SENIOR BALL FRIDAY NIGHT WILL FEATURE DELL LAMPE

Popular Chicago Orchestra Will Furnish Music For Senior's Biggest Social Event

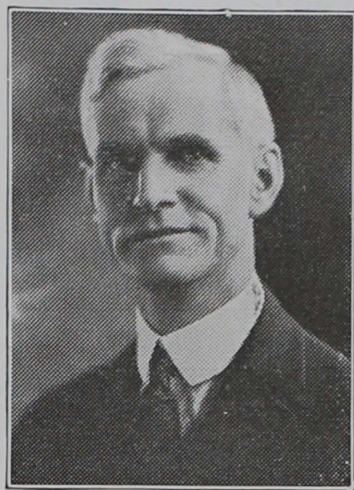

ORGANIZER OF WAYNE KING

Tomorrow marks the first day of spring. Friday, March 24 marks the first spring gala event at Ursinus—the Senior Ball!

The Ball has always been one of the social highlights on the campus and this one will be no exception to the rule. By a queer turn of circumstances, the committee was able to schedule an orchestra heretofore out of reach of any Ursinus dance. By special arrangement, Dell Lampe and his N. B. C. artists will provide the music.

Dell Lampe for a number of years was one of the biggest names in Chicago. His father before him was one of America's greatest arrangers and composers. Dell followed in his footsteps, and in addition to playing four consecutive seasons at the Trianon Ballroom, Chicago, he played for the biggest college dances in the middle west.

After his fathers' death Dell retired, and only four months ago was induced to return to active directing. He was at the Parais d'Or for fifteen weeks in addition to broadcasting five times a week. He is now making

Rev. R. A. Waite

REV. R. A. WAITE TO SPEAK AT CHAPEL EXERCISES MAR. 29

"Dad" Waite, One of the Foremost Young People's Workers Will Speak on "The Four Fold Life"

PROMINENT TRACK ATHLETE

Rev. R. A. "Dad" Waite, field executive of the American Youth Foundation, will address the student body of the College, Wednesday morning, March 29. "Dad" Waite is one of the foremost young people's workers in America, and enjoys the distinction of knowing more of the younger generation by their first name than any man living.

Waite began his career at Syracuse university where he still holds numerous track records. He was Red Grange's high school coach. Entering the Christian ministry, he held pastorates in the middle west. He later gave up the work to enter into the young people's field.

Rev. Waite will speak on "The Four Fold Life." After the address he will hold conferences with members of the student body.

PRES. OMWAKE ANNOUNCES SERIES OF IMPORTANT EVENTS

From the President's office comes the announcement of a series of interesting and important public events on the Ursinus campus during the next few months. The calendar reveals the following:

March 28, 11:00 a. m., Lecture by Bishop Francis J. McConnell of New York under the subject "Voices of the Times."

March 29, 9:00 a. m., Address at chapel service by the Rev. R. A. Waite of the American Youth Foundation on "Training for Leadership."

April 6, 8:00 p. m., "Dream Pictures," illustrated travel lecture by Branson De Cou of New York.

May 3, 10:30 a. m., Meeting of the Huguenot Society of Pennsylvania. Address by Dr. A. Eckhof of the University of Leyden. Conferring of the Huguenot Cross. Annual Dinner of the Society.

May 12, 3:00 p. m., Spring Meeting of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania. Dinner in honor of the Association in the evening.

May 13, 10:30 a. m., Dedication of the new Science Building, Academic procession. Addresses by distinguished visitors.

2:30 p. m., May Day Pageant.
5:00 p. m., Mothers' Day Dinner.

May 15, 11:00 a. m., Lecture by the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, D. D., Dean of the Chapel, University of Chicago.

May 25, 10:30 a. m., Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Glenwood Association of the Pennsylvania Female College.

May 27, 3:00 p. m., Spring Meeting of the Descendants of the Schwenkfeldian Exiles. Address by Dr. James M. Anders, president of the Society.

PROF. MICHAEL ENTERTAINS THE MEN'S FACULTY CLUB

Prof. Eugene B. Michael entertained the men's faculty club last Friday evening at his home in West Oak Lane. Approximately twenty members were present to enjoy the hospitality. Prof. F. L. Manning read an interesting paper.

