Mother Goose Revived

Miss Johnson and Mr. Wylie entertained the Seniors Saturday night in a most unique way. A Mother Goose party is quite an improvement on the usual order of receptions at Marshall. Had one arrived among the jolly bunch of boys and girls, he would have thought he was in fairyland. Only here and there could be recognized a Senior, tall and stately, looking lost among the many children of the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Jack Sprat, and his wife, the Fine Lady with Rings on her Fingers and Bells on her Toes, Little Boy Blue, Little Bo Peep, Lady Bug, Little Miss Muffet, Curly-locks, Mary, Mary Quite Contrary; Polly Put the Kettle On; Daffy-Down-Dilly; Little Jack Horner; Simple Simon, quietly fishing away in a little tin pail, and, in fact, every one of Mother Goose's characters you ever heard tell of, and some you may never have heard of. Mother Goose herself, was there leading a big white goose dressed in crepe paper. Every one acted out his or her part in a most interesting way, some of them quite dramatic indeed. Especially the one where, "The King was in the Counting House, Counting Out his Money," and "Ding, Dong, Bell, Puss's in the Well". Even "Jack fell down and broke his crown, and Jill came tumbling after."

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, and bonbons in the heliotrope and white of the class colors of 1912, made a very pleasant close to an exceedingly enjoyable evening.

Tennis is rapidly gaining in popularity here at Marshall. Almost any evening it is possible to see five or six teams enjoying the pleasures of the court.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is still progressing with Mr. Higgins as president and Mr. Lee as vice-president. Mr. Lee has been giving us programs that are interesting and worth while. He works his programs out in a systematic way. They contain variety, and every program has something new and in a different order.

We had with us last Sunday evening Dr. Wood, of the First Baptist Church. In his talk he contrasted the importance of the individual of the twentieth century with the importance of the individual in earlier time. He made plain the importance of strength, not only physically, but intellectually and spiritually. We are always glad to have with us such men as Dr. Wood.

We consider all of our meetings important, but next Sunday evening is the most important meeting of the year. This meeting will be in the hands of the Senior boys. It is their meeting, and every Senior is expected to be present. Not only are the Seniors expected to be there, but every member of the Y. M. C. A. Let us all come and make this one of the best meetings of the year.

A Vote of Thanks

We, the members of the Bible Class of the Marshall College Young Men's Christian Association, at this, the last meeting of the school year, avail ourselves of the opportunity to express our appreciation of the wise and helpful instruction of our esteemed teacher, R. L. Hutchinson. We feel that we have been especially fortunate in having as instructor one of such noble Christian character, of such broad conception of Biblical truths, of such deep insight into the problems confronting young men, and of such exceptional ability in presenting only the things worth while in a manner both interesting and instructive. Moreover, our appreciation is heightened by the fact that he sacrificed time, personal convenience, and church-going privileges in painstaking effort to broaden our minds, to give us a truer conception of truths contained in the Bible, and to lift us to a higher plane of living.

Realizing these facts, we consider it is fitting that we jointly express our sincere thanks for his earnest work with us, and we assure him that we feel we have derived great benefits from his faithful instruction.

Adopted by Young Men's Bible Class of Marshall College, May 26, 1912.

Outing at Camden

The Tennis Club of College Hall and their gentlemen friends went to Camden Park for a picnic last Friday evening. The party left College Hall about five o'clock, taking a lunch with them and returning about ten o'clock. After taking a number of kodak pictures and partaking of luncheon, the party separated into little groups—each group to enjoy the amusements of the park in their own way. The boats on the lake, the roller coaster, the Camden Express and everything else were kept quite busy. Those making up the party were: Misses Virginia Peters, Anna White, Mamie Honaker, Marshie Honaker, Willa Everett, Maude Smith, Melda Rogers, Monad Bishop; Messrs. C. H. Miller, Guy Dowdy, R. A. Lee, J. O. Gallaspie, C. W. Ferguson, Clyde Holloway, Kenney and Pullen, chaperoned by Miss Harriet D. Johnson. Every one expressed herself or himself as having a most delightfully enjoyable time. A number of the girls have said that they would like to live that night over again.

