2½ Million Dollar Combined Gymnasium, Classroom Building Will Seat 10,000

Western hopes to start construction of a $2,500,000 gymnasium-classroom building next fall.

Figuring on about two years for construction, the circular brick, concrete, and steel building would be ready for use late in 1963.

Present plans call for 8,092 seats for basketball at the start, third largest in the state behind the 18,000 seat Freedom Hall in Louisville and the University of Kentucky's 12,000-seat Memorial Coliseum.

Addition of folding seats later could raise the capacity to 11,956.

Seating for concerts and stage programs would be about 10,000 with chairs on the floor level. Seats behind the spot for a portable stage would be unsuitable for auditorium purposes, although seats available for basketball would encircle the court.

President Kelly Thompson emphasized the building's role in Western's long-range planning for classroom space.

He added that it would provide for at least 30 classrooms, depending on a study of the ideal size for various rooms.

This would make it Western's third largest classroom building—behind Cherry Hall, the main classroom structure, and the Science Building now under construction.

Dr. Thompson said the building would be unique in its use of space beneath the gym seats. "We took the idea from the hole-in-the-ground type of gymnasium" he said.

"If you raise the building, you have the seating area supported by walls and rooms instead of by the ground. Some people will still walk up to their seats and some down, but we gain the space under the seats."

The building would be located on a tract of about 12 acres north of the Russellville Road and west of the school's maintenance-service building.

Western owns a major part of the tract and is in the process of acquiring the rest.

Dr. Thompson said he hopes to have final plans completed within six months.

He said financing must still be worked out. But he said 65 to 70 per cent of the cost could be financed by issuing revenue bonds. The rest would be sought as a capital-outlay appropriation for the State.

Dr. Thompson indicated he expects State approval because of the need for a larger gymnasium and the economy of combining it with classroom space.

He said two separate structures providing such facilities would be much more costly.

And he said the present gymnasium, which seats 5,000 for basketball, could be converted to provide more classrooms.

Overflow crowds became a problem years ago when coach Ed Diddle's teams were just gain-

'We'll Walk Alone' Wins For Moses

"The United States, because of errors in foreign policy, mis-use of foreign aid, and the unpopular actions of American tourists and military men abroad is being defeated and isolated in its efforts to be a good neighbor and-or create a friendly situation in the world at large." This was the idea presented by Susan Moses, Junior from Erlanger, in her winning speech, "We'll Walk Alone," at the 1961 A.A.U.W. Oratorical Contest held at Snell Hall Auditorium on January 12, 1961.

Others who competed in the contest which was won by a split decision were: Faye Wells Curran, who presented "The People—Blameless or to Be Blamed?," and Nancy Lee Baugh, who presented "Eggheads" or "Numb-skulls?."

The judges of the contest were Mrs. Duncan L. Hines, director

'The Little Show' Gives '61 Revue During Chapel

"The Little Show" 1961 style presented its new program during chapel on Wednesday, January 11, by Western Players under the direction of Mr. Russell Miller.

A trio consisting of Barbara Hardgrave, Rachel Rigsby, and Pat Lewis opened the show by singing "Two Hearts."

Emcee "Chuck" Miller had difficulty in fulfilling his duty as he was continuously being interrupted by the girls passing by.

Rachel Rigsby sang "September Song" and Patty Moats and Johnny Conn followed with a ballet burlesque number.

The play continued with "Many Tears Ago" and "Apple Green" by Toby Van Meter, "Trying" and "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy" by Lon Sosh and "Body and Soul" and "Daddy" by Sylvia Salem. A monologue was presented by Millie Wood, a character comedienne.

"Frankie and Johnnie" was sung by Mary Charles Hibbs.

The song was made more effective by a modern dance which was performed by John Conn portraying "Frankie" and Sherill Scanlon portraying Johnnie's girl friend.

After another number by Barbara Hardgrave and another by the trio, the entire cast ended "The Little Show" by singing "Side by Side."

Enrollment On College Heights No. 2 In State

Western has become the second largest state supported college in Kentucky as a result of the doubling of its enrollment within the past six years. Western pulled ahead of Eastern who formerly held the number two spot. Among all the colleges in the state, Western is in third place surpassed only by the University of Kentucky and the municipally operated University of Louisville.

The University of Kentucky leads with an enrollment of 8,873 students followed by Western's 3,599. Western's enrollment is better by 148 students than Eastern's total of 3,451.

The enrollment has increased by almost 96 per cent or 1,789 pupils since 1,810 students were counted during the full semester of the 1954-55 school year.

The enrollment is an all time high for Western topping the 2,917 students registered in 1959-60.

Curtain Going Down....

"Sleep, that knits up the ravell'd sleeve of care..." will bring many frightening thoughts when you awaken tomorrow and find it is too late to study for the finals. The time to study is now, and yet, it is too late for some.

To those who have a faint heart when it comes to studying, it should be pointed out that the surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed. Only through hard work and perseverance can one ever hope to attain success, and success in the mind's eye can only be brought about by the critical evaluation of one's work — Is there a better way to do this? Have I done the best job possible? How may I apply what I have learned?

We should begin a careful review and a persevering study of our courses immediately. When we become discouraged by overshadowing low test grades, we should follow Burke's advice, "Never despair but; if you do, work on in despair." If we have the determination to succeed, the will to work, and the strength to say "no" to the follies of life, then we will achieve our goal.

Almost everyone has his own particular study habits. The psychologists tell us to use the S-Q-3R method, our rebellious intellect tells us to use another method, and our carefree habits urge us to wait until tomorrow. To wait until tomorrow would be disastrous. We should discipline ourselves to facing this task at hand — the preparation for the final exams.

We can overcome our fighting thoughts by accomplishing this assignment through increased concentration and persistent study. In order to triumph over the final exams we should have "the nerve that never relaxes, the eye that never blinks, the thought that never wanders — these are the masters of victory."

Curtain Going Up!

By Bonnie Lyle

What does the New Year mean to you? Resolutions? Hardly. New Year's Eve party? Maybe. Strong hope and firm resolve to study harder? I doubt it. To most of us the new year is a chance, not a challenge. A chance to shuck off past responsibilities, courses, bad grades and bitter experiences. Leaving us looking forward to more responsibilities, more courses, more bad grades and sad experiences. Sound pessimistic? Stop and think about it. Do you each New Year's eve stop and clean the slate of the past year? What's more, what would it amount to if you did? Would it stay clean or pretty soon look as before? It doesn't have to. You can make the New Years work for you, instead of against you. Examine yourself — you're not wearing short pants any more — you're in college. What do you want out of life and how are you going to get it? Have you really thought about this? Give yourself a chance. You can do it if you want to. Second semester hasn't started yet. Consider it your new year. Consider it a challenge and laugh at it when you face it and defeat it.

