"PERSONALITY" IS THEME OF ADDRESS BY DR. LYNCH

Eminent Churchman Speaks on This Elusive Quality and How It May Be Attained

FIRST CHAPEL ADDRESS

Rev. Frederick Lynch, D. D., of New York City, who gave the first of a series of chapel lectures on Wednesday morning last, was most enthusiastically received by the Ursinus student body and faculty. Dr. Lynch has passed his life in association with youth. Since receiving his degree from Yale, he has been affiliated with some of the leading Christian publications sending messages of note thru magazines such as "The Christian Work" and "Christian Century." He discusses life and its problems as one who knows it intimately. His talks possess a rare combination of soundness and charm.

For his subject on Wednesday, Dr. Lynch chose "Personality," a topic which proved to be of vast interest to those in attendance. He enumerated various means of cultivating personality, which according to his theory is advanced by reading books. Reading broadens one's mind in respect to knowledge and life. He further stated that his whole purpose in choosing this particular topic was "to give some idea of the importance of personality and help those who lack this vital trait to acquire it, and to help those who already possess it, to radiate out stronger and more often."

Dr. Lynch stated that the person who feels he lacks personality becomes discouraged because he has the impression that one must be born with this desirable trait. "The people of this world are under a handicap with-

OLD TIMERS' AND FATHERS' DAYS ARE DRAWING NEAR

The next two week-ends will witness the occasions of two annual and popular events, Fathers' Day and Old Timers' Day. Saturday, November 9, will be Fathers' Day. In the afternoon the Ursinus Bears will face Susquehanna University on Patterson Field. Immediately following the game the annual Fathers' dinner will be held which will be attended by the students whose fathers come to Ursinus for the day. The occasion will be completed by the presentation of the Junior Play, "New Brooms," by the Senior class in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium at eight o'clock. Altogether this promises to be a great event and all fathers of students who can are urged to attend.

Saturday, November 16, will be Old Timers' Day when the Ursinus Alumni will return to their Alma Mater to see the Grizzlies come to grips with their ancient foe, the Garnet warriors from Swarthmore. Just what special features are being planned for this day are not known at this time of writing, but the next issue of the Weekly will contain full particulars. But what is known to all is that every alumnus and alumna will receive a hearty welcome and have a great day on the old campus. Remember the date, November 16.

ALL STUDENTS

Please Note Carefully

Section C in the new grandstand will be reserved as a cheering section for the student body at the Susquehanna game, November 9. Students may sit here without regard to seat number and no tickets will be sold for this section, which contains 440 seats less the space taken up by the press box. The remainder of the grandstand seats will be put on sale at the gate.

SENIOR HALLOWE'EN BALL IS A MEMORABLE EVENT

Traditional Decorations Transform Gymnasium Into a Veritable Fairyland

MANY COUPLES ATTEND

Ursinus celebrated the annual "nite o' witches and ghosts" by a Halloween frolic in the form of the senior dance on Thursday evening, October 31st, in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Gay decorations in the Halloween hues of black and orange furnished a colorful background for the festivities. The two main lights were transformed into huge, glowing pumpkins with gruesome, grinning faces which gazed down at the merry scene below. Here and there around the gym were smaller duplicates in the form of orange lamps with painted faces which depicted every variety of ghostly expressions. Tall corn shocks lined the walls of the gym and further symbolized the spirit of Halloween.

A novelty feature of the evening was a huge harvest moon suspended in one corner of the gymnasium. During special dances, this illuminated moon furnished the sole light and contributed quite a little to the picturesque quality of the scene.

The Pennsylvania Night Hawks furnished the music for the evening and, judging by their performance and their popularity with the dancers, established quite an enviable record for themselves. Be the music peppy or dreamy, soothing or one of the terrible "Blues," the Night Hawks gave a splendid interpretation and their efforts were well appreciated by the crowd.

DR. ISENBERG GIVES HIS IMPRESSIONS OF EUROPE

One of the most interesting Y. M. Y. W. joint meetings was held in the chapel Wednesday evening when Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg described to the gathering his recent trip to Europe. Catherine Witman '30 read the Scripture lesson. Several hymns, led by John Witmer '30, followed; Robert Miller '32 officiating at the organ. A brass quartet composed of John Sando '31, Alfred Alspach '33, George Hero '33, and Jerome Wenner '33 greatly aided in the devotional exercises. Mr. Witmer, who acted as chairman, introduced the speaker of the evening, who chose as his subject "Impressions of Europe."

