College Observes Annual Founders' Day With Appropriate Exercises

Dr. Rule Speaks of "One Hundred Years of Education"

FOUR DEGREES CONFERRED

"One Hundred Years of Education in Pennsylvania" was the subject of an address by Dr. James Noble Rule, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania, at the Founders' Day program in Bomberger Hall on February 23.

President George L. Omwake, before presenting the speaker of the afternoon, briefly explained the development of education on the bounds of this campus and the purpose of the gathering. Todd's School, organized a hundred years ago, he made clear, was the first effort of education on these grounds. This was followed in 1848 by the construction of Freeland Seminary. In 1869 a charter was granted by the State for the erection of Ursinus College. President Omwake said, "We have gathered together to pay tribute to those who have gone before us; it was by their generosity that we enjoy what we have today."

Rule Receives Degree

Dr. Rule, who was presented with an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Ursinus College at the exercises, told of the development and progress of free public education in our state from the first colonizations here, and particularly from the passage, in 1834, of the Free Public School Act.

SENIOR PLAY AND DANCE FOR WEEK-END OF MARCH 25

"Topsy and Eva" Superb Musical Play, To Be Presented. Freddie Bergen Will Harmonize

"Topsy and Eva," a musical play full of life and pep, will be presented as the senior production on March 23 and 25. This unique selection will be directed by Mrs. Ogden and Walter Welsh '33, who have chosen most of the members of the cast. The cast thus far chosen includes:

Topsy—Gladys Ulrich '33; Eva—Jeannette Baker '33; Uncle Tom—Robert Bennett '34; St. Claire—Geo. Givant '35; Lightnin'—Charles Gompert '33; Dr. Doolittle—Howard Robbins '33; Bing Crosby—Walter Welsh '33; Earl Carrol—Benjamin Lee '33; Simon Legree—Elmer Morris '33; Cab Calloway—"Matty" Farias '35; Blanche Calloway—Bernard Zamostein '33; Graham MacNamee—Herbert Levin '33; Aunt Ophelia—Heradiah Newsome '35; Rosa—Eleanor Lyle '35; Eliza—Freda Schindler '35.

The Senior Ball will feature Freddie Bergen and his twelve piece band on Friday evening, March 24. This well-known orchestra has attained distinction over the N. B. C. network as well as in New York, Chicago, and Atlantic City. The music will surely compare very favorably with that furnished last year so that one will not want to miss this extraordinary formal.

WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAMS

SPLIT WITH ELIZABETHTOWN

The Ursinus women varsity debaters held their first dual debate of the season when they met Elizabethtown College Friday evening on the question, "Resolved: that all inter-governmental world war debts, including reparations, should be cancelled." The Oregon plan was used for both debates.

The Ursinus affirmative team, composed of Esther Lightner '34, first speaker, and Muriel Ingram '33, cross examiner, presented their arguments at Elizabethtown, where they were cordially received by the rival debaters. The Ursinus girls won the decision by a two to one ballot.

The negative side of the question was upheld by Maude Funk '35 and Francis Gray '33 in Bomberger Hall. The opposition was composed of Miss Gibe and Miss Reese from Elizabethtown. The decision at home was given in favor of the visiting team. The judges were Rev. W. O. Fegely, pastor of Trappe Lutheran Church, Mr. Howard Keyser, principal of the Collegeville High School and Dr. Adam Hildebeitel, of Trappe.

FROSH ENTERTAIN STUDENT BODY IN GYMNASIUM

Simple Folk Act At Request of High And Mighty Sophs

Founders' Day comes but once a year at Ursinus—and with it, among other things, come the simple antics of a simple-minded group (need we tell you they are freshmen?)

As it were, ye afore-mentioned yearlings marched in ye bally olde gymnasium t'other day, Thursday to be exact, and completely bawled up all sensible things in order that they might do the biddings of the institution's noble sophomores, who incidentally, ran the brawl (with varied degrees of success). Using the synopated form of the campus song as a signature number the freshmen garbed in rolled breeches and frizzled-head-dresses, took their places about the floor of Johnson's athletic emporium, chatting nervously to one another about the future consequences.

King for the day, although president of his class the rest of the year, "Hissoner, 'Wolf'" Blake (he with the canned head) bade everyone welcome (especially his pal, Aram) and ordered his subjects to perform to the best of their ability before the multitudes in the bleachers.

And what was the result:

"Is That You, Mary?"

