First Recommendation On Water System Would Raise Freeboard on Dam

First of what may be a series of recommendations for Summerland's water storage system was received by municipal council this week from the water rights branch of the provincial government. It concerned Garnet Lake storage dam and in all likelihood recommendations will be carried out this fall. The water committee, headed by Councillor H. R. J. Richards, is being asked to bring in a report.

D. A. McLean, engineer for the water rights branch, investigated all the local water storage sites and is believed to be prepared recommendations. In his first report he complimented Summerland on the "attention, care and planning" which have gone into the water system.

In making his recommendations, Mr. McLean noted three main points in his letter to council. He suggested that all growth, including trees, be removed from the dam site and that the spillway be placed across the entrance to the spillway to stop debris collecting and tampering with the action. Council remarked that a boom had been in existence at one time but had disappeared.

Third point, the main one, concerned the amount of freeboard, which is insufficient according to the government engineer.

The net freeboard available on this dam, estimated by Engineer McLean as 9/10ths of a foot.

He recommends that the concrete core wall be raised one foot, using a watertight joint, also raising the supporting earth fill at least flush with the new crest of the core wall.

This would also include the raising of the inside retaining wall of the spillway and the control tower by the same amount.

Council was pleased with Mr. McLean's closing remarks which were: "Having examined most of your storage works, I would like to congratulate your district and particu-

Mary Peters is Polio Victim

Word has been received by Mrs. E. C. Bingham from Mrs. G. G. Peters, Drumheller, Alberta, that her daughter, Miss Mary Peters, who graduated from UBC this year, contracted polio while working in Calgary as a playground supervisor.

The case has been a severe one and Miss Peters is paralysed from the waist down which will necessitate her going to Edmonton to be hospitalized for special treatment which it has been stated may take a year or two years to give help.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters formerly lived here where they operated the Peter Pan Toggery shop, and their daughter has often visited here during her holidays.

ularly Mr. Kercher (water foreman) for the attention, care and planning that have gone into the development of these works."

Material Used on New Highway is Tested Every 100 feet for Resistance

Assurance that the material being used on the new lakeshore section of Highway 97 from Trout Creek to Pentticon has been tested every 100 feet and that it will withstand the pressure of water through its compression was given the Kiwanis Club of Summerland Monday evening at the Nu-Way Annex by Harvey Wright.

Mr. Wright, who was on the survey of this road as assistant to the government supervisor, made this answer, because of the number of persons who have wondered about the clay which forms the basis of the new roadbed.

These tests, taken every 100 feet, are to determine the resistance to pressure of the material being used once it is pounded into place.

A rock face will be used to offset the action of the waves during storms, he explained.

The new road will not be paved until late next year, Mr. Wright declared as there must be time allowed for the new roadbed to settle into place.

In answer to one query, he replied that Trout Creek bridge is capable of carrying a load of eighty tons.

The new section of highway is being designed so that a vehicle travelling up to 50 miles per hour will not have to be yanked around a curve.

Actually there are no curves but arcs on this modern road construction, and no arc can exceed 10 percent. Slippage Towards Pacific

Mr. Wright helped to survey this new section of the Pentticon-Trout Creek highway 12 years ago and was surprised to find a slippage of four feet existing in that intervening span.

It is believed that this part of the province is slipping toward the Pacific by that much and is thought to be caused by a settling of the earth's crust, he explained.

Still Use Ancient Weapons In his opening remarks, Mr. Wright dealt with engineering instruments, stating that the level and transit are the most important tools today, just as they were in the days of the Romans.

The mortar used in the Pyramids is harder than the basic material used and it still remains a mystery how the mortar was constructed. There is a standing reward of a million dollars to the person who solves the ingredients of this particular mortar, he stated.

In Roman days, canals 900 miles long were constructed and so accurately were the engineers of those days that they could reckon the amount of evaporation along the entire length coupled with the amount of irrigation necessary for the acreage to be served.

"We are still following the Romans with their basic instruments and we know little more about them now than they knew then," he declared.

St. Laurent Not Likely to Visit Here

As far as can be ascertained, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, prime minister of Canada, will not be stopping in Summerland as he tours the Okanagan next week.

Walter Wright, board of trade president, informed The Review yesterday that his attempts to have the distinguished Canadian leader stop here for a visit to the experimental station or the school had not been successful.

Reeve C. E. Bentley replied that the council had not made any attempt to invite him to tarry here for a short time.

According to present schedule, the prime minister will have luncheon in Pentticon, will address an open air meeting in Gyro park and then proceed north by car to Kelowna, where he will spend a short time for a civic reception before continuing on his way to Vernon and finally Sicamous.

He is on a trip west to attend meetings of the Canadian Bar Assn. and is taking this opportunity to visit various parts of the interior. Both Kelowna and Pentticon are keeping the receptions on a civic level and are keeping politics out of the visit altogether, it is stated.

His visit to Cranbrook and Kimberley has been cancelled because of the polio epidemic there.

Wild Flowers Scarce On Snow Mountain

A recent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wright was Mr. Robert Ahrens, a civil engineer in the forestry service.

Mr. Ahrens is reassessing all the park lands of British Columbia in the light of their present and potential value from the standpoint of minerals, timber, and grazing, as well as scenic value and accessibility to the public.

Mr. Ahrens remarked on the scarcity of wild flowers on Brent (Snow) Mountain this year as compared with the wealth of bloom which he found on Apex and the Three Brothers Mountains.

C.A.R.S. Over Top With $700

Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, who headed the recently-conducted Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society drive in Summerland on behalf of the sponsoring body, Faith Rebekah Lodge, reported this week that the campaign has been concluded with a total of $714.41 subscribed.

This is $150 more than last year's subscriptions and placed a happy note on the conclusion of a successful campaign. The total last year was $566.

