Road Open To New Water District

—Pipeline Installed

The road is open to the establishment of a water district in North Saanich.

First step was taken when the provincial government approved the construction of a pipeline out to Swartz Bay to serve the new government ferries.

The department of highways installed a pipeline to the ferry to serve its own ships, at the same time offering to supply consumers on the route of the pipeline.

Since its installation, the new water system has served only the government operation at Swartz section of the area to continue operation as an independent entity.

Such new water district will buy its water from Central Saanich and retail it to its own customers. The municipality will charge 35 cents per thousand gallons, which is less than one-third of the retail price charged to consumers in Sidney Waterworks District.

EXCHANGE

In exchange for the pipeline, constructed at a cost of about $150,000, the district would supply Swartz Bay with water, free of charge, for 20 years. At the end of the specified period the pipeline would become the property of the water district and the government installations would then be charged for their water consumption. At the current cost of water the charge to the district would represent something less than $3 per day. Amortized repayments for the line to be laid by the district would represent about 12 times this figure.

Offer of the supply line was originally made to Central Saanich, but the municipal council is reluctant to engage in water distribution outside its own boundaries.

Councillor P. F. Warren, who was not only one of the prime movers in the establishment of a municipal water department, but personally urged the provincial highways department to draw its water from the Elk Lake system, stated that the municipality is concerned with the retail sale of water only within its own area.

Hees To Reveal New Plans For Patricia Bay Airport

A guarded press statement by A. DeB. McPhillips, member of parliament for Victoria, has resulted in much bated breath in Sidney and district.

Mr. McPhillips stated that Transport Minister George Hees will visit Patricia Bay Airport on August 12 and will make an "important statement" regarding the airport at that time. That's why residents here are awaiting Mr. Hees' visit with such keen interest.

Many months ago Mr. Hees promised that work would start on a new terminal building at the airport this year. To date, the big job has not been started, but residents take it for granted that work will be launched shortly. That "important statement" is now just water under the bridge. Accordingly many observers are confident that his statement will be the long-awaited announcement that the main runway at the airport will be lengthened to permit its use by modern aircraft.

Meanwhile it is simply a case of residents continuing to wait patiently for the minister's visit on August 12. It could go down in history as a red-letter day for the entire Saanich Peninsula.

To Continue Mail Drive

Plan for a six-day postal service in Sidney which has been made by Commissioner A. A. Cormack a month ago was reviewed again by Sidney council on Tuesday night.

Members of the council agreed unanimously that further steps should be taken. While Commissioner Cormack recommended that it should be dealt with first at the local level, Commissioners J. H. Larocque and T. A. Aiers urged a direct appeal to Ottawa.

Village Clerk A. W. Sharp was advised to write to the postmaster-general and also to notify the Hon. G. R. Penikese, V.C., Esquimalt, as well as the local postmaster.

STOP BOTH WAYS

SCHOOL BUS TO CONTROL ALL TRAFFIC IN FUTURE

School buses in the province of British Columbia will, in future, control traffic in both directions. When a school bus stops to load or unload it will be provided with a flashing light and traffic following the vehicle as well as traffic approaching will be required to come to a halt.

The regulation is a new one and drivers will be required to conform to these regulations next month.

Mounting of a sign warning motorists that they must halt is still being investigated by Saanich School District. No provision exists in the Act for such a sign, which is common south of the international line, but trustees last week authorized the investigation by Secretary-Treasurer A. G. Blair.

Ratepayers To Press Council For Reconsideration Of Move

—Unanimous Opposition

Resolution calling on Central Saanich council to reconsider its decision and to rehire the dismissed public works crew will be presented at its next meeting. Decision to present this resolution was approved unanimously by 79 members of the Central Saanich Ratepayers' Association at the special meeting on Thursday, July 28, at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

After David Prosser, newly installed secretary of the organization, had given his report on last Central Saanich council meeting many taxpayers expressed strong criticism on council's decision.

Councillor R. M. Lamont, who is the only member of the council opposed to the dismissal of the public works crew, complied with the request of the ratepayers and explained his stand in the controversy.

WIDER IMPLICATION

He told his audience that instead of going ahead in developing the municipality progress seems to be hindered. In his opinion the lay-off of the municipality's works crew was not solely prompted by economy but was accompanied by other considerations. Councillor Lamont recalled the remark made by Reeve H. R. Brown some time ago, that Carl Breitenbach, foreman of the public works crew, "was not capable of executing his duties".

Councillor Lamont explained to the attending ratepayers that lack of leadership had been brought up by the council.

"However," he said, "this leadership does not only apply to the foreman but to the council as well. I have asked at a number of council meetings why matters, which also were the concern of the foreman, were not discussed in his presence."

Councillor Lamont felt that it was not fair to give the municipal workers notice of dismissal without any fundamental reason. He asserted that these men should have been called to the office and properly informed of such imminent change.

ALREADY NAMED

Asked by the ratepayers if it was true that a handyman and a helper, replacing the steady crew, already had been named, Councillor Lamont answered that that was the case. Names for successors had been mentioned. Ending his statement he emphasized that he was not

Water For Sidney Priority

Sidney Waterworks District will be the first new customer of Central Saanich water department as soon as the acquisition of the municipal water system has been ratified in Ottawa.

Reeve H. R. Brown, before leaving for Vancouver last week to sign the formal transfer of the Elk Lake system, stated that he and his council would approve a connection to Sidney immediately they had the authority.

Sidney Waterworks District needs an augmented supply to handle its heavily expanded load of customers during the dry summer months.

The problems facing Sidney customers will be a thing of the past once the dry season is over.

BUSES AND TRAFFIC

Children Are Lulled Into False Sense Of Security

Former school teacher retired in North Saanich has expressed concern at the dangers attendant upon the use of school buses.

Warmly commending the introduction of stop signs on school buses, he observed that children are not taught road sense and that although following traffic is brought to a halt, the traffic on the other side of the road is still moving. The child is lulled into a false sense of security at the stoppage of the following traffic and may run out into the approaching stream, he fears.

The school authorities should take time out to teach the children to take care of themselves, he contends. The child is given the impression that he does not need to think, he is taken care of anyway.

The schools should instruct the child in taking care of themselves on the highway and where the children must cross one should be provided with a cap and flag and take his comrades across the highway. Such a scheme would only require a few minutes a month by the teacher.

The teacher, L. W. Ashton, of All Bay Road, also noted that the teacher has definite authority over the children until they reach their homes, under the terms of a federal act.

Familiarity with cars has brought the child of today to the stage where he tends to ignore them, feels the former teacher.

Athletic Visitor

Colin Williams of Woking, Surrey, is enjoying a visit here after a long walk.

The student, an undergraduate in law at Oxford, is having a unique summer holiday. He caught a ride across the Atlantic in a freighter and hitch-hiked across the United States then northward into Canada.

He is the guest of old friends, Commander and Mrs. S. C. Dickinson at Van Isle Marine here. When his feet are rested he will start the long walk homeward to resume his studies this fall.

Crampton Fund Is Closed At $430 And Adequate Supplies

Total of $430 was raised over the week-end by the committee established to aid the Crampton family after the loss of their Town Park Road home by fire on Friday.

On Tuesday evening the committee members, Fire Chief G. A. Gardner, Roy Tuttle and N. T. Wright announced that no further donations were being sought.

L. F. Crampton, owner of the burned out home, had earlier stated that his house was uninsured, only to learn that it was so covered.

On Tuesday the committee reported that sufficient clothing, furniture and appliances had been donated and that the fund had been terminated.

The members of the committee joined with Mr. and Mrs. Crampton in expressing their warm gratitude to the people of Sidney and North Saanich for their generous response.