Book Marks

By Bill Smith

One thing we Americans have always dreamed to have in common is our enjoyment of hobbies. Today, practically everyone has a hobby. Our hobbies cover everything from stamp collecting to snake-hunting. The reasons most people have hobbies are relaxation and the personal improvement they derive from them.

Many people think that hobbies are only for persons who have nothing else to do. This is not so. Many of the busiest people in the world are actively engaged in some hobby. Men such as President Eisenhower and Winston Churchill have for many years maintained hobbies outside their grueling work schedules.

One hobby enjoyed by millions of people is reading. The number of books sold in this country each year and the membership of the numerous book clubs in this country are proof of the great interest we have in reading. Reading is the hobby of millions of Americans because it is a hobby that is inexpensive and has no limit to the time that can be devoted to it. Another reason for its popularity is its range. No matter what a person's interest might be, he can find reading material about that subject.

Reading as a hobby can be organized in one of several ways. One way is to pick your favorite author and then his complete works. Another way is to choose any topic then read as many books as you want on it. Perhaps the most commonly used method is to read whatever strikes your fancy.

If you are one of those persons who has always wanted a hobby but could never find anything that interested you, how about trying reading. I am sure you won't be disappointed.

For over a thousand years biography has held a place of varying importance in the annals of English Literature. It is natural that this should be because the biography as a literary form, satisfies many inherent promptings of man, the most important of which is the instinct of curiosity. Men have always been fascinated by the lives of those who have appealed to their imagination. It

Church of Christ

Western students attending the Wednesday evening class at the West End Church of Christ have been invited by members of that congregation to participate in a home-away-from-home program. Under this plan each student attending the class is invited by one of the homes in the congregation to make that home his while in Bowling Green. He is welcome here with his friends, his problem and his joys. Members of the church report that the students have received the program enthusiastically, and students, have expressed admiration and appreciation for the hospitality.

This same class has been invited to participate in the recording of a weekly gospel broadcast called Christ For The World, which the West End Church, with the cooperation of other Kentucky Churches of Christ, offers to radio listeners in Central Ontario Canada. The group of students will form the nucleus of a singing group to provide the choral, a cappella music for this religious broadcast. The minister of the West End Church, L. Wesley Jones, is the regular speaker on this Canadian series.

Due to the conflicting schedule Noonday Devotions will not meet during the week of final exams. Devotions will resume February 6, in Little Theater at 12:30 p.m. First Christian

HILLTOPICS

By JIM SKAGGS

"The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft agley..." shades of Robert Burns, seldom so applicable as to college students when that New Year's resolution has been made to "buckle down" and improve those slipping, sliding grades, but the "gang" or John or "Twilight Zone" always seem to interfere. Is this going to be a happy new year for each Westerner, or, will it record the same errors and mistakes of the past year? The choice is, of course, an individual one, nonetheless serious. Once our "best laid plans" have been formulated, let us endeavor to keep them.

Hilltopic

As Western begins its two-year self study here on College Heights, seeking to evaluate and measure the efficiency and effectiveness of each phase of this institution, it is only fitting that each Westerner conduct his own "self study." The evaluation must be individual, and it must be honestly and accurately done to achieve any lasting results. Yet, if each individual would just mirror himself, and strive to see himself as others, view him, this suggested self study would truly be a success. In the words of the Roman emperor-Stoic philosopher, Marcus Aurelius, "Look within..."

VOICES, the semi-annual publication of Western Writers, is now on sale in Cherry Hall, or a copy can be secured from any member of the Western Writers. The magazine has a complete new look this year, and many hours of painstaking labor have gone into its completion and publication. Why not buy one and find out what this campus literary organization has accomplished!

Hilltopic

At the end of a news story, the reporter usually writes a plain, simple -30. The time has arrived when the present Herald staff is leaving, and each semester-old position will be occupied by a new journalism student. I wish to thank each member of the staff for his individual contribution to the Herald; and, for service "above the rim," a special thanks to each of the editors and business manager for a job well done. And so, to the "old gang".....-30.

IBM Eases 'Aches And Pains' Of Pre-Registration

Today Western upperclassmen are completing their first pre-registration under the IBM registration system. This system greatly simplified and speeded up the registration process for the students.

Seniors and graduate students registered on Monday, January 9, while sophomores and juniors registered from Tuesday, January 10, through Thursday, January 12. They registered according to the alphabet with the first group being O through Z, registering on the 10th. The second group of G through N registered on the 11th and the third group of A through F on the 12th.

Students picked up their registration packets in the basement of Cherry Hall from 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on the date designated for their registration. Registration was from 3:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. of each day. After receiving instructor's signatures an advisor's approval the packets were returned to the Registrar's Office and the students then proceeded to complete the registration by payment of fees at the business office.

Registration of freshman and transfer students begins with an orientation meeting of all beginning freshmen and transfer students at Van Meter Auditorium on Tuesday, January 31, 1:00 p.m.

Actual registration will begin at 8:00 a.m., Wednesday, February

Debate Club Gives Chapel Program

The Congress Debate club supplied the Chapel program on January 18. Pictured above are the members who participated in the debatable topic of the "Revision of the Electoral College."

Affirmative speakers were Bill Rudloff, senior from Farmington, Missouri, and Jerry C. Traylor of Bowling Green. The negative side was made up of Dean Popplewell, Jamestown, and Jackie Smith of Lebanon. The moderator was Richard G. Anderson of Elkton. Dr. William M. Jenkins, is the Club's sponsor.

Judy Watson Is New SNEA President

Installation of three new officers highlighted the January meeting of the Student National Education Association last night. Judy Watson was installed as president and Geraldine Slaughter and Mrs. Anna Coke were installed as publicity officers. The outgoing officers — Sara Lyle, president and Mrs. Nell Bradford, director of publicity — administered the installation of the new officers.

Jim Skaggs acted as moderator of a panel which reported on the "Recent legislation for the Improvement of Education in Kentucky." The group discussed the advantages and improvements brought about by the latest state legislation. Composing the panel Mrs. Ellen Martin, Jim Nelson, Robert Thurman, Marjorie Miller, and Mrs. Betty Sue Norene, who acted as chairman of the committee.

Dr. Gordon Wilson Speaks To Lions Club

Dr. Gordon Wilson, retired English Department head, was the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club held at the Helm Hotel on January 3. He told the Club members to look to the present rather than to future history.

"Whether 1961 is destined to be one of the great dates of history is immaterial: it is ours to experience, ours to cherish, ours to neglect, ours to set among the great days of individual calendars," Dr. Wilson said.

Western Student Attends National 4-H Congress

Charlene Richards, sophomore home economics major, from Richlandville was one of 30 Kentucky 4-H members attending the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago recently. Miss Richards, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards, made the trip as state champion in girls home economics projects. The champions were chosen from written records submitted by district winners. Miss Richards had food and Junior leadership records in the state competition and won the trip on her work in all projects.