STUDENT'S SECRET DESIRES BARED BY WEEKLY SNOOPERS

Responses Varied; But Many Worthy Ones Found. Abolition of Speakers Asked; Desire for Success Leads

BEER SWIMMING POOL CRAVED

"The world is so full of a number of things, it's a wonder we're not all as happy as kings", reads the old adage or something. But we aren't, so I guess it's a wonder. Anyhow, inspired by the adverse criticism of last week's feature, the two snooping reporters decided to find out just what as many of us as possible deem lies between us and complete content.

Responses, of course were varied. Some were funny, some only thought they were, and others were quite serious. Take Curtis for instance, that abode of rich minds and poor wrestlers: Four made wishes pertaining to the familiar "health, wealth and happiness," two wanted to get off the Dean's list for a little while, two others modestly yearned for general success. Strangely enough there were all of three who wanted to do all they could to help others. No names were given, but we had no trouble deciding that this group was not made up of writers. One senior (presumably) wants to go to a school with no eight o'clocks, no home work and no finals; another would be satisfied if he left our portals via the diploma track. What appears to be the hall smoothie requested a nice-looking girl in a rumble-seat without the Dean.

To change abruptly from one extreme to the other, look at Shreiner's objectives. Probably the most outstanding is a desire "to look like Greta Garbo and to have a personality like Jean Harlow." (Wonder just what

FAVORABLE PROSPECTS FOR WINNING BASEBALL TEAM

Catchers and Pitchers Have Already Reported For Spring Practice

EIGHT LETTERMEN RETURN

With eight of last year's letter men back on the squad, prospects are very favorable for a successful baseball season at Ursinus. In addition to this there are several candidates from last year's Freshman team.

Catchers and pitchers are already going through daily workouts in the gymnasium and regular practice will begin as soon as the weather permits. Lawrence, Johnson, and Mowrey are candidates for the mound position while Eachus, Shuman, Fisher, and Schnebly have reported as possible candidates for the catching position. Besides Lawrence, Eachus, and Shuman, the other members of last year's varsity include Diehl, Scholl, Paris, Lodge, Reese, and O'Donnell.

Ursinus plays in a league consisting of Albright, Drexel, Gettysburg, Bucknell, Lebanon Valley, and Juniata. Coach "Jing" Johnson is quoted as saying that "if ineligibility does not hit too hard Ursinus should have a good team." There is every hope to turn the tables on last season when the varsity had only one victory to its credit. Johnson hopes to get in two weeks of practice before Easter. The first game is scheduled for April 20 when the home team meets Villanova. Weis is the varsity manager.

Varsity Basketball Team Swamps Alumnae, 47-2

A rather formidable array of alumnae turned out on March 18th to make up a basketball team, including "Toots" Wismer, '32, "Lib" Heinley, and Anne Connor, both of '31. Although the final score was 47-2, it cannot be taken as an indication of the quality of playing, especially in the fast passing on both sides, which was characteristic of the entire game.

The alumnae forward combination of Anne Connor, varsity captain of '31, and "Sally" Hoffer, showed up particularly well with its passing, but the shots for the basket simply did not seem to fulfill their purpose. The varsity forwards who were guarded by "Lib" Heinley had a rather difficult time, and "Lib's" experience in three years of varsity playing was a real advantage to her.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE TO SEND DEBATERS TO URSINUS

Ursinus College will be the host to a delegation of women debaters from the University of Maine, Thursday, March 23. As this is the first time that the university has been represented on our campus it is hoped that a large number of students will turn out for the debate which will begin at 6:45 p. m., and will be of the Oregon type. Muriel Ingram '33 will present the constructive speech for Ursinus, and Esther Lightner '34 will do the cross-examining.

CONNIE MACK TO SPEAK AT VARSITY CLUB BANQUET

Tentative Date During Week of April 3rd Secured For The Annual Varsity Club Banquet

GRADUATE "U" MEN INVITED

Although the exact date is yet tentative, sometime during the week of April 3 the members of the Ursinus College Varsity Club will be privileged to hear the dean of major league baseball, Cornelius McGillicuddy, headmaster of the Philadelphia Athletics—who is, however, more popularly known to the sporting world as plain Connie Mack. As a speaker for their second annual banquet, the varsity men could hardly selected a more appropriate speaker than Mr. Mack, who is hailed as the most prominent figure in the baseball world today. Anyone who is at all interested in sports knows the story of how Connie and his White Elephants rode both pennant-ward and cellarward during the past decade in the American League.

