MEN'S DEBATE CLUB HOLDS YEAR'S FIRST MEETING

Reorganization Purpose of Meeting Held Tuesday; Additional Trips Announced

FRESHMEN ELIGIBLE

The Men's Debating Club held its first meeting of the year, Tuesday, November 11, for the purpose of reorganization for the coming season. The prospects for a successful season are good, due to the return of several experienced debaters from last year and a promising lot of new material. Many more new members are expected as the season progresses. The plans for the coming year were discussed, and it was decided to make a real working club of the organization, besides picking and preparing teams for varsity debates.

Membership in the club is open to all men students. Freshmen and Sophomores are especially urged to become members, however, an invitation is also extended to all upper classmen who are interested in the art of debate. Meetings are to be held every other Monday, on the same night that the Girls' Debating Club meets. The next gathering of the Club will be held November 24. All students are invited to attend the meetings as spectators even if they do not wish to take an active part in the organization as well as those interested in the Club.

This year, besides the regular schedule, it is expected that there will be two additional trips, one to New York City and vicinity in which Manhattan College, New York University, City College of New York, and Wagner College are tentative opponents, the other trip which will be to central and western Pennsylvania includes Susquehanna, Elizabethtown, Juniata, and Penn State as probable opponents. The question for intercollegiate debate this year is, "Resolved that all nations should adopt a policy of free trade."

The Club is under the capable leadership of Maxwell Kuebler '31 who is president, and William Beddall '32, secretary and treasurer. Those who were present at the first meeting were: Parunak, Heller, W. Hess, O. Hess, Dillin, Krall, Beddall, Scirica, Gregory, Jamison and Kuebler. Freshmen are eligible for the varsity team.

PEP DANCE A SUCCESS; CAMPUS OWLS SCORE

On Friday evening, November 14, Ursinus College's newest organization, the Campus Owls under the direction of Jesse Hafer '31 made its first appearance. A fair-sized gathering wended their way to the gym which was simply, but effectively, decorated by the use of dimmed lights and bridge lamps. Those present, whether dancing or playing bridge, were captivated by the tuneful rhythms of the orchestra. Bill Springer, '34, the drummer of the outfit, contributed some excellent crooning. In the absence of Paul Bartholomew '34, the regular pianist, Robert Warren '34 substituted very efficiently. Miss Cureton and Mrs. Cordray, the chaperons of the evening, seemed to enjoy listening to the feet-provoking strains of the music.

It might be appropriate to voice the sentiments of a great many students by saying that a vote of thanks should be tendered the orchestra and its sponsors. The need of good music at fairly reasonable prices has been felt for a long time. The Campus Owls have been organized in response of this growing demand and already have shown marked ability in their playing. Considering how very little time was spent in preparation, their recent dance was an outstanding success. The proceeds of the affair, which was held under the auspices of the Student Council, will make quite a sizable boost to the ever-increasing Women's Dorm Fund.

F. AND M. SEMINARY HOST TO URSINUS STUDENTS

A trip to Lancaster, sponsored by the Brotherhood of St. Paul, was taken by the ministerial students of Ursinus Friday afternoon for the purpose of visiting the Franklin and Marshall Seminary. About twenty of the College's potential preachers availed themselves of this privilege.

Y. W. SERVES DAY STUDENTS

On Thursday the 13th the Y. W. C. A. cabinet served cocoa and cinnamon buns to the women day students of the College to complete their usual luncheon. Informality and good-fellowship characterized the gathering. The suggestion was made by the cabinet to the day students to serve hot soup once a week during the cold weather at a very moderate charge. It is hoped that this part of the Y. W.'s membership will take a more active interest in their organization.

PROF. BONE SPEAKS ON WAR AT CHAPEL SERVICE

Armistice Day Talk Emphasizes Preparation for Peace; Pays
Tribute to Soldier Dead

DR. STURGIS OFFERS PRAYER

Professor Bone, an ex-service man, delivered a short, appropriate address at the Armistice Day chapel service.

The speaker said it was only fitting that we should pause in the day's work to remember those who sacrificed their lives in the last war. He related that upon returning to his native town he passed his pals' residences. A gold cross, which signified that one member of the family had given up his life in the Service, hung in the front window of some of these homes. It was then, Professor Bone said, that he realized the meaning of human sacrifice.