Speeches that had lots in common with the ejaculations of the class presidents at the Xmas banquets, vocal selections that rendered more lard than our choir ever did, proposals that would have made ol' Cleo

ALUMNI OF PHILA. DISTRICT ENJOY ANNUAL BANQUET

One Hundred Grads Attend Dinner At Benjamin Franklin Hotel, February 24

The alumni of the Philadelphia district enjoyed their annual dinner in the Franklin room of the Benjamin Franklin hotel, February 24. Approximately one hundred guests were present.

E. C. Wagner '10, president of the organization, acted as toastmaster. The speakers were Donald F. Rose, of the editorial staff of the Public Ledger, and Walter R. Douthett '12, superintendent of schools at Darby. Rose spoke on "Confessions of a Columnist." Douthett reminisced on "The Dawn of Civilization in the Ursinus Dormitories."

Grace Kauffman '27 delighted with two vocal solos "Little Star" (La-Forge) and "Pierrot" (Rybnier). She was accompanied by Nellie M. Ashenfelter. Wallace C. Savage '19 brought the greetings from the general alumni association and Dr. George L. Omwake officially represented the College.

Officers were elected for next year. Rev. Purd E. Deitz '18 was chosen president; Miss Florence O. Benjamin '30, vice-president; A. Lloyd Myers '31, secretary; Donald L. Helfrich '21 treasurer.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS GATHER IN REGULAR BUS. MEETING

Football Coaching School Planned For This Summer; Seminary Status Discussed

OMWAKE TO TOUR EUROPE

The Directors of Ursinus College met in regular session on the afternoon of Founders' Day. The following members were present: Rev. T. A. Aispach, D. D., Hon. Andrew R. Brodbeck, LL. D., Charles C. Burdian, Rev. I. Calvin Fisher, D. D., Edwin M. Fogel, Ph. D., Edward S. Fretz, treasurer, Francis J. Gildner, Esq., Abraham H. Hendricks, Esq., Edwin M. Hershey, Esq., W. A. Kline, dean, George L. Omwake, president of the College, H. E. Paisley, LL. D., president of the Board, Henry T. Spangler, LL. D., and Calvin D. Yost, secretary.

The two hours in which the Board was in session were devoted to the consideration of matters arising out of routine business. The Board adopted a preamble and resolutions setting forth the situation as it exists today with reference to the obligations of the College to help maintain theological education in Central Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, obligations entered into more than twenty-five years ago under conditions that in the meantime have been greatly changed. A committee was appointed to prepare a proposal for dissolving the compact of union by which Ursinus College is obligated to

BEAR MATMEN SUCCUMB TO RED AND BLUE GRAPPLERS

Penn Defeats Grizzlies 33-5 In One-Sided Tussle

Penn's matmen subdued Coach Carleton's grapplers, 33-5, when the two teams came to grips at the Palestra last Saturday afternoon, before a crowd of about 500. It was the Bears' third setback in five meets.

Captain Otts Paris, 135, was the only local wrestler to break into the scoring, preserving his undefeated record by tossing Wilson in 1:46 of the first period. No advantage was gained in the first two minutes of action, but Otts quickly pinned his foe with a cradle hold at the start of the first period. In the final canto, the Ursinus captain worked a switch to break Wilson's advantage, and kept advantage till the end of the bout.

BEARS WRESTLE LAST BOUT

Coach Carleton's grizzly grapplers will journey to New Brunswick, N. J., on Saturday, March 4, to scrap with the scarlet of Rutgers. This will be the last meet on the card this season and will be the final mat performance of two men, Otts Paris and Al Alspach, both of whom are seniors.

Last year the bears dropped a 21-13 decision to Rutgers. Paris won a time advantage in extra periods and Alspach and Peterson scored falls in the 175 lb. and unlimited class respectively. The line-up for Saturday's bout is somewhat uncertain because of injuries. Penn white-washed Rutgers a week ago, 32-0.

FUNDS NEEDED TO SEND

WRESTLERS TO MEET

Coach Carleton in a recent interview expressed his desire to send possibly three members of the wrestling squad (two seniors and one freshman) to the National Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament to be held at Lehigh University on March 24 and 25. The appropriation for this sport has been entirely exhausted so that pecuniary aid could not be obtained from that source.

It has been suggested that a popular subscription be taken for the financing of this enterprise. A subscription of not more than fifteen cents per person would cover the expense item and would pave the way for possible great achievements in intercollegiate wrestling. The grapplers have worked hard and deserve our heartiest support in this matter.

"ANCESTRY OF WASHINGTON" THEME OF CHAPEL ADDRESS

Dr. John Baer Stoudt, Chairman of Pennsylvania Huguenot Society Addresses Students

TRACES EARLY ANCESTRY

In commemoration of Washington's birthday, Dr. John Baer Stoudt, the chairman of the Huguenot Society of Pennsylvania, gave an address to the students of the College in chapel on Wednesday morning. Dr. Stoudt, who is an outstanding research scholar, has recently succeeded in working out the relationship between George Washington and the early Huguenot settlers of this country. He, therefore, chose as his topic, "The Huguenot Ancestry of George Washington."

