

Few Questions Asked At Ratepayers Meet

A story of good business management in government was told to some 50 ratepayers who attended Monday's annual ratepayers meeting held in the High School Auditorium.

Questions were few. Dr. Maurice Welsh wanted to know the whys and wherefores of water for Trout Creek and Reeve F. E. Atkinson pointed out that just when Council was getting down to brass tacks on the problem, the Canyon Dam emergency situation arose.

Reeve Atkinson supported Councillor Norman Holmes who had previously stated that Council was working on the Trout Creek problem, but he said that Council was faced with the necessity of seeing the entire picture of the community's water needs and he intimated that an engineering survey would have to embrace the entire domestic

Agreement on School Location Reached

School population is up and like most other centres, Summerland must increase its school facilities. Summerland, however, had special problems which the school board considered did not lend themselves to the Department of Education's revised policy of decentralization.

Convinced that they were right the school board of district 77 spent many hours in discussion and in making representation to the department, including the Minister of Education and last Monday, school board chairman T. S. Manning was able to tell the ratepayers that the department had given tentative agreement to construction of a four-classroom unit and activity unit on the central school grounds.

A general meeting of the Summerland Local BCFGA was held November 30 at 2 p.m., in the IOOF Hall, to consider resolutions for the 1960 convention, and to hear guest speakers H. J. Van Ackeren of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and Ian Greenwood of Sunrype Products.

Mr. Van Ackeren gave the sales picture to date and answered questions. Considerable discussion ensued regarding the Handi-Pack deal and complaints of excess bruising and low grade fruit. Mr. Van Ackeren had two baskets of Ontario Mac Intosh apples for display that are being offered on the Vancouver market. The excellent quality and freedom from bruising was noted, even after much travelling and handling.

Mr. Greenwood gave Processor's position to date, pointing out the lack of tonnage this year will mean low returns for culls and diverted fruit. In order to maintain our markets an Ontario plant is supplying Sun Rype Products with fifty carloads of opalescent

Reeve Still Unopposed

Tait, Barkwell, Alstead Will Run For Council

R. J. BARKWILL
Will run

There will be an election in Summerland. Just before press time today Robert "Bob" Alstead announced that he would file nomination papers.

This brings to three the number now running for two council seats. Earlier today R. J. "Bill" Barkwill announced that he would be a candidate while last week retiring Councillor Eric Tait stated that he would seek re-election.

The retiring reeve, F. E. Atkinson has announced that he will run again and, so far, he is unopposed.

Nomination Day is December 7 with elections December 17. Besides voting for a council, property owners will be asked to pass judgement on the $35,000 Canyon Dam money bylaw, for reconstruction of the dam.

Bill Barkwill is throwing his hat in the civic ring after a three-year absence. Mr. Barkwill served on Council for five years until stepping down because of pressure of business three years ago.

FRANCIS STEUART
Stepping down

Appreciation of the services rendered by Councillor Francis Steuart was expressed by Reeve F. E. Atkinson at the annual ratepayers' meeting held Monday. Councillor Steuart, whose term expires at the end of the year will not seek re-election. He has served ten years on the council. A vote of thanks was moved by Ken Boothe and warmly supported with vigorous handclapping.

Pays Tribute to Parks Committee

Tribute to members of the parks committee, Ernie Bennett, Bill Snow and E. W. Langbell was paid by Councillor Norman Holmes when reporting on parks work during the year.

Considerable work has been done at Powell Beach and Rotary Beach during the past year. Peach Orchard Park under the capable direction of Mr. and Mrs. Langbell continues to gain popularity and earned $2600 in camping fees last season.

"Mr. and Mrs. Langbell are doing a wonderful job" Councillor Holmes said.

Reports On Roads Drains And Machines

Surfaced roads were extended 4500 feet during this year, Councillor Eric Tait, reported to the ratepayers Monday.

The roads committee chairman also said that Council was convinced that the only economic approach to dust laying was to make it count towards building up for a permanent surface. Oiling year after year, just for dust laying, is not warranted, he said. Council was experimenting this year with three roads in building up towards permanency.

A drain is under construction well below the frost line which when completed will do much to relieve the drainage problem arising in the West Summerland town site during the winter.

Councillor Tait also warned that future councils must face the prospect of machinery replacement.

Maintenance costs are now high, amounting to $4.52 a work hour during the past two years for the big grader.

