Vets

The Veterans Administration has advised all veterans in training under Public Law 346 who are planning to transfer to another school to take steps to obtain supplemental certificates of eligibility at least 30 days prior to change.

The local guidance center is now handling 16 counties in this district as far as training of veterans under Public Law 16 is concerned. They included Adair, Allen, Barren, Butler, Clinton, Cumberland, Edmonson, Green, Hart, Logan, Metcalf, Monroe, Russell, Simpson, Todd, and Warren.

Campus Beauties Are Guests Of Kiwanians

Two campus beauties who will represent local colleges at the Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville two weeks hence were guests of honor yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club.

On hand to view a movie of the 1948 festival were Misses Dorothy Agnew, Owensboro, who will represent Western State College, and Charlotte Anne Roberts, Aberdeen, Miss., the Bowling Green Business University representative. Program chairman was J. T. Flowers.

Other guests at the Kiwanis meeting were the Rev. R. C. Patterson and R. L. Blaine, both of this city.

In the old days, when a fellow told a girl a naughty story, she blushed at it. Today she tells him the new version.

Census Shows About 18,100 Persons In City

Tentative census figures released today place the population of Bowling Green at 18,100, as of April 1.

Subject of revision, the total is an increase of 24.1 per cent—or 3,515 persons—over the 1940 city census of 14,585. The 1930 total was 12,348.

The announcement was made by District Supervisor Norris C. Vincent, Owensboro, who placed the incomplete county population, excluding the city, at 19,839.

The 1940 county total was 22,046, but Mrs. Ray N. Cossey, a census crew leader, explained that three districts in the county "are not nearly complete." Fourteen enumerators are still working in the county.

The incomplete total for the city and county is 37,939. This is an increase of only 1,308 over the 1940 combined total of 36,631.

The city census figures are to be edited in Owensboro and a more official total is expected to be announced within two weeks.

The city figures include out-of-town students who were rooming here while attending local schools and colleges as of April 1.

Mrs. Cossey urged anyone in the city who has not been enumerated yet to contact her immediately.

ROTC Units To Parade On Armed Forces Day

A parade will be held in Bowling Green at 2:30, May 19, Armed Forces' Day, with different organizations taking part in it, according to Major Claude MacRayen, State Adjutant General Roscoe Murray will be the principal speaker.

The parade will be led by the college band, and the Air and Ground ROTC units will march in the parade. The National Guard and American Legion will also march. All military and patriotic organizations are invited to participate.

Regularly scheduled 3 o'clock classes on May 19 will meet at 10:00. School will dismiss at 2:00 and the parade will begin at 2:30.

Summer Vets Urged

LYNN ADAMS
People going around barefooted, carrying a shotgun and a jug of moonshine, was the idea which Lynn Adams had of Kentuckians until the last year or two.

Lynn, who is a first-semester sophomore, said that people in Iowa, where she hails from originally, still have this idea and expect Kentucky to be nothing but mountains. They don't seem to realize that Kentucky has towns the same as any other state.

They have heard of the Kentucky Derby and bluegrass. Now that she's here and has a chance to really see it, Lynn has really fallen in love with our fair state. She's really crazy about the place and said that she doesn't plan to go back to Iowa.

Following graduation from high school, Lynn attended Coe college in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The following three years, she worked at a radio station in Cedar Rapids. Sometime last year, she and her family took a trip through Kentucky and liked what they saw. That led to Lynn's coming to Western in February.

An elementary education major, Lynn would like to teach the second grade after she finishes college.

A pleasing personality and a charming smile are two of her characteristics. Some think that her voice sounds like June Allyson's. Lynn is an all-around person who always seems to be happy.

Toppers Trounce Ft. Knox 16-5 As Rhodes Fans Nine

The Hilltopper baseball squad broke loose for 13 hits and 16 runs Tuesday to avenge an earlier 9-12 defeat by Fort Knox as they soundly trounced the Knoxmen 16-5.

This victory brought the Western crew's standing to five wins against four losses. Their standing in the OVC play is now 2-1, with victories over Eastern Kentucky (2-1) and Tennessee Tech (2-0) and a defeat at the hands of the Evansville Aces (5-7).

Another conference game is scheduled for this Saturday when the Diddlemen will travel to Richmond to meet Eastern in a return game. The remainder of the games on the Toppers' schedule are Ohio Valley Conference foes, Tuesday the Red and Grey nine will seek to avenge their only conference loss as they meet Evansville here.

