TO THE ALUMNI:

A few weeks ago Ursinus College received from The Pew Memorial Foundation two grants: one in the amount of $200,000 for women's dormitories, and one in the amount of $10,000 for general purposes. During the past four years the Directors of The Pew Memorial Foundation have made several grants to the College. For these very generous and helpful expressions of their confidence in Ursinus College the alumni and friends of Ursinus are deeply grateful.

The plan of the Board of Directors of Ursinus College is to build a group of dormitories for about 200 women. The cost will be about $800,000. The gift of The Pew Memorial Foundation brings the total available for this purpose to $600,000. I am confident that during the next two years the contributions of alumni and friends will provide the additional $200,000 that we need. The Board of Directors today decided not to wait until this additional $200,000 is in hand, but to build at once so that the dormitories will be ready for use in September, 1956.

At present our enrollment is 685 (414 men and 271 women). Of this total, 562 are resident students. The new dormitories will enable us to increase the number of resident students to 760. We plan to accept as resident students one hundred men and one hundred women above the present number. The College will retain most of the houses that the women now occupy. Some of these houses we shall continue to use as dormitories for women; other houses we shall convert into dormitories for men.

During the last six and one-half years gifts and bequests have enabled the College to double the permanent endowment funds. This the Board of Directors has accomplished without intensive "campaigns" under the direction of professional fund-raisers. The Board plans no special appeal, no intensive "campaign" or "drive", for the additional $200,000 needed to cover the cost of the dormitories. I am certain that the Board will find the gifts needed for this purpose. I am certain also that we alumni are eager to give our share of the total. Each graduate, when sending a gift to the Loyalty Fund, may designate the gift "for the dormitories" or for any other purpose approved by the College. I hope that our gifts to the Loyalty Fund this year and next year will break all records. I hope also that within one week after the alumni read this page we shall receive gifts from at least a thousand alumni. If you have already sent a gift this year, perhaps you will decide to send a second one.

THE COLLEGE

General Electric Company Aids Alumni Giving

The General Electric Company has established the Corporate Alumnus Program in which its Educational and Charitable Fund joins with the employees of the General Electric Company and its subsidiaries in the support of the colleges and universities at which these employees received their higher education.

The program provides that G.E. will in 1955 match any gift to any college or university by an alumnus of that college or university up to $1000 if the employee is in active regular employment of the General Electric Company.

Dr. Philip D. Reed, Chairman of the Fund's trustees, explained that the trustees are strongly convinced that one of the greatest untapped sources of continuing support for higher education lies in regular contributions by alumni. With the backing and co-operation of the General Electric Company, the trustees decided that a "corporate alumnus" program, with its provisions for joint action by the alumni and the fund, would do the most to stimulate colleges and universities to develop their own alumni-giving programs and thereby help themselves.

In announcing the plan, Mr. Reed said the plan "is thought to be unique in business-education circles because it provides for joint participation in the giving program by individual employees who are college graduates, and by the Educational Fund".

The program was heralded by the American Alumni Council this January as the best means yet to educate the college graduate to the needs of the privately endowed institution.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred on James William Bright Jr., Harold Stephen Gold, Richard Eulner Howard, Orrin Hardy Main, and Maurice Jean Van DePutte.

Rev. A. G. Gonser, Founders' Day Speaker

The annual service commemorating the founding of Ursinus College was held on Sunday, Oct. 24 in Bomberger Chapel. Dr. N. E. McClure, President of the College, gave the welcoming address, briefly reviewing the history of Ursinus. The school was founded by the German Reformed Church and was named for Zacharias Ursinus, author of the Heidelberg Catechism, theologian and scholar.

Two great men in the history of Ursinus College were present at the service. They were Dr. George E. Pfahler, member of the Board of Directors, and Dr. Harry E. Paisley, President of the Board of Directors.

The Founders' Day address was given by the Reverend Albert G. Gonser, President of the South Wisconsin Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Dr. Gonser spoke about the merger of the Evangelical and the Reformed Churches, which occurred on June 26, 1934. The Church is now celebrating the twentieth anniversary of this union. Dr. Gonser spoke briefly on the history of both churches. Both originated from lands bordering the Rhine River in Germany, and both date back to the Protestant Reformation of the 16th century. Dr. Gonser mentioned the extensive part the Evangelical and Reformed Church has played in interdenominational works, and he stressed the fact that only a truly united church can make an impact on a divided world.