On ten year depreciation the grader is now valued at around $5,000 on the books which compares very closely to the trade-in value quoted.

Apart from the high cost of maintenance is the time lost and inconvenience as the result of breakdowns, Councillor Tait said.

Summerland - Produced Fruit Industry Magazine Fills A Need

by Wally Smith

Okanagan Fruit Magazine
Last January at the annual convention BCFGA delegates turned thumbs down on a resolution which called for the Okanagan fruit industry to enquire into the possibility of establishing its own magazine. Still, I think they could have taken a look as suggested in the resolution.

Rejection by the growers was not surprising. Facts and figures were lacking. A member of the executive voiced strong opposition to the resolution and at the same time praised the monthly publication "Country Life in B.C." for doing a good job.

In spite of this apparent lack of interest in a fruit growers' magazine we do have a new fruit periodical today.

First issue of "The B.C. Orchardist" was off the press and in the mails last week. A sample copy was sent to every registered fruit grower in the Okanagan.

Pull Up A Chair

By Ted Gaskell
Mack The Knife

It's nice to see something nice and clean like robbery with violence taking the teenagers' fancy instead of the musical (?) excursions into the realms of the suggestive.

I refer of course to the deserved popularity of the hit parade leader "Mack the Knife".

For those of us who were brought up on such violence as the grandmother-eating wolf of Red Riding Hood and the witches being boiled in oil here and there, or babes in the wood and sturdy other children being done dirt by the Wicked Uncles, Mack the Knife, with its implications of a body, adorned with the finest Portland product being heaved into the river and making nice comparisons between Mack's instrument and the teeth of a shark, is a pleasant thing.

(And I bet that's the longest sentence this column's ever seen and I don't care).

Compare our hero with that Fred character of whom I have heard of but so far have avoided the distinction of a musical introduction to.

Fred, according to the song, is busy necking in the back seat of a car with numerous girls while the joker at the wheel is being constantly told to keep his mind on driving, his eye on the road while Fred's being treated like a lord or at any rate a lord knows what.

That's the trouble with the modern song. No simplicity any more.

Mack the Knife is a simple character like the wolf in Red Riding Hood.

The wolf, if you recall, simply scampered off to grandmother's cottage once he found out where Red was going, ate the old lady, donned her clothes and prepared to eat the child until a logger, on his way from a strike, nailed him.

Mack is just as straightforward.

He knifes Louie Miller, robs him, drags the body to the nearest boat, festoons him with cement and dumps him, then returns to town spending money like a Rotarian on a convention.

None of the sordid implication such as we find in the "Fred" song.

You have to read between the lines for that one.

The character at the wheel in the Fred song is obviously a slob. His B.O. puts him out socially and his V-8 brings him back in. Everybody has a V-8, in-

They Build Well

Summerland's Municipal Councillors, at the annual ratepayers meeting, Monday, made us think of a group of master masons at work.

Report after report was presented and laid down and cemented by the speakers and when they were finished, they had built in the minds of the few, too few listeners, the picture of a solid edifice, that edifice, the Municipality of Summerland, financially sound, with steadily expanding and improving services and with a low tax rate the envy of many comparable communities.

It was a somewhat boring meeting, but that can be considered something to cheer about rather than to deplore for usually, when one is wearied at a ratepayers' meeting, it means that all is well with the community.

It is not necessary to agree with all that council does, or does not do, to be able to recognize that Summerland has good government, a council which is motivated by one desire — to do the best it can for Summerland and the people it represents.

And while not all of us agree, at all times with Council's reasonings and decisions, we believe that everyone in Summerland is grateful to these community-minded citizens, and not only on council, but on school boards, park committees, library boards, arena committees and so on, who give unstintingly of their time and their energies, to the full extent of their ability, to the task of making Summerland a better place in which to live.

Again we quote the words of Kipling in tribute to these citizens:

"For their work continueth, broad and deep continueth, greater than their knowing."

DRIVING FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

STARTING ABILITY ON ICE

Traction ratings, based on hundreds of tests, measure the pulling or hill-climbing ability of tires and chains on glare ice conditions. Index is expressed at 100 for regular tires.

STARTING ABILITY ON SNOW

Traction ratings, based on draw bar pull tests on loosely packed snow, also indicate relative ability to pull through deep snow or climb hills.

STOPPING ABILITY ON DRY PAVEMENT

REGULAR TIRES 21 ft

STOPPING ABILITY ON ICE

Average braking distances, based on tests from 20 MPH on glare ice. For comparison, average braking distance of regular tires on dry pavement at same speed is 21 feet, on glare ice 195 feet.

