DR. LEICH PRESENTS IMPRESSIVE CHAPEL TALK

Discusses Approach to the Christian Religion

TRIBUTE TO DR. ISENBERG

"Approach to Christian Religion" was the subject of an impressive speech by Dr. Frederick William Leich, of the Central Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, before the student body at the chapel services on Thursday morning.

The speaker, coming from the Dayton Seminary, was of special interest to the college. This Seminary has incorporated what was formerly Ursinus Seminary. Dr. Leich and President Omwake attended the recent meeting of the western section of the Alliance of Reformed Churches. At its conclusion, he accompanied Dr. Omwake to Collegeville to appear before the student body.

In the introduction to his address, Dr. Leich paid tribute to Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg, who was the connecting link between Central Seminary and Ursinus College. He expressed the deep loss of this "Man, Brother, and Servant of God."

The topic chosen by the speaker was one he has to deal with and one that is dear to him. Hope was expressed for help to those facing life and for the true conviction to live according to the great pattern of Jesus Christ.

The gist of the address was that we can never live a full and complete life without religion and that true religion is to know God, whom we learn to know thru Jesus Christ. Dr. Leich's talk was, in part, as follows: Sooner or later we must face religion. A passage read from the Gospel according to (Continued on page 4)

MALE STUDENTS FIGHT

DORMITORY FIRE THURS.

Thursday noon, February 20, Freeland Hall was the scene of an exciting and destructive fire. The fire began in Room 209 occupied by Leo Bressler '32 and Horton Nace '31 and before discovered had reached proportions so that very little of the personal property therein could be saved. However, due to the promptness with which the fire was attacked, it was allowed to spread no further than one room.

As several of the men were leaving the dining room, one noticed smoke and flames issuing from the window and immediately the alarm of fire was spread. The whole male student body that was in the dining room responded instantly and for the next fifteen minutes the fire was fought diligently. One corps emptied one fire extinguisher after another into the blazing room and another formed a bucket line to the rear window and inundated the room with water. By the time the fire company was on the scene the blaze was well under control so that it was possible to enter the room freely and tear out any smoldering walls or plaster.

The origin of the fire is as yet unsettled. The occupants of the room were not in at the time and when they had left there was no indication of any trouble. The fire was singular in that it so completely destroyed the one room and yet did not spread to any other. But the efficiency of the men in fighting it accounts for this, coupled with the fact that a score of fire extinguishers in excellent condition were available and instantly recruited. The time of the fire was extremely fortunate for the men were just leaving the dining room and were directly on the scene of activities from the moment the fire was discovered.

The personal loss to the two occupants was complete and devastating. (Continued on page 4)

JUNIATA CAPTURES DEBATE ON KELLOGG PACT QUESTION

Juniata College and Ursinus College participated in an intercollegiate debate in Bomberger Hall last Thursday evening, February 20. Professor Veatch, presiding officer, called the session to order at 8:00 p. m. The question was, "Resolved that the United States should withdraw from the Kellogg Peace Pact." Juniata, taking the affirmative side of the question, received the unanimous decision of the judges. A representative "debating audience" was scattered throughout the auditorium.

The speakers from Juniata were Mr. Paul Bechtal, Mr. Morley Mays, Mr. Harold Hartzler, and Mr. Edwin Warner, alternate. The visiting team made the trip here from Elizabethtown. They were entertained by Ursinus men Thursday night, and left Friday morning with a victory in their traveling-bags.

The Ursinus debaters were Joe Citta '30, James E. Palm '33, David Shantz '32, and Alfred C. Alspach '33, alternate.

URSINUS WRESTLING TEAM LOSES TO TEMPLE MATMEN

Moll and Captain Citta Only Ones to Win by Falls

TEAM SHOWS FINE COACHING

The wrestling match of Temple vs. Ursinus opened auspiciously for the latter when Moll wrestling in the 115 pound class threw Brown of Temple in 3 minutes and 45 seconds to take a 5-point lead. Victory, however, was not destined to come to the Grizzly team, Citta being the only other Ursinusite to win his bout and the final tabulation showed Ursinus trailing 24 to 10. Capt. Citta won his bout by a fall after 7 minutes and 35 seconds of hard work.

Temple took the other six bouts by 3 falls and 3 time advantages, all of which proved to be interesting and far from easy.

For a first year team, the men are doing remarkably good work. Within the team is much fine material and some extraordinary, especially those whose records thruout this season have shown them to be victors.

