MEN'S DEBATE TEAMS

HAVE EVENTFUL WEEK

Negative Team, Debating at Home, Loses to Wagner; Defeats Susquehanna; Affirmative Team on Tour

WAR DEBTS DISCUSSED

Affirmative teams from Wagner College and Susquehanna University debated the Ursinus negative team on the question of war debt cancellation, last Wednesday and Thursday nights, March 8 and 9, in Bomberger Hall. No decision was given in the contest with Wagner College, but Ursinus won the debate against Susquehanna by a 2-1 vote of the judges.

Wagner College, located in New York City, was represented by Mr. Albert Corbin, Mr. John Klahn, and Mr. Joseph Monge. Ursinus debaters were John Lloyd '36, Ober Hess '33, and Jesse Heiges '35. Both teams had analyzed the question in the same manner, so that a direct clash of opinion resulted throughout.

The men from Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, who ably supported cancellation of debts were: Mr. Alexander Youngerman, Mr. Henry Cassler, and Mr. Edwin Clapper. Alfred Alspach '33, Ober Hess '33, and Jesse Heiges '35, made up the Ursinus team for this debate.

The chief division of opinion this time centered about whether the war debts would aid the return of prosperity. Reverend Lentz, Mr. Robinson, principal of the Phoenixville high school, and Mr. Warren Francis were the judges.

Speeches in both debates were ten minutes long, and rebuttals were five. The "old" style of debating was used. In the remaining two debates—with Drexel Institute and Lincoln University—the Oregon plan will be in force.

Affirmative Team on Trip

The Men's Affirmative Debating team engaged in two debates last week. They defeated Susquehanna by a 2-1 decision, at Selinsgrove, Pa., on Thursday night, and dropped a 3-0 decision to Wagner College at Staten Island, N. Y., on Friday evening. One more debate, tonight with Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J., remains for the Ursinus forensic artists during the present trip.

The debates were on the war debt question. H. Allen Cooper '35, was the first speaker for Ursinus. He was followed by Paul Shelly '36, and Irving E. Sutin '34. The rebuttals were offered in the reverse order. James E. Palm '33, completed the touring debaters and will team with Cooper in the Rutgers debate, which will be on the Oregon plan.

Rev. R. A. Waite To Speak In Chapel

Rev. R. A. Waite, representative of the American Youth Foundation, whose headquarters are in St. Louis, Missouri, will address the student body at the chapel exercises, Wednesday, March 29. He is making a speaking tour in Philadelphia, Chester, and Lansdale and will arrive at Ursinus Tuesday night. The American Youth Foundation has for its ideal the four-fold life—that of gaining the highest possible development in mental, spiritual, social, and physical fields. It is upon these factors that Rev. Waite will base his address.

Hymn Service

The Vesper service Sunday evening, March 12, was held in the West Music Studio. Favorite hymns, selected by the audience, were sung. Esther Lightner '33 led the singing and Mary Helen Alspach '36 accompanied at the piano.

Classical Meeting

At the meeting of the Classics group last Thursday evening, Dr. Donald G. Baker discussed the history of coinage, and Norman Shollenberger '34 read a paper on "The Athenian Constitution."

Dr. Baker in his talk mentioned the origin of coinage in Lydia, central Asia Minor, about the end of the 8th century. He told of the metals most commonly used, the process of making coins, the designs struck on the coins, the rapid spread of currency in commercial towns, the varieties of coins used, and the unsuccessful attempt to inflate currency at that time.

Norman Shollenberger '34 discussed in detail the constitutional rights of an Athenian citizen, and the executive, judicial, and legislative powers of the government. In concluding he contrasted Athenian and present day democracy.

After the conclusion of the program refreshments were served.