In canvassing the entire Summerland district, Rebekahs were assisted by the Rotary Club of Summerland, who undertook several areas.

Summerland and Naramata Exhibitors Sweep Valley Flower Show at Kelowna

Summerland and Naramata gardeners captured the major awards at the second annual Okanagan Valley Horticultural Society flower show held in Kelowna on Saturday, August 23.

With a record entry list of 418 exhibits, the show was one of the most outstanding ever held in the interior. Total of 92 exhibitors competed in the 64 classes for nine challenge cups. Judges were H. H. Evans, retired district horticulturist from Vernon; Nat May, head gardener at the Summerland Experimental Station; I. C. Carne, district horticulturist at Salmon Arm, and Don Allan, of Pentticon.

Mrs. J. J. Ladd, wife of Kelowna's chief magistrate, presented the trophies Saturday afternoon.

Trophy winners were: Federal Department of Agriculture, Summerland, W. G. Snow, Summerland.

Occidental Fruit Co. Ltd., K. McKay, Naramata.

Kelowna Horticultural Society Cup, R. M. White, Summerland.

Summerland Horticultural Society Cup, W. G. Snow, Summerland.

Vernon Horticultural Society Cup, E. H. Bennett, Summerland.

OKOV Challenge Cup, E. H. Bennett, Summerland.

Morris Middleton Memorial Trophy, K. McKay, Naramata.

Pentticon and District Horticultural Society Cup, awarded to exhibitor winning most seconds in the show, K. McKay, Naramata.

Beautiful Display

While not in competition, most attractive was a beautiful "Welcome Visitors" exhibit of colorful dahlias and gladioli. Mounted on a background of black, the contrasting white, red and yellow blooms were spread out approximately nine feet long and six feet wide. The display was created by Mrs. A. Doeksen and son, Gerald Doeksen, who came to Canada from Holland three years ago.

Lovely Blooms In Local Show

One hundred and seventy beautiful exhibits of flowers from local gardens were seen by a large group of residents at the high school auditorium yesterday afternoon and evening, the quality of blooms being considered excellent.

K. McKay of Naramata, a member of the Summerland Horticultural Society for many years, was top winner of first prizes with W. G. (Bill) Snow of Summerland being close behind with the number of blue tickets won.

McKay took the C. Napier Higgin, W. H. Malkin and P. E. Knowles cups. R. M. White was awarded the Noca cup and Mr. Snow won the J. W. Jones cup.

Grand champion gladioli spike "Spic An' Span" was grown by Lee McLaughlin. E. H. Bennett was first in the open competition for glads of fifteen named varieties.

Full details of the local flower show will be given next week.

ANOTHER DUTCH FAMILY COMES HERE TO LIVE

The latest addition to the group of Dutch people who have come to settle in Summerland are Mr. and Mrs. C. Schouts and their little daughter Jean, who came here from Langley Prairie a short time ago, and are living in the suite in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Graham at the top of Peach Orchard Hill. Mr. Schouts is employed at the experimental station.

Apple Crop Estimated at 610,000 Boxes; Pears, Peaches Give Big Yield

Summerland growers are harvesting a bumper crop of peaches, pears, prunes and apples this week, as tree fruits fast approach picking maturity.

Last week, cannery price for peaches was set at $82.50, a drop of $17.50 over last year, but considered generally as a fair price in consideration of the big crop to be harvested, the carryover of cannery peaches in the canneries and competition from Washington points.

It is now considered that the B.C. apple crop will run almost two million boxes greater than last year, being 7,050,685 boxes estimated against 5,100,373 actual shipments in 1951.

According to latest estimates released by the department of agriculture, peaches will run to more than a million and a half boxes, about the second biggest crop in the province's history.

One of the biggest apricot crops in history has been harvested and has been distributed to the trade, including a special deal for 750 tons of apricots which go to a food puree source.

Summerland area is taking a special place in the Okanagan fruit deal this season.

The apple crop is expected to be one of the largest on record, estimated at 610,000 boxes. With this crop, Summerland is the fifth largest producing area in the province, being almost up to Oyama, Winfield and Okanagan Centre.

Pentticon leads the way in pear production this year with 125,000 boxes, being closely followed by Summerland's 115,000 boxes. Oliver is third with 100,000 and Kelowna fourth with 80,000.

Oliver-Osoyoos peach production is away out in front in the valley with 650,000 crates estimated. Again Summerland is in second place with 300,000 followed by Pentticon's 280,000.

In prunes, Summerland expects to have an 85,000 box crop. Oliver-Osoyoos will have 180,000 and Kelowna 170,000. Summerland, therefore, is in third spot.

MILLION MORE MCINTOSH
Apple production shows Kelowna out in front with over three million boxes, half of which will probably be McIntosh. In fact, this variety is expected to exceed last year's production in the Okanagan by a cool million boxes.

By variety, Okanagan apple production follows:
Duchess, 38,825; Wealthy, 152,910; McIntosh, 2,894,700; Jonathan, 369,100; Rome Beauty, 249,200; Delicious, 1,253,100; Newtown, 268,250; Stayman, 101,650; Winesap, 761,100; others 176,700.

The horticultural news letter, issued on August 19 for Summerland, Peachland, Westbank district, reported that the apricot crop was one of the latest to mature, besides being one of the largest.

Rochester peach picking peaked last week with V peaches being picked in volume this week, along with volume picking of Bartlett pears.

Size of this crop is not good and with stiffer minimum size requirements in force, cullage may be heavy," the report warns. "Accordingly, estimates have been cut."

Picking of Transcendent crabapples has commenced, while hot weather slowed the sizing of McIntosh, which are now starting to color. The report believes the Mao crop should be equal to that of the heavy crop of 1950 in the west-side district.

