REV. R. A. WAITE TO SPEAK IN CHAPEL WED., MAR. 29

Mr. Waite Will Deliver An Address
To The Student Body On Leadership Training

PROMINENT TRACK ATHLETE

The Rev. R. A. "Dad" Waite, of the American Youth Foundation for the Leadership Training of American Youth, will visit Ursinus College on the morning of Wednesday, March 29. Rev. Waite will deliver a brief address at the chapel exercises along the line of training for leadership. He is anxious to meet individually any students interested in leadership training.

Mr. Waite was born in Buffalo, New York, educated in the Buffalo public schools and Cornell University, and was graduated from Syracuse University in 1901 with the degree of Ph. B. He has been Associate Director of the American Youth Foundation since 1924. Prior to that time he was pastor of congregational churches in Lincoln, Nebraska and Kansas City, Missouri; Secretary of the Student Christian Association at Syracuse University; Associate Superintendent of the International Sunday School Association; and first religious work secretary for boys of the Young Men's Christian Association. He is a frequent contributor to religious education and young people's periodicals.

In addition Mr. Waite was an athlete prominent in track circles. He has been a coach of track, and at present holds the New York State record for the 220 yard dash. He also was "Red" Grange's high school coach.

Rev. Waite has the reputation of knowing more young men and women by their first name than any other person.

The American Youth Foundation, which Rev. Waite represents, operates Camp Merrowvista in the Ossipe Hills of New Hampshire and camp Miniwanca, on Lake Michigan.

MEN'S DEBATING TEAMS

HOLD TRIAL DEBATES

In preparation for the opening of the intercollegiate debating season this week, the affirmative and negative men's teams held a trial debate, last Thursday evening, February 7, in room 5 of Bomberger Hall.

Allen Cooper '35, James Palm '33, and Irving Sutin '34 supported the affirmative side while Alfred Alspach '33, Ober Hess '33, and Jesse Heiges '35 upheld the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that all inter-governmental world war debts, including reparations, be cancelled."

The affirmative team will debate the cancellation of debts in Bomberger hall on Tuesday evening, February 14, against Franklin and Marshall; on Wednesday evening, February 15, against Gettysburg; on Friday evening, February 17, against Western Maryland.

The negative team will make a trip to the central part of the state, visiting all schools mentioned above, and debating their affirmative teams on the same nights they debate our affirmative team here. In addition the negative team will meet Juniata at Huntingdon on February 16.

All debates mentioned above will be of the Oregon type—which means direct cross-questioning by each team on the platform. Oregon debates usually prove very amusing and instructive, since it is impossible for either team to anticipate the questions it will be asked.

Feb. 28 to Mar. 2

Rev. Paul M. Limbert, of the department of religious education of Columbia University, will be the speaker for the annual week of prayer sponsored by the college Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., February 28 to March 2.

Rev. Limbert has been active in inter-church young people's work and has taught in denominational state, and international summer camps. He was graduated from Franklin and Marshall college and received his Ph. D. degree at Columbia. He is now teaching religion and philosophy at New College.

During the week of prayer, Rev. Limbert will meet various groups of college students for personal conferences and will address the college at a special chapel service.

Movies On Scientific Topics

Shown In Science Hall

A representative of the Extension Department of the University of Chicago exhibited educational sound motion pictures in the auditorium of the Science Building on Thursday evening, February 9th. The four reels shown were Molecular Action, Oxidation and Reduction, Carnivorous Plants, and Tiny Water Animals.

These pictures are intended for use in teaching the physical sciences. It is advocated that they be used to supplement all other available methods of instruction.

The value of such pictures has been demonstrated by an experiment involving two controlled groups of students. Both groups employed the same materials of instruction except that one used sound pictures while the other did not. A 20 to 40 per cent improvement of the former over the latter was reported.

CHAPEL SPEAKER SECURED FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

An opportunity to hear an address entitled "The Huguenot ancestors of George Washington" will be Ursinus' method of commemorating Washington's birthday, Wednesday, February 22. This address will be delivered from the chapel rostrum on that date by Dr. John Baer Stoudt, of Philadelphia, Secretary of the Huguenot Society of Pennsylvania.