Miss Richards' leadership activities are not confined to her community. She was elected president of the county 4-H organization for a second year. She has helped county project champions prepare records for district competition and care for a cabin of younger girls at 4-H camp for the past three years. Last year she was awarded the gold medal at camp for outstanding leadership and participation.

Miss Richards' major project work has been in foods and clothing. In foods she has won county and district championships in her bread making demonstrations. She has won the style review and has been county clothing champion. Last year Miss Richards was recipient of the Courier Journal district achievement award, adding to her many ribbons, medals, and certificates.

Tours were taken to points of interest in Chicago such as the Museum of Natural History. Miss Richards made slides to help record her experiences and is available to give talks about her trip to 4-H, civic, and other organizations.

Helen Henry Receives New Post

Miss Helen G. Henry, B.S. '46, has been appointed to the newly-created post of director of news services for the Kentucky Department of Public Information.

Miss Henry is the editor of Louisville Magazine and director of publications for the Louisville Chamber of Commerce.

She will direct the department's supply of information to the public through the press, radio, television and other news media, and will assist the commissioner in coordinating the work of the department with the news functions of other departments and agencies of state government.

Miss Henry's appointment, effective Jan. 15 is the first major staff appointment of the new commissioner, Cattie Lou Miller, who joined the governor's cabinet last week as head of the newly-named Department of Public Information, formerly the Department of Public Relations.

Miss Henry, 35, has headed the Louisville Chamber's Publications Division and edited its official monthly publication, Louisville Magazine, for seven years. During that time, the magazine has won 18 national awards.

A native of Central City, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Broadus Henry. She is a graduate of Central City High School, and after receiving her B.S. from Western, went to the University of Kentucky and received the A.B.J. degree in journalism in 1948.

Assistantships Offered To Graduates

The fall semester of 1960 saw Western progress in the educational field with the institution of graduate assistantships at the College.

Departments now participating in the program are: English, foreign language, biology, chemistry, physics, industrial arts, and physical education.

Western is the only state college in Kentucky having a program of this type in which a student often receiving a degree enrolls in graduate study and at the same time participates in the program of instruction at the college.

The program has a two-fold purpose in that it brings forth a master high school teacher of the specific subject matter and also prepares the individual for graduate school.

Graduating seniors who might be interested should contact the heads of their respective departments for further information.

Western Grad Elected To New Position

Mr. Eddie W. Belcher, a Western graduate in 1932 and 1936, was recently elected to the position of Assistant Superintendent of Schools in charge of Instruction, Louisville City Schools.

He was formerly Director of Louisville City Schools and for a number of years has been professor of education at the University of Louisville.

He is presently the state President of Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, and presided at the state meeting of the group which recently met at Cumberland Falls State Park.

Prior to his election as state A. S. C. D. president, he held a four year term of office as a member of the National Board of Directors of A. S. C. D. (1956-1958 and 1958-1960), Chairman of Region 7, which includes twelve southern states.

Mr. Belcher's daughter, Mrs. Beverly Belcher Ritchie, was graduated from Western with honors, June 1960, as an Elementary Education major. Her husband, Mr. Robert Ritchie, also a June 1960, graduate is now a student in the law school at University of Tennessee. Mrs. Ritchie is a third grade teacher in the Knox County Schools.

While a student at Western, Mrs. Ritchie was, in 1958 and 1959, State President of Student National Education Association, one of Western's largest student organizations, which has a membership this year of 434.

The fall meeting of Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, at which Mr. Belcher presided, met jointly with the Kentucky Association of Educational Supervision. Miss Golda Pensol, Instructional Supervisor in the Barren County Schools, is president of the group, and the coordinated program was planned by Mr. Belcher and Miss Pensol.

Faculty Member Sells "Structure" Short Story

Mr. Philip Buchanan, an instructor in the English department, recently sold a short story to the literary magazine Structure. The story deals with imagery and "bears down pretty hard on Freudian symbolism." The theme, according to Mr. Buchanan, "deals with the fact that a person is the sum total of all the moments he has lived and, at given times or points in his life, this past sum total will account for an act, which in turn, becomes a part of the sum and will give rise to, and furnish an explanation for, future acts."

Structure, which is published bi-monthly in Memphis, is slated to print the story in the near future.

Mr. Buchanan is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. While there he won first place in a poetry contest for college students in Era magazine. He received his Master's degree from the University of Virginia and, after teaching in a private school in that state for four years, joined the Western English staff this past September.

Much to my surprise, I found out last Thursday that well over 100 Western students desire to cause a "strike". For a non-bowler, these words were indeed hard to digest. But after several hours at the Crescent Bowling Alley, my feeble brain began to comprehend the meaning of the word.

As well might be imagined, to write a story about a subject one knows nothing about is almost impossible. And I must admit that it was rather discouraging to hear the repetition of the clause, "It's hard to understand," which was remarked by several connoisseurs of the bowling game after they tried to explain various points of the sport. But eventually, such terminology as spare, frame, and hand-do you have to be tired about," inquired my friend? "Too much mental activity friend, too much mental activity."

A freshman business administration major here is slated to sing on Ted Mack's Original Hour in the near future. Monte Robinson from Madisonville is the singing lad. He is a member of The Four Teens, which also consists of two young men Jack Henry and Baile Carlisle from Murray State, and another gentleman, Willey Brown, a senior at Madisonville High.

The quartette received its big break after performing in a talent contest during the Mid-South State Fair in Memphis, sometime back. For ranking in the top six out of 120 acts, the singing group was icap assimilated itself into my vocabulary.

And now for the facts. Every Thursday at 4-15, Western's 24 bowling teams compete for top spot on the score card. Two divisions were created which consist of 18 men and 6 women teams.

Actually, the sport of bowling is incorporated into Western's intramural program which is directed by Coach Griffen Mike Stewart, secretary and treasurer of the bowling association, initiated the program at the beginning of this semester. When asked how to join a team, Mike said, "to contact a member of one of the teams and maybe there are some spots which have been vacated. As all the alleys are filled, it is impossible to start any new teams," he said.

One bowler found time to comment, "I think you have to experiment till you find the right style. If you look at the bowlers (which I had yet to do) you will notice that not one of them bowls alike."

She continued by stating, "I am bowling around 70 this game. You have to bowl a lot to get a stable score." She has ranked as high as 130. She told me that she had not found her optimum style.

At the close of the final game, "I'm so very tired," was said by more than one sportsman. Once I replied, "I am too." "But what

The Four Teens have sung in Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, and Illinois, and have performed on both radio and television. As the group has only been vocalizing together for two years, they seem to have accumulated a sizeable backlog of show business experiences, which certainly will help add polish to their perform-

Texas Traveler Journeys 800 Miles For Grand Total Of Forty-Seven Cents

A sophomore student here at Western has more than the average amount of luck. In fact, Joe Burgess, a College Heights Herald reporter, had unbelievable luck in hitch-hiking to Dallas, Texas for Christmas. He made the 800 mile trip in twenty-two hours and at a cost of forty-seven cents.

