

Morehead Is Ready For Christmas

Shops And Stores Take On Gala Appearance For Season

Christmas stocks are appearing in nearly every store in Morehead, with gaily trimmed windows beckoning the Christmas shopper to come in and prepare his gifts at the earliest possible moment, before the stocks have been depleted and picked over.

Batson's, the Bishops, Blair's, Golden McKinney's all have or will have on display complete lines of gifts for Christmas shoppers. Bruce's 5-10-$1.00 Store and McKinney's and Golden's will offer rare toy lines greater than ever before. They will have the most complete Christmas lines ever displayed in Morehead according to advance information.

Blair's, McKinney's and Golden's will specialize in gifts for the families, useful gifts of clothing and articles of wearing apparel for men, women and children.

Batson's, has already disposed of a complete stock, the largest they ever carried and have ordered numerous articles several times. They are planning on keeping their stock as complete as possible up to the very last minute.

Bishop's have always carried a large stock of Christmas merchandise, in toiletries, bags, toilet sets and kindred stock, that has met with the approval of Christmas shoppers. This year is no exception to the rule. Their stock will be especially complete, with an effort being made to meet every requirement.

Brown's 5-10 and 99-cent store, has a speciality of toys of all kinds and at prices that will meet every demand. This year they have branched out considerably, enlarging their toy department until it would do credit to stores in other several times larger than Morehead. They have toys of every description to meet every desire. In addition to their toy-section, they are prepared to attend to the needs of other members of the family in other departments.

Blair Brothers have been Christmas shopping leaders for years and while planning on altering their policy slightly for the present season, they will still display a small assortment of toys. They will feature more than ever gifts of the useful variety, with clothing, underwear, lingerie and useful gifts for every member of the family.

Registration Books Are Still Open

Those Who Wish May Be Registered Up To Friday, Dec. 4

With the change in the ruling, whereby voters who have not registered before are permitted to do so up until the night of Friday, December 4, to be eligible to vote in the local option election to be held on Saturday, quite a number of those who previously had failed to register have taken advantage of the opportunity during the past week. Up to Tuesday night approximately fifty additional registrations had been made, with three days more in which to call at the Clerk's office in Morehead. Apparently, from the expression of sentiment, the dries had a slight advantage in the late registrations.

It was at first the opinion of the county court clerk that no registration would be held between the General election November 3, and the special election on December 5. However, a ruling from the office of the Attorney General settled the matter and the registration books were opened last week.

Democrats To Hold Election Of Committees

Precinct Committee To Be Elected At 2:00 P. M. Saturday

Considerable interest is being stirred up among the Democrats of Rowan county this week, as in addition to voting in the Local option being held Saturday in all the voting precincts they are also holding their organization meetings in each precinct at 2:00 p. m. Saturday. At these Democratic meetings precinct committees will be selected in each precinct to serve for the next two years. The following Sunday, December 7, the duly elected precinct committees are expected to meet in Morehead for the purpose of selecting the county executive chairman who will serve for the same length of time.

One committeeman and one committeewoman will be selected in each precinct, or nineteen committeemen and nineteen committeewomen in all. In selecting the county executive chairman each of the thirty eight are allowed to vote, or thirty eight votes in all. So far as we have been able to learn there are but two candidates for the honorary office of County Executive Chairman, Lester Hogg and Jim Clay. The actual election will be held in the various precincts of the county on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The fact that the local option election is being held on the same day, will undoubtedly interest some, somewhat with the Democratic election on the same afternoon. However, from what we are able to learn the various candidates are getting ready for their poll at the precincts.

Mrs. H. B. Dameron Dies At Salt Lick

Had Been Ill For Some Time At Home There

Mrs. H. S. Dameron, one of Bath county's most beloved and respected citizens, passed quietly on, at her home east of Salt Lick, Saturday evening, November 28. Mrs. Dameron was before her marriage, Miss Bevel L. Adams, daughter of Mr. M. R. and Sinda Adams, residents of Maysing, in Letcher County, Ky. Mrs. Dameron was born December 27th, 1888, in Letcher county where she acquired her education in the public schools, and finished at the State Normal in Richmond, Ky. She was always interested in Church, Sunday School, Educational and Civic welfare. She taught schools in Letcher County for many years. She was a member of the Christian Church, always having a pleasant smile and good word for every one she came in contact with.

She was united in marriage to Mr. H. B. Dameron, June 29th, 1920 and (Continued On Page Four)

Xmas In Morehead

With Thanksgiving past Morehead shoppers know it is time to begin to remember that it won't be long until Christmas will arrive, and Christmas shopping must be done. Morehead merchants are making plans to offer their customers the most complete line of Christmas gift stocks that have ever been offered in this city. Every merchant in the city is stocking up for a big holiday rush, and it is not too early to suggest that the Christmas shoppers begin making up their lists and making their selections for the gifts they will purchase.

Incidentally there should be no reason for shopping elsewhere, with the stocks that are being offered here. There should be no difficulty in finding almost any gift of any quality you wish in the stocks of local merchandise.