"A heavy Newtown crop is also possible, but whether it will materialize depends on the rate of sizing in the next six weeks.

"Pest activity is quite high, the hot weather having encouraged development of mites, woolly aphis and codling moth. Second brood stings are showing up, but the chief problem is the woolly aphis which have developed on most apple varieties. Rust mite and slugs are plentiful on cherries. The rust mites have also been responsible for silvery leaves on peaches."

May Extend Standards on Granville St.

Although there was no further explanation, it was mentioned at Tuesday's council session that the new municipal hall "must be opened December 12."

Why this particular date has been chosen as the target was not given further elucidation, but council is making extensive plans for its new office building.

Construction work has progressed favorably and an inspecting engineer from the architectural firm of McCarter, Nairne & Partners who visited here last weekend was pleased with the work done so far, Reeve C. E. Bentley reported to council on Tuesday.

Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber was instructed to prepare plans and costs of an extension of the street standard lighting system on Granville street.

Council is not committed to any definite expenditure, but there is a possibility that the standards may be extended the entire length of the street.

At least two or three standards will be installed this fall to provide street lighting for the new municipal office and the sidewalk opposite it is considered.

Councillor F. E. Atkinson pointed out that the school section of Granville street is quite dark and proves inconvenient at times when people are using the new auditorium for night functions.

The new parking area opposite the park entrance has received many words of praise locally, councillors stated.

Councillor F. M. Stewart, who heads the roads committee, said that this brightening of the appearance of that section of the business district, plus the extra parking space provided, has received favorable comment on many sides.

"We're really getting dressed up now," one old-time resident of Summerland remarked to Councillor Stewart recently.

Bryan Cooney Takes Sands' FFWU Post

Bryan Cooney of Okanagan Centre has been appointed the director of organization for the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions (TLC) replacing William H. Sands who was recently appointed the new deputy minister of labor for British Columbia.

Difficulties Arise At The Review

For the past two weeks The Review has been experiencing difficulty in its back shop, through a breakdown of its Linotype.

Only through the kind co-operation of Mr. Grev Rowland and the staff of the Pentticon Herald who have produced a great deal of the copy in this and last week's issue; and through the kindness of the Orchard City Press who made available its Linotype for The Review compositor, was it possible to produce these two issues.

The Review management and staff are grateful to those loyal friends who have been so helpful in this emergency.

Time for Added Caution

From time to time this summer we have re-produced on this page a series of safety hints for motorists originally entitled "Checked Your Driving Manners Lately?"

In this manner we have endeavored to bring home to drivers of all classes of vehicles that they should be careful when behind the wheel and use ordinary common sense and behavior, to save themselves embarrassment and loss and protect not only their own lives but those of other persons who might become involved because of their disobedience of traffic laws.

These warnings are more important from next week onward than at any previous time. Starting next week, the fall school term commences and as the Summerland Board of Trade traffic safety committee points out in our advertising columns, 750 children will be trooping back to school.

For the most part, these youngsters have been scattered to various parts of the community and away from the main thoroughfares. But next week they will be concentrated on all roads leading to the centre of the business district and their halls of learning.

They provide an added risk to motorists as they move towards their schools next week. For the most part, they are not as keenly aware as adults of the dangers which can beset them on the highways. They are apt to play along the road to school and dart out into the traffic stream to retrieve a stray ball, or chase another youngster across the road.

We urge the motorist, therefore, to realize his responsibility toward the rest of the public a little more keenly from next week onward and to make certain that he doesn't endanger the life of a youngster so dear to his family and friends.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

The other night we were invited to a friend's home to hear a pianist. Now I usually picture a pianist as a skinny individual with a haunted, hungry look, long hair affected manners, and a habit of waving his arms and body in all directions while pounding out high-brow music that to my untutored ear hasn't a tune in a ton of it.

So it was a surprise to meet a big, comfortably-upholstered middle-aged man with neatly-cut greying hair, and the general appearance of a prosperous business man. He chatted pleasantly, cracked jokes, smoked a pipe—surely this couldn't be a musician. He seemed as unlike it as the exhausted miner whom Robert Service described in his famous poem, although you'd never think of this hearty man as having "a foot in the grave with scarcely the strength of a louse."

When he deliberately settled himself comfortably on the piano bench pipe still in mouth, I was still in doubt. Then his powerful hands touched the keys and I thought of another line from that poem of Service's: "My God, but that man could play."

Somebody started him off with "The Bells of St. Mary's" and the way he brought out that and other familiar old melodies brought to my mind the old-fashioned singsongs where everybody gathered round the piano and enjoyed themselves singing together. Girls singing out as if they didn't know the young men were watching them, the latter doing their husky best, maybe one' chap squeezing in his chin and swelling out the veins on his forehead trying to sing bass, maybe one girl with a soaring clear soprano.

Then the pianist swung into a march that started with ringing trumpet-calls—the piano produced them vividly too under those sure strong fingers—went on to the rattle and boom of the drums, then the sweet blare of the brasses taking up the melody. You could see the whole band as he played, stepping along pretty lively, too. Were there soldiers marching along behind them, uniformed and brisk? Back in 1914, perhaps, before wars had lost their romantic appeal, with women and old men and children thronging the sidewalks to see the boys go by.

Dance music; not be-bop, or dreamy stuff, but polkas, schottisches, and squares, played with a zip and zest that made your toes tingle; you could fairly see the couples or the eights whirling down the polished floor, sweating to keep up to the music. Then, for a change, a waltz; and the plaid shirts and blue jeans gave place to long flowing dresses in pastel colors and men in the gay uniforms of long ago.

For the waltz was from the "Merry Widow" and as he went on to other light opera pieces, I was back in Stanley Park's Theatre Under the Stars with the play unfolding in color and song on the stage, and wild ducks flying across the night sky overhead. When he changed to Gilbert & Sullivan airs, it conjured up a stage in Summerland, with our own Singers' & Players' delighting their audience from it.