Dr. Isenberg, in his own inimitable style colorfully described conditions in England, France, Germany and Switzerland. The appalling condition in England, due to unemployment, an aftermath of the World War, was carefully discussed by one who apparently has delved deeply into that important subject. The battlefields and cemeteries of France were touchingly described by Dr. Isenberg, who impressed his listeners with the great price paid by the nations engaged in the Great War. Germany's rapid recovery in way of industry and government proved an interesting sidelight on conditions in Europe. Dr. Isenberg found Switzerland, the oldest existing democracy, to be very much like the United States. Switzerland because of its ideal climate, prosperity, and high type of government proved to be the finest country visited.

Over one hundred persons were benefited by the splendid talk. The meeting was closed by the singing of another hymn.

ENTERTAINMENT COURSE OF YEAR IS ANNOUNCED

First Number Will be Concert by Philadelphia String Ensemble and Mildred Faas, Soprano

THREE CONCERTS IN COURSE

The administration has just released the dates and particulars of this year's Entertainment Course. The concerts which comprise the course will be three in number this year, the first one to be presented on Tuesday evening, November 12. Further notice of this concert will be given in the next issue of the Weekly.

The committee in charge of the entertainments have exhausted all the possibilities in order that the best program to be gotten for the available resources might be presented. In collaboration with William Sylvano Thunder, who needs no introduction to Ursinus, a splendid, well-balanced program has been arranged. The first number is a concert to be presented by the Philadelphia String Ensemble on Tuesday, November 12. This organization, which is under the direction of Harry Alinekoff, is composed of twelve men all members of the Philadelphia Orchestra. The assisting artist will be Mildred Faas, soprano, who enjoys a fine reputation as a soloist. Patrons of the course are assured of a fine concert in this number.

The second number of the course will be a concert by Bianca Saroya, soprano, and Emil Folgmann, cellist. Bianca Saroya has sung with the leading opera companies in America (Continued on page 4)

REGIONAL CONFERENCE OF "Y" IS HELD AT READING

Ursinus College was well represented at the Third Annual Eastern Pennsylvania Student Y. M. C. A. conference held at Reading, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 1-3. Ten delegates and four visiting representatives attended: John Sando '31, John M. Witmer '30, Paul Berkenstock '30, Edgar Schnure '30, George Dillinger '30, Roy Burkhardt '32, M. H. Dillon '31, John R. Gulick '32, Russell Hershey '32, and George Teets '33. Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg and Prof. R. W. Veatch, the Y. M. adviser, also attended the conference along with Jacob Weaver and Lloyd Myers who were present the first day.

The conference headquarters was the Reading Railway Y. M. C. A., the opening banquet being held in the new Albright College dining hall. The theme "Jesus Christ and my life" was followed out in all the sessions. Rev. R. M. Coleman, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church at Germantown, led the devotions in a very able and forceful manner. Dr. Henry H. Crane, minister of a large congregation in Scranton and a nationally (Continued on page 4)

SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT "NEW BROOMS", SATURDAY

The production, "New Brooms," is returning to the campus on Saturday, November 9, at 8 o'clock in the Field Cage. You will remember that this play given by the Junior Class last year had as its star "Bill" McGarvey '30, who enacts the part of "Thomas Bates"—the irascible father. Not to be outdone is Frank Rohrbough '30 as "Thomas Bates Jr."—the son. The plot is centered around these two characters. Mr. Bates Sr. has an irritable temper, flying into a rage at the least provocation. His son declares that he believes he could take over his father's business, run the household, and never lose his temper and make more money than his father does. A wager is made between the two and the outcome of this wager constitutes the action of the play. "Peg" Johnson '30 as "Geraldine Marsh," gives a very creditable presentation as does Anna Thomas '30, playing the part of "Margaret," a servant, adding a touch of humor to the entire situation.

Undoubtedly, everyone will want to see "New Brooms." Reserved seats will be on sale at the nominal price of seventy-five cents. Don't forget "New Brooms" in the Thompson-Gay Theatre at 8 o'clock Saturday, November 9th, 1929.

HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS GLASSBORO NORMAL 5-0

Lake, Witman, and Drysdale Score in Easy Victory Over the New Jersey School

TEAMWORK IS IMPROVED

Good team work and fight helped by an unusual turnout of students on the sidelines won another victory for the girls' hockey team Saturday morning, November 2, against Glassboro State Normal School, to the tune of 5-0.

At the opening bully prospects didn't look so good for the home team and caused some worry among our rooters. However, the jinx was soon broken and the Ursinus girls so completely took possession of the ball that most of the first half was played in the opponents' territory. Although the Glassboro goal was threatened many times the half ended but 2-0 in favor of Ursinus.

During the second half the ball was continually hit from one striking arch to the other. Ursinus succeeded in breaking through for three more (Continued on page 4)

ALLENTOWN PREP NOSES OUT FROSH GRIDDERS 7-0

Led by Captain Wavrek, the Allentown Prep, eleven won from the Ursinus Freshmen 7-0 on the Muhlenberg field, Saturday. The lone touchdown that decided the game was made by Wavrek after a spectacular run of 45 yards. It was the longest and most surprising run of the game. Aram Parunak, Cub halfback, who is now in the Allentown Hospital, probably received his injury during this touchdown play.

Parunak's injury, cerebral concussion, is the first serious one to be suffered by any of the Freshmen players. When Parunak was taken out of the game which was immediately (Continued on page 4)

SOCIAL LIFE COMMITTEE ESTABLISHED BY FACULTY

The two student councils have both in the later part of last term and the beginning of this felt the need for a richer and enlarged social program on the campus. They have been working for some time on tentative plans to secure the desired end. These plans were recently presented to President Omwake who was interested but could not reach a decision upon his own authority at large. He then referred it to the first meeting of the faculty which was held October 29.

The faculty discussed the matter fully and decided that a committee be appointed to "have charge of the social life of the college." This committee will consist of two members of each of the student councils, two members of the board of control, and three members of the faculty not including President Omwake, who is a member ex-officio. It is believed that this body will be able to effect an improvement in the social life of the College and stimulate more vigorous action along such lines.

The progress of this organization will be reported in the columns of the Weekly in future issues.

With another day of weather that was entirely too warm for anything like football, the Bears moved to New Brunswick where they encountered Rutgers University in a thrilling contest which they lost by the margin of one touchdown the final score being 19 to 13. Though handicapped by a 13 point lead secured by Rutgers in the opening minutes of play which was enough to discourage any team, the Grizzlies came back and playing fine football scored two touchdowns in the remainder of the game.

A passing attack that was unleashed by Ursinus was directly responsible for her scores which came in the 2nd and 4th periods, Hunter doing most of the heaving.

The early attack of the New Brunswick bunch centered around Grossman and Greenburg, Rutgers' two powerful backs. A beautiful return of the kickoff brought the ball deep into Ursinus territory and after the Bears held, their punt was returned to the 8-yd. line from which spot Rutgers plunged across. The second score which soon followed was the result of a run by Grossman and his pass to Greenberg.

Ursinus scored in the second quarter after an aerial attack carried them from their own 18 to Rutgers' 4 yd. line. After a series of line plays Hunter passed to Soeder for first down. Another pass Sterner to Young brought the ball to the 25 yd. mark. Soeder took one more from Hunter and made a nice run to the 4-yd. line, where he gained 2 thru guard and Young plunged across. The other counter came in the last period when after Soeder recovered a fumble on the 45-yd. line, Hunter passed to Miller on the 30 who made a pretty run along the sidelines for a 6 pointer, dodging a couple of men on the way.

SUSQUEHANNA IS NEXT OPPONENT OF URSINUS

After foraging abroad for five more or less fruitless weeks, the Growling Grizzlies will defend their lair from the invasion of the Little Crusaders of Susquehanna when the grid machines of the two institutions concerned swing into action on Patterson Field next Saturday.

Besides having a healthy hunger and thirst after victory, the Bears have an added incentive to take over the up-state outfit by as big a score as possible in the fact that the contest is a feature of the annual Fathers' Day. Susquehanna, after winning her first two games, dropped the next three and is anxious to stage a come-back at the expense of the Bears. These points should guarantee a good game. In spite of the wrong-way score, the Bears put up the best all-round game against Rutgers (Continued on page 4)

MID-SEMESTER

During the past week the mid-semester tests have been held and the results are now being turned in at the Dean's office. The results of these tests are not final marks, to be sure, but they are half of the semester's marks and they are especially important to Freshmen. Mid-semester tests are designed to determine whether a student is up to par, whether he is maintaining the necessary standards of study. They often foretell failure so that it can be averted in the second half of the semester. They are a barometer to the student's mental solvency with regard to his courses.