DELL LAMPE'S ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT SENIOR BALL

Senior Class Schedules High Class Orchestra Leader and His N. B. C. Artists to Play at Frolic

INVITATIONS ON SALE

The Senior class has accomplished the seeming impossible! At first the ball committee had scheduled Freddie Bergin for the annual formal. His band has been disbanded during the Lenten season. Then Phil Emerton was booked, only to cancel because of previous arrangements. To make their peace with the management and because of an engagement in Philadelphia the next night, Dell Lampe and his N. B. C. radio artists will come to Collegeville on March 24.

This undoubtedly will be the highest class band ever to occupy the stage of the Thompson-Gay ballroom. Dell Lampe has just undertaken a road tour after playing at the Palais d'Or in New York City and at the Trianon Ball Room, Chicago, at which place Wayne King recently played.

Reduced Subscription—$3

Realizing the conditions of the time and the lack of money among the students, the committee has seen fit to lower the ball price to three dollars, which will just make both ends meet, provided that the estimated number of couples attend. Expenses have been cut to the bone to make the dance a success.

Ball invitations will be placed on sale this week, and may be secured from any member of the committee. Outsiders and alumni are invited to send their money to Alvin Paul, chairman, and the invitation will be mailed to them.

Don't forget the date—March 24 from nine till one. Requirements: a girl, a tux, and three dollars for a never-to-be-forgotten evening of pleasure.

Frosh Conquer Sophs In Annual Court Game

The Freshmen basketball team emerged victorious from the annual Frosh-Soph tussle Wednesday evening, carrying the long end of a 34-30 score.

Before a good sized body of student fans, the yearlings proved their superiority over the Sophs in every way. The game was hard played from start to finish, the frosh maintaining the advantage almost all the way.

Calvert led the scoring with 15 points. The losers were led by Johnson and Covert. This is the first contest of the year in which the frosh conquered their superiors, having been

SOMMERS ELECTED CAPTAIN

The basketball lettermen met Friday noon and elected Elmo Sommers, Collegeville high product, to lead the 1933-34 quintet. This has been Sommer's second year on the varsity and he will be the only senior letterman in this sport next year. The managers must be approved by the athletic council before they are announced.

WEEKLY REPORTERS TALK TO BOMBERGER'S CHAIRS

News Hounds Make Unusual Survey of College Students Thoughts During "Scrip Paid For" Education

NUMEROUS AUTOGRAPHS

A certain campus ruse, on leaving one of the girls' dorms at the prescribed 7.30, was once heard to exclaim fervently: "Boy, if the chairs in that sitting room could talk—"

But of course they can't. If they could, Gaff would immediately interview some of the most heavily upholstered ones and proceed to blackmail people. Nevertheless, the idea is good. With this in mind, the Weekly's two star reporters were ordered to find some chairs that could and would talk.

The news hounds entered Bomberger and turned into Room 7. "Weaver is a beaver and not a whale, because he has a broad flat tail," said a staid walnut armchair, by way of greeting.

"Jake Hirt has airdale hair," chimed in another.

"Chick Roberts loves Betty Shaub," a third cut in, quite irrelevantly.

The sad looking one with the weak arm merely murmured "Massey has a pumpkin head" and continued to look sad.

This was just the beginning of the unusual survey of what students think about when their parents are paying good scrip for their education. To be complete it would cover more pages than six encyclopedias or one of Dr. McClure's outside reading assignments. So let's be methodical about it.

Altho the oldest initials dated back to 1901, the earliest legible autograph was that of Margaret Rahn '15, who now gets paid for telling junior high school students not to write on their desks. A classmate of hers, "R. G. M.", can

Freshmen Complete Fairly Successful Court Campaign

Don Sterner's freshmen basketball team completed a fairly successful season with three victories out of nine starts, for an average of .333.

The yearlings won and lost one each to both Perkiomen and Drexel Frosh. Their third win was over Valley Forge. Villanova Frosh, Hill School, and National Farm School proved too strong for the home team.

Scoring for the frosh was led by Calvert with a total of 87 points. Grenawalt followed a close second with 83 points. In the second game with Valley Forge, Calvert succeeded in scoring 29 points, equal to the total score of the visiting team. Grenawalt ranged all the way from 5 to 14 points per game.

