WAITING FOR HARVEST TIME

One of the oldest vineyards in the Kelowna area absorbs precious solar lifeblood under the careful cultivation of Martin Dulik, Hughes Road, who worked for grape pioneer, J. W. Hughes. His memory is honored in the thoroughfare that bears his name. The vineyard produces various grape types including the Concord-type, all earmarked for winery processing. The Kelowna region contributes about 3,500 tons a year to a total Valley harvest of about 10,000 tons. Harvesting is expected to begin in mid-September, about a week later than usual due to cool weather this year.—(Courier Photo)

Rutland Girl, 12, Killed On Highway

A 12-year-old Rutland girl died late Friday after she was struck by a car on Highway 33 near Rutland.

Pamela Buss was walking east on Highway 33 around 8:20 p.m. when she was hit by a vehicle driven by Sharon Louise Crossley, also of Rutland, Kelowna and district coroner, Dr. Peter Hooge, has ordered an inquest into the fatality.

The fatality brought to 17 the number of people killed in the Central Okanagan this year. An accident at the corner of Glenmore Street and Sutherland Avenue late Friday sent a Kelowna man, Roy Daniel, to Kelowna General Hospital where he was treated and released. Mr. Daniel was apparently walking along Sutherland and injured when two cars collided near him. The two cars were driven by James Kelly and Wayne Guenter, both of Kelowna.

A three-car crash on Pat Dossy Street at Francis Avenue Friday caused an estimated $2,500 damage to vehicles driven by Camilla Barbera, Erna Boutwell and Fredrick Smith, all of Kelowna. The driver of one vehicle, Erna Boutwell, apparently suffered whiplash from the accident and the only other injured person was Camilla Barbera, who had a cut lip.

Police estimated damage at $1,300 to vehicles driven by George Hope of Kamloops, Yoshimi Jiyobu of Westbank and Charles Hancock of Oyama in the second three-car accident in a 24-hour period. The accident occurred on Highway 97 South early today. There were no injuries reported.

Greeks Claim Kidnap Plot

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek government claimed today that an anti-Greek government organization financed by a wing of the Italian Socialist party planned to kidnap the United States and West German ambassadors in Athens.

The chief government spokesman, Byron Stamatopoulos, told reporters that evidence uncovered since the arrests of Statis Panagoulis, Lorna Cavaglia Briffa, an Italian woman, and Sophia Georgiou of Athens, showed the group plotted to kidnap the two and demand an exchange for Greeks held in Greek prisons.

Bomb On Jetliner Called A 'Dud'

GANDER, Nfld. (CP) — A threat that a bomb was aboard an Air France Jumbo jet carrying 350 people was disproved here Friday by Canadian Forces demolition experts who boarded the 747 and dismantled what was termed a "dud."

The jetliner, on a non-stop flight from Paris to Montreal, made an emergency landing here after Air France officials in Paris received an anonymous telephone call saying a bomb was on board.

The two-man demolition team, flown here from Halifax, boarded the jet, examined and removed the package found in the washroom and gave the all-clear sign 25 minutes later. On landing at Gander International Airport, RCMP and airline officials ordered the evacuation of the jet. RCMP then discovered what was described as a small package about the size of a chocolate box in the washroom.

Jack James, airport manager, said the package contained a small black box which was empty but had what looked like two electrodes protruding from it.

LET OUT BREATH
"We all breathed a sigh of relief believe you me," he said. The jet, following the seven-hour stopover, continued after the all-clear word was given. Norman Lellman of Milwaukee, Wis., a passenger, said in an interview he was not aware of any trouble until five minutes before they landed.

Social Credit Party Officials Observe A Few 'Silver Linings'

By BOB DOUGLAS
OTTAWA (CP) — Social Credit party officials spot a few silver linings in what others regard as a cloudy electoral sky for the party.

Party workers here put little stock in speculation that the federal government has been hard-hit by the defeat of the Bennett government in British Columbia and Claude Wagner's emergence as a Conservative candidate in Quebec.

Pierre Dallaire, party press secretary, concedes the recent defeat of the Social Credit government in B.C. was a blow. But he says the provincial shipwreck in B.C. has galvanized Social Credit supporters there into putting all their efforts into winning seats in the Commons.

Mr. Wagner will drain votes in the Liberal party—his former political home—says Mr. Dallaire. But the former provincial Liberal cabinet minister will be regarded by Quebecers as a political turncoat and will fall to make much impact on Social Credit support, he said.

The party expects to make further inroads in Quebec which produced all 13 Social Credit MPs in the last Parliament. And it has hopes in New Brunswick, B.C. and Alberta.

Socred Handover Due Next Week

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier W. A. C. Bennett indicated Friday he will hand in his government's resignation next week. Mr. Bennett told reporters he had already made a protocol visit to Government House, and he said he would be seeing Lt.-Gov. John Nicholson again. Under repeated questioning, the premier later said "I believe so" when asked whether he would submit his resignation next week.

But it is plain that Social Credit success depends, as usual, on the appeal of party leader Real Caouette, the fiery car dealer from Rouyn, Que.

HAS STIFF SCHEDULE
Mr. Caouette has been unwell for some months fighting his old problem of diabetes. But he has set himself a stiff schedule of campaigning for himself beginning with meetings in his home riding Sunday.

He will unofficially launch his national campaign at the annual convention of the party's Alberta branch Sept. 15-16. The official national campaign kickoff will be later somewhere in the western provinces.

The Social Credit leader returns to Quebec Sept. 17 to start his Quebec campaign at Shawinigan. Then he will plunge into an intensive 10-day tour of constituencies in B.C., Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario before returning to Quebec Sept. 29.

Except for brief sojourns to Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Mr. Caouette will spend the remaining weeks in Quebec riding.

The 54-year-old Social Credit leader lacked none of his old vigor at a recent news conference following announcement of the federal election. He fended with reporters, poked fun at opposing party leaders and outlined his program in a torrent of words accompanied by slashing hand movements.

During the Sept. 1 news conference, he touched on two of the key planks in his party's election platform—economic security and provincial autonomy.

He promised every unmarried Canadian over the age of 18 a guaranteed annual income of $1,200 annually. Married couples would receive $2,400 a year with an additional $250 a year for each child if a Social Credit government were elected.

Algeria Sees 'New Crusade'

ALGIERS (AP) — An official Algerian newspaper said today that Western press reaction to the Munich killings of Israeli Olympians "makes us believe we have gone back to the time of the Crusades, that the 'Christian West is reviving its Arab-hunting.'"

"Israeli armed forces serve as the new Templars," said El Moudjahid, under a headline "The New Crusade."

"A real over-all campaign of hatred against the Arabs has been spectacularly unleashed since last Tuesday," the newspaper added. "Anti-Arab hysteria no longer has limits and is expressed on every occasion."

Vancouver Man, And A Woman Die In Crash

WAWA, Ont. (CP)—Two persons were killed and two others injured Friday in a two-car, head-on collision 22 miles south of here. Kenneth Robert Feltz of Vancouver was killed and his wife, Patricia, seriously injured. An unidentified woman in the second car was also killed.

SCANDAL IN OTTAWA?

Conflict Of Interests Alleged

OTTAWA (CP) — Suspensions have occurred in the department of regional economic expansion over alleged conflict of interest but a department official refuses to name the two men concerned.

The suspensions were "a matter of internal administration and the disciplinary system within public service," said J. D. Love, DREE's deputy minister, Friday. He is the senior civil servant in charge of the department.

Those suspended allegedly authorized an incentives grant to a company in which they had a direct financial interest by holding shares in it. The suspensions occurred "some time ago."

Mr. Love said the identity of the men should not be disclosed. The public service has a system of appeals against such administrative action.

"I'm just not in a position to provide details because I think it would be inappropriate to do so," he said.

He also refused to say whether there have been other suspensions within the department or similar alleged conflicts of interest. "While I'm responsible for disciplines within the department... I'm also very conscious of the other side of my responsibility, which is respect for the rights of the individual."

MARCHAND KNOWS
Regional Economic Expansion Minister Jean Marchand, who is in Quebec City, has not mentioned the suspensions though Mr. Love said he knew of them.

Mr. Marchand was not available for comment. The incentive program, which has doled out millions of dollars to corporations since its creation in 1968, has been under persistent fire from opposition critics, notably New Democrat Leader David Lewis.

Mr. Lewis says many of the companies receiving incentive grants and tax concessions are "corporate welfare bums."

Earlier this year, John Burton (NDP—Regina-East) charged that there were "potential conflicts of interest" involved in the awarding of $7 million in free grants to McCain Foods Ltd., of New Brunswick.

The former Atlantic-region director of the department was involved in the approval of the grants and then, after they were awarded, he accepted a senior executive position with McCain's.

HAS OTHER CRITICISM
Mr. Burton also criticized the apparent conflict-of-interest situation created when members of the department's incentive advisory board are also executives of companies receiving grants.

He named J. B. Estey, vice-president of National Security Products Ltd., and E. Kendall Cork, vice-president of Noranda Mines Ltd., as examples.

National Security Products has received $2.2 million in grants while Noranda has been given $3.5 million.

Mr. Burton and other opposition MPs have charged that Mr. Marchand himself is in a conflict position as "chief bagman" for the Liberal party as well as being the minister in charge of handing out incentive grants.

The "bagman" description refers to Mr. Marchand's role as party organizer and campaign fund director in Quebec.

Mr. Burton suggested that Mr. Marchand's position was questionable because firms receiving government grants could be prime targets for Liberal campaign contributions.

In the Commons last December, Jack Horner (PC—Crowfoot) demanded, unsuccessfully, that Mr. Marchand resign as a national campaign director.

"The rumor that came to me is that people who are receiving grants are immediately bugged by bagmen of the Liberal party and the Liberal coffers are now filled with about $2 million from collections from people who have received grants from DREE," said Mr. Horner.

In Toronto, The Star quoted Mr. Marchand as confirming in a telephone interview from Quebec City that the two employees were suspended without pay more than a month ago.

The newspaper quotes Mr. Marchand as saying the two were suspended for buying shares of a Toronto company about the time the company was awarded $37,000 in industrial incentive grants.

Mr. Marchand refused to name the two employees who apparently were involved in negotiations which led to the awarding of grants to Silver Shield Mines Inc. last April. No money has yet been given the company which is building a silver refinery and a private mint at Cobalt, Ont., where the firm has a small mine.

The Star says that Mr. Marchand revealed a firm of outside accountants has been hired to investigate the project and the grants will not be given if the investigation reveals any improper behavior.

Mid-East Battle Escalates Fast On Sea And Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Syrian and two Israeli planes were shot down today in a dogfight over the occupied Golan Heights, Israeli and Syrian military spokesmen said. Syria acknowledged three losses but the Israelis said all their planes returned safely.

At the same time, Israel and the Palestinians reported a sea battle between two boats Friday and each side said the other lost one boat.

A Syrian spokesman in Damascus said Syria's planes raided the Golan Heights in reprisal for Israeli air strikes Friday. The Friday raids were in retaliation for the Arab attack at the Olympics in Munich that killed 11 Israelis.

Later a Syrian communique said several formations of Israeli jets violated Syria's airspace 90 minutes after the dogfight.

The day of action began when Syrian anti-aircraft gunners opened up on Israeli reconnaissance planes over the Golan Heights. Israeli ground forces returned the fire. No casualties were reported.

Then, when Syrian planes appeared over the heights, Israel sent up interceptors and a swirling aerial battle began.

The Syrian spokesman in a communique broadcast by Radio Damascus conceded that Syria lost three planes in the dogfight, a Sukhoi SU-7 jet shot down and two other planes lost to Hawk anti-aircraft missiles. All three fell inside Syria.

The Syrian spokesman said two Israeli French-built Mirage jets were shot down, landing in occupied territory.

"Several units of our fighters and fighter-bombers carried out a strong strike in the Golan Heights, causing material and human losses," the Syrian communique said.

Syria agreed with Israel that Israeli planes intercepted, but the Israeli spokesman insisted no planes of Israel were shot down.

Tel Aviv also said the Syrian jets tried to attack the Golan Heights but were unsuccessful. The aerial battle was clearly seen by hundreds of Israeli motorists enjoying a morning outing on the first day of the Jewish new year.

CLAIM DOWNING 31
The Israeli military spokesman said it was the first time Israeli fighter-bombers of the Syrian air force since the 1967 war. This brought to 31 the number of Syrian jets claimed downed by Israel.

The last major aerial clash over the Syrian heights was in June, 1970, when four MiGs were shot down, the spokesman said.

Associated Press Writer Marcel Castro reported from Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee, that hundreds of Israelis watched the air action in obvious jubilation. Castro said the Israelis had parked their cars and stood staring at the skies and laughing.

A second Syrian communique said several formations of Israeli jets followed up the dogfight and violated Syrian airspace. One plane was hit when Syrian interceptors scrambled to oppose them, it added. There were no Syrian losses in the second incident, the communique said.

The Israeli state radio said the Israelis opened cannon fire at close range, but there was no mention of casualties.

The Palestine news agency said a guerrilla boat sank an Israeli vessel off the Israeli coast in a 90-minute engagement Friday.

It said five guerrillas died. But did not confirm an Israeli report that the guerrilla boat was sunk. The agency did not explain how the guerrillas were killed.

It said the Israeli vessel that was sunk was reinforced by eight gunboats and several helicopters in the closing minutes of the battle.

The guerrillas' boat and an accompanying Palestinian boat managed to slip away from the encircling Israeli ships, the agency said.

Meanwhile, a Lebanese government spokesman reported two more bodies were recovered from the debris in the Palestinian refugee camp of Nahr el Barid in north Lebanon.

This brought the toll in Friday's Israeli air strikes in Lebanon to 18 killed and 31 wounded.

The other five terrorists involved in the Munich slaying died in a midnight airport shootout that also cost the lives of nine Israelis and a German policeman. The other two Israelis were murdered at the village Tuesday before the terrorists forced German officials to fly them and their captives to the airfield near Munich.

In Cairo, West German Ambassador Hans Georg Selzer told The Associated Press today that his country has agreed to return the bodies of the five slain Arabs to any Arab country. He said he gave this information today to Mahmoud Riad, secretary-general of the 18-country Arab League, and also told Riad of offers from Tunisia and Libya to fly the bodies from Munich to their respective countries.

Israelis Sink Guerrilla Ship

Palestine sources in Beirut reported Israeli planes bombed and strafed the area of Kasimeh, two miles from Tyre on the Mediterranean coast in south Lebanon. The Palestine news agency Wafa later denied the report.

The Israelis announced that one of their missile boats had engaged and sunk an Arab guerrilla boat outside Lebanese territorial waters Friday.

