Standing on Holy Ground

Marc A. Hafso and Judy Hafso

We are standing on Holy Ground!

We are standing on Holy Ground!

God has called. We are journey bound!

Standing on Holy Ground!

In God's presence we gather together
and, given the challenge to grow,
We open our hearts as we worship and work,
to find where God wants us to go.

We remember Christ journeyed before us and we need not fear the unknown.
God is our guide from beginning to end.
Our journey is never alone.

Holy Spirit, direct and unite us,
and fill us with worship and praise,
That we may act upon God's call to service and joyfully live out our days.

Amazing Grace

John Newton, 1779

Amazing grace, how sweet the sound
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved.
How precious did that grace appear,
The hour I first believed!

Through many dangers, toils, and snares,
I have already come.
'Tis grace has brought me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home.

The Lord has promised good to me;
His word my hope secures.
He will my shield and portion be
As long as life endures.

When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright shining as the sun,
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Than when we'd first begun.

Academic Regalia

Academic regalia is a tradition dating from the Middle Ages, when long robes and hoods were everyday attire, designed to protect against the cold and drafts of medieval university halls. It remains the costume at some British universities.

The many variations in academic dress are not incidental, but are rich in meaning. Each costume represents both the degree held by the wearer and the institution that awarded it. While in Europe each university has been free to adopt whatever design it wishes, a considerable degree of standardization has been achieved in the United States. Some of the elements of the code of academic dress follow.

HOOD: The hood, which is draped down the back, carries more symbolic significance than any other part of the costume. The border, extending over the shoulders to meet in a "V" at the front, indicates by its colors the discipline in which the degree was earned. Colors for some of the faculties are white (arts, letters, humanities); cream (social science); dark blue (philosophy); light blue (education); scarlet (theology); pink (music); golden yellow (natural science); lemon (library science); nugget (business, accounting); and sage green (physical education).

The lining of the hood, partly exposed, is in the colors of the degree-granting institution (for Whitworth, crimson and black). Doctoral hoods are longer than those of master's-degree recipients and have a wider border. Recipients of the bachelor's degree do not wear hoods.

GOWN: Black gowns are the rule, but a few universities use other colors. A doctor's gown is recognizable by three horizontal velvet bars on each sleeve, either in black or in the color of the discipline in which the degree was granted. Typically, a doctor's gown also has velvet panels down the front. The typical gowns for master's-degree and baccalaureate-degree candidates do not have decorated panels or sleeves.

CAP: The familiar hard-topped mortarboard, or "Oxford cap," has long been standard, but a soft tam is increasingly common. The tassels are usually black or the color of the discipline. The tassel on a doctor's cap is usually metallic gold.

The Banners

The banners carry the seals of the Presbyterian Church (USA) and Whitworth College. Designed for the 1988 Commencement by Professor Emeritus of Art Walter "Spike" Grosvenor and constructed by Grosvenor, his wife, Erlene, and Art Professor Barbara Filo, these banners are a permanent part of the Commencement exercises.

Clarifications

(1) Participation in Commencement and inclusion in the Commencement program do not guarantee official granting of a degree. The Graduate Office or specific degree program verifies completion of all coursework and degree requirements for master's-degree candidates. The Registrar's Office performs the same function for baccalaureate-degree candidates.

(2) The official document verifying degree completion is the Whitworth College transcript, signed and sealed by the registrar.