Calvert was the regular center. Grenawalt, Gaumer, Hyland, and Danehower filled the forward positions while Bradford, Rinehart, and Davison shared the guard duties. Other members of the squad were Trumbore and McLaughlin.

Student Activities Council Plans A Dance

At a meeting of the Council on Social Activities held Tuesday, March 7, it was decided that the Student Councils should be granted the privilege of having another inexpensive dance. This dance will be held on April 21. A report on the last dance was given. It was further decided that the dates for Senior week-end will be March 23, 24, and 25 while those for the Junior week-end will be May 5 and 6.

The Weekly joins with the College in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Sheeder on the birth of a daughter, Jocelyn Xander, Tuesday, March 7.

Indian Addresses "Y"

Chief One Star of the Cherokee Indians of Oklahoma, was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting held in Freeland lobby on Wednesday evening. He began his talk with a history and probable origin of the Indians, of whom there are 360 tribes in America today. He then explained and demonstrated the sign language which is used by practically every tribe in the continent. He later spoke of the Indian manners and customs of living, describing their houses and dress. Each article of clothing which the Indian wears has some special significance. Chief One Star, like most Indians, has a poetic nature, and in addition to singing several Indian songs, he sang one of his own compositions which he intends to name "Along the Perkiomen." The program ended with a demonstration of a war-dance. H. Allen Cooper, '35, was in charge of devotions.

INTRA-MURAL WRESTLING TOURNEY ON WED. AND THURS.

Dormitories To Enter Annual Tournament; Thirty-Six Men To Compete

PUBLIC IS INVITED

Wednesday and Thursday evenings are big events! Thirty-six potential grapplers will mix and mangle on the mats in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium for the honor of their alma dormitory. This will be the occasion of the second intra-mural wrestling tourney.

Two large mats will be kept going at one time to accommodate the large number of grapplers. Each dormitory will have six men on the team, one manager, and a trainer. The weights will be 126, 135, 145, 155, 165 and 175 pounds. There will be a five pound allowance given in every class.

No varsity lettermen or squad members will be allowed to compete, nor will past squad members be permitted to enter. This will insure that the entrants will not know a great deal about the art. Bouts will be five minutes in length, one minute on the feet and two two-minute periods on the mat, if necessary.

Opponents Drawn by Lot

Wrestlers will weigh in between 4 and 5 p. m. Wednesday afternoon. Opponents for the preliminaries will be selected by lot. All competitors must bring their own equipment. Five points will be awarded for first place in any division, three for second, and one for third. Throughout the meet,

RESUME SHOWS SUCCESSFUL

1933 WRESTLING SEASON

Paris, Alspach, and Bassman are Highest Scorers in Bears' Best Year of Wrestling

PROMISING FUTURE

Despite its frequent shortcomings, the 1933 season goes on the books as the best yet for an Ursinus wrestling team. Of the six meets on the schedule, Ursinus was the victor in two; and was defeated in four. The Bear grapplers scored a total of 87 points as compared with a total of 123 points for their opponents. This gives an average of 14.5 points per meet for the Bears, 20.5 points for opponents. Three men—Paris, Alspach, and Bassman—were responsible for 66 points of the season's total of 87.

Personnel of Squad Kaleidoscopic

When Coach Carleton issued his call for wrestling candidates in December, it was answered by a motley group of novices, besides four lettermen of a year ago—Paris, Shollenberger, Peterman, and Alspach. The personnel of the squad was constantly changed due chiefly to ineligibility and injuries. This condition, unfortunately, prevailed throughout the whole season. Every meet found at least one new man participating for Ursinus; a total of 15 men took part in varsity competition. Only four men participated in all six meets: Paris, Alspach, Bassman, and Franklin.