Most of his music was lively; there was a tinkling tune that sounded for all the world like a waterfall, a gay gavotte—whatever that is—a delightful "Persian Lamb Rag." But there were slower, quieter pieces too, and classical music by the masters, but of a selection that even I could enjoy. Practically any request was promptly complied with; and all of it without music, without mannerisms or gestures; his body hardly moved, but how those fingers flew!

I've never heard a more varied or delightful concert; that music gave me a lift that will live my life for days. No concert by a career musician that I can remember gave me as much pleasure; and believe me, if I get another invitation to hear him, there will be no hesitation. Maybe I'd better start hinting for that invitation now.

Rotarians Hear About Mexico

Summerland Rotarians not only heard a graphic description of their 1952 international convention but also of the host city, Mexico City, oldest on the continent, from one of the B.C. delegates, R. P. (Tiny) Walrod of Kelowna, when he met at the Nu-Way Annex on Friday evening, August 15.

Ray Corner, another Kelowna Rotarian, who was Summerland's official representative at the international gathering, was also present and presented each Rotarian with a souvenir silver cocktail fork.

Herb Capozzi, one of four speakers heard at Mexico City, "had them all beaten", in Mr. Walrod's opinion. Capozzi was awarded a Rotary Foundation fellowship and studied in Italy.

Welcomed somewhat ceremoniously, the Kelowna Rotarians had the service of a maid, car and driver while at the convention.

They found Mexicans artistic and music-loving, and were particularly friendly to Canadians. According to Mr. Walrod's observation, the male dominates in Mexico and women "do what they are told".

After domination by the church and the rich class, in the past thirty years a middle class has been springing up in Mexico and is rapidly changing the country. As the president must be changed every six years, there is little opportunity for a dictator to dominate.

"There is evidence of good government," Mr. Walrod declared, sayin that the government has done a lot of work in the past six years especially. Homes in Mexico he described as something out of a technicolor ex-

PIONEER DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO September 1, 1922

Discovery of codling moth last fall at the experimental station had the effect of creating a near panic among the growers. Following discovery a quarantine area was established and every tree within that area was banded and carefully inspected. Up to the present but one single worm has been found, and it is now believed that the moths found at "The Farm" last fall were a few of the late brood which had escaped from freight cars on the railway siding there. There is every reason to believe that danger from this infection will be entirely removed.

Duck shooting opens on Sept. 2 to last until Dec. 17 inclusive. Daily bag limit is 20, total 150. Representing the Summerland Lawn Tennis Club, P. G. Dodwell and A. C. Turner will participate in a men's doubles' competition for the Birks' Cup at Salmon Arm on Labor Day.

About thirty people gathered at the home of John Denike, Prairie Valley, on Wednesday, for a surprise party before he leaves shortly for Normal School.

W. C. W. Fosbery is recovering from an operation for appendicitis and has returned home.

Ned Sawyer is being welcomed back, having been away for some years. He has T. B. Stobart with him. Both are wireless operators and are looking into the prospects for radio work in this valley. It may be that they will establish a broadcasting station at Summerland.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

at Canyon Creek to see what work is necessary on the dam. The outlet pipe on the down stream is to be extended and the whole is in encouraging condition so that repairs should not take more than two or three weeks and will be started at once as the material has been sent up.

Mr. S. A. Liddell, who has just come in from his work as forest ranger, reports that the hills have been particularly fine this year with their show of flowers. He has corrected the elevation for Snow Mountain and it has been officially set at 7,227 feet, and is known in government circles as Brent's Mountain.

An oil stove blaze did quite a bit of damage at the home of Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Reed who exchanged houses with Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Dickie, who were entertaining when the fire occurred. Most of the damage is in the kitchen where the fire started.

Princeton is On Verge of Great Development if Drilling Now Underway Proves Commercial

At Princeton, drilling for bentonite in a series of test holes is being carried out with the entire Similkameen district literally holding its breath to learn whether there is sufficient quantity of the yellow clay to offer the opportunity for a full-scale mining development.

If tests show favorably, then the entire future of Princeton and district may be changed. Results so far are promising.

Drilling is being carried out across the Similkameen River from Princeton, the first hole being drilled just across the railway tracks from the Granby power plant. Great Future in Prospect.

Light declared in a recent series of articles on the prospective development, Princeton Properties, who own the property, is prepared to proceed with mining and with the installation of a drying and crushing plant, possible forerunner of other processing plants.

The company representative in charge of the drilling infers that if the production is economic at all it will be on a large scale and could easily become one of the more important mines of the province.

Uses for the chalky material are manifold. It is an essential part of such everyday household products as the detergent soaps used by every housewife. One corporation in the US uses 8,000 tons a week in the preparation of filters for industry. The pulp and paper industry uses vast quantities.

Dr. Ernst Hauser, chemistry expert who is advisor to Princeton Properties, has stated that bentonite, teamed with the new synthetic resins, could be the basis for a tremendous plastic industry.

Altogether, an estimated 200 patents have been filed for use of bentonite in industry.

One of the oddities of the present drilling operation is the fact that it couldn't be carried out successfully if it weren't for the very product the drill is searching out. Bentonite is used in drilling—for oil wells as well as mines—as a lubricant for the drill and to seal up cracks in the walls of the drill hole.

Says The Spotlight: "It will be irony of a sort if bentonite, a plague because of its swelling property when in contact with water, to the coalminers who gave the town its birth and first growth, should turn out to be the 'ugly duckling' which ensures the future expansion of this 50-year-old village."

Life as Red China Prisoner Related Here by Dr. Allan

Life in a Communistic regime in China was enfolded in graphic style last week at St. Andrew's United church to a good-sized audience by Dr. Stewart Allan, a medical missionary who was imprisoned for a year by the Chinese Reds.