Response of local merchants to the appeal was sparked on Friday with the offer of lumber for the construction of a new home by Mitchell and Anderson and the donation of a new outfit for the children by Elizabeth's Style Shop. Other merchants who contributed were Denis Bowcott, G. A. Gardner, Deep Cove Trading, Patricia Bay Store; Moore and Whittington, Sandy's Auto Wrecking and Stewart and Hudson, of Victoria; Venables Plumbing and Heating, Thorne's Electric, Wright's Ltd. All such contributions of materials or services were made spontaneously, commented Mr. Tuttle.

New Member Of Sidney Marina Firm

Newcomer to the Saanich Peninsula is a new director of Van Isle Marina Ltd., on Shoal Harbor. George Wood, former navy man and a chartered accountant has joined Steve Dickinson in the local marina operation.

Mr. Wood came to Sidney from Winnipeg. Despite his inland background, he is no newcomer to the sea. During the war he served aboard minesweepers, spending most of the war in the United Kingdom.

The new marina director is making his home in Victoria at the present time, where he lives with his

Former Reeve Disposes Of His Central Saanich Farm

Former reeve of Central Saanich, Sydney Pickles has disposed of his extensive acreage at Saanichton.

Since he withdrew from public life in the municipality Mr. Pickles has made his permanent residence in Victoria. The Saanichton property has been acquired by A. H. Manzer, of Sooke, on behalf of a company.

Mr. Pickles, an Australian, acquired the property immediately before the Second World War. He farmed it during the war, raising crops and sheep.

The land is the original Maricotte farm, settled by that pioneer family in the early days of Vancouver Island's modern history.

Several weeks will be required for completion of the breakwater project. The firm of Wakeman and Trimble is at present delivering rock to the site.

Marcel Chappuis of Sidney is acting as government inspector of the job.

Mr. Pickles was for eight years president of the Ward Six Ratepayers' Association, which embraced all of that section of Saanich which was destined to become Central Saanich. He was elected to Saanich council and decided to seek a further term on that council towards the end of the fight for secession. He had been chairman of Saanich works committee in 1956.

In 1951 he was elected reeve of the new municipality which he had fought to establish. Mr. Pickles took part in the formative days of the new municipality during which

FORMER SIDNEY CLERIC VISITOR

Rev. E. S. Fleming, former pastor of Sidney United Church, and Mrs. Fleming were Sidney visitors on Wednesday last. They will then proceed to Fernie, B.C., where Mr. Fleming will assume the pulpit of the United Church. His last charge was at Campbell River.

MARKSMAN AND MARINER

Queen Susan Will Be Among Most Accomplished At P.N.E.

When Susan Gray appears at the P.N.E. at the end of the month in the capacity of Sidney's Miss SANSCHA she will be among the most accomplished of the contestants for the title, Miss P.N.E.

Susan has already entered two fields which are sparsely populated by young ladies. She has been a regular attendant at rifle practice in Sidney for the past two years and she has already gained her certificate from the Victoria Power Squadron in elementary navigation.

These accomplishments have been undertaken without abandoning any of the more common pursuits. Susan is still interested in dancing and has attended a course in square dancing.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, of Sidney, Susan was chosen Miss SANSCHA at the local contests which accompanied Sidney Day last month.

The Sidney queen recalls that two years ago, when she first took up target shooting she was the only girl in the junior class. This set her on her mettle. When she came out with top score at her first shoot, she accepted the superior male references to flukes in good grace.

"I had to keep it up or I would have been laughed at," she recalls. She did keep it up and there were few references to beginner's luck after that.

ON TO VICTORY

Today she holds her three pins for Dominion marksmanship and has already won the crests for sitting and kneeling. The only crests she lacks now is for the standing position. Susan is at the present time striving for that crest, after which she will aim for more demanding trophies.

An accomplished marksman, Susan is no pistol-packing mama. Attractive and completely self-possessed, she recalls that she entered the realm of marksmanship because it was a sport in which she could compete on an equal footing with any others, male or female, young or old. Events have proved her right.

When Mr. Gray planned to take the course offered in Sidney by the power squadron, his daughter stepped in and took over. Mr. Gray was unable to fulfill his plans at the time and Susan attended the Today she shrugs off the course as being elementary, but she admits that "it's" successor should be offered she will continue her mariner's course.

The squadron offers a series of six courses, including the control and navigation of small boats, maintenance, sailing and others. If the courses are only available in Victoria she will not be among the participants.

Her reign as queen has proved exciting. Not only does she attend the P.N.E. from August 28 to August 30, but she has already attended various functions in her capacity of queen and more are looming ahead.

AT LUXTON FAIR
Immediately prior to her departure for Vancouver Susan will appear at the Luxton Fair on Southern Vancouver Island. On Labor Day, or thereabouts, she may visit the R.C.A.F. Station at Holberg on the north of Vancouver Island with a show arranged by Bert Binny, of Victoria.

Queen Susan, who is 18, has another year at North Saanich high school ahead of her before she graduates. Ultimately she hopes to become a fashion designer, when another Sidney queen in years hence may be wearing a gown for her coronation designed by her predecessor.

HITCHCOCK THRILLER AT CLOSE OF WEEK

North by North-West will be showing at the Gem Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 4, 5 and 6. Filmed in color the show stars Cary Grant, James Mason and Eva Marie Saint.

This Alfred Hitchcock production is described as a romantic espionage comedy-drama.

The minister of suspense weaves this tale about a secret nobody knew and a man who never existed. It is a story of mistaken identity and international intrigue and a pursuit, north by north-west, that has a spine tingling climax at Mount Rushmore, in South Dakota.

The Gem Theatre will feature Woman Obsessed, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 8, 9, 10. Susan Hayward plays the part of a courageous woman living in a backwoods area of the Canadian Rockies. Her husband is accidentally killed and she is left to care for a large farm and an eight-year-old son (Dennis Holmes). Stephen Boyd co-stars.

Up To 3,000,000 Gallons Per Day Is Capacity Of System

Certain aspects of the Elk Lake water system agreement between the federal government and Central Saanich were explained to the ratepayers of that municipality by Councillor W. F. Grafton at the special ratepayers' meeting on Thursday night, July 28, at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

Councillor Grafton pointed out that up to 3,000,000 gallons of water can be pumped daily from Elk Lake through the newly acquired water system. He said that the present rate is 1,000,000 gallons per day for which the municipality pays Victoria $1,000 annually.

Answering one ratepayer's question, "Why do we have to pay Victoria $1,000?", Councillor Grafton explained that the Water Rights Act of the City of Victoria, dating back to 1878, entitles Victoria to charge for water consumption from Elk Lake. He told the ratepayers that the present water supply line and the pump can stand a daily water consumption of 3,000,000 gallons for at least 15 years without stress.

Possessions Mr. Pickles saw valuable antique furniture and other valuables completely destroyed. A careful investigation was made when arson was suspected, but no evidence was forthcoming.

Among the possessions lost by the reeve at that time was his original flying record and the license he obtained prior to the First World War.

Mr. Pickles recently donated part of his property to extend the boundaries of John Dean Park. In company with others, he relinquished part of the top of Mount Newton to the public.

In 1955 Mr. Pickles finally withdrew from the council when he declined to seek a further term. He was succeeded by Reeve H. R. Brown, who still holds that office.

Mr. Pickles has kept a close eye on Central Saanich and was particularly active on two occasions since his retirement. He came out into the open again when the municipality elected to acquire a new fire truck, replacing that which he had purchased and loaned to the municipality at the establishment of Central Saanich and which he contended was adequate for the purpose. The council pursued its plans despite his opposition and he recovered the use of his own truck, presenting it later to the Oyster River volunteer fire department near Nanaimo, where it

Young Winner Receives Her Lassie Puppy

A Lassie pup was received by a young Brentwood Miss last week when she collected it at Vancouver International Airport.

Eileen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brown, 1238 Marchants Road, was the winner of a contest held by Walter M. Lowney Co. Ltd. Her entry was chosen from over 50,000 and the name she suggested for a Lassie pup was "Skye", one of the islands off the northern tip of Scotland.