Five honorary degrees were conferred at the ceremonies upon Rev. Chester Louis Brachman, Rev. Albert G. Gon-

General Motors Corporation Announces Scholarship Program

The General Motors Corporation has announced a major expansion in its program of financial support to higher education. Harlow H. Curtice, president of G.M. disclosed a pioneering $2,000,000 annual program of four-year scholarships to students and of grants to 306 colleges and universities throughout the country. The program includes three plans, A College Plan, A National Plan, and A Foundation Plan. The College Plan, of course, is the one of greatest importance to the administration and alumni of Ursinus College. Under the College Plan, two hundred and fifty scholarships, ranging up to $2,000 annually, depending upon "demonstrated need", will be awarded by one hundred seven private colleges and universities and thirty nine public institutions in thirty eight states. The selection of these institutions is based on a formula under which at least one scholarship is made available to each accredited private institution which has twenty or more graduates employed by General Motors. A maximum of five scholarships a year, reaching a total of twenty in the fourth year of the program, will be available to any one institution.

The colleges and universities selected are given a free hand in choosing students of higher scholastic ability and leadership potential to receive these scholarship awards. The only qualifications are that the recipients be outstanding scholastically, have leadership qualities and need assistance.

In order to make certain that the Alumni Office has the names of all alumni employed by General Motors we request that each alumnus so employed write the Alumni Office at once.

The Foundation Plan will also be of benefit to colleges in Pennsylvania as General Motors will make unrestricted grants of $10,000 each to foundations representing colleges in Indiana, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New England.

Dr. Scheffey becomes President of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia

Dr. Lewis Cass Scheffey, Sc.D., Ursinus '43, Professor of Gynecology at Jefferson Medical College and Director of the Division of Gynecology, was on January 5 inaugurated as President of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia.

Several years ago Dr. Scheffey established the Jefferson Medical College Scholarship, which is awarded annually to an Ursinus senior who has been accepted for admission to Jefferson Medical College.

Record Crowd Attends Old Timers' Day

Old Timers' day was one of the most festive occasions of the Fall season. It was celebrated by Ursinus students and Alumni on October 23. The many activities of Homecoming had been in the making for many weeks and the Spirit Committee is to be commended for its excellent work.

Festivities started with the Junior-Frosh breakfast for women in the college woods below the football field. The junior advisors prepared a delicious meal which was enjoyed by all in attendance around the large outdoor fireplaces. Most dormitories participated in the contest for the best-decorated dorm, which is an Old Timers' Day tradition at Ursinus. The first prize, a loving cup, went to Glenwood Hall for the second consecutive year. The Dorm used a nautical theme, complete with gangplank and with swabbies leaning from the portholes. Fetterolf House was judged the most original for its theme which centered around the flapper days of our alumni. Duryea Hall received honorable mention. The colorful decorations created a festive air traditional of Homecoming.

The sororities held luncheons in honor of their alumni before the football game with Swarthmore, KDK and O Chi held theirs at Lakeside Inn, Tau Sig members could be found at the Collegeville Inn, while Phi Psi was at Moorehead's. Sigma Nu chose the Perkiomen Bridge Hotel for their gathering.

The mood of Homecoming this year could be seen in the Freshmen at the football game flashing their red and black cards to form a U in the stands. Many alumni returned for the game and participated in the election of the Varsity Club Queen. Each fraternity elected a candidate, and during half-time these candidates were driven around the field in colorfully decorated convertibles. The candidate for Delta Sigma Lambda was Sonnie Kruse '57, Mims Lawley '57 represented Alpha Phi Epsilon, Eileen Kinderman '56 Demas, Zeta Chi elected Robin Blood '56, while Delta Pi Sigma chose Ellie Marcon '56, and Sigma Rho Lambda's choice was Barbara Rack '55. The voting was conducted at the game and the winner was announced at the Varsity Club Dance that night.

Following the game refreshments were served by the Alumni Association in the New Gym. The Old Timers' Day Alumni Committee were Grace Brandt

Many of the alumni enjoyed this opportunity to talk with their classmates and undergraduate friends. The fraternities held parties and dinners before the dance. In the evening a banquet was held in Freeland Dining Room as a Kick-off Dinner for the 1955 Loyalty Fund Campaign for the Class Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of each graduating class. Dr. McClure and several alumni adressed the gathering. Each lady who attended received a plant as a gift.

One of the biggest events of the day was the Varsity Club Dance which was held in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium at 8:00 p.m. The gym was decorated with red, black and old gold streamers. Many of the alumni remained for the dance. The music for the evening was provided by Bill Tull's Campus Dance Band. Joan Kacik '54, the band's vocalist last year, sang at the dance. The high point of the evening was the crowning of the Varsity Club Queen, Mims Lawley, representing the Apes fraternity.