The Israeli boat was on patrol when the Arab vessel opened fire with bazookas and light arms and "in the exchange the terrorist boat was sunk," a brief communique said.

The Israeli state radio said the Israelis opened cannon fire at close range, but there was no mention of casualties.

Bilingualism An Issue - And That's It!

Prime Minister Trudeau said Friday in Ottawa he doesn't want to make bilingualism a central issue in the Oct. 30 federal election campaign. But he told a cheering crowd of about 100 party workers in the Ottawa West federal riding that he wouldn't withdraw from discussing the subject and that "if anybody tries to knock it down they'll find me fighting back. I think it's at the core of our policy."

The new Canadian ambassador, Maurice Schwartzmann, was accredited Friday to the Mexican government in a ceremony at the presidential palace in Mexico City. The ambassador delivered an invitation from Prime Minister Trudeau to President Luis Echeverria for an official visit to Canada, after the Canadian general election on Oct. 30.

LOUIS ECHEVERRIA... invited to Canada

Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim formally proposed Friday that the forthcoming United Nations General Assembly consider measures to prevent terrorism "and other forms of violence which endanger or take innocent lives or jeopardize fundamental freedoms."

A UN spokesman said the secretary-general decided on the initiative after the incident at Munich in which 17 persons were slain including 11 Israeli Olympians seized by Arab guerrillas.

Mr. Justice G. F. T. Gregory of the British Columbia Supreme Court Friday directed a jury to bring in an acquittal in the case of Spa Health and Beauty Resort Ltd. of North Vancouver, charged with criminal negligence in the death of a 22-year-old woman patron. Shirley Findlay died Sept. 3, 1971, after using foot and chin vibrators at the spa. Mr. Justice Gregory said there was no evidence on which the accused could be convicted of criminal negligence.

Home Secretary Robert Carr, the British minister responsible for the reception in this country of Asians from Uganda, says six countries now have made "firm offers" to accept some of the thousands facing expulsion from the East African nation. The six, which include Canada, are not all Commonwealth countries, Carr told a Friday news conference.

The Co-operative Fire and Casualty Company has stopped selling car insurance in British Columbia effective Sept. 7. B.C. manager Bob Simpson of Vancouver said Friday in Victoria, the move was necessary because the firm would not raise additional capital for an industry about to be taken over by the provincial government. "We will continue to service fully our present 70,000 policy holders in B.C. but we will be selling no new car insurance policies," he said.

B.C. Social Credit League directors will meet in Nanaimo Sunday to decide the future of the party following its defeat by the New Democratic Party Aug. 30. League President George Driedger said in Victoria the meeting is expected to discuss whether to go ahead with the annual Social Credit convention scheduled for Nov. 18-19 in Vancouver. He said Premier W. A. C. Bennett, one of the league's directors, would not attend the Nanaimo meeting.

A 16-year-old juvenile from Quesnel has been charged with criminal negligence in the death Aug. 25 of Allison Carly Elliott of Vancouver, who was struck by a car while cycling near the University of B.C.

Rehabilitation Minister Phil Gaglardi, defeated in the Kamloops provincial riding in the Aug. 30 election, said Friday in Victoria he may consider running as a Social Credit candidate in the federal election Oct. 30. "I'll be making the decision within the next week or two," he told reporters.

Some progress was reported Friday during negotiations between waterfront employers and representatives of westcoast longshoremen, but a union official said only minor issues had been settled. Don Garcia, Canadian area president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, said in Vancouver, agreement was reached "on minor issues," and now both sides were "prepared to dig our heels in and go to work."

Raymond Laliberte, president of the Quebec wing of the New Democratic Party, said a party meeting was held Friday night to adopt an electoral program and not to discuss differences with the federal party. He told 150 delegates in Montreal that the federal group "is asking us not to impose our point of view on NDP members in the other Canadian provinces and to frankly say we will try to work together to build a new society and a new country."

About 250 sawmill workers at Northwood's Upper Fraser operation 30 miles east of Prince George walked off the job Friday. Carl Franke, Northwood's woods division manager, said he was baffled by the walkout. He said Herbert Hess, sawmill manager at Upper Fraser, was not informed of the reason for the walkout.

Los Angeles Municipal Court Judge Irwin J. Nebron wound up imprisoned in a grand jury room for 30 minutes when he accidentally locked himself in. Nebron was touring new courtrooms in the criminal court building Friday with his bailiff when a door slammed shut behind him. Security men couldn't find a key to unlock the door and were forced to break the lock.

Former Prisoner At Nazi 'Camp' Says Woman Guard Killed Six

NEW YORK (AP) — A former prisoner at the Majdanek concentration camp in Poland testified Friday that he saw Hermione Braustein Ryan beat to death six persons, four of whom he knew personally, while she was a Nazi guard at the camp.

Aaron Kaufman, 71 and a retired realtor living in Yonkers, N.Y., said he spent in Poland, May and August, 1943, at Majdanek.

On one occasion there, he testified, he saw Mrs. Ryan beat two women to death after she discovered them talking to him. Now an American citizen and a Queens housewife, Mrs. Ryan is fighting government attempts to deport her for not declaring when she entered the United States with her husband that she had been convicted of war crimes.

Mrs. Ryan has maintained that she was told in Austria the conviction had been expunged from her record and she need not report it.

Kaufman testified that in another incident a guard named Braustein killed two female prisoners who were collecting stones.

On still another occasion, Kaufman said, Mrs. Ryan told a group of women their children would have to go to "summer camp."

When one woman refused to give up her youngster, Mrs. Ryan beat both the woman and child to death, Kaufman said. The witness said he had spent time in nine German and Polish concentration camps. He had been brought to Majdanek from the Warsaw ghetto, he said.

At the camp, he learned the names of several guards, including Mrs. Ryan, from the female inmates. He also said he knew personally four of the six persons he said Mrs. Ryan murdered.

Under cross-examination by Mrs. Ryan's lawyer, John J. Barry, Kaufman became visibly upset and swore to the truth of his testimony.

When Barry questioned why Kaufman could not remember exactly when he had arrived at and left the other camps in which he was detained, Kaufman replied: "I didn't see people killed in the other places." These camps included Dachau and Auschwitz.

Old-age pensioners would receive $200 monthly at the age of 60.

He said later this social security program would cost billions annually but would replace current federal, provincial and municipal social welfare schemes.

The Social Credit leader also called for greater provincial autonomy, with the federal government handing over more of its powers to the provinces. Provinces would have the right to use these powers if they wished.

The party's greatest hopes still seem to be in Quebec, which has been Social Credit's chief federal stronghold since Mr. Caouette led a contingent of 25 MPs from the province into the Commons in the 1962 election.

to break into the Liberal fortress in the Gaspé.

The party also hopes to pick up seats in Northern New Brunswick, a heavily French-speaking area where there is high unemployment. Party organizers have been busy in New Brunswick for weeks.

The party's popular vote in Quebec has slipped from about 578,000 votes in 1963 to 371,000 votes in the last federal election. But greater concentration of votes allowed Social Credit to emerge from the 1968 election with 14 seats in Quebec compared to four for the Conservatives though the Conservatives received about 50,000 more votes. One seat was lost to the Liberals in a subsequent by-election.

U.S. 'Covering Up' Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator William Proxmire says four United States Air Force sergeants have written him accusing the military of covering up an accidental bombing of civilian buildings and a school bus in Cambodia.

At least two air force generals and other lower-echelon military officials in Vietnam were involved in the alleged cover-up, said an aide to the Wisconsin Democrat.

The aide said Friday night that Proxmire is convinced that the sergeants' account is accurate, but will withhold their names to protect them from possible retaliation by their superiors.

Pentagon officials could not be reached for comment early today.

Both sides seemed to be observing what local residents claimed was a gentleman's agreement—the UDA said it would stay off the street if the paratroops kept out of sight.

During Friday evening's disturbances, two leading Protestant politicians, including former prime minister Brian Faulkner, were attacked with stones as they tried to calm things down.

The Protestants are demanding that the paratroops, who are responsible for security in the area be repatriated. One said: "I am beginning to sympathize with the Catholics if they have to live with these animals in their midst."

So far British troops have had to face only angry Catholics and the bombing and shooting tactics of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

But since the British government assumed full control of Northern Ireland, suspending the Protestant-dominated Northern Irish parliament, Protestant resentment has been steadily growing.

The last few months have seen the development of the Vanguard movement led by former minister William Craig, and the UDA.

Senior officers of the paramilitary UDA met army and police spokesmen in Belfast to protest the killing of two Protestants by paratroops in rioting in Belfast's Protestant heartland Thursday night.

Later, the UDA, which claims it can muster 43,000 Protestant volunteers, said the security forces were told:

"If the paratroops are allowed to run amok again, the UDA will mass and defend the people."

The army said both dead men had been shooting at troops trying to quell Protestant street fighting.

The UDA said the paratroops had "alienated themselves from the community" by their tough treatment of Protestant demonstrators.

During more Protestant demonstrations in Belfast Friday, a paratrooper was reported to have felled an elderly woman with a blow in the face.

The Protestant Shankill Road area of Belfast was quiet today. British troops and Protestants clashed there Friday.

Nuclear Bombs For Criminals?

OXFORD, England (Reuter) — An American scientist has warned here that terrorists might soon be able to develop and use primitive nuclear weapons. Prof. Bernard Feld, attending a conference of top world scientists here, said that as nuclear power plants come into increasing use, vast amounts of plutonium would become available. This could be used by people with a certain amount of scientific knowledge to make crude nuclear bombs.

INVISIBLE MONUMENT

RYDE, England (CP) — After long and studious consideration, a government body decided to include Seaview Pier on the Isle of Wight as rating inclusion in a weighty list of historic and otherwise important monuments and buildings deserving public attention. This led to local head-scratching. The well-known pier was demolished in 1952.

SET HIGH BAIL

NEW YORK (Reuter) — Andre Ricord, 63-year-old Argentine national described as a major supplier of heroin to the United States, has been arraigned in federal court here and held on $1.5 million bail. Judge Lee Gaglardi set the bail at the request of the U.S. government.

A.C.T. TOURNAMENT WINNER

Frank Fiest, in the middle, is presented with the Hiram Walker Distillery Trophy from company representative Gord Works for finishing on top in the low gross at the third annual Associated Canadian Travellers' golf tournament held Friday at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club. Fiest took top spot in the A.C.T. tourney with a score of 80, while Bill Laing came in first in the low net division. Grant Huncuk, chairman of the tournament, looks on at the presentation.

Dulcet Chimes Soothe Kelowna Residents

The entertainment happens every 15 minutes for Kelowna residents, and continues until the hour, when a full interpretation of the well-known "Westminster Pearl" is heard by all. The familiar sound is from a carillon, costing in excess of $5,000 with four large amplifiers atop the Montreal Trust building giving the chimes volume. It was made by Schulmerich Carillons Inc., a company located in Sellersville, Pa., and the bell is owned by Montreal Trust.

SEEN and HEARD

Katie Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart of Scotty Creek showed the grand championship steer in the 4-H show at the provincial interior exhibition at Armstrong this week. Kelowna club members earned five ribbons out of six entries in the competitions against club entries from all parts of the Interior. Katie's prize entry was named — appropriately, Fat Albert.

Trouble with two separate cables on Pandyos Street is causing some telephone problems in those areas today. An Okanagan Telephone Company spokesman said crews are busy trying to locate the problem. Subscribers affected are asked to refrain from calling the company since every effort is being made to restore service.

Parents of all children enrolled in the Kelowna Parent and Child Pre-School Society's program can take note of a meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The group was formerly known as the Kelowna Co-operative Pre-School and further information can be obtained from Sonia Lafontaine, at 762-0590.

A few seats are still available for senior citizens wanting to take Club 17's Mica Dam charter bus trip. Anyone interested can contact Mrs. S. Clewly at Club 17, on Mill Street, between 1:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday.

Stan Watson, who was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident Sept. 2, was still unconscious in Kelowna General Hospital today. Hospital officials said Mr. Watson's condition was unchanged since he was taken to hospital after falling from his motorcycle on Glenmore Street.

IN COURT

A 20-year-old Manitoba youth will appear in Kelowna provincial court in connection with a break-in early today at Kelowna Secondary School. Police were alerted to the break-in after the accused tripped an alarm inside the school building.

Police are also investigating an attempted theft at D. J. Kerr Auto Body shop in Kelowna. Police picked up a suspect at the scene but released him after questioning.

Sunny

A sunny, warmer Sunday is expected with a relaxing weatherman, with a high of 75. High and low in the city Friday was 64 and 51, with 31 inches of precipitation, compared with 63, 49 and 49 inches of precipitation at the airport for the same day. Overnight low today should be in the mid-40 degree range.

Knights Of Columbus Hold Installation Ceremonies

The Capri was the scene of the installation of officers of the Father Pierre Richard General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. Guests were members of the Kelowna and Vernon Shrine Clubs. A spirit of friendship has existed between knights and shriners for many years.

The assembly takes in councils as far as Revelstoke and the United States border. Knights must also be members in good standing of local third degree councils, such as the Father Pandyos Council in Kelowna and the Father de Lestre Council in Rutland.

Color was provided by the knights in their capes and plumed hats with ceremonial swords, also by the shriners in their red hats. Most of the business of each group is done in secret, with installations being one of the few ceremonies to which the public is invited.

Local 4-H At The Top

Kelowna 4-H Beef Club members won their share of top honors in the Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong this week. Katie Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart of Scotty Creek Road, won top place as winner with the 4-H champion steer which also took the reserve grand championship in the open competition. Her Charlois steer, Fat Albert, weighs 1,055 pounds.

Seven steers were entered from the Kelowna club and ribbon winners in the individual weight classes were: First weight class—Katie Stewart, 3. Mark Tower. Second weight class—4. Chuck Hardy, 5. Lisa Tower.

In the showmanship competitions four of the six Kelowna members competing won as follows: Junior competition—Lisa Tower, 4 and Brian Gibbons, 6. Intermediate showmanship—Katie Stewart, 2 and Mark Tower, 4.

City building permit values for August this year are the second highest recorded in a 10-year period from 1962.

Figures for the comparison month this year show permit values at $1,461,556, compared to $206,280 for the same period in 1971, or an increase of $1,255,276. Permit values this year to date are $7,236,061, compared with $4,845,309 for the same period last year, or a jump of $2,390,752.

Reflecting a downward trend, building permit values for August in the Regional District of Central Okanagan this year show $1,816,648, compared with $4,661,827 for the same period in 1971, for a decrease of $3,045,648. Total construction value to date this year in the region is $20,055,409, as against $21,502,934 for the same period in 1971. Permit value for the same period in 1970 was $14,577,889.