In addition to the Lassie pup she won an all-expense-paid trip to Hollywood for herself and her parents.

is still in regular use.

The second occasion was when the proposed new zoning plan was introduced last year. Mr. Pickles attended many meetings on the subject and saw his protests bear fruit.

When he attended a meeting last week called to enquire into the dismissal of the municipal works crew he did so at the specific invitation of the ratepayers' association and not as a ratepayer himself.

HANDICAPPED

Residing in Victoria with Mrs. Pickles, the former reeve is president of the Handicapped Equipment Supply Association, a volunteer group financed by altruistic wealthy sympathizers for the purpose of constructing and supplying special equipment to assist handicapped persons to overcome their difficulties whereby a disabled patient may bathe himself. Currently the association has completed 20 hydraulic units to lift a bed-ridden patient from his bed to move to another point.

Equipment supplied by the association is provided on loan free of charge and is to be found in hospitals and homes as far north as Campbell River and Alberni. It is returnable when it is no longer required for recirculation to others.

Mr. Pickles explains that his activities with the association take up most of his time. He is still keenly interested in the well-being of Central Saanich, but only as an onlooker and no longer as either an administrator or a taxpayer.

Diet Of Hose Proves Fatal For Grizzly

Former Brentwood man who is making his home up the coast of the mainland relates the story of an indignant grizzly.

He is Bud Dignan, son of Mrs. W. J. Dignan, working in the woods at Smith Inlet, north of the Queen Charlottes.

A fellow resident of the community had laid a water line from a creek to his camp. The line was of plastic hose and was laid on the surface.

When the supply failed he investigated and discovered that the hose had been torn up for some 200 feet, broken into small pieces and scattered over the hillside.

The owner of the line assumed that the grizzly heard the water gurgling in the line and became curious. Apparently he bit the line to get at the water and was squirted with a spray of water under considerable pressure. The assumption is that he then became enraged with the hose and tore it to pieces.

CHEWED IT UP

For several days he descended on the same spot and continued to chew up the offending line.

The bear learned his lesson the

TWO OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Past president of the Central Saanich Ratepayers' Association, A. K. Hemstreet, installed two new officers, W. T. Crampton, chairman, and David Prosser, secretary at the special meeting on Thursday night, July 28, at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton.

Policy of the organization is to change the slate of officers every three months to familiarize the members with their civic rights as well as their civic duties. All property owners in Central Saanich are members of the organization.

hard way. After wrecking the water system, he made his way to the beach in the vicinity of the camp. He was promptly shot and skinned. His well-watered hide will be tanned for a rug.

Bud Dignan is logging in the northern community and expects to come down to the island at the end of the year.

Trophy Winner

Billy Hansen, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Lorna Hansen, Port Hardy, won a trophy in Portland recently when he went to the Oregon city to take part in the archery contests there.

It was his first venture into competitive shooting and his award was gained in the long distance novice class.

Billy is the grandson of Mrs. W. J. Dignan, Brentwood.

HE IS NOT REEVE OF SAANICH

Some of the ratepayers in Central Saanich are not too familiar with their council.

Reeve G. L. Chatterton, of Saanich, suddenly became a member of the Central Saanich council when Councillor W. F. Grafton was mistakenly introduced as Councillor Chatterton at the Central Saanich Ratepayers' Association meeting on Thursday night.

AT THE WRONG TIME

DECISION of Central Saanich council to eliminate its works department is a part of the history of Central Saanich. It is a fait accompli and as from August 31 there will be no works department in that municipality.

It is possible that there are thousands of municipalities across the continent without a works crew. It is certain that the majority of municipalities, ranging from the smallest village to the largest of the metropolitan areas, do employ a works crew. Central Saanich has now joined the minority.

The ratepayers of Central Saanich are concerned primarily with the successful administration of the municipality at a cost to the individual which is in keeping with his ability to pay. The manner in which this policy is maintained is left, largely, to the elected representatives of the ratepayers.

Those ratepayers who have expressed regret at the council's decision to eliminate its public works department will be the closest critics of the municipal operation in the future. The next year will be noted with keen interest and many comparisons will be made between the past history of the works department and the future achievements. Comparisons will be made between the costs in the past relative to the extent of maintenance undertaken and the same factors during the course of the next year.

If the new policy achieves the same degree of maintenance at a lower cost, then the council will be vindicated in its new policy. If the comparison proves less than effective then council will be left in the position of having taken an unpopular step to the benefit of nobody.

It is most unfortunate that this decision was reached and implemented at a time when the province of British Columbia is suffering the effects of the sharpest recession experienced since the close of the Second World War. This aspect is purely a nemotional consideration, but the men who are to join the ranks of the unemployed at the end of August will be facing a depressing winter. After, in one case at least, serving for many years, looking to a prospect of security in the future, they will come out into the employment market at a very low and depressing ebb.

It will be an interesting experiment, but it would have gained stature had it not been launched at so inopportune a time.

DROUGHT

FOR the past two weeks consumers in the Sidney Waterworks District have been suffering from lack of water. There has been no problem in respect of domestic water or fire protection, but sprinkling of gardens has been wholly banned.

Many gardeners have expressed regret and others have been indignant.

There are two lessons to be learned. The trustees of the district have been brought face to face with the future and the ratepayers of the district have encountered the past.

Trustees have no alternative but to ascertain that this severe shortage will not occur again. Irrespective of whether the alternative be well water or chlorinated water we must avail ourselves of any available supplies. We would welcome the assurances of the trustees that they will take every possible means of augmenting the supply as necessary.

The ratepayers who have been concerned over the present situation are not entirely blameless. None of those who have voiced a complaint was present at last year's annual meeting of the water district. They should, in their turn, ascertain that the consumers will be well-represented at future meetings of the district, to voice their complaints and to watch the future.

A NEW SECTION

A NOTHER section of Patricia Bay Highway has been brought into the fold with the completion of the blacktop on that part of the highway between Weiler Ave. and Beacon Ave. adjacent to Patricia Bay Airport.

The new section of blacktop is pleasing to the eye and pleasant to drive on. It represents a considerable amount of labor and the use of some very expensive machinery. It is, as far as it goes, a credit to those who projected it and to those who constructed it. And that is as far as it goes.

The section of road is tragically narrow. The speed limit is 50 m.p.h. and for a heavy flow of traffic such as has been directed to this highway the available surface is wholly inadequate.

The provincial department of highways is to be congratulated on establishing a direct route from its ferry to its capital city. In the meantime, we can only repeat a question which has been asked through a wide area since the road was commenced: "When do we get the rest of the highway?" Once the road is established to twice its present width it will be a pleasing and impressive route.

No amount of police patrolling can convert this narrow lane to a proper highway.

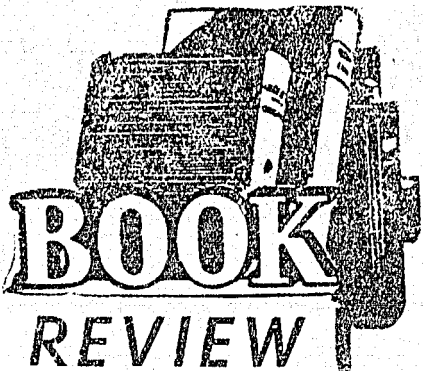

CUSTOMS SERVICE

FOR many years thinking people of Sidney and district have felt that customs facilities at Sidney should be elevated to the status of a full port. At present Sidney customs staff serves simply as an outpost of the customs Port of Victoria. Recent developments have accentuated the need of raising the status of the local customs officers.

State of Washington Ferries now operates four round-trips daily between Sidney and Anacortes in Washington. This additional traffic has increased the volume of work handled by local customs men. In June of this year no less than 18,875 passengers and 5,227 cars were cleared at the Sidney wharf.

Because the local customs officers are so busy handling traffic arriving and departing on the ferries, some delays have occurred in clearing yachts at the neighboring Sidney wharf. This has a tendency to encourage visiting yachtsmen to use the facilities at Bedwell Harbor—and as a result the commercial area of Sidney suffers.