The war, with all its material expense and human sacrifice, was not wanted by the men who were doing the fighting. This fact was brought out by Professor Bone in a story of a Christmas Eve party, attended by German and English soldiers, which was held in No Man's Land. Furthermore, when the armistice was signed, the men, who had legally been enemies an hour before, greeted each other joyfully.

Professor Bone raised the question of the possibility of maintaining peace. He stated that duels, the violent settlement of conflicts between individuals, and feuds, the violent deciding of differences of opinion between two families have been abolished; but that still the nations of the world settle disputes among themselves by killing as many citizens of each state as possible.

The responsibility of the late conflict rests on the last generation, but it is the duty of the present generation to see that the men of 1914-18 did not sacrifice their lives in vain. The people, through democracy and the force of public opinion, can—if they are so minded—bring about the settlement of disputes between nations by peaceful means.

Professor Bone, in closing, paid tribute to those who sacrificed themselves in the last conflict, with the words: "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend."

Professor Sturgis offered prayer. The members of the faculty who are ex-service men are: Professors Bone, Boswell, Brownback, Carleton, Manning, Old, Sheeder, Sturgis, and Tyson.

FRESHMEN GIRLS ENTERTAINED BY URSINUS WOMAN'S CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon, November 12, the freshmen women were entertained by the Ursinus Woman's Club. Mrs. Fretz, the hostess served a delightful tea to fifty girls and the following members of the Club: Miss Florence Brooks, president; Mrs. Josephine X. Sheeder, secretary; Mrs. G. L. Omwake, Mrs. John Lentz, Mrs. J. L. Barnard, Mrs. N. E. McClure, Mrs. Thomas Hallman, Dr. Elizabeth B. White, Miss Carrie Cureton and Mrs. S. D. Cornish.

The guests were entertained by talent from the freshman class. The program consisted of a duet "Come to the Fair" by Ruth Haines and Marian Hageman accompanied by Miriam McFadden; solo, "Just a Thinking of You" by Dolores Quay, accompanied by Sarah Pfahler; two piano solos by Dorothy Funk; a violin solo by Betty Neast accompanied by rene Tackas and two piano solos by Sara Pfahler.

The club members explained the purpose and achievements of the organization and extended invitations to the women to join their numbers and help work for Ursinus.

HAVERTFORD MAN ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON WORLD PEACE

Mr. Maxwell, Representative of "World Peace Caravan" Speaks to "Y" Organizations

SAYS WAR NOT NECESSARY

The "international" appetite of Ursinus is being well appeased as a result of a series of divers lectures upon the subject of international relations and world peace.

Under the joint auspices of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. the most recent supplement to these subjects was presented on Wednesday evening, in Bomberger, by Mr. R. E. Maxwell, of Haverford College.

One of two active members of a "World Peace Caravan," Mr. Maxwell has made an extensive tour of this section of the country in the interests and advancement of "World Peace." Representing Haverford College and their principles concerning this timely subject; Mr. Maxwell has been deeply engaged in the study of the problems of international peace.

In order to bring out more vividly the true and logical aspect of a real world peace, the speaker found it more expedient to review the devastating effects of war. Among these were enumerated the destruction of values and morals which inevitably follow war. Mr. Maxwell pointed out that war is not a necessary and permanent part of life, but it merely enticed, or accelerated by the superfluities of a people, the "war-habit," and the "war machine." These can be exterminated, he said, if only the people, by mutual consent, will undertake to rid their institutions of all factors which tend to cultivate a preparedness for war. Among such factors is: the compulsory military training which is required of all physically-able men in all land-grant colleges; Military training camps; and the exorbitant budgets for the upkeep and development of the armies and navies of the countries of the world, especially in the United States, which had, this year, the largest budget of all, $741,000,000.

In view of the fact that military authorities recognize the lack of protection against an aerial invasion it seems ridiculous that so large a sum should be spent on those elements of

JUNIOR LASSIES VICTORIOUS IN INTER-CLASS HOCKEY TILT

In the second inter-class hockey fray of the season, the Junior girls defeated the Seniors by the score of 2-1.

From the initial bully, it was difficult to ascertain which class had the better team, for there were a number of varsity players on both sides.

The playing was exceedingly slow at first, due to a large number of fouls, but the Juniors soon warmed up, dribbled the ball down the field and "Toot" Wismer socked the ball into the goal for the first score. Soon afterward the half ended with the score 1-0 in favor of the Juniors.