STOPPING ABILITY ON SNOW

This shows the comparative stopping ability of regular and snow tires and reinforced tire chains on loosely packed snow, from 20 MPH.

EFFECT OF TEMPERATURE
Rising temperatures make ice more slippery. A car with regular tires, moving at 20 MPH on glare ice, requires 174 ft. at 0° and 235 ft. at 30° above. Reinforced tire chains provide consistently shortest stops, about 77 ft., regardless of temperature.

Above charts, provided by George Lindsay, Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, illustrate test results by National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. For each "braking distance" above you must add 22 feet, which is distance traveled during average "reaction time" needed to think and get your foot on brake after seeing a reason to stop. Skidding and reduced visibility are the major added hazards of winter. Can you see and stop in time? Are your windshield wiper blades giving clear, streak-free visibility? Does your defroster work?

Senior Boys Visit Taxidermist Display

An outstanding display of Canadian and African species of wild life was observed by 14 boys of the Senior Boy's group of the United Church of Summerland on Sunday, Oct. 22. Opening his amazing display room Abe Broun of Oliver, one of the most renowned taxidermists of the West, welcomed the boys inside.

The lifelike beauty of dozens of artistically mounted and attractively displayed hunting trophies left the visitors speechless at first.

Mr. Braun, then clearly named each species with a few remarks about its habitat and characteristics. Among the most notable were a record class Yukon moose a Canadian moose, a caribou, several rare African animals of the deer family, especially the Cliff Springer peacocks grown on Anarchis Mt., B.C., a cougar, zebra hide, a rhinoseros, an Alaskan doll sheep, mountain goats and an eleven year old bighorn sheep.

Following a lively barrage of questions the host invited the boys to sign his guest book.

The party then proceeded to the Oliver Sportsmen's Bowl where the facilities of a beautiful log cabin with fireplace and kitchen were warm and inviting.

The caretaker adopted the party of adventures, helping with their trap shoot, 22 rifle shoot and the fueling up ofr cooking.

Supper consisted of 15 lbs of deer steak, lunches and coffee.

After a top flight campfire session at the spacious fireplace came the return from a grand outing.

The boys and Mr. Winston Potter wish to express their thanks to Harvey Wilson and Frank Jones for transportation and their fine companionship.

Boy Scout Tree Farm Commended

Local Boy Scouts' tree farm and conservation project on Giant's Head was commended by last week's council meeting.

Councillor Norman Holmts said that in some cases three trees had been obtained from one stump and two more are growing from them. He said if cutting of Christmas trees is run properly a new tree is gained every time one is cut.

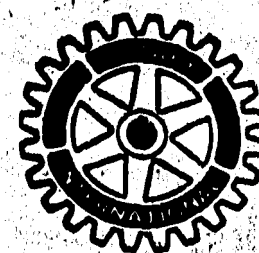

The municipality will buy Christmas trees for street decoration from the Scouts. They will be put up by Summerland merchants by December 10.

More Canadians Borrow More Money From B of M Last Year

More Canadians borrowed more money from the Bank of Montreal in 1959 than ever before, according to the bank's annual statement for the year ended October 31, issued today.

The report shows that the unprecedented demand for credit, in one of the "tightest" money periods of modern times, was the predominant feature of the bank's 142nd year of business. Loans climbed more than 25 per cent above the 1958 figure from $1,416 million to $1,772 million.

These included a 32.55 per cent boost over 1958 in NHA mortgage loans, from $171 million to $227 million.

To meet all of these loan requirements, the bank reduced its investment portfolio. The decrease amounted to $344 million, or almost 28 per cent, bringing the total to $886 million.

As a result, while a strong liquid position was maintained there was a concurrent reduction in "quick assets," $1,578 million, or 51.6 per cent of all liabilities to the public, versus 62.1 per cent a year ago.

B of M earnings for operation of all its 810 offices at home and abroad are reported at $24,833,660 before income taxes. After provision of $12,642,600 to meet these tax payments, there was a net profit of $12,191,060, or $1,834,370 more than in 1958.

Deposits show little change at $2,998 million, compared with $3,038 million a year ago. The same was true of total assets, which stand at $3,259 million, as against $3,277 million in 1958.