The individual bouts were as follows:

115 lb. class—Moll, Ursinus, threw Brown, Temple, with half body chancery in 3 minutes 45 seconds.

125 lb. class—Bamm, Temple, threw Paris, Ursinus, with full body chancery in 55 seconds.

135 lb. class—Citta, Ursinus, threw Zukin, Temple, with half body crotch in 7 minutes 35 seconds.

145 lb. class—Cohen, Temple, threw Kraft, Ursinus, with full body chancery in 2 minutes 47 seconds.

155 lb. class—Montgomery, Temple, threw Robbins, Ursinus, with head lock and body scissors in 7 minutes 37 seconds.

165 lb. class—Greebery, Temple, defeated Weisel, Ursinus, with time advantage of 7 minutes 37 seconds.

LENTEN PRAYER SERVICES PLANNED BY BROTHEERHOOD

The Brotherhood of St. Paul will institute a system of dormitory Lenten prayer services to begin March 5 and continue until the Easter recess. This is a new idea at Ursinus but is in accordance with the custom of many churches. A separate prayer meeting will be held in one of the rooms of each of the men's dormitories with the leaders alternating each meeting. An invitation is extended to all men students to attend the meetings which will take place each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 10:30 p. m. and last for fifteen minutes.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTIONS

At the Junior class election held Tuesday evening, February 18, the following officers were re-elected: President Stanley Omwake; Vice President, Marguerite Reimert; Secretary, Rhea Sell; Treasurer, Maxwell Kuebler, and Chaplain, Harold Kerper.

IMPRESSIVE COLOR DAY CEREMONY BY W. S. G. A.

Annual Ceremony Conducted in a Candlelight Service

FROSH GIRLS GET COLORS

The annual Color Day ceremony for passing on the Ursinus colors to the Freshman girls was held under the auspices of the W. S. G. A. Monday evening, February 17 in Bomberger Hall. The ceremony was a very solemn and impressive candlelight service wherein the entire group of women students, headed by the Freshmen, marched into the auditorium while Coreta Nagle '33 played an organ selection.

The program consisted of speeches by representatives from each of the three phases of the women's life at Ursinus. The charge of upholding the glory of the college in athletics was given by Evelyn Lake '30, that of upholding the ideals of the Y. W. C. A. by Alice Cassel '30, and the charge of the W. S. G. A. by Katherine Sanderson '30. Beatrice Trattner '32 led in the singing of the Ursinus "Fight Song" and "Follow the Gleam." Elizabeth Heiny '31, Eleanor Mengel '32, and Gladys Barnes '30, respectively represented the red, old gold, and black and gave speeches on the value of these colors to everyone in general and showed how very much more significant they should be to us. Marguerite Reimert, the Junior representative, presented the Freshman vice-president, Mary Brendle, with a bouquet of roses tied with the Ursinus colors. The Freshman girls then received the colors from the members of the Junior Advisory Committee. A very interesting speech which should be of interest to every girl, was given by Dr. White, following which Beatrice Trattner '32 led in the very appropriate final selection, the Campus Song.

TEMPLE DEFEATS URSINUS IN DUAL BASKETBALL GAME

The Bears invaded Temple University in full force Wednesday evening when teams representing all the current men's sports namely, varsity wrestling and basketball and Frosh basketball, met the Owls in Conwell Hall on Broad street. Though all the aggregations put up a stiff battle with their respective foes all lost by a considerable margin to superior teams.

The first event of the evening to be staged was the entanglement between the two school's Frosh basketball outfits. The game which was a fast one proceeded to be the best contest of the evening in some respects, although dropped to the Owlets by the score of 58 to 41.

The Little Bears pulled a surprise when they took the lead at the start of the game and maintained it for quite a while. The home team finally overtook them and both quintets took turns from then on in being the leader throughout the first half. Ursinus, however, by means of fine pass work, were in the lead most of the time and had the upper hand generally. At the end of this period after having out-fought and outplayed their opponents Ursinus was out in front 25 to 21.

The rest at halftime seemed to work for their downfall for soon after the start of the second half Temple (Continued on page 4)

SENIOR MUSICAL REVUE WHIPPING INTO SHAPE

Another week gone by and another week's preparation on the Senior Revue, to be given March 8, following the Senior Ball of the 7th. The Revue, though still rough, is shaping up splendidly and promises an interesting evening's entertainment ranging from the ball room to Captain Kidd and his cutthroats and from the campus to the jungles. The talent for this show has not been restricted to the Senior Class alone, but includes members of all classes who have offered their services to help put the show across.