Surely it's high time for the federal government to take a second look at the status of Sidney's customs office and raise it to an autonomous port without delay.

"The Venus of Konpara," by John Masters. Harpers. 338 pp.

Imagine, if you can, a nymphomaniac, all things to all men, gifted with all the magical extrasensory preception, fluent in her own language and a master of English, daughter of a remote village where yet destined to ascend a throne. In this improbable recipe lies the basis of the story.

Masters has a big advantage over the reader. He knows the country of which he writes and he knows the people.

Not since Kipling looked at the Indian countryside with a sentimental eye may decades ago has any writer produced so steady a flow of popular novels depicting the Indian scene. Masters took up the tale where Kipling left off. He shrugged off the sentimentality and entered the picture with a stirring and vivid tale of India at the time of the mutiny. While he saw and recognized the British forces and their families, Masters also knew the Indian people themselves. This was the more clearly evident in the later books, where he depicted the people in their own habitat.

Since his first book Masters has discovered the rudiments of a racial production, an obvious study in view of the concern of present-day demographers over the population of India. His newly found enthusiasm is spread delightfully through the pages.

His tale of independent India and the problems of its people showed this new concern. The newly independent nation was uncertain whether she was of the white race, the native people or half and half. After jumping in and out of bed she found her niche in life.

The Venus of Konpara has the same delight in living and loving. With so erotic a title this was inevitable. The story is pleasantly written and holds the interest of the reader. Only an archaeologist or a historian thoroughly acquainted with the history of the peoples of India could positively point the finger at the background of the story.

The rajah is a weak-minded young man who usually takes the right path, but by chance rather than instinct. The Englishmen are a sexually impotent psychopath, high in civil service echelons, a reformed private soldier, turned civilian, uncouth and honest by remote control and a strange character who has studied both military training and some Indian religion and who always sees ahead of his fellows. He is a type of living saint compounded of quiet courage and psychology. His name, fortunately, is Smith, so no reader has to look for him.

Despite these strange characters and improbable features, the book is interesting enough. It is stereotyped for its theme is by no means new and the lady who is ever prepared to solve the nation's problems horizontally is restricted in her scope be she white, brown, yellow or black.—F.G.R.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TAKES ISSUE

I would like to take issue with Mr. Tisdalle's reference to N. B. Finemore's opinions regarding the present government planning too much emphasis on being debt free.

Admittedly a portion of the $500 million in contingent liability is self liquidating but the government plans to pay a proportion of these liabilities and is responsible for the basic debt.

It is rather unrealistic to celebrate the government's freedom from debt when the actual per capita liability has increased by the simple economic process of debt transfer from one level of government to another. Large corporations often use this device in the form of holding companies. This is hardly novel thinking—just realism.

A simple analogy—I owe $10,000 on mortgage on my business. I form a holding company (commission) which assimilates my assets and liabilities and I guarantee to pay them from expected revenues. I am now debt free! This comes under the heading of one of the classic fallacies and, regardless of the propaganda issued by the government, each citizen of British Columbia is now more in debt, direct or indirect, than ever before. The doubtful merit of this situation is another matter.

Sea View Plaza Takes Shape

Construction crews are seen in this picture swinging the long beams into position for the new Sea View Plaza at Cordova Bay. The plaza is expected to open in September with a new Superval store and an adjoining modern shopping centre.

NEW SHOPPING CENTRE AT CORDOVA BAY TAKES SHAPE ON MCMORRAN'S LOCATION

New shopping project at Cordova Bay is already well under way as the Seaview Plaza takes shape on the property adjacent to McMorran's Court Hotel on Cordova Bay Road. Late September has been set as the target for its opening.

The modern suburban marketing centre is under construction by McMorran's Cordova Bay Ltd. and will be operated by the pioneer Cordova Bay company.

Central feature of the plaza will be the Superval store of concrete block construction, plastered inside and stuccoed on the exterior. Frontages will be finished in aluminum with polished plate glass and ceramic tile.

The well-lighted, spacious store has been designed on the lines of the modern marketing trends by architects Underwood, McKinley and Cameron, of Vancouver. Construction is undertaken by the G. E. Wilson Construction Co., of Victoria.

The new 12,000 square foot commercial centre is located on Cordova Bay Road at Doumac Ave. Facing onto the road will be the parking area for 150 cars, with a service station on the corner of the two thoroughfares. The Superval store will stand behind the car park. Planting area will dot the frontage and modern novelty lighting will display the plants. The car park will be illuminated by fluorescent lighting with gracefully curved posts.

Prominent feature of the new store will be the checking out system. A bank of three cash registers will present the customers with a voucher indicating the cost of the produce, the amount paid and the amount due in change.

A warehouse at the rear of the store will be constructed to permit of alteration at a later date to augment the available storage space and to provide for an increased shopping capacity.

FOR REPLACEMENT
Two cottages, standing to the south of the present auto court are temporarily included into the shopping area plan. The company has gained sanction of Saanich council to include them in the overall picture for the next 12 months. They will ultimately be replaced by a modern building.

In addition to the Superval operation the new site also provides for an arcade to the south of the store between that building and the shopping centre. This latter will provide access to the adjacent stores and auxiliary parking lot will include a drugstore, dry cleaning collection office, bank, barber and beauty salon, hardware store, appliance repair shop and physician's office.

Eric McMorran, director of the company, explained that the plaza will include the largest supermarket north of the three-mile circle on Saanich Peninsula.

Auxiliary parking area is provided to the rear of the property, while a service area to the rear of the stores block will provide parking accommodation for the staff of the plaza and for delivery and other service callers.

The project is estimated at rather more than $200,000.

LOCAL TAXES MUST BE CUT
... says Pat Thomas

Strange, isn't it, how your taxes keep rising, no matter how "debt-free" B.C. is? Of course, most people know that B.C. is not really debt-free, but the government has just shifted the burden on your shoulders a slightly different way.

Total Municipal debt in B.C. is the HIGHEST OF THE 4 WESTERN PROVINCES (Dec. 31, 1959). Local debt per person in Saanich B.C. is second highest to Saanich B.C. already said to be the highest-taxed province in Canada, so we can see what is ahead for us—ever heavier local taxes.

The people hit hardest by constantly rising taxes are pensioners and small farmers, although all of us (home owner or renter) are paying more and more. There are many examples in the Saanich Peninsula itself of the bad, often tragic, effects of the government's "shell-game" approach to your taxes.

In my opinion it is now time to set up a new system, whereby local taxes (especially for SCHOOL COSTS) could be sharply cut.

We perhaps need a government which is less concerned with book-keeping and rich financiers, and a little more concerned with YOUT problems. I think it's time to PUT PEOPLE FIRST!

Notable Island Artist Is Exhibiting In Victoria

Exhibition of water colors by Emily Sartain opened this week at the Hudson's Bay Co. store in Victoria.

Featured as a tourist attraction, the paintings are of flowers, including a wide variety of British Columbian blooms.

Miss Sartain is an internationally acclaimed artist. Native of Goring Heath, Oxfordshire, she achieved her first triumph in 1932 when Queen Mary purchased her first exhibited painting at a showing in London, England.

Miss Sartain came to Vancouver in 1939 after exhibiting in many British cities. She held a one-man show in the Vancouver Art Gallery during the summer preceding the war.

When war broke out she staged a series of exhibitions in aid of war charities and collected more than $4,000 for this purpose.

Her successful exhibitions gained her personal commendation from Queen Mary.

During the war, in May, 1943, Miss Sartain painted the B.C. floral emblem, the dogwood, for two women's service clubs. The painting was then presented to Princess Alice during her visit to Vancouver.

Very exciting Little League Baseball game was played at Deep Cove on Saturday afternoon. Supporters of both teams were held in suspense until the last inning when Deep Cove managed to cke out a 7-6 win over the Brentwood Flyers.