This chapel service will be another of the special culture course series which the college authorities have provided for this year. The address promises to be interesting as well as instructive and deserves everyone's attention, for Dr. Stoudt is recognized as an authority on this subject.

VESPERS

Jerome Wenner '33 led an interesting vespers service last night. The program consisted mainly of poems which were read and interpreted briefly. The title of the program was "Searching for God," and was composed of two parts. The first group of poems represented those who have unsuccessfully searched for God, while the second group described those who have been successful in their search for God.

SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT UNIQUE MUSICAL COMEDY

The Senior class will present "Topsy and Eva" as its production at senior week-end. This Broadway success was made famous by the Duncan sisters, and ran for two years in New York. The musical comedy also enjoyed a long run at the Forrest Theater in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller Ogden will coach the performance. She has studied under Carpenter, Tarasof, Ito, Wigman, and Isidore Duncan, and in addition to teaching dancing at Ursinus, is director of the Miller Conservatory of Dancing.

Mrs. Ogden will be at the gymnasium Tuesday, February 14, after lunch, to conduct tryouts for parts in the cast. All prospective participants are urged to be present. Members of any class in College are eligible.

COUNCIL ON STUDENT ACTIVITIES SPONSORS DANCE

The Council on Student Activities will sponsor a dance to be held in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium on February 25. This dance will be an inexpensive one, the fee being only fifty cents per couple and thirty-five cents for single admissions.

The "Ursinus Collegians" will furnish the rhythm and promise four hours of enjoyable music. This will be the orchestra's first public appearance on the campus. Everyone is invited to attend. The dance will be informal and non-program. No government tax will be required of patrons. The committee includes: Alfred C. Alspach '33, chairman; Ruth Roth '34, Muriel Ingram '33, Virginia Miller '33, Ben Lee '33.

Phila. Alumni To Hold

Annual Dinner Feb. 24

The Philadelphia annual alumni dinner will be held Friday, February 24, at 6.30 o'clock, in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, 9th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia. The speakers will be Don Rose, columnist of the Philadelphia "Public Ledger", W. R. Douthett, 1912, of Ursinus football fame, and President Omwake. Ursinus alumni and former students living in the Philadelphia District (Pennsylvania, within 30 miles of Philadelphia, all of New Jersey south of Trenton, and all of Delaware) will be welcomed. If an individual notice does not reach you (the mailing list being curtailed this year to reduce expenses) this announcement is to be considered an equally warm invitation to attend. The charge is $2.25 a plate. Reservations and checks should be sent to E. C. Wagner, Acting Treasurer, 526 E. 14th St., Chester, Pa., if possible before February 20.

RELIGION AND ART DISCUSSED AT JOINT Y. M. & Y. W. MEETING

The joint Y. M. and Y. W. meeting on Wednesday evening featured an illustrated talk on Religion and Art by Mrs. C. H. Regar of Collegeville, who has travelled extensively in Europe and America and has given special attention to art both abroad and at home.

Mrs. Regar gave a brief survey of the importance of art in the Christian religion from the early paintings in the catacombs to the beautiful creations of the Renaissance period.

With real understanding and appreciation she discussed each lantern picture as it was projected on the screen. The illustrations included Gothic cathedrals, early "miniatures" of religious subjects, and the great paintings by the masters of the Renaissance.

Pierce Smith, '35, led the devotional exercises, and Eveline Omwake, '33, introduced the speaker.

SENIOR BALL COMMITTEE

The committee for the annual Senior Ball has been appointed by president Jack F. Robbins and includes the following: Alvin R. Paul, chairman; Alfred C. Alspach, John Reese, John G. Eachus, Claude W. Lodge, Mary E. Rothenberger, Mary Francis, Rhea M. Wheatley, Audrey R. Unruh, and Jeannette Baker. The date for the function is tentative.

