SAINT THOMAS HALL.

THE DIOCESAN SCHOOL OF MISSISSIPPI.

AINT THOMAS HALL was founded in January, 1844, by the Rev. Francis L. Hawks, D.D., formerly Rector of St. Thomas', and afterwards Rector of Calvary Church, New York City, and Grace Church, Baltimore. Dr. Hawks associated with himself an able and learned corps of teachers, and from the time of its opening the Institution achieved a high reputation for the thoroughness of its work and its high standard of scholarship, and so attracted a large number of pupils from Mississippi and surrounding States.

The first faculty was as follows:

Rev. F. L. Hawks, D.D., President and Professor of English Literature.
John Q. Bradford, A.M., Professor of Latin and Greek.
Lieut. Claudius W. Sears (U. S. Military Academy), Professor of Mathematics.
Thomas K. Wharton, Professor of French and German.

In 1845 and 1846 the Rev. David C. Page, Rector of Christ Church, Holly Springs, was President, and Mr. Henry Whitehorn, A.M., was Professor of Latin and Greek; Mr. Daniel F. Wright was Professor of Mathematics.

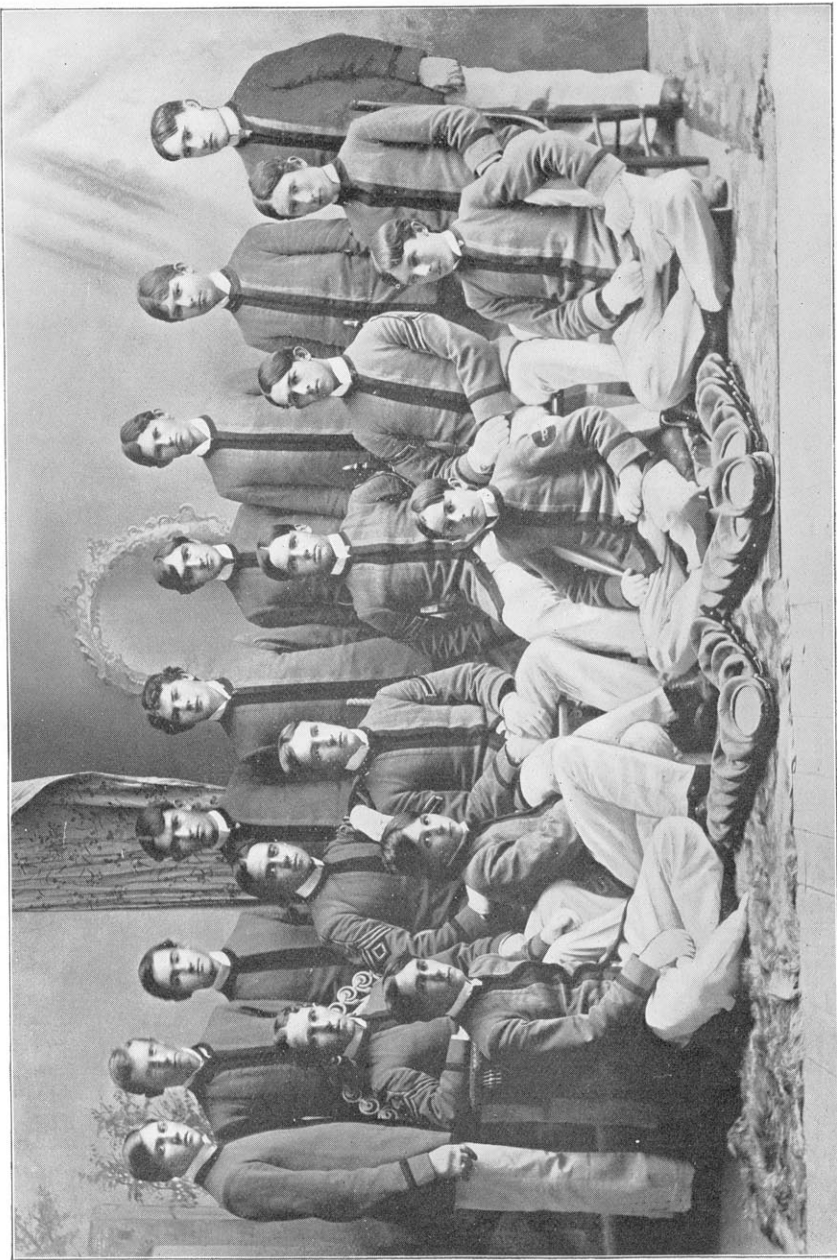

From 1847 to 1850 Mr. Henry Whitehorn was President. From 1850 to 1859 the Rev. Dr. Colton, the Rev. James M. Rogers, and the Rev. J. H. Ingraham were successively in charge of the work.