Gene Rhodes, sophomore basketball star, is currently starring on the mound for Coach Diddle. He has won two games for the Toppers and in 17 1/3 innings he has fanned 26, granted 10 hits and only three runs.

Other moundmen deserving praise are Jim Pickens and John Bickel. Although Bickel has not been credited with a single win, his fine hurling has often kept the Toppers out of a tight jam. In the Tennessee Tech game, Pickens missed a no-hit, no-run game by only one hit, a single in the second inning of the game. He struck out 11 men, walked none, and retired the last 23 Eagles in a row. Besides all this, he batted in one of the Toppers' two runs.

Catcher Bob Bacik is probably largely responsible for the spirit of the ball club. His chatter behind the plate keeps the entire team jumping.

The Ohio Valley Conference baseball championship is decided by season play.

The Toppers close the season on May 27 with a double header against Murray on the Western diamond.

Netters Lose Only One Of 7

Western's once-beaten tennis team came back with two straight 7-0 wins against OVC opposition after dropping a hotly contested match to the Eastern Maroons, 2-5.

The Red and Grey netters defeated Marshall college at Huntington, W. Va., April 28. The Western team dropped one set in blanking the home team. The following Thursday the Toppers handed the Evansville Aces another 7-0 defeat to score their sixth win of the season. It was their fourth against Ohio Valley Conference opposition. The single loss to Eastern was a conference match.

Roger Otten, the freshman flash from Bellevue extended his string of singles victories to seven as he dropped only four games in the two matches against Evansville and Marshall.

Topper Thinlies Score Wins In Two OVC Matches

Coach Turner Elrod's trackmen gathered momentum after an early season loss to the Murray Thoroughbreds and rolled over two Ohio Valley Conference foes by easy margins before meeting Georgetown college and trouncing their first non-conference opponent.

Decisive victories over Evansville and Tennessee Tech put the Toppers ahead in OVC competition and gave them a 2-1 conference record. The opening loss to Murray is the only time the trackmen have been defeated this season.

The Thoroughbreds out-scored the Western thinlies 65-57 while promise of new records was shown by both teams. Records set last year in the 100 and the high hurdle were bettered in the meet which was moved from Murray to Bowling Green.

Western freshman Jerry Hopkins hurled the discus 132 feet 11 inches. Willis Simpson, the fleet Western sprinter who is undefeated in the 100 yard dash, went the sprint in 10.2, but later bettered that record against Evansville and Tennessee Tech. Against TPT's time was 22 seconds, tying UP's fastest ever made by a Hilltopper in competition and beating the conference record by six-tenths of a second.

Only records set at the annual OVC meet are recognized as official conference standards. Thus the records of last year must stand until broken in the OVC track meet which will be held this year on May 27 at Marshall college in Huntington, W. Va.

The Hilltoppers defeated the Tennessee Tech thinlies by 65 1/2 to 56 1/2. Against the Evansville Aces they piled up their largest margin of victory to date when they out pointed the Hoosiers 85 1/3 to 36 2/3. The margin against Georgetown was almost as great however as the Toppers handed the Tigers their worst defeat in three years and their first loss on the home field since before the war. The score was 84-43.

LAVOY ON LIU ALL-OPPONENT TEAM

The Long Island University Blackbird cagers recently picked their all-opponent team. Three men, Hal Haskins of Hamline, Sam Ranzino of North Carolina State and Bob Lavoy of Western received the top number of votes, each getting nine.

First Round Of Tennis Meet Wrapped Up

The first round of the intramural tennis tournament has been completed with 9 forfeits out of a possible 16 games.

In the top bracket (first round), three games were played:

- F. Groschelle over Coaner (6-1) (6-0)
 - B. Gover over H. Arnett (6-4) (6-2)
 - E. Gramil over J. Malton (6-0) (6-0)
- In the bottom bracket (first round), four games were played:
- D. Ward over H. Groschelle (6-2) (6-4)
 - G. Jackson over S. Short (6-2) (6-8) (6-4)
 - H. Kennedy over K. Middleton (6-4) (6-3)

In the second round of the top bracket J. Wilson defeated Groschelle (6-4) (6-3); Gover outlasted McBroom (6-4) (4-6) (6-1); and Gramil blasted T. Allensworth (6-0) (6-1).

The bottom bracket has had only one second round game. G. Crawford was victorious over B. Drake (6-3) (6-1).

COACH FRANK GRIFFIN and his Western golf team boast an undefeated record at this point in the season. Wednesday's victory over Centre college gave them three wins in as many starts. Griffin is also assistant football coach.

