PLANS LAID FOR JUNIOR WEEK END, APRIL 27 & 28 PREDICT UNUSUAL EVENTS

Prom on Friday, Al. Quirk's Band Playing, with "The Patsy," Three Act Comedy, Sat.

TEA DANCE SAT. AFTERNOON

Final plans have been laid for the biggest week-end in a social way that Ursinus has ever had, the Junior Week-End, the dates of which are April 27 and 28. On Friday, April 27, will be the Junior Prom, and the following night the annual Junior Play will be presented.

The Junior Prom, from advance reports, is destined to far surpass any of the usual dances. Allan Quirk and His Band, of Pottsville, have been engaged to play. This organization has an excellent reputation throughout the East, and Quirk himself is a Keith vaudeville headliner, starring on all read instruments.

Prior to the Prom, the Junior dinner will be held in the main dining room. This function is for Juniors only; and the dance is open to Seniors, Juniors, and invited guests of the Junior Class. The rule concerning invitations will be strictly adhered to, and both dinner and dance will be positively formal. The patrons for the Prom will be: Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Omwake, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. S. Isenberg, Dean W. A. Kline, Dean Elizabeth Brett White, Prof. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McAllister. The committee in charge consists of Mary Cobb, Sara McGarvey, William Williams, Walter Spangler, and Russell Fox, chairman.

"The Patsy," a comedy in three acts, by Barry Connors, has been selected as the dramatic production to be given Saturday night. The cast is as follows:

Bill Harrington . . . Thomas Swanger
Mrs. Wm. Harrington . . . Jane Kohler
Grace Harrington . . . Elizabeth Howell
Patricia Harrington . . . Helen Wismer
Billy Caldwell James Poff
Tony Anderson Howard Schink
Sadie Buchanan Sara McGarvey
"Trip" Busty Jack Hartman

The play will be coached by Prof. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder. Tickets for the play may be procured in advance from James H. Brown or Irvin S. Leinbach, Ursinus College.

As a special divertissement, there will be dancing in the Field Cage on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5.

WOMEN'S SYMPHONY PLAYS IN GYM TUESDAY EVENING

The Women's Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia will give a concert in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Tuesday evening, April 17, at 8.15 p. m., under the direction of J. W. F. Leman.

It is the last number of the season in the Community Entertainment Course and by far the most important. The orchestra, which consists of more than sixty persons is a well-known musical organization with concerts that are of the best. It will be assisted by William Sylvano Thunder, the well-known teacher and pianist of the orchestra, and Piotr Wizla, baritone.

It is hoped that many students will take advantage of this great opportunity. No seats will be reserved—holders of reserved seat tickets can sit anywhere in the building and be assured that they will miss none of the music.

DR. OMWAKE SPEAKS IN MASS.

President George L. Omwake was the guest of honor on last Friday evening at the annual banquet of the Pennsylvania Society of Massachusetts held at Springfield. He was asked to speak on "Education in the Keystone State."

ONLY MEN TO COMPETE IN JUNIOR ORATORICALS

At a recent meeting of the Faculty it was decided to devote the entire evening of Friday in commencement week to an oratorical contest for men as in the earlier years. As the classes increase in size the number of candidates for the Hunsicker and Meminger prizes becomes larger. This action of the Faculty will give more young men of the Junior class a chance to compete.

At the same time it was decided that the prizes formerly offered to young women students in oratory shall hereafter be applied in pageantry. One prize will be offered for composition and another for acting. The prize for the best work in composition will be offered first next year, the pageant for the coming May Day having already been written. The prize for acting will be awarded first this year. It will be given to the player who in the opinion of the judges, best performs her part, whether it be a leading role or not.

DR. KLINE SPEAKS ON PLANTS TO BIOLOGY CLUB THURSDAY

Plant Life of Perkiomen Valley, Especially Real Flowering Plants
Able Discussed by Dean

LARGE ATTENDANCE

In the Biology Club meeting on Thursday evening, April 12, at 7.30, Dean Kline delivered an interesting talk on the plant life of the Perkiomen Valley. In his introduction, the Dean stated that he could not treat all the plants found in the valley, even in a general way, and that he would therefore speak particularly of the "real flowering plants." The names he used would be familiar rather than scientific, he said, in spite of his preference for the latter due to their much greater distinctiveness.