BAND REVIEW ON OLD TIMERS' DAY

Chemistry Department Changes Curriculum

By Prof. R. D. Sturgis

New courses will be offered and revisions in present courses in chemistry will become effective in September 1955. These changes have been considered for several years as a result of the rapidly expanding field of organic and inorganic chemistry. The last changes in the chemistry curriculum were made between 1925 and 1930 when qualitative and quantitative analysis were offered each year and physical chemistry with laboratory work was begun.

Now that Dr. Staiger has completed his graduate work and is giving full time to teaching, the department is able to improve its work. Two years ago the course in general chemistry was divided so that non-science and science majors could be given the content and emphasis desirable for each. In September qualitative analysis will be reduced to a one semester course instead of being absorbed by general chemistry as in so many universities, and quantitative analysis will be expanded from 6 to 8 credit hours. This is in line with accrediting requirements of the American Chemical Society. The changes in "qual" and "quan" will enable the "pre-meds" to take a course in "quan" without taking a whole year of qualitative analysis.

Finally Dr. Staiger will offer two new courses: Organic Qualitative Analysis and Advanced Inorganic Preparations. Both will be for one semester and elective in the senior year. Dean Pettit, who teaches organic chemistry, urged the introduction of the course in organic qualitative as early as 1945. As Professor of Organic Chemistry he planned to offer it but because of his duties as Registrar and now as Dean he does not have time to do so.

We believe that the courses to be offered will help our graduates to meet the demands for an ever broadening chemical training. Laboratory courses are expensive and our laboratory budget is large in comparison with those of non-science courses. As senior member of the chemistry department I must express my appreciation to President McClure and to Dr. Helfferich in particular who is "Director of the Budget" for providing the department with adequate funds for its operation.

Dr. Heiges Passes Away

Dr. Jesse Shearer Heiges, 83, of Sixth Ave., Collegeville, died at the Montgomery hospital in Norristown on January 17 after a short illness. He was Professor Emeritus of Education at Ursinus, having been a graduate of the College in the class of 1898 and a member of the faculty from 1935 to 1948.

A statement written shortly before his death as part of a biographical sketch summarizes most adequately the character of this man and teacher.

"My philosophy was something like this: My chief concern was in 'Making a Life', not in making a living, although of course 'Making a Life' includes making a living. To me this meant culture of my higher nature, doing God's will and rendering service to my fellow-man, contributing my mite toward making this world a better place in which to live. I believed thoroughly in the philosophy of Horace Mann as expressed by him in these words, 'Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity.'"

Dr. Heiges was a native of Luthersberg, Pa. He was graduated from Shippensburg Normal School in 1891 and from Ursinus college in 1898. After teaching in secondary schools he joined the staff at Shippensburg and was successively instructor, dean of instruction at Shippensburg Normal School and Shippensburg State Teachers College when the name was changed.

He retired from the Shippensburg faculty in 1934 and came to Ursinus to teach in the education department until his retirement.

He was a member of a number of state and national educational societies.

Report from the Registrar's Office

By Prof. Geoffrey Dolman

Classes started in September with a total of 685 students. Although a few dropped out from various causes and a few more left at the end of the first term by invitation of the faculty, 30 additional students joined the undergraduate body when classes resumed for the second semester on February 7th.

Heartened by the announcement of plans for new dormitories for women, the Registrar is making plans for a slight but gradual increase in enrollment over the next several years. Applications at present show a 39% increase over last year, a trend which we hope will result in a healthy competition for a limited number of vacancies in September.

The Registrar reports a spirited increase in the active support by alumni in sending and bringing prospective students to the campus. Telephone calls and letters from alumni in support of candidates have been increasing as well. Alumni influence has been directly responsible for the visit of nearly two hundred high school students in the last year, and early indications show that at least four or five sons and daughters of alumni will be in the freshman class in September.

Alumni are urged to inform the Registrar of the names and addresses of high school juniors and seniors, who show promise of becoming good Ursinus students.

He had contributed a number of articles to education journals.

The athletic field at Shippensburg is named in his honor.

He held an honorary membership in the Lower Perkiomen Rotary club. He was a Mason.

Dr. Heiges was a member of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church of Collegeville and taught in the Sunday School.

Two sons, Dr. Ralph E. Heiges, '25, of Indiana, Pa., and Attorney Jesse G. Heiges, '35, of New York City, survive. He is also survived by a grandson and two sisters: Mrs. Cora Kroll and Mrs. George Seibert, both of Dillsburg, Pa.

Evelyn Glazier Henzel '32 Elected to State Office

Mrs. Henry Henzel (Evelyn Glazier, '32), Alumni Representative to the Board of Directors of Ursinus College, was a successful candidate for election to the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Third District of Montgomery County at the last election held on November 2, 1954.

Mrs. Henzel's legislative activities have been a continuation of the social, civic and educational interests in which she participated prior to her election. She is serving as a member of the Child Health Committee and the Public Health and Sanitation Committee in the present House.

