Brownsville Missouri Pacific Depot Copyright Notice

All drawings, plans, elevations, details, text documents, etc. created by David Nelson Currey (henceforth referred to as Mr. Currey) and are copyrighted by Mr. Currey have a copyright notice on them. Works by David Currey not copyrighted are marked with the words "Public Domain".

The other public domain items (which consists of post cards, photographs, drawings, etc.) found in this collection are not owned by Mr. Currey, and are not covered by Mr. Currey's copyright.

The person accessing this collection may make copies of the copyrighted works for their own personal use, and may make copies to distribute to others by means of print, email, CD, flash drive, etc. as long as the copyright notices are still affixed to each work.

The person accessing this collection may not use any of these copyrighted works for any of the following uses without the expressed written consent of Mr. Currey:

- Publication in any magazine, book, newspaper, periodical, newsletter, or other printed format.
- Posting or publishing on a website, blog, homepage, or any other method involving the internet.
- Selling, renting, leasing, or otherwise using the drawings to obtain monetary or other gain.
- Distribution of modified or altered works, except changes in scale can be made and distributed if copyright notice remains attached.

If permission is obtained to publish by any of the methods outlined above, publication must include the copyright notice with each work published.

All inquiries are welcome. Mr. Currey's main reason for drawing up these plans were to help maintain the memory of the Missouri Pacific passenger station that existed on Levee Street in Brownsville, Texas. Usage of these documents towards that ultimate purpose will probably be approved by Mr. Currey. Mr. Currey is also available to give presentations on the depot if he approves the request.

Mr. Currey's last residence was at 8322 Church Light Lane, Houston, Texas, 77064, 713-896-7292, texasandlouisiana@msn.com. In the event he no longer resides at that address or phone number, he can probably be located by contacting the San Jacinto Model Railroad Club in Houston, Texas, the Houston Flying Disc Society in Houston, Texas, or the Missouri Pacific Historical Society.

In the event of Mr. Currey's death, all the copyrighted works in this collection then become Public Domain. In case that is not possible by law, ordinance, etc., the user may use any of these copyrighted documents freely without any restrictions upon the death of Mr. Currey.