He opened his lecture with a discussion of the very early spring flowers, including skunk-cabbage and jack-in-the-pulpit, and then went on to speak of a long list of interesting flowers coming later in the spring. The orchids came in for special attention; in particular, the purple moccasin and its peculiar way of forcing insects to spread its pollen. The Dean pointed out that the sweet-sicily, a flavoring plant, and the poisonous hemlock are often confused, with the result that many children and cattle die of hemlock poisoning each year.

"We ought to all constitute ourselves a committee to preserve the trailing arbutus," he said, speaking of that little flower, "for it is being rapidly exterminated by careless pickers." In the course of his lecture, Dr. Kline revealed the fact that there are a number of rare plants which are rather abundant in this valley, one of the interesting ones being the red-seeded dandelion. He spoke at some length on the poisonous nightshades and the dangers they offer to farm stock, and, along the same line, touched upon the harmfulness of corn-cockle. He closed his talk by very briefly discussing summer plants, vines, and trees.

"APRIL FROLICS" TO BE GIVEN BY MAPLES FOR DORM BENEFIT

Another delightful little social event is being planned, this one by the girls of Maples for the benefit of the Women's Dorm fund. "April Frolics," they choose to call their little affair, and it will be held on Thursday, April 19, at 7.30 in the gymnasium. The evening promises to be of interest to all who profess any knowledge of spiritualism, as a Spiritual Seance will be one of the main features of the varied entertainment that is to be presented. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

WELL-EXECUTED DANCES FEATURE GYM EXHIBITION

Section B Wins Award for Best Work in Saturday Evening's Entertainment

CREDIT TO MISS EHRET

Several very interesting novelty dances featured the annual gymnasium exhibition on Saturday evening, April 14, in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

The girls' class, composed of freshmen, was divided into two sections, A. and B. which carried on competitive drills and gymnastics. The precision and co-ordination with which the various movements were carried out showed the result of Miss Ehret's well directed work.

The men's class under the direction of Robert Johnson, '29, gave an excellent exhibition on the horse and parallel bars.

The judges awarded the decision in the girls' drills to section B.

The program of events was as follows:

- Marching by Section A
- A Clown Dance
- Edith Rieber, '31
- Katherine Keplinger, '31
- Marching by Section B
- Dance—The Old Man
- Adelaide Conover, '31
- Dorothy Muldrew, '31
- Work on the Leather Horse
- By the Men's' Class
- Tumbling by Sections A and B.
- Flying Angels by Sections A & B
- Pyramids by Sections A and B.
- Parallel Bar Work
- By the Men's' Class.

TENNIS TEAM TO MEET THREE FOES THIS WEEK

The Ursinus tennis team will open the current season this week, when three matches will be played. On Wednesday, the Bear netmen cross racquets with the Villanova club, on the home grounds, on Thursday they journey to Haverford to match serves and drives with the Main Liners, while P. M. C. invades the Ursinus courts on Saturday.

All these matches will be stiff ones. Villanova opened their season by trouncing Temple last week, and hope to add one more to their list, Wednesday. Haverford and P. M. C. have veteran clubs, and are sure to make things torrid for Captain "Hust" Spangler and his boys.

On the other hand, stock in the local aggregation is at a high par at present. With practically the same combination as turned in such a successful season last year ready for service, followers of the net game look for another season just as good as last year's. Paul Lefever and "Hust" Spangler, luminaries of the Bear team, are rapidly rounding into shape. "Walt" Spangler and "Bill" Williams have also had match experience, and should give a good account of themselves. "Pete" Hipple will make a valuable addition to the squad as soon as he sufficiently recovers from his recent operation.

TWO COURTS TO BE RESERVED FOR USE OF TENNIS TEAM

With the opening of the tennis season, the new courts will soon be put into shape, probably this week. These courts are for the use of the entire student body, but the Tennis Committee requests that students refrain from using the two lower courts, as these will be reserved for the practice of the tennis squad. Students are also requested to stay off all the courts on the days of home matches while they are in progress. It is hoped that students will co-operate with the tennis team in these matters.

C. H. RUTSCHKY ELECTED HEAD OF YORK COUNTY ALUMNI

Charles H. Rutschky was elected president of the Ursinus College Alumni Association of York and vicinity for the coming year at the annual banquet and business meeting held in the assembly hall of the Heidelberg Reformed church, York, Pa. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Catherine Heindel Newham, secretary; and Samuel S. Laucks, treasurer.

Thirty-two alumni and friends sat down to the tables. An eight course dinner was served. The decoration scheme for the banquet hall was done in the College tri-colors, red, old gold, and black.