Bear Courtmen Win 2 and Lose 1; Close Inter - Dormitory Contests

Brodbeck Dormitory Defeats Freeland and Takes First Place In League

Derr Hall defeated the Day students in an exciting fray. Rough and tumble basketball featured the entire contest. The day passers showed remarkable improvement and should cause trouble in the future.

Stine Hall's fast moving team smothered Freeland Hall to keep their record unmarred. The Parsons stuck doggedly to the Dog House basketballers, but could not quite cope with their sustained offense.

Jack Robbin's Curtis lads crashed into the win column by nosing out the Day students in a loosely played game. Sensational shots featured the game throughout.

The Brodbeck Cyclones proved too strong for the Stine Hall lads, and defeated them in an exciting game, 22-13. Accurate shooting and a tight defense kept the Brodbeckians undefeated.

Curtis chalked up their second consecutive win by trimming Freeland Parsons on Saturday. The game was close throughout. Curtis forged ahead in the final quarter.

Grizzly Grapplers Will Meet

F. and M. And Gettysburg

Coach Carleton's grizzly grapplers will meet F. and M. and Gettysburg this week. The matmen will journey to Lancaster tomorrow to encounter Charlie Mayser's Blue and White seals. F. and M.'s strength is as great as that of last year, but the Bears are hoping to do better than the 34-0 dose of whitewash administered last year.

The line-up will include: George Franklin, George Fissel, Capt. Paris, Norm Shollenberger, Reds Bassman, Rube Levin, Al Alspach, and Andy Peterson. Paris, Shollenberger, Alspach and Peterson wrestled against F. and M. last year.

On Saturday night the home fans will be treated to their final glimpse of mat skill this season when the powerful Gettysburg grapplers mix with the home aggregation. Barring injuries, the line-up will be much the same as the F. and M. meet. The match will start at 8 p. m. and the admission will be forty cents to the general public.

PHOENIXVILLE ALUMNAE BOW TO COED BASKETBALL TEAM

Last Wednesday evening the girl's basketball squad defeated the Phoenixville Alumnae team. Although it was scheduled as a practice game for Ursinus the Phoenixville maids put up a good fight so that Ursinus experienced difficulty in winning, the final score being 33-28.

Three new reporters were added to the staff of the "Weekly" and four promotions made by the editorial board at a meeting last Monday evening. H. Heiges '35 will assume positions as special feature writers. This preliminary election will be followed by the regular selection in March, when the new staff will go into office.

Defeat Drexel and F. and M. In Close Games; Lose To Gettysburg Bullets

Ursinus 37; Drexel 36

Lodge's field goal in the last 30 seconds of play was the margin of victory as Ursinus eked out a hair-raising 37-36 victory over Drexel, last Tuesday, on the later's court. The win was Ursinus's 4th in 5 starts in league competition, placing them right on the heels of F. and M., the league leaders, while the reverse showed Drexel's off-defeated Dragons deeper into the depths of the Eastern Penna. Conference cellar.

The Bears bounded into an early lead from the first whistle and ran up a half time lead of 23-16, but the Dragons unleashed a powerful second-half offensive that fell short by but one counter.

Ursinus, 31; Gettysburg, 37

Ursinus' pennant hopes received a temporary setback at Gettysburg last Friday night, as the Bears came out on the wrong end of a 37-31 count, bowing to the Gettysburg bullets.

The Chasemen rolled up a commanding 17-9 lead at the half, but the home quintet pulled a last half rally, tying it all up at 31-31, and forging into the lead, never to be headed again.

Lodge led the scorers with 17 points, bursting out in another of his scoring orgies. Kitzmiller split the cords for 14 points for the Bullets.

The Grizzly five lost the services of Elmo Sommers, flashy forward, who suffered a knee injury.

Gettysburg registered 18 field goals to Ursinus 12, but the visitors notched 7 out of 11 free tries, while the home tossers could convert but 1 out of 10.

Ursinus, 36; F. and M., 34

Ursinus's Chase-coached quintet chalked up a surprise win over F. and M. at Lancaster, Saturday night, score 36-34, at the same time handing the Lancaster lads their first conference setback. The Grizzlies now sport a conference record of five victories and 2 losses, with the most difficult contests to be waged at home. Incidentally the Bear five has not suffered defeat to date on their own floor.