On completion of the new issue of the bank's paid-up capital will stand at $60,750,000, the largest of any Canadian bank,

Spanish Dancers Thrill Audience

It was as artists as well as dancers that tall, dark and remarkably handsome Jose Udaeti, and volatile, gifted Spanish beauty, Susana Audeoud delighted an appreciative Summerland audience Thursday in the first concert of the Overture Association Series this fall.

With them was Susana's husband, Armin Jassen, pianist who is an artist himself, and the renowned guitarist, Paco Hernandez.

Other member of the troupe was Spain's leading Flamenco singer, Manuel Mairena. The singing was strange to Canadian ears enough the virtuosity was evident.

All costumes were fresh, arresting and lovely.

In spite of the fact that the small group had driven from Vancouver, arriving in Summerland only at 6:30 without having had dinner, the performance was given with generosity and no slackening of pace.

Chapelle - Smith Vows In Baptist Church

Miss Jane Marlene Smith, fair-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, West Summerland was married on Saturday, November 14, in Parkdale Baptist Church. Her groom was William Edward Chapelle, son of Mr. Katherine Chapelle, Burns' Lake and William Chapelle of Labrador.

Rev. Lyle Kennedy officiated and the church was decorated with mums in a pleasing combination of autumn colors.

A beautiful wedding gown worn by the bride was of embroidered net over net and satin, floor length. Sequins and pearls accented the bodice misted with a waist length embroidered net veil caught in place with lily of the valley. The bridal bouquet was made of red roses surrounded with white lace. Mr. Smith gave his daughter in marriage. Attendants were the bride's three cousins, Miss Eileen Arndt of Calgary, maid of honor; Miss Norma Arndt of Calgary, bridesmaid and little Miss Nancy Barg of West Summerland, the flower girl.

In a similar style, the maid of honor was in a dark turquoise chiffon afternoon length gown with a matching chiffon rose marking the waistline and the bridesmaid was in rose. Their headdresses were of velvet ribbons with bows, blue with the blue ensemble and pink with the pink ensemble.

Best man was Roger Matkovich and the ushers were the bride's brother, Allan Smith, the groom's brother, Marvin Chapelle and Wm. Chapman, all of West Summerland.

At the reception in the church hall Mrs. Smith received wearing a robin egg blue dress with pink hat, flowers and gloves.

The groom's mother was in navy and white with a red feather hat and corsage of red roses.

For going away, the bride donned a brown wool sheath with shoes and nurse in a lovely shade of pink and a brown hat and gloves.

The young couple will make their home in West Summerland.

Twenty - One Mothers Attend Brownie Meet

Brownies working for efficiency badges in Home Crafts sometimes fail tests because they are not able to get sufficient practice, and help from home could be most valuable. A notification sent in advance in cases where Guides are not going to be present at a meeting would also be greatly appreciated by leaders, who have planned for tests and programs.

These were statements of leaders reported through the president of the Auxiliary of the Girl Guide Association Mrs. Ross McLachlan, at a general meeting in the Youth Centre on Nov. 25.

Twenty-one mothers heard reports from the secretary, Mrs. J. Filtimore and expressed thanks for donations from Rebeccas, Rotary, Legion Ladies' Auxiliary and Eastern Star and the annual gift of sixty dollars from Kiwanis.

Some discussion centered around letters sent out to mothers asking opinion on a suggestion that financial needs be met by a fee of five dollars from parents, where the mother is not available for assistance in bazaars and other money raising projects. It is hoped that there will be a good response in filling out and returning these.

The president and Mrs. Paul Roberge were asked to act as a nominating committee for the annual meeting.

Letter From Cashmere

Citizens of Summerland:

On behalf of Cashmere City, Cashmere High School and ourselves, we wish to thank everyone in Summerland who have been so very hospitable and cordial to us during our stay.

We have, with all honesty never been made to feel so completely at home in any town in our lives.

We wish to thank the faculty of Summerland High School, the Rotary Club and especially the people who took us into their homes and their hearts to make us feel a part of your wonderful community.

We thoroughly enjoyed attending classes, talking to students, and to faculty and especially enjoyed the field trips. We feel we know more about Summerland than we know about Cashmere.

Through this exchange we hope that there is a better understanding of the two countries' systems and people. We hope that you have come to know and understand us better. We only hope that we represented Cashmere in the way you were expected too, without letting ourselves and our community down.

We say thank you to the nicest city in Canada.