New Lawyers To Be In Morehead Ring

Many Local Boys Studying Law In Various Colleges

Morehead and Rowan County have five youths studying law at Louisville and one now practicing here who just completed his legal studies this past spring. Arthur Barbour and Wurtz Jayne are in their second year and Lowell Howard, Clarence Allen and Boone Caudill are first year students of law. Dick Clay is the baby barter of Rowan. The six are evenly divided as to politics and the Democrats will have Clay, Howard, and Caudill while the Republicans will welcome with open arms Barbour, Jayne, and Allen. Another young star who was born here is studying law at Washington and Lee. He is Billy Young only son of the late Judge Bill Young and Mrs. Nelle Miller Young and has ranked very high scholastically during his college days. It is very doubtful if he is planning on practicing here. Jayne and Allen are the only two that took out degrees before taking law and Caudill has followed the advice of his father, Judge B. B. Caudill long before he entered law.

Legal talent will be plentiful in Rowan when these young men hang out their shingles. This is the Rowan County to study a profession in one school.

Christmas Seals Sale Set

Drive Under Auspices Of Morehead Womens Club

This year, as last, the Morehead Womens Club will have charge of the sale of Christmas Seals in Rowan County, and the ladies are already ready planning their campaign which is getting under way. The Christmas Seal Sale is one of the worthy causes. It is probably the most important drive that is carried on in this or any other section. Funds raised from the sale are devoted entirely to the helping of those people suffering from tuberculosis, and it has been largely through the funds raised by this method that tuberculosis, once the most dreaded and most costly disease in history has been almost stamped out in this country.

A little history of the origin and development of the Christmas Seal Sale might be interesting to our readers. Quoting from a pamphlet set out from Christmas Seal headquarters: "It is thirty years since the Christmas Seal was introduced into the United States by Miss Emily P. Bissell of Delaware, who began the sale of seals to raise money to care for children who had tuberculosis. She had established (Continued On Page Four)

Local Option Election Ready

Both Sides Predict Victory As Poll Is Nigh

Saturday is the big day on which the citizens of Rowan county will decide the question as to whether they will continue in the column of counties that permit the sale of liquor or whether they will step over into the column of those counties prohibiting the sale of liquor locally and become arid.

The local option election is set for Saturday, December 5. During the past month both the wets and the dries have been actively campaigning for their cause, the wets to leave the county as it is, the dries to change it. The dries have spent most of their time and conducted a school house speaking campaign. Judge J. W. Riley and a number of others have conducted a decidedly active campaign in the cause. On the other hand the wets have not made any speeches, but on the contrary have spent their money on newspaper advertising and hand bills, explaining their viewpoint of the issue.

The dries have taken the attitude that the issue is a moral one entirely and that the county would be better off if no legal liquor is sold. The wets have countered with the suggestion that the prohibition of legal liquor will mean that the bootlegger will come back into his own right and that the prohibition of legal liquor will not only not help matters, but will make them worse, and in addition will cut the revenue of both city, county and state.

Fires Break Out In Past Few Days

Morehead and the vicinity have had their usual quota of fires, brought on presumably by the cold snappy spell of weather of the past few days. On Sunday morning the home of Lem Hargis east of Morehead on the Midland Trail was entirely destroyed by the fire of unknown origin, but thought to have been caused by a defective flue. The home of John Scaggs on the Flemingburg road, about two miles from Morehead was also completely destroyed in a disastrous blaze Saturday night. The cause of the fire was unknown, but it is thought that the blaze was set from a hot fire.

Sunday morning a truck caught on fire in front of the store of J. W. Hogg in Morehead, but was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

To Be Honored

COACH ELLIS JOHNSON

Mynhier Boy Is Buried On Thursday

Son Of Marion Mynhier, Killed In Ohio Last Week

The funeral of Leonard Mynhier who was killed in Shelby, Ohio, last week was held on Thursday at 1:00 P. M. at the Jones Chapel with Rev. Henry Hall officiating. Burial was made in Jones Cemetery.

The body was brought to Morehead on Wednesday morning and taken immediately to his parents' home on Dry Creek.

Leonard was full of good cheer and comfort for those about him. He was loved by those who knew him. His aim as a boy was to make the home a place of joy and comfort for his parents and relatives and those whom he came in contact with. This is told by those who knew him best.

The following article was taken from the Shelby Ohio paper and describes the accident in which Leonard Mynhier, 25, of Shelby, was killed Monday at 10:45 in a cave-in in a gravel pit just north of the Bunker Hill School, on the Shiloh-Bunker Hill road.

Mynhier and Emory Conn had gone to the pit with a truck and were loading gravel when the cave-in occurred. Mynhier was caught in the slide, knocked down and covered with three or four feet of gravel. Conn remained standing upright and the gravel covered him up to his chest.

Conn's cries for help brought other workers and a telephone call was sent in to Shelby by WPA workers to report at the gravel pit and aid in the work of rescue. Guy McClure and a force of workers rushed to the scene and started digging. It was thirty minutes before the gravel was removed and Mynhier extricated. The Sutter invalid coach was summoned and Mynhier rushed to Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead. The body was then taken to the Sutter funeral home.

The accident occurred in what is known as the Laser gravel pit.

