REV. LENTZ DELIVERS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS RELIGIOUS ADDRESS

New Trinity Reformed Pastor Gives Excellent Sermon on Meaning of Christmas

FINAL SERVICE OF OLD YEAR

The chapel sermon for the month of December was delivered by Rev. John Lentz '02 on Wednesday morning, December 19, the last day of classes preceding the Christmas recess. Rev. Lentz was recently elected to the pastorate of Trinity Reformed Church and to the position of college pastor.

Rev. Lentz based his address on St. John 1:1, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." He spoke on the preparations made for Christmas and asked, "Are we ready for Christmas?" What is the meaning of Christmas? It usually means presents and cards, snow and many good things to eat. When these are attended to we say we are ready for Christmas. But if this is the only preparation we make, the Christmas is a sorry day for us. How with such preparation can the appreciation of Christmas be true? For on Christmas the word God was made flesh so that we might understand him, because man cannot understand any word until it is made flesh.

Besides the idea of the revelation of God through the birth of Jesus, Rev. Lentz emphasized the glory and cleansing power of Christ's coming. Since Christ came into the world there is nothing common and unclean for all things are consecrated to his use. He was made like us but he himself made us and everything new. Through his touch the home, work, citizenship, and life have been glorified.

Religion was for many years considered as a preparation for heaven. Men did not care about life on earth. They separated their lives into tight compartments. Religion did not mix with commerce and politics. Religion and life were two different things. This is not Christ's conception of life for his ruling permeates everything. Our religion is insincere unless it affects our daily life. Men cannot worship God on Sunday and do as they please the rest of the time.

Christianity raises men above the world but it is meant to permeate life and raise it. The cardinal virtues

REV. TOMKINS TO TALK TO JOINT Y. M.-Y. W. C. A.

This Wednesday evening students of the College will have the opportunity to hear the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, of the Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia. Rev. Tomkins will speak before the joint Men's and Women's Christian Association in Bomberger Hall. Dr. Tompkins has been at the Church of the Holy Trinity since 1899 and is well versed in religious questions. He received his A. B. degree at Harvard in 1872 and his LL. D. from Temple in 1903. He is also the author of many religious books some of which are "The Christian Life," "Helps Toward Nobler Living" and "The Faith and Life of a Christian." Rev. Tompkins' speech will be of great benefit to the entire student body and both "Y" organizations hope for a fine turnout of their members to greet this prominent Philadelphia clergyman.

COLLEGE BULLETIN RELEASED

During the Christmas recess the quarterly publication of the College was released by the administration. It contained the reports of the President, Vice President, and Dean which were made to the fall meeting of the Board of Directors. A list of scholarships and endowments are found in the back of the bulletin. The next publication, given out on or near Founders' Day will be the regular college bulletin containing the courses offered, number of credits required and also a list of all students and their college location.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF LITERARY GROUP, THURS.

An important meeting of the Literary Group of the College will be held next Thursday evening, January 10, at 7:30 o'clock it was announced by Thomas Swanger, president of the organization.

Charter to be Closed

The purpose of the meeting is to close the charter for membership to the club and also to hear the report of the Constitutional committee and adopt, if possible, a constitution and by-laws for the organization.

Those who will be unable to be present at the meeting and who desire to be charter members are asked to hand their name, in writing, to one of the officers of the group before next Thursday evening.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS MARK FINAL EVENT OF OLD YEAR

Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. Sponsors of Banquets held in College Dining Halls

OFFER SEPARATE PROGRAMS

The final social event of the old year was the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Christmas dinners given to the men and women of the college respectively. The women of the school gathered in the upper dining room while the men assembled in the lower dining room on Tuesday evening, December 18.

Both programs reflected the Christmas spirit and were enjoyed by appreciative audiences. In the upstairs dining room the girls were seated by classes with each class having as their contribution to the evening's pleasure some original creation on their table which reflected the time of the year or some phase of college life. Mrs. Omwake extended a warm greeting to everyone present to open the dinner after which carols were sung. Mrs. Boswell favored the diners with an excellent rendition of "Silent Night, Holy Night" in German. Helen Reber, president of the Women's Student Government Association gave a short talk as did Dorothy Seitz who spoke of sportsmanship in athletics. Geraldine Ohl sang several numbers and Katherine Sanderson gave a parody on the "Night Before Christmas."