Joe gave this account of the trip: "After getting out of classes on Friday I went to my grandparents' home at Cromwell to spend the night before I started. On Saturday morning, because they wanted me to take a bus, I was standing on the road waiting for it when a man stopped, picked me up and took me to Morgantown. There I caught a ride to Bowling Green. The hardest part of the trip took place here, for I had to walk from the campus to the By-pass.

A Mr. Bradford, a stock-broker from Nashville, picked me up there and we started for Nashville. About six miles out of Bowling Green, I missed one of my gloves. He asked me if I had it when I was standing where he picked me up. I told him that I did and he immediately turned around and drove back to Bowling Green to find my lost glove. When we arrived in Nashville he took me to lunch. It was there that we discovered that I worked once for a man that he went to school with. He paid for the lunch. After going several miles out of his way to do so, he left me on the Memphis Pike. The only trouble was that it was about a mile short of an intersection where I should have been. Another ride eliminated that problem.

At the intersection a small foreign economy car stopped to pick me up. I don't know where they would have put me. There were five people in the car and a mountain of Christmas gifts. I declined the ride and shortly a fellow from Waverly, Tennessee, picked me up and took me to there. It was beginning to get dark while I was trying to catch a ride there, and I was beginning to toy with the bleak idea of spending the night standing on the road in the cold. It was then a brand-new Mercedes-Benz stopped. I jumped in and the driver asked me where I was going. I replied, 'Dallas,' and he told me he was going to Austin, Texas. You know, you have to go through Dallas to go to Austin?"

"We stopped on the road for supper, which he paid for and I didn't argue about. At West Memphis, Arkansas, he asked me to drive for a while. I had been behind the wheel for about a half-mile when a cop stopped us. Fortunately, he was just checking licenses. We took turns driving on to Dallas where we arrived at 8:30 Sunday morning. I got out at Loop 12, three miles south from home."

"The first car I thumbed on Loop 12 was a fireman going to work. He took me to my house. How's that?"

"Oh yes, the forty-seven cents was for a snack at a truck stop in Arkansas early Sunday morning. Gee, I had to spend some money. I don't want people to think I'm chincy."

Some people are just lucky.

Oldest Grad Living Got 'B.S.' In 1888

How many people can remember the status of Western as far back as 1888? Dr. H. E. Thompson of McPherson, Kansas, can. As a matter of fact, that is the year that he graduated from Bowling Green Normal School. Dr. Thompson, now 96 years of age, holds the distinction of being the oldest living alumnus of Western.

Dr. Thompson recalls that when he entered school here in August, 1882 his room cost him $1.50 per week and his board costs were $1.40 per week. At this time, the penmanship instructor was a man by the name of Henry H. Cherry, who later served as President of Western for many years.

Being the oldest living alumnus of Western is not the only distinction held by Dr. Thompson. He is also the last surviving member of the first faculty at Oklahoma A. & M. College. He taught there in 1893-94. His diploma from the Southern Normal School has been placed in the Library of Oklahoma A & M. College.

Dr. Thompson is originally from Catawba, Kentucky, and taught for a time in the Pendleton County school system. He now resides in McPherson, Kansas, where he is a chiropractor.

In A Pawn Shop, On A Corner ---Not Pittsburgh, But Louisville!

By Bernard Madison
Western students may have not worked at jobs directly related to their planned vocations during the Christmas holidays, but at least several picked very interesting forms of employment.

Among those interesting forms of employment were clerks, postmen, Christmas tree salesmen, and warehousemen. The clerks were probably the most numerous among these groups. They varied from a clerk in a pawn shop to the department store type.

Probably the most unique of all the jobs was the position in a pawn shop held by Danny Katz, a sophomore from Louisville. Danny relates that suddenly one day a man rushed into the shop and said that he wanted to purchase a gun. He then related that his wife had just purchased a firearm and he was afraid of her intentions, so he was taking defensive measures. Danny's major is pre-pharmacy. Clerking in a department store might prove to be boring, but this was not the case at the National Stores in Glasgow during Christmas. The staff of this particular store was arrayed with college students, the larger contribution coming from Western. One Western student, Judy Montgomery, a freshman from Glasgow, added some color while the floor manager pushed her down the floor in a baggage cart. This adventure soon ended when Judy fell out and injured her ankle. Judy's major is English.

Another Western student, also employed at the National Stores in Glasgow sold one customer a one hundred and fifty dollar bill of long underwear.

Other interesting positions were Karl Wies's sales of Christmas trees, Lloyd May's position in an A & P warehouse, and Bill Hyatt's and Ralph Huffman's post office employment. Karl, a senior from Glasgow, whose major is industrial arts, sold twelve hundred trees. Maybe he should take up salesmanship. Lloyd, a math major from Louisville, spent the holidays hooking beef and carrying bananas, while Bill, a junior from Erlanger, and Ralph, a senior from Glasgow, were busy seeing that Santa received all the requests from his many worshippers.

ance during the night of their national debut.

Despite the fact that two of the Four Teen's are students of our rival Murray State, when the definite date is set for their performance, I will report it, in hopes that every student at Western will make it a point to be a viewer of the program. Incidentally, Gary Roberts, Western's field representative, might be able to recruit senior high school student, Willey, into the Western student body. Then the tab would stand two and two!

If you have not read the story about how Joe Burgess went to Dallas, Texas, during the Christmas holidays on 47 cents, please do. It's very amusing!

zle, a story of a Model-T Ford, he was in the process of publishing another novel, Scarlet Town.

He married the former Marian Graham Maxwell of Augusta, Ga., in December, 1945.

Dr. Grise served as first chairman of the official board of the new Hillsdale Methodist church at Clarksville, where he taught Sunday school classes for six years.

Dr. Grise had been president of the Tennessee Folklore Society and was a member of the Kentucky Folklore Society. For several years, his radio program "Tall Tales," was broadcast on WSM, Nashville. He was also a folk singer and guitarplayer.

Tennessee officers said the Grise automobile topped a hill and smashed under the truck bed, crushing the teacher's skull. He was returning to Clarksville from Augusta, where he had taken his wife and their two children, Christopher and Mary Edith, to visit her parents.

Former Westerner Miller Presents Song Recital

By Ohm Pauli

The Kiwanis Club of Bowling Green presented William R. Miller, AB '54—and now of Hollywood, California, in a song recital, Tuesday evening, January 3 in Van Meter Auditorium.

As a student at Western, Miller can be remembered for possessing a good bass voice and a fine flair for acting. Now, after several years of conscientious study in Southern California with some of the best instructors in the field, he is beginning to emerge as one of the really promising young singer-actors of our day.