Dr. Stoudt opened his speech with a eulogy on Washington written by Abraham Lincoln in 1841. This emphasized the unique character of Washington which, Dr. Stoudt claimed, was partly the result of his Huguenot ancestors.

Washington's Early Ancestry

Nicholas Marteau, the first of Washington's American ancestors, was a French military engineer. He came to Virginia in 1619 with the Huguenot settlers, and first won renown several years later when he drove off the Indians after a terrible massacre. He married, that year, the wife of one of his lieutenants who had lost his life in the massacre. This woman, who is known today only by the name of Jane, was one of the

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS PLAN FOR WEEK OF PRAYER

Dr. Paul M. Limbert Will Speak At Chapel Exercises and Conduct Conferences

"Finding the Will and Power of the Living God" will be the theme of the Week of Prayer services held annually by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., beginning this year on Tuesday evening, February 28 and closing Thursday evening, March 2.

Dr. Paul M. Limbert, at present connected with the educational department of Columbia University and well known as a religious leader among college students, will be the guest, and during the course of the two days and three nights will deliver addresses and lead discussions appropriate to the above theme.

Dr. Limbert will lead a discussion on Tuesday which will provide an orientation to the whole series of meetings. The following morning he will address the student body, using as his subject "Getting Down to Bed-rock." "Finding the Will of God" and "Gaining Power to Endure" will be the themes of addresses before joint meetings of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday and Thursday.

Since this series of meetings is planned for the main purpose of working out the answers to the problems confronting the modern college student, it is hoped that all those students who have difficulties in the religious field or who feel that religion is of no value at all in this age, will attempt to gain conferences, either privately or in groups of like-minded students. These conferences can be scheduled by making your desires known to Helen Van Seiver, '33 or Jerome Wenner, '33.

URSINUS QUINTET DEFEATED TWICE DURING PAST WEEK

Chasemen Weaken in Second Periods To Lose by Big Margins To Albright and Villanova

F. AND M., DREXEL NEXT

Ursinus' slipping five dropped another pair of tilts during the week, bowing to Albright last Wednesday evening, at home, 57-36, and being massacred at Villanova, 55-31. The setbacks dropped the Bears to a percentage of .500—five victories and five losses, with frays yet to be waged at home against Franklin and Marshall and Drexel.

ALBRIGHT 57; URSINUS 36

Leaping off to a fast start, the Collegeville quintet garnered an early lead, which steadily melted as the powerful Pretzel City passers began finding their eye. At the half the tally read 23-22, in favor of the Grizzlies. The initial period was marked by poor playing on the part of both fives, though the score remained close.

Albright unleashed a powerful second-half offensive that all but swept the Grizzlies off the court, piling up an unsurmountable lead. Coach Chase used practically his entire squad to stem the tide of Albright buckets. Elmo Sommers, recovering from a knee injury, saw action for a few minutes in the final half accounting for one field goal. The passing of the visitors was uncanny in the last period, and everything they threw up went in. The final score was Albright 57; Ursinus 36.

Iatesta was the big gun for the visitors, sinking nine field goals and a

"INEXPENSIVE DANCE" HELD SATURDAY EVENING IN GYM

The "Ursinus Collegians" put in their initial appearance last Saturday evening, February 25 in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. The occasion featured a dance sponsored by the Council on Student Activities.

Approximately fifty couples who attended this affair were quite well pleased with the synopated rhythm as produced by the newly formed eleven piece band which is composed entirely of Ursinus men.

The chaperones for this occasion were Prof. and Mrs. J. Harold Brownback and Prof. and Mrs. Maurice O. Bone. The committee responsible for the success of the evening consisted of Muriel Ingram '33, Ruth Roth '34, Virginia Miller '33, Alfred Alspach '33, and Benjamin Lee '33.

COUNCIL CALLS MEETINGS

At a meeting of the Men's Student Council held last Tuesday noon in Bomberger a resolution was passed for the calling of several class meetings. The occasion for this action was the fact that several council members are ineligible, thus not qualified to serve in that capacity.

A FLAG FOR THE FLAG POLE

On two different occasions during the past week one might have noticed a marked change in the appearance of the campus in the vicinity of Bomberger Hall. On two successive days the campus flag pole was topped by a banner, and we think that everyone would agree to the fact that in both instances the general appearance of the campus was considerably enhanced.