Neither old students nor new can afford to disregard the results of the past week's investigation. It is no praise for a college to boast as some colleges do that such a large proportion of the student body has been flunked out. That would indicate either that the college has failed to teach them anything or that the college should not have admitted them in the first place. But there are always some persons in college who can do passing work, but who are loafing on the job and there are others who are getting by but are not doing the work of which they are capable. It is for these in particular that the mid-semester marks should have significance. The actual middle of the semester will come in the middle of November. It is not time to settle down to a long winter's nap, but to buckle down to hard work even though it seems a grind.

THE SOCIAL LIFE

There will be found in the news columns of this issue an account of the latest action of the faculty in collaboration with the joint student councils and the board of control to effect some improvement in the social life of the campus. This is, to say the least a thankless task, not because of its difficulty but because of the apathy of a large proportion of the students. If the other half or whatever the proportion may be took as much interest in outside activities as those who now are in the various organizations there would be no necessity for such action as has been taken in the last week. But like the ore in some mines the proportion of the worthless is sometimes so great as to render such efforts useless. There are too many students who do not do anything and do not do well what they do do.

Editorial fulminations on this subject are numerous and fiery. It is deplored and condemned, but nothing can be done. It would seem that affairs have come to a sorry pass when the faculty must attempt to inject new life into extra curricular activities. The opposite is generally the case. The fault lies not in the present existing organizations and their activities but in the fact that if all the students were interested and engaged in them there would be a better and more general social life on the campus.

This diatribe must not be taken as an attack upon the action at hand. The faculty and student bodies must be commended for the start they have made in the way of improving the social life of Ursinus not only with regard to what are commonly but perhaps erroneously termed extra-curricular activities, but also to such purely social functions as the dances. It is to be hoped that a satisfactory solution of this really important question be found as a result to the new efforts in its behalf. It is also to be hoped that whatever plan the committee may see fit to adopt will be eminently practical, the result of common sense thinking.

MUSIC CLUB DECIDES TO PRESENT AN OPERETTA

The Music Club met in Schaff Hall, Friday evening, November 2, and transacted some important business. New members were voted into the club and Mr. John Stock and Miss Jeannette Douglas Hartenstine were made honorary members. The club is open for membership to all who may wish to join and it expects to be very active this year.

Several important motions were passed which are noted here. The first program will be held on Friday, November 22, which is during the week-end before Thanksgiving. A committee will be appointed by the President, Calvin D. Yost '30, to assist Miss Hartenstine in securing outside talent for the entertainment. A fine of twenty-five cents is to be imposed on any member who refuses to take part in any program at any time without a legitimate excuse. The meetings will be open to everyone and a good attendance is expected because nearly everyone will be here at that time.

An operetta will be given by the members of the club and various programs will be given throughout the year for the entertainment of the students.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDS A BUSINESS SESSION MONDAY

The Dramatic Society held a short business meeting in Bomberger Hall on Monday evening, October 28, with the president William McGarvey '30 in charge.

A motion was passed that the Club place a shelf of books in the Library for the use of its members, or anyone interested in dramatics. This will be an excellent source whereby plays can be acquired on short notice.

Several people who either took part in a play or helped produce it, were admitted as new members. They are Edwin Frank '30, Harold Sullivan '30, Donald Ottinger '32, Iris Lutz '33, John Frick '33, and Walter Welsh '33.

Isabelle Rickley '30, was appointed to make arrangements for a play to be given on November 15, the night before the Ursinus - Swarthmore game. This will give an opportunity for the "old timers," who arrive early, to see the ability of the Dramatic Society.

The program committee for the year consists of Clarence Cunard '32, Dorothy Beck '30, Robert Epeheimer '30, and Henry Alden '30. Those who will help make the Schaff play a success are Jack Wilkinson '30, Anne Murray '30, and Geraldine Ohl '30.

ALUMNI NOTES

Rev. John L. Guth, ex-'14, Orefield, Pa., has been elected President of the Lehigh Valley Reformed Ministerium.