On February 24, 1955, Mrs. Henzel discussed her legislative experiences with the International Relations Club at the College. She referred to her sponsorship of legislation seeking clarification of the school bus passing law. Other legislation which she is sponsoring deals with the promoting of equal pay for women, and limiting the distribution of crime horror comic books through the efforts of a standard setting commission. All persons were agreed that Mrs. Henzel is a very competent legislator.

Lloyd Hoagey '28 and Family Featured in National Advertising Program

The Lloyd A. Hoageys, 349 Church Street, Sellersville, are currently being seen on the pages of several national magazines. The Hoagey family, selected as the typical American home user of electricity, is featured in a full-page advertisement sponsored by the nation's electric light and power companies.

Served by Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., and selected from America's forty-two million domestic electric customers, the Hoageys are now being seen in the December issue of Editor and Publisher, Broadcasting and Telecasting Publisher's Auxiliary, and American Press. They will also be seen in the January 7 issue of Colliers, January 22 issue of Saturday Evening Post, January 28 issue of U.S. News and World Report, the January issue of American magazine and in Look magazine's February 8 issue.

The advertisement pictures Mr. and Mrs. Hoagey and their 13-year-old son, David, on the lawn of their home surrounded by more than fifty different electrical appliances which they use in their home to make living easier and more comfortable.

The advertisement points out that when Mr. Hoagey, a popular Sellersville insurance agent, was his son's age, electricity was used principally for lighting. The Hoagey's, as they are pictured in the advertisement, serve to illustrate the great strides which have taken place in the field of electrical development since then. In the relatively few short years since Mr. Hoagey was his son's age, use of electricity in America has multiplied seven times.

Besides their son, David, the Hoageys have an 18-year-old daughter, Kitty Lee, now a freshman at Pennsylvania State University.

Watch for Your Ballot Alumni Elections—April 1

South Jersey Alumni Group Bring Prospective Students to Campus

On February 19, the South Jersey Regional Alumni Association sponsored a trip for a group of approximately eighty high school juniors and seniors from the South Jersey area to the Ursinus campus. The group were greeted by the Registrars and the Dean of the College at a luncheon in the college dining room. The group of prospective students were then taken on tours of the campus and dormitories by student guides.

The program was planned and executed by the officers of the South Jersey group, President, Maurice Shuman and Secretary, Barbara Taylor Lentz.

The Ursinus Alumni Association of York is also planning a similar project for later in the spring.

Regional Group Meetings Planned

Robert R. Geist, President of the Regional Ursinus College Alumni Association of the Lehigh Valley has announced the annual dinner meeting for April 29th. The dinner will be at 6:30 in the Bethany E. & R. church at 5th Ave. and Market St. in Bethlehem. The speaker will be Mr. William Reimert of the Board of Directors and Managing Editor of the Allentown Call-Chronical newspaper.

The New York Regional group has announced that its annual meeting will be held May 4th in New York City. Details of the proposed meetings will be mailed to all alumni in their respective regions well in advance of the meeting dates.

The Philadelphia Regional Alumni Association held a Dinner-Dance on Saturday, March 12, at Casa Conti, Glenside, Pa. Music was supplied by the Ursinus campus band under the direction of Hal Singley. Officers of the Philadelphia Group are: President, Frank A. Wood, Jr.; Vice President, William E. Turner, Jr.; Secretary, Shirley Roberta Hutton; Treasurer, Hugh McLaughlin, Jr.

Ron Kichline '16 (right) former head coach at Ursinus receives gifts for his many years of devotion to football.

Ron Kichline '16 Honored by Football Officials

Ronald C. Kichline, former Athletic Coach at Ursinus and the organizer of the Berks Football Officials' Association, was publicly honored for his many years of devotion to football at the 16th annual banquet of the Berks Football Officials' Association on December 1, 1954, at the Goodwill Fire Co, Reading, Pa. He is shown above receiving a silver platter from Jack Winters on behalf of the Philadelphia Chapter of Eastern Intercollegiate Officials, and a trophy from Walter J. P. Kurowski, President of the Berks Officials.

Kichline, who has been active in sports for more than forty years, has coached at Mansfield, Juniata, Vermont Academy, Ursinus, and at Reading High School.

It was while Ron was at Ursinus between 1925 to 1931 that he achieved coaching prominence. Under him the Bears registered successes such as the six victories, three losses in 1930, and a 6-2-1 log in 1931. The two defeats in the latter year were by Army and Drexel. After graduating from Ursinus in 1916, he became faculty member-coach at Mansfield State Normal School. In 1918 he left to join the army. In 1921 Kichline introduced football at Juniata College and in 1925 he came to Ursinus as head coach.

