C. A. Williams,

Dry Grove, Mississippi,

Dear Cammie:-

I saw D. Ratliff on the train some week or so ago and I was asking him about the outcome of your application for insurance and your examination therefor. He told me that you failed to secure your insurance on account of the examination at that time. Now I have thought every day that I would write you and urge you not to be discouraged on account of this failure to pass an examination when you did. I know that many a time perfectly sound men fail in examinations for insurance, which does not mean anything. There are times when most any body would fail to pass. I want to urge you to keep looking carefully after your health and to try again just as soon as you think you are in better condition and I am sure that you would have no trouble obtaining all the insurance that you would care to take. I do hope that you will do this and not wait too long. Some times some doctors are more strict than others and it may be that an application to another Company and an examination under another physician would give different results. Of course I know that you would have to answer the question: Have you ever been rejected by any Company? but I do not believe it would amount to much and you could pass all right. Please do not neglect this. I hope you are well now and that your business is good. Love to all,

Your brother