Two Seniors on Team

The feature of the season was the performance of Paris, Alspach, and Bassman. Otts Paris, as captain of the team, going through the season undefeated, being the team's high scorer, certainly has his best year in his four seasons of college wrestling. The diminutive Bear, thrown only once in his four years of competition, will probably see his record at Ursinus stand for many seasons to come.

Ordinarily a 175 pounder, Alspach's performances against men as much as 60 pounds heavier, in the unlimited division, and working against men of wide wrestling experience, enabled him to give a good account of himself. Starting wrestling in his sophomore year, his consistency and heady wrestling are especially noteworthy. He was thrown only once in two years. He and Paris are the only two seniors on the squad and their absence next year will leave two places hard to fill.

The Find of the Year!

Were a prize given for the most promising new candidate, it would undoubtedly go to Herman "Red" Bassman. His performances in the 165

Women's Varsity Team Bows to Beaver

The girls basketball team dropped its fourth consecutive game to Beaver on Friday afternoon. The game which was played on the home floor was close until the end of the third quarter when the Beaver forwards started to make their shots count and ran up the score. The score at the end of the game was 25-11.

Although both teams exhibited fast passing, the guarding was also very close so that many apparently good passes were intercepted. Both pairs of guards were particularly quick at spoiling shots. The Beaver center combination, having the advantage of height, managed to break up numerous plays in which the ball was headed for the Ursinus forwards.

As was usual in the last few games which Ursinus has played the first half was marked by a very low score.

Editorial Comment

ARE WE ECONOMICALLY EDUCATED?

Too often we, the supposedly educated, know all too little about the outstanding affairs of our own country. We are willing to indulge freely in conversations or discussions concerning the recognition of Russia, the war in China, the Hitler rule in Germany, but how many of us are actually familiar with the great underlying conditions which resulted in the present day depression of America? We know that there is a depression—in most cases that fact has been thrust upon us—but just how much do we know about the long brewing economic forces which have entangled us into such a state of despair? It should be our desire to find out just what is being done to overcome this depression, in what manner we are healing our economic ills, and what we can do in the future to avoid similar conditions of strife.

Most of us are undoubtedly more concerned with the unraveling of events from this time on than in the complication of the economic "plot." However, a knowledge of what has happened can enable us to plan and think for ourselves. Fortunately, most indices seem to show that we have already touched bottom and that from now on orderly processes of rehabilitation will take place. Dr. Von Kuehlman, former Foreign Minister of Germany, says: "If we can assume that what happened after the three other great wars of history may repeat itself, we can come to the conclusion that the year 1933 will bring a return to more normal business conditions."

We are at present living in a great "action" age, perhaps one of the most interesting in the history of the United States. From our present ills we should learn much and what we learn should better equip us to meet future problems.

THE TENNIS COURT SITUATION

In this issue will be found a letter to the editor concerning the tennis courts and their poor condition. Every year there is a lot of talk and criticism which, unfortunately for the students, does not result in action until too late for use by them. If the wheels are started rolling now, this condition should be adjusted by the time fair weather comes. We agree heartily with the sentiments expressed in this letter and strongly advocate that the six tennis courts be placed in proper condition for playing and kept in that state.

RAISING THE STUDENT COUNCIL'S PRESTIGE

Institutions are not built in a day, a week, or even a year. They are founded on tradition and on the reputation for good work and efficient service to mankind. It is a cumulative process. Each new floor rests upon the foundation of the one beneath. Analogous to this is the life story and history of the Student Council.

The Men's Student Council has been too dormant. It could well afford to accomplish some constructive legislation. The organization is supposed to be representative of the student body. It is designed to act as a go-between the administration and the students.

Why does it not try to raise its prestige? Every year finds the august body suffering from some dread disease, be it lack of cooperation or an inferiority complex. This is not a personal attack upon the officers. However, by the proper publication of its actions and a well-defined constructive program there can be no doubt but that the campus opinion toward the governing body will be raised.

When the students realize that the council means business and every word it says, then and then only will the rulings be respected. With the cooperation of the student body, the council can work wonders.