Besides having secured this most entertaining speaker, the committee in charge intends to meet again this week and decide upon a suitable place to hold the annual get-together. Invitations will also be sent to all graduate "U" men, who are to be guests of honor. The club has decided upon a new custom of awarding permanent athletic certificates to all graduate varsity men for their accomplishments in athletics during their entire college career. This custom will be inaugurated at this year's banquet, when all varsity men of the class of 1932 will receive such awards, and the practice will continue in like manner for ensuing years.

PARIS TO GRAPPLE IN NATIONALS AT LEHIGH

Captain Otts Paris, 1932-3 mat leader, will represent the Grizzly on March 24 and 25 in the national intercollegiate wrestling tournament at Bethlehem, Pa. This is the first time that Ursinus will be represented in the nationals. Last year's tournament was held at the University of Indiana, and served as an Olympic tryout.

Paris was undefeated this year, winning five matches on falls and the other on a time advantage. The pick of the amateur wrestlers of the colleges and universities will send men to compete. Over one hundred matmen are expected to take part. Oklahoma A. and M. holds the team championship.

CHASE ELECTED VICE-PRES. OF BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Ralph "Horse" Chase, Grizzly basketball coach, was elected vice-president of the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate basketball league. The meeting took place at Lancaster on March 8. John Smith of Albright was chosen president of the organization and W. J. Stevens of Drexel, the secretary-treasurer.

Gettysburg college was officially awarded the basketball trophy, emblematic of winning the conference. Plans for the following season were discussed. Chase and R. C. Johnson, director of athletics, represented Ursinus at the conclave.

BRODBECK TAKES LAURELS IN WRESTLING TOURNAMENTS

Day Students Place Second, Stine Hall third; All Bouts Are Closely Contested

BRODBECK SCORES 18 POINTS

Copping two firsts, a second, and a third place, the Brodbeck Cyclones swept off with the 1933 Inter-dormitory Wrestling Tournament, leaving in their wake bruised legs and aching backs. Brodbeck tallied 18 points, while Day came in second with 15 counters. Stine pulled in third with 14.

Matches ranged in weight from 125 to 175 pound divisions, and one point was given for falls throughout the tourney. First place counted 5, second 3, and third 1.

Buck Buchanan and Jimmy Russo were the two Brodbeck grapplers to cop first, in the 145 and 125 lb. divisions respectively. Buchanan threw Wharton, of Stine, while Russo outlasted Glassmoyer, Curtis, to win with a big time advantage in the finals.

Lodge, Day, eked out a 34 second time advantage over Grimm, Freeland 175 pounder, in a thrilling tiff, which wound up the festivities before a crowd of about 200. Harvey, Curtis, notched third.

In the 165 pound group, Schulze, Day, pinned Stewart, Stine, in a seesaw tilt that had the crowd on its feet. Wyckoff, Curtis, was third.

Eachus, Freeland 155 pound matman defeated Simmers, Brodbeck, on

COACH McAVOY TO SUCCEED DR. RUBIN AS TRACK MENTOR

Six Lettermen Remain From Last Year As Nucleus for 1933 Team

The winter sports schedule having been brought to a close, track, as one of the major spring sports, is coming to the fore to take its place on the athletic calendar. With the weather a bit improved, it is expected that the first call for track and field will be issued and regular practice for the 1933 season will be started.

McAvoy Coach

Succeeding Dr. N. W. Rubin, Ursinus track coach for the past two seasons,—and now on a leave of absence—is Jack McAvoy, popular head coach of football. McAvoy, who will be in complete charge of all track and field activities, was, in his undergraduate days at Dartmouth, one of the New England College's outstanding performers in the shot put and discus throw.

The new track mentor is fortunate in that only two members of last year's squad have been lost through graduation. Led by Bill Steele, who is captain of the team and Conference champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the 1933 squad will be built around the six lettermen remaining

ATHLETICS FOR ALL—A REALITY!

With the completion of the inter-dormitory basketball and wrestling schedules a new era in athletics at Ursinus has appeared. The hackneyed, meaningless phrase "athletics for all" has taken on real meaning and is destined to become more of a reality as the comprehensive intra-mural schedule progresses further.

The fact that the basketball and wrestling tournaments proved to be such a complete success speaks well for the plans that are under way for the future. Real inter-dormitory spirit was displayed at these games and it is hoped that this enthusiasm will be carried on into the other events.