In 1859 the organization of the Institution was as follows:

Rev. J. H. Ingraham, LL.D. (author of "The Prince of the House of David," "Pillar of Fire," and "The Throne of David"), President and Professor of English.
William Clark, A.M., Professor of Latin and Greek.
Lieut. Claudius W. Sears, Commandant of Cadets and Professor of Mathematics.

The School was justly considered one of the best and most thorough institutions of learning in the Southwest. It was here that some of the foremost and most prominent men of the South were educated. Among these may be mentioned General Edward C. Walthall, United States Senator from Mississippi; General James R. Chalmers, Chief Justice H. H. Chalmers, Colonel Alex. H. Chalmers, General C. H. Mott, Captain Walter A. Goodman, Colonel James L. Autry, General Daniel C. Govan, Hon. George M. Govan, Major Andrew M. Govan, Judge James M. Greer, Howard Falconer, Esq., Hon. Kinloch Falconer, William and Stagy Watson, Roger Barton, Esq., and many others.

The Institution continued to do splendid work until the war, during which period the buildings were destroyed. The Diocese was not able afterwards to rebuild and resume the work. In 1893 opportunity was had to purchase the property formerly owned and operated by the Sisters of Nazareth as a seminary for girls, under the name of Bethlehem Academy. This property adjoins the old Saint Thomas Hall grounds, and altogether covers eighteen acres of land, well situated and in splendid condition. There are eight acres for drill grounds, baseball, football and tennis grounds. The buildings consist of one large, two-story brick building, with eleven rooms, 18 x 20 feet, a cut of which appears elsewhere, and one three-story frame building, 40 x 90 feet, containing chapel, study hall, lecture rooms and dormitories for the accommodation of some seventy-five boarders. These buildings are well furnished throughout. For school purposes the property affords every advantage that could be desired.

WALTHAM LITERARY SOCIETY.

CONTROL.

Being the Diocesan School for Boys, Saint Thomas Hall is under the control of the Right Rev. Hugh Miller Thompson, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of Mississippi, who, with the Rev. George C. Harris, S.T.D., the Rev. Nowell Logan, D.D., and the Rev. Charles Morris, Natchez, Miss., form the Board of Visitors.

The Rev. Peter Gray Sears, B.A. (University of Mississippi, Class of '85), being the Rector of Christ Church, Holly Springs, is ex-officio President of St. Thomas Hall.

Mr. H. D. McCaskey, B.S. (Lehigh University, class of '93), is the Headmaster, and has full control of the school work.

LOCATION.

Holly Springs is the highest point in the State of Mississippi, 850 feet above the sea level, and is absolutely free from all malaria. Only cistern water, carefully stored, is used for drinking or other purposes.

The place is noted for being the healthiest in the State. It is within two hours from the city of Memphis, Tenn., and is at the junction of the Illinois Central and Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham Railroads.

ORGANIZATION AND GOVERNMENT.