In the belief that the publicity given to the actions of the council are insufficient, the Weekly will henceforth print the accounts of the doings of that body, resolutions, penalties imposed, warnings, etc.

Paisley Prize Awards

Two prizes of twenty-five dollars each are awarded at the Commencement exercises to the two seniors—one boy and one girl—who have written the best essay on a subject chosen by the faculty. This year the faculty has decided that subject shall be: Is the attitude of the conscientious objector toward warfare justifiable?

Specific directions for competing for these prizes are posted on the bulletin board outside of the Dean's office. It is hoped that a large number of students will avail themselves of this opportunity.

A pressure of one million and a half volts was applied across the body of a Lehigh student. The subject's hair stood on end, but he experienced no unpleasant sensation.

Munkacsy's Paintings

Dean Kline in his annual address to the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. spoke of the Italian painters Munkacsy's, works which were contained in the late John Wananaker's exceptional personal collection. It is an unusual privilege, permitted to all who enter Wananakers Philadelphia store during this season before Easter, to view two of these paintings—the "Christ Before Pilate," and the "Crucifixion." There are hundreds every day who are standing in awe, gazing intently at the almost living scenes before them. The student body is urged to see them.

McGill University, Canada, held a debate on the question, "Resolved: that it is better to be drunk than to be in love." Well, we're trying to get rid of the Eighteenth Amendment.

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor of the "Weekly":

At this season I believe it appropriate to bring the attention of Ursinus people to the state of their tennis courts. Six tennis courts are laid out, fenced and fitted out with permanent fixtures but rarely if ever are all of the courts in condition for play at one and the same time. Granted of course that the basis of the courts is poor and therefore required more work than if this were not so, yet, is there any excuse for the fact that even during the height of a tennis season, the courts are scarcely ever rolled and less frequently lined?

Knowing the effort it takes to keep a tennis court in first class shape, I yet venture to suggest that with proper management it can be done at Ursinus with exceedingly small outlay of funds.

First: The job of keeping the tennis courts in condition for constant play during the entire spring and fall season could be made a part-time self-help job with proper supervision on the part of someone who knows how the work should be undertaken. We have most, if not all of the needed equipment—it only needs to be used. This cannot be done by the regular college help since it corresponds with the time when college lawns and baseball and track fields are demanding attention.

Second: A system of advanced reservation for the use of the courts might be followed so time need not be wasted waiting for a chance to play. Reservations for the use of a court could be limited to one hour at a time per person. Registrations for courts might be made in person or by phone at, say, the office in the Science building or some other convenient place.

Third: If new nets or other equipment is needed a fee of 5c or 10c per person might be charged when reservations are made, until the amount needed has been raised.

Fourth: One court could be designated for the use of the faculty and their families, but open to all students when the faculty were not using it. The need for this type of recreation on the part of the faculty is evident when one has given the subject thought.

Tennis is an almost ideal sport which appeals to large numbers at Ursinus. To wait hours for a court, to find them uncared for and unkept, discourages the participation in it. Since tennis lends itself to real advantage, unlike so many team games, in after-college life, it seems a great shame if it fails to be enjoyed to the highest possible amount from a lack of correct management.

I hope this plea will be received in the spirit in which it has been given and that it may win support on the part of students, athletic council and faculty.

Sincerely,
R. T. C.

The Tower Window

WHILE the Board of Directors was dawdling into the doldrums of a dull moment in the course of necessary but none too inspiring items of business, comes the general 'Jing' Johnson with a wide smile across his countenance, and modestly takes the first seat inside the door. At the first opportune moment his presence is announced by a member who probably had some knowledge of the wherefore of his visit, and the President invites him to speak.

With Rooseveltian directness and economy of language, he stated that he held in his hand a receipt for something over eleven thousand dollars (He named the exact sum but I have forgotten what it was) from the Pittsburgh-DeMoines Steel Company in full payment of the contract price for the all-steel grand stand which visitors to Patterson Field have enjoyed during the last few years. The stand was paid for in annual installments by the Athletic Council out of its own funds and is now presented to the College free of all debt.