At a recent meeting of the Pennsylvania German Society at Harrisburg, two Ursinus graduates figured quite conspicuously. An historical paper was given by Rev. Dr. William J. Hinke S. T., '94, Auburn, N. Y., who is engaged in editing a list of the German Immigrants of the Colonial period and Dr. E. M. Fogel, '94, Fogelsville, who is editor of the "Pennsylvania German Proverbs." Dr. Isenberg also attended this meeting. The President of it is Mr. Ralph Beaver Strassberger of Norristown, who has proven to be a real patron of colonial history.

Ira L. Bryner '92, Pasadena, California, was an interested spectator at the Ursinus-Franklin Marshall game.

A pretty wedding took place at the Reformed church parsonage at six o'clock Saturday evening, October 19, 1929, Evans City, Pa., when Dr. Kenneth H. Long '24, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. Long, '98, was united in marriage to Miss Martha Rolland, of Phoenixville. Dr. Long has opened offices at 5565 Bridge street and Miriam Road, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Sprinkle Dies

On October 20th, Mrs. Samuel Sprinkle, widow of Samuel Sprinkle, former director of Ursinus, died at her home in Lakemont, Pennsylvania in her 93rd year. Funeral services were held on the 23rd and were in charge of her pastor, Rev. Ralph J. Harrity '15 and Dr. Isenberg, who has long been a friend of the family.

The Tower Window

HERE is a well authenticated story going around that is at once refreshing and inspiring. A library center out west reports that within a single year a farmer's wife read aloud to her husband ninety books while he milked the cows. Any person who has ever milked cows knows that as he sits beside gentle "bossy" and has his spirits lulled by the rhythmic penetrations of streams of lactual fluid in the foaming pail, he is put into a state of mind especially free to engage in entertaining and informing thought. Milking cows is almost wholly a manual job—the mind may engage in occupation all its own. Furthermore milking time is always a quiet period in any well regulated dairy. The kine are engaged in peaceful rumination. The flow of thought may be as steady as the flow of milk. All this, of course, in a well regulated dairy. If the cow kicks the lantern, confusion ensues and the peaceful scene gives way to the burning of a city.

It is to the credit of this farmer that his wife was there doing the reading while he was doing the milking. In too many cases the wife is there doing the milking while he is elsewhere. We fancy that this couple is typical of the new kind of farmer folk in which both husband and wife are educated—perhaps college bred. They enter share and share alike into the affairs of their career—economic, social, cultural, and domestic. It is really not strange that we should find them together getting the good out of many books at milking time.

To the person who "does not have time for general reading" we commend the example of this couple who evidently budget their time and plan their work. The persons who set apart a certain portion of the day for reading are not likely to waste the time on books that do not profit. They will engage in worth-while reading, become thinkers, and thus, as a recent chapel speaker pointed out, build up personality.

Some of us in college whose time is not always well improved might picture for ourselves this farmer and his wife at milking time and plan systematically for a winter's solid reading. G. L. O.

BENEFACTOR OF URSINUS COLLEGE DIES SUDDENLY

On Tuesday morning at his home in Philadelphia, Miller H. Boeshore was stricken with a heart attack and in a short time was dead. Mr. Boeshore was a young man from Lebanon county who came to Philadelphia and entered upon a business career in which he was eminently successful. He identified himself with Trinity Reformed Church where he soon was made an officer and rose to the position of elder. As prosperity came he became a tither and surprised individuals by his generosity. His sister Mariam, is a graduate of Ursinus as also his brother-in-law, Mr. John F. W. Stock. Two years ago he paid for the 220-yd. straightway on the athletic field. Last years he and his wife established prizes and this year proposed to provide the expense incident to equipping the college band. He will be greatly missed in his church and also by his many business associates. He leaves a wife and two children. Dr. Isenberg who was his former pastor assisted at his funeral which was in charge of Purd E. Deitz, '18.

MEN'S DEBATING CLUB HOLDS AN OPEN FORUM DISCUSSION

The Men's Debating Club held its second meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in Room 7 of Bomberger Hall. The meeting was called to order by the president, Philip Willauer '30. Horace Werner '30 the debating manager, reported that debates were being arranged with Muhlenberg, Lehigh, and Lafayette. The meeting was then turned over to an open forum discussion on the topic chosen for this season by the convention of the Debating Association of the Colleges of Pennsylvania: "Resolved: That the United States should withdraw from the Kellogg Peace Pact."