Major portion of the city's construction was encompassed in a new residential permit for $900,000, with the second highest one new industrial permit for $331,646. There were 11 permits for residential alterations valued at $9,140, 11 residential accessory permits worth $8,648, four industrial alterations at $5,822, eight new signs at $4,400, one new institutional permit valued at $1,500 and one institutional alteration at $400.

A breakdown in the region for August shows $1,481,568 for 87 dwellings, $91,000 for three new commercial buildings, $151,000 for one school addition, $44,000 for one new church, $20,680 for nine residential additions, $36,400 for 22 accessory dwellings, and $2,000 for one addition to commercial building. There were 111 house completions during the comparison month.

Chess Club Meeting Set Following closely the worldwide attention this past summer of the championship chess match between Russia's Boris Spassky and the American champion Bobby Fischer, the Kelowna Chess Club is set for the opening of its activities Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The revived interest in the game of chess has been great and the Kelowna club expects a vast increase in membership this season. The club meets at the Okanagan Regional Library on Tuesday and Sunday of each week with the exception of the first week of every month.

New members and beginners have been given a sincere welcome by the club executive. The library where the meetings take place is situated at the corner of Queensway and Ellis Street.

Leo Scheiber Service Sunday Prayers will be recited from The Garden Chapel, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. for Leo Scheiber, 79, of 250 Asher Rd., who died at his residence Thursday.

Mass will be celebrated at St. Theresa's Roman Catholic Church, Monday at 10 a.m. with Rev. L. M. Trainor as celebrant.

Mr. Scheiber is survived by his wife, Josephine, of Rutland; two sons, Raymond of Vancouver and Norbert of Quesnel; three daughters; Mrs. James (Anne) Kopetski of Quesnel, Mrs. John (Verna) Weingart of Bossano, Alta., and Mrs. Victor (Marlene) Ganser of Kelowna and 17 grandchildren. Burial will be in the Kelowna cemetery.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

Local Girls Fare Well . . . Olympiad Scene Of Sorrow

By BETHEL STEELE Word from Jocelyn Pritchard of Vernon just back from Toronto and the first National Competition held in conjunction with the CNE, Daughter Margot who played the French horn so brilliantly during the music festival here in the Okanagan Valley last spring, and won in the regional in Vancouver for the National, did not place but received very high commendation as . . . "a most musical girl." Margot found the experience most rewarding. She is now at UBC . . . first year in the music department and will continue her French horn studies under Vancouver musician and teacher . . . Douglas Kent. Thirteen-year-old violinist Gwendy Hoebig of Vancouver won the string competition in the National. A feather in the musical cap of B.C. in general and speaks well for the work done by the Vancouver Community Music School and the Vancouver Junior Symphony of which she is a member.

From 1936 to 1972 the world has come full circle. This last Wednesday and Thursday the day following bring back memories of early mornings in the 30s when one turned on the radio and hearing the screaming Hitler voice ask . . . "What does the madman want now?"

But it was this last Wednesday morning, September 6, which pointed up the irony of all that has happened over the intervening years. On Cable television in early morning the Munich Philharmonic was playing Beethoven's Eroica Symphony . . . the Third . . . the Heroic Symphony . . . some of the greatest music ever written . . . playing it in memory of those Israelites killed by the new young madmen spawned by all that had gone before . . . young Arabs . . . no doubt intervened in the displaced who were moved to make way for the new Israel made necessary for world Jewry because of what Hitler's Germany had done to the Jews.

The new Germany as represented by the Olympic games at Munich in West Germany counted on the games to help put things right with the world of today. Not only does Munich represent athletic competition but at the same time a fine festival of the arts is taking place mainly centred in Munich proper but in nearby Augsburg as well. Bayreuth farther north continues as usual.

In the original ideal of the festival, it was intended to be a reconciliation between the victors and the vanquished. It was to be a festival of peace and understanding. It was to be a festival of the arts and of the spirit. It was to be a festival of the human race.

Richard Strauss is a hero of the Munich day. He was born there. The mad Bavarian King Ludwig II rescued Wagner from poverty and set him up in Munich. The great music dramas were born there also until Bayreuth and the Ring. This year in August through Sept. 10 one could hear any number of Meistersingers, Mozart's Magic Flute, Wagner's Tristan and Isolde, Der Rosenkavalier, Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex, to name only a tiny fraction of musical fare. One could see any number of Brecht's plays, some Shakespeare, Genet's The Balcony, the Moscow Puppet Theatre, the Royal Danish Ballet, Oslo's Norske Teatret in Ibsen's Hedda Gabler, the great Berlin Ensemble, The Man of La Mancha or attend a recreation of the 1930 original of true Cabaret . . . Kabarett International.

September 6 the Munich day of mourning Verdi's Requiem by La Scala Opera heads the list of events as posted for that day. My date of publication March 25.

Francis Bacon in his Nova Atlantica made the point that no Utopia can be self-sufficient and because of their insularity must send out learned men to bring back new ideas from the outer world. These wanderers he called "Merchants of Light." In Bacon's day these men were creative writers and the lands they visited were far flung. One cannot narrow the fact down to one country.

Today all those who travel are merchants of light to some extent. Not the least of whom are musicians and people of the theatre. At the moment all those who partake in the Olympiad are merchants of light. The Greek ideal still burns in spirit as well as in fact. Let no one say us nay.

Most of the discussion for our side, there was opportunity for some of us to enter into the discussion when there was a point which we wanted clarified, or when something occurred to us which had not been covered by Mr. Sharp. At one point I asked Premier Chou how successful China was on her population control programs. He replied that they had not been very successful in the rural areas, but considerable progress had been made in the cities, and that the People's Republic was working very hard on the problem.

QUARTER OF WORLD With a quarter of the world's population within the borders of the People's Republic, the problem of population control is urgent. And with a quarter of

M.P. Has Conference With Chinese Premier

By BRUCE HOWARD In my last letter I left off just as we had been invited to an unscheduled talk with the Chinese Premier, Chou En-lai, the second in command after Chairman Mao.

These talks, setting out a viewpoint of here, disagreeing there, whittling away imperceptibly at the barriers which 20 years have erected between our two worlds, are what this part of the trip is all about. The three-hour discussion, stimulating and amazingly frank, treated not only trade matters, but covered such important international questions as nuclear disarmament and China's quarrel with the Soviet Union. The talks took place in the magnificent Great Hall of the People which I described in my last article.

We sat in a semicircle with Premier Chou at the centre and Mitchell Sharp on my right, with the rest of the dozen or so Canadians and Chinese spread out along the arms of the semicircle. I was seated perhaps 10 feet away from the premier, and I was able to assess the extremely agile mind of this man, with his stunning memory for minute details.

For instance, in discussing Chinese-Russian confrontations and the Border War with India, he astonished everyone by reciting events chronologically, with dates and causes and effects, and at the same time he revealed that he knew in detail the position of Canadian Deputy Minister of Trade Jim Grandy Great Hall of the People which I described in my last article.

the world's population, it is even more important for us to try to live amicably on the same planet with them.

In talking to some of the journalists during our stay in China, I heard the criticism that all the talking and entertaining and banquets and sight-seeing were not accomplishing anything. To my mind, nothing could be further from the truth. Aside from the temptations offered by a market of such staggering immensity, with all its ramifications for the Canadian economy and its ability to create jobs, there is the soul-chilling fact facing us that either we exist amicably or we may cease to exist. Our recognition of Red China gave us a foot in the door, and Mr. Peppin's visit last summer their attention to us as a possible trading nation, and as a people who, although opposed to their ideology, would at least try to live and let live.

After President Nixon followed our lead in visiting China, it became even more important for us to hang on to our lead, so that when the Chinese invited us to have a trade fair in Peking we would have been foolish not to have used the opportunity to cement further the tenuous relations between this giant and the western world.

While many of the functions—the juggling shows, the banquets, the visit to the Great Wall—may have seemed unimportant or superfluous, they were a most essential part in laying the groundwork for better relations between the two countries.

The talks about important world problems may not have solved the problems, but at least we had a chance to hear their point of view at first hand, and to register the Canadian point of view to the number two man in Red China.

The Trade Fair itself has no doubt received plenty of coverage in Canada, so I won't go into the details, other than to say that it will no doubt take some time to evaluate the success of the fair.

Canadian businessmen who attended it were carefully cautioned not to expect major sales right away, but the ones I talked to, and I talked to most of them, were extremely pleased with the opportunity to be there, and were optimistic about the outcome.

The White Truck Company of Kelowna sent one of their big "made in the Okanagan" Western Star trucks, and it was prominently displayed in an open court yard. The Chinese seemed to be very impressed with this type of advanced technical equipment.

ON TO MANILA After the Chinese trip, I left the rest of the party and went on to Manila in order to sign on Canada's behalf, our first trade treaty with the Philippines, and to hold talks with Philippine government officials.

My opposite number in the signing was the famous General Carlos P. Romulo, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, who has twice been president of the UN Security Council, and the United States ambassador to the United States, among a host of other outstanding achievements.

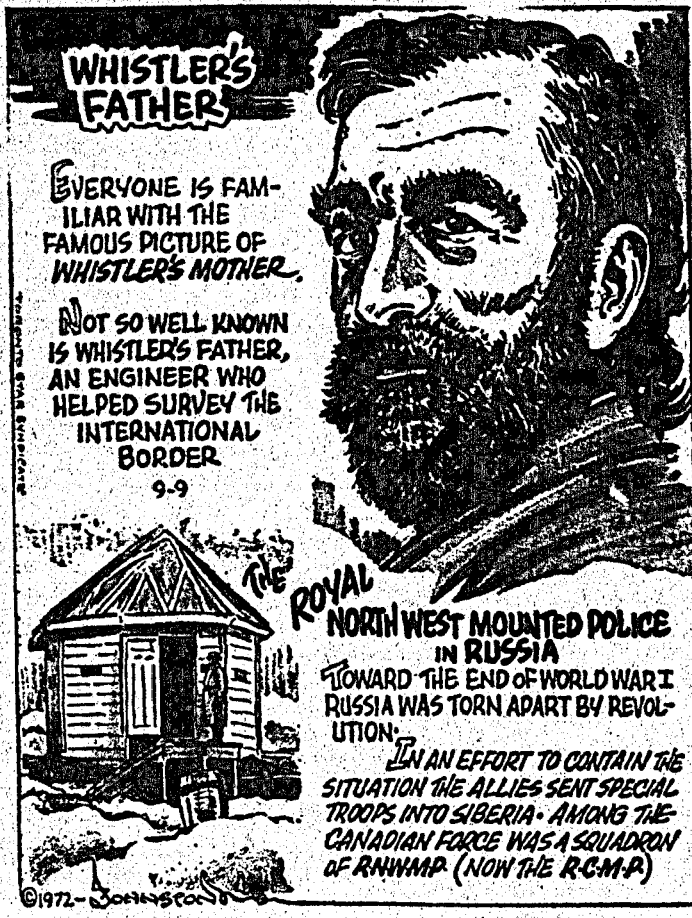

Manila is by Canadian standards, a lawless city, with residential areas behind walls, and the man on the street casually carrying his own gun. Even in the elected Senate there is a sign, "Please check your guns here," and I was informed that five men had been shot the previous week in the lobby of the hotel where I was entertained at dinner.

Needless to say, I'm looking forward to getting back to Canada. Besides being lonely, I'd hate to be stuck over here during the Canada-Russia hockey games, and I don't think they'll be shown in Manila.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

'Favor Fountain' Necessary To Man Election Machine

OTTAWA (CP) — The Oct. 30 federal election will cost the taxpayer $1.30 for each of the eligible 13 million voters, with a big chunk of the total going to workers appointed by political patronage.

But because of the pressures of urgency—there's only about two months between the election call and voting date itself—patronage appointments are the only practical way to man the electoral machine.

The fountain of favor starts with the cabinet which appoints the 264 returning officers, one for each riding. Returning officers hold their positions permanently, although they are paid only at election time or when called to Ottawa for between-election training courses.

Paid according to the number of eligible voters in the riding, they are guaranteed a minimum of $1,800. In the country's most populous constituency—Toronto-York-Scarborough with more than 80,000 voters—Returning Officer Rosmary Clark should earn about $4,600 for her eight weeks work.

In the more typically-sized riding of Brandon-Souris, with about 36,000 eligible voters, Returning Officer Alfred Wood stands to gain about $2,400. In addition, election workers are paid office and travel expenses.

deputies get $28 for the single day's work and they in turn appoint poll clerks to assist them for $22.

PICKED BY PARTIES

A separate stream of patronage positions is involved with the compilation of the voters lists which end up tacked on telephone poles throughout urban areas.

The enumerators who collect the names of eligible voters in door-to-door travels are picked by the parties which finished first and second in the previous election.

Working in pairs—one from each party—the enumerators are paid a basic $35 plus 10 cents per name collected. There are between 175 and 350 voters in each enumerator's polling district.

The pairing arrangement is designed to prevent an unscrupulous enumerator from omitting the names of unfriendly voters or from adding fictitious names that could be used by illegitimate voters on election day.

With 51,253 polling districts in the country, and one pair of enumerators for each, the parties have a huge stock of political plums, albeit small and not very juicy ones, to hand out to loyal workers.

In 1968, enumeration cost the taxpayer more than $5 million and it will probably rise to more than $6 million this time because of higher rates of pay and an additional two million voters to be listed.

A few weeks after the lists are posted, a team of revisors

Jesus Upset Cash Register — And The Establishment

Don't upset the apple cart. He upset the tables of the money changers. John 3:15.

The establishment in Jerusalem had no objection to Jesus until he upset the cash register, and in that sensitive spot they represent a powerful section of the business world today.

Business has nothing but praise for the Christian religion as long as it does not really upset anything. But let it dislocate even slightly the flow of cash into the till and the modern prophet and the church which stands by him "if it does," will be in the midst of the same hubbub which swarmed about Jesus when he disturbed the profits of the Temple Merchants Protective Association.

The apostle Paul and his faithful helper found that when the Gospel of Christ they preached in the city of Ephesus caused the profits of Demetrius, the silver smith and his associate to diminish, the upsetting of the apple cart of profit, this caused great opposition to Paul.

I remember in the years of great economic depression in the mining valleys of Wales, a friend of mine was pastor of a large Baptist church in the city of Cardiff.

He was a minister with the love and compassion of the prophet Amos and he preached against the injustice and poverty of the people of Wales. In his congregation were wealthy coal owners who objected to his preaching and for upsetting of the apple cart, he was forced to resign his pastorate. To that congregation, it was better to lose the pastor than the financial support of the wealthy.