Business Men To Banquet Team Friday

Plans Complete For Victory Feed To Squads And Coaches Johnson, Miller

When the Morehead State Teachers' Guild sit down to the banquet at this Christian Church next Friday night as the guests of the Morehead team, these professional men, they will enjoy a feast of which the outstanding feature is food and not talk. The banquet will be unique in one thing at least, there will be almost a total lack of after dinner speeches. The second outstanding feature of the dinner in honor of Coach Ellis Johnson and his players will be the abundance of food, in direct contrast to the average banquet. In making out the menu the committee after selecting the delectables that serve to brighten and fill, added a note which to say the least is enlightening as to the preparation being made to satisfy the inner men. They said, "And plenty of each."

As a consequence, the ladies of the Christian church are preparing enough food to serve each one twice, and some have expressed and hoped by the time the banquet is over, the boys will be too full for utterance, and that no one outside of the two or three who are scheduled for three minute speeches, will be moved to stand. In other words there will be food and plenty of it and the following program will be so short that it will not be boring. This should appeal particularly to the coaches and the members of the squad, the heroes of the team will be asked on to open his lips, except to let the food pass through them.

Of course there are always exceptions to the rule. The banquet proper and while the ladies are serving time will be taken out to introduce every one attending the banquet to every one else. This will be done before in order to settle the tension and put everyone in shape to relax and be at ease. Following that, food and more food.

- Fruit Cocktails
- Olives
- Turkey With Dressing
- Cranberry Sauce
- Mashed Potatoes With Gravy
- Creamed Small Peas
- Waldorf Salad
- Hot Rolls
- Pumpkin Pie With Whipped Cream
- Coffee

The program arranged is unusually brief, yet it is felt will fill the bill all the better for its brevity. If however the host of wit, then the Morehead business men may be said to be witty. It follows: Dr. G. H. Pera

More Car Licenses Issued In 1936

814 Passenger, 14 Truck Licenses Issued This Year.

Prosperity in Rowan county apparently has definitely turned the corner, if one may judge by the increase in the number of automobiles licensed in the past year. The increase has been almost 25 per cent in both the number of passenger car licenses and the number of truck licenses over 1935.

In 1935 there were 635 passenger car licenses issued in the county, the greatest number ever issued up to that time. In 1932 there will fewer than 400 licenses issued. 1936 has turned out to be a banner year for automobiles and licenses in this county. Up to the present 814 licenses have been issued with several weeks yet to run in the current year, and with new cars being sold almost in wholesale lots.

The 1936 General Assembly not only reduced the license out to a new low, but in addition they (Continued On Page Four)

"EXPENDIBLE" CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Gifts fall into three classes: something to keep, something to use, and something to use up.

Unless you know someone very well indeed, anything you give him or her to keep is likely to be a white elephant, and anything you give it to use is likely to be something for which the recipient has no use. By all means give your grandson a gold watch to keep or a set of carpentering tools to use, but in every case of doubt, give an expendible gift—something that can be used up.

Alexander Woolcott, famous author, expressed this thought recently: "If you are planning to give me a present this Christmas, I beg of you NOT to make it something indestructible which would only add to the litter of my life. Eventually, I would shove it up in the attic and then be haunted every time you came to call for fear you'd notice it was nowhere around."

"Such a gift is dictated by the same kind of vanity which makes some men stipulate in their wills just what kind of marble horror is to keep their memory green. The gracious and truly modest gift is always something perishable—a song under the window, flowers for the living room, or better still

Of course, Mr. Woolcott has his own idea of what the "better still" sort of expendible gift is for him, though many folks would not agree that a bottle of whiskey is the best way of expressing the Christmas spirit. A little thought will suggest many expendible items that will find favor with the friends and relatives who are on your own Christmas list. Any store sells expendible as well as indestructible items. Give more expendible gifts this year.

LOOKING AHEAD AT THE WEATHER

About this time of the year, as the Old Farmer's Almanac used to put it, look for the first crop of weather forecasts for the winter. The long-range predictors are at it again, and are trying to tell us that we are going to have a severe winter with plenty of cold, lots of snow and some heavy rains. So anyone who is inclined to believe the weather prophets might as well get a fur coat and a pair of rubber boots and be prepared.

Serious as the chief of the United States Weather Bureau lends a little color to this attempt at long-range forecasting. Dr. W. R. Gregg, whose nickname in Washington is "Old Probabilities" in his annual report describes the development of new methods of foretelling the weather by the use of radio, "airsonology" by means of balloons sent up to high altitudes and particularly by the study of previous weather cycles. If there is anything in the weather cycle theory, then we may be in for a long series of cold, wet winters, succeeding the 25 years or so of generally mild, open winters prior to the last one.

The science of meteorology, however, has not yet reached the point, in Dr. Gregg's opinion, where a great reliance can be placed upon efforts to tell the weather for more than a week or two ahead.

Sometimes in this big country of ours the western part will suffer under a very severe winter while the East is hardly affected. Sometimes it is the other way about. Nobody knows yet why the cold air currents from the North Pole which sweep southward sometimes comes down east of the Rocky Mountains and sometimes west of the mountains. Nobody is sure yet what effect sun spots and other disturbances outside of the earth's atmosphere have upon the weather. The only thing we can be sure of, is that the old couplet has it: "Whether it rain or whether it snow, We shall have weather, whether or no."