Just at this time the Board was not expecting gifts, and Mr. Johnson's presentation brought forth a burst of spontaneous applause such as is seldom heard in the meeting of this sedate body. Ere the hand-clapping had died down a vote of thanks was moved, seconded and passed, 'Jing' beamed appreciation as he backed out the door, and the event went into history. It is worthy of record beyond the pages of the secretary's book; therefore this.

The Athletic Council is to be commended not alone for the policy by which it has been building up the equipment at Patterson Field (One of these days it will come with a receipt for the costs of the gymnasium also) but also for the type of grandstand that has been provided. Thus Ursinus has been spared the unsightly pile of concrete that has come in recent years to mar the beauty of too many athletic fields, and instead we have an equally strong but far more trim and attractive piece of furniture from which to contemplate Ursinian victories.

Characters To Be Chosen For Wagnerian Pageant

Persons for character parts of the Wagnerian Pageant to be presented at the May Day celebration, are to be chosen at tryouts late in March or early in April.

The May Queen and her attendants, as is the custom, will be elected by the women of the student body. All other characters, however, with the exception of the dancing groups and special dancers which will be selected by Mrs. Ogden, will be chosen at this time.

The characters of the central setting are the burgomeister, the city clerk and his police, the director of the fest, and townsfolk.

The roles in the scene from Die Walkure are those of Brunhilde, Siegfried, Wotan, and Loge. Those in Die Meistersinger are of Eva and Walther.

These representative selections of Wagner's work reflect the genius of the master and the brilliancy of his workmanship as well as the old tale and traditions that have remained popular for many years.

Departments of the various phases of producing the pageant are being organized, and working committees have been appointed.

The chairman of the program and publicity committee is Naomi Clark, '34. Ruth Renneburg '35, is chairman of the costume committee; Hermine Loos '34, is chairman of the property committee, and Betty Neast '34, has been chosen chairman of the ground committee. The episode leaders are Mary Francis '33, Virginia Meyer '34, and Eveline Omwake '33.

The interest and cooperation of every committee and acting group, as well as that of the student body that is necessary to make the pageant as successful as it has been in other years, points to a splendid production.

The Bryn Mawr "College News" stated: "One of the few blots on an otherwise beautiful landscape has, from time immemorial, been the student body."

Miss Juanita Sadler Addresses Y. W.

Miss Juanita Jane Sadler, national Y. W. Secretary of Young Peoples Problems, led a very interesting meeting of the Y. W. C. A. in the West Music Studio Wednesday, March 8.

She introduced her talk by reading several short selections. Her topic was Negro-White Relations. She used as her keynote "Living On the Forward Edge of Your Age." She stated that there were four necessary qualities to live. They are a far-reaching imagination to see a person as she might become; a sense of value to discriminate between the good and the best; a sense of order to regulate the details of one's life and a practical sense and practical judgment, which can be developed every day. One who has acquired these characteristic lives creatively on the forward edge of her age. To these individuals is left the responsibility to change the relations, or to raise them to a higher level, regardless of color or nationality.

After a hymn had been sung, the Y. W. was privileged to hear about the American Indians from Mrs. One Star, wife of Chief One Star.

Miss Sadler closed the meeting with a short prayer.

Three Debates Featured At Int. Rel. Club

The members of the International Relations Club met at Shreiner Hall Tuesday evening, March 7 for a regular meeting of the International Relations Club.

Clinton Bigelow, '33, chairman of the program committee, presided over three informal debates. In the first, Jesse Heiges '35 opposed Allan Claghorn '34 who upheld the affirmative of the question; Resolved: "That all intergovernmental war debts should be cancelled." Since these legally contracted debts, although large numerically, are small in relation to the various national budgets, the precedent of the debt cancellation, it was decided, should not be instituted.