Dean Clawson Publishes Mathematical Paper

Since his retirement in 1952 as Dean of the College, Dr. John W. Clawson has used a part of his leisure in geometrical investigation. He published a paper in 1954 in the American Mathematical Monthly entitled, "A Chain of Circles Associated with the 5-line", which exhibits some of the results of his studies. As long as the supply lasts, Dr. Clawson will be glad to send a reprint of this paper to any of his former students who may ask for it.

JANUARY 1955 REPORT LOYALTY FUND CAMPAIGN

1955 Loyalty Fund Campaign Ahead of Last Year

Comparison of totals of the number of contributors and amounts contributed by January 21, 1954 and 1955 show this year's campaign to be well ahead of last year. The number of contributors was up 60% and the amounts contributed were up 56% over the same period last year. The interest and activity of the Loyalty Fund Chairman are responsible for this favorable report.

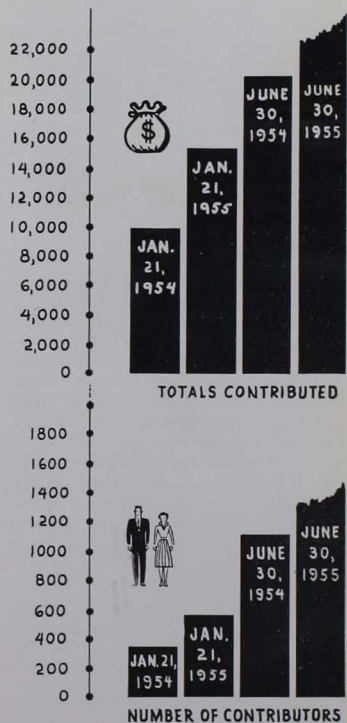

It is hoped that the announcement by Dr. McClure in his letter to the Alumni concerning the building of the new women's dormitories will encourage all Ursinus alumni to increase their gifts to the college.

The General Electric Corporate Alumnus Program as announced on page three of the Journal should also help to produce excellent results in the 1955 campaign.

Professors John Heilemann and Evan S. Snyder in the Atomic Physics Laboratory.

The thief who in 1952 made off with most of Ursinus Physics Department's electronics equipment turned out to be a college benefactor. One of the pieces of equipment which was stolen was a Geiger counter, a sensitive electronic instrument used to detect the presence of radioactive substances. The counter which disappeared had been used in an experiment in the Atomic Physics laboratory work, so it was necessary to find a temporary and inexpensive replacement for the experiment in which it had been used. A diffusion-type cloud chamber seemed to be a good choice, since interest in the device had currently been revived. Reduced to its bare essentials an elementary diffusion cloud chamber consists of a glass box with a metal bottom which rests on a cake of dry ice; a wet blotter humidifies the air in the box and the air just above the cold metal plate becomes so saturated that a cloud forms readily if atomic nuclei are provided in which the water vapor can condense. Such nuclei are provided as electrical debris when an atom of a radioactive substance undergoes spontaneous disintegration. The electrical debris condense a cloud path as they pass through the water vapor. Dr. John Heilemann and Mr. Evan S. Snyder of the Ursinus Physics department set about to construct a cloud chamber according to specifications found in the literature to study the emanations of radioactive materials.

Radioactive substances give rise primarily to three kinds of emanation; electrons, alpha particles, and gamma rays. Electrons are minute quantities of negative electricity, alpha particles are electrically charged helium atoms and gamma rays are a form of penetrating radiation similar to light, radio waves, and x-rays. When charged particles such as electrons pass through very humid air, they cause the moisture to condense along their paths, leaving a kind of "vapor trail," and the thickness and length of this trail depends upon the speed and size of the particles. The super-humid air just above the plate of the elementary cloud chamber is ideally suited for the observation of such vapor trails: if the plate is blackened and the glass box is strongly illuminated from the side, the particles emanating from a piece of uranium ore produce trails or tracks which are easily seen. Alpha particles travel a few inches in air before being stopped, while electrons may travel many feet before losing their energy. The track of an alpha particle is thick and straight, that of an electron is thin and irregular.

When a chamber was constructed according to the specifications found in the literature the results were disappointing. The tracks, when they did appear, were difficult to see and the dry ice disappeared at an alarming rate. Under the direction of Professors Snyder and Heilemann, the students in the physics laboratory constructed a chamber like the one shown in the second diagram. The glass box was replaced by a double-walled plastic one and the cake of dry ice by a vacuum bottle filled with a mixture of wood alcohol and powdered dry ice. The metal plate was cooled by conducting the heat away through the brass rod which dipped into the cooling mixture, so that a small quantity of dry ice lasted for as long as several hours. Fortunately nearly optimum conditions of size and temperature were realized in the very first model constructed so that it operated with a reliability and showed things which were not even imagined when the project was started. It turned out to be very easy to make moving pictures, as far as is known the first ever to be made of an operating cloud chamber.