"The Hub Of The Hill"

By Pat Shaver

The paper last Sunday was full of news about the Kentucky Derby. They said that Middleground won the race by one-and-a-half lengths over Hill Prince. There was a picture of the winner as he crossed the finish line, with all the rest of the horses strung out behind him and the names right beside the racers. It sure did look exciting.

I attended the Derby this year and I can vouch for most of what the papers said. But I believe that some of their estimates were wrong. For example, one figure I saw for the number of people there was 100,000. That was far too low; there were at least that many people between me and the rail, so I know that there were more than 100,000.

Usually I'm not a betting man, but when Derby time rolls around, I always try to pick a winner. This year I worked scientifically, using the data from the racing form, the handicappers selections, and various tips from my friends. I came up with a horse that was sure to win the great event with ease. I knew that he could do it, because he had won the Derby Trial only a few days before. Of course, I mean Black George. For those of you who don't know how I fared, I'll tell that he came in last.

My date was smarter, however. She couldn't see any sense in betting on only one horse when she could have two chances for the price of one. Besides all of that display of logic, she was sure that On The Mark was going to win, since he was prancing when he paraded to the post. She bet on the King Ranch entry and collected. But she didn't know it until I told her. She thought that she had bet on Dooley and On The Mark. When I did tell her that she won, she said, "Now I guess you'll let me pick your horse for you from now on, won't you?" Women! !!!

As for the Derby itself, I had a fine view of the track. I was right down on the rail in the back stretch. If the rail had only been on the track instead of on a walk, I think I could have enjoyed the race much more. I was on the back stretch; way back on the back stretch, and about all I could see of the horses as they crossed the finish line was the rear end. Somehow, that wasn't how I had pictured the finish of the Derby.

There were a lot of celebrities and famous characters there too. Of course I didn't see any famous ones, but I sure did see a lot of characters. Bob Hope was there, you know. He made the presentation of the cup to the winner. I didn't get to see him, but I did see the gate he went through. I heard that he was pretty crowded all afternoon with all of the people wanting to see him. Maybe if he plans to return next year, the Downs will put up a quotation from Dante which reads "Abandon Hope, all ye who enter here." (If you think THAT stinks, you should hear some of my worse jokes.)

Yesterday for their first meeting with the Western netters. Today the Toppers will try to avenge their only loss when they meet Eastern here in a return match. Tomorrow they will meet Tennessee Tech here. Tech was defeated 5-2 in the first match.

Next week the Western team is scheduled to play Centre at Danville in the only match of the week. The following week, Coach Hornback will take his boys to Clarksville, Tenn. to meet Middle Tennessee for the second time.

The annual Ohio Valley Conference Tournament will be held at Bowling Green on May 27. Western is the defending champion.

The students on the hill, especially those in Kentucky subjects have been of great assistance in the last two years in contributing information for the permanent files of the library.

One of the most valuable of these contributions has been the inscriptions from cemeteries located in counties of Western Kentucky and family Bible records. Most of us do not realize the value of these inscriptions and Bible records, but they mean much when studying local and state history.

All these lists are typed, indexed, and permanently bound in the library. Already two volumes have been compiled, and the data recently turned in will make up another. Thanks are due every student who has assisted in this work.

James Allen White of Owensboro has presented to the library a collection of family letters written by the members of the Prentiss family of Virginia, between the years of 1836 and 1896. Among them are the letters written by James Prentiss of Lewisport, Kentucky. These were written to the editor of the Louisville Journal, between 1861 and 1867. Mr. Prentiss was a strong union enthusiast, and the letters strongly indicate this point of view. Old newspapers from various sections of the country were also included in the collection. This collection was given through the interest of Mrs. Wilfred Daniel, BS '46 and later a graduate student.

The Kentucky history class under Miss Gabrielle Robertson met in the Kentucky Library on Friday, May 5. The topic of discussion was the history of the Kentucky press.

Turn on your radio at 5:30 this afternoon and hear the broadcast originating from the Kentucky Building. The following student-assistants from the library will be heard: Mary Ruth Holt, Ida Marie Haynes, Evelyn Adams, Frances Smith, H. L. Hinton, and John Nelson.

Hole-In-One Contest Begins

A HOLE-IN-ONE contest sponsored by the intramural department opened to students and faculty Monday, May 8. It is to continue for two or three weeks. All contestants who are interested are to come to the practice field between 3 and 5 in the afternoons or between the hours of 10 and 2 on Saturday.

Signing up for the contest can be done at the gym or at the practice field.

