Lifeline of New Products – Destination: The Patient's Bedside

Mary Bent Mangano, MSN, RN, New Products Coordinator Department of Nursing Education, Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals, Philadelphia, PA

What is the Value Analysis/ Product Review Process?

The Value Analysis/Product Review Process is a method for all product requests new or modified, consumable/ disposable that are brought into the Hospital to be reviewed/evaluated for quality and efficiency of care prior to use in the Hospital.

Goals of the Value Analysis/ Product Review Methodology

- Decrease cost while improving quality
- Search for the most acceptable Hospital product based on evidence and research available on the product. The focus is deliverance of safe quality care in a cost effective manner.
- Promote standardization of products, Hospital-wide, across all campuses

Value Analysis/Product Review Structure

Rationale for Submitting an Online Request for a Product Reasons to submit a request are: • To replace a current product • To introduce new technology • To enhance a safe work environment for the employee

• To provide a safe and effective product in the delivery of care to the patient • To standardize and streamline a product line

How to Submit a Product Request Using the Intranet