CAMP FIRE PERMITS ON CUMBERLAND FOREST

Announcement was made today by Forest Supervisor R. F. Fleming that in the future permit will be required of all users of the Cumberland Forest desiring to build camp fires. This ruling is being put into effect due to the fact that the Cumberland National Forest has had to suppress nearly 150 forest fires since January 1, 1936, largely caused through the carelessness of smokers, campers, hunters and fishermen.

The permits authorize the possessor to build camp fires on the National Forest according to a few simple requirements which insure the protection of the forests against fire. In requiring forest users to obtain camp fire permits, it is believed that the number of fires caused by carelessness can be materially reduced.

Camp fire permits may be obtained, at no cost, upon application from the District Rangers at Mr. Sterling, Berea, London, or Williamsburg or from any of the eight CCC camps located in the Cumberland National Forest. Permits will be issued to adults and to children under seventeen who present an application endorsed by their parents or guardians. Permits will not be required on improved camp grounds and recreational areas.

Persons building camp fires on National Forest land also do not possess a permit are subject to a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment for not more than 12 months, or both.

Bing Crosby At Cozy Sun—Mon

Bing Crosby has crooned to blondes and brunettes, to red-heads and platinum-tops, to old and young women of every shade of coloring and every age. But in his new musical, "Rhythm on the Range," at the Cozy Theatre Sunday and Monday he enters an entirely new field.

Crosby croons to a prize winning bull and the bull likes it. "Rhythm on the Range" is a riotously made tale of a cow hand who puts all the money he wins at a New York rodeo into the purchase of a bull, then rides back to the West in a box car with the bull—and a story.

The stowaway, Frances Farmer cast as an Eastern socialite who at the last minute runs away from the man she is about to marry and heads—by the Crosby box car—for her aunt's ranch.

Bob Burns, the bespoken-Playing radio comedian who has told all the world about his Van Buren, Ar. in the picture. He, too, gets involved in transcontinental romance. James, relations, is Crosby's pal with Martha Raye, new screen comedienne who storms through her role with a dynamite delivery of lines and an endless contorting of her vastly flexible face.

"Rhythm on the Range" has music ranging from Burns boozaka to Dixieland numbers by Louis Prima's famous band, and Old West songs by stars of the guitar and banjo. It introduces six song hits, all of them now heard nightly on all air waves.

College Offers Garden Of Allah

For Friday, Dec. 4th the College brings to the screen one of the most beautiful and artistic productions of a stirring passion dance, vividly executed by a desert siren, sets a flame the animal nature of both. The two yield to the temptation of the flesh and marry. The beauty of their love, portrayed in sequence, is the ultimate of good taste and dramatic propriety, tumbling into the dust of tragedy as the man's identity becomes known.

There is no bitterness in the heart of either man or woman as the man confessing his sin to God and woman, cleanses his soul and is rendered to his monastery by the woman. Both see beyond the horizon of temporal existence a greater happiness in another life.

For Sunday, the feature is "Come Closer Folks" and features James Dunn and Marion Marsh. The Sunday show begins promptly at 8 P. M. and the usual high quality selection of short subjects will be given preceding the main show.

Mrs. Drew Evans and Gladys Evans were shopping in Lexington Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hook moved to Maysville Saturday where Mr. Hook who is employed on the highway department was transferred.

FARM & AGRICULTURAL NEWS

KENTUCKY LEAF SOLD IN NEW ORLEANS

The first tobacco grown in Kentucky on a commercial scale was sold in New Orleans, according to S. E. Weather, who is making a study of the tobacco industry for the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Tobacco shipments from this state reached the southern market as early as 1785. The leaf was prized in hogheads and placed in flat boats. In New Orleans, scales were made at auction from samples pulled from the hogheads. Under such conditions, tobacco growing was restricted to regions along rivers.

Long waits for returns from tobacco and increased production were largely responsible for the abandonment of the New Orleans market and the establishment of markets within Kentucky. A hoghead market was opened at Louisville in 1825, and continued to function for nearly 100 years. Similar markets were soon established at Cincinnati, St. Louis and Cleveland.

Because of inconveniences involved in each farmer prizing and shipping his own tobacco, local buyers or speculators began operations. Farmers sold their tobacco loose, leaving the prizing and shipping to buyers. This was the beginning of the looseleaf system to tobacco marketing.

A looseleaf sales warehouse was built at Clarksville in 1901, and the next year one was put up at Hopkinsville, and in 1905 the looseleaf auction sales were inaugurated in the Burley district at Lexington.

Xmas Seal

(Continued From Page One) ed a little shack to care of these children, but money was sorely needed to keep it going. When she heard that in Denmark they raised funds for a similar purpose from the sale of Christmas penny stamps she seized the idea and put it into operation in Delaware. Later it became nation wide in scope and today is one of the big important movements of the nation. Last year the Morehead Women's Club through the cooperation of the schools and citizens of the county put over the most successful drive they have ever conducted. They exceeded their quota to such an extent that they have a fair sized fund in the bank to the credit of the Christmas Seal fund. They are ambitious this year to exceed their last year's record. Their purpose is not to build up a fund to have it lying in the bank. They plan this year, after paying in their quota to the state committee to combine the balances on hand, and to use the fund to build a movable tuberculosis cabin. This cabin will then be available to any one suffering from tuberculosis. It will be moved to a place near the home of the patient and he will be permitted to live in the cabin during the period of recovery. The idea is to keep the sufferer away from the other members of the family, as tuberculosis is a communicable disease, and to give him the advantage of a safe, clean and sanitary room, where fresh air is always available.