The game proved to be a pitching duel with Vernon Benn of the Flyers giving up five hits and 10 walks. Jimmie Hartshorne, of the Deep Cove Bombers, gave up eight hits and three walks.

The Bombers' outfield played a superb game, sparked on by the return of Ian Stewart who caught four hard-hit flies in centre field.

Island Man Dies At The Age Of 93

Funeral services were held in St. George's Anglican Church, July 28, for pioneer Salt Spring Island resident, Charles Gardner, who passed away in Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital July 25.

Born in Stratford-on-Avon, England in 1867, the late Mr. Gardner had enjoyed excellent health until two weeks before his death at the age of 93 years.

The deceased first visited the island in 1894, but did not move here permanently until 1904, the year following his marriage in Victoria to Miss Florence Search, of England. The young couple home-stayed in the Cranberry district, carving a productive farm out of the virgin forest. Mrs. Gardner predeceased her husband in 1943.

The late Mr. Gardner is survived by two sons, Mervyn, of Salt Spring and Audley, of Victoria; and a daughter, Mrs. Freda Little, of Port Alberni. There are five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Officiating at the service were, chairman of the presbytery, Rev. L. Gillard and Rev. C. H. Whitmore, Sidney, who gave the charge to the minister and congregation and Rev. J. G. G. Bompas, who preached the sermon. Arrangements for the induction were made by Rev. Whitmore.

Following the service, congregation and visitors gathered in the Sunday school hall to meet Miss Hughes. The large group enjoyed the social hour and refreshments were served under the Women's Association. The new minister comes to Salt Spring Island from Victoria West United Church.

Out-of-town guests included Rev. and Mrs. Whitmore, Rev. and Mrs. Gillard, Rev. and Mrs. Bompas, Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Sparling and Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Dangerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Duncan left for England, August 2, after spending several weeks at the coast. While in British Columbia they visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dewar. Mrs. Duncan was the former Mrs. Stanley Stiggings, of Pender Island and Anglesey Island, England. The Duncans will make their home in England.

Mrs. K. Reynolds, of Toronto, is the house guest of Capt. and Mrs. W. J. R. Beech.

Mrs. N. N. Grimmer, president of the guild, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Michael Coleman, who opened the garden party as the wife of the rector, and a Pender Islander, now that the Bishop and Mrs. Coleman and family have taken up permanent residence.

The weather was fine, and everything went off on schedule, with all the booths being well stocked and well patronized. Mrs. Roy Beech and Mrs. Reg. Taylor convened the tea with the able assistance of other guild members. Tea tables were set up on the patio, and in the downstairs dining-room. Mrs. P. H. Grimmer and Mrs. J. Godkin were in charge of the sewing stall, and Mrs. J. B. Bridge, Mrs. L. J. Armstrong and Mrs. May Lowe sold the home-baking, which disappeared in short order.

Water diviners busy on island.

Don Mann has returned to Victoria with his ditch digging shovel, after a busy month on Pender Island, scooping out innumerable wells, digging ditches and doing general excavation work. Willow wands, in the hands of experienced water witchers, on the island (of which there are not a few), hebbod on many properties, locating the precious water, so the powerful machine could bite out the hard earth that would take a man with a shovel days of hard toil. All contracts were not filled at this time and the apparatus will return to the island in September.

Barbecue is popular.

First Gulf Islands Ferry Company barbecue to be held on Salt Spring Island drew about 800 persons to the attractive grounds and beach at the home of Mrs. R. Toynbee, Ganges Harbor, last Saturday afternoon.

Ferries to the island, already running to capacity, were experiencing overloads and many visitors had to wait an extra two hours at Swartz Bay for the Fulford run.

This is the third annual barbecue of the ferry company and the first to be staged on Salt Spring Island. Prior to this year's event, they had been held on Saturna Island, where the internationally famous lamb barbecue is staged each year, drawing hundreds of boats and hordes of visitors.

The ferry company barbecue started out as a staff picnic but proved so popular, that last year the public were invited. This year, Saturna Island lamb specialists were brought to Salt Spring Island, and proved that their culinary arts are equal to their reputation.

A stiff wind whipping up choppy seas in Ganges Harbor did not deter boats arriving for the feast, and docking facilities were taxed at Ganges Harbor to accommodate the visitors.

Gourmet's dream.

Gavin C. Mount, head of the ferry company, made everyone welcome and urged second helpings as he circulated among the visitors. Sixteen lambs on iron spits at one time made the affair a gourmet's dream. Three servings were necessary to accommodate the throng, but this was handled efficiently by the Saturna specialists, and coffee was entered by the local United Church Evening Circle, under the direction of president, Mrs. J. Tomlinson.

Local forest service supplied a portable pump and laid hose to take full precautions against fire. No mishaps occurred.

Mrs. R. Boyle and son, Rod, have returned to North Vancouver, after holidaying with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown have returned from Vancouver, where they attended the marriage of their friend, John Allan, formerly of Pender—son of Mrs. Marne Allan, of West Vancouver, and Roger Allan, of Vancouver Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Duncan left for England, August 2, after spending several weeks at the coast. While in British Columbia they visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dewar. Mrs. Duncan was the former Mrs. Stanley Stiggings, of Pender Island and Anglesey Island, England. The Duncans will make their home in England.

Mrs. K. Reynolds, of Toronto, is the house guest of Capt. and Mrs. W. J. R. Beech.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Armstrong had their nephew, Bill Cooke, and his friend, Ralph Boychuk, both of Kelowna, with them for a few days last week.

Felicity Pew is here from North Vancouver, visiting with the Alex Parkers at Port Washington.

Bill Diel has come up from South America to spend a holiday with Mrs. Diel and the boys.

Capt. and Mrs. Andrew Whatcott, of Vancouver, cruising the islands in their boat, Bevidon, have been visiting relatives at Hope Bay this week.

Guests at The Maples this week include Mrs. F. Craigie and Mrs. M. Wilson, both of New Westminster.

Seaside grounds at Waterlea, Pender Island home of Prof. and Mrs. H. Grayson-Smith, of Edmonton, were the setting for the annual garden party, sponsored by St. Peter's Guild, Wednesday, July 27.

Mrs. N. N. Grimmer, president of the guild, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Michael Coleman, who opened the garden party as the wife of the rector, and a Pender Islander, now that the Bishop and Mrs. Coleman and family have taken up permanent residence.

The weather was fine, and everything went off on schedule, with all the booths being well stocked and well patronized. Mrs. Roy Beech and Mrs. Reg. Taylor convened the tea with the able assistance of other guild members. Tea tables were set up on the patio, and in the downstairs dining-room. Mrs. P. H. Grimmer and Mrs. J. Godkin were in charge of the sewing stall, and Mrs. J. B. Bridge, Mrs. L. J. Armstrong and Mrs. May Lowe sold the home-baking, which disappeared in short order.

Mrs. Basil Phelps was in charge of the candy booth and Owen Bingham the garden and produce stall. Mrs. E. Casseday, Mrs. A. C. Crawford and Sally Coleman officiated.

Water diviners busy on island.

Don Mann has returned to Victoria with his ditch digging shovel, after a busy month on Pender Island, scooping out innumerable wells, digging ditches and doing general excavation work. Willow wands, in the hands of experienced water witchers, on the island (of which there are not a few), hebbod on many properties, locating the precious water, so the powerful machine could bite out the hard earth that would take a man with a shovel days of hard toil. All contracts were not filled at this time and the apparatus will return to the island in September.

Barbecue is popular.

First Gulf Islands Ferry Company barbecue to be held on Salt Spring Island drew about 800 persons to the attractive grounds and beach at the home of Mrs. R. Toynbee, Ganges Harbor, last Saturday afternoon.

Ferries to the island, already running to capacity, were experiencing overloads and many visitors had to wait an extra two hours at Swartz Bay for the Fulford run.