Sincerely,
Jerry Floyd

Gym Overflows As Clowns Caper

The Harlem Clowns, comic basketball team, played to a full house in the High School gym last Wednesday evening. During the course of the game, played against the Summerland Rockets, the Clowns demonstrated their ability as superior ball handlers as well as talented showman.

Under the leadership of Bob Woods, the Clowns performed several comic plays which left the Rockets fazed and the audience in fits.

The referees, Dick Dunsdon and Jim Jomorie, although faced with an impossible task, came through with flying colors. The one criticism of the game was that the Clowns failed to play any serious basketball.

Senior Girls Fourth

The Summerland Senior Girls placed fourth in a tournament held in Kamloops over the week end. The tournament was won by Kamloops while North Kamloops and an Indian girls team placed second and third.

WHEAT KING — World wheat champion Douglas Mackintosh, 18-year-old schoolboy from Granum, Alta., won the Canadian National Railways Challenge Trophy at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto. ## Book Review Of "Jane Eyre"

"Jane Eyre", by Charlotte Bronte. Published by Dodd Mead and Company.

This is the fascinating story of an unwanted girl, who, rejected by her selfish aunt, was forced to live at an orphanage. She left, at the age of eighteen, to become governess to the young niece of Edward Rochester, with whom she falls in love. This is her story — her joys, worries and her whole life.

After seeing the movie, "Jane Eyre", I wanted very much to read the book. I couldn't obtain it for a long while, but after I did read it I found it well worth waiting for. It is one of the most fascinating books I have ever read.

Charlotte Bronte is very skilled at descriptive work. Her characters become real flesh and blood, and her places, alive. It is a truly beautiful love story, with the balance between idealism and realism just right. It is one of the very few books I have ever read that held me completely fascinated from cover to cover. When I close my eyes I can picture the characters more plainly than I can some of the people I have known in real life.

Miss Bronte tells of Jane Eyre's hard life and optimistic outlook without letting the story become a "sob story" or maudlin. Charlotte Bronte based this story on her own life.

I thought the book was a wonderful, heart-warming story and one I recommend to every one.

Lakers Defeat Rockets 51-35

The unexcelled Richard Skirmer led the Penticton Lakers to victory over the Summerland Rockets last week end. They took the lead in the first quarter and were never seriously threatened, although our boys made them fight for every point.