This drive, while being conducted by the sponsorship of the Morehead Women's Club, is not by any means a club institution, and every citizen of the county is asked to help in every way possible. Every one uses Christmas Seals. There is no better way to spend your money than for the Christmas Seals. By so doing you will not only get the seals that you would use anyway, but you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is going for a worthy cause.

More Licenses

(Continued From Page One) moved the date of delinquency up to March 1. Thus drivers are permitted by the new law to drive on their 1936 license until March 1, when they are required to have their licenses purchased and on. The purpose of the change was, of course to separate the time of paying other taxes from the time of purchase of auto license. The new 1937 tags have not yet arrived and will not be placed on sale until some time in January, according to the county court clerk. The cost of licenses will run several dollars lower than in any previous year.

Mrs. Dameron Dies

(Continued From Page One) to this union four children were born. Jewel A. died an infant, at the age of ten months, Mary Grace, age 13, Robert J. age 8, and Homer B. Jr. age 6. She was a most loving and dutiful wife and mother. She leaves to mourn her demise, her three children, her husband, Mr. H. B. Dameron of Bath County, one sister Mrs. Lona G. McDaniel, of Viper, Perry County, one brother, Mr. Norman W. Adams of Williams W. Pike, and a host of relatives, in Pike, Letcher and Perry Counties. She was laid to rest in the family cemetery at Mayking, Letcher county, Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, and under a beautiful display of flowers donated by relatives and friends.

Be that as it may, the election is at hand, the election officers have been selected, the ballots and supplies have been sent out, and all that is left is to get the vote out and await the returns.

Both the wetts and the dries have perfected efficient organizations for the big day. They will be out early and work late to get the vote out and the votes cast.

The News has taken no hand in the controversy, although they have not concealed their personal attitude in the matter. The News feels that the question is one for the people of Rowan county to decide to what they consider their own best interests in the matter. We have our own ideas and shall vote accordingly, but we are as usual willing to let the other fellow decide for himself.

McKinney's Department Store is loaded with useful and dainty Christmas gifts, gifts that will appeal to the receiver from the viewpoint of beauty and usefulness. They have always featured the useful gift that will bring lasting satisfaction to the one who receives it. Their shelves and tables are filled with such selections.

Gold's will offer their usual wide range of gift possibilities, ranging from toys of every description to complete new, dainty and beautiful costumes and wearing apparel of all sorts. Their line will be smart and priced to appeal to those who want something of taste and beauty combined with moderate price.

The Morehead Mercantile Company, under the management of Watt Prichard, while offering a gift line, is specializing in "sensible gifts", gifts that wear, gifts that last and gifts that will give service. Their stock is well rounded out, so that their customers will be able to make proper selections without trouble.

Taken as a whole, Morehead is offering to the Christmas trade as complete as that found in any neighboring city, and the slogan "Loyalty to Morehead" should cause every Christmas shopper to pause and consider. Try Morehead first and it is our opinion you will "Buy it in Morehead," and make this a happy Christmas, not only for yourself but for the merchants of this city who have made special efforts to make shopping in Morehead attractive in every way.

THE TREES

The little leaves up in the trees So beautiful there you can see. Although one's day they will turn brown, And to the earth they will tumble down. Then on the ground they will lay. But in this place they will never stay. For the wind will blow them away. Mary Jane Jennings, 4 grade, Oak Grove School

IN THE FALL

You can look all around. And see the leaves turning. Green, yellow, red and brown.

The tall trees and sweeping And the leaves are leaping to the ground. Oh, I do think that fall Is the pleasantest weaner of all. The cool fresh breeze, Flows through the pretty trees. That is when our little birds leave. I could stand all day. And watch the leaves chatter and play. It is true that fall

Is the pleasantest weather of all. When the leaves are falling. The farmers corn they are hauling. When the frost has bit the cover. We know that fall is almost over, But the close of fall is the worst of all. There is many a pretty tree. How beautiful fall must be. Sarah Florence Jennings, 5th grade, Oak Grove School

Vikings, Breckinridge Will Open Season With Games Here Thursday - Saturday

Kings Have Been Scrimaging For Past Two Weeks In Preparation

Coach Roy Holbrook has the crew for the 1936-37 Viking Basketball Cruise and will probably set sail Friday or Saturday night in the local gym against either Owensville or Sandy Hook. The crew is made up of four seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, six freshmen, and three from the 7th and 8th and three more juniors after the first semester provided they make the grades. Their height will range from six feet four to five-two and weight from 99 to 189 pounds.

The squad as a whole is big and green and badly in the need of seasoning for tough going in the offing tide that will inaugurate basketball at Morehead this year. Many of the boys played football and are in good physical condition, yet their feet have not taken to the hardwood easily. Morehead H has two sets of brothers, the Browns and Barkers. One of the most improved boys in athletics at Morehead is Paul Reynolds. This lad has come along like a future star for college circles.