This Revue, being the first musical production on a large scale, put on at Ursinus should prove attractive to many outside including alumni and friends. All those desiring tickets address their requests and make out checks to Wm. Schoeller '30. The price will be 75 cents per seat.

MEN DEBATERS ACHIEVE WIN OVER SUSQUEHANNA

Friday night, Bomberger Hall was the scene of a victory of the Ursinus men's debating team over Susquehanna debaters. The judges were unanimous in their decision for the negative—the position taken by Ursinus. The question was the same as that which was debated Thursday night, "Resolved that the United States should withdraw from the Kellogg Peace Pact." Dean Whorten A. Kline presided over the meeting. The number of the audience was rather limited.

Susquehanna sent three debaters to represent itself: Mr. Foulkrod; Mr. Fisher, and Mr. Sieber. They contended that the United States should withdraw from the Kellogg Pact now, because otherwise it would involve us in complications with other nations.

Professor H. L. Carter, coach of men debaters, used a different team from the one which spoke the previous night. The speakers were Aram Parunak '33, Benjamin Scirica '32, Freeman Swartz '30, and Clarke Sautter '33. Both sides showed excellent training but the Ursinus team surpassed the opponents in logic, in delivery, and in preparation.

The men who judged the debate were, Dr. A. M. Hildebeitel, Trappe; Reverend Clarence J. Ganter, Collegeville, and Mr. Wagner, of the Pottstown News, Pottstown.

FROSH AND VARSITY TEAMS LOSE TO VILLANOVA QUINTETS

Varsity Unable to Overcome Lead Made by Regulars

FROSH LOSE LEAD LAST HALF

In a court game played on the Thompson-Gay floor, on Tuesday evening, February 18, the Villanova College five downed the Ursinus quintet by the score of 48-29. This game marked the twelfth straight reverse for the Bears during the current season.

During the first part of the game the Bears stuck doggedly on the trail of their powerful opponent. The game was nip and tuck during the first ten minutes. Gradually, as the first half neared a close, the Main Liners started to forge ahead and at half-time the score was just doubled against the Bruins, 22 to 11.

The visitors returned to the floor with new vigor at the start of the second half. They immediately went on a scoring rampage. Shortly after the final period began the Wildcats had rung up such a formidable lead that the Villanova second team was inserted into the fracas. The Bears proved to be more than a match for them but they could not overcome the advantage which the Wildcat Varsity had given their proteges.

Captain Young, as per usual, was high scorer for the home aggregation scoring ten points with four field goals and two free tosses. Birmingham was high scorer for the visitors scoring fifteen of their forty-eight points. Morgan was a close second (Continued on page 4)

URSINUS SEXTETTE WINS OVER CEDAR CREST GIRLS

Friday afternoon, February 21, the field cage was the scene of one of the most interesting games the girls' basketball team ever played. Spurred on by the cheers of the large crowd present, the girls played hard, and defeated Cedar Crest by the score of 20-16.

The game, though interesting, by no means displayed the ability of our team. Due to the excessive calling of fouls, the game was very slow. It was more a contest of floor work than of scoring, and at halftime, the score was 12-6 in favor of the Ursinus sextette.

The second half was the same story as the first till the last few minutes. Then, almost crazed by the yelling along the sidelines, both teams seemed to break away. With wild, spectacular shots and aimless passes, the hotly contested game ended with Ursinus still in the lead 20-16.

Neither team seemed to be up to par. They could not carry thru their plays and the ball just passed up and down from one end of the floor to the other. Ann Connor played an exceedingly good game, demonstrating some (Continued on page 4)

WIN OVER SUSQUEHANNA BREAKS LOSING STREAK

Bears Break Tie to Win 43 to 38 on Saturday Evening

YOUNG SCORES 16 POINTS

Returning to the home court Saturday evening the Bears' basketball quintet broke into the win column with a victory over Susquehanna by the score of 43 to 38 in a game that was not overly interesting.

The contest was slow in getting started and little basketball was exhibited during the first half. The visitors took a small lead at the start of the game which they were unable to maintain against the Grizzly outfit. During the remainder of the first period things were fairly even neither team getting far in front. Both aggregations missed a great many shots and those that went in were equally divided so the period ended with the low score of 16 to 16.

A much better game was played in the second half. Ursinus began hitting the basket more regularly and the passing functioned somewhat better. During this period Sterner dropped in 5 buckets and Young 3.