The first cause of this remarkable show of patriotism was the commemoration of George Washington's birthday, while the second banner day was achieved in the unfurling of the Ursinus emblem on Founders' Day. Just why should the flag pole stand bare except on rare occasions such as the death of an ex-president or the annual Founders' Day? Is there any good reason that could be presented?

In advocating the maintenance of a banner on this upright we do not wish to arouse or call forth any excessive patriotism or nationalism on the part of any individuals inasmuch as such a motive would be contrary to the ideal of fostering world peace which we think is gradually being inculcated into man as a whole.

In last week's issue of this publication there appears the suggestion of one means by which the cold, barren walls of Bomberger Hall could be made to look more attractive and pleasing to the eye. We likewise hold that due to the proximity of the flag pole to the chapel, a bit of color waving in the breezes would make the appearance of this edifice all the more attractive. Very little expense would be involved in the carrying out of such a suggestion, and in the end it would prove quite worthwhile.

WET FEET?

With the approaching spring weather with its promise of many dreary, wet days we think the time is quite appropriate for calling general attention to a condition which is most undesirable.

For a long time the condition of the walk behind Bomberger Hall between the doctor's office and the northeast corner of the chapel has gradually been becoming worse. This portion of the walk is apparently of a lower level than the adjacent portions, and as a result, in any kind of rainy weather large puddles of mud and water are so numerous as to make it almost impossible to pass without getting at least one damp foot.

Inasmuch as all freshman men are obliged to use this path as well as all those men students who are bound to and from the library, it is evident that this is one of the most used thoroughfares of the campus.

One need not put forth on the dangers involved in damp or wet feet as these dangers are everywhere recognized. As a health measure, if for no other reason, we recommend that this portion of walk be repaired as soon as possible.

H. E. H. '34.

INEXPENSIVE DANCES

The Council on Student Activities and the Senior Ball committee showed keen foresight in reducing the admission fees to the dances held in the gymnasium. The affair last Saturday evening was given at minimum cost. The idea met with popular favor everywhere.

News comes to us that the price of the Senior Ball has been lowered. It is a good thing that someone has realized that there is a depression in the outside world. The admission fee to the formal ball in the past years has been too high and there can be no doubt but that the affair will be better patronized this year.

MEN'S AFFIRMATIVE TEAM DEBATES UNIV. OF PENN.

The University of Pennsylvania's debate team argued an Ursinus men's team in Bomberger Hall, last Wednesday evening, February 22. It was the only men's debate of the season here which did not deal with the war-debt question. The issue discussed was: "Resolved, that Philadelphia adopt a city manager plan of government."

Mr. McFarren and Mr. Taikiff representing Penn, upheld the negative side while Jesse Heiges '35 and Ober Hess '33 argued the affirmative side for Ursinus. The debate was not judged. The Oregon plan providing for direct cross-questioning by each team of a member of the opposition, was used.

This subject was identical to that debated over the radio by the same men last month, however the Oregon plan was not used at that time. The representatives of Penn speaking under the new type plan for the first time, commented highly upon it as adding much interest to the forensic tilt.

GIRLS FORM INTER-DORM. BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The co-eds of Ursinus are following in the boys' footsteps in planning an inter-dorm basketball tournament.

The main purpose of their tournament is to give activity to those girls who do not compete on the varsity team. So that this purpose will not be defeated, no girl playing on the varsity first or second teams will be allowed to participate.

At the Athletic Council meeting on February 24th, plans were made for the tournament, which is to be started on the 28th. Miss Lillian Barnett, '35, assistant manager of basketball, will have full charge of the schedule. The day students and each hall will be represented, each team having a coach chosen from the varsity basketball team, and a manager chosen from the respective halls.

This intra-mural program offers an opportunity to stress group prowess rather than individual accomplishment, and through it many of the girls will see activity who most probably otherwise would not.

Feb. 23—Pease (oh! deah!) exchanging repartee with the freshmen at Founders' Day inquisition.

Feb. 22—Hershey appearing in another pink topcoat (the third, I believe.)

Feb. 24—The same guy and Seiple exchanging notes in class with Miss Sipe, (Minnie was the translator).

Feb. 24—"Brass-band" Blasband complaining that there are no points to the jokes in this column (are there supposed to be?).

COLLEGE COLORS PRESENTED TO FRESHMAN GIRLS

Dr. White Is Main Speaker

As a symbol of having successfully overcome the obstacles confronting them during their first year at Ursinus the girls of the freshman class were awarded the colors of the College in the form of red, old gold, and black ribbons during the Color Day Exercises held Monday evening, February 20, in Bomberger Hall.