The remaining portion of the inter-dormitory schedule to be played this year includes a series of inter-dormitory baseball games and this will draw the program to a close. However, an even more elaborate program is planned for the coming year and every student should get into the spirit of things now. Our graduate manager of athletics has shown real interest and enthusiasm in making this project workable, so let us as students continue to lend our support to the program, and thus usher in this new era of athletics at Ursinus.

AWAY WITH THE CORSAGES!

Another formal dance is approaching. With it comes the customary expenses, tux and invitation. A few years ago someone started giving corsages and the practice has grown considerably. It has now become an evil.

Money is scarce. That goes without saying. Most of the male escorts are fortunate in being able to scrape together the price of the invitation. The corsage is just an unnecessary expense. It is done just to "keep up with the Joneses."

Of course girls like corsages. They greatly enhance their appearance and flatter their vanity. That we grant. However, if no floral decorations are visible, there would be no effect whatsoever, except a student saving of one hundred dollars. Anyone wishing to rid himself of a dollar would better spend the money for two Senior Revue tickets.

The sensible girl will realize this and not expect a corsage. Those who can not appreciate this fact probably can not be called sensible. Many of these might be counted out when the Junior Prom time comes.

Let us forget the corsages.

AN APPRECIATION

More than a passing word of commendation should be given to the students who renovated the Recreation Room. This they did out of their own free will and deserve the thanks of the student body and particularly the patrons of the hall.

WOMEN DEBATERS LOSE TO LEBANON VALLEY

The Ursinus Women's Debating Teams met defeat by the Lebanon Valley teams on Tuesday, March 14. The affirmative teams of both colleges traveled; the Oregon Plan was used.

The question for debate was, Resolved, that all inter-governmental World War debts, including reparations, be cancelled.

For the home contest Frances Gray '33 and Mildred Fox '35 debated. Lebanon Valley was represented by Louise Gillan and Marian Leisey.

The judges gave a 3-0 decision in favor of the affirmative team. The judges were: Professor English, Principal of Royersford Schools, Mrs. Horace Reigner, '28, teacher in Collegeville High School, and Reverend Scott Brenner '26, of Schwenksville.

The affirmative team of Ursinus was defeated by a 3-0 decision at Lebanon Valley. Ursinus was represented by Jane Stephens '35 and Muriel Ingram '33.

Final examinations are dying. (New item in "The Bucknellian") Say, that's nothing to what has already happened to those who took them.

In setting up a standard of value Lehigh evaluates a "two-minute kiss the equivalent of a grand piano." That's putting necking on the gold-standard for sure.

"Y" CONFERENCE WILL BE OF CAMPUS-WIDE INTEREST

This year the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are attempting to give Ursinus students a conference which will be of interest to everyone on the campus. The conference will be conducted by Ursinus people for Ursinus people. Ursinus professors will lead discussion of such live topics as "Can we reconcile Science and Religion," "Religion in Politics," and "Religion in Business."

The College conference will be held over a week-end. Discussions will be held Saturday morning and afternoon. The committee is endeavoring to obtain a motion picture to show Saturday evening. At least some social event will take place. Sunday morning church will be conducted in Bomberger with a student preacher and the Y. M. C. A. chorus to sing. Sunday afternoon another discussion will be held. The whole program will be topped off by an unusual vesper service, probably the Easter vesper service. April 1 and 2 is the date.

All plans are as yet tentative, awaiting the approval of the Council on Social Activities and other authorities. However, we can all look forward to a very interesting week-end.

The Log tells us of the fellow who said to his girl friend: "My dear, what a beautiful moon. There are only two things to do—and I don't feel like writing poetry."

REV. WILHELM ADDRESSES WEEKLY Y. M. MEETING

Rho Delta Rho Fraternity in Charge; Pottstown Trumpeters Featured

An address by Rev. R. E. Wilhelm, '18, pastor of the Reformed Church at Spring City, Pa., and several musical numbers by the Y. M. C. A. Trumpeters from Pottstown, under the leadership of Mr. Charles Nagle, featured the weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting in Bomberger Hall on Wednesday evening, March 15. The Rho Delta Rho fraternity was in charge of the meeting, and Fred Faux, '33, the president of the fraternity, presided.