The guests of honor representing the College were: Dr. J. Lynn Barnard, of the chair of political science, and the Reverend J. M. S. Isenberg, vice president of the College. Both of them were introduced by the chairman of the evening, the Reverend W. Sherman Kerschner, pastor of the hostess church. The evening closed

1928 RUBY HAS FEATURES WHICH MAKE IT DIFFERENT

Drama Well-chosen as Art Theme, and Book Fulfills Purpose of Recording '28 Activities

DEDICATED TO PARENTS

The 1928 Ruby has been well described as "the Ruby of all times," for in appearance, in content and in genuine worth it surpasses the best that has yet been done in class annuals at Ursinus. Most fortunate was the staff in the selection of the art theme, for the dramatic touch everywhere in evidence throught the volume makes a distinct appeal to the imagination and lends itself admirably to the expression of the finest and best in the student mind.

The book abounds in clever touches, giving evidence of weeks and months of careful planning, and shows the guiding genius of a mind with a single purpose in view. That purpose, in the main, seems to have been to record the activities of the class of 1928, in relation to the other classes with which it came in contact, as it appeared upon the stage of Ursinus, faithfully played its allotted part and left its never-to-be-forgotten impression upon an ever-appreciative audience. One cannot help but express satisfaction with the exceptionally fine manner in which that purpose has been effected.

Although, for the most part, the book follows the arrangement of its predecessors, there are novel features introduced here and there which make the 1928 Ruby especially attractive. For example, instead of the usual dedication to an individual, there is a dedicatory tablet to "Our Mothers and Fathers." Then there is a message from President Omwake which is rich in its allusions to the historic drama and contains a wealth of sound advice which everyone might read with profit. There is also a good collection of "snaps" of individual actors and scenes from recent stage successes which will live for a long time in the memory of all; and there are likewise the clever drawings and art-

HELEN REBER, '29, PRESIDENT WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL

The annual Women's Student Council election was held Wednesday, April 11, and the following were elected: President, Helen Reber, '29; vice-president, Evelyn Cook, '30; secretary, Merle Williamson, '31; treasurer, Olive Sargeant, '29, Senior representative, Marie Markley, '29, Junior representative, Florence Benjamin, '30; day students, Elsa Garrett, '30.

JUPE PLUVIUS PUTS CRIMP IN BASEBALL AND TRACK OPENERS FOR BEARS, SAT.

Tossers Will Take on F. & M. Friday, While Cinder Path Artists Open With Temple

BOTH TEAMS SHOW STRENGTH

An unlooked-for rainstorm Saturday morning set back the opening of the Ursinus baseball season; and forced the cancellation of what would have been the first track meet to be held on the local speedway. This makes the second year running that the traditional opener with Osteopathy has had to be called off because of bad weather. Consequently the Bears will open their season away from home on Friday, April 20, when they will tackle F. & M. A strong Penn State aggregation will furnish the opposition on Saturday, April 21. Coach Veatch's proteges will be seen in action, barring more rain, next Saturday also, when the recently completed track will be inaugurated by a dual meet with Temple University.

Cold weather in the earlier part of the week, the shortness of time since the end of the Easter vacation, and the cancellation of Saturday's game make it difficult to forecast what the ball club will do in the coming season. The difference of a month or a week makes a whale of a difference in baseball. The Bears, however, have a veteran club, a goodly number having two years or more of varsity experience behind them. The infield will probably consist of Schink at first, the Hoagey-Bigley combination around the keystone sack, and Captain LaClair on third. Joel Francis, veteran of three years, Benner and Young are outfielders who will see much service. Mink, Place, and Riordan seem to have a tight grip on the hurling assignments. W. Francis, a sophomore, is slated to fill Mick Carl's shoes behind the bat, and Mink can don the mask in a pinch. What this outfit can do remains uncertain. Heavy opposition will be met in Penn State, Bucknell, and Penn in particular; but as has been said, the Bears have a veteran combination, and barring the weakness in the catching department, have a strong one at that. The sports department, however, will make no further predictions until the end of the season.

The track team will find a tough nut to crack in Temple, with whom they open the season next Saturday. Temple is bringing the reputation of having a strong team along with

Y. M. C. A. TO OPEN DRIVE TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

With the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year which took place last Wednesday evening the Y. M. also began an earnest campaign for new members. From that time on enthusiastic workers have been soliciting members for the organization in every hall upon the campus, and although the campaign continues until next Wednesday the results which have been obtained thus far are very gratifying to the new regime.