Led by Lodge, who went on another scoring rampage to rack up 17 markers, the Collegeville passers took the odds—on favorites by storm. Ursinus showed marked improvement in passing over the previous night's reverse at Gettysburg.

The surprise victory boosts Ursinus into the limelight as a serious contender for the conference title, a position which the Bears have not held before in recent years. The remainder of the schedule favors the Grizzlies, as the tough games with Albright, Gettysburg, and F. and M., will be fought on home territory. The Bears are growling; and when Grizzlies growl—look out!

EDITOR OF THIS ISSUE DWIGHT L. GREGORY

Editorial Comment

INELIGIBILITY?

The posting of the ineligible list again draws attention to the enforcement of such rules. The fact that this rule seems to apply only to athletes has caused considerable comment. The rule, as we understand it, bars all ineligible students from taking part in any activity that is a deterrent to their studies. We feel that this regulation has been set up so that nothing will distract students in their attempts to regain the status quo in their scholastic work.

We presume that the faculty is attempting to enforce the rule to the fullest extent. It is obvious that the athletic department cooperates with the faculty to the letter of the law in this matter and one might infer that the strict enforcement of this regulation is responsible for the presence of such a small number of athletes on the list. Therefore, if this ineligible rule is enforced so strictly in athletic competition why not enforce it to the same extent in other activities? Perhaps, the size of the dean's list might be reduced still further.

What we can not understand is why men on the ineligible list are allowed to make rules and regulations, as members of the student council, for their intellectual superiors? Or, why are they allowed to participate in class activities, musical organizations, etc? Participation in such activities has been and is being done at the present time. Surely it is no greater hardship for other organizations to lose capable men than for athletic coaches!

We feel that it is no more than fair to the men who participate in athletics that the rule should be enforced by all classes and organizations, or else be abolished entirely. It is hoped that both the student body and the faculty will cooperate to the fullest extent in enforcing this rule. Thus a square deal will be had for all concerned.

SAVE YOUR COPIES OF THE WEEKLY!

Nothing can be a better reminder of a college career than preserved copies of the "Ursinus Weekly." Last week we saw a bound volume containing four year's issues of the college paper. It costs only a few dollars to be bound, but was thus in a permanent form. Leafing over page by page, a steady succession of fond memories were unfolded before the mind's eye. It remained for all time to suggest many happy events.

This is a suggestion to the present student readers. Save your Weeklies, for they will be valuable mementos in the future.

JR. ADVISORY COMMITTEE PROCURES SEVERAL SPEAKERS

The Junior Advisory Committee is fostering an instructive program in behalf of the women students of Ursinus. It is the object of the committee to place before the students the possibilities of a life work of teaching. To this end, speakers representing various vocations have been procured.

The first of these talks will be held Tuesday evening, February 14, in Bomberger Hall. The speaker, Mrs. Burdeck, will give a survey of vocations in general. The addresses following this one will be of a more specific character dealing with the speaker's respective profession.

FRESHMEN DEBATING TEAM SELECTED FOR COMING SEASON

Freshmen tryouts for debating were held before the Debating Club in Bomberger on February 6, at 6.30 p. m.

The beginning of the meeting was given over to business matters, after which the girls trying out for the team gave their short speeches. The question for debate is the recognition of Russia by the United States.

The following girls were selected: Mary Helen Alspach, Dora Evans, Elizabeth Kassab, Mildred Gring, Mabel Shelley, and Agnes May Baker. Plans for the freshmen debates are being made. It was decided to have debates with freshmen of other colleges rather than with high school students, as was the usual custom.

The Tower Window

A generation ago Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, then State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania, wrote a book on "Thinking and Learning to Think." It consisted of a course of lectures to teachers. His thought was intended for adult minds but was rather difficult to follow at some points even by careful students of psychology. In our generation numerous manuals for students have appeared on "How to Study," and under similar captions. The psychological background of Doctor Schaeffer's book differs from that of the present day books on the subject and I presume his work is not consulted by the scholars of today. However remembering the author with affectionate regard, I occasionally take down this old book and read parts of it.