In the beginning of the second period the Juniors again broke through the Senior defense and scored. However, the Seniors displayed more fight during this half and, ably aided by Capt. Heiny and "Pete" Drysdale on the defense, the Senior lassies took possession of the ball and made their lone point.

Both teams fought hard and the backfields should be especially commended for preventing more scoring, since there were no goal keepers. The forward lines also displayed good pass work. When the final whistle blew the score was 2-1 with the Juniors victorious.

SEIPLE SCORES TOUCHDOWN

The Grizzly Cubs visited a famous and fatal old battle ground known as the Mule gridiron to oppose the Allentown Prep. team last Saturday. The yearlings tramped up and down the muddy field only to be defeated by the point-after-kick jinx. The final score was 7-6. Eight first downs were made by the home team against seven for the Red, Old Gold and Black visitors. The entire game was well played despite the warm and murky weather, the recurring drizzle and the mud and slime on the field.

Seiple and Schuman were the principal ground gainers for the little Bears. Early in the second quarter Seiple crashed thru on the fourth down for the score but failed to add the extra point by placement. The onslaught started when Schuman received the ball on the opponents' forty yard stripe after a partially blocked kick. Wharton shone in running back punts, and Crevar looked well at end. The entire line produced all that could be expected.

The Prep boys came back retaliating in the second half when a steady rush down the field from their own twenty yard marker resulted in their touchdown. O'Connell did most of the ground gaining and carried the ball across our goal. He also received a pass for the point after touchdown which decided the game.

The neatest play of the game was a double pass executed by the Cubs. In the first quarter Schuman received the snap and tossed a short pass to Tropp. Tropp ran the ball about ten yards when he found himself in difficulty and heaved the ball to Wharton. The play netted about 20 yards. In all the Cubs threatened to score upon four occasions but lacked the extra punch. In the third quarter the Cubs again rushed the ball across the goal but the play was recalled because Ursinus was offside.

This game concludes the season for the Frosh. In spite of Van Why's competent coaching the team produced only mediocre results. Out of five games played against Perkiomen Prep, Villanova Frosh, Drexel Frosh,

CHRISTIAN WORKERS ENJOY COLLEGE GLEE CLUB MUSIC

The Ursinus College Men's Glee Club made its second appearance in the present season on Thursday evening, November 13, at the annual Christian workers conference of Philadelphia Classis of the Reformed Church. About two hundred guests, representing the various Reformed churches near Philadelphia, were in attendance at the banquet held in the large dining hall. Numerous problems confronting the church were discussed, including "Stewardship" and the "Every-member Canvass."

The Glee Club captivated the audience with its masterful interpretation and excellent harmony. Under the able direction of Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine, the organization has become a big drawing card and a very worthy representative of the College. This will be Miss Hartenstine's eighth season as director of the Men's Glee Club at Ursinus. "Fire-flies," a Russian folk song and "Laughing" (Abt) received much applause for the splendid manner of interpretation. "The Mulligan Musketeers" (Atkinson) had its usual appeal. Much credit is due to Miss Hartenstine as well as the members of the club and the faithful accompanist, Alfred C. Alspach '33. The program also included: "Winter Song" (Bullard); "The Blind Ploughman" (R. N. Clark); and "The Campus Song."

Those fighting Grizzlies were held at bay by an unusually heavy Swarthmore eleven during the first half of their annual gridiron struggle, but a superior and more confident Ursinus team came back in the second half and scored a lone touchdown to register their sixth gridiron victory of the current season. The Swarthmore gridiron was a literal sea of mud, and the gloomy afternoon made the game a rather drab affair.

Coach Kichline started his second team, and left them in the fray for the greater part of the first quarter. They fought like real Bears, keeping the ball well in Swarthmore territory, and threatened to score when Thoroughgood snared a pass from Lodge, and Ossie Smith zig-zagged thru the line for eight yards, but Swarthmore held and a few minutes later, Kick sent in most of his first string men.