It should be needless to present this subject so urgently to the new students, yet many have not availed themselves of the opportunity of affiliating themselves with the Y. M. and it is to those that the new officers and present members of the "Y" are appealing.

The "Y" has fostered many campus activities during the past year, and it seeks better things in the future, but due to lack of funds, it is appealing not only for new members but also financial support. A budget has been made for the year 1927 and 1928 and appears as follows:

Editorial Comment

GREETINGS!

With this issue of the Weekly, a new staff goes into office. We wish to take this opportunity to greet our many readers. We realize that there is a tremendous job on our hands; the work of keeping a permanent record of the activities of a college for a year is in no wise an insignificant task.

There are several things that we hope to accomplish during the coming term in our newspaper work. First, and foremost, we plan to cover and record as thoroughly as we possibly can all happenings on the campus. Now and then, some event of or by Ursinus students or alumni would fail to reach our columns. This error, when it happens, is always irretrievable, and we hope that it will be entirely eliminated during the coming year, thus making the Weekly a reliable source of information on matters of college history. Many students have formed the really worth-while habit of religiously keeping all their copies of the Weekly, and having them bound after graduation. In years to come, should you chance to glance over the pages of any of our publications for the period from April, 1928, to April, 1929, we want you to feel that the whole staff was working with a single aim—to give you all the news.

In connection with the above thought, we wish to state that there is still room on the staff for several reporters. If you like newspaper writing, and have ambitions along journalistic lines, hand your name to any of the editors, and you will be given a chance.

Another thing we wish to do this year is to cause more wide-spread reading of the editorial column, and we can do this only by seeing that editorials are printed which you will want to read, and which will give you food for thought. While it is the general custom to have the editorials written by members of the editorial board, yet this is no hard and fast rule, and this column is open to all. We will not print editorials which are written as a personal grudge, but if you feel that you have an idea that is really vital and of proper editorial timber, write it down, or else suggest the idea to someone on the staff, who may be able to express your idea more in the orthodox style.

Another task that the new staff has taken upon itself is to supply the students with "fresh" news from other colleges. The many periodicals and newspapers which exchange copies with the Weekly will be taken to the Library soon after they are received, so that Ursinus students may read of the doings of their friends in nearby institutions.

You are probably saying by this time: "High ideals, but they won't last." That's just what we want to prevent—we want to see our paper getting better all the time, as it should. This cannot be accomplished alone by the staff, although they have an important role to play. In order to have a better Weekly we must have the whole-hearted interest and co-operation of every student, alumnus, and friend of Ursinus. With such support and backing, how can we expect anything but success?

SPRING SPORTS

With the advent of spring, the attention of all athletically-minded persons has been turned towards spring sports. This year, as never before in the history of athletics at Ursinus, there will be three teams of men competing in intercollegiate contests, and one team of women. As is generally known, tennis, track and baseball will occupy the attention of the men while the girls will be able to devote all their energies towards their tennis team.

There are several things which should be thought of in connection with sports. In the first place, they should be more universal. It is plainly the plan of the authorities in instituting a large number of teams to give many students a chance to represent their College in an athletic way. In this, there is a reciprocal benefit derived—the College derives the benefit of having the best athletes in each sport representing her, while the men and women on the teams derive the benefit in a physical way. There is room on the squads of all teams for a much larger number of players than are turning out. One of the best ways to keep out of trouble is to keep busy, and one of the best ways to keep busy is to go out for sports in the afternoons, leaving the evenings to intellectual pursuits.

Another consideration of the question of sports in general is this much-talked-of matter of support. As much as it has been emphasized, it can never be overdone. There is a time for everything—the time for studying on the days of athletic events is the evening, as has been already stated. The afternoons, if they are not occupied with active competition, should be utilized in the very essential pursuit of cheering and backing the team. Even those interested in the College from a purely educational standpoint are sufficiently broadminded to agree with that.

C. R. S., '29.

WEEKLY WITTICISMS

At last the "bridge hounds" got a chance to "strut their stuff" in public. The skill exhibited by many of the players, both male and female, shows the result of long hours of practice. But, as the mathematicians and physicists would put it, "the amount of knowledge along academic lines is inversely proportional to the amount of bridge played." That seems to be a plausible explanation for some of the lovely yellow cards that were floating about after the Faculty meeting last Tuesday.

Now that spring vacation has come and gone, we have a lot to look forward to with pleasure. Just think of it—final exams are less than two months away! Of course, there will be some minor matters, such as baseball games, track meets, dances, and plays, which we will be forced to attend, but what are they, compared to the solid and lasting joy of sitting in a hot room trying to remember all that the prof has been pumping into us during the semester? After much deliberation and hot argument, the Faculty has reluctantly consented to grant us the privilege of doing this, so it is with a joyful heart that we announce that there will be exams again this year.