Meanwhile in the room below the men were having an evening's entertainment of their own. Following a prayer by Dean Kline, which opened the dinner, a few Christmas carols were sung and President Omwake extended his holiday greetings to the students. Mr. Saalman entertained with a solo while Messrs. Hipple and Stronck as a duet also rendered several numbers. Toasts were given by William Benner, James Donaldson, Warren Hess, and Howell Forgy, presidents of their respective classes. "Ted" Moore and "Chick" Hafer put on a special "act" as did "Jack" Wilkinson and "Dick" Snyder. Mr. Sheeder extended his season's best wishes to the men of the College and the feast was concluded with the singing of the Campus Song.

SWARTHMORE PARTY TO OBSERVE ECLIPSE

The Sproul Astronomical Observation of Swarthmore College will send an expedition to Sumatra, Dutch East Indies, next May, to observe a total eclipse of the sun. The party for the observations will be under the leadership of Dr. John Anthony Miller, professor of Mathematics and astronomy and director of the observatory.

The eclipse which is to be photographed and observed will take place on May 9 and is scheduled to last approximately five minutes and five seconds. Because of its length of duration it is one of the most important that has occurred in the last century. The phenomenon will be visible over a path extending from Sumatra thru the Indian Ocean to Siam and the Philippine Islands.

MONTG. COUNTY DANCE STARTS OFF NEW YEAR

Music for Annual Affair Provided by Ray Duffy's Ocean City
Pier Orchestra

SEVENTY COUPLES PRESENT

The first social activity of the new year was ushered in last Wednesday evening when the annual Montgomery County Dance, organized and conducted by students living in this county, was given in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium as an inaugural to the year's social program.

Ray Duffy's Ocean City Pier Orchestra furnished the music in capable fashion to some seventy waltzing couples which helped to make the affair a success. The decorations depicted an Eskimo scene with white streamers and icicles adorning the sides of the walls. The programs, too, were made up in unique fashion with a polar bear pictured standing on the top of ice-covered glaciers.

Dr. White and Mr. John W. Stock acted as chaperones while the dance committee was headed by Horace Godshall of Royersford with Geraldine Ohl, Rosa Trout, Evelyn Grander Robert Miller, and Warren Francis as assistants.

URSINUS DEBATING CLUB

A regular meeting of the men's Ursinus Debating Club was held the Tuesday afternoon before college closed, December 18, at 4 p. m. in Room 6. A debate was held on the question, "Resolved, that the American jury system be abandoned". Those who upheld the affirmative side of the case were David Schantz, Paul Schmoyer and Joe Citta while the negative, due to the loss of one man, was ably presented by Hyman Malewitz and Freeman Swartz.

The affirmative based their arguments on three main issues which they believed to be paramount, first, that the American jury system has outlived its usefulness and is no longer desirable. The second topic was that justice as it is carried on today is only a waste of the taxpayers' money. Many people have to forsake occupations which are more valuable to themselves as well as beneficial to the community in order to serve on the jury. The third argument of those in favor of abandoning the jury system was that no longer are cases tried on their merits but that justice may be easily bought and sold so that it is corrupt throughout and a change is needed which would be obtained through the one or three judge plans.

The negative, on the other hand, claimed that the jury system is democratic and was evolved to prevent autocracy and the domination of the higher powers. They also pointed out that it is the fundamental law of the land and the abolishment of this system would lead in time to the abandonment of other privileges held equally as sacred by the average American citizen. The negative concluded by saying that the jury system was inherently sound but that it is being misused in practice today.

A short informal discussion was held afterward in which all the members participated and then Coach Witmer pointed out the faults in reasoning and speech which had occurred.

NEW ORDER OF SERVICE

On assembling in Bomberger for chapel service last Thursday morning President Omwake announced that the order for morning religious service had been slightly altered. From now on there will be no interruption by announcements until the entire devotional program has been offered after which platform statements will be made and then the students dismissed.

HAUSER AND RAMBO OUTSTANDING STARS FOR LAFAYETTE

The Ursinus Bears opened the New Year in auspicious fashion by scoring a 30-27 sensational victory over the Maroon of Lafayette in what was as thrilling a contest as waged in the Easton court in many a moon. The Grizzlies invaded the lair of Leopards with fire in their eyes and determination in their heart and the pace set by Coach Kichline's men proved too fast for the Lafayette passers. The game was played last Saturday evening before a large throng of Lafayette rooters and a small handful of Ursinus followers on the former's floor.