Rev. Wilhelm based his remarks on the story of Aaron, Moses' brother, who, at the instigation of the Jewish people, took their jewelry and melted the gold into a golden calf to be worshipped by the people. Aaron evaded responsibility for his act by saying that the people asked him to do it, and also that he had merely placed the jewelry into the fire and "behold there came out a calf". The speaker pointed out that many modern people try, as Aaron did, to evade responsibility.

Mr. Wilhelm stated that there are forces which do drive people along, as leaves and papers are blown ahead of the wind, but he said these are not legitimate excuses to be used to avoid responsibility for our sins and wrongdoings. One of the greatest forces of this nature was said to be heedlessness. In this connection it was brought out that our political evils were due not so much to the corruptness of the politicians but rather to the heedlessness of the masses of people, "who, like Aaron, say 'we put our votes in the box for these men, and behold there comes out a calf'". Similarly, the speaker stated, peace will never prevail over war as long as people who oppose war are not strong enough to stand on their convictions and stop allowing things to go along as they are, with the calf ever coming forth.

MEN'S AFFIRMATIVE DEBATING TEAM COMPLETES ROAD TRIP

The men's affirmative debating team concluded its five-day trip by arguing at Rutgers College, New Brunswick, New Jersey, last Monday evening, March 13. It was a formal affair; the Oregon plan of presentation was used.

Representing Rutgers were Mr. Sisco and Mr. Gierman. For Ursinus, Allan Cooper '35 and James Palm '33 spoke, demanding cancelation of all war debts. The debate was not judged.

This week the men's debating season at Ursinus will be closed. The negative team will debate here against Villanova this evening in Bomberger hall. Tentative arrangements have also been made for Lincoln University to send a team here for a contest on Wednesday evening, March 22. Both of these debates will be conducted on the Oregon plan.

MIXED DEBATING TEAMS CLASH WITH DREXEL INSTITUTE

A mixed debate with Drexel Institute was featured on Thursday evening, March 16. The Oregon style was used with the girls giving the constructive speeches and the boys cross-examining and summarizing.

The question for debate was, Resolved, that all inter-governmental World War debts, including reparations, be cancelled. The negative teams travelled.

The Ursinus negative team, consisted of Frances Gray '33 and Alfred Alspach '33. Drexel Institute was represented by Polly Sherman and John Walters.

Ursinus was represented at home by Jane Stephens '35 and James Palm '33. No decision was given for this debate.

GIRL RESERVE CODE DISCUSSED AT Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Girl Reserve Code was interpreted at the Y. W. C. A. meeting which was held in the Girl's Day Study last Wednesday evening. Sara Pfahler '34 was in charge of the meeting.

The program was begun by the reading of a poem and the Girl Reserve Code by Sara Pfahler '34. The entire group sang "I Would Be True." Each of the following girls then interpreted part of the code: Dorothy Patterson '35, Troupiere Sipe '35, Eveline Omwake '33, Sara Pfahler '34, Dorothy Horne '35.

Dorothy Patterson '35, read the Girl Reserve Beatitudes and led the group in prayer. The meeting was concluded by the singing of "Follow the Gleam," and "Taps."

The Tower Window

IN looking over the program of the Junior High School Conference held recently in New York under the auspices of the School of Education of New York University, I was impressed first of all with the theme of the conference, namely, "Realizing the Great American Dream." It is one of the evidences that we are emerging from the era of materialism to find a theme of this nature challenging the thought of our school-masters. The idea arose from a few trenchant paragraphs from "The Epic of America" by James Truslow Adams who writes of "that dream of a land in which life should be better and richer and fuller for every man, with opportunity for each according to his ability or achievement," and who says "if we are to make this dream come true, we must all work together, no longer to build bigger, but to build better." It is most heartening to see this idea capturing the thought of those who are working at the foundations of our American civilization.

The program included thirty-two separate sectional meetings besides two general sessions. Among the themes set for the sectional meetings were such as these: "Method for Mastery versus Method for Curiosity and Skepticism," "What Price I. Q.," "Correctness versus Spontaneity in English Expression for the New Era," "Can Character Education be Planned?," "Latin for Every Pupil or for the Few," "Social Studies as Belief-Peddlers and Doubt-Raisers."

We are glad to note a number of Ursinus names among the personnel of the Conference. The committee which planned the programs included: Wallace C. Savage, '19, Principal of the Upper Darby Junior High School, and president for 1933 of the General Alumni Association of Ursinus College. Presiding over the conference on Objective Measurements was Edward A. Glatfelter, '12, Principal of the Hannah Penn Junior High School, York, Pennsylvania. From the Ursinus Faculty, the committee called Dr. J. Lynn Barnard to preside over the conference on Social Studies.