This is the third annual barbecue of the ferry company and the first to be staged on Salt Spring Island. Prior to this year's event, they had been held on Saturna Island, where the internationally famous lamb barbecue is staged each year, drawing hundreds of boats and hordes of visitors.

The ferry company barbecue started out as a staff picnic but proved so popular, that last year the public were invited. This year, Saturna Island lamb specialists were brought to Salt Spring Island, and proved that their culinary arts are equal to their reputation.

A stiff wind whipping up choppy seas in Ganges Harbor did not deter boats arriving for the feast, and docking facilities were taxed at Ganges Harbor to accommodate the visitors.

Gourmet's dream.

Gavin C. Mount, head of the ferry company, made everyone welcome and urged second helpings as he circulated among the visitors. Sixteen lambs on iron spits at one time made the affair a gourmet's dream. Three servings were necessary to accommodate the throng, but this was handled efficiently by the Saturna specialists, and coffee was entered by the local United Church Evening Circle, under the direction of president, Mrs. J. Tomlinson.

Local forest service supplied a portable pump and laid hose to take full precautions against fire. No mishaps occurred.

Duncan Mayor Opens Church Fete On Salt Spring Island

Over $700 was raised at the annual Anglican parish fete, held on Harbour House grounds, Salt Spring Island, last week. A breeze off Ganges Harbor stirred the colorful flags strung throughout the grounds and carried pleasant recorded music over the scene.

Crowds, enjoying the glorious weather, wandered through the grounds where stalls, sponsored by the various Anglican organizations, were placed under the trees and different games including a tennis tournament were in progress.

Mayor J. T. Dobson, of Duncan, opened the affair, introduced by Ven. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes. Archdeacon Holmes made a surprise presentation to Mr. Dobson, a colored photograph taken of the mayor in robes of office by an island resident. Mrs. Dobson received a lovely corsage, presented by Mrs. Holmes. In opening the fete, Mayor Dobson congratulated those responsible for the fine display and wished them every success.

Tea was served by St. Mary's Guild of Fulford, assisted by members of other Anglican organizations, in the hotel dining-room and verandah. Co-convener by Mrs. F. L. Jackson and Miss G. Shaw, they were ably helped by Mesdames A. E. Roddis, E. Farr, G. Snell, D. Dane, F. E. Olsen, W. M. Palmer, at the children's fish pond, while Bishop Coleman dispensed ice cream and soft drinks. Miss Frances Saville was in charge of the parcel checking counter.

Valuable assistance was rendered by teenagers Jill Cunliffe, Margaret Brackett, Penny Smith and Jean Dickson, selling candy, and in the kitchen.

A total of $248 was realized by the ladies.

Books and costume jewelry were in charge of Miss June Mitchell; miscellaneous counter, Mrs. J. Mitchell and Mrs. D. G. Crofton; home cooking and garden produce, Vesuvius Circle, Mesdames R. T. Meyer, A. G. Wilkins, H. T. Minchin, T. Carlyle and Miss M. Harrington; needlework, pick and take, aprons and candy, W.A., were sold by Mesdames A. W. Barber, V. L. Jackson, W. Eagles, W. Seward; pop, Miss Marilyn Parsons; home cooking, St. George's Altar Guild, Mesdames H. Price, N. Walter, A. B. Elliott, V. Grant and Best.

Pleasant recorded music was in charge of D. Dane. Games, and those directing them were: darts, F. Ball and S. Quentin; nail driving, David Parsons; swimming, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Carroll and clock golf, Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Robinson.

A tennis tournament throughout the afternoon was greatly enjoyed by those participating and the spectators.

A cake contest was won by Mrs. H. Price, who guessed closest to the weight of a lovely fruit cake made and donated by Mrs. V. C. Best.

Flower arranging and corsage contests were won by Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Scot Clarke and Miss Margaret Rathwell, of Kingston.

A most interesting display of books and literature dealing with the work of the church was a new feature this year. Mrs. E. Worthington had for inspection, beside the literature, many large display signs showing the many phases of church organizations, church life, and career opportunities.

Navy To Salute P.N.E. After 50 Years Operation For Both

Task force of 13 warships will sail into Vancouver harbor for the 1960 Pacific National Exhibition.

The P.N.E. and the Royal Canadian Navy are saluting each other on their 50th birthdays this year.

Eight of the ships are R.C.N., including the latest in atom-age destroyer escorts, and five United States navy minesweepers.

They will steam in "line ahead"

Friday, August 19, the night before the opening of the August 20 - September 5 P.N.E.

The ships are, Canadian, destroyer escorts H.M.C.S. Ottawa and Saguenay; frigates, H.M.C.S. Sussexvale and St. Therese; and minesweepers, H.M.C.S. Fortune, Cowichan, Miramichi and James Bay. U.S., minesweepers Pledge, Acme, Conquest, Esteem and Gallant.

HE IS SAFE FROM STORM IN HIS CAR

Motorists caught in a thunderstorm have little to fear from lightning as long as they stay in their cars. Lightning hitting the car spreads its charge through the car body and arcs across the wheels to the ground.

Men of the ships' companies will participate in the big downtown parade on Saturday, Aug. 20, along with the band of H.M.C.S. Naden. A total of about 1,400 navymen will be in Vancouver.

Some of the ships will be open to the public until the force leaves August 23.

The Naden band will join with other service bands to present outdoor musical concerts during the fair. The crack R.C.N. ceremonial guard will carry out a traditional "Sunset Ceremony" for fairgoers, and a drum-head church service will also be held.

SIDNEY COUPLE MARK 50th ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

Open house was held on Sunday, July 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Courser, of Sidney, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

About 200 friends and relatives called to extend their best wishes and congratulations to the couple.

Included among the guests were relatives from Calgary and Ponoka, Alta., Yakima, Washington, Portland, Newburg and Salem, Ore.

During the afternoon lunch was served on the lawn of the beautiful home across the bay from Rest Haven.

J. M. LeMarquand, of Victoria, an old friend of the celebrating couple, was the master of ceremonies for the afternoon's program. Mrs. Lawrence Theaker, accompanied by Mrs. S. J. Shanks, sang Bless This House and Through the Years;

Frank Aldridge, accompanied by H. Vine, followed with When You and I Were Young, Maggie and Silver Threads Among the Gold. The guests joined in the singing of Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet. Gary Courser and Sharon Kinghorn each presented a piano solo.

Highlight of the afternoon was the arrival of messages and telegrams of congratulation, read by the master of ceremonies, from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, Hon. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Mr. and Mrs. J. Cowan, Edmonton Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Byre and Mr. and

Also on display was the top layer of the original cake of 50 years ago, the bride's dress and photographs of the period. PUSH-BUTTON TREES

As markets grow, as the demand for limber and wood and paper products expands, as competition gets keener, so grows the need for greater and more efficient production.

Over the years, more and more machines have gone to work for the forest industry. Peelers that reduce a log to plywood veneer in a twinkling. Barkers, chippers, sanders — if you've ever visited a plywood plant, if you work in a pulp or paper mill, you know the extent, and the importance of mechanization and automation.

This, however, does not forecast a "man vs. machine" technology, with mechanical and electronic monsters doing all the work. On the contrary, it forecasts even greater need for the kind of human skills that machines can never perform.

For example, as the automobile industry grew, and more and more machines were used to turn out cars, more and more men were needed to make the machines work.

Today, even on the threshold of the Age of Space, the Age of Man is far from over. No machine has been invented — nor can it ever be — to do man's thinking for him.

People will always be the essential force in our industry and in our company. Not only for what they can do, but for what they are. Fellow human beings.

Parish And Home Magazine In Last Years Of Nineteenth Century

The issues for June, July and August of the Salt Spring Island Parish and Home Magazine (Rev. E. F. Wilson) are missing from the set I am using, so I shall now continue as follows:

SEPTEMBER, 1898

His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia expects to visit the island in October, for the purpose of administering the Holy rite of confirmation.

Ven. Archdeacon Scriven will visit Salt Spring Island either the end of September or beginning of October to examine and report as to the condition of Sunday school work.