One of the great liabilities of the church today, is that unintentionally and almost unconsciously, it may allow the injunction not to upset any of the sacred tables of profit to shape its politics and throttle its life.

A new first commandment might be written thus: "A new commandment I give unto thee, thou shalt not upset the apple cart."

These words firmly express the unconscious fear and timidities of many clergymen and congregations. They express the sense of a never forgotten obligation to refrain from collision with current social and economic traditions and practices and with the people behind those practices.

Charlotte Whitton, a former mayor of Ottawa, in a recent CBC documentary program, Famous Canadians, said, the pulpit of Canada is failing to declare the gospel for this hour of our nation's need.

Is her indictment of the church true? Are we guilty of preaching niceties and pleasantries and smooth words which are like soft soap to blind people in the true issues of life?

Are we lacking the courage and the conviction of Luther, Wesley, Whitfield, Knox—men who dared to upset the apple cart and by the grace of God called nations to a new way of life?

With a world which is so "sin" sick and in dire need of a saving gospel and a personal salvation through Christ, how can the church today harp on one monotonous note—"play it safe"?

The gospel of Jesus Christ is more than a counsel of prudent caution. It is a message of personal salvation, a message of redemption for the whole of life—redemption from every force that exploits, degrades or maims human life.

How can we be real disciples of a Master who upset the world, if we don't upset anything in such a tragic world of ours today?

—Rev. R. F. Filer, Peachland Community Baptist Church.

Good Reason For Election

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Financial Affairs Analyst
OTTAWA—If Prime Minister Trudeau had not all along planned an election for this autumn he had ample reason for calling it last week.

In hand he has reports from Statistics Canada indicating a significant improvement in the economic situation during the past few months. Business is picking up at a rate which promises an early end to abnormally high unemployment.

Opposition parties have been basing much of their criticism of the government on its failure to deal with unemployment. Now with equal, if somewhat dubious, logic Trudeau can say the government has dealt effectively with the downturn in business which developed around the end of last year.

In the second quarter of this year—April to June—production showed an increase of three per cent. This and other statistical trends suggest the slowdown is over and employment opportunities will increase.

He can claim credit for the recovery with the same dubious logic which led his critics to blame the government for the slowdown.

The recovery has been accelerated, but probably not caused, by government spending. Export business is picking up. So are corporate expenditures on plant and equipment.

Government handouts increased by more than a billion dollars over recent months. These include payments to individuals as pensions and unemployment insurance benefits.

Whatever their source, these funds enable people to buy goods and so lead to increased employment. They will also contribute to inflation. For the short term, at least, the government can use them as its answer to opposition attacks on the score of high unemployment.

They may not put the Liberals in a winning position but they reduce the credibility of the opposition if it merely promises more of the same.

Signs of improvement are significant. According to Statistics Canada, foreign trade increased from April through June. Canada's balance of payments improved. There was an overall increase of a billion dollars in the surplus of exports over imports offset as usual, by a deficit on non-merchandise trade, although this was less than usual.

All this doesn't mean unemployment won't be an issue in the election, especially in certain areas. It does mean it will be definitely less significant than some opposition politicians seem to expect.

To the extent that it is an issue, it is phony because excessive government expenditures on job creation tend to make the economy less efficient rather than more so, and in the long run, make for more unemployment.

Not Worth $8.4 Million

(Victoria Colonist)

Canada's news media "need not always search for news. Sometimes it's thrust at them." That's what The Canadian Press said recently after a survey of government services. But we beg to differ, slightly. For only a small percentage of the stuff that is "thrust" at the media is news. And much of it perishes in transit.

Here's one example: a "news release" from Environment Canada, "for immediate release Tuesday, Aug. 8," concerning a delegation going to Russia to study pollution control in that country's forest-based industries. The delegation had left two days before. The release was mailed, according to the postmark, on Aug. 9. And, as if this were not enough delay, the post office took five days to cart it across the country and deliver it.

Unfortunately, this example is closer to being the rule than the exception. It makes one wonder what Canada has got for the millions of dollars it has spent on Information Canada.

Information Canada, one may remember, is the agency set up to distribute information on government activities and to channel the views of the public (in ways not too clearly defined) to the government. It was not to add substantially to the number of federal information officers and the like because it would be staffed largely by existing, departmental or agency personnel. But it would co-ordinate information service and make it more effective.

In fact, the number of federal civil servants in various departments whose job it is to provide information to the press and public has continued growing, and according to the Canadian Press survey there are now almost 1,100 of them. But this total does not include Information Canada. The new agency that was to have streamlined Ottawa's information service now has an additional staff of 516, and a budget of $8.4 million with embarrassingly little justification for it. And we are still receiving dead "news."

THE WORLD TODAY

Cup Of Coffee... With Overtones

JOHN D. HARBRON

International meetings on commodities—oil, coffee, sugar and copper to name only four—are almost never front-page stories. Usually they are reported by financial editors or specialized publications.

Yet they all affect what we pay in Canada, for the necessities of life. The economic chain of events which has spiralled food prices in Canada and the U.S.A., often begins during an international commodity conference.

Coffee is the best example, not only because a recent international coffee conference has ended in a stalemate in London, but because of the issues it raises.

Many of the commodities on which we rely are grown, mined or fished by the poor countries of the world. In many places, the commodity is the main national source of income, supplying the funds from which must flow many of the domestic needs of a struggling and underdeveloped country.

But the price the consumer pays for the end-product is often so high compared to the wholesale price offered the supplier-country, that one must challenge the reasons for the difference. The representatives of the underdeveloped countries do this all the time.

Over the years, they have said the big international coffee companies, the ones which refine, roast and package coffee for supermarkets and consumers, call the tune on prices. They, not the coffee-growing countries, influence the amount of foreign exchange the poor country can expect each year for its own uses.

At the unresolved London International Coffee Conference, representatives of coffee-growing countries suggested in all seriousness that a cent or two be attached to the consumer price of coffee in the rich countries, to help pay for the development in the Third World. Representatives of the rich countries, especially from the United States, the richest of all, said they came to these conferences on behalf of the best interests of their consumers. That means the lowest coffee prices possible.

With sugar, the mixed problems of politics and economics are even more acute. Sugar from Caribbean countries, Jamaica, Trinidad and the Barbados, is more expensive per ton than it should be because these countries refuse to mechanize sugar-growing operations. They keep sugar-growing labor intensive because they have very high unemployment, running around 20 per cent. It costs twice as much to grow and market a ton of sugar from Jamaica as it does from rich and industrialized Hawaii.

Yet the higher price per ton of sugar from underdeveloped sugar-producing states in the world, are bolstered by both international and British Commonwealth sugar agreements. In part, this is the reason the Canadian housewife pays more for sugar than she thinks she should.

CAN WE PAY?

Canada is also a rich nation with a standard-of-living only slightly less than the United States. To cut sugar prices is seen by the Jamaicans as a form of beggar-thy-neighbor.

Yet the economics of the hard-pressed housewife in the rich user countries are about to dictate that she may stop using some staples to stay within her budget.

The international economics of commodities are as frustrating and void of problem-solving as the international politics associated with them. In a world, where no international crisis seems to have a solution, the future of stability of international commodity

Capt. Alfred Dreyfus of the French army was convicted by a court-martial for the second time 73 years ago today—in 1899—and condemned to 10 years on Devil's Island, where he had been imprisoned since 1895. Finding of "guilty with extenuating circumstances" of treason caused public outrage, since the forger responsible for the first conviction had already been detected and had committed suicide. The French government pardoned Dreyfus at once but not until 1906 did an appeals court quash the first conviction. Dreyfus served in the First World War and was made an officer of the Legion of Honor.

CANADA'S STORY

Invasion Fear Led To Racial Riot

By BOB BOWMAN

William Lyon Mackenzie King was prime minister of Canada for more than 21 years, a record for the British Commonwealth. During his career as prime minister he was regarded as a very cautious man who took a great deal of time to make decisions.

However, there was a time when he was capable of taking decisive action. For instance, in 1907 he was deputy minister of labor and there were serious race riots in Vancouver.

Many people in British Columbia at that time were fearful because thousands of immigrants were arriving from Asia, and the Orient. They were most concerned about the Japanese who retained strong ties with their homeland. The Japanese were proud of their military ability because they had just defeated the Russians. British Columbians suspected that the Japanese who were arriving were an advance guard for invasion.

Vancouver citizens formed an Asiatic Exclusion League and a meeting on Sept. 8, 1907, got out of hand. People raced from the hall shouting slogans, attacked the Chinese and Japanese sections of the city, and caused a great deal of damage. The fighting continued on Sept. 9.

Prime Minister Laurier asked Mackenzie King to investigate the riot personally.

During his visit to Vancouver, Mackenzie King raided the office of the Japanese agent and took possession of its files for study.

The result of the raid was not made known for years, but Mackenzie King became convinced that there was a real danger of Japan invading British Columbia. (Perhaps he remembered this when the Japanese were evacuated from the Pacific coast after Pearl Harbor.)

This led to negotiations with Japan and a satisfactory immigration agreement. Anti-Asiatic feeling gradually disappeared and today Chinese and Japanese are among the most highly-regarded citizens of British Columbia.

Cure For Warts Discovered In The Magic Of The Full Moon

By PRIMROSE UPTON
Superstitions are peculiar things—they have existed all through man's existence as far as we know—some of them are pleasant, some of them are not.

One I came across in a book in our archives intrigued me. It is entitled "Wishing Warts Away." I know of few people who have not had warts at some time during their lives. These pesky things can give one an inferiority complex—they can disfigure. They can suddenly appear, and just as suddenly disappear.

Some of the cures obtained by the writer of the article in "Country Fair" are an English publication, "Inclusion." "Obtain a solution of two per cent arsenic and apply a couple of drops to the wart, night and morning, with a match stick. Rub them thoroughly night and morning with castor oil." Another cure was: "Take a piece of hard common washing soda, the size of a walnut, wet the warts and rub the soda on them several times a day." This recipe was supplied by several people. Another cure was to "apply a mustard plaster."

Some superstitious beliefs are pleasant—such as blowing out all the candles on a birthday cake, and you will get your wish. Seeing the new moon over the left shoulder—horseshoe, rabbits' feet—all seem to bring pleasant reactions if followed. Back to the warts—saliva was considered beneficial. Mole's blood or mouse blood could help in curing warts. A Dorset farmer gave the following remedy: "Only two items are required—a small pin and a piece of candle. Push the pin into the centre of the wart as deeply as possible without too much pain. Heat the head of the pin with a lighted candle until the head becomes as near red-hot as can be borne. This will make you dance a bit, even if you have never danced before, but it will cure your wart. If you experiment on your friends you will find they will let you cure only one wart—I cannot think why."

A number of herbal remedies were suggested for the warts—dandelion, celadine, petty spurge, milk thistle, garden rue, mullein, St. John's Wort, elder juice, burnt ashes of willow dark mixed with vinegar, the bruised leaves of the hart's tongue fern, boiled roots of teasel, house-leek juice, cobwebs.

Broad beans seem to have been very popular as a cure in rural England. "Take the sides of three broad beans and vigorously rub the insides of these separately on the three warts. Having previously prepared a sheet of brown paper, nine inches square, lay the broad bean skins in the middle of it. They must not touch any other surface after the rubbing. Fold the paper to make a neat packet three inches square and tie with a piece of string three feet long. Nobody may see this operation or know when it is carried out. Take the packet to a prominent place in the street and drop it on the pavement. Walk away without stopping, to a position where you can see whether anyone picks it up, but too far to be able to discern who it is. It is likely that the warts will be transferred to the person who unties the parcel."

That is a bit of a selfish cure—but here is one involving just one person: "When there's a full moon, say nothing to anyone but go into the garden, facing the moon, hold your hands together and say, 'Moony, moony take my warts away, three times. You must keep the secret and have faith. In a few days the warts will disappear.'" After approaching the green, no ball was evident, and the foursome then took to looking for it past the green and as none could be found, Bill very reluctantly played another ball. As they came up to the pin to remove it, he noted that there was another ball in the cup, and was pleasantly surprised to find that it was his own. One wonders how many others have had this happen in just the same fashion. It was discovered that Molsoms have a standing offer to send a crippled child to camp, for each hole in one played. However, one stipulation is that there must be three or more players, and they must play eighteen holes of golf. Therefore the players went on to finish their full game.

There are many people who do not know of this fine offer, and it should be kept in mind if any one should have the good luck to make a hole in one. It was fortunate for Bill Baird that the only ones present in the clubhouse were the friends with whom he played, and it only cost him a lunch for all, instead of the usual costly rounds for everyone.

Hole-In-One Nets Golfer Trip For Crippled Child

WESTBANK (Special) — Usually only once in a lifetime, and seldom even that often, the wonderful event of a hole-in-one may happen. To show how infrequently it does appear, only 373 persons out of several hundred thousand, perhaps even millions attain this most exhilarating experience each year.

Well it was Sept. 7, 1972, and the player to whom it happened was Bill Baird from Edmonton, Alberta. It was on the 6th hole of the Sumac Ridge golf course at Summerland just south of Kelowna where this all took place. Bill was using a Pro-Flite ball and a number 5 iron. As Bill and his wife Norma were visiting with the Perry Fletts of Westbank and had arranged this game of golf, the latter three were the ones to see this actually happen and were most pleased to sign the card as proof of it. As Bill drove off, the remark was made that it looked like the ball might go in the hole, but the view was not clear enough to see the final move of the ball, and no more was thought of it until later.

After approaching the green,

In spite of two rejections, Dr. D. A. Clarke is still hoping someone will buy him a noise monitoring machine.

South Okanagan Union Board of Health voted to pay $1,500 for the machine if the central Okanagan and Okanagan-Similkameen regional districts contribute. Both have said this is a provincial responsibility, although the former did show concern about the problem of noise pollution.

"My job is to point out problems," said the medical officer of health. He pointed out a pulp mill in Pentiction spent $75,000 after the unit showed them (company) a problem existed.

ALTHOUGH SHE has more than nine decades of living behind her, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Anderson has a sharp memory and recalls with pleasure that she first met Ogopogo 25 years ago on a visit to Kelowna. Seen here, after an afternoon cruise on the Fintry and still full of zip and rarin' to go, she is evidently not afraid 'Pogie' will chop off her arm. With her are her son Wallace on the left, Mrs. Anderson and her husband, William and daughter-in-law, Marion. (Courier photo)

92-Year-Old Woman Celebrates Birthday With Okanagan Cruise

By MARY GREER
"First you start with a good woman" is William Anderson's advice for a happy marriage. His wife, the former Mary Elizabeth Scott celebrated her 92nd birthday on Sept. 2 and on Sept. 4 enjoyed an afternoon cruise on the Fintry with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Anderson of Lakeview Heights. Apparently he picked a winner, because she arrived back fresh as a daisy and eager to chat.