The score was fairly even until the last part of the game when a spurt on the part of the Bears put them in the lead which they maintained to the end.

The visiting team's strength rested chiefly on their ability to fake and dribble which brought them most of their points. (Continued on page 4)

LITERARY CLUB FEATURES ORIGINALITY AT ITS MEETING

The Literary Club held a meeting at Maples Wednesday evening, February 19, 1930. The constitution was discussed in all its details and parts, and then five new members were taken in. Clarence Cunard '32, Gladys Ulrich '33, Violet Guldish '31, Betty Schaub '32, and Hilda Stanley '32, were those new members.

At a previous meeting it was decided what the new members should do for initiation. As a result of that, a most unusual and delightful program was presented. Several of the former members displayed some of their talent, too. The complete program is as follows: Merle Williamson '31 read a very clever poem; Gladys Ulrich '33, one of the new geniuses of Ursinus, read an extremely good original story, which was one of the features of the evening; Violet Guldish '31 delivered a most unusual essay; Betty Schaub '32 and Hilda Stanley '32 each read an original poem which demonstrated their talent as poetesses. Then followed a satire by Stanley Omwake '31 which was up to its usual standard. Clarence Cunard '32 also read a poem of his own making. Then, last, but, by no means least, Mildred Hahn '31 presented a sketch. All that we can say about that is "Who has heard the story of the sturdy oak and the clinging vine?" Thus passed this evening of the week.

THE FREELAND FIRE

The Weekly wishes to add its word of praise to those already spoken by others for the conduct of the student body during the recent fire. The students deserve commendation for the promptness, courage and energy with which they attacked the fire, and extinguished it, and for the generosity displayed in making up the losses of those impoverished by the fire. The whole-hearted cooperation which prevailed in both matters was commendable in the highest degree.

The recent conflagration was the first one on the campus for approximately seven or eight years. In it the value of the new extinguishers placed in the dormitories and other buildings recently was fully proved. But it is very evident that these extinguishers would have proved quite insufficient had the fire had a few more minutes headway. Such means can only extinguish minor blazes. It would add greatly to the safety of the College in general if some more elaborate apparatus could be provided which could be used by the students pending the arrival of the local firemen and which would prove effective against fires of greater proportions. A separate pipe system with hoses in each hall could be provided, as is the case in many institutions, or the College could have a small engine of its own. There is a plentiful supply of water, and a good pressure such as is not to be found anywhere else in Collegeville. Such an equipment would have to be simple in operation, so that it could be brought into play in a moment of time.

COMING EVENTS

The large number of events which are to be held within the next three months will necessitate a careful scheduling on the part of the students who are in charge, or else several bad results will ensue. The Senior Revue, Senior Ball, Music Club Operetta, Zwing Play, Junior Prom, and May Day will all be under way, besides the long schedule of track events, baseball and tennis matches, and other minor events. Everyone of these activities deserves ardent and general support on the part of the student body for their several success.

In past years conflicting claims were rare because of the sparsity of functions which required student participation generally. But this condition is now past, and every week of the spring term witnesses an increasing budget of events on the calendar. These occasions should be carefully spared so that all can receive student support, both in work and in money.

It would be a worthwhile achievement for the Councils or the Board of Control to aid in correlating the athletic with the social events on successive weekends. This would allow a slight opportunity for study during the middle of the week, keep at least some students at schools over the week ends, and insure greater success to all events which will take place.

OUR ADVANTAGEOUS LOCATION

One of the advantages of which Ursinus can boast is its location. Besides the benefits derived from being in a quiet and orderly village with the river and country sides near it is within an hour's travel of Philadelphia.

We don't advocate leaving college on weekends and visiting the city but because it is done by a great number a few suggestions are in order for profitable use of time while there. First there are the Art Museums such as the Academy of Fine Arts which is the oldest art institution in America. Also one may visit the Art Museum, newly constructed, and costing over 15 millions.

Then there is the University of Pennsylvania including the library and science buildings. Girard College may also be of interest. And if one is interested in historical places there are innumerable possibilities here. Here are located Independence Hall containing the Liberty Bell, also the Betsy Ross House, Christ church and Walt Whitman's House with an interesting collection. Also one may see Grant's cabin, the Morris House, the William Penn House, and last but not least, the Historical Society building with its large library. If interested in music, one can always find something of value being presented at the Academy of Music. Here the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra gives numerous concerts, and from time to time various operas and concerts are given. If interested in plays, one can see at almost any time a play of genuine quality with famous casts. Right now Fritz Leiber and his company are presenting a series of Shakespeare's plays.