Athletes are back with drawing power at Morehead and Coach Papp's team will have a big following on hand at the opening. The Vikings will play every team in the E. K. E. A.

Local Team Hopes To Ring Up First Victory In First Encounter

The 'Breck' will get into action tonight on the college gym floor to officially open the basketball season in Morehead. Coach Bobby Laughlin's five will play Carmargo at seven-thirty with a veteran squad on the floor. Breckinridge dropped football this year and the boys have been playing basketball for several weeks and should be in mid-season form for the opener.

Harold Allen is the only senior on the squad and three juniors with a freshman will be the starting five. 'Breck' has two sets of brothers, the Fraleys and MacDonaldis, however Bobby Fraley is the only regular of the foursome and the Macs will not be eligible until second semester on account of residence work. Clinton Tatum is pasturing with the club and when and if he will meet Morehead H he will oppose his older brother Charles of the Vikings.

The squad is composed of Fredrick Prichard, Robert and Charles Fraley, Clinton Tatum, Harry Caudill, John Paul Messer, Ben Johnson, Harold Allen, and the MacDonald brothers. The tallest boy on the squad is 'Lightin' Allen and the shortest is Char Fraley.

Morehead is glad that the Navy held the Army at bay and turned loose a broadside to score a 7 to 0 football victory before a record crowd of over-one-hundred thousand in Philadelphia last Saturday.

Two of Navy's most illustrious football players have come from here. Paul Banfield was the big gun in the backfield for Navy in the early twenties and captained the Middies in his senior year. He is the son of the late Dr. Landon and Dale Banfield and nephew of Judge and Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. Mary Johnson Clarke of Morehead. At present, Banfield is Headmaster of the Landon Military School just outside of Washington, D. C. The other Morehead youth to grace the 'Goat' eleven is Orrin Black, son of the Reverend and Mrs. John Black, now of Latonia. Rev. Black was formerly pastor of the Baptist Church and County Attorney of Rowan. Young Black is well known here and went from Georgetown College at the age of eighteen to Annapolis to become the regular center in his junior and senior year. He graduated in '35 with honors and is now teaching math to the future Admirals.

The bang-tails will cavort at the Fairgrounds in New Orleans until the Mardi Gras in early spring.

Bert Johnson so called Man O' War of the University of Ky., football team will turn pro and will play for cash in hand every week.

Haldeman will come forth next week with a list of Leopards that will see action on the hardwood this winter.

The all K. I. A. C. football fever is just a matter of personal press contact with Kentucky papers as most of us see if your favorite is not during the past fifteen years.

It's about time for some hunter to bring in a wildcat. Incidentally, the last wildcat-dog fight in Morehead was at the Charlie Tabor Auction about twenty years ago. 'Old Ring' owned by Coach Ellis Johnson killed the 'cat after several yelps and tares.

Chas Tatum is the tallest high school basketball player in Rowan. Several inches over the six-foot mark, he will be with the Viking crew after the first semester.

Every big affair has a 'GOAT' and Riggs Sullivan of Mt. Sterling was it in the Service game. Sullivan is the Army wingback that interfered with Middy receivers that got Army the penalties. This former Centre College athlete is well known and liked here and our deepest sympathy goes to this unfortunate son of old Kentucky.

Dr. A. F. Ellington, one of the originators of the 'Big Feed' says that it will be an annual affair.

Coach Rupp of Ky., states the Wildcats will be much better this season on the hardwood and that means that the UK basketballers will really be a power of national repute.

The sporting world didn't give a 'oot' over Franzy's victory in the Turkey Day Tilt at Lexington but the Pioneers gave a 'TOOT' on the old whistle at the power plant on their campus that brought joy to hundreds of present and old students. It was the first 'toot' since '22 and also the first victory over Georgetown since '22.

Dizzy Dean is about the only baseball star that rates headlines in the winter and headaches during the season.

Basketball Clinic For High Schools Dec. 8

Coaches Of Section Invited To Attend Sessions

Morehead State Teachers College will hold a one day and night basketball clinic for all high school coaches and players here on December 8th with Dave Keer, one of the really great basketball interpreters and a complete motion picture of the New York Celtics in the college auditorium at seven-thirty in the evening. The show will be free to all and all are urged to take advantage of this great sporting opportunity. Immediately after the show open house will be held in the big gym and the 1936-37 rules will be discussed and the 1936-37 Eagle squad will demonstrate block plays and scoring sets. The finale of the program will be a full time game between Len Miller's freshmen team and Coach Johnson's Eagle five. This is a chance for high school coaches and players to get a first hand information with demonstration on the new basketball rules. Also it will afford the townspeople and the students to get a peep at the new Eagle team which will play the opening game of their schedule on the next night with Alfred Holbrook College.

The Business Outlook

NEW YORK.—The natural forces of recovery have demonstrated their strength and have a momentum which may reasonably be expected to carry the country into new high ground, says "Banking," the publication of the American Bankers Association, in its August issue. The monetary situation following the distribution of bonus funds to the veterans has practically dried away and is no longer an important loss factor. A certain degree of uncertainty arising from the untimely political campaign is unavoidable, the magazine says.