Eugene Miller '33 and Violet Wintersteen '34 met on the issue: Resolved: "That an Economic Boycott should be enforced against Japan." It was decided that it would be practically impossible to enforce an economic boycott under present circumstances because the temptation of profitable trading would be stronger than the idea of exerting economic pressure against a practice, which, until recent years, has been considered entirely proper.

The negative side of the subject; Resolved: "That the United States should recognize Russia" was presented by Doris Wilfong '35. General refutations of her arguments were offered by various club members.

Dr. White provided the lighter elements of the meeting by reading some answers to an exam which was recently given on a general knowledge of the relations of the United States to the Caribbean region.

Worthwhile refreshments were appreciated.

from the
GRIZZLY

According to recent radio dispatches, Tom's River is quite a hot little place after all.

The intra-mural basketball league is over. Curtis Hall gamely fought its way up to third place, while the erstwhile cyclones of Brodbeck, now hardly a good sneeze collectively, repose in the position just above Day Study (which had them once, by the way, for its only victory.)

Famous last words: "I don't know when we'll have this test, I had the date on a slip of paper, but I left the paper home."

Frosh Girls Win Debate

A freshman girls debate with Spring City was held Monday afternoon, March 6, in Bomberger Hall. The subject of the debate was: Resolved: "That the United States Should Officially Recognize Russia." Mrs. Carter, the critic judge, awarded the debate to the affirmative team which was composed of Agnes Baker, Mildred Gring, Dora Evans, captain, and Mary Helen Alspach, alternate. Much credit for the success of the debate should be given to Sara Brown, the freshman coach.

Ask one who knows—The Dean of Creighton University recently posted up this notice on his door, "Get your grades and pass out quietly."

The subject of the debate which featured the meeting of the Women's Debating Club held at Glenwood Hall on Monday evening, March 6th was "Resolved: That Woman's Place is in the Home."

Gladys Ulrich '33, presided. Doris Wilfong '35, and Keturah Donalson '34, upheld the negative and Evelyn Virgin '34, and Louella Mullin '33, the affirmative. The decision was given in favor of the affirmative. Refreshments were served.

... THE COLLEGE MEN'S TELEPHONE HOUR!

HERE'S a college tradition that's one of the best... "Half past eight is the time to telephone home!" It's not in the Freshman handbook; it's not in the Rules. But here's the reason for its popularity:

At 8:30 P. M. low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. These are calls for a telephone (like a local call) and NOT for a specific person.

Take advantage of the saving—just give the operator your home telephone number. The folks are probably at home at 8:30 P. M. But best of all, and to make doubly sure, keep a regular date to telephone home each week. Then you can always make use of the inexpensive Station to Station service.

BOMBERGER CHAIRS TALK

be no other than Mr. Robert Gross Miller who evidently labeled her neighboring chair.

Two former students tied for the greatest circulation. Both Dr. John Wesley Tomlinson '23 and Mrs. Crozier (who graduated in 1920) left eight chairs in various rooms inscribed with their names or initials. This decision may, however, be contested by the clan of Helffrich. It is true that their name appeared more often, but then there were more Helffrichs.

Three other co-eds of a decade or so ago saw fit to leave a permanent record. E. M. K. (who turned out to be Mrs. Elizabeth (Kohler) Hartzell '16), Miss Grace Chandler '19, and A. H. '15, who is undoubtedly Miss Adela Hanson.

But cold statistics are tiresome. The headline-hunters slunk (slunk, slank?) up the tortuous trail to the lair of the musicians on Bomberger's third floor. "McClure loves everybody" hummed a black-board in the West studio. But after this altruistic bit of information was recorded, nothing more of any importance showed up.

Back to the more fertile second floor. A rare prize popped up unexpectedly in the form of an announcement that "Parunak has possum hair."