One of the redeeming features of "Thinking and Learning to Think" is the wealth of practical wisdom it contains. Take this for example on the value of vocabulary.

"For purposes of thought and culture a rich mother tongue is of untold advantage. It is a great blessing to be born and raised in a home presided over by a well educated mother. It is an invaluable help to be trained in schools whose teachers speak and write the languages which have felt the touch of Shakespeare and of Goethe." Doctor Schaeffer was honestly proud of his German background. He spoke English with a pronounced but pleasing Teutonic accent.

However to the people who were holding fast to the Pennsylvania-German dialect he had this to say:

"The best that the people of Pennsylvania-German extraction can do for future generations is to make the transition as speedily as possible from their vernacular—so poverty stricken in its vocabulary—to the English with its abundant vocabulary and its unsurpassed literary treasures."

Throughout the author refers time and again to great authorities, past and contemporary, revealing an enviable acquaintance with human thought throughout the ages, yet one is impressed with the originality and independence of the mind that penned these pages. But he had no use for knowledge for its own sake, as in this remark:

"Some men are intellectual gluttons. They keep pouring into themselves knowledge from every quarter, carry it in their minds as the overloaded stomach carries food, and end in mental dyspepsia. Better the man with few ideas who can apply these in practical life, than the man of erudition who cannot apply his knowledge."

The closing chapter is on "Thinking and the Higher Life." This is no theological chapter but a fine statement of the spiritual rewards of thinking. "The school," says Doctor Schaeffer, "makes possible the higher life when it teaches the pupil to think. Right thinking puts intelligence into the labor of his hands, increases his earning power, lays the foundation for his physical well-being, and lifts him above an existence that is a mere struggle for bread. It promotes the higher life by teaching him to think God's thoughts, as enshrined in all His works, and the best thoughts of the best men, as embodied in literature and the humanities."

Nathan C. Schaeffer was a great thinker and a great teacher. Psychology may change, but the pedagogy of this great master of the learning and teaching art will never be out of date.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL
MAKES PLANS FOR COLOR DAY

Plans for Color Day were discussed at the Women's Student Council meeting on February 8, in Bomberger. It was decided that the Y. W. C. A. and the Athletic Association, together with the Student Council would take charge of the affair.

Arrangements are being made for various speakers to come here the latter part of this month.

The committee in charge of decorating the recreation hall reported that work will be started on it in the near future.

Mildred Gring '35 attended the meeting as freshman listener.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. PAUL TO HOLD SERIES OF DISCUSSIONS

At the next meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, which will be held on Thursday evening, February 16, two papers will be read by members. The first will be given by Alfred L. Creager, '33, and is entitled "The Psychological Factors in Faith and Belief." Jerome A. Wenner, '33, the president of the Brotherhood, will read the other paper, "The Elements of Faith in Science and Religion."

These papers are part of a series of discussions being carried on during this semester by the organization. According to Wenner, the general theme of the discussions is the "Fundamental elements of religion on which to base our beliefs."

After the reading of each paper there is to be open forum discussion at which time the members are to be given the opportunity to express opinions concurring with or differing from the ideas of the papers. It is hoped that the members will be greatly helped in their personal religious problems through this program.

The Brotherhood of St. Paul extends a cordial invitation to all those students who are planning to enter the ministry to attend these meetings and to become affiliated with the organization. Any other students interested in the subject of religion, or undecided about entering the ministry, are also invited to attend.

WORLD AFFAIRS REVIEWED

AT INT. RELATIONS MEETING

Latin-American problems were the subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the International Relations Club held at Shreiner Hall last Tuesday evening. The internal situation in Cuba, a boundary dispute between Columbia and Peru, and the Gran Chaco question, involving Bolivia and Paraguay, were considered.