1929 RUBY RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

Work Progressing in Fine Manner
Despite Late Start

ORDER YOUR COPY NOW

Although handicapped by a late start "Jim" Ioff states that the 1929 Ruby is coming along fine and will be off the press at the usual time.

The theme of this year's Ruby is centered around the campus and penciled sketches of the buildings on the grounds together with the men they were named in honor marks out the opening section of the annual.

Another innovation of the '29 Ruby will be individual snap-shots of all the seniors. These "snaps" will be placed below the regular sized picture of the graduating member.

The number of copies to be printed is limited and consequently the Business Manager is anxious to have the orders for the Ruby placed early.

GRIZZLIES HAVE TWO COURT GAMES THIS WEEK

The Bears have two more basketball engagements this week and both games will carry them into the same section of the country which was invaded last Saturday evening.

On Wednesday Coach Kichline's men will follow the same route which carried them to Easton last week but this time they will swing into action on the Bethlehem court where the Lehigh passers will be met. It is the first basketball contest between these two colleges for a number of years and bids fair to be an excellent scrap.

Saturday evening will find the Collegeville squad in the Allentown "Y" where the annual Muhlenberg game will be played. Those who remember the stirring games played in the last few years will vouch for the court rivalry which exists between the Bears and Haps Benfer's men.

The Frosh, idle since the Penn J. V. game, will come back into action Wednesday afternoon when they journey to Hill School, Pottstown, to meet the prep school dribblers. The contest is listed to start at 3 p. m.

KERMIT BLACK PICKED ON COACH HARMAN'S ELEVEN

In a recent issue of the Haverford News, the Haverford College weekly, Head Coach Harvey Harmon, gridiron mentor, selected his all-opponents' team made up of players who had opposed Haverford on the chalk-ribbed turf this fall. Kermit Black, Grizzly center, was named as the best defensive backer-up met by the Main Line school this year.

Harman says of Black, "The center post goes to a man who did not play center against us, but has since been turned into one. He was the best defensive backer-up we met all year and, when we played Ursinus he was at half-back (Ed. note—fullback). Black was shifted to an end and then to center where his weight and speed made him a crackerjack."

Haverford, it will be remembered resumed football relations with the Grizzlies after a lapse of several years and played on Patterson Field last fall in the second game of the season.

Led by Bozo Strine the Grizzlies sharpened their claws and started off with a bang. Lafayette began better, however, and soon had a 10-2 lead. Here it was that the long seige guns of Strine swung into action and four sizzling shots from the center of the floor evened the count. Lafayette found their scoring eyes, but the Bears held their lead. The half-time score was 19-15. In the second round, Lafayette picked up a little, topping Ursinus by one counter on the half's total of points, but in spite of the improvement the Bears held a three-point margin—more than enough to win. Although the game started with Ursinus playing the old favorite three-and-two defense, the final minutes found the Tricolor freezing the ball to prevent any chance scoring by the the opposition that might lower or wipe out their narrow lead. At one time during this stage of the game, two buckets by Rambo put Lafayette within an ace of winning or tying the game, but a long-distance heave by Strine from the center of the floor, and one successful keeper was getting ready to sound the gong locked the game up in the Athletic Club Frigidaire.

The foul shooting was "a very perfunctory piece of work." Lafayette carried off what honors there were in this department. The hosts of the evening netted five out of twelve tries for an average of .402, while the best the Bears could do was two out of nine, an average of .222. Serner and Strine were the miracle men for Kick's cohorts.

Strine Stars

Big Bob Strine showed that he could score as many points shooting baskets as at bridge. Five field goals, four in the first frame and one in the remaining chukker, mostly from the center of the uoor, and one successful foul shot gave him the undisputed scoring honors of the evening, an eleven-point total. Serner was runner-up with three twin-pointers and a Santa Claus shot, while Schink tied with Houser and Reaser of Lafayette for third honors at six-all. Houser and Rambo were the big shots for the losers. Rambo appeared only in the

TAKES TRIP TO FLORIDA DURING XMAS HOLIDAYS

Joe Citta '30, accompanied by his brother, Frank, and a student from Syracuse took a ten-day auto trip through the southern states to Florida during the recent Christmas holiday period.

Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville, Fort Meyers, and Palm Beach were some of the principle cities visited by the tourists. Joe reports Florida as being O. K. while weather conditions for making the journey were ideal.

FOOTBALL MEN HOLD BANQUET AT ATHLETIC CLUB

The 1928 Ursinus football team held their banquet at Highland Hall the Monday evening before the Christmas recess, December 17.

All of the gridders were present and heard speeches made by Coach Kichline, Captain Jeffers and Captain-elect "Randy" Helfrich who will pilot the Bears through the 1929 grid campaign.

Prof. W. W. Bancroft, Graduate Manager of Athletics, represented the Ursinus Athletic Council at the dinner.

The Tower Window

THIS COLUMN must be quite personal this week for it must serve to convey to a great number of students and alumni the thanks of Mrs. Omwake and myself for the beautiful Christmas greetings with which they remembered us. It certainly does warm our hearts to be reminded in this way that students of this and other days have a thought of those back at the old college when there are so many other interests and associations to engage their attention. As I write, the basket of cards is before me. Never were the Christmas greeting cards more beautiful. One wonders what to do with them, now that Christmas is over. They are too elegant and too much laden with sentiment to be cast away. More than the usual proportion are of individual design. Some bear pictures of home-scenes—houses, gardens, trees, doorways and window seats—the familiar haunts of those whose good wishes they bear. Others in picture or printed lines convey original sentiments. It would be fine to call the roll and say thank you, one by one, but space forbids. We sat by the fireside on Christmas evening and looked over them, pausing to note the characteristic of each card and in every case to have a thought—some pleasant memory, of the sender. Christmas card poetry is not always of the highest order, and much of it having been read once may be forgotten, but not so with these original verses from an old Summer Assembly friend:

"I do not ask to shun the beaten path of duty;
I only fear that in the way I lose the sense of beauty.
Lord, in the ceaseless humdrum round of daily life,
Filled with the insistent urge of toil and strife,
With cares that crowd and detail's drudgery,
Grant me a vision of the higher things."

We close by couching our wishes for all of you in the lines which bore the greetings of one of our students:

"May Christmas grant you a richer gift
Than its outward show of good cheer;
May the secret of all its gladness
Fill your heart with its light so clear;
May the warmth behind the good-fellowship,
The love in the friendly smile,
The good will to all—may these be yours,
For these are the gifts worth while."

CHOIR XMAS CONCERT

The traditional dawn concert of Christmas Music was presented by the College choir on Wednesday, December 19. A pleasing and varied selection of carols, quartette numbers, solos, and anthems appropriate to the season well repaid those hardy souls who ventured from their beds an hour before breakfast.

WEEKLY WITTICISMS

We know that you're just crazy to see this column again—crazy is the word. Anyone who bothers reading this must be ready for the asylum.

Of course, you're all just as crazy to get back to the good meals and beds around here, not to mention the lovely exams which will soon be with us.

Speaking of exams, (and how we hate to speak of them!) it seems that a strong feeling to abolish all of them, for the present semester, at least, was shared by the Dean, and several of the Department Heads. However, hearing this, a committee of students called upon the Dean last week and begged him to reconsider his decision, and allow us to take our exams, as was originally intended. It seems that the matter was laid before the Faculty, and that, after four hours of heated argument, they finally consented, though reluctantly, to grant us the boon of another series of exams. Thus was a great crisis averted. Lafayette's Leopards had a considerable number of their spots scratched off by the Bears on Saturday night. It was lucky that "Bozo" Strine didn't get his directions mixed, as did the poor guy in the Georgia-California football game, because the one basket was just as close as the other one.

Our books beckon with a loud voice, and since exams are so close at hand, we must heed their call. Cheer up—it will only be for several weeks, and then we can get back to normal.

P. S. Every faculty member swore out (dreadful!!) a brand new set of New Year resolutions. Every one from the President down to the head of the eats department took an oath (dreadful again!!!) that the interest of the poor students would be uppermost in their minds during the current year. More than that they resolved that we should have bigger and better vacations next year.

P. S. S. It also seems that a last-minute resolution was nobly made that no college student would be provided with a one-way ticket for their home town after the mid-years are over. What a blessing the year 1929 is going to hold in store for boys and girls of Ursinus.