After about an hour's discussion Professor Carter called a halt and urged the members to work harder and to make out bibliographies. It

SCHWAB COMMENDS SMALL COLLEGE AT DEDICATION

Charles M. Schwab, speaking at the dedication of the Fackenthal Laboratories at Franklin and Marshall College, came out strongly for the small college. He said that while he is on the boards of trustees of three large universities and recognizes their usefulness for graduate and professional study, he will take the graduate of the small college every time for a business position. This is because in the smaller institutions there is greater thoroughness and better results in the training of character.

Mr. Schwab believes firmly in a liberal college education as a foundation for business although he, like many of his contemporaries who set out in business fifty years ago had not the benefits of such education. He said the chief rewards of industry are not the making of money but the satisfaction of accomplishing something for mankind. He had just come from a six-day tour of the works under his control and he was impressed anew with the fact that in big industries, they are "taking the burden off of men and putting it on machines." There is more leisure in industry, and education is necessary to properly improve leisure time. A recent publication of Ursinus College, "College Men in Business," quotes from an address of Mr. Schwab delivered on another occasion the following striking statements: "Today industrial conditions favor the college man. Business is conducted on so vast a scale that the broadening effects of higher education write a large figure."

These statements from so eminent an authority should cause boys in school who have the proper gifts to plan for college and to select some good small college in which to take their course.

PEP MEETING IS SPIRITED DESPITE POOR ATTENDANCE

Because of the Hallowe'en dance, only about half the student body was in attendance at the pep meeting held in Bomberger on Thursday evening. Despite this, the relatively small group of students present had plenty of pep and enthusiasm and the football squad was sent to Rutgers with the full assurance that the student body would be back of them on Saturday.

Theron Calkins '30, representing the booster committee, spoke of the un-sportsmanlike tactics used by Rutgers two years ago. Coach Kichline gave a short snappy talk in which he asked for the support of the students and promised that the Bears would emerge victors from Saturday's combat. Captain Helffrich '30 recalled the last game which Ursinus played with Rutgers. He stated that a fighting Ursinus team was out to turn the tables on this coming Saturday and avenge that defeat administered by "The men of Jersey" two years ago.

The cheers were full of force and very peppy. Frank Rohrbaugh '30, head cheer leader, asked that all students purchase pennants, which will be on sale next week, for use in the last two home games. He also asked that the band make an impressive showing and show the student body what they really can do. The meeting closed with the singing of the Campus Song.

"Eyes" for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

WOMEN'S DEBATING CLUB DISCUSSES PEACE PACT

The president, Florence Benjamin '30, presided at the meeting of the Women's Debating Club which was held in Firecroft reception hall, Wednesday evening, October 30. A slight change was made in the constitution concerning the dates of further meetings. Caroline Ozias '31, the leader for the evening's discussion, explained the meaning of the Kellogg Peace Pact and urged the other members to voice their opinions as to whether or not the United States should withdraw from it. Many arguments were given both pro and con, altho no definite plan for argumentation was decided upon. Doctor White offered some very valuable information which she obtained from the Foreign Policy Association Magazine. A decision was made that Ursinus women would be willing to change the question: "Should the United States Withdraw from the Kellogg Peace Pact?" if their opponent debaters would prefer to have it changed.

The business part of the meeting being over, Muriel Ingram '33 favored the club with a violin solo. Refreshments were then served and enjoyed by all. Before adjourning, the club members decided that the next meeting should be held at Shreiner Hall, Monday, November 11.

ately following the kick for extra point, he appeared to be all right and laid down behind the players' bench unnoticed until the half when he failed to leave the field with the rest of the team. It was soon found that he was unconscious and efforts to revive him failed. He was immediately rushed to the hospital where he was brought to consciousness. His injury was stated as not alarming and he will be discharged from the hospital early this week.

High points in the game were the sensational touchdown run, an intercepted lateral by Paul of the Cubs which however, was called back because of off-sides, and the completion of a long pass, Berger to Paul, that almost netted the Cubs a six-pointer.

STUDENTS PUT ON PROGRAM AT NORRISTOWN, FRI.

On Friday morning, November 1, a group of "spellbinders" headed by Miss Jeannette Douglas Hartenstine and Blair Egge '31 travelled to Norristown where they gave a short program at the A. D. Eisenhower High School to boost Ursinus and acquaint the high school students with college life. About a dozen of the glee club men under the direction of Miss Hartenstine sang "Wintersong" and "John Peel" and Floyd Heller Jr., '33, sang a baritone solo.