The recital opened with the Four Scriptural Songs of Brahms, followed by a group consisting of Schumann, audience heard a group of arias from Mozart, Verdi, and Gounod operas. Of these, Verdi's "Infelice! e tu credevi" from Ernani was particularly pleasing. The "Non, piu andrai" from Mozart's Marriage of Figaro suffered from a somewhat awkward English translation.

The final group of songs included the beautiful Roger Quilter composition "The Jealous Lover," "Shenandoah," "They Call the Wind Maria" from Paint Your Wagon, and "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top" from Oklahoma.

Enthusiastic applause by the audience brought Mr. Miller and his accompanist, Clarisse Miller, AB '52 back for four encores. Among these were "Shadrack" "Old Man River," and Mussorgsky's "The Flea."

Mr. Miller's bass-baritone voice is of huge proportions, yet he has reviewer was particularly impressed by the beauty and control of his high, soft singing. All in all, he has the equipment and poise to go far in the highly competitive field of opera, concert, and oratorio singing.

Miss Ruth Hines Temple, head of the Department of Art, attended a recent seminar at the Detroit Institute of Arts in connection with the exhibition "Masterpieces of Flemish Art, Van Eyck to Bosch."

The three-day seminar Miss Temple attended was designed to offer further opportunity for discussion and study of Flanders in the fifteenth century. Seven specialists from the United States and Europe discussed selected problems in the field of Flemish art.

The exhibition, which was of world-wide import, presented the whole ensemble of Flemish art, tapestries, goldsmiths work, and illuminated manuscripts.

It consisted of more than 200 world-famous works of art from the museums and churches of Belgium, and from American private and public collections.

The exhibition was the result of five years of planning by the Belgium city of Bruges and the Detroit Institute of Arts, and was the first great loan exhibition arranged between two nations on either side of the Atlantic for showing in Europe and in the United States.

Drawn from half a hundred and Cathedral treasures in this country and in Belgium, the exhibition indicated the importance of the culture of Flanders that was centered chiefly in Bruges, Ghent, and Brussels in the fifteenth century.

Miss Temple attended all sessions of the seminar.

Dr. Mary I. Cole, of the Education Department, recently represented Western at the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. At the meeting the following Western graduates held prominent participation roles in the three day meeting.

Mr. W. Willard Cockrill, of the Geography department, and Dr. William M. Jenkins, of the Political Science department, are conducting a religious survey of Bowling Green, Kentucky. The survey is designed to locate the number of churches in Bowling Green and the number of denominations represented. To date the survey shows the exact location of 63 churches representing 15 denominations.

Dr. John Scarborough, member of the Education Department, spoke to the college group, of the M. Y. F. at the State Street Methodist Church on January 8.

"Five Days" Is Player's Production

"Five Days," written by Hen-Siria, was the studio production presented at the regular meeting of the Western Players held at Van Meter Auditorium on January 11, 1961.

Those in the cast of this symbolic war drama of a five day march from a battle front to a prison camp were: Al Young, Larry Siria, "Chuek" Miller, Jon Ford, John Conn, Bill Brooker, Bill Wortham, and Sandy Ston. The technical staff was made up of Linda Penick, Ann Downing, Judy Criswell, "Torchy" Gray, Ann Pile, John O'Daniel, and Kay Anderson.

Mr. Russell H. Miller, director of the Players, announced that the two major productions for next semester will be presented, respectively, in the third week of March and in the first week of May, and that first studio production, to be presented on February 15, will be a special show produced by Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatics fraternity.

The production will be "Homecoming," a modern Chinese play. Written by Lo Yen Chow and directed by Jane Pfingston, it will be an experiment in modern theatre and may possibly be the first time that it has been presented. The Science department is writing a special commentary to be presented with the play.

Charlie Fleener, junior from Louisville, was introduced as the new chairman of the Players. He is succeeding John Minton who is graduating at the end of this semester.

The new candidates for Alpha Psi Omega were announced by Marla Brandon. They were Chester Day, Cub Run; Ed Hocker; Bowling Green, Judy Criswell, Jackson, Mississippi, and Pat Patterson, LaGrange.

Toppers Maroon Eastern's Maroons To Tune Of 88-76 Before 5,000

The packed house of 5,000 fans, who turned out for the all important OVC clash between arch rivals Western and Eastern, were rewarded with an exciting forty minutes of basketball, with Western winning 88-76.

Western dominated play in the first half, "the best half any Western team has ever played," said an elated coach Ed Diddle whose team went to the intermission with a 44-28 lead.

Eastern fought back in the second half and outscored the Toppers 48-44 and several times had them on the brink of defeat.

It was a far cry from last year's game when Eastern suddenly quit after 13 1/2 minutes and forfeited a 38-20 victory to Western.

Hilltoppers Win 82-72 Over Eagles

Charlie Osborne scored 22 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to put the Hilltoppers in the Ohio Valley Conference driver's seat with a hard fought 83-77 victory over Morehead State College.

The win gave Coach Ed Diddle's Hilltoppers a 3-0 mark atop the league standings and a 6-1 reading overall. Morehead suffered its first setback in three conference starts and its second loss in seven season games.

Western was red hot from the field, hitting 34 of 70 shots for a 48.6 per cent average. Osborne fired in seven of 14, Harry Todd eight of 17, Bobby Rascoe seven of 12, and Panny Sarakatsannis eight of 11.

The game was extremely close during the first five minutes of play. Western went on a hot streak midway through the quarter and opened a 22-10 lead with 11:10 remaining in the first half.

During the spree, the Hilltoppers went from a 10-9 deficit to a 12-point lead, the biggest of the game.

After the lead changed hands several times until the Hilltoppers went ahead to stay a 52-50 on Osborne's 25-foot jump shot with 10 minutes left in the game. Morehead pulled within a single point several times after that, but the Eagles, couldn't muster enough steam to pass the Hilltoppers.

Besides Osborne, Todd scored 19, Rascoe 16, and Sarkatsannis 17 points.

Toppers Lead OVC Conference 'Statistically'

A comparison of this season's Ohio Valley Conference basketball statistics with final figures for last season shows a number of striking similarities.

Almost without exception, the top returnee in each of the statistical departments is prominent in the 1960-1961 figures.

Western Kentucky's Charlie Osborne whose percentage is tops in field goal accuracy, also led that division last season with a 51.2 mark.

Western Kentucky remains atop the loop standings this season with a 4-0 mark in conference play. The Hilltoppers fell from the unbeaten ranks when Louisville downed them 86-71 in the championship game of the Bluegrass Tournament at Louisville. The Toppers, however, downed the nation's fourteenth ranked team, Utah State, 82-76, on opening night. Western Kentucky landed two men on the all-tournament five—Charlie Osborne and Bobby Rascoe.

