THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF WOMEN ACCOUNTANTS

The American Society of Women Accountants is a national organization devoted to the accounting profession. The membership is made up of women from various phases of accounting: public accounting, industry, banks, retail stores, government agencies, teaching, etc.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the ASWA is—

- To advance the interest of women accountants and more particularly to work in conjunction with the American Woman's Society of Certified Public Accountants,
- To improve the efficiency of its members in their profession,
- To further the opportunities in the profession for women,
- To establish a good fellowship among women members of the accounting profession,
- To encourage and promote those starting in their accounting education,
- To continue and complete as much studying in the field as possible.

MEMBERSHIP ADVANTAGES:

Membership in the ASWA carries many privileges, such as—

- Attendance and participation in local chapter meetings, study and discussion groups, and other chapter activities,
 - Attendance and participation in local, regional, and national accounting conferences,
 - Subscription to The WOMAN CPA, the official publication of the American Woman's Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Society of Women Accountants,
 - The opportunity for cultivating friendships with women who have a common interest,
 - A medium for development by serving on various committees which are interested in a better understanding of accounting and of women in accounting.