Locals

At the O. U.-M. C. games last Friday and Saturday the gate keepers were put in an exceedingly embarrassing position by having to refuse to admit some of the students who had unintentionally left their tickets (for they are tickets, not passes), at home. Now this was all unnecessary, for each student has been warned enough times to know that he must have his ticket to be admitted to the games. All take warning! Don't forget your athletic ticket if you want to see the game. No one excepted!

The Reverend Doctor Donaldson, of the First Presbyterian Church, of this city, spoke in Chapel last Wednesday. Doctor Donaldson is one of the speakers we are always glad to welcome back to our chapel exercises.

The Athletic Association wishes to express their thanks to those who helped to send the track men to Buckhannon to compete in the State Inter-Collegiate Meet.

That "Caesar" boy is some pitcher. He certainly did have on a lean and hungry look when he gripped the "pill" and made the O. U. boys eat their "Styx."

The Model School was not in session Monday as the new varnish on the floor of the hall was not quite dry.

Now that the Athletic Association has undertaken the lecture course for 1912-'13, let each and every loyal Marshall student give his heartiest support to the new plan.

The Varsity baseball team left Tuesday morning over the B. & O. for the Marietta-W. Va. Wesleyan trip. Lambert, Cornwell, Ferguson, "Shorty" Ollom, F. Bailey, Morrow, C. Chambers, H. Ollom, and Captain Young took the trip with Coach Chambers.

Will all the students who agreed to pay 50 cents or more to help defray expenses of track team to Buckhannon please see that they "pay up" immediately. The Athletic Association would appreciate this deeply.

Chicago, May 23, 1912.

Dear Alumni:—

All of you that are interested in your old Alma Mater arrange to be at commencement, June 10 and 11, and help celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of Marshall College.

The former baseball players will play the regular team, and I trust everyone of the boys will be present. Come and bring a rooter.

Ball players please write me or Caldwell Riggs, Charleston, W. Va., captain,

As I was doing my best to entertain him, the little fellow broke in—

"Please tell me a story, Mr. Blank."

On hearing his request I said:

"Now, listen, Clary," I said—his name was Clarence Fitzherbert Alencon de Marchemont Caruthers—"and learn about George Washington."

"Who's he?" inquired Clarence.

"Listen," I said, "he was the father of his country."

"Whose country?"

"Yours and mine, and his. Well, one day George's father—"

"George who?" asked Clarence.

"George Washington. He was a little boy then just like you. One day his father—"

"Whose father?" demanded Clarence, who now seemed interested.

"George Washington's—this great man I am going to tell you about. One day George Washington's father gave him a little hatchet for a —"

"Give who a little hatchet?"

"George Washington. His father told him to be very careful with it and watch what he was cutting. Nevertheless, George went around cutting everything that he could reach. At last he came to a very fine apple tree, his father's favorite, and cut it down and —"

"Who cut it down?"

"George did."

"Oh!"

"But when his father came home he saw it the first thing."

"Saw the hatchet?"

"No, the apple tree."

"George's father asked all the men who were working for him if they knew anything about it, but they said they did not. While they were talking George came up and overheard them. On hearing the subject of the conversation, he immediately told his father, 'I did it father. I cannot tell a lie.' 'Noble boy, I would rather lose a thousand trees than have you tell a lie,' said his father."

"Said he'd rather have a thousand apple trees?"

"No, no, no; said he'd rather lose a thousand apple trees."

"Oh! You say George would rather have his father lie?"

After a short pause Clarence asked: "Is that all?"

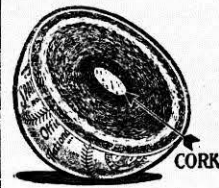

"Yes, that's all."

I am patient and love children, but if Mrs. Caruthers hadn't come and got her little boy when she did I believe I should have lost all patience. As they were going down the steps I heard Clarence say:

"That man told me about a boy who had a father named George and he told him to cut down an apple tree, and said he rather tell a thousand lies than cut down one apple tree."

To this his mother replied:

"You certainly must have got mixed up in the story. I shall have to tell it over to you when we get home."

The ball the players want; it increases their batting; they can throw more accurately and it is easier to handle.