Western players are outstanding this season in O. V. C. statistics. Charlie Osborne is third in the conference in scoring, Bobby Rascoe is seventh, Bobby Jackson is fifteenth, Panny Sarakatsannis is seventeenth, and Harry Todd is twentieth. In rebounding, Osborne ranks fourth, and Jackson holds eighth place.

In field goal accuracy, the Toppers really shine. Osborne is first, Rascoe is second, and Sarakatsannis is third.

In free throw accuracy, Osborne ranks third in the O.V.C., Rascoe holds seventh place, and Jackson ranks ninth.

Abandoning their patented offense which features pivot play in the first half, the Hilltoppers used big-scoring center Charley Osborne as a decoy and feeder and slit through the heart of the Eastern defense on drives to pump in jump shots and layups.

When Eastern four times cut its 16-point halftime deficit to two points in the last period on the furious play of guard Phil Estep, Diddle gave the "Go!" signal to Osborne and the 6-5 senior whipped in eight points in the final 5 1/2 minutes.

All five Hilltopper starters were in double figures. Bobby Rascoe pumped 23, Osborne 22, sophomore Bobby Jackson 17, Harry Todd 13 and Panny Sarakatsannis 11.

In that marvelous first half, the Hilltoppers sank 16 field goals in 36 attempts, converted 12 of 19 free throws, out-rebounded the Maroons 30-20 and committed just three ball-losing errors. No single phase was outstanding, but lumped all together and adding the defense to it, it was a whale of a half.

"Considering the opposition, it was just the greatest half any Western team ever played," said Diddle. Nobody started any arguments with him.

With Estep driving at a frantic pace no Hilltopper could con-

Hilltoppers Down Eagles By 88-75

Charlie Osborne and Bobby Rascoe scored 24 points each to lead the Hilltoppers to an 88-75 victory over Tennessee Tech last Tuesday night in the Western gym.

By winning, Western tightened its hold on first place in the Ohio Valley Conference standings. The Hilltoppers are unbeaten in seven conference games and have an overall record of eleven wins against only two losses.

Tech never led but tied the Toppers once. At half time the "Big Red" held a comfortable 49-39 advantage.

Six-eight Harry Todd crammed in two baskets at the start of the second half to put Western ahead by 16 points. Tech then stormed back on the fine shooting of Don Gorin to cut the lead to ten points.

The Toppers gained an 81-67 advantage with only 3 minutes left, and it was all over but the shouting.

Backing up Osborne and Rascoe was Todd with 12 points and 18 big rebounds. Sophomore Bob Jackson collected 13 points and 12 rebounds.

Western now has a two-season victory stretch of 14 games in loop play, a new high for any OVC team.

tain, the Maroons slashed Western lead to two points at 64-62, 66-64, 72-70, and 74-72.

At this point sophomore Bobby Jackson became a tower of strength for the Hilltoppers, bagging two field goals and two free throws, blocking two of Carl Cole shots and collaborating for two steals in the final moments.

The victory was number 722 for Coach Diddle and surely was as satisfying as any previous one. Western's OVC record is now 4-0, while Eastern is even at 1-1.

Western Five Beats Murray In OVC Thriller

Sophomore Bobby Jackson dropped in two free throws with six seconds remaining to give the Western Hilltoppers a two point win over the Thorobreds of Murray.

Western led virtually all the way, by 43-40 at the half time, and appeared to have the game socked with a 75-66 bulge with only 2:46 remaining, when the Racers came running.

Hal Wilkins was the boy who led the late Murray surge by pouring in the Racers' last nine points, and it was his basket and a free throw that tied the score 77 all with just nine seconds remaining on the clock.

Then Jackson was fouled and made his first shot. This entitled him to the bonus which he also made. With only six seconds left, the Toppers held the slim two-point margin against a last minute "desperation" effort.

Jackson wound up with 13 points but had to yield scoring honors for his team to Charlie Osborne, who pitched in 25. Rascoe tabbed 16 before fouling out with 7:20 remaining. Harry Todd added 14 points to round out the Topper men in double figures.

Frosh Down Itawamba Jr. College 82-72

Western freshman cagers led by 6-3 guard Darrel Carrier downed a good Itawamba Junior College team, 82-72.

The driving, jump shooting Carrier had his biggest day, belting 42 points to lead all scorers. The Bristow High star who averaged 32 points a game in high school is now with the freshman team averaging 32 again.

Carrier connected on 18 field goals in 28 attempts and sank six of seven free throws.

The victory was the second in four games for the frosh. Carrier has bagged 128 points in the four starts.

HOW SMALL CAN YOU GET?

Today let us address ourselves to a question that has long rocked and roiled the academic world: Is a student better off at a small college than at a large college?

To answer this question it is necessary first to define terms. What, exactly, do we mean by a small college? Well sir, some say that in order to be called truly small, a college should have an enrollment of not more than four students.

I certainly have no quarrel with this statement, a four-student college must unquestionably be called small. Indeed, one could even call it intimate if one knew what intimate meant. But I submit there is such a thing as being too small. Take, for instance, a recent unfortunate occurrence at Crimscott A and M.

Crimscott A and M, situated in a pleasant valley nestled between Denver and Baltimore, was founded by A. and M. Crimscott, two brothers who left Ireland in 1706 to escape the potato famine of 1841. As a result of their foresight, the Crimscott brothers never went without potatoes for one single day of their lives—and mighty grateful they were! One night, full of gratitude after a hearty meal of French fries, cottage fries, hash browns, and au gratin, they decided to show their appreciation to this bountiful land of potatoes by endowing a college. They stipulated that enrollment should never exceed four students because they felt that only by keeping the college this small could each student be assured of the personalized attention, the camaraderie, the feeling of belonging, that is all too often lacking in higher education.

Well sir, things went along swimmingly until one Saturday a few years ago. On this day Crimscott had a football game scheduled against Minnesota, its traditional rival. Football was, of course, something of a problem at Crimscott, what with only four students enrolled by the entire college. It was easy enough to muster a backfield, but finding a good line—or even a bad line—baffled the most resourceful coaching minds in the country.

Well sir, on the morning of the big game against Minnesota, its traditional rival, a capricious destiny dealt Crimscott a cruel blow—in fact, four cruel blows. Sigafos, the quarterback, woke up that morning with the breakbone fever. Wriehards, the slotback, was unable to start his motorcycle. Beerholm-Tree, the wingback-tailback, got his necktie caught in his espresso machine. Langerhans, the fullback, was stolen by gypsies.

Consequently, alas, none of the Crimscott team showed up at the game, and Minnesota, its traditional rival, was able to score almost at will. Crimscott was so out of sorts that they immediately broke off football relations with Minnesota, its traditional rival. This later became known as the Dred Scott Decision.