The heavy condition of the field handicapped the fast Bear backfield aces, so most of the first half was a punting duel, in which Ursinus had a slight edge, because of Hy Miller's long boots. The Bear first string eleven again took the field at the beginning of the second half. After an exchange of punts, Dotterer ran back a Swarthmore punt to his own 25-yard line, in one of the best broken

UNDEFEATED ARMY TEAM FACES BEARS SATURDAY

Next Saturday the Ursinus Grizzlies, who have six victories to their credit and who have far outscored their opponents this season will face the strong Army team at West Point. A large number of students and alumni are planning to see the tilt. This game marks the resumption of relations which were discontinued in 1927. In that year the Bears threatened the Army and held them to a slight victory of 13-0. The previous season of 1926 was not auspicious, netting one victory and scoring 28 points in the first eight games. Yet in our final game the Grizzly team scored 15 points against Army and were defeated only 21-15.

For this season the Army remains undefeated. Notably they have conquered Illinois, North Dakota, and Harvard, and have amassed 238 points, compared to 13 points scored against them. But the bigger the opponent the harder the Bears fight. For examples of which we have the F. and M. and Gettysburg games of this season. Coach Kichline expects that all the boys will be in condition to enter the fray. Captain McBath, playing his last game, expects to make it an interesting combat. Many more will be playing their last game and desire to make it a good one. In all it will be the closing contest for exactly ten men—a full team except for a center. Ursinus can only go into this game and play its best regardless of any score.

FEAR OF EXCELLENCE

There seems evident in colleges and universities and what is more important in our college a positive dislike on the part of a great number of students to be considered above the average, scholastically speaking. A certain type of ignominy seems to be attached to preeminence in the department of study. What could be stranger than a deliberate attempt on the part of a college man or woman to remain in a mediocre class? Yet, strange as it is, we feel that such a state exists on the Ursinus campus and we presume similar conditions are to be found in other colleges. This condition, we think, is due to the fact that students are afraid or ashamed to advance and develop, which mental state for want of a better name we have called the "fear of excellence."

The mere act of labeling the trouble does not solve the problem, so we are faced with the question as to what causes exist for such a mental attitude. This fear to excel in the scholastic pursuits of college life is, as suggested, due to the fear of ridicule by fellow students. The deplorable part of this is that perhaps there is some foundation for such a feeling—that there is, on the part of some in college, a tendency to class as a narrow-minded book worm any one who, realizing the value of study, gets results from such a pursuit. Not that such criticism ever affects a student, but that such an attitude keeps the circle of students by keeping out the weaker individual who might develop scholastically, if unhampered by fear of ridicule.

The small group of criticizers just mentioned can not account for the widespread aversion to achievement in thought and to the application to the so-called "books." A dread of criticism that is more real is that which follows the raising of the general standard of work. The feeling of a pupil that he is by application and study making it more difficult for his fellow workers; that he is by raising the level of achievement lowering their relative position, this feeling we say tends to keep him from doing his best and from trying to be superior in the proper way.

Powerful as these factors are in increasing the college man's fear of excellence this quality is greatly enlarged in his mind. It is more what he thinks others will think than any criticism he has actually experienced as a result of super-study. It therefore depends largely upon the mental attitude and the sooner this is realized and the sooner the needlessness of such a fear conceived, the quicker will be the improvement in college scholastically and otherwise.

COLLEGE BAND DISCUSSED AT STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING

At a Men's Student Council meeting held, Tuesday evening in room 5, various phases of the College Band business were discussed. It was announced that Mr. Horn has kindly consented to again take charge and be leader next year.

In order that a proper start may be made toward a bigger and better organization for 1931, it is urged that all candidates for business manager both junior and sophomore and for drum major report immediately to Hafer, Krall or Moore. This is necessary, for training of individuals for these positions will begin at once. It was decided that the award for service on the band will be a U on a black background with a superimposed lyre. This will be the official band insignia. Next year a point system will be used in choosing those who are eligible for this reward.

To the seniors who serve on the band for four years a sweater will be given in addition to the insignia.

Further business of council included arrangements for an informal dance on November 25 previous to the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Council also wishes to announce a dollar dance to be held on December 12, which is Schaff weekend. The purpose of this dance is to compensate for the rather mediocre performance at the last Council dance. The fact that the tax is only one dollar does not indicate the type of dance that the council is sponsoring. This social affair will be up to the highest standards the only reason for the cut in price is the aforementioned atonement for the previous affair.

REBECCA PRICE RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF DEBATING CLUB

A meeting of the Woman's Debating Club was held at Olevian Hall on Monday evening, November 10. The new president, Dorothy Sanderson '31, called the meeting to order and regular business was transacted. Rebecca Price '31 tendered her resignation as president of the club which the latter was forced to accept much to its regret. The members would like to express publicly their appreciation for her untiring efforts which she put forth and for her splendid work. Plans for try-outs for an intercollegiate debate were discussed, but no definite date was decided upon for the event. Arlette Hetler '31 was admitted to the membership of the club.