M. S. T. C. football sweaters this year will be blue with gold letters. Roman Soldier, the Black horse of the Everglades, won every one of the handicap races for aged horses at the fall races in the East.

Centre College will have four seniors on the varsity basketball five this season.

Morehead, Centre, Western and Murray will be the powerhouses in K. I. A. C. basketball circles this season.

M. S. T. C. fans will get a basketball surprise in the next few days, also when the 1937 Eagle football schedule is released.

The best Thanksgiving News in big time coaching came to Francis Schmidt of Ohio State and Chet Wynne of Kentucky. They were given contracts Wednesday after being severely criticized by students, school papers, and the public press.

The Wildcats of UK get the statistics and the Vols of Tennessee got the game in the annual football battle, while Herbie Tale sat listlessly without speech in his own home without hope of complete recovery. Young Tade was hurt in the 1935 UT-UK game and every thing that science can do for him has been done and the two schools have set-up trust fund for him. This is a most unfortunate man on one of the most yearly outstanding football games of the South. The two universities are to be openly congratulated on their human interest in the final welfare of this once splendid physical youth.

Western is going to Tampa with my all K. I. A. C. team until it will probably be the last selection made this year. After all is said and done, that is the time for biased selection.

Team Sure To Bring Old And New Fans To Games

Coach Ellis Johnson is all smiles over the basketball prospects at Morehead for this season. He had heard of the boys but when only one regular left from last year's excellent varsity there was doubt aplenty over the power of the sophomores. However today he feels that he will have a successful season but does not think of an undefeated season.

The playing floor in the big gym is slick and very dangerous and a serious injury has already befallen one of the squad. Thornton slipped and fell during practice and has not been in a scrimmage for several days. Other boys have felt the hardness of the floor but no other serious injuries have occurred.

The Eagles will have a streamlined offense that goes into high on possession of the ball. The fast break is a certainty this year and the fans will be wild about this spectacular Morris Harvey goal shooting offense. Practice sessions are not closed to the public and the Eagles workout in the afternoon and the Eagles at night under Len Miller's watchful eye.

Ed Kiser, Ashtland is putting on the steam at center and may cinch a starting berth. Two Mt. Sterling boys are having a time to place on the starting guard list with Carter and Armen leading the parade of forwards. There guards and forwards this season as all boys will have to score to will not be much difference in the stay in the games. The squad will not be cut until after the Christmas Holidays.

GIRLS AND BOYS
Come all ye girls and boys,
And listen to my rhyme
I'll tell you what you're doing
Right at election time.
You're taking from your parents,
Your happy days to spend
And spend them all in school,
And other happy ways.
Your age may be eighteen,
You think you're mighty smart,
While your parents know the part Every Saturday night you may have Somewhere to go.
You'll order your old mother to wash,
And press your clothes.

COON HUNTING IN EASTERN KENTUCKY
Last Saturday night we went a hunting. We took with us one dog.
It's name is Jack. We went up Felp's pond and went up the hollow a little ways and heard old Jack bark. He went up a little branch.
We went up there and he had coon treed up a white oak, and it had lots of leaves on it. We knew it was a coon because it was big tree with lots of leaves on it. We went down the tree and tried to spot it's eyes but we could not.
Then Allice Colburn climbed the tree and he looked all around in the tree but he couldn't see it, so he stood up in the tree and cut the limbs off, and caught the coon, but they fought all over the place before it was finally killed. We went into another hollow called Peat Branch, and over the hills and down Scotts Creek. Here we waited on the dog, then we went up another hollow and heard the dog bark, so we followed the sound and he had another coon treed and we cut the tree down and it ran up another tree and we went down the tree and built a fire and stay all night. We couldn't see the coon but we knew it was up that tree. Early in the morning it began to sleet and when it got light enough we shot it out of the tree and that made us two coons. We then went towards home and got there the next morning at eight o'clock.

THE TREES
When on the hill you see,
The trees are full of leaves,
The leaves are getting yellow and brown,
And they are falling upon the ground.
The leaves are all different colors,
They are the prettiest of all and no others.
They look so pretty and so true,
As our Red, White and Blue.
As you walk along the road,
You will listen and study.
Maybe you will have a heavy load,
And you might be all dirty and muddy.
You might have sat there a long time.
And think of what you are going to do.
You will say that you are going to make a rhyme.
To match our red, white and blue.

SNOW BIRDS
The snowflakes are falling fast.
It won't be long, all winter will see the snow birds in the snow,
It won't be long till they will go,
They will be flying through the air,
Through the snow flakes bright and fair.
Wait till winter comes again.

And go flying through the cold wind.
But it is a long time
Three hundred and sixty-five days,
Before Jack frost comes again.
To bring back the snow cold days.
When summer comes,
The birds will sing low,
We will be glad that it is spring
So we will eat all of the farmer's grain.

THE HOG
Hee oh, hog oh, how funny,
We know you'll make us plenty of money.
Then we'll feed you all you'll eat,
For we know you'll make good meat.