MAIL BOXES ERECTED

Students on returning to college last Thursday were agreeably surprised to find that Uncle Sam had been busy during their absence and that Postmaster Rushong had fulfilled his promise to provide mail and parcel receptacles on the campus.

For a month or more Ursinus students have had their laundry kits brought up from the post office and now the complete service has been installed. Mail is collected on the campus at 6.30 a. m., 11, and 3 p. m. Letter boxes have been erected at Main and Glenwood avenue, Fifth and Main, Main and Sixth, down from Olevia Hall, and a large mail and parcel box has been placed in front of the college post-office and store.

Lights
that Fill the Skies with Commerce

THE air map of America is now in the making—on the ground.

Ten years ago, there were 218 miles of air mail routes with two station stops; to-day, a network of sky roads bridges the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Can you imagine this growth without electricity—without illuminated airports—without trunk lines studded with electric beacons?

Men of vision are building for increasing traffic of the air. Soon, the skies will be filled with commerce.

Just as electricity is helping to conquer the air, the land, and the sea to-day, so to-morrow it will lead to greater accomplishments in aviation and in every human activity.

A majority of the beacon lights used in airport and airway illumination have been designed and manufactured by the General Electric Company, whose specialists have the benefit of a generation's experience in the solution of lighting problems.

expedition to Beth Shemesh, Palestine the full academic year of 1929-1930 in order that the expedition might have opportunity for more extended excavations than those made last spring.

Diggings will be made this fall and the spring of 1930. The intervening rainy spell will be spent at Jerusalem in classifying the finds. If this plan is adhered to the expedition will uncover approximately three-tenths of the ancient city of Beth Shemesh. This together with what was uncovered by a British archaeologist fifteen years ago would leave more than half-finished the project which Dr. Grant hopes eventually to complete.

The expedition will be headed by Dr. Elihu Grant, professor of Biblical Literature. Leave of absence was given to Dr. Grant for must be put into practice. Man must have hope in his fellowman—a hope in heaven but also a hope for the coming of God's kingdom on earth. Religion now means making earth like heaven. Man must have love for God but with that a love for man which will bring all into a brotherhood of confidence and trust. If faith does not make life more holy there is something wrong with that faith. It is with the ideal ever before our eyes of the great and holy gift of God in making his Word flesh for man that we must make worshipful and sincere preparation for Christmas.

MANY COLLEGES IN MIDST OF BUILDING CAMPAIGNS

A number of colleges in Eastern Pennsylvania are either actively engaged in the construction of new buildings or are laying plans for such projects in the near future.

At Haverford College a dream of fifteen years will be fulfilled this month with the completion of the Samuel Hilles Memorial Laboratory of Applied Science which will house the Engineering department of the College.

Likewise, at Lancaster, Franklin and Marshall College is planning for the construction of a $240,000 Fackenthal Laboratory, the gift of Dr. B. F. Fackenthal, President of the Board of Directors. It will contain completely equipped modern biological and chemical laboratories.

Dickinson College will have their new Alumni gym ready by January 9th when the University of Pennsylvania will invade the Carlisle lair. Formal dedication of the building will take place during Commencement week next June.

Meanwhile Juniata College goes merrily on planning the layout and location for Langdon Field, their new athletic field while at the same time gifts of $25,000 and $10,000 respectively, are received for the erection of a dwelling for the college and faculty members.

At Temple, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, in whose honor Curtis Hall here at Ursinus was named, presented the university with a $500,000 check as a Christmas gift. Mr. Curtis, in all, has contributed $625,000 toward the building up of the college founded by Dr. Russell Conwell.

DEBATING ISSUE OF WEEKLY SENT TO SCHOOLS

The above debating cut is being reprinted from last week's issue of the Ursinus Weekly which was the special interscholastic debating number gotten up under the supervision of Prof. M. W. Witmer, president of the Ursinus Interscholastic Debating League.

The special number was sent out to all the high schools in the Ursinus League and contained much valuable information concerning the work of the debating league of which Ursinus is the sponsor as well as addresses made by various representatives at the annual conference held here in November. The meeting of the schools this fall marked the ninth annual conference of this type.

Each year the league gives out to the winners of the various sectional contests either a handsome silk banner or a beautiful bronze plaque, depending on whether the group is organized on a one or three year basis. Schools in Harrisburg, Reading, Easton, Lancaster, Lebanon and Norristown as well as many suburban districts near Philadelphia belong to the league.