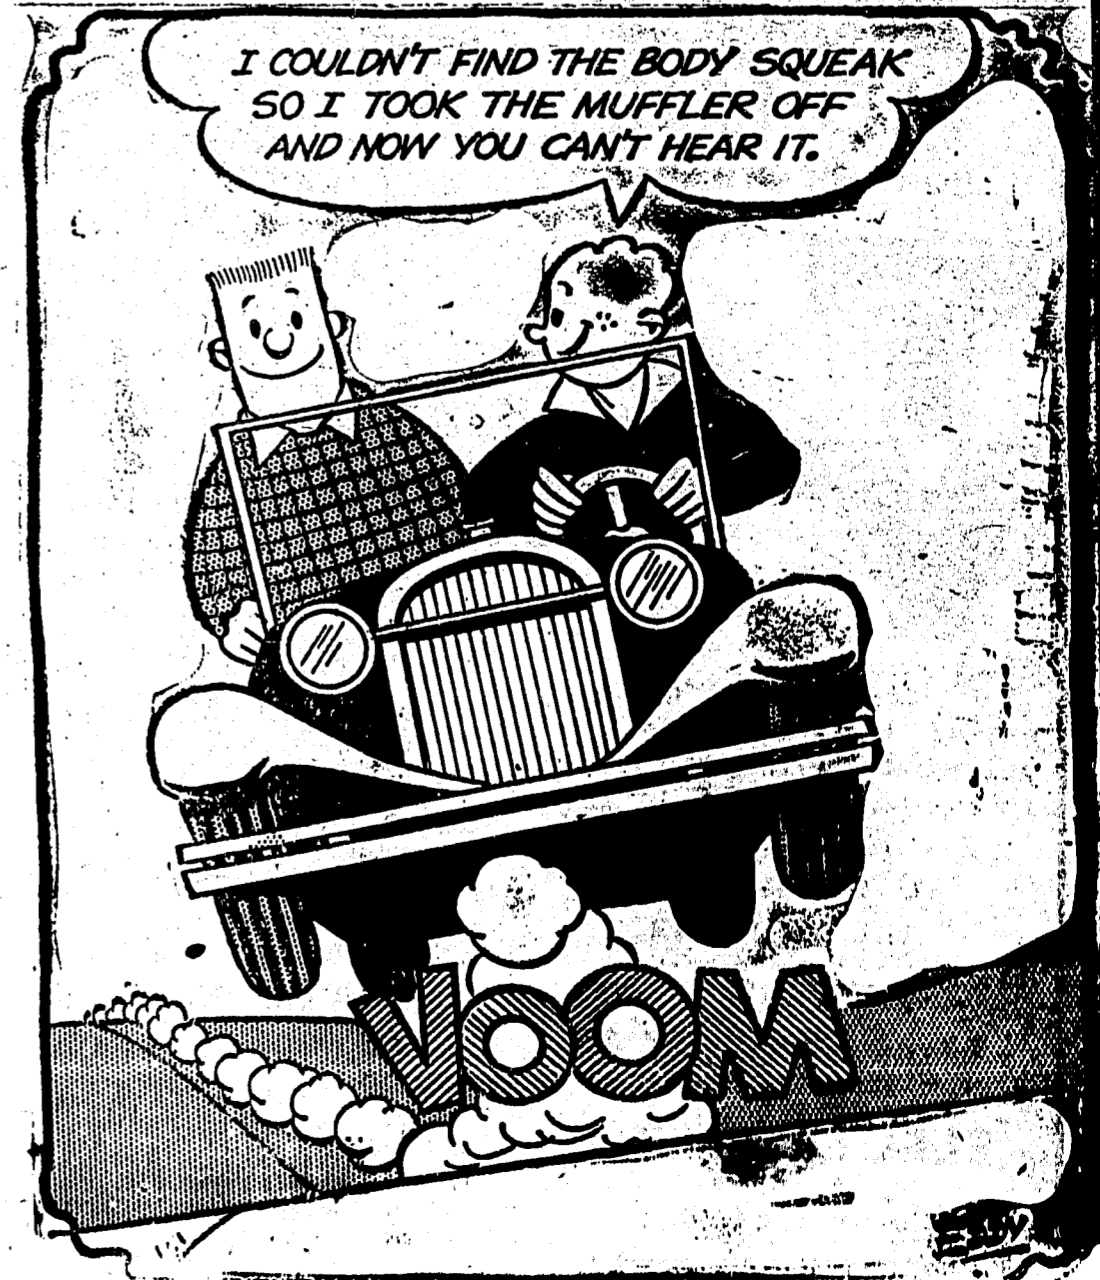

Supporting the Summerland line were George Healey and Frank Carey who jump-shots and hook-shots were great assets.

The Senior B boys also suffered a defeat. It was their second of the season. Once again it was the defence which was not perfected enough to keep the opposition out. Penticton long-shots also inflicted serious damage on our boys.

Certificates For French Students

Mrs. Hunt has this year instigated a new motivation for students in French 10 classes. Upon successfully passing each of six tests a certificate will be awarded. Each award is suitably illustrated with a typically French symbol.

Three tests are to be conducted before Christmas, the remainder to follow in January and February. Students take the tests in their own time, whenever they can corner Mr. Storey, Mr. McCuaig, Mr. Loan or Mr. Ochs, the examiners. There follows a conversation in French — which is the test.

FISH AND CHIPS

While porcupine and beaver thrive well on the rind of trees, it is not generally known that tree bark is edible for humans and that the inner bark of such trees as hemlock and lodgepole pine has long been used as food by the Canadian Indian. On the west coast, for instance, the Indians ate freely of a mixture of inner bark and oil, the latter obtained from a small kind of spratt called the oolichan, still a popular food fish among both white and native populations.

Garage Will Protect Family's Second Car

Statistics shows Canadians are becoming two-car owners at an increasing rate.

In many homes, however, the second car is exposed to wind, snow, cold, sun and rain all year. Often there is only a breezeway, partial protection for a single car.

An inexpensive solution is construction of a two-car garage. It's also a solution for one-car families who have a small home and need extra storage space, or extra parking space for visitors.

A two-car garage 20 x 20 feet, or a large one car space 14 feet wide allows for work bench space, and storage of garden equipment, bicycles and other household items. Smallest practical width for a garage is 10 feet.

A good bet for its construction is concrete block, which will protect from fire and give insulation value at a low initial cost.

Labor costs will be low if a builder does the job. Or a handyman can easily build his own, keeping a few points in mind.