Dr. Allan has addressed numerous gatherings in the Okanagan plus meetings at the Christian Leadership Training school at Naramata.

He praised the numerous medical missionaries who remained in China despite the difficulties and related how, while investigating medical relief in China in 1946 he was assured by leading Communists that they would be welcomed.

Allan Falsely Accused
But the assurance was short-lived and finally he was accused by nursing students and a few people in the labor union of spying. He knelt for four hours while accusations and innocuous statements were hurled at him.

He realized the situation was serious when his accusers said he had been helping their No. 1 enemy, the American government; making statements against the Communists, and attempted murder. He was then placed in solitary confinement.

"Here in Canada you are protected by law and are innocent until proved guilty. Under Communism you plead your case yourself, that is, prove your innocence or confess your guilt," he said.

When the original charges fell through, the Communists were obliged to find something factual to charge against Dr. Allan. They waited until they could put him in a difficult position and falsely discredit him.

Dr. Allan told of the great spiritual experiences gained while confined. Another mission member told him: "If this experience doesn't last too long, I can be grateful; it has

Dr. Endicott Never In Korea Claims Dr. Stewart Allan

Speaking at Naramata and Kelowna in his current talking tour, Dr. Stewart Allan, medical missionary, talked of Dr. Endicott and his charges that the United Nations have used germ warfare in the Orient.

Dr. Allan accused Dr. Endicott of having a "short memory" and claimed that he could give half a dozen instances where "Dr. Endicott gave only part of the story."

Dr. Endicott has charged the UN specifically with using germ warfare in Korea, yet he has also said that he was never in Korea and that his charges come from China and Manchuria, the speaker pointed out.

In answer to a query why Dr. Endicott is not silenced by the government and the church, Dr. Allan replied: "He is playing for publicity and it may be wise to ignore him entirely until he makes a statement and can be prosecuted to its completion."

"At present, such action would mean bringing in people unnamed who have important evidence needed by the government in much more serious problems," Dr. Allan explained.

brought me a sense of realization of some passages of scripture which previously I had not understood."

He further added: "I have a new understanding of the Presence of God. He is always here and I have gained a new sense of the meaning of the Cross."

The United Church mission member who made these statements is still in prison, said Dr. Allan.

He explained how a fellow missionary had passed pamphlets and a testament to him and how in turn he had written 50 pages out in full as he didn't wish to deprive the other man of such reading.

"The communists saw him writing and demanded the material Dr. Allan saw an opportunity here so wrote some more, only this time he wrote on such things as God, love your enemies, the golden rule, and belief in miracles. Again the communists demanded the material. They had to read it."

"They had to read what I had written and translate it into Chinese," said Dr. Allan somewhat triumphantly, "whether they liked it or not."

Dr. Allan recounted how the Communists had been considerate and honest at first. How they had instituted marriage laws, provided relief from inflation, and made many other material improvements. At first it appeared that there would be freedom of religion, freedom to worship as you pleased, but this mirage soon vanished. All too soon one supreme, dictatorial, infallible authority reared its ugly head.

"We were gradually hedged in by restrictions, and other problems arose," said Dr. Allan.

"Women, trained as communists, told school children there was no God. Religious teaching of any kind was not allowed, only Communistic ideology was taught," said the United Church missionary.

"The government demanded, above all else, that the Christian's first duty was to them and that persecution would follow . . . and many were persecuted."

In April, 1951, church leaders were taken to Peiping and told that the Christian manifesto was wrong, that Christianity was related to materialism. Soon it became all too plain that missionaries would have to leave.

"The church is now under full control of the government," said Dr. Allan.

"We went to China sixty years ago to found a great and growing church," said Dr. Allan, "and we

RECIPE HINTS

This family favorite, Baked Chicken, has a crisp coating of corn flakes. To get that lovely golden brown color, cook the chicken in a hot oven until brown, then reduce the heat to finish cooking.

Who could resist a meal of baked chicken, corn on the cob, green beans, and parsley potatoes? Chicken, done just to a turn, golden brown in color, and delicately flavored, is a special treat when it has a crisp coating, and here's how it's done.

Take 3 cups corn flakes and crush them into fine crumbs. Roll the chicken — after it has been slightly oiled and seasoned — in the corn flakes crumbs and bake about 45 minutes. Be sure to serve it hot. It has a subtly different flavor that will add to your reputation as a good cook.

CRISP BAKED CHICKEN
Two and a half to three lbs. chicken, 3 tbsps. salad oil, 2 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, 3 cups corn flakes.

Clean and cut chicken into serving pieces. Rub with 1 tbsps. salad oil, salt and pepper. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Roll chicken in crumbs until well coated. Put chicken in greased shallow baking pan and sprinkle with remaining oil. Bake in very hot oven (500 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes or until browned; reduce heat to (325 degrees F.) and bake chicken 30 minutes longer or until tender. Serve at once. Yield 4 to 6 servings.

PRINCETON

Has its Own Peculiarities

Princeton bentonite is in a class by itself because of its own peculiar properties, Dr. Ernst Hauser states. He is professor in colloidal chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

It is composed of much finer particles than the Wyoming bentonite which constitutes a large proportion of American production.

Visiting Princeton recently, Dr. Hauser displayed samples of newsprint 60 percent Princeton bentonite. Use of the clay reduces cost of newsprint, but manufacturers in the USA can only use half that amount of bentonite.

Another process bentonite can be used for in the hard surfacing of roads. He worked out a treatment which provides a tougher, better traction road and is cheaper.

Dr. Hauser's description of this development highlighted a recent American highway association meeting in Berkeley, California.