So you can see how only four students might be too small an enrollment. The number I personally favor is twenty. How come? Because when you have twenty students and one of them opens a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes, there are enough to go around for everybody, and no one has to be deprived of Marlboro's fine, mild flavor, of Marlboro's easy-drawing filter, of Marlboro's joy and zest and steadfast companionship, and as a result you have a student body that is filled with sweet content and amity and harmony and concord and togetherness and soft pack and flip-top box.

That's how come.

"It's Always Darkest Before The Dawn"--Or Is It?

A new experience for the Hilltoppers! They have had some pretty hard jolts this season, but one they experienced on Dec. 31st was a new one.

There had been two nerve racking days previously. It was the finals of 1960. The Toppers had lost to Memphis State 95-74, but came back to win third place in the Sugar Bowl, winning over Tulane 81-60.

The team was slated to leave New Orleans at 9 a. m. on a DC-3. Here is how Uncle Ed describes the airport incident: "It was a rainy morning. We had just boarded the DC-3. The motors hadn't started. In fact, the back door wasn't closed yet. Then it hit us. Our plane bounced around. I saw a smaller plane dribble like a rubber ball. It was demolished. I saw cedar trees ripped up by the roots, and a roof taken off a building. It happened so quick. . . it was over so quick. Somebody said the winds reached 100 miles an hour. Our party wasn't shaken much, but when our pilot ran out the door to see if the plane was secure, I was the first guy on his heels. . . I wanted out of there. Someone grabbed me, pulled me back in the plane. And minutes later, the sun shone and suddenly it was a beautiful day."

The Toppers waited seven hours for another plane, but, when it arrived over Bowling Green about

Hilltoppers Win Over Tulane To Gain Third Place In Sugar Bowl

A torrid Topper pace set by Western's cagers led to a victory over Tulane, entitling them to third place in the classic Sugar Bowl Tournament in New Orleans.

Six-eight Harry Todd scored 19 big points and picked off 11 rebounds. He sank 8 of 17 shots from the floor. Bobby Rascoe notched 18 points and Bobby Jackson jumped in 14.

Todd and sub Jim Dunn, 6'5" sophomore, built the fire under Western when the situation looked the gloomiest. The Hilltoppers had just lost center Charley Osborne, who had carried the fight in the preceding game against Memphis State almost single-handedly, on fouls with three minutes gone in the last half.

With Todd looping in a series of goals and starring on defense and Dunn cleaning both backboards, the Kentuckians raced away on a 28-9 surge.

Osborne was checked with seven points, his lowest total of the season, as Tulane applied a zone defense in the first half. Todd and Rascoe fired over it effectively, though, and Western went into intermission with a 40-35 lead.

Scoring their 13th victory in 15 games against a Southeastern conference team, the Hilltoppers beat Tulane at every turn.

They scored more field goals, 33 to 34, they shot more accurately, .402 percentage to .400; they had 56 to 42 margin in rebounds, and they scored more free throws, 15 to 12.

Jackson with 11 rebounds and Dunn with nine trailed Todd. No Tulane player except Ardon had more than five rebounds.

MEMPHIS DEFEATS WESTERN

Memphis State beat Western Hilltoppers 95-74 in the opening round of the Sugar Bowl Tournament held in New Orleans.

As flat as they were impressive in sweeping to the title a year ago, the Toppers staged an unexpected collapse in the final 11 minutes as Memphis took complete control of the game.

Ahead just 64-57, the Tigers from Memphis rattled off on a 22-6 rally in 6 minutes to put the game out of reach at 6-63. Center Charley Osborne made an heroic effort to keep the Hilltoppers in the game. He finished with 23 points and 16 rebounds. No other Hilltopper was in double-figures in either phase.

Guard Bobby Rascoe, who last year became the only sophomore ever to be voted the Sugar Bowl's most valuable player award, hobbled much of the way on ailing feet and made only eight points.

Western went the first 7 minutes and 35 seconds of the game without a field goal and fell behind 17-4. Harry Todd finally connected from the corner for Western's first hit in 11 shots.

After Memphis pulled out to a 34-24 lead, sophomore Danny Day triggered a second comeback and cut the lead to 35-33 with a stealing layup.

The Hilltoppers made 27 of 68 for .397 percentage and converted 20 of 28 singles. The defeat was the second in eight games for Western.

Frosh Netters Lose To Sue Bennett

Western's freshman squad dropped a 79-62 decision to Sue Bennett Junior College Saturday, January 7, despite a 23 point performance by Darrell Carrier.

Although Carrier was some ten points below his season average, he led all scorers on both teams for the fifth time in as many games. Carrier received assistance in the scoring column from Tom McMahan with 13 points and John Blevins who cashed 10.

The defeat was the third in five games for the frosh. In these games, Carrier has a 39.2 average.

Western Downs Utah State, Then Loses To U. Of L. In Bluegrass Finals

Western, living up to their national ranking, flashed past a good Utah State team 86-72, in the first game of the Bluegrass Tournament.

The big red were jockeyed into position for the win over a team rated fourth in the nation in pre-season polls by sophomore Bobby Jackson.

Jackson played like he owned the coliseum, whipped in 19 points, picked off 15 rebounds and played a strong defensive game coming up repeatedly with steals.

In a tight spot in the first half the Hilltoppers led 31-28, when Coach Diddle sent sophomores Jim Dunn and Danny Day into the game and the lead spurted to a commanding 44-33 lead at halftime.

It never was a contest in the last half. Western battled better than .500 from the field, sinking goals in 32 attempts. The Hilltoppers lead stood at 19 points twice, 80-63 before Coach Diddle cleared the bench.

Guard Bobby Rascoe was the game's top scorer with 22 points. Charley Osborne was close behind with 20 points and Jackson 19. Panny Sarkatsannis added 13. Harry Todd scored only six points, but he was the No. 2 rebounder in this game with 10 recoveries.

TOPS LOSE TO UL

Western was downed by U. L. 86-71 in the finals of the Bluegrass Tournament before a large crowd of 10,000 in Freedom Hall in Louisville.

Philosophy Offered For First Time

The first course in the field of general philosophy ever offered at Western will be given in the second semester, beginning February 1, by Dr. Earl A. Moore. It is scheduled for the twelve o'clock hour on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday.

The designation of the course is Philosophy 300. Introduction to Philosophy. It will be open to juniors and seniors as an elective course and can be taken by qualified sophomores by individual permission of the instructor.

Dr. Moore will be released part time from the Department of English to enable him to offer this addition to the Western curricula.

Juniors Must File Program With Dean

All beginning juniors are required to file an undergraduate degree program with the Dean of the College. The student is responsible for completing this program on the appropriate form supplied by the Dean of the College. The undergraduate degree program must be approved by the major and minor professors and the Dean of the College.

The major professor must approve the selection of the student's first minor in his degree program.