The annual exhibition of the island's Agricultural and Fruit Growers' Association is to be held in the Public Hall, Central Settlement, Wednesday, Sept. 28.

It would be a blessing if some one would start a laundry on the island. Many families are at present sending their washing by steamboat to the steam laundry in Victoria, which is both expensive and inconvenient. (It so happens that Rev. Wilson's wish was granted many years later, for today one of Rev. Wilson's grandsons is operating a dry-cleaning business in the centre of Ganges. —M.K.C.).

WEATHER REPORT

Weather report for July—Kuper Island: mean temperature, 61.0; maximum, 93.9 (on 30th); minimum, 42.1 (on 5th); mean proportion of bright sunshine, .681; maximum, .899 (on 31st); days completely clouded, 0; rainfall, 0.30 inches.

Home Sunday school — Children should try and have their books all written up and work finished by the 12th of September, so that they may be collected and the marks counted and entered in good time before the archdeacon's visit.

Mrs. and Miss Walker expect to leave Salt Spring for Victoria on September 3, and after spending a few days there, to go onto Japan and India, at which latter place another daughter is at present laboring as a missionary. The best wishes of all go with them. (A letter written to Parish and Home, signed "C. Isabel Walker and Hilda de Noe Walker" states: "The visit of my daughter and myself to Salt Spring Island has been an interesting and delightful experience. We did not expect so much loveliness and grandeur of scenery, and have been daily, since we came on June 18, admiring the rich beauty and fertility of the island. Where the land is cleared of its wealth of beautiful undergrowth and magnificent timber, the crops and orchards seem indeed rejoicing in the splendid soil. I have been continually thinking how good it would be if every one here, and for that matter, everywhere, would take as much trouble to cultivate their immortal "holdings" which become ours freely, through living faith in the Lord, Jesus Christ, as so many do here to cultivate the land they have purchased from the government.

good deal of blood while being driven to the doctor. Our Japanese friend, Mr. Kinso, is busy these days converting our Douglas firs into props for Mexican mines, and piles for wharves and bridges in China. There will be a succession of ships coming in to load and quite a large number of hands, both white men and Japs are at work in the camp. The Home Sunday School annual gathering and entertainment will take place at the Divide school, Monday, Oct. 3, at 5 p.m. It is expected that the Ven. Archdeacon

Mrs. Harry Rogers, Cranberry Marsh, has opened a public laundry, her charges being 40 cents per dozen. Linen taken and returned at the Ganges harbor wharf.

The agricultural show, which took place Wednesday, Sept. 23, at the Public Hall will be referred to next issue.

C. W. Tolson, wife and child, and Miss Gibbs, all left for Denver, Col., Saturday, Sept. 10. Mr. Tolson had never rightly recovered from an attack of pleurisy last summer, and was ordered away on account of his health.

Weather report for August—Kuper Island: mean temperature, 65.3; maximum, 89.9 (on 10th); minimum, 49.0 (on 30th); mean proportion of light sunshine, .64; maximum, .90 (on 3rd); days completely clouded, 2; rainfall, 0.22 inches.

PROLONGED DROUGHT

The excessive and prolonged drought has dried up all the pastures, so that most of the farmers are already forced to begin using their winter supply of hay. Except for one day's wetting in August there was absolutely no rain from June 19 to September 19.

Prohibition is just now the talk of the hour. The result of the voting, September 29, will not be known until towards the middle of this month. Should the popular vote be in favor of prohibition, the next step will be the legislature to pass a law prohibiting the manufacture, importation or sale of any kind of alcoholic drink throughout the Dominion.

The sum of $23.15 has been sent from Salt Spring Island towards relieving the distress caused by the recent terrific fire at New Westminster, the contributions being as follows: offertory, St. Mark's, $3.65; and donations from Major Craig, E. J. Bittancourt, J. Malcolm, C. W. Cundell, A. Walter, F. Bittancourt, Mrs. Wilson, Norman Wilson, P. Walker, Charles Bittancourt, Francis Bittancourt, George Bittancourt, J. T. Collins.

REMINISCENCES OF EARLY MINISTER

By MARGARET K. (PURDY) CUNNINGHAM

... Through the large minded sympathy of the Rev. E. F. Wilson, we have been permitted to express in the few meetings we have had in the hall, and at Burgoyne, etc., our heart's wish for the inhabitants of Salt Spring.

OCTOBER, 1898

Major and Mrs. Craig are occupying the Tolson residence while the family are away. Sunday, Nov. 6, has been fixed as the day on which His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia will be present to administer confirmation.

Harvest thanksgiving services will be held in St. Mark's Church, 11 a.m.; the Divide school, 3 p.m.; and St. Mary's, Fulford Harbor, 7.30 p.m., on Sunday, Oct. 2, the preacher on each occasion being the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven.

It is proposed to organize a temperance movement at the time of the bishop's visit. The Rev. E. F. Wilson is getting out a list of those who are willing to become total abstainers; also a list of children who would like to become members of the Band of Hope.

H. M. Rogers, tavern-keeper at Fulford Harbor, was hooked in the face by a cow and his cheek torn open a few weeks ago. It was a nasty wound, and he lost a Scriven will be present to distribute the prizes, and also to offer a new scheme of Sunday school lessons, which it is proposed shall be adopted throughout the diocese. The Sunday schools that join in this new scheme will be allowed to compete for special prizes, open to all children in the diocese.

At the last directors' meeting of the Island's Agricultural Association, a suggestion was made that the government should be asked in future to appoint the days for the various agricultural shows, so as not to clash one with another, and also to nominate competent judges who would take the various local shows in rotation. There has generally been some difficulty in getting competent judges from outside, owing to the showing being nearly all of them held just about the same time. The suggestion will probably be acted upon at the next general meeting of the association.

Divine service will be held at the schoolhouse, Beaver Point, on Sunday, Oct. 30, at 11 a.m.

CONTRACTOR

Reid Bittancourt, our island contractor, has built for himself a very neat-looking cottage residence overlooking Ganges harbor.

Experimental Farm Notes

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

By E. F. MAAS, P.A.G.

Algae are a problem at this time of year, as they fill farm ponds with fibrous material and cover the water surface with a green scum. This material may clog up water systems and irrigation nozzles, or the algae may die and release sufficient nitrates to make the water poisonous for livestock. It is advisable therefore to maintain the ponds as free from algae as possible.

Most algae are readily killed by copper sulphate (bluestone) and they may be controlled by dissolving one pound of this chemical in every 50,000 gallons of water that the pond contains. This concentration is safe for swimmers and is not toxic to fish or farm animals. It also gives an effective control of itchy causing organisms so often found in farm ponds.

If the pond is used for fish or watering livestock, extreme care must be taken in (1) calculating and applying the right amount of chemical and (2) applying the chemical uniformly so that no over-concentration results.

EITHER WAY

The copper sulphate may best be applied either by spraying a solution containing one pound per gallon of water over the surface of the pond, or by trying the required amount of copper sulphate in a cotton bag and towing it behind a boat until all the chemical is dissolved. The copper sulphate should be purchased in fine granular or powder form because large pieces are extremely slow to dissolve. Copper sulphate either as crystals or powder should never be scattered on a farm pond since it will settle to the bottom where it will give excessively high concentration and afford no protection for the upper parts of the pond.

To find the amount of bluestone required for a farm pond the following formula may be used:

Pounds of bluestone is calculated by multiplying the area of water in square feet by the average depth in feet by 62.3 and divided by 500,000.

In ponds with a slow exchange of water two or three treatments 10 days apart may be necessary.

REPORT FROM VICTORIA

JOHN D. T. TISDALLE, M.L.A.

Opponents of Social Credit have developed electionitis and are offering the public large doses of ridicule and vindictiveness in substitute for constructive criticism.

The booklet, "Eight Years of Social Credit", is apparently making these "Goliaths" scream with pain.