At the close of the business meeting a game entitled "Murder" was conducted by Catherine Clark '31 and Alberta Jacobs '31, who played the role of the victims of a sad accident and the attorney respectively. The victim had several clues with her the owners of which were cross-examined by the attorney. In the process of the examination every club member became involved. Despite the clever acting of Harriette Drysdale '31 by which she tried to force the crime upon the attorney, the victim finally confessed that, wishing to create some excitement she had used the results of a fall for a basis of her tale.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of delicious cider and doughnuts by the Olevian girls.

Ex-30—Sara McGarvey is attending the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia.

'30—Theron Calkin is connected with the Woolworth Company in Perth Amboy, N. J.

'27—Ruth Eppeheimer at the present time is teaching English in the new Upper Darby Junior High School.

HENRI SCOTT TO SING IN CONCERT WEDNESDAY

Henri Scott, baritone, assisted by William Sylvano Thunder, piano, and Harry Banks Jr., organ, will present a concert in Bomberger Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, November 19, at 8.00 p. m. The concert will be the first number on the current Community Entertainment Course program.

Mr. Scott has sung numerous roles in operatic production both in Europe and in this country. His voice is marked by a fine quality of tone and excellent interpretation. Prof. Thunder, head of the Music Department, needs no commendation to an Ursinus audience. Mr. Banks, one of Philadelphia's leading younger organists, will appear in several piano-organ numbers with Prof. Thunder, supplementing Mr. Scott's selections.

No admission fee will be charged students for this concert, as admission to the numbers of the Entertainment Course is included in the tuition fee. Certain seats are reserved for season ticket-holders for the Course, announcement of which will doubtless be made later in the week.

GAFF FROM THE GRIZZLY

One of our most promising wrestlers recently complained of abrasions and contusions which surrounded his eye. Coach Carleton suggested a piece of beefsteak as a remedy so Stibitz went to the Freeland House and charged a full course meal to the A. A.

After hearing the lecture at the high school Kerper gets up in the early morning to wait for the mail. Be careful, pink stationery and red ink effect a terrible strain on the emotions.

The reason Freshmen do not recite fluently in the class room is that they are saving their precocious remarks for the benefit of the parents. Liberty's publication of "Wise Sayings of Children" has put many a genius thru college.

While playing St. Louis Blues Friday night the college orchestra found themselves in a "Chico Marx" predicament. They couldn't stop playing the piece because they had gone past the ending.

From philosophy we learn that the Kallikak family was not an experiment as Dotterer said but merely an accident.

Gaff wishes to make a suggestion to the Sophomore Committee: Why not have the Bakery boys time their rounds so that orders are delivered in the dining room about 6 p. m.? In this way we might get one square meal a day.

Many prominent Dorm. Athletes have recently become devotees of the Cubist Art.

In Brodbeck's new rooming arrangement we notice they have double rooms for both "lounging" and sleeping and a single room for study. This should speak for itself.

After vainly trying to comprehend the words of the occasional Chapel anthems, we are about ready to suggest "Sing Something Simple" for the next number.

And speaking of popular music, "Ten Cents a Dance" should become popular on the campus since the advent of the cut-price Student Council hops.

The Tower Window

UNDER the leadership of Dr. Ralph L. Johnson, '97, president, the Alumni Association has decreed that 1930-31 shall be "Book Year" for the Alumni Memorial Library. The challenge has gone forth for a contribution of at least one book from every alumnus of Ursinus before Christmas. The appeal is accompanied with a list of books most needed at the present time.

This movement on the part of the Alumni Association is both timely and considerate. Our library has not kept pace with the growth of the College. Strangely no endowment has thus far been provided for the Library. I know of two instances in which wills were made in favor of the Library but were afterwards changed by the testators in the interest of other objects. Until liberal provision is made through permanent funds, the alumni and former students can constitute themselves a "living endowment" and thus supply current needs. In this year of depression, persons can contribute books who could not easily contribute money. Yet some cash gifts should be made to buy the much needed volumes that are not likely to come from private libraries.