Blair Egge, '31, then gave a ten-minute talk in which he presented a bird's eye view of college life in general and Ursinus in particular. The program ended with the singing of "Fight! Ursinus."

Miss Margaret Ehly '26, who is a teacher in the Eisenhower High School, sponsored the trip and program, which was very well received.

gers that they have exhibited this year. There was a marked increase in offensive strength generally while the passing attack functioned well. Susquehanna's principal attack is based on the aerial game, but the defense against passes that the Tricolor has put up in the last two games seems sufficiently strong. Muhlenberg was able to complete but eight passes out of twenty-four attempts, while Rutgers was held to six successful heaves out of eighteen tries.

Saturday's fray will be the third played between Ursinus and Susquehanna, and to date the Bears have always come out on top. In 1923 they triumphed 17-6 and in the following year came out ahead on a 21-7 score. This year they are going to try hard to keep up the tradition.

and abroad and has been selected for the leading part in the opera "Judith" by Gossens who is the head of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester. She will be assisted by Emil Folgmann, cellist. Mr. Folgmann was formerly a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra and is now one of the leading musicians at the head of the University of Pennsylvania Music Department. This concert will be presented on Thursday evening, March 6, 1930.

The third and last concert of the course will be presented on April 10 by the Operatic Ensemble Quartet, of which the members are Elizabeth Harrison, soprano, Marie Stone Langston, contralto, Bernard Poland, tenor, Piotr Wizla, bass, and William Sylvano Thunder, pianist, who is also the director of the Quartet. This quartet will present their program in two parts, the first being miscellaneous and the second consisting of the second act of the opera "Martha" by Von Flotow sung in costume and acted. The artists are all members of the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company and they have all appeared at some previous occasion on the Ursinus Concert Stage. A good program is assured in this concluding number of the 1929-30 Entertainment Course.

known Christian speaker, gave a very forceful address on the "Paradox of Power" citing the outstanding power of Jesus as the "secret of life and of power." His personality permeated his entire speech.

Mr. Paul Meung, of the Friendly Relations committee of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. and a native Chinese boy, spoke on Christianity as a factor toward world peace. Mr. Meung's duty is to see that the two thousand Chinese students in America get the proper slant on American life so that when they go back to their native land, they may carry with them the correct idea of Christian America.

The famous Dr. Daniel A. Poling, present president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor and former pastor of the Marble Collegiate Church in New York was the main conference speaker. "Who is a Christian?" was the subject of Dr. Poling's address. "A Christian is a Christ man and one who sees God in the face of Christ" echoed the speaker's sentiments. Dr. Poling said "Ye are Christians if ye love one another," the true expression being found in spirituality, service, and love.

DR. LYNCH IS ENTERTAINED

On Tuesday evening President Omwake entertained Dr. Frederick Lynch at a dinner in the private dining room in Freeland Hall. Vice President Isenberg, Dean Kline, Professors Tower, Yost and Barnard and Reverends John Lentz and Arthur C. Ohl were guests at the dinner. It was a pleasant occasion and thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the entire group.

out personality, despite the fact the celebrities whom I have personally encountered have acquired fame without it." Dr. Lynch gave further examples to prove his statements, giving the names of the foremost men in all walks of life. He referred to Theodore Roosevelt as a man with such an unusual personality that his entrance into a room made each person present feel his presence keenly. Roosevelt's success as a speaker and a writer, Dr. Lynch claims was wholly due to his knowledge of how to bring out that which he wished to say in the most fascinating and emphatic manner by means of splendid personality, which he had cultivated to a high degree.

Doctor Lynch in conclusion summed up the points of his talk under three headings, namely that of Thinking, Reading, and Knowledge of Religion.

Ursinus is anticipating an early return of Dr. Lynch, and every endeavor should be made to secure him in the near future. Talks of this calibre stimulate Ursinus students to the higher things in life, and give them a broader outlook on the world in general.

The guests for the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Lentz, Miss Errett and Professor Veatch, Mrs. Cordry and Mrs. Rauch.

Judging by the large number of students who attended, the Senior dance was a success financially as well as socially. A large share of the credit for the success of the dance should go to the Senior dance committee, headed by Van Davies, chairman, who so ably managed the event.