Prefab doors, for instance are usually built to fit an opening eight feet wide, seven feet high.

It won't be necessary to cut block if the length and width of the garage are in multiples of half the standard block length, or eight inches. In calculating the width of window and door openings, the same rule applies — use multiples of half the block length. The height of the openings can be calculated as multiples of the full block height, eight inches.

Find out from a builder what the frost line is in your area, then pour footings below this line, on a firm base.

Lay walls plumb and true. For corners, doors and windows there are special units available from concrete products manufacturers. They make a neater job with less work.

A building supplies dealer will carry the proper mortar, with instructions for mixing it. A good mix is one sack of masonry cement, three cubic feet of damp loose mortar sand and water.

Mortar joints are three-eighths of an inch thick and excess mortar is carefully scraped off, and the joints "tooled" with a round tool especially made for the purpose.

Concrete brick or block manufacturers can usually supply or obtain plans and specifications, and all the necessary information for the prospective builder.

juice and some clear juice. This is now on sale in Vancouver. The plant in Ontario is under licence to produce Sun Rype juices from Sun Rype products.

New development of a very good pie filling from Jonathan and MacIntosh shows good promise and is being sold under a new red label on the prairies.

Five resolutions were presented and passed for presentation to the convention.

One covered the bad bruising of apples and asked for investigation of the causes and recommendation for the cure.

Another asked for identification of root stock to be made when nursery stock was sold.

The next asked for publishing of sizes and color requirements in the Quarterly Report.

Another stressed the need for spot pick MacIntosh to be from the best trees and not the worst, calling for a minimum of Cee grade and fewer small apples.

The last resolution asked for consideration of the idea of excluding all Cee grade over size 80's and under size 163's from the fresh fruit market, and to be diverted to SunRype Products.

Colored Slides Shown Of Canyon Dam

Colored slides of preliminary work on Canyon Dam were shown by Reeve F. E. Atkinson at the ratepayers' meeting.

The Reeve also explained the urgency of trying to beat the weather.

No Plans For Municipal Golf

Need for the $40,000 money bylaw for changing over the municipal power distribution system was necessitated by the rapid growth of the community and increase in demand, Councillor Walter Powell, chairman of the electric light and power committee told the ratepayers meeting, Monday.

A ratepayer wanted to know about the golf course, and if the municipality was thinking of doing anything about it and anyway they shouldn't, "the arena was enough."

Councillor Powell, said that the old golf course is on municipal land and that the golf committee had wanted council to go into it under the winter works program, but that now the committee had new ideas. The Municipality had no plans.

More Reference, Do-it-yourself Books at Library

Mrs. Marjorie Croil, representing the Council on the Okanagan Regional Library Board, told of the steadily increasing popularity of the libraries and increase in books at West Summerland, Summerland and Trout-Creek.

Mrs. Croil also spoke of the increased popularity and demand for reference books and do-it-yourself books.

Orchard Run

On Its Own

This is a private enterprise on the part of the publisher of the Summerland Review. It is not sponsored by the BCFGA nor does it receive financial backing from any growers' organization.

Perhaps this magnificent independence has its advantages but on the other hand a guaranteed list of subscribers representing every member in the organization gives the publisher a feeling of security nothing else can quite match.

Be that as it may, Editor Sid Godber is here with his version of a fruit growers' magazine, and I congratulate him for his courage and determination in going ahead with the project and bringing it to reality.

A Place For It

The writer of this column believes that a monthly magazine devoted solely to the interests of Okanagan fruit growers can serve them well with a budget of news and information of vital interest to the man in the orchard.

This statement is not meant to disparage "Country Life" official mouthpiece of the BCFGA for many years. But the pages of "Country Life" must be used for the problems and activities of many other agricultural groups including the beef cattle men, dairy men, potato growers, hog producers, egg producers, poultry meat producers and others.

Such a publication with divided interests can hardly give the Okanagan fruit industry the amount of space and attention we would like to see devoted to it.

This opinion seems to be shared by Sid Godber who got his "B.C. Orchardist" off to a good start with 20 pages containing a variety of reading matter that should be of interest to every grower in the valley.

It remains to be seen whether he can keep it going. To do so he needs the support of the majority of the Okanagan's 3500 fruit growers. Will he get it?

I don't know but I certainly think the effort deserves grower support. I'm suggesting that you send the man a dollar without delay and get your name on the subscription list.
