VERBAL DESCRIPTION:

This is a body sherd with a smooth unscored side. The unscored side has one small gray spot (approx. $5 \times 4 \text{mm}^2$). The scored side is burnt across the entire surface. The scored lines are at most .3cm deep and .3cm wide. The lines are U-shaped and the shapes made by the lines are parallelograms. On a broken edge, a firing core approx. .45cm wide can be seen. There is no handle attached to this piece, nor is there a scar from a handle. The unscored side does not appear to be slipped.