The program was opened with charges to the freshman class by the president of the major campus associations for women. The Athletic Association charge was given by Rhea Wheatley '33, while that of the Y. W. C. A. was presented by Helen Van Sciver '33. The Women's Student Government Association challenge was delivered by Rena Grim, '33.

The color ceremony consisted chiefly of the presentation of colors to the freshman members of the association by representatives of the organizations. The offering of Sara Brown, '34, representing the Athletic Association, was accepted by Elizabeth Kassab, '36; that of Florence Frosh, '34, of the Student Council, by Mildred Gring, '36, and that of Betty Neast, '34, of the Y. W. C. A., by Lydia Ganser, '36. All freshman girls were then given colors by members of the Junior Advisory Committee.

Dr. Elizabeth B. White, dean of women, delivered a short address in which she stressed the importance of meeting the challenge of today in the right spirit, and of bringing to life's problems, one's best skill and judgement. She quoted Kant's admonition to "so act that the law of thy life might well be the law for all mankind."

Eleanor Lyle, '35, led campus songs while Coreta Nagle, '33 accompanied at the console.

Y. M.-Y. W. MEETING

A large audience which had gathered in the West Music Studio last Wednesday evening at 6.45 o'clock to hear Chief One Star speak to the joint Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on the "American Indian" was disappointed when the speaker failed to arrive.

Several hymns were sung and a passage of scripture was read by Iris Lutz '33, who led the meeting. When it seemed useless to wait longer for Chief One Star, Jerome Wenner '33, announced that the meeting would be discontinued.

The Tower Window

ONE of the gratifying features of the Philadelphia alumni banquet on last Friday evening was the presence of many recent graduates. One of the difficulties of this organization in years past was to get the younger alumni to attend its annual meetings. The tables were surrounded by people of bald heads and gray locks.

This year the personnel of the dinner party was quite different. There were not enough of the old timers in attendance but their absence was more than compensated for, as far as numbers are concerned, by the greatly augmented crowd of younger folk. To those who have been attending these dinners for two or three decades, the absence of many familiar faces would have had a depressing effect, but this was overcome by the inspiring exuberance of youth.

What is taking place in the Philadelphia Alumni Association must take place in all the local alumni associations and throughout the constituency of the College. The younger graduates must step up and take the places of worthy predecessors who are being overtaken by the age of retirement. The call comes not only to a few but to all the graduates of our more recent classes, for not only must we fill the ranks as constituted in former years, but these ranks must be greatly extended. The College is a bigger institution than it used to be, and correspondingly larger and more powerful forces are needed to provide equally effective support.

But while the younger alumni come forward, let not those whose college days are dated back in the nineteenth century withdraw prematurely from the scene. The spirit of youth persists when we keep up our associations with young people and share their ideas and their outlook on life.

A college is a fountain of perennial youth. Years may pass but those who keep in close touch with their alma mater never grow old.

ALUMNI NOTES

'12—Dr. Charles A. Behney has been appointed to the medical staff of the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia. Dr. Behney has been on the staff of the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania for several years.

'23—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Ellis Neuroth, of Easton, Pa.

'27—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Denny announce the birth of a daughter in February. Mr. Denny is on the faculty of the South River High School, South River, N. J.

'28—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Faust of Germantown, Philadelphia, announce the birth of a son, Arthur C. Faust, Jr.

Among those seen on the campus on Founder's Day were: Warren Hess '31, Bernice Buchanan '32, Katharine Hand '32, Edward Kottcamp '32, Clarence Livingood '32, Donald Ottinger '32.

FROSH ELECT MEMBER TO STUDENT COUNCIL

A meeting of the freshman class was called on Wednesday, February 22 in order to instruct the freshmen concerning the Founders' Day activities.

Immediately following this meeting an election was held among the freshman men students to select a representative to the Student Council. Branin Jaggard and James Reese were nominated. The former, at a gathering of the class on the following day, was selected to represent the class.

HALL CHEM. SOCIETY MEETS

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Hall Chemical Society, in the Science building, February 21, William Evans '35, president of the society, presented a paper on "Synthetic Gems," on which subject there was a general discussion by those present. Business of the society was also discussed.

It was decided to secure a speaker for the next meeting to which all who are interested will be invited. As yet no definite arrangements have been made.

The next meeting will be held the first week in March, the exact date of which will be announced later.

DR. CHAS. FENWICK SPEAKS TO HIST.-SOCIAL SCIENCE GROUP

"System of Cooperative Defense" Must Be Worked Out For Disarmament Plan

Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, professor of political science at Bryn Mawr College, lectured to an intensely interested audience on the subject, "Political Aspects of Disarmament." The meeting was well attended by members of the History-Social Science group as well as others interested in the topic which the speaker presented. Prof. Fenwick has written several books, including, "International Law," a field in which he is a recognized authority. He has also translated Vattel's "Droit des Gens." Prof. Fenwick is an associate editor of the Journal of International Law.