Now let's talk about the weather. Some one once said that it must be very hard to start a conversation in Hawaii, where the weather never changes. However, that is not the case in Collegeville, where we had snow one morning and rain the following day. The rain on Saturday put a crimp in the "opening day" for Kich's boys. "Quel dommage!", as the Frenchman would say. It was whispered that the mayor of Schwenksville was to toss out the first ball. We're all sorry that we missed the chance of seeing His Honor.

We more or less expected to see some of the little Freshman girls out in the gutters in their bare feet during the rain on Saturday morning, having a grand old time. And cheer up, girls, rope jumping season is soon here! However, the latter activity is not usually confined to Freshmen, and sometimes not even to the undergraduate student body.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. was privileged to have as speaker on Wednesday evening Mrs. Katherine Condon Foster, who is a secretary of the Federation of Churches and interested in church work for girls.

Mrs. Foster's talk dealt with the many opportunities open to college girls for social service either during the summer or as life work. To some extent there is demand for college girls who can direct the recreational and religious activities among migrant canners in certain districts.

Most denominations have opportunities for their members to do work of this type during the summer, and some offer scholarships which can be used for the study and practical use of social service work in New York.

Mrs. Foster's talk opened many new fields to her audience and was greatly appreciated. The meeting was in charge of Catharine Witman, '30.

The Rev. Asher R. Kepler, '98, is the Executive Secretary of the General Council of the newly established Church of Christ in China. This represents the latest step in Organic Church Union in China.

The Tower Window

VARIOUS local alumni organizations have held successful banquets during the past few months. At these gatherings friendships are kept up and cordial relations promoted within the Ursinus household. To many these occasions have long since become annual events toward which they look with happy anticipations the year through and from which they bear away sentiments of cheer and aspiration which brighten the twelvemonth round of daily occupation that follows. Every possible encouragement should be given to these social gatherings just because of the good they do in the several localities in which they are held.

In the elementary school geography which I studied as a boy, there was a picture of a spreading tree—the Banyan tree, I think it was called—that grows somewhere on the face of this earth (I am far from an encyclopedia as I write this and cannot look it up) whose widely extending branches drop down here and there, rooting themselves permanently and thus returning a flow of vital energy back into the tree, helping to sustain the entire system. It seems to me that this illustrates very well what the local alumni branches are or ought to be with reference to the general alumni association and to the institution which it represents. Vigor and growth at the center, such as has characterized Ursinus, are causing the main trunk to branch out sturdily in all directions. These branches, fed from the center, develop permanence, root themselves, and in return send substance back into the system in the way of financial support and student patronage.

Conditions are more favorable in some places for the branches to take root than in others. In the latter some cultivation may help. For example, there is now a fairly heavy limb of the Ursinus tree stretching out across north Jersey to New York City where it should become permanently planted and become a part of the organic system. Are there not a few live twigs over there who will dip into the soil of Manhattan and establish a new center of life and influence for Ursinus by effecting a permanent organization in that city? Ursinus will never be all that it can be until it has an active alumni association heading up in New York.

The main strength of the independent colleges is in their alumni bodies. When all of our graduates come to understand this, Ursinus will grow faster than ever.

Y. M. C. A.

The officers for the coming term were elected at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday, April 11. As a result of the election Harvey Lytle, '29, was elected president; Elam Wiest, '30, vice-president; William Denny, '30, secretary; John Sando, '30, treasurer; Albert Thompson, '31, song leader. Richard Snyder, '29, was unanimously chosen pianist. The race for the important offices was close and shows that the Ursinus Y has many capable men fitted for the leadership of this important organization.

The influence of the Y during the term of Charles String, '28, and his associates has been greatly felt. During the meeting the accomplishments of the past year were called to mind and in the discussion concerning "the place of the Y. M. C. A. in Ursinus College" it was easily seen that this organization is necessary and should be supported. Under the new administration the membership drive begun at the opening of the school term will be continued with increased interest.

Bertram M. Light, '20, has resigned as principal of the high school at Hummelstown, Pa., the resignation taking effect April 1.