The U. S. Navy Yard on League Island offers attractions to anyone interested in ships and navigation. The Delaware River bridge is the largest suspension bridge in the world. The various newspaper buildings are equipped to conduct visitors thru in order to view the machinery and processes of printing. Horticultural Hall, one of the original main buildings of the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, is still standing and contains the next to the largest collections of plants in this country. The Botanical Gardens and Zoological Gardens are places where nature loving students can spend much time. The Aquarium on the banks of the Schuylkill is the largest institution of its kind in the world.

Last but of most significant importance is the new library on the Parkway, just above Logan square. Here is gathered a wonderful collection of books which will prove almost inexhaustible for research work in any subject. An afternoon spent in this beautiful building and well-equipped reading rooms would be as effective as a couple days' study in the dorms. It also contains an index of the Congressional Library for reference.

And if one wishes to see Philadelphia as a whole and realize the extent of its streets, buildings and parks, just go to the top of "Billy" Penn on City Hall on a clear afternoon. From there Broad Street, fourteen miles in length, the longest straight street in the United States, is a wonderful sight.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. PAUL MEETS IN TRINITY CHURCH

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Paul was held on Thursday evening in the social rooms of Trinity Reformed church. An unusually large number of members were in attendance. John M. Witmer '30, the president of the organization, presided. William Denny Jr., '30, and George Dillinger '30 had charge of the devotions. Three new members were elected into the organization and Rev. John Lentz was made an honorary member. The Lenten prayer meeting program was discussed at length. Dr. F. W. Leich, D. D., professor of systematic theology in the Central Theological Seminary, Dayton, O., addressed the gathering on "Challenges to the Minister." He stated that the ministry offered the best opportunity in the world for service, but back of it all, one must know why he is entering the calling. "Ministry requires a heap of believing, a heap of living, and a heap of loving."

Dr. George L. Omwake spoke concerning the conference which he recently attended in Atlantic City and expressed the idea that a new day is dawning on the church world and urged the alliance of all Reformed and Presbyterian churches. By this organization and cooperation, he sees a new outlook for the church of today so that eventually, we may all be in a common fold of religious belief.

INDEPENDENT TEAM

LEADS FRATERNITY LEAGUE

The second week of play in the Inter-Fraternity League brought about several changes in the standing of the teams. Bet Sigma Lambda, while at the top last week, are now in a tie with Demas for second place, each team having won two and lost one game. The features of the week were the victories scored by the Independents over Demas and Alpha Phi Epsilon. As the result of these games, the non-fraternity boys now lead the league with two victories and no defeats.

After the Villanova game on Tuesday night the Independents won their first game by defeating Demas in an extra period, 18 to 16. The game was an exceedingly fast and rough contest, packed with lots of thrills up until the final minute of play in the extra period when Bunnell scored the winning field goal.

On Wednesday night Rho Delta Rho and Sigma Rho Lambda met in a contest to decide which team should occupy the "cellar." Sigma Rho Lambda was awarded that position after losing to the Rho Deltas, 22 to 8.

On Thursday night the Independents won their second game by defeating Alpha Phi Epsilon 27 to 19. The quintet coached by "Pep" Young was unable to get started and did not display its usual brilliant form. In the second game, Demas defeated Beta Sigma Lambda 31 to 20, bringing about a tie for second place. Soeder, flashy guard for the victors, was high scorer.

The leading scorers thus far are: "High" Miller with 35 points, McBath with 29 points, and Julo with a total of 19 points.

CREDIT PLUS RELIGION SUBJECT OF Y. M. C. A. TALK

The College Y. M. C. A. heard a very interesting talk on "Credit Plus Religion" in the weekly meeting held Wednesday evening in the Freeland Hall lobby. John M. Witmer '30 presided over the group. Paul Berkenstock '30 led the devotions and Thomas Kochenderfer '30 the singing.

The speaker of the evening, Walter Wakefield, is a recent graduate of New York University in business administration and at the present time is an executive in a large credit house in Norristown. Mr. Wakefield showed that most of our business today is done on the credit system and this is only possible because of religion which produces honesty and integrity. "It takes a man many years to build up a credit and he can lose it in a few hours." He stated that a business collapse would follow if credit would not be extended. Mr. Wakefield's concluding thought was that a man's credit is only good in so far as he has faith in his religion and lives this religion in his daily contacts with commerce.