In 1953 the new modification of the cloud chamber was entered by Professors Snyder and Heilemann in the Iowa Colloquium of College Physicists in competition with other equipment from throughout the United States and received first prize in the demonstration of new physics laboratory equipment.

Indirectly the thief of May 27, 1952 unwittingly inspired the development of a demonstration apparatus and a set of moving pictures of the cloud chamber in operation which will carry the name of Ursinus to every part of the civilized world. The name of Ursinus will appear in the advertising of the scientific apparatus company which purchased the motion picture films and the design for the cloud chamber. The profits of this enterprise have been returned to the college to be made available for new equipment for the physics department. This is just one example of the resourcefulness and loyalty of the Ursinus faculty.

History Department Requests Magazines

The History Department of Ursinus College is assembling a library of art reproductions to be used in conjunction with some of its history courses. Dr. Elizabeth Foster and Mr. William Parsons, '47, Professors in the History Department would like to appeal to alumni for back issues of Life Magazine, the National Geographic Magazine, Art News, or other periodicals containing articles dealing with painting, sculpture, or architecture. Issues of the World War II years or immediate post-war years are particularly desired. Bring them along when you pay a visit to Ursinus or send them to Mr. Parsons in care of the History Department.

Varsity Club Banquet

The Varsity Club's annual banquet will be held Tuesday, May 10th at a place undesignated as yet.

Features will include the awarding of recognition plaques to seniors, most valuable player cups to designated individuals in the various sports, awarding of letters and sweaters, and the awarding of the James P. Armstrong Memorial Trophy to the "Most Valuable Athlete of 1954-55." This trophy was established last year by Matthew "Max" Zeski, Class of 1941, in memory of Jim Armstrong, beloved classmate. Last year's recipient was William Burger.

The featured speaker will be John Steckbeck of Dickinson College, author of the book "Fabulous Redmen." The book is the story of the famous Carlisle Indians and of course Jim Thorpe. His talk will be about these "Fabulous Redmen."

All former Varsity Club members and others interested in athletics at Ursinus are invited to attend. After the meeting there will be a meeting of the recently organized group of "Ursinus Boosters" under the leadership of George Sauerman. For further details of alumni attendance at the Varsity Club Banquet, contact George Sauerman, c/o Levenwood Dairies, Pottstown, Pa.

Curtain Club Presents "My Three Angels" for Spring Play

The Ursinus College Curtain Club will present its Spring Play on May 13th and 14th at 8:30 P.M. in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium. The play reading committee has chosen a delightful comedy, MY THREE ANGELS, by Sam and Bella Spewak. Rehearsals are now under way. Mr. H. Lloyd Jones, Jr., is faculty director and the student director has not yet been announced.

MY THREE ANGELS is a comedy about the well-meaning but criminal efforts of three convicts in French Guiana to aid the course of true love and bumbling economics in the household of a French storekeeper who is sadly distressed by a harsh relative. The play was enormously successful on Broadway a few years ago and promises to be equally successful in the Ursinus tradition of sparkling May Day humor.

All alumni and friends of the college are urged to make reservations for either the Friday or Saturday night performances. Tickets can be ordered by telephoning Mrs. Mary S. Steele in the President's office or by leaving a request at the switchboard, Collegeville 3311.

Theatre Group Presents TV Show

The Delta Tau Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatic fraternity at Ursinus, is rehearsing under the direction of Messrs. Geoffrey Dolman and Lloyd Jones a short dramatic cutting from David Copperfield for presentation on Television Station WPTZ, Channel 3, Classroom Playhouse. The performance is scheduled for 10:45 A.M. on Friday, May 13th.

Missing Ruby Issues

The Alumni Office library of Class Ruby's is in constant use as a reference shelf of valuable alumni information. It includes volumes from the first Ruby published in 1896 by the Junior Class in the memory of Dr. Samuel Vernon Ruby, Professor of English Language and Literature, through to the present with the exception of some missing issues during the war years. The collection also includes special reunion issues which have been published on six occasions by reunioning classes.

The Alumni Office would like to make an appeal for copies for five missing years, '28, '45, '46, '48 and '49. If any married alumni of the same year have two copies, it would be appreciated if they would consider contributing one of the copies to the office library.

Sports Review

Football Season 1954

Led by Captain Ken Walker, the "Fighting Bears" gave Ursinus its second successive winning season with a 4-3-1 record. Along with the 1953 season, it was the best record posted by an Ursinus football team since the early thirties.