"I do not believe that any disarmament conference will ever get very far before a system of cooperative defense is worked out and accepted," stated Dr. Fenwick in his discussion of three great principles of law in relation to disarmament. The speaker laid particular stress on the phase concerning a system of cooperative defense. He gave his opinion that the greatest difficulty in regard to this matter is in persuading the nations to agree on boundaries and then in getting them to protect them. He feels further that the economic weapon is of the greatest use in this matter of disarmament. However, it can be made effective only with the sanction and support of every nation of consequence.

Another great principle—the fact that there is often a need of outside mediation in a dispute for securing substantial justice was also dwelt upon. Since 1789 the states have sued each other in the Supreme Court and abided by its decision instead of going to war. Just such an effective organization is needed to settle world disputes.

The other principle brought up was the conviction that a nation gains much in the long run if the general prosperity of the world is cared for. The free trade existing now between our states is an illustration of the advantages that could be brought about between nations.

Dr. Fenwick closed by saying that he is optimistic, for the world today is beginning to see these principles which twenty years before it never realized.

Following this address a round-table discussion was held for the participation of those assembled.

William Steele '33, president of the group was in charge of this highly instructive meeting held in Bomberger on Monday, February 21. A quartet composed of members of the Y. M. C. A. Chorus added enjoyment to the evening's program. The vocalists, Floyd Heller '33, Gilbert Bartholomew '35, Walter Welsh '33 and Claire Hubert '33 rendered two selections. They were "The Drum" by Gibson and "To Sing Awhile," by Drummond. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the discussion.

MANAGERS OF MAY DAY

PAGEANT SELECTED

Organization for the presentation of the Wagnerian May Day Pageant written by Luella Mullin '33 has been undertaken. Martha Moore '34 and Iris Lutz '33 have been chosen as manager and assistant manager respectively, while committees for the work of the various phases of the pageant have been selected.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller Ogden, instructor of dancing, has begun rehearsals of several of the special dance numbers and is organizing dance groups. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the college string ensemble under the direction of Dr. Russell Sturgis.

Tryouts for the several character parts will be held about the middle of March or the early part of April.

Win Close Game With Perkiomen, 39-38; But Defeated by Hill School, 51-28

The yearlings nosed out a hard fought victory over Perkiomen Prep., on the local court Wednesday evening by a margin of one point, the final score being 39-38. They offset a four point lead of the first half and avenged themselves of last week's defeat.

VILLANOVA 55; URSINUS 31

The Bears took another on the chin when they journeyed to Villanova last Friday night to encounter the mainliners in a return tiff, the home-esters winning by the one-sided margin of 55-31. Earlier in the season, the Chasemen sprung a surprise by nosing out Villanova 27-24 here.

Coach Chase started his second stringers, who played fair ball, holding the Wildcats to a 19-15 margin at the half. But as in other tilts, Ursinus weakened coming down the stretch and Villanova rolled up a lop-sided score.

Barry, stellar Wildcat guard, tallied 20 points to be high man in scoring of both quintets. Covert and Johnson each chalked up 9 counters for the Ursinus passers.

The Grizzlies can still salvage something out of the Conference race by taking over both Franklin-Marshall and Drexel in the remaining home games. Though the Chasemen will not cop the pennant in the loop, the Ursinus five have already won more league games than they have taken in any season in recent years.

Coaching School Approved

Approval was given for the holding of a school for high school and college coaches at the College in the month of August. This school will be under the direction of Russell C. Johnson of Ursinus College. The teaching staff will include such outstanding men as Harry Stuhldreher, former All-American quarter at Notre Dame, Nat Holman, athletic director at the College of the City of New York, the leading basketball authority of the country, and John C. McAvoy and Ralph E. Chase of Ursinus College. More extended notice of this addition to the summer schedule of the College will be issued by the directors.

Science Bldg. to be Dedicated

The Board voted to formally dedicate the new Science Building with appropriate exercises on the morning of Saturday, May 13. The members of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania will be invited to hold their spring meeting at the College on the afternoon and evening of the day before. It is hoped that on the morning of the dedication, Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis, whose gifts made the building possible, can be present.

President George L. Omwake was granted leave of absence for about two months following commencement in order that he may attend the quadrennial meeting of the Alliance of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches at Belfast and visit other points in Europe.

At 3.30, the Board adjourned to meet again at the call of the president.

maidens whom the English government had sent over to the colony as prospective wives for the planters and soldiers.