"With the certain knowledge of half a dozen things that can be done with the local bentonite, and dozens more ideas yet to be explored, Dr. Hauser was enthusiastic over the possibilities of industrial expansion which could follow mining and development of the seam here," states the Princeton paper.

"All the materials are here to form the basis of a plastic industry, if the huge coal resources were have done it, and left behind people who will keep the faith."

Out To Win World
Dr. Allan's story of communism in China, the revolution, the Young Communist League, and frightful persecution made his listeners painfully aware of the diabolical threat that faces people everywhere.

"It is not nearly so far away as you may think," he warned.

"Communists are 100 percent certain of the path they are treading; 100 percent certain that they are going to take over control of the world."

Many times Dr. Allan heard Communist guards say "we're out to win the world. One even told him: "Why go home to Canada, it will only be a few months, a few years at the most, before your Canada too will be liberated from capitalistic chains"

Dr. Allan admitted that Communism had made many improvements in China and Russia, "but done nothing that has not or cannot be done here."

In closing, Dr. Allan said the big question each person should ask himself or herself is: What is Communism? The answer: "It excludes God, there is no soul, no future life. It doesn't believe in religion."

The United Church spokesman concluded by making an impassioned plea: "If we are Christians and believe in religion, we must tackle this problem. We can only give the church in China our prayers. Let us put into practice the Christianity we believe in, give our church full support, here in Canada and in the rest of the world."

"Unless we do," said Dr. Allan solemnly, "the flood will pass over to other countries."

"It will be a long task, not three years, or five, or ten; it will call for all the energies we can put into it . . . if we are going to maintain our freedom of religion, and our Christianity."

Pioneer of This District Passes Away

One of Summerland's old-timers died in Summerland General Hospital on Friday morning, August 22 when death came to William Frank (Freddie) Brind, who was seventy-two on August 3.

The late Mr. Brind who was born at Aldbourne, Wiltshire, England, in 1880, came to Manitoba in 1903, moving to Summerland three years later in 1906, in the early days of the district. He was a bachelor.

He engaged in farming most of his life. While in Manitoba he joined the 2nd Dragoons, and in 1915 served in France, Belgium, and Germany, with the 11th CMR's.

When he returned to Summerland after the war he bought a cattle ranch in Meadow Valley which he operated until 1940.

He bought the Barclay cattle brand from J. M. Robinson and used it for his stock in Meadow Valley. Geo. E. Barclay started the first ranch in this district. Mr. Brind held the first mail route contract from Balcom post-office, which was situated in Prairie Valley, to Summerland.

He was rather a quiet man, genial, and a good friend. He was a member of the Lawn Bowling Club and of the Golf Club.

He attempted to join the army in World War 2, but was rejected. Following the sale of his ranch he bought a place on Hospital Hill where he had a three-quarter acre fruit lot. Just prior to his death he had been doing janitor duties at the Summerland Hospital while the regular janitor, Mr. J. S. Mott was on holidays.

Funeral service was held on Monday afternoon from St. Stephen's church with Canon F. V. Harrison officiating. Interment was in the Anglican cemetery, Giant's Head Road with IOOF lodge members participating.

The pall bearers were Mr. H. Tomlin, F. Carey, A. McCargar, J. L. Brown, Ben Newton, and A. Fenwick.

Mr. Brind's brother and sister-in-law and their son, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brind and Mr. Tom Brind of Chilliwack who came here on their way to Alberta and finding Mr. Brind ill stayed over and are still here.

Other relatives who came for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brind's daughters, Mrs. H. D. McKenzie, Mrs. F. Ingram and her

End of Summer

When pansies, blossoming past their prime,
Grow small and smaller all the time;
And smoke from forest fires at noon
Can make the sun appear the moon;
When apple seeds, all white before,
Begin to darken in the core,
I know that summer, scarcely here,
Is gone until another year.

Agricultural Softball Loop Has Four Teams

The Entomology Bugs have made it three straight in the newly-formed softball league which is creating a lot of fun and plenty of discussion at Trout Creek Point these days.

Four teams, two from the experimental farms service and two from science service make up the loop, which is strictly for the federal department of agriculture employees. The Hort Lab Combines and the Farm Gang, from the experimental farms service while the Entomology Bugs and the Pathology Pests are from science service.

In the first two games played, the Hort Lab Combines built up a fat 18-8 lead only to see it whittled away in the last two frames, the Bugs taking a 19-18 decision. Frank Saemungal drove in the winning run off Dave Stevenson who hurled all the way. Pitchers for the winners were Dave Waddell and Don Chant.

The Bugs then took on the Farm Gang and smothered them 37-7. Ken Williams not only pulled off a sensational catch in centrefield but banged out the only homer. Dave Waddell, Don Chant and Cec Morgan shared mound duties for the winners with Art Simpson and Gavin Patterson being the luckless Gang hurlers.

Hort Lab Combines lost again to the Bugs on August 18 by a 24-11 count, being shut out in the last four frames. Waddell went all the way in this game while Stevenson and Porritt were the Combines' hurlers. Norm Anderson was leading hitter with five safeties in six trips, while John Ruck starred for the losers with four for five. Players on these teams include: Bugs: Anderson 1b, If, Halvorson 2b, Chant ss, Proverbs 3b, Downing

Peach Festival To Show Profit

Penticton and District's fifth annual Peach Festival has been a financial success.

This is the statement of 1952 President Herb Geddes but the amount of the financial gain has not been made known.

Never before has the Peach Festival been able to show a profit but this year seems to have been the turning point.

Ten thousand persons paid admission to the Rotary's agricultural and industrial show at the arena, an affair similar to that operated for some years here by the Summerland Board of Trade.