HARDY AND CONRAD SUBJECT OF ENGLISH CLUB MEETING

Two modern writers who have died recently were discussed by the English Club in an interesting meeting held Thursday evening at Glenwood. The first of them, Thomas Hardy, was considered in two papers. The first, on his life and works, was written by Marjorie Traves, '29, and contained an able summary of these interesting topics. The second, on his poetry, was read by Marie Markley, '29. Beside a critical discussion of Hardy's poetry, Miss Markley read a poem of his that gives his opinion on capital punishment, and one of the numerous poems written at the time of his death.

Margaret Stocker, '29, read a paper on the life and works of Joseph Conrad, whose career on the sea and as a writer, as well as style have caused him to be one of the most interesting characters in the modern literary world.

Dr. Smith's talk on these two men added interesting details to what had already been given about them.

ALUMNI NOTES

The following Ursinus graduates head departments in the new Reading Senior High School: Samuel P. Dietrich, '98, Head of Commercial Department; William L. Fink, '15, head of English Department; Clara M. Deck, '12, head of the History Department. Horace L. Custer, '09, heads the Southern Junior High School. Mrs. Howard U. Miller, '05 (Bertha E. Shipe) is Vice-President of the Reading School Board.

Clarence E. Toole, '08, superintendent of schools at Lehigh, has been recently chosen superintendent of the schools at Pottsville at a salary of $6,000 per year. After graduating from Ursinus, Mr. Toole received the diploma in Educational Administration and the A. M. degree from Teachers' College, Columbia University, and today he is very well known in educational circles in Eastern Pennsylvania. He brought the Nesquehoning schools to a high state of efficiency and it was his noteworthy work that attracted the attention of school authorities of Lehigh, who made him a substantial offer. It was his outstanding ability in rehabilitating the Lehigh schools that was his best recommendation, and brought about his appointment to the Pottsville schools. The Weekly extends its congratulations to Mr. Toole upon his rapid advances in the field of his chosen profession.

Ruth E. Eppheimer, '27, has been elected Assistant Supervising Principal of the Lower Alsace School District, Reading, Pa.

Rudolph Glocker, '27, is a typhoid patient at his home in Graterford. For the past term "Rudy" has been teaching chemistry in the Conshohocken High School and studying Law at the Temple Night School.

Here's some "inside stuff" on smoking

SOMEWHERE in the neighborhood of your center of gravity there's a spot devoted to smoke appreciation. We could describe it more fully, but this is no organ recital. The point is: Light a Camel, pull in a fragrant cloud of cool joy—and listen to your smoke-spot sing out—"Haleelooya!" As the noble redskin puts it—we have said!

1928 RUBY HAS FEATURES WHICH MAKE IT DIFFERENT

icles in the "Features" section that add the needed touch of humor. Nothing is objectionable or designed to hurt the feelings of anyone.

An explanatory page is included, which describes the art motif used in the book. This is most enlightening. It helps one to understand and appreciate the various designs and etchings that appear. The blank pages provided at the end of the volume for Class Day and Commencement mementos are a commendable innovation.

All in all, the 1928 Ruby must be accorded a place of honor in the library of Ursinus Annuals and its striking cover will add a distinctive note to the constantly increasing collection. To Editor-in-Chief Fitzkee and his loyal staff, as well as to Business Manager Lackman and his helpers, the congratulations of the entire Ursinus family are due.

them, and Coach Veatch's boys will need every point they can get. Captain Newcemer, Roth, and Ohl are sprinters with much experience, and Dulaney, a freshman, is showing up well in the quarter mile. Gavin and Black, who distinguished themselves in the Conference Freshman Meet last year, should give good account of themselves in the field events. Alden, Davies, and Fertig, with Keller, first Bear to finish in the Conference Cross-Country Meet, will run the distance events. Coach Veatch has a wealth of material, but much of it needs development. The Bears have every prospect of putting out a good track team in the future, something which because of poor facilities, Ursinus has never had before.

SKILL

THE twist of the wrist, the "throw" of the arm, the shifting of the weight—these are among the many little points which make the skill that you admire in the javelin thrower as he hurls the shaft two hundred feet or more.

of an inch here—a minute variation in a curve there—slight changes foreseen by engineers and carried out by skilled workmen.

As on the track or the football field, in the gymnasium or on the water, so in industry progress is the result of fine improvements—a thousandth

It is this attention to detail that is constantly improving General Electric apparatus and contributing to the electrical industry, which, though still young, is already a dominant force, increasing profit and promoting success in every walk of life.

Whether you find this monogram on an electric refrigerator for the home or on a 200,000-horsepower turbine-generator for a power station, you can be sure that it stands for skilled engineering and high manufacturing quality.