Throughout his life, Nicholas Marteau continued to bring new settlers to Virginia. After a life full of excitement and adventure, he died in Virginia in 1656 leaving three daughters. The Washington family came to this country several years later. A member of the Washington family married into the family of the granddaughter of Marteau, and in this way Washington was related to Nicholas Marteau, Huguenot settler and martyr, and the earliest American ancestor of George Washington.

FOUNDERS' DAY OBSERVED

He pointed out that education here began like a "crazy quilt" and that the pattern was not completed until the School Code was drafted in 1911.

The speaker pointed out the great influence which William Penn had exercised in the development of instruction in his colony, and stated that it was only because of Penn's enforced absence from Pennsylvania for a number of years that the educational progress in the colony was not more rapid. The direct and remarkable influence of the religious denominations in the growth and development of schools was shown, as also was the influence of the growth of cities, the Industrial Revolution, the topography of the state, and the influence of the Sunday School movement. All of these things, and several others, were said to have provided a natural background for the passage of the Free Public School Act in 1834, which really began the hundred years of Public Instruction which Dr. Rule was interested in.

Defines Educational Trends

Six definite trends of the educational development in the state were pointed out as indices of future growth, as well as achievements of the past century. The first of these was said to be the entire reorientation of education, so that now the child itself is the point of departure, rather than the subject. Secondly, the stressing of high standards of living rather than merely high standards of learning, which has aided in developing social studies, music and other extra curricular activities, and student government was given as an important trend. The third trend has been, in the opinion of the speaker, the development of the idea that "We must learn to know a pupil before we can attempt to teach him." This has brought about the keeping of cumulative records of the personality, character, and achievements of pupils. The fourth trend is toward a defined minimum program of education guaranteeing a fair education to all. The arranging of finances and subsidies in such a way as to adjust taxation according to the ability to pay, was said to be the fifth trend. The sixth was toward larger school districts—the widening of territory and scope, with the gradual elimination of tiny, impractical school districts.

Other Degrees Conferred

Shinzo Nakai of Osakay, Japan, who last semester completed the requirements for graduation was presented with a diploma signifying the degree of Bachelor of Science at the exercises. In addition, honorary degrees were presented to two men other than Dr. Rule. Rev. Wayne Channel received the degree of Doctor of Divinity and Theodore Sherwood Rowland, principal of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, received the degree of Doctor of Science. Candidates for these degrees were presented by Dean W. A. Kline to Dr. George L. Omwake, who presented the diplomas and insignia of the degrees.

The Rev. J. G. Bickerton, D. D., of Philadelphia, made the opening prayer for the exercises, following the academic procession of the faculty, directors and candidates for degrees. The procession was led by the College Choir, under the direction of Jeannette Douglas Hartenstine. The student body of the College marched to the auditorium under the leadership of the presidents and secretaries of the various classes. The program was completed by the singing of an anthem, "Triumphal March," from "Damascus"—Costa, by the choir.

The Rev. John Lentz, College pastor, pronounced the benediction. The "War March of the Priests" by Mendelsohn, was rendered as a postlude by Alfred Alspach '33, who accompanied at the console.

Family Dinner for All

The family turkey dinner for the directors, faculty, invited guests, and students of the College followed the academic exercises. The juniors and freshmen occupied the lower dining room while the seniors, sophomores and other guests filled the upper hall. Dr. George L. Omwake made a few comments, and short speeches by Dr. T. S. Rowland, Rev. J. G. Bickerton, Dr. Wayne Channel, and Dr. James N. Rule followed in order. The dinner was appropriately concluded with the singing of the Campus Song.

STINE HALL LEADS INTER-

DORM. BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Derr and Brodbeck In Close Race As League Passes Half Way Mark

Derr Hall opened the week of inter-dorm basketball by decisively defeating the Curtis Hall lads. The game was rather fiercely fought, but the Derr boys were superior.

On Tuesday, Freeland and Stine staged an interesting battle, the fast moving league leaders finally winning out by a very slim margin.

Derr Hall, led by their high scoring ace, Blizzard Stoudt, humbled the Day Study passers by an overwhelming score. The game was clearly one-sided and proved rather drab, the Derr boys piling up 59 points.

On Thursday, the Brodbeck dribblers returned to their winning ways by defeating Curtis Hall. After suffering two unexpected defeats the Brodbeckians were out for vengeance.

On Saturday, a double header provided amusement for week-end stay-overs. Derr Hall continued their winning rampage to defeat Freeland, while Stine Hall kept in front of the pack by defeating the Day students.