Hard work and a good constitution appears to be a good combination, since this is Mrs. Anderson's formula for longevity. The only apparent physical ailment she has is a slight loss of hearing in one ear, but the zesty little woman has no problem with the other one and can carry on her own conversation easily whether it relates to a distant past or today's Olympic games.

Confessing to a consuming curiosity all her life she is constantly seeking the answers to Why and What for, wherever she travels. The couple have enjoyed numerous trips since retirement, to England, across Canada to Toronto and New Brunswick and many trips south to Arizona and other parts of the United States enroute. Mr.

Anderson vows his good wife is the most curious woman he has ever met, she is always asking questions when they travel. WONDERFUL CUISINE Referring to her early years her main interest was being a good mother, a devoted wife and a homemaker and her family all agree that Mom's cuisine was the best. Married in Toronto on March 17, 1909, the couple came to Prince Albert, Sask., where they lived for 18 years. Seven children were born to them, Gordon, now deceased; Jim of Eastbourne, England; Edna, Edmonton; Lorne, Montreal; Archie, Vancouver; Wallace,

Sentimental Keepsakes Worn By Bride At Summer Wedding

An engagement ring engraved "J. D. June 1904" belonging to the groom's grandmother formed the something old for Colleen Gail Gordon of Vancouver when she became the bride of Donald Ross Knox, also of Vancouver. The graduation slip worn by the groom's mother and a blue garter completed the sentiment for the Aug. 26 nuptials solemnized in St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church, Kelowna. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Gordon, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Knox, all of Kelowna.

Canon C. E. Reeve conducted the double-ring ceremony amidst a setting of white mums. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long sleeved white jersey gown fashioned on princess lines and trimmed with seed pearls at the neck and cuffs. Her head-dress, which consisted of a white frame covered in matching seed pearl trim, held her chapel-length nylon veil and she carried a bouquet of vibrant orange gladioli and roses.

Mrs. William Benson of McBride served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were the groom's sister, Mrs. Patrick Taylor of Kelowna, and the bride's sister, Kathleen R. Gordon also of Kelowna. The full-length green princess gowns worn by the bridal attendants were styled on the same lines as the bride's except for the short sleeves. They carried bouquets of vibrant orange gladioli. Mrs. Benson's gown was a similar style in chartreuse.

William Benson of McBride served as best man and ushers were Shane Browne-Clayton of Kelowna and Gordon Hayman of Vancouver. The bride's brother, Cameron, of Kelowna, served as ring-bearer. For the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Gordon received the guests wearing a long sleeveless flowered gown of pink and mauve flowers on white background. A corsage of mauve gladioli harmonized with her ensemble and a corsage of yellow gladioli accented the yellow in the blue, green and yellow flowered gown worn by the groom's mother. A knee-length founce completed the long sleeveless gown.

Dear Ann Landers: My father is married to my mother-in-law. To make it simpler—my husband's mother married my dad. They live in another state. My mother-in-law has shut me out of their lives completely. I have written to my husband at work and phones him there. I don't know why she resents me. There seems to be nothing I can do about it. My father is not much of a letter writer and hates to talk on the phone, so I rarely hear from him. This hurts me deeply.

Dear Ann Landers: I am girl, 21 years old, 5-foot-4, and I weigh 110 pounds. Two years ago I weighed 157. I made up my mind I was going to get rid of the excess baggage. After many months of careful dieting and exercise I accomplished my goal.

HITHER and YON

Among the lucky people who were able to attend the Team Canada versus Soviet Union hockey series at Vancouver on Friday night was Jack Prior of Kelowna. He flew to Vancouver on Thursday evening to accompany his brother Arthur to the fourth in the current international series; Arthur was one of those fortunate enough to draw a pair of tickets from the barrel.

Jasper, Alta. Following three days there visiting friends they travelled on to Edmonton for a week where Mrs. Anstett visited her brother, Ed Roberts and nephews and nieces. From there they journeyed to Winnipeg to visit brothers and sisters and a sister-in-law to accompany them to Dryden, Ont., where they visited another brother, went fishing and berry picking.

Terry Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Duffy, Roanoke Avenue enjoyed a short vacation in Kelowna prior to leaving for his first posting to the Upper Air Weather Station on Sable Island, N.S. He is a recent graduate of the Upper Air Training School in Toronto and is a meteorological technician with the Department of the Environment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anstey left Tuesday for Toronto where they will spend a few days before travelling to the Bahama Islands. Mr. Anstey is secretary of the Kelowna Kiwanis Club and will be attending the International Kiwanis Convention in Nassau.

Mrs. Evelyn Anstett and her daughter Linda have just returned home from a month-long holiday during which they visited their old home town, Richard Schmok, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmok of Doryan Street is among the many students from this area who have left to continue their studies. Richard is enrolled in theatrical arts at the University of Victoria.

Dr. Eva Moses Speaks On India On Monday To St. Paul's UCW

The United Church Women of St. Paul's Church held its executive meeting recently which plans were made for a busy fall season of events. The first general meeting is scheduled for Monday at 1 p.m. with the Ila Perley Unit conducting a program on India. Guest speaker will be Dr. Eva Moses of India. All women of the church are invited to come out to hear Dr. Moses.

Looking ahead to later in the fall there will be a rummage sale on Oct. 14; the fall color-drive for senior citizens and shut-ins will be held Oct. 22 and a general meeting on Nov. 6. The Christmas tea and sale is set for Nov. 25.

BPW Club Starts Monday Night

The executive of the Kelowna Business and Professional Women's Club met at the home of president, Mrs. Alice Runnalls to discuss the agenda for the first meeting of the fall season scheduled for Monday at 6:30 p.m. at The Baron.

All proceeds from sales and teas will go towards extension work of the United Church of Canada and in mission fields both in Canada and overseas.

Present From Yugoslavia Highlights Kelowna Rites

A gold medal engraved with the Virgin Mary and Baby Jesus, on a delicate gold chain, was worn by Janie Marie Zlatich of Kelowna when she became the bride of Gerald Michael Larden, also of Kelowna. The medal was sent to the bride by her grandmother, Mrs. Antonia Susnik of Klana, Yugoslavia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zlatich of Kelowna and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris William Mack of Bella Coola. Rev. C. P. Mulvihill officiated for the double-ring ceremony in St. Pius X Roman Catholic Church which was decorated with large baskets of yellow and mauve gladioli. Mrs. John Suschnik, aunt of the bride, Kelowna, sang Climb Very Mountain, I Believe and for All We Know, for the Sept. 2 ceremony. She accompanied herself.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore an empire-waisted A-line gown of peau d'elephant, which flared into a long train at the back. Long lily-point sleeves were trimmed with embroidered floral applique as was the bodice.

A long-flowing layered veil trimmed with embroidered daisies fell from a headdress of roses and lily of the valley, trimmed with pearls. The headdress was borrowed from her sister Lucy and a blue garter was the "something blue." She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and trailing ivy leaves. Matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Michael Michaylow of Rutland, and bridesmaid was Joanne Wolfe of Kelowna. Flower girls were Margaret Suschnik of Kelowna and Lisa Michaylow of Rutland. Troy Larden of Williams Lake was ring-bearer.

The bridesmaids wore empire

MR. AND MRS. GERALD LARDEN (Sooter Studios)

waisted gowns of sheer polyester floral design, predominately mauve. A low scoop neck with short puffy sleeves completed the ensembles and they wore large mauve floppy hats. The flower girls wore matching dresses in mauve trimmed with white lace and matching yellow daisies and purple bows in their hair. Along with baskets of violets they also carried the bride's train. The attendants also wore necklaces with their own birthstones, gifts of the bride.

Best man was Malcolm Broxham of Kelowna and ushers were Raines Mack, brother of the groom, Bella Coola, and Michael Michaylow of Rutland.

Receiving the guests at the East Kelowna Hall, Mrs. Zlatich chose a long mint green gown of polyester crepe with bell sleeves. A corsage of coral gladioli accented her ensemble. A brocade dress of light powder blue was the choice of the groom's mother. A corsage of white carnations completed her costume.

Mrs. Gina Vukic of Kelowna was in charge of the guest book and Sebastian Suschnik, uncle of the bride, toasted the bridesmaids.

A large white lace tablecloth covered the bride's table, centered with a three-tiered cake. Long crystal pillars separated the second and third tiers. Mauve and purple roses decorated the cake topped with a bride and groom. The bride's aunt, Mrs. John Suschnik, had decorated the cake which was graced with long white wedding candles in crystal candlestick holders. The bridal bouquets formed floral arrangements. The happy couple drank from silver engraved goblets belonging to the bride's parents.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a leopard skin jersey dress with matching hooded coat of light beige. A coral gladioli corsage added color. After a honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at Mercury Road, Rutland.

Out-of-town guests were Michael Solunac, Oakland, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Mack and son Raines, Bella Coola; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Larden and family, Williams Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Leier and son, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leier, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Vlek, Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kostjuk, Edmonton and Mrs. Dorothy Hardy, Vancouver.

A powder blue lace dress with white accessories was worn by the bride's mother who received the guests at the reception at the IOOF hall at Chilliwack. Pink roses formed her corsage and a corsage of white roses accented the blue lace dress worn by the groom's mother.

The wedding cake was decorated by the groom's father and displayed on a separate table which was covered with a white lace cloth made by the bride's paternal grandmother. After cutting the cake the bride and groom pledged their troth by drinking from a silver marriage cup.

Robert Irwin of Tsawwassen proposed the toasts and the bride's uncle, Bill Robertson of Prince George was master of ceremonies. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Robertson, Wendy Robertson and Mrs. Pat Langley, all of Prince George; Mrs. W. A. Carvell of Horseshoe Bay, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. T. Dyble of Summerland; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schroth, Ron and Harold of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Neave of Edmonton, Joe Rush and Gaye Hayes of Kelowna.

Patricia Torrey of Langley served as maid of honor and bridesmaid was Glenda Keller of Rosedale. Turquoise print chiffon formed the floor length empire gowns worn by the bridal attendants who carried white baskets trimmed with turquoise net and ribbons and filled with pink roses and white carnations. Turquoise gauze butterflies adorned their hairdos. Alfred Fischer of Cecil Lake, B.C., served as best man and groomsman was Bruce Visser of Kelowna. Ushering were Norman Keller of Vancouver and Joe Rush of Kelowna.

Two Showers Honor Bride-Elect Loretta Tomasini

A surprise miscellaneous shower honoring Loretta Tomasini was held at the Clement Avenue home of Mrs. Louis Bazzana and co-hosted by bridesmaid-elect Nevis Bazzana.

On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a red carnation corsage and bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Celeste Tomasini and groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Eric Hak were each presented with pink carnation corsages. Fifteen relatives and friends attended and presented their gifts in a gaily decorated laundry basket.

After playing games Loretta opened her gifts assisted by bridesmaid-elect, Marilyn Hak; junior bridesmaid-elect, Liana Tomasini and Mary Bazzana. Later a lovely lunch was served and enjoyed by all.

A second miscellaneous shower was a luncheon given by Mrs. Martin Ruf and Mrs. Adolf Meier at Mrs. Martin's Kelgen Crescent home, was attended by 38 relatives and friends.

The surprised honored guest was presented with a red gladioli spray on her arrival.

Following games enjoyed by all, the gifts were presented in an ever-flowing grocery cart wheeled in by flower girl-elect, Elaine Ruf and her cousin Sharon Meier.

Assisting the honoree again in opening her gifts were Marilyn Hak and Liana Tomasini. While the gifts were being opened a hat of ribbons and bows was fashioned by Mrs. David Dielebach. Topping the be-ribboned hat was a bun and pencil signifying the guest of honor's work previously in the bakery and presently in the office of People's Food Market.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses and Loretta was presented with a cake, beautifully decorated with a shower motif, which was cut and served.

Miss Tomasini's marriage to Kenneth Hak takes place on Sept. 23 at Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church.

OK. Mission Bridge Sessions Start Sept. 18

Pioneer Families United In Summer Garden Nuptials

Marriage vows were exchanged by Teresa Anne Barber and Robert William Gingell, both of Rutland, in a summer garden setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Birt Showler of Clarissa Road, Rutland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Barber of Rutland and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gingell of Oyama, both pioneer families who have lived in this area of the Valley since early 1900s.

Trellises decorated with gladioli and fern formed a background for the double-ring ceremony conducted by Rev. Thomas Jones. The bride entered the garden with her father and the bridal party proceeded up the aisle in the lawn to the organ music by Mrs. Ken Armstrong of Rutland, Lara's Theme and other selections were played during the ceremony and reception.

A Chantilly lace bodice topped the empire line polyester crepe gown worn by the bride. The long sleeves were embroidered with seed pearls and her full-length nylon veil embroidered with lace misted from her headdress of white flowers. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart pink roses, lily of the valley and heather from Scotland.

Something old was her maternal grandfather's ring and she also wore an opal pendant, gift from the groom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jim Heraldson of Calgary and bridesmaids were Doreen Showler of Rutland and Lois Elliot of Oyama, both nieces of the bride. The three were clad in identical gowns, in shades of mauve featuring empire waists with scooped necklines and bell sleeves. They carried baskets of mauve and pink gladioli with mauve velvet streamers and wide brimmed lace hats with matching sashes completed their ensembles.

Robert Caley of Rutland served as best man and ushers were Denis Gingell, brother of the groom of Oyama and Robert Potheary also of Oyama. For the reception which followed at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Birt Showler, the bride's mother received wearing a full-length empire waisted gown of turquoise blue fortrel with lace coat. Pink sweetheart roses formed her corsage and pink carnations formed the corsage which complemented the full-length gown of multi-colored silk floral print worn by the groom's mother.

Pink candles in silver holders flanked the three-tiered wedding cake which centred the bride's table and mauve and pink gladioli added graceful touches to the setting.

Single gladioli in champagne glasses decorated the tables at which the 125 guests were seated at the lawn reception. Ernest Eaton toasted the bride and Bob Caley performed similar honors for the bridal attendants. Telegrams were read by master of ceremonies, Birt Showler.