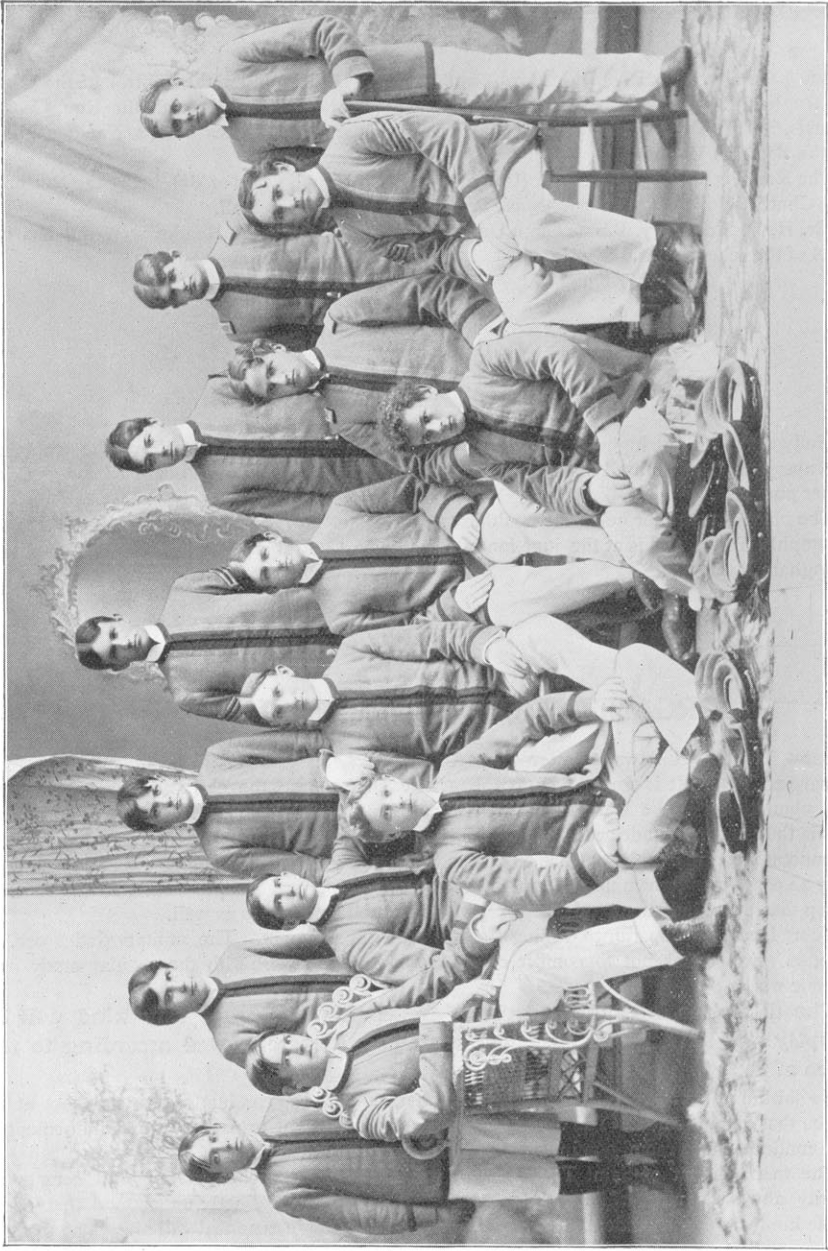

Saint Thomas Hall was chartered by Act of the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, February 20, 1846. It is under STRICT MILITARY DISCIPLINE, the code of regulations being based upon those of the United States Military Academy at West Point. A regular routine of duties is thus secured, under which the Cadets are trained to habits of neatness, system, order and punctuality, and acquire a sense of personal obligation and responsibility. As much responsibility as possible is thrown upon them, in the capacity of officers, room orderlies, etc., in order to develop discretion, judgment and the power to control self and others as well.

There is nothing superior to drilling for physical development. The military duties are, of course, so arranged as not to conflict or in any way to interfere with the regular study and academic work.

The discipline is exact and rigid, and delinquencies of any kind will be promptly and sufficiently punished with penalties regulated according to the degree of the offense.

No shirking of any duty will be at all countenanced, and the conduct of Cadets must at all times be that of gentlemen. The different degrees of punishment are extra duty, confinement to limits, confinement to room, confinement in guard-house and dismissal.

The management of Saint Thomas Hall will insist on obedience to law and constituted authority, and lawlessness will not be tolerated. It should be distinctly understood that every possible kindness and consideration will be shown to every Cadet; appeal will always be made to his sense of duty and right, but when these fail other methods will be pursued. No boy can remain in the school who will not render cheerful and full obedience to its laws.

JEFFERSON DAVIS LITERARY SOCIETY.

THE AIM OF THE SCHOOL.

The chief object of Saint Thomas Hall is to give boys thorough, competent and exact preparation for University work. Thoroughness in every department will be insisted upon at all times. Superficiality and surface work is ruinous to any student. No Cadet will be advanced from one class to a higher until he has shown himself, upon examination, to have mastered the work of the lower class. With this idea, it will be seen that the importance of each recitation during the school year is such that leaves of absence ought not to be asked for except in cases of absolute necessity. Frequent absence will not only prevent progress, but will largely undo work that has been done. The attention of parents and guardians is earnestly called to this matter.

Along with this training of the mind, the development of a strong, healthy body and a straightforward, manly Christian character will be constantly kept in view.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Daily Morning Prayer is said in the Chapel. On Sunday mornings the Cadets are organized into classes for the study of the Bible, the Prayer Book and Church History, which are taught by the instructors in the School, and Cadets are graded in these as in other studies.

The company of Cadets, in command of the Commandant, attend church every Sunday morning and afternoon. Parents may designate where they wish their sons to attend church.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

For the purpose of improvement in declamation, reading and debate, and familiarity with the methods of deliberative bodies, the Cadets are organized into two literary societies, known as "The Walthall Literary Society" and "The Jefferson Davis Literary Society." Active membership in one of these is obligatory. They meet every Friday night, and are under the direction and supervision of two of the instructors. On the last Friday night of each month they meet in joint contest.

THE LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The Library is being furnished with carefully selected books of reference and standard writings.

The Reading Room is furnished with a number of daily and weekly papers, and the following magazines: Century, Scribner's, Harper's, North American Review, Forum, Arena, Cosmopolitan, Munsey's, McClure's, St. Nicholas, The Youth's Companion, Harper's Weekly, Puck, Judge, The Churchman, The Standard, The Living Church, St. Andrew's Cross, The Spirit of Missions. The room is open daily for the use of Cadets.

ATHLETICS.

Ample grounds are laid out for lawn-tennis, baseball and football, and, as a matter of physical development, Cadets are encouraged to take part in these athletic exercises. There are two hours each afternoon for recreation and exercise.