The Tower Window

A few months ago an unpretentious but exceedingly interesting little pamphlet appeared in the mail of college executives all over the United States. It came from the president of a small college in the state of Maryland—Western Maryland at Westminster. This gentleman, Doctor Albert Norman Ward, had made a study of the situations with regard to higher education in the United States. The pamphlet contains the results of his study. Already, he finds ten institutions out of the seven hundred and ninety-two colleges and universities in the United States have practically half of the total endowment funds and care for only about one-eighth of the total number of students. This means, of course, that the other seven-eighths are being educated with the remaining half of the endowment.

Noting the trends in growth and in giving, he concludes that in ten years we shall have in this country approximately 1,000,000 students; that of these, 125,000 will be cared for in institutions which will be in possession of one half of the total endowment, and the remaining 875,000 will be cared for with the other half of the total endowment. And again one-half of this one-half will be in possession of about 100 institutions. The other half of this one-half will have to take care of about 750,000 of the 1,000,000 college and university students.

Then comes this significant question: "Should three-fourth of the money given for endowments be spent on one-fourth of the students enrolled?" This question is one of serious national interest. The institutions in whose possession will be the three-fourths of the endowment are already overcrowded and are limiting their enrollments. The only institutions in which the remaining three-fourth of the students can get their education will be those possessed of only one-fourth of the endowment. Will these students, so greatly in the majority, be getting a fair deal? This is a question of wide social and economic import. The pamphlet is being sought everywhere and is already in the third edition.

One of the results of Doctor Ward's momentous question has been the calling of a convention of the liberal arts colleges and the college departments of universities, rich and poor alike, in Chicago on March 18-20, 1930. Institutions are enrolling for the convention from all parts of the country. Delegates directly interested in the fiscal affairs of their institutions will attend. Men of national prominence not engaged in education will be there as speakers. From the discussions of this convention should come forth not only an appeal but a plan whereby the wealth of the country that is to go toward education henceforth will go in much larger measure into the treasures of those colleges that have suffered from neglect thus far but which, nevertheless, have been educating the mass of our population.

Every college should, at the end of the next ten years, have not less than $2,000,000 endowment.

REPORT OF JOHN FERTIG '30 AT PHYSICS CLUB MEETING

The Resistivity in the Solid and Liquid State of Metals," was the subject of the report given by John Fertig '31 at the meeting of the Physics Journal Club in Bomberger, Wednesday afternoon, February 19.

The substance of the report was that the temperature of the coefficient of resistance varies until the melting stage is reached, at which it takes a sudden spurt and then continues in a straight line instead of a curve as previously. The members of the club participated in an interesting discussion of the subject.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Robert Boyer '30. The time of next week's session has been changed from 4.30 Wednesday afternoon to 6.45 Thursday evening when Ira Fritz '30 will bring a report before the club.

ALUMNI NOTES

Harriett R. Vanderslice '91 died on Monday, February 17, at her home in Royersford. Miss Vanderslice was well known in this community and to many of the alumni. The interment was held in the Lutheran Church cemetery, Trappe, Thursday morning, Feb. 20.

MEN'S DEBATING CLUB MEETING HELD ON WED.

The Men's Debating Club held a discussion meeting Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Room 7 with Austin Gavin '30 presiding.

The first part of the meeting was taken up by a discussion of the question, "Resolved; That the nations should totally disarm except for police protection." The club is to debate this question with Asbury College of Kentucky on Wednesday night, February 26, and with Muhlenberg on March 27. Along with other points, the mutual suspicions of the nations, the possibilities of securing peace by other means, and the bearing of the actions of the present disarmament conference on the question were discussed. The main issues for a debate on this subject were brought out.

The main part of the meeting was given over to a discussion of the Kellogg Peace Pact, as this is the subject for most of the season's debates. The points of the enforcement of the Pact in case of war, the effect of American withdrawal on the European nations, and the effectiveness of the pact were brought up and discussed from all angles.

In conclusion, the program committee announced that on February 26 the club will hold a joint meeting with the Women's Debating Club. The question will be: "Resolved; That the emergence of the modern woman from the home is deplorable." The women will take the negative side while the men will uphold the affirmative. The men's team will be: Aram Parunak '33, Warren Hess '31, James Palm '33, and Austin Gavin '30.