Band Concert Set For Sunday Afternoon

Two formal programs are presented annually by the Western Concert Band. The second of these programs for this year, the Spring Concert, is to be presented at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon in Van Meter auditorium.

R. D. Chenoweth, bandleader, has announced the following program: "March Carillon," Hanson; "SYMPHONY IN Bb FOR BAND," Fauchet; "On the Quarter Deck," selected march by Alford; "Jericho," Gould; "Legend," Wagner; a "Polka" from L'AGE D'OR Schostakovich-Chenoweth.

Rifle Class Girls Win Expert Medals

Fourteen members of the girls rifle class have qualified for the expert's medal, according to Major Glenn A. Sikes. They have been firing on their own time and have completed the course.

The ones to receive the medal are Elizabeth M. Watkins, Mildred Wise, Helen J. Prather, Lois A. Faulkner, Margaret Ross, Betty Chelf, Cornelia Childress, Bettie Wilkins, Barbara Wornica, Dorothy M. White, Betty Heines, Betty Jo Wheelchel, Barbara J. Cook and W. Officer.

Pershing Rifles Attending Meet

The local Pershing Rifle unit is attending the National Fraternity Drill meet at Bloomington, Ind., today and tomorrow.

Entering the company drill are John G. Jameson, Jr., acting commanding officer; Eugene P. Tanner; Lonnie R. Taylor, Jr., platoon guide; O. E. Schow III, Edward L. Bridges, and Donald R. Butler, squad leaders; Robert R. Sours, guidon bearer; and John H. Evans, John H. Simpson, Joe C. Garman, Quinton Blyeu, James P. Mattingly, James I. Pedigo, Ormond Ferris, Norman R. House, Noel B. Maddox, William G. Ward, John N. Harris, Dickey D. Galloway, William Gourley and Kenneth B. Gordon.

Three men from this roster will be selected to enter the individual drill meet.

Jameson will command the company in the absence of Robert E. Spiller.

Also attending the meet are Honorary Captain Mary Ruth Page, company sponsor; Gene L. Sims, executive officer, and Joseph W. Allen, adjutant.

Wright Edges Blane As Topper Golfers Win

Jim Wright and Sonny Eaves fired Western's undefeated golf team to a sound 11 1/2 to 6 1/2 victory over Centre College Wednesday.

Wright dealt Centre's Andy Blane one of the very few home course losses of his college career, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2, in the feature clash of the third victory for Coach Griffin's team. Eaves scored a 3-0 shutout in his match.

It was the first time in more than two years that a Western golfer has been able to defeat Blane, who twice has won the KIAC crown.

Western compiled a 7-5 edge in the four individual matches and built the rest of its margin on a 4 1/2 to 1 1/2 decision in the two best ball matches.

structors. They recommend that steps be taken to enlarge the personnel for next year in anticipation of a large enrollment.

The oral questioning indicated a 78 per cent effective instruction in classroom. The grade curve of AROTO compared with English and Biology conformed with accepted standards, but peak A.F. curve fell in "B" with 93 out of 175 while regular academic had 43 of 172. Major Pace called one of the reasons that ROTC is voluntary. Files were maintained for training aids and use of visual aid in classroom. The inspector also commended the student records kept and the fact no delay is experienced in pay and that no cadet was paid in excess of 570 days.

KEYBOARD CONCERT

had received the equivalent of a bachelor's degree at the age of ten. When she was twelve, she won a contest for the graduate school of Julliard School of Music. At 15, she was teaching at Julliard. She later won a scholarship to the Berlin Conservatory to study voice.

Today she has enlarged upon her earlier talents until she has become internationally known for her tone and rhythm, technical mastery, musical understanding and artistic personality.

She met her husband, who is often termed "America's No. 1 living composer" at Julliard, where both were teaching. They were married in 1936. Even above their interests in music is their love for their two sons and one daughter.

Kipling wrote in his great poem, "If": "If you can walk with kings, yet keep the common touch, the world is yours." The lives of Roy and Johanna Harris are the proof of this principle. For these two, who are citizens of the world of the great, spend each day sharing their vast musical knowledge with young people who seek it. Also, Mrs. Harris freely donates her services for benefit performances. And the world is, as Kipling promised, theirs.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

William E. Bratton, senior at College High has been notified that he has won in competitive examination a $500 scholarship awarded jointly by the State Highway department and the University of Kentucky. Bratton will begin his studies at the College of Engineering of the University of Kentucky in September.

In 1950 for the first time in its 132-year history, Harvard Law School will admit women students.