A mauve and pink fortrel full-length gown with mauve accessories was donned by the bride before the couple left on their honeymoon trip to the United States and coast points. A crocheted shawl completed her ensemble which was accented with a corsage of pink gladioli. The couple will make their home at No. 5 - 275 Cambie Road, Rutland.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Townsend, Mrs. S. Townsend, Mrs. G. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. G. Allingham, Mr. and Mrs. C. Potheary, Mr. and Mrs. D. Shumay, Mr. and Mrs. D. Elliot, Mrs. D. Straga, Mr. and Mrs. K. Gingell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sproule, Mr. and Mrs. D. Eyles, Gayle Hayward, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. E. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Makepeace, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. V. Townsend, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. H. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. R. Goldney, Mr. and Mrs. A. Grams, Spokane; Mrs. J. Howland and K'Anne, Edmonton; Mrs. E. Abbott, Mark Gingell, Calgary; Mrs. M. Barber and Mrs. J. Haroldson.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN VISSER (Normans Photographs of Chilliwack)

Kelowna Man Wed At Chilliwack

A wedding of interest to Kelowna residents was solemnized in Chilliwack United Church when John Visser of Kelowna exchanged marriage vows with Theresa Marilyn Keller of Rosedale, B.C. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kornells Visser of Kelowna and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Keller of Rosedale.

Large baskets of pink roses and white carnations decked the church for the double-ring ceremony conducted by Rev. B. B. Smyth. Organist for the Aug. 26 wedding was Dale Warr of Chilliwack, who played for All We Know and Lara's Theme during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length gown entrain made of Ligoda crepe, with bodice and sleeves of Chantilly lace, which was repeated in a wide ruffle around the hem.

A floral headpiece held her tiered shoulder length veil of illusion nylon, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Patricia Torrey of Langley served as maid of honor and bridesmaid was Glenda Keller of Rosedale. Turquoise print chiffon formed the floor length empire gowns worn by the bridal attendants who carried white baskets trimmed with turquoise net and ribbons and filled with pink roses and white carnations. Turquoise gauze butterflies adorned their hairdos.

Alfred Fischer of Cecil Lake, B.C., served as best man and groomsman was Bruce Visser of Kelowna. Ushering were Norman Keller of Vancouver and Joe Rush of Kelowna.

Red Sox Keep Winning Stay Ahead Of Tigers

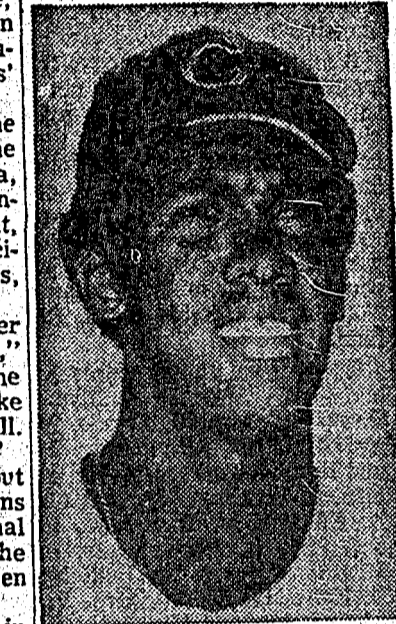

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 It was the best of times when Luis Tiant served as best man at the wedding of his pal Celso Sanchez in Mexico last year.
 It was the worst of times when Sanchez slapped a run-scoring hit up the middle in the fifth inning Friday night, ending Tiant's string of 40 consecutive scoreless innings.
 "He hit a hanging slider," Tiant said. "You make a mistake and that's what you get. I'm lucky he didn't hit a home run."
 It was the best of times again when Tiant retired Sanchez on a fly ball with two runners aboard for the final out in Boston Red Sox' 4-2 victory over New York Yankees.

 It was the Red Sox' fourth victory in a row and kept them in first place in baseball's American League East, one-half game ahead of Detroit Tigers, who edged Baltimore Orioles 2-1 on Woodie Fryman's two-hitter.
INCREASE LEAD
 In the West Division, Oakland Athletics increased their lead over Chicago White Sox to 3½ games with a 6-3 triumph over Texas Rangers while the White Sox were splitting with California Angels, winning 5-1 and losing 9-4. Elsewhere, Kansas City Royals swept Minnesota Twins 5-0 and 3-2. Milwaukee Brewers and Cleveland Indians were rained out.

 The big hitting in Boston was done by the Red Sox' Carl Yastrzemski, who clipped Fritz Peterson for a run-scoring single in the first inning and the other New York run came on Bobby Murcer's career-high 27th homer.
 Yankee manager Ralph Houk insisted that losing all three games in Boston "didn't hurt anything. We're only three games out and we've still got something like 27 to play. We just have to win a few in a row and we'll be right back in it."
 Houk may be impervious to pain, but Baltimore's Earl Weaver was stung by the Orioles' second loss to Detroit in three nights after dropping two of three to the Yankees.
 "It didn't finish us by a long shot," he warned, "but it's bad."

Jenkins Reaches 20 Again

Move over Lefty Grove, Robin Roberts and Warren Spahn. Make room for Ferguson Jenkins, the Chicago Cubs' big Canadian right-hander.
 Jenkins became only the fourth pitcher since 1920, or the so-called modern baseball era, to win 20 games for six consecutive seasons Friday night, hurling the Cubs to a 4-1 decision over Philadelphia Phillies, who traded him away in 1966.
 "It's something no pitcher could ever dream of doing," Jenkins said. "Just being in the same class with guys like Spahn and Roberts is a thrill. That's a great class to be in."
 Roberts and then Spahn put together six 20-victory seasons in a row in the National League, and Grove did it in the American League while en route to the Hall of Fame.
 Only two other pitchers in major league baseball have fashioned longer streaks, both in the dead-ball era. Christy Mathewson won 20 or more for 12 consecutive years and Walter Johnson for 10.
 Jenkins, a workhorse who annually pitches more than 300 innings from April through September, admitted he will be shooting for another 20 in 1973 for the "modern" record. However, he has no thoughts of catching Mathewson.
 "Don't expect me to break Christy's record of 12 in a row," said the native of Chatham, Ont. "I may not even be around that long."
 Elsewhere in the National League Friday, Pittsburgh Pi-

FERGUSON JENKINS

rates swept a doubleheader from Montreal Expo 7-1 and 4-2 in 12 innings, New York Mets overpowered St. Louis Cardinals 8-2 before bowing to the Cardinals 9-4 in 13 innings, Houston Astros downed San Francisco Giants 5-3, and Atlanta Braves edged Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3. Cincinnati Reds and San Diego Padres were idle.
 Jenkins boosted his record to 20-10 with the help of consecutive doubles by Don Kessinger and Jose Cardenal in the eighth inning. Then he credited team-mates for his success.

Soviets Hungrier Than Canada Take Series Lead With 5-3 Win

By IAN MacLAINE
VANCOUVER (CP) — A non-playing Soviet skater probably summed up Russia's 5-3 victory over Team Canada best Friday night even before the result was in.
 The unidentified Russian player, interviewed through an interpreter after the second period, said: "We are hungrier."
 The visitors outskated, out-hustled and outcrunched the home side before 15,570 disgruntled fans who turned their abuse of the Canadians to more than slight roars of pleasure at the manner in which the Soviets sometimes toyed with the national hockey league stars.
 As one fan said, passing through the exit gate before the game had finished: "We expect to see that type of hockey from the Vancouver Canucks, but how can you justify that exhibition?"
 Two shorthanded goals by Boris Mikhailov, both times with Canada's Bill Goldsworthy off, sent the Soviets into a 2-0 first-period lead and they were never seriously threatened in the next 40 minutes of play.
ESPOSITO SHINES
 Yuri Blinov, Vladimir Vikulov and Vladimir Shadrin completed the Russian rout. Gil Perreault got credit for the first Canadian goal when Russian defenceman Valery Vasiliev carried it into the net. Bill Goldsworthy and Dennis Hull scored third-period goals for Team Canada on the strength of Phil Esposito's superb play.

 Esposito, easily the hardest-working Canadian forward the last three games against Russia, was working trouble shift most of the night and Sinden was asked if he wasn't putting too much pressure on the high-scoring centre.
 "Phil tries in a lot of ways," Sinden said, "and he plays better the more work you give him."
 "He's quite a competitor." But despite Esposito's efforts, with periodic individual efforts from Yvan Cournoyer, Paul Henderson and Perreault, the smooth-skating Russian machine gave them little opportunity to handle the puck in the initial 40 minutes, then settled into a defensive pattern in the final period.
TAKE 23 SHOTS
 It could have proved costly as the Canadians rifled 23 shots at young Vladislav Tretiak, the individual star of the series to date.
 But the 20-year-old army lieutenant stood tall in the Soviet nets, allowing only two goals while turning back potential scoring shots, two each by Phil Esposito and Hull and by Ron Ellis who had been sent in alone by Bobby Clarke.
 Cournoyer got behind the Russian defences twice in the second period, with the score

3-1, but was pulled up short by the Russian goaltender.
 "That guy was just exceptional . . . again," Sinden added, by way of reference to the earlier three games in which Russia won 7-3 at Montreal, lost 4-1 in Toronto and tied 4-4 at Winnipeg. "He beat us one-on-one and two-on-one numerous times."
 The incredible young goalie, in his fourth year with the Russian national team, also came in for praise from Boris Kulagin, the Soviets' assistant coach.
 "Tonight we again had a very good goalie," Kulagin admitted in a surprising endorsement of individual effort by a Russian player. Both Kulagin and coach Yevolod Bobrov have been inclined to play down individual efforts in the four games.
NOW TO MOSCOW
 The venue for the next four games of the series is Moscow, on Sept. 22, 24, 26 and 28. The Canadians, meanwhile, will take three days off before resuming training camp in Toronto. They shift their site to Stockholm for several days, meeting a Swedish select team Sept. 16 and 17, before going to Russia.
 The Soviet club, which flew back to Toronto shortly after the game, begins preparing for the return games at home Sept. 18.
 Sinden showed no emotion over the fans in Pacific Coliseum pulling for the visitors almost the entire last half of the game.
 "Typical," he replied to reporters' question for his reaction to the fans, adding: "Who knows? Maybe I'd be doing the same thing if I were there with them."
 Phil Esposito, however, admitted in a post-game interview the booing of the fans did bother him and other Team Canada players.
 "We gave 150 per cent," he said, adding that the fan reaction was "disheartening to hear."

Eks Get Chance To Bury Arch-Rival Stampeders

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos have a chance to bury their arch-rival Calgary Stampeders in a Western Football Conference game Sunday—an unusual situation for the green and gold.
 Last year at this time Edmonton was mired in the WFC cellar with only one win in six games while the Stamps were undefeated.
 A win Sunday would give the Eskimos a league-leading 12 points and leave the Grey Cup champs alone in fourth place—only the top three make the playoffs—four points behind Saskatchewan Roughriders.
 Calgary coach Jim Duncan, who's done some major surgical work this week on his lineup, says "the chances of our making the playoffs will become slim if we lose this game."
 The Stampeders have lost three games in a row, including a 31-19 thrashing Monday by the Eskimos in Calgary.
 Duncan sharpened his axe after that setback, chopping offensive guard John Ataman early this week and former all-star fullback Hugh McKinnis Thursday.
 Fritz Seyferth, a cut from New York Giants of the National Football League, will replace McKinnis while Ataman's spot will be filled by Marion Latimore, a cut from New York Jets of the NFL.

 In what must be considered good news for the rest of the CFL, but a severe blow to the Stamps, Duncan put perennial all-star middle linebacker Wayne Harris on the 30-day injured list.

Five Buckaroos Have Tryout

MURRAY HANSON
 ... rookie winner

ARCHIE MCKINNON
 ... top scorer

Five players that played for the Kelowna Buckaroos last year are currently in Saskatoon trying to land a spot with the Saskatoon Blades, which is the parent club of the Bucks. The players were accompanied by coach Wayne North and if they are unable to crack the line-up it is expected they will return to Kelowna in time for the opening of the Buckaroo's training camp Sept. 15.
 The five players attending the Blades' training camp include Murray Hanson, Archie McKinnon, Ken Weninger, Blair Chapman and Dale Turner. Hanson, McKinnon and Weninger played as a unit on last year's club and will probably work out as a line at the camp.

 Hanson, who is 16 and a native of Kelowna, was selected as the most valuable player and rookie of the year on the Buckaroo club last year. He was also selected rookie of the year in the B.C. Junior Hockey League, while he collected 26 goals and 38 assists.
 McKinnon, 17, and a native of Jasper, Alta., tied for scoring honors with Ken Selinger on the club last year with 35 goals and 30 assists.
 Weninger, who is a product of the Kelowna minor hockey program, played left wing on the high scoring line and chipped in with 20 goals and 28 assists.
 Both Turner and Chapman had successful seasons with the Bucks last year with 14 goals, 17 assists and 13 goals and 18 assists respectively.

Jr. Packers Start Camp

The Kelowna Junior Packers hockey team will open its training camp tonight at 8:45 p.m. and will be open to all players registered from the juvenile division of the minor hockey league.

The camp will continue at the same time Sunday and switch to 9:30 p.m. Monday with all unregistered players interested to call 763-3090.

Coach Jim Hunter reports the Junior Packers' first home game will be against the Junior A Spokane Rockets Sept. 30.

Ryun's Comeback Ends Collides With Runner

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Sports Editor
MUNICH (CP) — No athlete had a steeper path to the 20th Olympic Games than Jim Ryun.

His comeback ended prematurely Friday in a heat of the 1,500 metres, as he collided with another runner with 500 metres to go and both sprawled on the track, hopelessly out of contention.

It was yet another setback on a bad day for the United States as the Americans fell farther behind in their hunt for medals and lost two decisions in the committee room.

In medals, Russia led with 34 gold, 22 second-place silver and 18 third-place bronze. The U.S. total was 27-27-24.

In the unofficial standings, based on a 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six placings in final events, the U.S. still led with 620 to Russia's 598 and 453½ for East Germany.

Canada picked up a third bronze to go with two silvers with a third-place finish in the Soling class of yachting and stood 16th in the points table with 37.

PAIR DISQUALIFICATION
The International Olympic Committee added to the Americans' problems by disqualifying Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett, two members of the U.S. 1,600-metre relay team, for failing to stand at attention when they received their medals after finishing first and third in the 400 metres.

The IOC also cleaned up the case of Rick DeMont, the asthmatic American swimmer whose medication contained a forbidden drug, by voting to withdraw his gold medal for the 400-metre freestyle and award it to Brad Cooper, the second-place Australian.

Russia was the big winner Friday, taking three gold — in the decathlon, Tempest yachting and women's team foils in fencing.

Australia had two yachting golds — in the Star and Dragon classes — while Britain won the Dragon Class and East Germany's Annelie Ehrhardt took the women's 100-metre hurdles.

Ryun, a victim of the flu when he lost to Kip Keino of Kenya at Mexico City four years ago, was running in the heat which Keino won.

Weaver Takes 3-Shot Lead

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — "That's probably the best golf I've ever played for two straight rounds, said DeWitt Weaver, whose threat to run away from the $100,000 Southern Open golf field was blunted by Frank Beard's amazing seven-under-par 63.