ONE DISASTROUS INNING

Manager Edwards Poles Out Two-Run Single to Beat Macs in Playoffs

Manager Les Edwards, one of the cagiest old ball players in the interior, deliberately put himself into the pinch-hitter's spot at King's park in Penticton last Sunday with the bases loaded, proceeded to punch a well-placed clout into short right field to score two runs and pave the way for Penticton Athletics' 5-1 victory over Summerland Macs.

It all happened in one disastrous seventh inning which broke Summerland's heart and also broke up an otherwise tight ball game.

Gil Jacobs pitched masterful ball throughout the rest of the game but weakened enough in that one half inning to lose the sudden-death contest which decided the team to enter the Okanagan-Mainline league final playoffs.

In the other sudden-death contest, Oliver trounced Kamloops 6-0 to be the team to play Penticton in the best of three final series.

Until the disastrous seventh, Frank Metcalf's circuit clout in the fourth frame, which gave the Macs a 1-0 edge, loomed as big as a house and the most optimistic considered it might be possible to make that lone counter stand up for the rest of the game.

The two teams played almost equal baseball except for that one frame. There were the same number of men left on bases, Bowsfield struck out 12 to Jacobs eight, Athletics got five hits to Macs' four, but made three errors to Macs' two. None of the errors accounted for runs.

It was in the base on balls department and the ability to push across the runs when the chips were down that meant the difference between the two teams.

Ted Bowsfield, the 17-year-old sensation of the Penticton Athletics, was full value for his win and had better control than in many other contests played this season. He only walked two, while Jacobs gave up six passes to first.

Jacobs got wonderful support from his fellow Macs. Although they both made an error apiece, Sandy Jomori and Chuck Aikin played some of the best ball of the season and presented an almost airtight defense.

Out in left field, the Mighty Midget, Babe Kuroda, pulled off a sensational catch of a difficult foul ball at one crucial point and saved Jacobs when he started to weaken in the sixth frame.

Metcalf was the offensive hero of the game, being the only player to grab off two hits, one of them being his circuit clout in the fourth which lit deep into right field and bounced over the fence. It was a good, clean hit.

Kincaid's Bad Call
Things looked mighty serious for the Macs in the third frame when the bases were loaded mainly through a flagrantly bad call by Umpire Kincaid at third base.

There was one away when Bowsfield got a life on Sandy Jomori's boot of a rounder. Collins singled and Bowsfield tried to stretch it to third. The relay was in plenty of time but Kincaid ruled the runner safe and the official Penticton scorekeeper debited Aikin with an error, for some mysterious reason.

Snyder was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases and the situation was tense, indeed. Kilburn relieved the visiting fans' feelings when he socked one down the third base line to Aikin who threw Bowsfield out at home and scuttled back to third to complete the double play.

In the sixth, Snyder made things look black when he singled to left as the first man up. He never got past first, however, when Kilburn's long foul was snared by Kuroda. Rucks hauled down Drossos' high one and Warwick struck out.

Then came the seventh. With one away Russell drew a walk, Powell singled to left field and Bowsfield walked to fill the bases, Jacobs just couldn't find the plate.

Adanacs Win From Macs In Five Frames

In a five-inning exhibition ball tilt at Living Memorial athletic park last Thursday night, Rutland Adanacs eked out a narrow 6-5 victory over Summerland Macs. Cristante gave up four runs in the first three innings, while Rucks allowed in single runs in the fourth and fifth when he went in as relief hurler. He went in as relief hurler.

Mits Koga was the winning Adanacs hurler, but the Macs got to him for five runs in the third.

Naito socked a homer in the fifth to give the visitors their victory.

Among the happy hockey greats who learned they have been chosen to the International Hall of Fame at Kingston, was 'BILL' COOK, above. Bill is the only one of the latest 'Famers' still active in the game. He is coach of the New York Rangers, the team with which he reaped his greatest success.

Macs Meet Seattle

Summerland Macs play Seattle Eagles at 1 o'clock in the Labor Day ball tournament sponsored by the Oliver ball club. In the first game to be played at Oliver on Sunday afternoon, the cantaloupers meet Tonasket. Finals will be played late Monday afternoon at Oliver.

As the crowd went wild, Manager Les Edwards replaced Collins and proceeded to pound out a sharp single to right to score Russell and Powell.

Again the bases were loaded when Snyder walked but still Jacobs was not relieved. Kilburn struck out but Sambo Drossos poled one to deep centre to clear the bases before him. He was caught trying to stretch his double into a triple and that ended the rally.

Metcalf nearly started a rally in the ninth when he singled but Kato went down on an infield play and Jomori's sharp clout was hauled down by Bowsfield to end the contest.

Although they were beaten, the Macs showed a terrific fighting spirit and the Athletics certainly knew they were in a real ball game.

Red Sox Drop First Playoff Tilt to Penticton 11 to 3

Maybe it was disappointment at the lack of local support in the face of the bigger drawing card of the senior league playoffs, but Summerland Red Sox went down to bitter defeat on Sunday at the hands of the Penticton diamonders in the first of the South Okanagan junior league semi-finals playoffs.

Red Sox were defeated roundly by an 11-3 count, with Penticton taking the initiative from the start and never losing control.

Desilets was starting hurler, but was relieved by Cristante in the fourth. Marchuk handled the seventh and finally Thompson took over in the eighth.

Baker was the offensive hero of the Penticton win, batting three for five including a homer off Cristante in the seventh. Bonthoux was the only Summerland boy who found Jordan's offerings to his liking, getting two singles, for three trips.

Penticton went into the lead in the opening frame when Moog singled Drossos across for the first score. Baker singled Drossos and Burgart across in the third and scored himself on Garnett's clout to right field to give Penticton a 4-1 lead.

Off Cristante, who relieved Desilets, gave up three more in the fifth when Tomlin scored on an error. Baker brought Moog across and scored on Garnett's grounder.