Ursinus averaged over 15 points per game while the opponents averaged 17. Ursinus scored in every game, while holding three opponents scoreless.

The Bears gained an even split with the two new opponents on the schedule, downing Brooklyn College 19-0 and being crushed 47-6 by Moravian College.

The Gurzynski-Spangler record of having never lost an "Old Timer's Day" game since taking over was kept intact. In a thrill packed contest on Patterson Field, the Bears came from behind to tie Swarthmore 20-20. Paul Neborak threw a touchdown pass from a "boot-leg" play to end LeRoy Krasley to make it a 19-20 with only minutes to play. Captain Ken Walker calmly booted the all-important extra point to tie it at 20-20.

Three men will be lost by graduation, Captain Ken Walker, half-back; Al Paolone, half-back; and Nick Chapis, tackle. Fullback John Conti, although only a junior, will be going to dental school. These four men will be greatly missed.

To single out any individuals or groups among the veterans and newcomers for special mention would require fine powers of discrimination since so many showed great promise. Suffice to say, the coaches are quite willing to predict at least as successful a season for 1955 as enjoyed by the 1954 team.

The coaching staff expresses its heartfelt thanks to the alumni for their continuing interest and support.

Basketball 1954-1955

The basketball team opened the season with a thrilling 80 to 76 victory over a surprisingly good National Agriculture College five. Hopes for a successful year were boosted with victories over Susquehanna, Philadelphia Pharmacy and Swarthmore. Mixed with these victories were close losses to Juniata, Delaware, and F. and M. Then the Bears seemed to lose the touch in losses to Haverford and Drexel. Lack of height seems to be the big difficulty, but with a few weeks rest better things are expected in the last six league encounters. So far the starting five has been made up of co-captains Carl Smith and Gene Harris, leading scorer Ralph Schumacher, Art Ehlers and Jack Schumacher. Players lending much assistance are Phil Smith, Ron Owens, Paul Neborak, Andy Carter, Wayne Engle, and Dave Burger.

Larry Zartman '55 Makes All-American Soccer List

Larry Zartman, an Ursinus senior, has been chosen by the National Soccer Coaches' Association, official All-American second soccer team for 1954. Larry was also named to the first team All Northeast League Middle Atlantic Conference.

Zartman, whose home is in Myerstown, Pa. was honored at the annual Awards Luncheon at the Hotel Martinique in New York City on January 15th. Larry ranks with the top twenty-two soccer players in the United States.

"Ace" Bailey, Ursinus Director of Athletics, says, "This is the first time, to my knowledge that an Ursinus athlete has been officially recognized on an All-American team."

Coach Baker has lauded Zartman by stating that "This award is a rare honor indeed and one rarely to be expected in a college of Ursinus' size. Zartman is a player whose diligence, good nature, and skill are exceptional. Perhaps his outstanding characteristic is the superb condition of muscle and mind which enables him to drive full speed for 88 minutes of every game."

Soccer Season 1954

The Ursinus Soccer Team enjoyed its best season in years the past fall, winning six of its nine games. After victories over LaSalle and Muhlenberg, a hard-fought fray at Lafayette, tied up at 3-3 at the close of the regular periods, was lost by one goal in the overtime.

The game which followed against the Alumni was close, 1-0 in favor of the undergraduates, as the Alumni fielded an unusually strong side. The Old-Timers who renewed their youth, their charley-horses, and their sore shins on this occasion were: J. Bright, '54; M. Aden, '54; H. Davis, '54; J. Ely, '52; C. Foreman, '54; C. Frambes, '53; H. Knull, '54; R. Lange, '54; R. Lewis, '50; V. Morningstar, '42; J. Peterson, '50; A. Simons, '48; E. Ulmer, '48.

Two losses, the last of the season, followed at the hands of our always strong neighbors, Swarthmore and Haverford. The latter team, Conference winners last year and this, was the only opponent to finish more than one goal in the lead.

After a close victory over Lehigh in Bethlehem, the team returned home to play the most exciting game of the season against a strong Drexel eleven. The continued hard work and spirit of the home club earned the one point which meant victory. This was probably the best played game in Ursinus soccer history. The season closed with another hard match at F. & M., where, though the winning goal was slow in coming, Ursinus' superiority was hardly in doubt.

One regularly scheduled Junior Varsity game was lost to Haverford 1-0.

Wrestling Report 1954-'55 Alumnae Sports

During 1954, the Ursinus wrestling team sported an even log of three wins, one tie and three defeats. They finished fifth out of nine teams in the Middle Atlantic Wrestling Championships at Gettysburg. The only really bright spots in the season were the achievements of two Ursinus lightweights, Ed Dawkins, 123 lbs. and Dick Padula, 137 lbs. Ed won his second consecutive Middle Atlantic Championship and was voted the outstanding wrestler of the tournament. Dick also won the championship in his weight, an outstanding feat for a freshman.