Upon completion, this program becomes a binding contract between the College and the student.

from the field in the first half, the Redbirds dazzled the crowd with almost perfect play to grab 46-34 intermission command and clinch their first victory over the Hilltoppers in 10 years. Western has won four in a row, three in tournament play, in the last decade of this series.

Five deep in guards, U. L. waged a war of attrition in the backcourt against Western. On defense, they kept unlimited pressure on the Hilltoppers, keeping them out of the foul circle area where the Toppers are deadly.

Western battled a good 458 the first half and finished with 400 making 22 shots in 55 tries. The Toppers made 27 of 35 free throws.

Charles Osborne led the toppers with 17 points and the same number of rebounds. Trailing Osborne were Todd and Rascoe with 16 apiece. Todd's offensive play was far more aggressive than in the first five games of the season.

Freshmen Netters Fall To Tech J-V's By 101-92

Despite better than 20-point performances by three players, Western's freshman basketball fell to Tennessee Tech's junior varsity here yesterday, 101-92.

Darel Carrier cashed 29 points before fouling out in the last half. Bobby Moore fired 25 and John Blevins got 22.

Since Tech has only five freshmen out for basketball, the Eagles filled out the ranks with sophomores.

Prosh Bobby Young, former Allen County High ace, led the Eagles with 31 points.

Carrier and Moore banged 10 field goals apiece to keep the Western frosh in the lead until the closing minutes.

The defeat left the freshmen with a record of two wins and four losses.

Dogpatch 'Holler' On College Heights

In pre-season play of girls intramurals basketball it looks as if Dogpatch 'holler' has visited the campus. Kathy Adkins' Daisey Mays, dressed in the eye catching Daisey May uniforms and the Zorro's of Cynthia Phipps are the teams to beat in tournament play.

Gorman On Campus

Dr. Anna B. Gorman, head of the Home Economics Research committee, was on campus Wednesday, January 11.

Dr. Gorman met with Mrs. Lucile Stiles, Home Economic department, who is a member of the research committee.

College Hi Net Results

Eastern High of Jefferson County used a stealing defense on College High and trounced the Cardinals 65-37 in Western's gym recently.

Herbie Smith was the only Redbird in double figures scoring 11 points.

Eastern was led by big Mac Caldwell who poured in 27 points and grabbed 23 rebounds. He is one of the top prep prospects in the state and plans to go on to an out of state college.

College High trailed by just 18-16 at the end of the first quarter. The Birds led 20-18 at the start of the second quarter on the two quick fielders by Smith.

Caldwell then sparked a surge that sent the margin to 31-23 at halftime. When Eastern outscored the hosts 16-3 in the third period, it was in the bag.

College High has now won 3 and lost 5.

Auburn topped College High 55-44 with a last half rally led by guard Joe Wheat in Western's gym recently.

Wheat was held to just one point the first half when the Birds led 23-22. But he scored 12 more the last two quarters to trigger the Tigers comeback.

The Cardinals played with three squad members who were sidelined after missing practice the day before.

The Red birds now have a 3-6 record.

With Hugh Taylor palying his best game, College High defeated St. Joseph, 52-30, to make its annual homecoming a happy one, on January 13.

Hugh scored 16 points and swept the defensive backboard clean as the Redbirds struggled for a half before gaining their fifth victory in 13 games. He also was the only Card in double figures.

Homecoming queen, Miss Betty Joe Walker, led cheers as College High outscored the Saints 27-10 in the final 12 minutes to make the victory a convincing one.

is through the biography that lines can be retold in all their aspects.

The Western library has recently received several new and interesting biographies of some very outstanding men.

(1) In Friendly Candor by Edward Weeks. The heart of this book is the relationship of the author who is an editor and those whose books he helped bring to publication.

(2) Ezra Pound, by Charles Norman in this, the first full-length biography of the famous American expatriots, Mr. Norman presents many of the little-known facts about one of the most enigmatic and controversial figures of the twentieth century.

(3) Andrew Johnson and Reconstruction, by Eric L. McRitch. This important book challenges the conventional picture of President Johnson as the misunderstood statesman of Reconstruction and reveals him as a small-minded, vindictive and stubborn man, whose rigid determination to have his own way in the face of an overwhelming Northern majority thwarted the postwar reunion of North and South.

(4) Francis Bacon, by J. G. Crowther. By unravelling the threads of science and politics in the complex skein of Bacon's career, Mr. Crowther explains the significance of the Scientist-Statesman's ideals for the world of our time.

(5) Knute Rockne, by Francis Wallace. This book brings to Knute Rockne who is considered one of the greatest football coaches of all time. It portrays him as the embodiment of the finest ideals of American manhood.

(6) Adventurous Alliance, by Louise H. Thork. The story of the Agassiz family of Boston.

(7) My Crown, My Love, by Ruth Stephan. A fictitious biography of Christian who gave up the Swedish crown in 1654, and spend her life seeking another. It reveals the heart of a single, ugly, misshapen unhappy human being who happened to be a queen, a brilliant woman, and a splendid patron of literature and the arts.

(8) Jay Gould, His Business Career, by Julius Grodinsky. This book is an examination of the policies of a leading trader, railroad builder, businessman and capitalist in an era of unregulated business competition.

(9) James Joyce, by Richard Ellmann. Here is the first complete biography of Joyce written since his death. Mr. Ellmann, in this book containing many unpublished as well as published letters, captures the personality of the most elusive of contemporary artists.

ing national prominence. Now Western's enrollment has grown to 3,600, adding to the problem.

Enrollment growth also figures in the classroom plans. Dr. Thompson said the science building, the gym-classroom structure, and a new training school proposed later would take care of Western's needs for classrooms for a number of years.

The gym-classroom building would also contain a regulation Olympic-size swimming pool, an auxiliary gym for physical education classes, offices, storage space, and locker rooms on the first level, along with the basketball floor and seats.

Kentucky School Journal Salutes Dr. C.H. Jagers

Dr. C. H. Jagers has been recognized by the Kentucky School Journal as one of the outstanding educators of Kentucky. The December issue of the Journal commended Dr. Jagers on his fifty-one years of dedicated service to the teaching profession. Dr. Jagers retired as head of the Department of Psychology at Western State College at the close of the 1960 summer term after completing fifty-one years of service to the teaching profession.

A native of Hart County, he began his teaching career in one of the rural schools of that county. Later he taught in the high schools of Springfield and Murray. Then he moved into the field of school administration, serving as superintendent in Clay, Greenville, and Franklin.

His has been a far-reaching influence on the hundreds of young people who have come under his guidance. Not only the ones who were in his classes, but many people who have come in contact with him outside the classroom have felt the impact of this thoroughly dedicated teacher and good Christian citizen.

In 1939, Dr. Jagers became director of Western's College Training School, a position he held for eighteen years. Then he was elevated to the post he occupied upon retirement.