Cristante weakened again in the seventh and Marchuk was eventually brought in to strike out Drossos and put out the fire after three runs had scored. He accounted for another run in the eighth before Thompson came in to finish the one-sided contest.

It wasn't until the eighth that the Red Sox started to find Jordan. Siegrist opened with a triple to left of centre and Bonthoux singled him across for the first Red Sox score. Bill Eyre opened the last ditch stand with another triple scoring on an error. Hooker walked and got to third where he scored on another Penticton miscue for the final tally of the game.

These two teams come together for the second in the best of three series at Penticton next Sunday.

Cranbrook Elated By Band's Success.

Elated by their second straight success in two years in winning first place amongst bands at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, L. G. Truscott, of the Cranbrook Girls' Band wired the Summerland Board of Trade last Thursday as follows:

"Cranbrook Girls' Band won first prize. Appreciate your kind gesture."

Mr. Truscott referred to the gift of peaches and apricots handed the 41 girls and their escorts by Summerland Board of Trade officials when the band was going through Summerland en route to the coast.

Interior Championship Trap Shoot Here on Labour Day

Trap shooters from all parts of the interior and possibly from Vancouver and other coast points are headed for Summerland this weekend to participate in the annual Interior Championships which are being sponsored in 1952 by the energetic Summerland Trap Club.

Lumby, Vernon, Kelowna and Summerland teams will definitely be entered, while many other individual trap shooters will congregate for the lengthy program which has been decided upon.

Event No. 1 is the main 100-bird shoot from the 16-yard target. Class A shooters will compete for the Pollock trophy donated by Frank Pollock, formerly of Summerland and now Kelowna. Class B trophy is the Vernon Trap club cup while the Bennett trophy, donated by Pat Bennett of Kelowna is for winner of Class C event.

There is also a prize for the long string in the first four events.

Event No. 2 is the team shoot, with the Interior Trophy cup and five prizes to the best five-man team representing a club.

Event No. 3 is the junior singles for boys or girls 18 years and under, 25 birds to be shot.

Event No. 4 is a new one and has the handsome new trophy, known as the Wm. Nelson Memorial trophy, as the prize. It was donated this year by the Summerland Trap club in memory of their most energetic member, the late Bill Nelson who was known for his enthusiasm for trap shooting for nearly forty years in Summerland.

This will be a 25-bird handicap event, handicaps being taken from the results of the 100-bird shoot earlier, and known ability.

Doubles shoot is No. 5 event, with the Summerland Trap club trophy as first prize.

There will also be prizes for ladies' singles, 25 birds to be shot.

Final event is the Miss and Out with purse determined by the sizes of the entry. Only one "buy-in" is allowed.

As the grand aggregate prize, the all-round champion receives the Finning Tractor Co. trophy, based on the aggregate of the 100-bird event and doubles, while handicap is also estimated in the award achievement.

There is also a special prize offered for shooters who came here for the competition from "out-of-the-valley" points.

It is hardly likely that Summerland Club President G. A. Laidlaw will be present for this big event, as he is unfortunately a hospital patient this week.

W. A. Laidlaw is secretary of the local club and executive members are Dr. L. A. Day, George Pennington, Channon Snow, A. R. (Sandy) Munn, Tom Nelson, Ken Blagborne and C. H. Elsey.

Successful Swim Class Tests Given

Some of the more accomplished members of the annual free swim classes conducted by the Rotary Club of Summerland at Powell Beach this year passed their instructional tests last Friday evening before Dick Mitchell, provincial director of the Red Cross swim and water safety group.

John Adams was the only senior contestant and he was awarded his Red Cross proficiency certificate.

Intermediate swimmers who qualified were Barbara Fudge, Jan Creighton and Ken Pennington.

There was a larger group of junior swimmers, those passing being Lynn Bleasdale, Lynne Boothe, D. McArthur, Gerry Polesello, Richard Milne, Kenneth and Reggie Beck, George Guernsey, Mayne Moutoheon and Diane Rumball.

These final tests were held last Friday evening as it was the only time Instructor Mitchell could be here. Otherwise, if he could have attended the regular classes on Wednesday a larger group could have been tested.

Final swim class was held yesterday afternoon at Powell Beach with the youngsters being treated to hot dogs by the Rotary club, carrying on the tradition of the Summerland Board of Trade which had operated the classes up to this year.

Miss Ruth Klitz, who has been in charge of the classes under the guidance of John Kitson, states that registration hit a new high this year of some 250 youngsters.

Interest was keen and the quality of swimming undertaken by the youngsters at the completion of the summer training was quite good, she stated.

Miss Klitz was assisted by fourteen instructors during the summer period.

Miss Canada

Blonde and blue eyed, MARILYN DELORES BEDDICK, 18, of Agincourt, Ont., was crowned as "Miss Canada" of 1952. A panel of eight judged the contestants on appearance, poise, talent, and intelligence. The customary bathing suit saunter down the runway was ruled out this year, instead, the girls wore full length evening dresses. Miss Reddick won a $1,000 scholarship, an expenses paid trip to the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and Canada's ticket to the Miss America contest in Atlantic City.

Q Is 20 years a long time?

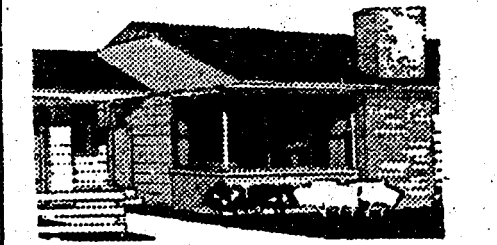

A It depends on your age.

A man of forty can look forward to many interesting years and in 20 years can build up, within his present means, an income to help him enjoy his later years. At the same time he can provide for the welfare of his family should the unexpected happen to him. Let our representatives show you how a Mutual Life of Canada policy combines the best features of savings, investment and a pension plan at a modest outlay.