OREGON TYPE OF DEBATE TO BE HELD WITH ASBURY

The Ursinus debating team will meet opponents well worthy of her steel when it encounters the Asbury College trio, from Kentucky, here on Tuesday night, February 25, at eight o'clock in Bomberger. The contest will be more unique than any staged here before as the Oregon type of debating will be tried for the first time. The team selected by Professor H. L. Carter, debate coach, is composed of all experienced debaters and should make a creditable showing. The decision in this debate will rest with the audience.

With the recent good showing against Juniata and the victory over the Susquehanna debaters last week, the fluent Ursinus debaters have shown themselves capable of meeting the Asbury forensic artists on common ground.

The team selected from the Webster Forensic Club for Tuesday night will be entirely different from that used against Juniata or Susquehanna last week. It will be composed of: Austin Gavin '30, Philip Willauer '30, and Maxwell Kuebler '30. The question also will be different from the one used last week. For this debate it will be: "Resolved, that all nations should adopt complete disarmament except such forces as necessary for police purposes."

This type of debate to be tried on Tuesday night is known as the Oregon plan and will probably prove to be the most interesting form used here. Under this plan, the second speaker on each side has the right to cross-examine speakers on the other side. He is permitted to call on the speaker by name and must be answered. The whole contest is run as follows: First, a constructive speech on each side, 12 to 14 minutes allowed; second, questioning by each side, 12 minutes; third, summary speeches by each side, five minutes.

JUNIORS DEFEAT SENIORS IN BASKETBALL GAME 17-5

Perseverance surely won in the case of the Junior girls' basketball team which finally had a victory last Tuesday, February 18, when they easily defeated the Seniors 17-5.

While the two teams looked evenly matched at the start, the "breaks" luck, and unusual playing were consistently with the Juniors whose forwards, Carpenter and Connor, missed very few shots. The entire team played well with Betty Coombs playing a speedy game at side-center.

DR. BROOME SPEAKS AT ANNUAL ALUMNI DINNER

The annual dinner of the Ursinus College Alumni Association of Philadelphia was held Friday evening, February 21, at McCallister's, with Dr. Henry G. Maeder, '10, President of the Philadelphia group, presiding as toastmaster. The principal speaker, Dr. Edwin C. Broome, Superintendent of Schools in Philadelphia, and an honorary alumnus of Ursinus, discussed "The Place of the Small College." Dr. Ernest C. Wagner, '10, Assistant Professor of Chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania, followed with a witty address entitled "Things Seen and Heard, or Sundry Lucubrations and Meditations on Student Government, the Tariff, and the Social and Even the Educational Influence of the High School, together with Reminiscences of Tree-Felling, Breakfasting, and Kindred Matters of Interest to Sated Banqueters." Mr. Herbert R. Howells, '23, President of the Alumni Athletic Club, appealed to the Philadelphia alumni for more substantial support of athletics at Ursinus. President Omwake spoke briefly in his usual felicitous manner. Miss Grace S. Saylor '12 entertained the diners with a group of songs.

A short business meeting followed the dinner. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: Harvey B. Dannehower '08, President; Rev. Harold B. Kerschner '16, Vice-President; Mayne R. Longstreth, Esq., '89, Secretary-Treasurer.

sure... that's the way they did it in '87... but act your age!

THE boys of '87 did things in a different way.

They took buggy rides, of a Sunday, behind docile nags (unless the Livery Man had a sense of humor!) . . .

They danced the Schottische with a slow and easy grace (unless they happened to know the disgraceful two-step!)

They wrote laborious letters to the folks back home with stubborn, raspy pens (unless they were pressed for time and didn't write at all!)

But listen to what the boys of '30 do!

They buzz away over week-ends, behind eight-in-line engines that can do eighty without half trying;

they fume through frantic fox-trots that would make an acrobat green with envy;

they go to telephones and, almost in a jiffy, are talking with the Home Folks.

How Tempus deoes Fugit!

JUNIATA CAPTURES DEBATE ON KELLOGG PACT QUESTION

(Continued from page 1) ville High School; and Mr. Humphreyville, Pennsburg High School, served in the capacity of judges. The affirmative made their attack by demanding our withdrawal from the pact because of its deficiencies, which make it an obstacle to World Peace. They brought forth three main arguments to support their contention: (1) The pact ignores the problem of armaments; (2) The reservations to the pact destroy its power; and (3) The inherent weaknesses of the pact make it a stumbling block rather than a means for obtaining peace. We must commend our opponents for the display of oratory and good delivery in their speeches.