The prematurely gray Weaver held a three-shot lead over Beard going into today's third round. Weaver fired a 67 Friday and stood at 132, eight under par, for 36 holes over the 6,776-yard, par 70 Green Island Country Club course.

Beard, attempting to bounce out of a season-long slump, was only one stroke off the course record, knocking in five birdie putts and adding an eagle three on the 594-yard eighth when his 80-yard approach shot bounced four feet from the flag and jumped in the cup.

Weaver, former backup quarterback to Don Meredith at Southern Methodist University, left the course to face a physician's knife to drain fluid from a stopped-up left ear.

"It doesn't bother me until I have headaches," Weaver said of his ailment, "but every time I get a headache, it seemed like I made a birdie."

GETS OUT OF TROUBLE
Weaver scrambled out of trouble on the front side, salvaging pars from the rough on Nos. 7 and 9, with shots stopping one foot from a flag stick he could not see.

"I can't hear, and I can't see," Weaver quipped. "So, that's pretty good golf, I'd say."

Weaver knocked in a four-foot birdie putt at No. 4 and then rimmed the cup with a putt of the same distance on the next hole.

Argos Go For Second Win Take On Ti-Cats Sunday

Chuck Ealey and Wally Gabler, two quarterbacks who fought for the same job, will be on opposite sides Sunday when Hamilton Tiger-Cats meet the Argonauts in an Eastern Football Conference contest in Toronto.

When Ealey beat out Gabler for the starting job in Hamilton, Gabler was traded to Edmonton Eskimos. He refused to report and wound up back in Toronto.

Gabler said it would be easy to say he now has something to prove but "I hold no grudge against Hamilton."

"To me it's another job and we've got to win the game."

Argo coach Leo Cahill and Gabler both agree the strong part of the Tiger-Cats is their defensive secondary.

EALEY A THREAT
"And they've got a dangerous threat in Ealey," said Cahill. "Hamilton won't have to get up for this game because of our natural rivalry."

"We've got to handle them physically and with our win in Montreal last Monday, we'll be ready."

The Argonauts, winless in their first five starts, could move into a tie for the final playoff berth with a win coupled with a Montreal loss when the Als visit first-place Ottawa Rough Riders tonight.

Both games will be televised. Tonight's contest will be on the CBC national network starting at 8 EDT. Sunday's game will be on the CTV eastern network at 2 p.m. EDT.

Cahill has received some good news this week after getting through the Montreal victory without an injury.

Slotback Dave Cramer has been activated after making a surprising recovery from an April operation in which 26 inches of small intestine was removed. He had dropped to 162 pounds but now is back to 205.

CHASEY TO STAY
Jim Chasey, Gabler's backup, has also announced he'll stay with the club as long as the Argos want him to, to give the Argos insurance until Joe Theismann returns from a broken ankle injury.

In Ottawa, opposing coaches will be looking for improved performances from their quarterbacks to rebound their clubs from Labor Day defeats.

George Mira, a National Football League veteran now calling signals for the Als, has been working overtime with his receivers to get more accustomed to their patterns and improve timing.

Montreal coach Sam Etcheverry was fuming over dropped passes in his club's 43-21 loss to Toronto but his disposition improved this week after watching voluntary workouts by his players.

of the track and he appeared to be unconscious briefly before he got up and finished the race second to last.

To get to these games, Ryun had to overcome not only his athletic defeats but a serious blood disease, a kidney infection, hay fever, and a psychological let-down that led to temporary retirement.

Keino won the heat in three minutes, 40 seconds. Despite the fall, Ryun was only 11 seconds off the winner's time in 3:51.5.

After the race, Ryun, with tears in his eyes, said: "I remember being in a collision. Someone's knee hit by jaw and I went down."

Canada got its first medal in 40 years yachting when David Miller's Vancouver crew took the bronze in the Soling class.

Canada's two 1,500-metre men-Bill Smart of Vancouver and Ken Elmer of Burnaby, B.C., faded in their respective heats and were eliminated.

JACKSON THIRD
But there was Canadian hope in men's archery as Don Jackson of Lindsay, Ont., clung to a third-place position after two days of the four-day archery event, new to the Olympics.

Canada's men's epee team was unable to make it past the preliminary rounds and all crews in canoeing lost out in the semi-finals.

Miss Ehrhardt gave her country its fifth gold medal in women's track and field, leaving the U.S. clear out of sight in that division.

In team competition, Japan rallied from an 0-2 score to beat Bulgaria 3-2 while East Germany upset defending champion Russia 3-1 in men's volleyball.

Japan and East Germany play for the gold and silver medals.

In soccer, Hungary and Poland reached the final as Hungary beat Mexico 2-0 and Poland dumped Morocco 5-0.

In field hockey, Pakistan defeated rival India 2-0 and West Germany downed the Netherlands 9-0.

MAN'S DOMINION IN GOD'S WORLD

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Genesis 1:26-28 Psalm 8:1-9

By Alfred J. Buescher

By creating man and woman in His spirituality, God made them partakers of the Divine image.—Genesis 1:26-27.

In setting man apart from the animal world, God gave him the responsibility for its care.—Genesis 1:28.

Compared to the vast universe, man is insignificant, but he is of infinite worth to God.—Psalm 8:1-4.

Contemplating God's unfailing goodness, man ought to rejoice and praise Him.—Psalm 8:5-9.

Posers For Missionaries In Developing Countries

OTTAWA (CP) — You are a Christian missionary in a developing country. You see discrimination practised against a minority group. You see a small group of wealthy, politically-powerful people running the nation while the rest of the population is desperately poor.

Some modern missionaries have spoken strongly against these injustices. Some even have openly advocated revolutionary policies.

Often this means jail or expulsion from the country by the established powers.

In an interview, four Roman Catholic missionaries active in different parts of the world looked at this issue and decided that it is not the role of the foreign missionary to tell the nationals what to do.

On the other hand, they said the missionary can have an indirect influence on events. CAN GET INVOLVED.

The course was sponsored by St. Paul University, a Catholic theological college in Ottawa.

The missionaries, all middle-aged, had been active for years in their own mission fields—Brother Louis Gallant in the Seychelles Islands in the Indian Ocean, Sister Mary Luke in Fiji, Rev. Malcolm Martin in Brazil and Rev. Thomas-Louis Fortin in India.

"I feel very strongly as a foreigner that you can't get involved politically in the affairs of Brazil," said Father Martin, a mild, scholarly-looking man.

As far as trying to resolve a situation or overcome a difficult problem such as poverty or the political pressures in the nation, those who would disagree with national policies are thrown in jail.

"You have to help your people become aware of their situation of poverty, injustice and so on. You must look at it in terms of how they themselves can take the situation in hand."

SEEN AS INTRUDER. Others seemed to agree with this view.

Brother Gallant said a foreign missionary must face the fact that he is regarded as an intruder. He must win acceptance from the population before he can have any influence.

"But once you are accepted it is up to you how far you can move," he said. "It is a long process—a matter of years."

Brother Gallant is a missionary to the Seychelles, now a British colony peopled largely by former Negro slaves from Africa.

Most members of the group were grappling with some problem of discrimination though Father Martin said racial discrimination is not a major issue in Brazil. He said there has been a high degree of integration in the country.

Miracles Explainable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Miracles have a scientific explanation—even though man's current knowledge of science may not be comprehensive enough to provide the explanation, says a Princeton University professor.

Loures and faith-healing notwithstanding, said Malcolm Diamond in a paper delivered Sunday at the Academy of Religion seminar here, the idea of the miraculous should be rejected.

"If an instantaneous cure occurs in the waters of Lourdes," Diamond said, "it makes sense to put it in the 'to-be-explained' box of medical science."

Diamond told the 3,000 religious scholars attending the conference that the acceptance of an event as miraculous—violations of scientific processes—involves a "sellout of science."

Anglican Church Honors Minister

Since the former priest-in-charge of St. Michael and All Angels Anglican Church in Kelowna, and his wife, are avid gardeners, they were presented with a watering can at a reception Sunday. Inside the can was a purse of money.

Rev. Canon Charles Reeve, a retired priest, served the church since the resignation of Rev. Canon R. W. S. Brown in March. Canon and Mrs. Reeve are returning to their North Delta home.

David Sparrow, chairman of the church committee, made the presentation before about 50 people from the congregation of St. Michael's and St. Aidan's in Rutland.

The reception was also to introduce the new priest, Rev. James A. McCullum of Trail, and his family. Right Rev. R. E. F. Berry, who is in charge of St. Michael's before becoming bishop of Kootenay diocese last year, will induct him at 10 a.m. Sept. 17. Speaker will be A. E. Soles of Victoria, superintendent of post-secondary education for B.C., a friend of the McCullums. Another reception will follow.

James A. McCullum of Trail, and his family. Right Rev. R. E. F. Berry, who is in charge of St. Michael's before becoming bishop of Kootenay diocese last year, will induct him at 10 a.m. Sept. 17. Speaker will be A. E. Soles of Victoria, superintendent of post-secondary education for B.C., a friend of the McCullums. Another reception will follow.

A new staff priest is expected this month. Rev. Allan Jackson will help in Kelowna, also look after the Rutland church. He will replace Rev. Paul Robinson, who went to Fernie last month.

Rev. Lloyd Davies of Kaledon is looking after St. Aidan's now. There will be no service there Sept. 17.

Her religious order, the Marist Sisters, had established a school for 54 children from 23 island groups in the South Pacific.

She said the children were learning that each racial group could gain something from the others.

SEEN EXAMPLE. The community life of the nuns, the ability of nuns from different parts of the world to live together without friction, had prompted comment from some Fijian residents. It was an example the nuns could show others.

Father Fortin, working in Tripura state in northeast India, said that Bengalis were better off economically than the local tribal residents.

U.K. Trawlers Retreating

REYKJAVIK (Reuters) — About 40 British trawlers have retreated from a possible cod war showdown with Icelandic gunboats and moved well away from fishing grounds off Iceland's northwest coast.

The coast guard said Friday there have been no incidents in the fishing-limit dispute in the last three days but there was no explanation why the British trawler fleet has moved well out to sea and dispersed.

Observers said one reason could be that the 2,450-ton British frigate Aurora was reported approaching Iceland's east coast after a two-day voyage from Rosyth, Scotland, and the trawlers could be moving to ward her to continue fishing under the protective wing of the Royal Navy.

Cmnr. Charles Adams of the British support ship Miranda advised the trawler skippers Thursday: "Paint your ship's name and registration marks on again."

He later reported: "There are no longer any British trawlers here with blotted-out names and all are now flying the flag."

The trawlers had their names obliterated to avoid identification after Iceland extended its fishing limits to 50 nautical miles from 12 Sept. 1.

WON'T HEED LIMIT. Both Britain and West Germany have refused to recognize the new limit saying it violates international law.

Iceland protested that the blotting out of names violated international navigational rules and depicted the trawlers as pirates, threatening to punish them by cutting the wires of their fishing gears.

In Reykjavik Thursday, Belgium and Iceland signed an agreement giving Belgium special rights to fish inside Iceland's contested 50-mile limit, and Foreign Minister Einar Agustsson said the accord amounted to a de facto recognition of the new limit.

But political sources in Iceland said the British fishermen's retreat could be for emotional reasons. Bernard Carroll, 47, a seaman from the trawler Falstaff, had an arm amputated in a hospital in Isafjord, northwest Iceland, two days ago.

He had had his arm crushed while fishing outside the new limit and was brought ashore by the German support ship Frithjof.

Wisdom Of American Indians A Lesson For Modern Mankind

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two theologians say the North American Indian's wisdom of ecology and the spiritual could teach lessons to modern man.

But the portrait of the Indians' harmony with nature contrasted with gloomy reports about mankind at a convention of what sponsors call history's largest assemblage of religious thinkers.

Known as the first International Congress of Learned Societies in the Field of Religion, the five-day conference has drawn 3,000 participants from the United States, Canada, Europe and the Far East. Most participants represent Western religions.

"The modern concern with ecological problems invites us to a closer observation of the Indians on the religion-ecological level," Ake Hulkrantz of the University of Stockholm said at a forum Sunday.

In fact, added J. W. E. Newbery of the University of Sudbury, "the Indian is . . . not a pagan or an idolater, but knows the divine spirit is everywhere."

He said that when Christianity came to North America it not only trampled over Indian theology, but misunderstood it.

"The Indians' sense of nature was so sensitive that 'to cut a tree, or kill an animal, was not an act to be undertaken carelessly,'" Newbery said.

FUTURE IN DOUBT. Many theological thinkers questioned, in seminars and discussions, the directions of both religions, and mankind.

The conference, which ended Wednesday, had as its theme The Humanizing of Man.

In a paper prepared by Sydney E. Ahlstrom, director of graduate studies in Yale's department of religious studies, he stated religion has changed so much in the United States that "the American faith" that held sway in the first half of the century is dead.

Priest Honored

RUTLAND (Staff) — Rev. F. L. Flynn received three gifts marking the end of 20 years of service here. He has gone to Summerland, succeeding him at St. Theresa's Catholic Church will be Rev. Leslie Trainor of Sparrow, near Michel.

A reception for the departing priest was held Sunday afternoon in the church basement. From the parish he received a color television set, from the Catholic Women's League a chair, and from the Knights of Columbus a sleeping bag.

Father Flynn is a flying enthusiast. His sleeping bag was stolen this summer from a plane up north.

Refreshments were served by the CWL and the Kay Cetes, wives of members of the Knights of Columbus.

Robber Dies In P.Q. Battle

MONTREAL (CP) — Richard Favron, 27, died in a hall of bullets here, when he and a 32-year-old accomplice shot it out with police following a $5,322 robbery at a downtown bank. The second man was seriously wounded.

Police had staked out the bank after an earlier anonymous telephone tip. Heavy rush-hour traffic prevented police from intercepting the bandits on their way to the bank.

Police spokesman said the men, wearing wings, sunglasses, identical clothing and rubber gloves, were carrying an M-1 carbine and a blue pouch.

The accomplice, armed with a 9 MM pistol, stood guard while Favron ordered a teller to fill the pouch, police said.

Police ordered the men to surrender but they began shooting. The accomplice threw his gun down as he felt but Favron kept trying to get the gun on us as he dropped.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Family Disagrees He's Disabled

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: Help! Help! I have a problem that I find is common among people disabled by disease such as mine.

Diagnosis: Chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema, and arteriosclerotic heart disease. Although the above diagnosis was made by two clinics, both recommended by my employer, and the social security administration and insurance company both consider me to be totally and permanently disabled, my wife and family do not consider my condition to be a handicap.