The Committee that is sponsoring this appeal deserves hearty support. The idea is well conceived and the plan is well worked out. How many thousands of books there must be—valuable books, not out-worn and useless ones, that can be spared from the shelves of private libraries! Such volumes will make appropriate and acceptable gifts to the College. I know one alumnus who has not bought additional book-shelves for years although he has been a constant buyer of books. He makes room for new purchases by sending to the College Library books which he is not likely further to consult. But he does not send useless books.

Make up your consignment and send it on—or, in lieu of books, send a check.

PRESIDENT OMWAKE OFFICER IN COLLEGE MOVEMENT

The Liberal Arts College Movement which was originated last March at a meeting of college representatives in Chicago, has been making progress during the summer and fall. The Committee of Fifteen held a three days session at Montreat, North Carolina, in July. On October 1, headquarters were opened in Washington, D. C., with Dr. A. N. Ward, chairman of the Committee, in charge. The Executive Committee held an all day meeting in Washington last week, and next month the Committee of Fifteen will again assemble in Chicago to further develop the Movement and frame a policy to be submitted to the institutions enrolled at a conference to be held at the time of the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges at Indianapolis in January, 1931. Over one hundred and eighty institutions are now enrolled and the number is increasing every week. President Geo. L. Omwake of Ursinus College is secretary of the Committee of Fifteen and a member of the Executive Committee of the Movement.

MRS. SHEEDER TALKS AT VESPER SERVICES

The Vesper Service was opened at 6 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 6, in Bomberger Hall by Miss Beatrice Lesser '32, who read from the Scriptures. Her text was taken from Ephesians, Chapter 6. With this text and the theme, "a pure heart," Mrs. Sheeder addressed the group in a very interesting talk. To clarify and enlarge her subject Mrs. Sheeder drew illustrations from Plato and the Arthurian legend of Sir Galahad and the Holy Grail. The latter source proved to be extremely helpful. To aid her in the application of Galahad's life to the theme Mrs. Sheeder employed a copy of the beautiful painting of Galahad by Watts, Alfred C. Alspach '33 accompanied the singing at the organ. Miss Lesser closed the service by leading the audience in a benediction.

ALUMNI NOTES

'23—Carolyn McBlain Houck was guest of honor at a delightful shower and bridge party which was held last Saturday, at the Thomas Jefferson Tearoom in Reading, Pa. It will be remembered that Mrs. Houck's wedding took place a few months ago with Janice Weigley '25, Millicent

Xander '23, and Isabel Houck '28 as bridesmaids. These attendants were the capable hostesses to the party last Saturday. The shower proved to be largely an "All-Ursinus" affair for, besides those in the bridal party other Ursinus Alumnae included—Esther Shirey '21, Josephine Xander Sheeder '21, Margaret Wakefield '23, Verna Kurtz Lambert '23, Claire Lawrence '23, Margaret Frutchey '23, Lillian Isenberg Behney '23, Ruth Nickel Sellers '25, Elizabeth Evans '25.

'24—Grace W. Trout and Margaret A. Yost made an extended European tour during the past summer. Their itinerary included France, Italy, Switzerland, German, Holland, Belgium and England. The larger cities visited were Paris, Rome, Venice, Florence, Zurich, Cologne, Brussels and London. One of the most interesting features of the trip was the visit to Oberammergau and the Passion Play.

'28—Paul Krasley has come East to accept a position with the Rainey-Wood Coke Company, of Conshohocken, Pa.

'23—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Dorothy Mae Stohart to Dr. Earl Kolb Miller.

'23—One of '23's distinguished musicians, Herbert Howells, instrumental director of the Norristown schools, has received additional honor. When the United States Army Band gave its concert in Norristown, Nov. 6, the director of the band asked Mr. Howells to lead the first number.

Ex-'29—In a clipping from the "Dayton Y. M. C. A. News" of Nov. 7, we note that Robert E. L. Johnson has entered the ranks of proud daddies. Mr. Johnson is an athletic director at the Dayton Y. M. C. A. '29—Emmett Roth, who has been connected with the Fisk Tire Company, located in Kansas City, Nebraska, has been transferred to Los Angeles, California.

ONE WILL ALWAYS STAND OUT

Whole-hearted, natural, real!

EQUALLY genuine is the response of smokers to Chesterfield's satisfying goodness, its wholesome smoothness.