The only illustrated autograph discovered was that of Mr. Wesley Russel Updike '23. It is presumed that the artist was an enemy of Mr. Updike. One of three Mr. Dietz's was evidently a chronic sufferer of coeditis, as his name was closely followed by a pierced heart.

Further information on the subject is undoubtedly available. Guides to Bomberger hall to aid in the search will be furnished on request at 308 Brodbeck.

Here is a partial list of some of the initials found inscribed in Bomberger hall by the Weekly reporters. See if you can identify your name.

H J, A B, R A T, G H A, S U, M A, C H, R H, M I R, T P, N T, C A B, D F G, I E B, P G, H A M, J B, L A, N R D, D T D, G V R, J B I, S M, S O, P E T, M C F, H F M, H F K, H R M, D T H, F V H, E H B, I C M, L B U, E D K, R A, M D H, R E M, F W H, G A R, E M A, E H A, F M S, J W C, T S, J D H, E M, M M, J W E, G E L, J W T, W U E, G B S, N E S, E P, G R H W, W L M, R C J, R G M, F C B.

Some Ursinusites obligingly identified their initials with class numerals: D I T '25, T S '33, G E '30, C V R '32, J U S '30, H A B '28, P L S '31, H S D '34, J S K '19, A H '15, E M K '16, M D H '16, N B K '20, L B W '24, M D H '26, E B '28, U G '20, R D M '32, E M '33, O S B '20, R G M '15, R R '15, R F S '19, B H '14, H M K '29.

Many were bold enough to write their whole name: Tomlinson '23, Bob Burns '30, C. Roberts '32, Sandy '30, Stan Omwake 1931, Ted Moore '30, Johnny Lentz '31, O. K. Smith '33, J. Other inscriptions were very complimentary: Weaver, Straub, Prof. Boswell, Betty L., Sump, Deitz (with pierced heart), Swede, Stabert, Carter, White Hope, Wharton Kline '93, Mabry, Boots Thompson, Don Sterner, C. Tulane University undergraduates have organized a "gigolo club," in an effort to help the women of nearby Newcomb College solve the social problem. They offered "attractive, well-dressed dates for all occasions," but the organization proved unsuccessful when the gigolo clubbers announced they would proffer their services only in return for a "small remuneration."

VARSITY MAT SEASON OVER

pound class raised greatly the stock of Coach Carleton's squad. The flashy red-head was the second highest scorer on the team, and all four of his wins had been by falls.

The idiosyncratic honors for the season lie between Rube Levin and Tom Hepner, with a slight edge to the former. Rube performed in the shortest and longest bouts of the year; he threw Dahl of Brooklyn Poly. in 83 seconds; the long Ursinus bout of the year lasted 16 minutes, being forced to an extra period, and was between Levin and Mattia of Rutgers, the latter winning by a very slight margin.

Hepner's oddity was the throwing of Reiman of Temple by a peculiar leg hold.

Lack of experience proved disastrous to the lightweights. George Franklin and George Fissel show promise of developing into clever wrestlers with more experience. Norm Shollenberger will be the only senior letter man on the squad next year.

one point will be given for every fall. A large blackboard will be set up and the names of contestants and score written upon it for the convenience of the spectators.

The referees will be: Otts Paris, Kraft, Citta, and Kravitz. Ben Lee and Larry Shear will hold the stop watches. The bouts will begin promptly at eight o'clock. Students and townspeople are invited.

A special telephone system has been installed between the men's and women's dormitories in order to promote better and more social contacts.

GIRLS LOSE TO BEAVER

In this contest Beaver was leading at half time 6-5. The score at the end of the third quarter was 13-11 but Ursinus couldn't manage to click at all after that. Anne Parry, Beaver forward, led the scoring with 14 points.

Second Team Game

Following the practice they started last week, the members of the second team atoned somewhat for the varsity's defeat as they won 22-15. This game was also close, the score at the half being 8-7 in favor of Beaver. However it was Ursinus, in this game which had the greater reserve, so they won. Alice Richards was high scorer for Ursinus with 11 points.