The negative defended their position by also using three main points: (1) The pact has a moral and psychological force; (2) The pact is a step forward in the mechanism of peace; and (3) It is not conducive to world peace to withdraw from the pact. Their purpose was to prove that the Pact is a means for Peace, and withdrawal by the United States would be detrimental to the cause of World Peace.

Present day demands are for realities. These cannot be built upon testimonials but by the criterion of experience, impartially examined. One must not be limited to any part of the truth if religion is to be explained. It would be easy to explain religion in a haphazard way but we all know that there is a greater and deeper significance behind it.

"If you demand reality you will not only find it in material things but also in spiritual things where the greater forces are." Most of us are lacking in great experiences in our physical life but in our spiritual life, experiences may come equal to that of an explorer lost in a trackless jungle. Another great experience of this life is in searching for God.

The way to see God is thru Jesus for as he has said, "I am in the Father and the Father in Me." The way to be a Christian is to know God. Since to know God is thru His son, "until I have known Jesus I cannot complain that I know not God." It is possible to know Jesus better than any other man for he is unchanging whereas others are not.

In this modern day there may be skepticism in miracles but the miracle of Jesus Christ is a fact. Many books on the life of Christ have been written but there still is one more to be written, that within the person himself. In this as in everything else one will get as much out of it as is put in it.

The great danger of substituting sociology or ethics for religion must be guarded against. It is on the ground of love that we can really meet God.

"Life will be a despair unless we truly know God."

MALE STUDENTS FIGHT DORMITORY FIRE THURS.

(Continued from page 1) However immediately after the damage was realized a collection among the student body was begun to help defray the losses. No report can as yet be given but the generosity displayed augurs well toward a fair-sized contribution which will give the two boys a good start towards replacement of belongings.

Because of the instant responding of all the men student body, names of leaders and those who did exceptional work can hardly be given. Everyone did his best and exceptionally good order and efficiency was evident.

KOLLEGE KWIPS

The fighting of the fire Thursday was slowed up for a moment when some one yelled "Don't throw any more water. We'll have to pay an assessment for that."

The Ursinus College Athletic Association has written a letter of thanks to Pennsburg High School for passing on to us such an accomplished cheerleader.

The Cedar Crest girls certainly have had good training. They know where to draw the line.

Oak wood is hard and slow burning. Possibly that accounts for the fact that no serious burns were incurred by the "sturdy oaks" of the institution who went so bravely into the flaming furnace on Thursday.

Varsity Game

Temple University's basketball quintet made it 15 wins out of 16 starts when the Bears were forced to accept another setback to the tune of 53 to 30. Temple displaying a typical home game with lightning passwork and accurate shooting had everything their way and won handily in spite of the greatest effort on the part of Ursinus.

A minute of scoreless basketball at the start preceded some rapid tallying, Temple getting out in front where they staid and the Bears getting a good percentage of the shots they could make through the Owls' tight defense.

The first half as a whole was fast with some very fine basketball played in spite of the one-sided score which placed Temple in the lead 33 to 11. In the second period the remainder of the Temple squad saw action. This aggregation consisted of a good many of last year's regulars. This change in line-up gave the Bears an opportunity to change the score into a more seemly appearance, the scoring for this period being 20 to 19 in Temple's advantage.

Sterner with 4 buckets and 4 fouls for 12 points was high scorer and put up a nice floor game. Peters got 4 double deckers to get 8 points for runner-up position in the scoring honors. Young was third with 7 points, representing two field goals and three fouls.

Frosh Game

The Cub basketball squad continued its "Tough Luck" schedule Tuesday night when it dropped another heart-breaker, this time to the Villanova quintet. The game was almost a repetition of the Perkiomen match, the Frosh apparently with a safe lead at half-time, only to have the opposition come through in the final periods with just enough points to carry off the honors. In this particular instance the score was 17-14 Ursinus leading, and the yearlings showing most of the class of the evening. In the third period, however, the Greenjackets of Villanova hit a dazzling stride and began to sink baskets from every conceivable position. Ursinus in turn started a rally which threatened to even matters, but the Main Liners had run up too much of a lead, and the final score was Villanova 36, Ursinus Frosh, 26.

Despite the ultimate result the game brought many thrills to the spectators, Lodge sinking 5 goals and 1 foul, and McFadden, former Allentown Prep ace, playing for Villanova, showing wonderful form in floor work. The manner in which the Cubs met Villanova, a team of nationally recognized brilliance, on even terms, showed that they are a club to be reckoned with by the freshman team of any college in or near the enrollment-class of Ursinus.