Jesse Heiges '35, pictured smouldering revolt in Cuba and the terrorist methods used to suppress the incipient rebellion. He considered the possibility of United States intervention. Mr. Heiges also discussed the implications of the dispute between Peru and Columbia over Leticia, a valuable territory bordering on a tributary to the Amazon River.

Helen Lewis '34 gave the history of the altercation over the Gran Chaco territory which borders on a river giving ultimate access to the Atlantic Ocean. Thomas Burton '33 reported fighting but no official war between Bolivia and Paraguay in this sector. The international aspects of the question—the possibility of other nations becoming involved, its relation to the League of Nations, the United States, and the Kellogg Peace Pact—were discussed by Floyd Heller '33.

An open discussion on Hitler and War Debts followed the formal program. Refreshments were served.

The Club accepted the invitation of the History-Social Science group to attend its meeting on February 20, when Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, professor of International Law, at Bryn Mawr College, will speak on "The Political Aspects of Disarmament."

FROSH QUINTET DROP
GAME TO DREXEL FROSH

Displaying a poor form of basketball, the Ursinus Frosh dropped a spirited battle to the Drexel yearlings by the score of 48-28 in a game which was played on Drexel's home floor.

The first half was very close and hard, clean playing seemed to prevail throughout, with Grenawalt and Danehower sticking them up at the beginning, the Frosh managed to hold Drexel to an 18-15 score.

As the second half began the Drexel Frosh began to get their eye on the basket. From this point on it was a succession of baskets, with Smith, Raynes, and McGuire doing the major part of the scoring.

Grenawalt led the Ursinus yearlings with seven field goals for a total of 14 points.

On Friday afternoon the Frosh played a practice game with a well balanced professional team from Pottstown. During this practice session the Frosh showed a complete reversal of the form which they displayed at Drexel.

GAFF

GRIZZLY

We present herewith an anonymous fourth verse of our much-abused melody:

As the shades of evening gather,
The Derr Hall playboys hie,
To the soft green swarded campus,
For a while, their water pails, laid
by,

And the parting smell of moonshine,
As it lingers sweet and long,
We seem to hear the dear Dean saying,
"My boys can do no wrong."

And here are a few examples of campus doings that are too little to feature and too big to ignore:

Thursday night—Jack Hartman and his pal drinking Doc's super-special doughnuts in "good-coffee-vve-cents."

Friday night—A huge figurative pile of mud being flung indiscriminately by all independents and fraternity men.

Date unknown—A prominent literary figure coming back from Cedar Crest with a broken heart.

Friday—Headwaiter, Herbert, trying to collect for a meal from Dutch Mabry.

Thursday—Dan Little bribing Gene Miller for his place at table seventeen for another week.

It is rumored that Jack Robbins wants to take a course in salesmanship.

GIRLS WIN BASKETBALL

Rhea Wheatley's fine passing work, the college coeds were leading at the end of the first half 20 to 13.

Coach Snell then inserted a second team for the third quarter which had difficulty in getting started and by the end of that period the score was tied at 22-22. After replacing the varsity, Ursinus, with "Bups" Francis dropping the baskets, soon ran up a comfortable margin to win 33-28.

Tobacco to smoke right has to be a different kind of tobacco from that used in cigarettes...and it has to be made by an entirely different process...

OUT in Kentucky, where they have pretty women, fast horses, and blue grass, there grows a tobacco called White Burley. It doesn't grow anywhere else in the world.

There is a type of this White Burley that is best suited for pipe smoking. It is neither too thick nor too thin. It is not light and chaffy; at the same time, it is not rank or strong. "U. S. Type 31" is the government classification for White Burley.

Since no other pipe tobacco has yet been found which seems to equal White Burley, this is what we use in making Granger Rough Cut.

Next, we use the Wellman Method, a famous 1870 method of making pipe tobacco, to give Granger its fine flavor and fragrance. Then, too, Granger is "Rough Cut"—just like they used to "whittle" their tobacco off a plug with a jack-knife. It smokes cool, lasts longer and never gums a pipe.

And finally, we want to sell Granger for 10 cents. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. So we put Granger in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package.

Granger has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. Folks seem to like it.