MY DREAMING
The sun is shining so brightly,
The wind is blowing so high;
The birds are singing so sweetly,
As my darling nest marching by last night as I lay sleeping, I could see the bright stars in the sky.
I thought I saw my darling,
By the light of the stars that were to be sleeping in a bed of rose.
Dreaming of you by and by While the little birds around me singing
Up above me so high.
Was a sad word of our parting
As I lay my head on his breast.
The last word I heard him say
Good by I'm going to rest.

OLD MOTHER BIRD
Over on a hill in a hollow tree
I saw an old mother bird and her little ones three.
I could hear her singing in the old tree.
To those little ones that were so free.
The weather was mild,
But the little ones were wild.
The mother bird was calling and told them to come.
They tried to fly but they had to run.
It pleased the little birds to run,
But it made the old mother bird angry to see them have fun,

The young birds begin to think
as they run,
How much joy and fun it was to live in the dry hot sun.

A HAPPY GIRL
I wake before the morning
I was happy all the day
I never said an ugly word
But smile and keep at play.
And now at last the sun
Is going down behind the hill.
Now I am very happy
Because I have never been ill.
Then winter will hold me tightly,
Till I wake at the morn.
And hear the bile bird singing
Early in the morn

DREAMS OF YESTERDAY
I went down the old path today,
The path that still holds all of your dreams of yesterday.
The blues and the gold;
Dreams of the tide of sweet spring weather.
While the winds go like sine,
We can sing again the old songs together
All your songs and mine
Is there as much sweetness anywhere in heaven,
As the winds rage on high?
There on a hill the dry wind is striking
As the little birds pass by.
I am now still dreaming in their sweetness,
And dreaming you are near!
Heart of my heart you're missing,
Of that heart can't be charred.

Patterns of Wolfpen
By Harlan Fletcher

That brought another silence
Reuben wondering just why he said anything about Dibb Mason, who came sometimes in the evening to visit the Patterns but said very little and looked often at Reuben.
Cynthia turned the name over and over in her mind and wondered what thing lay so powerfully in her heart that she had said he was just a good neighbor.
The old song patch he's going to make a lot of money on.
There was no way for Reuben to know that she was offering him the secret which Doug had laid with devotion before her. She glance ed him, her eyes turned down Wolfpen.

They had been led far deeper than the surface of their talk since the half-cousin moment by the drawing table. Cynthia began to realize that like and both dressed Doug in a word and set him before them as a symbol of their new relationship. Nothing else seemed to exist except this eternal moment of creating a new experience with another human being. Her open hand lay along the delicate green moss covering of the stone dividing it into cool points with her fingers. Reuben dropped his long brow and, brow-scared, hand gently upon it. It was warm and alive among the moss fronds. I never even dreamed of finding any body like you when I started up here. And I nearly didn't come, only another job came along that my Dad had to look after himself.

Would you have minded that so much? Cynthia asked.
Yes, he answered.
There seemed to be nothing more to say aloud. She withdrew her hand and let it lie in her lap. It seemed different from the other one and in communion with all the rest of her being.
Julia was now at the gate of her garden. She stood looking at Cynthia and Reuben.

We'd better go now, Cynthia said.
The cows, heavy with the long day, were coming slowly in file around the hill toward the barn.
Everything was stirring again into life for feeding time.

"I like to come down this valley this time of day, Reuben finally said as they neared the yard. It seems like everything is doing just what it was intended to do.
If you think close you can see
Saul climbing back to Cranest Shed, Cynthia said.
"I see him, Reuben said.
Abra! was already in the yard
he smiled boyishly, and when Cynthia had gone into the house, he said to Reuben, Oh you've been surveying."

Reuben smiled at Abra. He liked his spirit and his energy.
Yes, Abra. There's a lot to be surveyed on this place.

Near the end of the afternoon
some days later into July Reuben Warren drove the iron spike of the Jacob's staff into the ground below the hill and brought to a close the uncertain line around the Pattern lands. Day after day from dawn to dusk they had pushed it through the ax-cleared way through the timber, climbing over the ridges that lay lifeless in the moonday heat, and down into cool damp hollows where the birds gathered in the afternoons. Then they had marked off the portion for Shellenberger, cutting across the place from the jutting point on the Big Sandy watershed overlooking the river where the long ridges rolled into form out of blue and indistinguishable space to the rich earth at the foot of the Pinnacle on Gannon creek in view of Cranest.

Reuben peeped through the sill in the sights to the yellow point still catching the sun above the shadows in Wolfpen.
Thence north to eighty-three degrees thirty minutes east to the beginning, he saff to Sparrel and the others and entered it in the notebook. I guess that finishes it.
It was like saying goodbye to one of the family.
Tomorrow Reuben would be leaving this place where he had lived through the days of spring and early summer. He would ride in silence behind Sparrel to Pikeville from then, by boat down the Big Sandy, sitting on the prow to watch the Pattern lands he had surveyed come into the hands of Shellenberger. It was the first time he had ever been sorry to complete a job in the hills and return home.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?
YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unromantic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it. When your husband thinks it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.
For three generations one woman has sold another her "stalling-through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women must endure in the throes of suffering from their girlhood to womanhood. Preparing for motherhood. Approaching "middle age."
Don't be a three-quarter wife and go "stalling through."