The ridicule of the few who will not make the ships disappear from Swartz and Tsawwassen or fill in the Deas Tunnel. Neither will it destroy the courthouses, Government House, or the hospitals that are paid for without borrowed dollars, and it won't wipe out the hundreds of miles of new blacktop and lovely bridges that the people now drive over instead of promises.

Modern painting is uninteresting because there is no innocence felt in it.

Many C.C.F., Liberals and Conservatives, recently are telling me they are all for this government after driving over B.C. highways and holidaying in B.C. recreation parks, then coming home on super B.C. ferries. They inform me they would never vote for the opposition's (Strachan's) straws in the wind.

In 1957 when the home owners' grant was passed the C.C.F. members were horrified and bitterly opposed it. One member said he wouldn't apply for it on his house. Needless to say, he accepted it, but each year in the house he denounced it as bribery, although I've never heard him or the C.C.F. denounce family allowances or old age assistance bonuses as "bribery". In fact, they try to take credit for them. However, they were still opposing the home owners' grant when we increased it by $22.

A look of pain shot across their faces and in panic their leader blasted it as mere election bait, but he had hardly sat down when another member stood up and said the policy of the C.C.F. was to support the home owners' grant. Apparently this member had caught the scent of public opinion and jumped the "gun".

The following day, after their caucus, the C.C.F. were all for "bribery" too. They may be slightly confused but I don't think the B.C. people should be, with their obvious insincerity.

It is an old song of the C.C.F. to accuse the Social Credit government of rewarding their friends and supporters. Of course, most people support the Social Credit so they are all being rewarded with good government. However, their argument promotes the question, how do the C.C.F. intend to regard the labor bosses that have pledged campaign funds to the C.C.F. from the hard earned dollars of the union members' take home pay. In the language of the C.C.F., does this mean that the union bosses are to receive special favors?

I suppose since minister of Health Eric Martin has approved over $6,000,000 in 11 hospital projects we will be accused of getting kickbacks from the hospitals and giving them special favors.

It is worthy of note that the provincial government pays 50 per cent of all hospital construction costs, and the hospitals which have been opened this year, or will be opened in addition to the projects currently under construction, and in the process of active planning, amount to over $37,000,000.

Canal Is Widened At Pender

Canal separating the Pender Islands is closed to marine traffic for a period of at least three weeks, while dredging is being carried out by the federal department of public works. When completed the channel will provide six feet of water at low tide over a 60-foot width. Tide Bay-MacKenzie Dredging, of Vancouver, has the contract.

This is the first time the canal has been dredged since it was cut through shortly after the turn of the century. The Pender Island Chamber of Commerce asked that consideration be given this project as a convenience to the yachting public, which uses this scenic channel after clearing customs at Bedwell Harbor. Some difficulty was being experienced with sandbars at low tide.

niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sims and their children, Douglas and Joanne of North Burnaby, B.C.

Sandown Franchise Retained

Future of Sandown Race Track is still unsettled following an unsuccessful appeal to the B.C. Racing Commission for a transfer of the racing franchise from Sandown to the mainland last week.

William Randall, managing director of the Colwood Park Racing Association, has not yet disclosed his plans for the local track this year.

Among those presenting a brief to the commission was Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce. Following is the brief which was presented over the signature of Alan Spooner, vice-president of the chamber.

1. Whereas a request has been made to have the Ascot Jockey Club Charter transferred from Sandown Park at Sidney to Exhibition Park, Vancouver;
2. Whereas this charter was granted to bring the sport of horse racing to the people of Vancouver Island and has been in effect some 48 years since it was granted by the Dominion of Canada;
3. Whereas it is generally advertised there will be a meet at Sandown during the fall of 1960 and any change will break faith with the public;
4. Whereas a charter, in the minds of this chamber, whether for racing or for any other purpose has since 1915 been granted for the interests of the people;
5. Whereas the opening of new ferry and highway services makes the use of this charter increasingly important to the growth of the community;

Therefore be it resolved that the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce is opposed to the transfer of the charter granted to this area by ancient right and privilege.

VICTIM OF FIRE UNAWARE OF INSURANCE COVERAGE

Four people were left homeless after a fire on Friday afternoon at Towner Park Road. Efforts of the Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department were fruitless. The fire had gained too great a hold before the alarm was sounded.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Crampton were gazing at the ruins of their home on Friday evening, under the impression that they had no insurance to cover the loss of the three-room house at $4,000 and its contents valued at $1,500.

Mrs. Crampton was at the beach with their two small children at the time of the outbreak. The fire had spread throughout the building by the time they returned to sound the alarm. Mr. Crampton, who is a bulb farmer and truck driver, was away at work. He was under the impression that the house was not covered by insurance and it was not until Saturday that he learned that he had, in fact, insured the home as well as his bulb sheds and facilities.

The couple could not speak highly enough of the community when a rapid response came to the establishment of a fund in their honor. By Tuesday night the sum of $400 had been raised in addition to contributions of lumber, furniture, clothing and other items.

ACCOMMODATION

The family spent Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tuttle, West Saanich Road. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Aylard then volunteered a cottage for their use until they could find a new home.

In addition to their possessions, the couple also lost one of their three dogs. He was badly burned and was destroyed.

Firemen and other volunteers assembled at the scene of the fire on Sunday and prepared the ground for construction of a new home.

SPEED ON HIGHWAY STILL CAUSING ACUTE CONCERN

Controlled speed on Patricia Bay Highway is exerting a wide concern in the North Saanich area.

A reader asked The Review last week how he was required to drive on the highway. His license calls for a maximum speed of 35 m.p.h. The highway calls for a minimum speed of at least 40 m.p.h. The Review could offer no information. Was he then a second-class citizen? Asked the reader. Is Patricia Bay Highway to be closed to certain classes of driver? The 35 m.p.h. driver was incensed. He explained that he cannot undertake to drive all the way out from Victoria on the gravel shoulders for fear of rolling over. Yet, if he does not do so he will undoubtedly hold up a line of traffic at any time that passing is impractical.

A resident of the highway telephoned the office of The Review on Friday to express concern at the problems of entering his own property. There is a deep drop from the highway alongside his home and to drive on to this patch would almost certainly overturn the car. To turn into the driveway at 40 m.p.h. would be fatal, he explained. How, then, may he use his own home without breaking the law? he asked.

SOFT SHOULDER

Another resident of the highway recalls bitterly taking the advice of the traffic authorities. He turned on to the gravel shoulder near his home in order to enter his driveway without impeding traffic. An hour or so later the traffic was held up while a wrecker lifted the car from the axle-deep soft sand which formed the shoulder at that point.

A further factor which is causing concern is the ledge which is formed between the pavement and the gravel. A car may readily leave the pavement to drive on the gravel, at his own risk, but in many places it is virtually impossible to return to the pavement.

BANK BRAINWAVE Baffles Burglars!

The Burglars' Club planned a protest when the B of M's first "around-the-clock" depository unit was developed a few years back! Cash taken late by stores, restaurants, theatres, and garages had to lie in a drawer or in an old sock until the bank opened the following morning. But then a banker had the brainwave of placing a unit, outside the bank, which led to a special vault within, to let customers deposit their cash after the bank had closed. The innovation was an immediate success.

Now, there's an improved version of the unit at the Sidney branch of the Bank of Montreal. Both private and business customers can now make after-hours deposits.

Called a dual-type "around-the-clock" depository unit, it has a slot for special envelopes supplied by the B of M for private individuals, and a larger opening, which accepts specially-designed canvas wallets from business customers. In either case, the customer can drop his deposit in the unit at night, after the bank has closed. The money is safe and secure overnight or over the week-end. Next day, officials process the deposit and mail the customer his receipt. If the customer wishes, the bank will simply hold the envelope or bag until he calls to make the deposit in the usual way. Frank Daugherty, accountant of the Sidney B of M, will be pleased to supply full details on his burglar-baffle.