No one ever has to "acquire" a taste for Chesterfields. You don't have to learn to like them. Smokers take to their pleasing flavor instinctively . . . and here's why:

MILDNESS — the entirely natural mildness of tobaccos that are without harshness or bitterness.

BETTER TASTE — Such as only a cigarette of wholesome purity and better tobaccos can have.

field runs of the day. Don Sterner flashed through the line for seven yards in the next two plays, advancing the ball to about the twenty-yard line. On a reverse play, Hy Miller, following beautifully-formed interference, carried the oval over the goal for the lone Ursinus score of the afternoon. The big Bear halfback ran thru the entire Swarthmore team, to give his teammates a 6-0 lead.

This is only the sixth time in 28 years that an Ursinus team has defeated the little Quakers in football. It is one of the oldest feuds that exists, in Ursinus football history.

First Quarter

The first quarter was a kicking duel between Lodge and Sipler. The Bear fullback did some excellent punting, and aided the Bears in keeping the ball in Swarthmore territory. Ursinus seriously threatened to score when a pass, Lodge to Thoroughgood and a gain of seven yards by Ossie Smith advanced the ball to the ten-yard line, but Swarthmore held there and took the ball on downs. The Bear first team took the field soon afterwards. Neither team could make any substantial gains and the first quarter ended with the ball in Swarthmore's possession on their own twenty-yard line.

Second Quarter

The second quarter was a continuation of the punting duel with Miller of Ursinus holding an edge. Swarthmore threatened when they gained twenty-five yards on a pass but Ursinus held on their own twenty, and on their last down, Sterner broke up a pass to give the Bears the pigskin. The half came to a close immediately after Swarthmore had made their third first down of the half.

Third Quarter

Kichline's proteges took the field at the beginning of the second half with Julo replacing Parunak at center and Eachus replacing Egge at end. The Bears received, but were compelled to kick. The little Quakers failed to gain and punted to Dotterer, who returned the ball almost to the twenty-five yard line. After another exchange of punts, Sipler deep in his own territory, punted to Dotterer, who put the Bears in scoring position by advancing the punt to his own 25-yard line. Sterner advanced the oval 7 yards on the next two plays, and Miller scored on the reverse play. Sterner's placement kick for the extra point was blocked.

Fourth Quarter

Twice in the fourth quarter a Swarthmore back got loose, but the first time Sterner robbed him, and the second time Dotterer brought him to the earth. Ursinus threatened to score when a pass, Dotterer to Coble, placed the oval in a favorable position, but Dotterer's pass to Miller was grounded over the goal line. Swarthmore took the ball on their twenty-yard line, but a few minutes later the Bears were again in possession of the ball and Eachus recovered a fumble. The game ended with the ball in Swarthmore's possession on their own one-yard line.

Although Swarthmore registered six first downs to the Bears' six, they threatened only once, and the ball was in their own territory during most of the game. Defensively the Bears had a slight edge with Parunak, who played the entire first half, doing some nice work and Soeder playing his usual steady game. Sinclair, a Norristown boy, was an offense star for Swarthmore, and once he almost broke loose for a touchdown, but Dotterer stopped him.

The Garnet's running attack was repeatedly halted by the Ursinus line.

HAVERFORD MAN ADDRESSES

warfare which are an inadequate defense against the latest type of attack. Mr. Maxwell continued by relating how the political boundary between the United States and Canada is kept peacefully intact without a single military guard, and that security comes, thus, not by bigger battleships, but by bigger friendships.

On the contrary, Mr. Maxwell said, it is the interest of the "war-lords" to stimulate the "war-habit," to keep in existence industries whose life is dependent upon these channels which utilize their output. It is the "war-machine" and the material requirements of that object which subsidizes these otherwise dormant industries.

There are over 150 peace societies, according to Mr. Maxwell, whose object it is to break up these war impelling institutions and the accompanying war spirit.

As a final statement, Mr. Maxwell linked the responsibility for the prevention of a future war to present day college men and women, who will become leaders and advocates in their communities, and that it is their duty to "put war out of business."

INTERCOLLEGIATE COMMENT

Dr. Kenenth Irving Brown, formerly professor of Biblical literature at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, was recently inaugurated as president of Hiram College, Ohio, succeeding the late Dr. Miner Lee Bates, who at the time of his death some three months ago had been president of that institution since 1908.