Happy the day when the schools of our country set to work to make real and actual the "Great American Dream" as portrayed by Mr. Adams. G. L. O.

DAY STUDY AND SOUTH HALL LEAD IN INTER-DORM LEAGUE

All Games Closely Contested; Fircroft Puts Up Good Battle with South

The sextets from the Day Study and from South remain invincible. Although neither team experienced an easy victory last week, nevertheless the edge they had over their opponents—Fircroft and Glenwood respectively—was apparent. Fircroft, with its improved passing, surprised South; and the balls dropped in the baskets much more readily for the Glenwood forwards.

The other two games played were close ones. The first, between Lynnewood and Shreiner brought out a hitherto unshown spirit in the Shreiner combination, but Lynnewood came out on top by making one more point than Shreiner. The game between Maples and Sprinkle was almost another upset for Maples. The practically inexperienced but fighting team from Sprinkle kept their score up to that of Maples throughout the entire game, until just before the final whistle blew, when "Kitten" Flynn dropped in a 2 pointer, after making good a foul shot, and the game ended 11-8.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MAKES PLANS FOR COMING MEETING

The Hall Chemical Society is planning to secure the services of a speaker for their April meeting who will give a novel and instructive lecture demonstration on the making and blowing of glass laboratory apparatus. This speaker is at present the official glass blower of the University of Pennsylvania, and is responsible for all the intricate pieces of apparatus used in the chemical and physical departments of the University. While he is lecturing for the society he will make a valuable piece of apparatus which can and will be used in the chemical laboratory of our college. The exact date of the meeting has not been definitely fixed, but further announcement will appear in the near future. It is the intention of the society to have the meeting open to the student body so that they may enjoy this novel and instructive lecture demonstration.

MODERN ESSAYISTS DISCUSSED AT ENGLISH CLUB MEETING

President Gladys Urich '33 presided at the regular meeting of the English Club at Fircroft last Monday evening, March 13.

The subject for discussion was the modern essayists, Hilaire Belloc and Agnes Rapplier having been chosen as the most outstanding of the group.

Ruth Roth '34 had prepared a paper on the lives of the essayists, but due to her absence, the material was presented by Hermine Loos, '34.

Helen VanSciver '33 read a review of Miss Rapplier's essays appearing in "Times and Tendencies," characterizing her work as witty, humorous and possessing great sensibility. "Miss Rapplier displays great power in retaining and assimilating all that she reads," said Miss VanSciver.

Hermine Loos, '34 gave a resume of "Conversation With A Cat" by Mr. Belloc. His writings are described as clever and entertaining. A slightly satirical note may be detected throughout his essays.

A pleasant and profitable hour of discussion followed these interesting presentations. The subject to be discussed at the next meeting is the modern historical novelist.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Almost countless requests have come in that this column print the fact that Jeanette Baker is a little forward. All right, Jeanette Baker is a little forward. Good joke, huh boss.

Did you get your tickets to "Topsy and Evva"?

That match between Eachus and Simmers wasn't a fake. Simmers said it wasn't.

Here's another sly one. Why is Edie Henderson like a library table?

It is circulation that the girls are going to get varsity sweaters. Now we probably won't be able to tell Parunak from a hockey player.

Poor Johnston! Nobody loves a waiter.

If Givant doesn't look out, he's likely to be nipped by the Pelican.

Quote from Hill's campaign speech: "Plum fears no man!" How about the well-conditioned Pils?

Famous last words: I'd have pinned him, but my supper came up.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL RENOVATES RECREATION HALL

The recreation hall in the basement of the library has been renovated over the past week-end. New curtains, artistic decorations, and paint have made a great change in the appearance of the room. The money to complete the changes was raised by the last dance.

Arrangements were completed by the women's student council. Martha Moore '34, was assisted by Ione Hausmann '35, Iris Lutz '33, Mildred Fox '35, Nancy Pugh '36, Rena Grim '33, Janet Bardsley '35, Alice Smith '33, Eugene Miller '33, and John Clark '34. Miss Sara E. Ermold donated the theatrical gauze for the curtains.