This year Ursinus has one of the best wrestling teams in its history. So far they have won two over Swarthmore and Haverford and lost a close meet to a powerful Lafayette squad. By comparative scores, it looks as though Ur-

The women's hockey teams have had an eventful season. The Ursinus Alumnae hockey team finished their season with four wins, two losses and one tie coached by Miss Snell and captained by Ginny Dulin '47. Again Ursinus was distinguished by having six alumnae place on teams traveling to the national tournament. Joanne Duncan '50 (Royals), Jen Price '54 (Ursinus Alumnae), and Nancy Vadner Chance '51 (Germantown Cricket) all placed on the Philadelphia first as center, half-back, goalie, and left fullback, respectively. Selected on the Philadelphia have suffered only one loss, while the Ursinus Cubs, captained by Jen Price, have lost three, one to the Alumnae. The Alumnae players are Connie Warren Poley '49, Doris Harrington Abrams '43, Shirley MacKinnon '52, Audrey Rittenhouse '53, Nancy Vadner Chance '51, Irma Keyes '47, Adele Boyd '53, Blanche Schultz '41, Sara Parent '53, and Marge Merrifield '54. The Cubs are Marge Abrahamson Anderson '54, Marge Johnson ex'54, Jen Price '54, Betty Keyser Staurowsky '51, Ginny Dulin '47, Bev Syvertsen '54, Sally Lumis '53, Marguerite Spencer '52, Joan Leet Smith '54, and Teddy Knopf '44.

The Ursinus varsity basketball team, captained by Jo Kuhn '55, has just four letter girls: the captain, Marge Dawkins '57, Elizabeth Mason '55, and Ruth Heller. Even though lacking varsity experience, the team shows good potential.

sinus will finish the season without another defeat. At 123 Co-Captain Dawkins is undefeated this season and holds a combined high school and college dual meet record of fifty-seven straight wins. Co-Captain Al Paolone is also undefeated this year at 130 lbs. He has met his hardest competition and looks as if he is well on the way towards winning a Middle Atlantic crown. The third undefeated member of the team is sophomore Dick Padula at 137 lbs. At 167 lbs. is another of Ursinus' big guns, Dick Heydt. Heydt has met his toughest opposition, losing only to a very good Lafayette opponent in a closely contested match. Heydt, who is very fast and strong may well take either a 1st or 2nd place in the Middle Atlantics.

Dr. C. Grove Haines '27, Director of Johns Hopkins University Center in Bologna, Italy

One of Ursinus College's distinguished alumni, Dr. C. Grove Haines '27, will be the first Director of a new venture in American education—the establishment of a Bologna Center of the School of Advanced International Studies in Bologna, Italy, which is the first attempt of an American graduate school to set up an independent school of its own in a foreign country.

A graduate of Ursinus College in 1927 with the A.B. degree, Professor Haines received his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Clark University. He then joined the faculty of the University of Syracuse in 1931, becoming Professor of History in 1943. In 1945 he went to Washington to join the faculty of the School of Advanced International Studies.

The School of Advanced International Studies (known popularly as SAIS), of which Dr. Haines will be a director, was originally established in 1944 to train young men and women for careers in government and business in the international field. It has been a graduate school of The Johns Hopkins University since 1950. The Center, though using the physical and academic facilities of the University of Bologna, will be entirely independent of the Italian institution and will be operated as an extension of the Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Haines emphasizes, "This is not an exchange program. We are going to Italy as part of The Johns Hopkins University and will operate on American graduate standards." The center will provide a place for the training of American students in European affairs and international relations.

Four Ursinus graduates have attended SAIS and graduated with their M.A. degrees, and one student, Fred Nichols '50, attended a summer session. The four graduates of Ursinus and SAIS are Hermann Eilts '46, James Robert Wilson '47, Chad Alger '49, and Robert Herber '51. Eilts and Wilson are now in Iraq and Japan as Foreign Service Officers. Alger, after several years in the government, is now at Princeton University as an advanced graduate student. Herber is scheduled for appointment as Foreign Service Officer in early 1955.

25th Anniversary of Sigma Rho Lambda

The Sigma Rho Lambda Fraternity is this year celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary as a campus organization. Like all of the college fraternities, Sigma Rho is a local social organization having no national affiliations.

On February 19, the group announced at its 25th Anniversary Buffet Supper Dance the project of establishing a one thousand dollar scholarship for an Ursinus student. The project is the first of its kind to be undertaken by any of the local sororities or fraternities.
