Internal Funding for Research

Kean University provides a robust program of internal support for research, scholarship and creative activities to support and enhance faculty and student-faculty research and to help faculty launch and develop fundable projects.

The Office of Research & Sponsored Programs (ORSP) administers several different internal research awards. Administering these programs allows ORSP to work closely with faculty and better support their efforts to secure external funding to continue their research programs.

Detailed information including eligibility, guidelines, applications and timelines for all the internal research support programs can be found by following the links to the right.

Awardees with questions about administering their internal grants should contact Mirela Boariu at boarium@kean.edu or email orsp@kean.edu.