They feel I should put in a full eight hours' work a day, mowing the lawn, gardening, repairing the house, painting, etc.

I do manage to work at these tasks about three to four hours a day, but it's rough because the very act of breathing can be labor, and then I am nagged because I can't get up in the morning.

I am 63, have provided a better than average home for my wife and three children. My wife never had to work, and the children are grown, are established in excellent careers.

I feel that a statement from you could make life more bearable. -I.V. Hadit.

Okay, I'll use your pen name and not your real name or initials. I don't know why, and I don't know how often, but I do know that at times there are people who have a distorted idea of what "disabled" means. If a person isn't on crutches, or bedridden, or in a wheelchair, they have a blind spot and can't comprehend disabilities that aren't visible.

In your case, your breathing is impaired, and you have heart disease, and there are many people who have lost a leg or a hand and are less disabled than you are. I don't see why your family can't recognize that. Their insistence that you do the work you mentioned is clearly unreasonable on their part.

You probably can tolerate a bit of work, taken at intervals with rest between, but when you run short of breath it is a signal that you are doing too much. It saps your reserve strength when, for the sake of your frail health, you should be conserving it.

If your family can't understand that, I see no alternative but to put your foot down. Do what you can comfortably and then rest until your breath comes easily again and you feel up to doing some more.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, 26, cannot have butter on anything, even at tiny pat on bread, or he gets stomach cramps and "the runs" every 10 or 15 minutes for the next two or three hours.

This sometimes develops with ice cream or related dairy products. In the three years we have been married, I have tried to get him to see a doctor as I know this is not normal. What do you think? -Mrs. A.D.

Well it might be an intolerance to dairy products, which certain people have to struggle along with. I would think some medical checking would be wise, though. Maybe in another three years of trying you can get him to see his doctor.

Opening lead—seven of clubs. Canada finished third in the Olympiad, Great Britain sixth, and the Canadians also had the best of the exchange when the two teams clashed head-on in the 14th round of the tournament. Canada won by 12 imps, worth 14 victory points out of a possible 20, but their team would have lost the match had the British North-South pair avoided the disaster they encountered on this deal.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Sunday, Sept. 10
Aries (March 21-April 19): The quiet of Sunday provides a vacuum in which your bright idea seems like a potential rainbow—perhaps it really is.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Share what you have with those you love; make it a social Sunday free from efforts at business or concern over theories.
Gemini (May 21-June 20): Make the rounds of your community, catch up on all the latest developments. Then gather all for a social gathering.
Cancer (June 21-July 22): Small changes turn out to be significant. You should be in your element of promoting good home life, domestic tranquility.
Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Experiments bring interesting results, particularly when children are involved. Outdoor doings have a special appeal to all.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There's excitement, news of a personal nature, something to celebrate. Gather friends and share the joy of being alive.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): In the midst of the holiday feeling of this Sunday there's a chance open to attend a long-neglected practical need.
Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): It's time you took a good look at what you think your problems are. Realize some are created or made worse by your attitudes.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Propose simple quiet sharing of favorite pastimes and pleasures once you've done your share of community formalities.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Listening well now can bring you insight that awakes strong motivation to do better, live a simpler, more effective life.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Think about your public image, make changes where indicated. Fresh contacts include unfamiliar but intriguing challenges.
Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Go to church, then make a full social adventure of this pleasant-enough Sunday. No plan is going to be complete, add as you go.
MONDAY, SEPT. 11
Aries (March 21-April 19): Where the going becomes important you may find yourself carrying most of the burden. Focus your energy on the immediate problem.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Divert yourself from concerns by deliberate concentration on improving some skill. Try and skip work for a while.
Gemini (May 21-June 20): You go it alone, like it or not, or suffer from those around you mixing things up. Some people fail to remember their promises.
Cancer (June 21-July 22): Most of the criticism offered is projection of the critic's own shortcomings. Praise yourself first, then others where it's possible.
Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Return favors, but lend nothing today. Select some serious routine that is behind schedule, bring it up to date.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Let decisions ride for a while—you are impatient, failing to see the importance of factors just beginning to work.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Coping with the unplanned is today's main challenge. Institutions, customs and tradition limit the range of what you can do.
Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Bring a routine, matter-of-fact approach to a business-as-usual program. It won't work out, but it's better than no plans.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): No coniving on private deals; if you want something strongly, make an open and honest bid for it. Allow for sensitivity.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Stick to tried-and-true methods, go ahead despite comments from competitors and rivals. You have something to defend.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): See the backlog of work and diverse complications that must be resolved before the changes you plan can be put into effect.
Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): The more they care, the more difficult the relation at the moment. Your gentle tact eventually turns the situation around.

'Cool' Is Word To Describe
How Mexico Expands Holdings
MEXICO CITY (Reuter) - Smoothly and quietly, the Mexican government is expanding its business holdings.

Owned 65 PER CENT
In the case of Azuferra Panamericana which accounts for three-quarters of Mexico's sulphur production, the government already owned 65 per cent of the company's shares.

BOUGHT SULPHUR FIRM
The Mexican government's acquisition of a controlling interest in Telefonos de Mexico came only three months after it bought full ownership of Azuferra Panamericana.

Virgin Islands Hills Scoured For Killers Of 8 Golfers

CHRISTIANSTED, St. Croix, V.I. (AP) — A posse of specially trained FBI agents scoured rugged hill country today for the slayers of eight Americans gunned down in the holdup of a golf resort in this United States Virgin Islands territory.

Using a helicopter and other aircraft as spotters, about 150 federal agents, police and federal marshals were involved in the search in an area laden with thick underbrush.

The posse concentrated its efforts adjacent to the luxury Fountain Valley Golf Course owned by the Rockefeller family.

Reuters news agency reported that police and FBI agents made three arrests in connection with the killings. However, The Associated Press later quoted a government official as denying that three persons were arrested. The official said one person was arrested but not in direct connection with the slayings. The person arrested may have been a witness, the official said.

Gov. Melvin H. Evans ordered all U.S. and Virgin Island flags flown at half-mast today in memory of the Fountain Valley dead, and he offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killers.

FEVER TAKES 30

LA PAZ, Bolivia (Reuter) — Thirty persons, many of them children, have been killed by a mystery fever in a peasant village south of here.

THO MEETS CHOU

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai had "a very cordial and friendly conversation" with Le Duc Tho, special adviser to the North Vietnamese delegation at the Paris peace talks who arrived in Peking Friday, a Peking broadcast reported. Hsinhua said Tho flew in from Hanoi en route to the Paris talks. It did not report details of the talks between Chou and Tho.

Canada Gives Application Forms To 11,000 Expelled Uganda Asians

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Canadian immigration officers distributed application forms for about 11,000 Asians wanting to settle in Canada during the first two days the offices here have been open, officials said Friday.

They said another 2,100 Asians called at the offices Thursday, representing an estimated 5,000 persons.

The first 86 heads of families were called for interviews Thursday and 72 of them satisfied Canada's immigration requirements.

No statistics were available here on intended jobs and destinations or current citizenship status but officials expressed surprise at the number of applicants who claimed to have relatives in Canada.

Only 80 Uganda Asians have so far applied for entry into Australia following President Idi Amin's expulsion order, an immigration department official said today.

An attache from Australia's embassy in Kenya will visit Kampala within two weeks to interview prospective immigrants, he said.

Most of the 29 applications covering the 80 persons were sent by mail to the Nairobi office, with a few individual personal applications, he said.

Draperies

Here's why you should let us make those special drapes:

- You get expert advice to help you choose the right design for your decor.

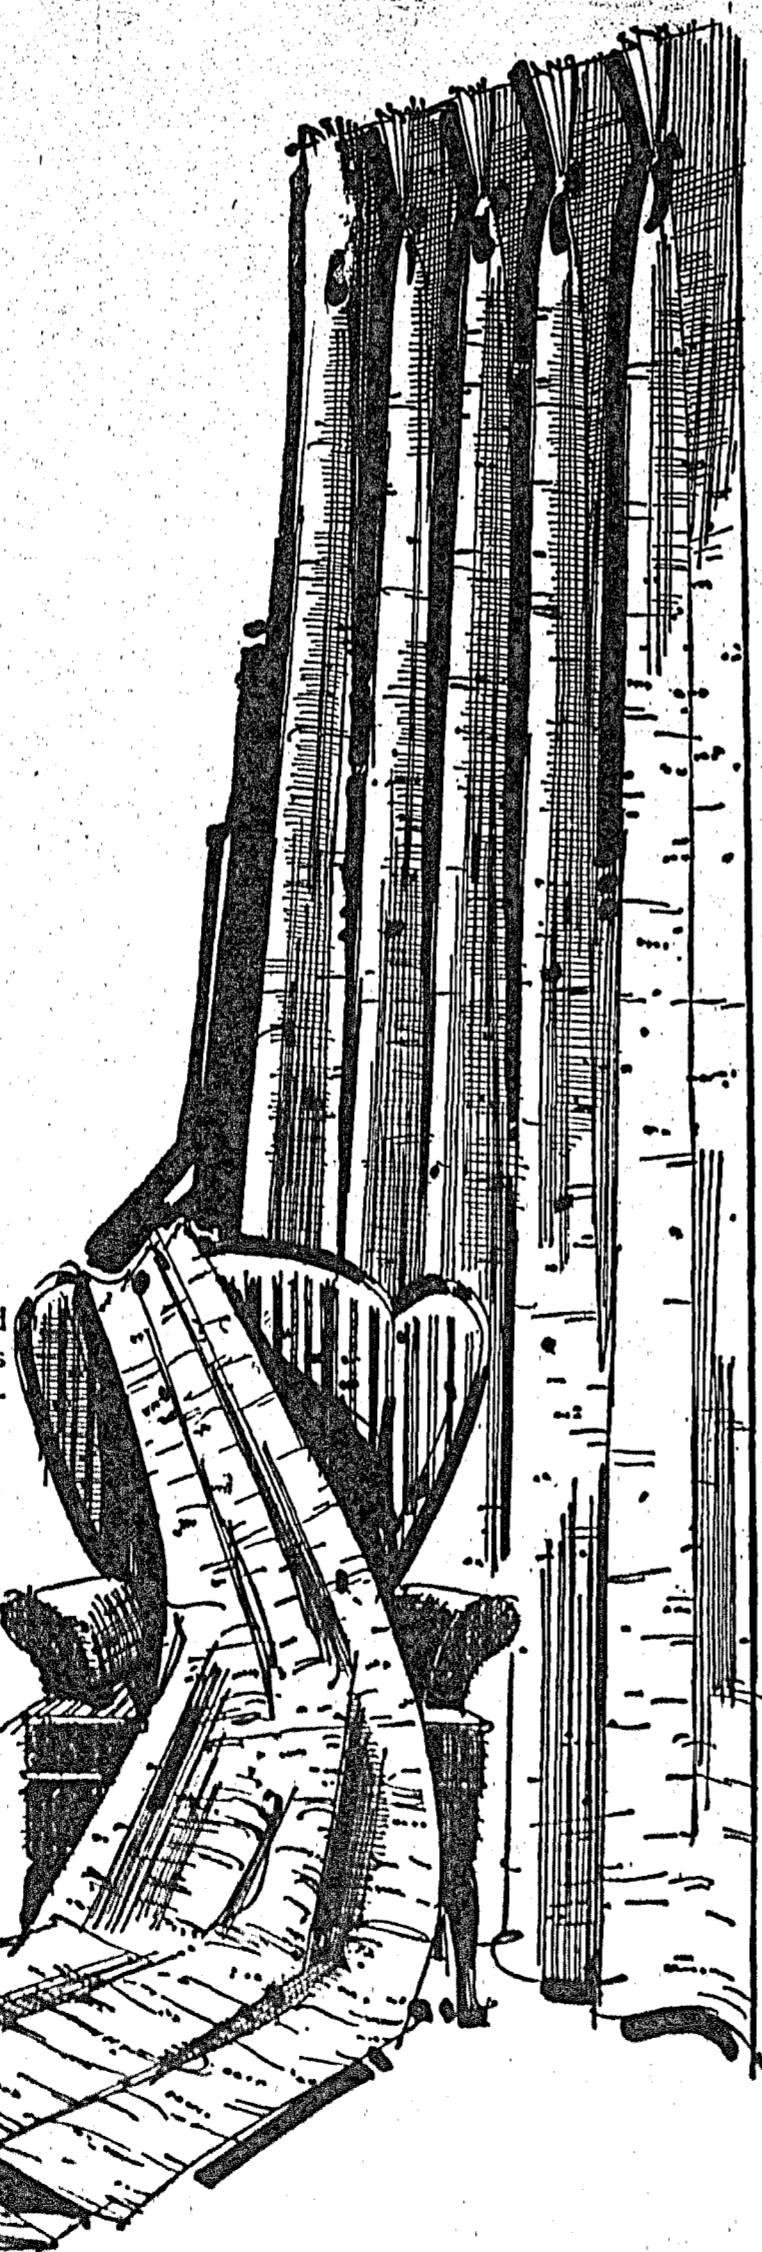

- You get access to our vast array of fine fabrics — dralons, open weaves, sheers, antique satins, damasks and many many more.

- Famous Roc Lon Rain-No-Stain lining is now available. Insulates against heat and cold, stops moisture stains, protects against sun fading and sun rot. Crease resistant too.

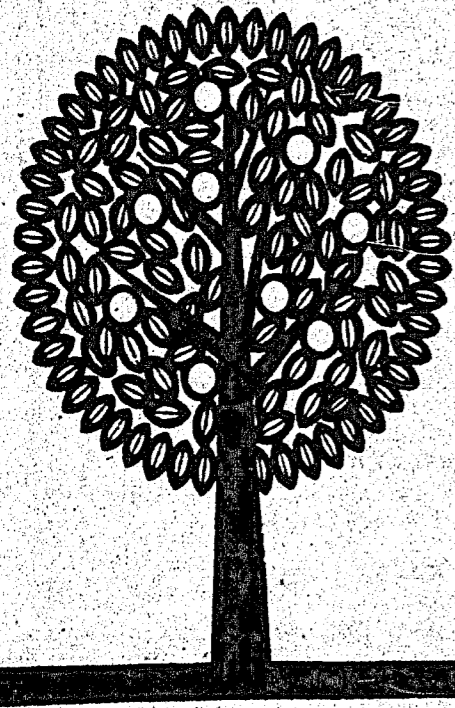

- You get proud workmanship, careful details, deep pleats, invisible stitching, straight hems, etc.

- And, finally, you get a big 20% saving on the fabric.

So don't wait, call us today. Our skilled decorator consultant will take samples to your home and give you a free estimate without obligation.