LARGE NUMBER REPORT FOR FIRST ORATORIO PRACTICE

At the first rehearsal of the commencement oratorio, "Solemn Mass in D" by Ludwig van Beethoven, held on Wednesday, March 15, a group of 60 people responded. Practices are scheduled for Mondays and Wednesdays of each week until the beginning of May and more frequently thereafter.

All persons who are interested are requested to join the chorus of the oratorio, and there is a special demand for tenors. Miss Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine is conducting this outstanding Beethoven production.

TELEPHONE HOME at HALF PAST EIGHT!

IT'S not only thrifty—it's good common sense to telephone home after 8:30 P. M.

The folks are at home—your time is free—it's just the time for a family "get-together."

Best of all, at 8:30 P. M. low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. Call home tonight and take advantage of the saving. A Station to Station call is for a telephone—not for a specific person. You just give the operator your home telephone number and hold the line.

It will be a thrill you'll want to repeat. So make a "date" to call again next week. Charges, of course, can always be reversed.

THE MAIL BOX

Letter to the Editor:

Editor's Note: This communication was received too late to be published on the inside page in the regular column.

To the Editor of the Weekly:

The letter published in last week's issue interested me greatly. The tennis court situation in the last few years has been deplorable. With the coming of spring, more and more students will want to use the tennis courts and some adequate provision should be made before hand to eliminate obvious difficulties.

With six tennis courts, there is absolutely no reason under the sun why there should not be ample opportunity for the student body and faculty to enjoy themselves. Along with the tennis courts, the track could well be repaired. It cost a lot of money to build and apparently is being let run down. This judgement is based on last year's activities.

This is not written with the intent of being critical. Far be it from that. I merely would like to apply the time old adage "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

An interested student. (name on request)

STUDENT'S SECRET DESIRES

she means by personality.) But others are more conventional. A full score are concerned with the men on the campus and otherwise. Some crave "Big-shots", some millionaires, seven just want senior ball escorts. (See Alspach for tickets, ye timid souls) and six show a preference for Jamezee. But even from that abode of frivolity came some worthy suggestions. The abolition of all speakers, chapel and otherwise. Truly, a noble motive in life and one to be encouraged. Again, the suggestion "to ban Freshman compositions on 'My first impressions of Ursinus,'" may seem a worthy goal to some. A third practical soul wants nothing more of life than the wisdom to discern chicken a la king from rabbit.

The old dorm men have slightly different ideas about Paradise. Take that ambition, for instance, of swimming in a barrel of beer. Or the one about being janitor at Maples. A husky kitchen worker dreams of the day that he can talk back to "top-sergeant" Price. An otherwise rational lad pines for the privilege of a long talk with Betty Luther, while a prominent wrestler (irregular) would steal Snagg's girl if he were master of his fate. Derr houses two home-bodies; the main difference of their wishes has to do with the number of offspring.

And so it goes. The whims run the familiar gamut of human emotions, serious and otherwise, from the hope to sell carnations in central Philadelphia or to find a really safe place to hide after-shaving lotion, as far along the path of altruism as doing good to others. Some of us, probably O'Donnel, will get their wishes, and others, principally Grenawalt and Johnston, cannot. But who cares?

from last season. These, besides Steele, include: Paul, Sautter, Sutin, Tropp, and Shade; practically all of whom participate in at least two events. In addition to the six mentioned, there are a few members of the 1932 squad and of last year's freshman squad, who have shown much promise and should be of considerable value in this season's campaign.

Gerald L. Smeigh, manager of track, has prepared a schedule which he will announce soon. However, it is expected that the season will be inaugurated by the annual interclass meet in the week of April 24th. For this meet, which has in past years been one of much interest to the student body, the class garnering the highest number of points is awarded the Varsity Club trophy, emblematic of class supremacy in track for the current year.

One of the features of the Bates winter carnival is a baseball game on snowshoes between the faculty members and the outing club directors.

When it was found necessary to carry skeletons from the old to the new laboratory at Minnesota university, the janitors drew lots to determine who would have the job.

The Brown and White narrates the tale of a Lehigh freshman who went hunting. He saw a pheasant in the underbrush and let drive with both barrels. He discovered that he had not only shot the bird but also the man who was carrying it.

We learn of the idea of a Technocratic College, where registration is made in June and paid in heart units; a robot is used to do the thinking; and teachers are paid with eggs, given at a distance by tossing them at the receiver. The young technocrats could learn the technocratic aspect of technocracy as taught by technicians.