Announcement of eighteen new buildings for Oberlin College, costing almost $8,000,000 to include a new theological quadrangle, a chapel, dormitories, and new college buildings was recently made by President Ernest Hatch Wilkins. Besides the general college building, costing $1,200,000, there will be erected a physics laboratory costing $400,000; a music building, $200,000; gymnasium and the swimming pool, $400,000 men's field house, $100,000; women's gymnasium and swimming pool, $400,000; additions to the library building, $250,000; library storehouse, $75,000; remodeled men's building, with a little theatre, $125,000; twelve residences for men and a men's club, $1,250,000; additional residences for women, $400,000; residence for faculty, $200,000; and a theological quadrangle costing approximately $700,000.

Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, recently celebrated Founders Day with appropriate ceremonies. John H. MacCracken, of New York, a former president, delivered the Founders Day address. Another former president, Dr. Ethelbert D. Warfield, now president of Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., spoke at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Leslie Freeman Gates memorial dormitory.

Bids have been received for the construction of the new union building for the students of the Michigan State Normal located at Ypsilanti. The structure will cost approximately $335,000.

Rochester University, New York, on October 10 dedicated its new $10,000,000 plant with appropriate ceremonies in which scholars of the Old and New World mingled together with the youthful students and the citizens of Rochester. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, gave the dedicatory address. The university is located within a stone's throw of the new $15,000,000 medical unit, composed of the Medical College, Municipal Hospital, and Strong Memorial Hospital.

It may be a surprise to learn that students working their way through American colleges in 1928, according to the announcement of the Federal Commissioner of Education, William John Cooper, earned approximately $33,000,000. (In addition to this one hundred student loan agencies loaned nearly $4,000,000 to needy students.) There were nearly 200,000 students in 1928 engaged in earning part or all their expenses while in college.

Dr. George A. Steele is the new president of Maryland College for Women, located at Lutherville, Maryland, Dr. Steele was, at the time of his election, professor of Latin and Greek at Baltimore City College.

Dr. C. F. Ross, dean at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., has been chosen acting president succeeding President James A. Beebe, who resigned last spring because of ill health.

One of the reasons for the low salaries generally paid the teaching profession is the large surplus of teachers now in the market for positions. According to Dr. Edward S. Evenden, associate director of the national teacher training survey now being made, the excess supply of teachers constitutes a serious problem. This excess number would be promptly reduced if the requirements for admission were higher and were uniform throughout the United States. We are told that at present there are approximately 1,000,000 teachers in the country and that there are nearly one half that number in schools getting ready to teach.

The contract has been let for the construction at Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Illinois, of the Constance Memorial dormitory for women. Work on the building has already begun, and the aim is to complete it by next spring. The dormitory will house thirty-eight out-of-town women attending Bradley and will be complete in every detail. The movement for the Constance Memorial dormitory was started in the fall of 1928, shortly after the tragic death of Miss Jennie M. Constance, former head of the department of English. Miss Constance had served as the head of the English department for nine years and was unusually esteemed by the students of Bradley and the residents of Peoria.

Laying of the cornerstone of a new $600,000 men's dormitory at St. Lawrence University recently took place in the presence of Owen D. Young and other notables. Mr. Young is president of the board of trustees of St. Lawrence University and chairman of the building committee.

Ground has been broken for a new dormitory for men at Bates College, Lewiston Maine. The building is the gift of Dr. George C. Smith of Boston and will cost approximately $160,000. The dormitory will be known as the George Carroll Smith Hall. Dr. Smith was at one time a student at Bates, though he later graduated from Brown University. He is a native of Gardiner, Maine.

Work on the Morse-Ingersoll hall, a recitation building on the campus of Beloit College, Wisconsin, has actually begun, and the completion of the structure is promised by the opening of the fall term in 1931. The building with its equipment will cost $115,000.

Chester D. Pugsley, of Peekskill, New York, has established a $20,000 trust fund, the income from which is intended to provide scholarships for students of international law attending the Harvard Law School who come from any of the Central or South American states. In case there are not a sufficient number of qualified applicants from the above-named countries, appointments may be made from residents of North America.

Contracts have been let for the construction of two buildings, a science building and a chapel, on the campus of Grove City College, Pennsylvania. The construction involved will represent an expenditure of approximately $750,000.

Dr. Ralph K. Haddock, director of religious education, Welles College, Aurora, New York, has been chosen to succeed Dr. William W. Boyd, who recently resigned as president of Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio.