BEAR MATMEN SUCCUMB

Bassman Meets Tartar

The best tiff of the afternoon saw Red Bassman, Ursinus, matching holds with Lee, Red and Blue Champion. Bassman, unmindful of his rival's undefeated seasonal record, mixed things from the start, tripped the Penn 165 pounder, and gained advantage. Bassman worked into a pin hold and it seemed as if Lee's shoulders were down, but the Red and Blue grappler survived the effort and came back to pin Bassman in 4:36, with a half-nelson and body hold.

Al Alspach Drops Decision

Jackson, Quaker heavy, piled up an eight minute and eight second time advantage to down Al Alspach, Ursinus unlimited matster. Making good use of his greater weight, the Penn wrestler, appropriately dubbed Sully (of Barney Google fame), tore into Alspach after about one minute of action and grabbed a leg, bringing the Grizzly star to the mat for advantage. Al was game and tried time after time to slip over one of his famous rolls to break the advantage, but was balked at every attempt. It was only Alspach's second defeat of the season, but broke a winning streak of one decision and two falls.

Capt. Mann Triumphs

In the 175 pound division, Capt. Mann had no trouble in throwing Rube Levin, of Ursinus, in 3:09 with a body press. Mann gained time advantage in under a minute and went to work on Rube's legs. Levin squirmed to the edge of the mat after two and a half minutes but was soon pinned after resuming wrestling.

Coach Carleton forfeited the battle in the 155 class. Shollenberger, with a broken rib, was incapable of service, and probably will be on the sidelines when Ursinus closes its campaign against Rutgers, this Saturday at New Brunswick. Jack Eachus, a possible candidate for this division, cannot participate in both basketball and wrestling at the same time, according to Coach Chase.

Shuman Makes Debut

Mickey Shuman, star Bear football quarterback, made his intercollegiate wrestling debut in the 145 lb. group, facing Jameson, of Penn. The latter threw Shuman after 5:54 with a cradle. The Ursinus grappler showed up well the start, evading Jameson's flying attempts to grab his legs. Jameson d'd clamp on an advantage after about a minute and a half of grappling. After five minutes of wrestling, Shuman apparently slipped, and Jameson applied the pin hold.

Penn Lightweights Win

Finkleman, Red and Blue 126 pound matman, threw Fissel, of Ursinus, in 2:02, with a three-quarter nelson. Finkleman rushed out of his corner like lightning, and had captured George's leg before the bout was well under way. Finkleman kept his advantage until he forced Fissel's shoulders to the mat.

In the opening encounter, Moll, Quaker 126 pound canvas-eater, tossed Franklin, Bear lightweight, in 9:18. Moll had a huge time advantage which kept piling up as the bout neared a close. In the final three minutes, he started working for a fall, and finally threw Franklin with a bar and crotch, with less than a minute to wrestle. Final score: Penn, 33; Ursinus, 5.

VESPERS

A very interesting vesper service entitled "The House of God" was held last evening in the chapel of Bomberger Hall. The program was a treatment of the places of worship of God. Scripture selections were read by Huldah Myers '33.

Alfred Creager, '33 gave a short talk on "Synagogues," following which "Cathedrals" were discussed by Evelyn Virgin '34. Richard Shaffer '34 spoke on the "Church of Today."

Benjamin Squawks Like Baby

The domestic scene sounded just like home—but Benny will probably wear a coat of armor if he ever has to perform as such again. It seems that the "man in the brown derby" is still remembered by the water-throwing Derr Hall doo-dads. And another thing! It was clearly evident that "Roman's" handicap was entirely too great in the royal penny sweepstakes, while the domestic lass of spanking fame proved to be a regular Ben Hur in the wheelbarrow derby.

Remarkably Talented Dancers

As for dancing—well, the talent displayed simply overwhelmed everyone. The "airy, fairy Lillians" were not quite as clumsy as the patty-cake boys from the physical ed. department, but the afternoon's best display of left-handed dancing was exhibited by none other than the silly southpaw who retired in favor of the pelican, after Miss Sizzlebush passed the buck. Vas you dere, Sharley? Love confessions set to poetry had Shelly, Keats and the rest of 'em stopped, although the judges observed no really passionate outbursts on the part of any of the stricken lads or lassies.

But in spite of the fact that there are no wrestling matches in Ocean City, and that "Three Little Words" has not yet been nationally memorized, we may not linger too long. After a few good acts and some excellent sideline wisecracks, the program came to a close. The bedraggled crew struggled to their feet, feebly mumbled a few lines of the newly-learned (?) campus song, and shuffled out behind the members of the audience, who were already hurrying towards Bomberger in order to obtain good seats for the exercises. (Or what do you think?)
