URSINUS HOST TO MONTG. COUNTY PUPILS AT FOURTH ANNUAL MAY FETE SATURDAY

Competition Waxes Keen as More
Than Twelve Hundred Children
Vie For Honors

3,000 VISITORS ON THE CAMPUS

At seven thirty on Saturday morning, May 5, children began to arrive on the Ursinus campus from all sections of the county all set for the fourth annual May Festival. Bus after bus and auto after auto appeared each bearing its happy cheering load of boys and girls all dressed up for the occasion with spirits running high. By noon the campus was a scene of young America at its best. It is estimated that more than three thousand visitors trod the grounds of Ursinus.

The teachers and school officials from the eighty three competing schools assisted by members of the college and of the Amateur Athletic Union ran off the events in an orderly manner beginning at 9.30 and continuing late in the afternoon.

The first floor of Bomberger was given over to exhibits of the Home Economics, Farm Shop and General Shop groups. The art and commercial work of the various schools was on display in the room on the second floor.

The morning was occupied with the elementary schools competing in athletic events on the field while the older ones were busy seeking scholastic honors indoors. Singing contests were held in the gym while the main auditorium of Bomberger was given over to individuals who were endeavoring to capture honors for the schools they represented in declamation. Typewriting and spelling contests were held in class rooms, with members of the Ursinus faculty in charge. At the close of these contests the Home Economics pupils presented a fashion show.

At noon activities were suspended for a short time while the crowd sought sustenance from lunch boxes and the refreshment stands conducted at various places on the campus by the kitchen, Junior class and the Women.

GIRLS PREPARE FOR PAGEANT

Under the direction of Miss Errett the various groups are practicing daily in preparation for the annual May Day pageant to be presented on the Athletic Field Saturday, May 12, at three o'clock (daylight saving time). The theme is somewhat different this year being a story of the sea. Miss Elizabeth Harter '28 will preside over the ceremonies with Miss Helen Lucas '28, Josephine Riddel '29, Katherine Sanderson '30 and Mary Conety '31 as her attendants.

BIG LEAGUE STARS TO PLAY IN ANNUAL ALUMNI GAME

"Dok" Kerr, the Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Ursinus College baseball, promises to bring back in this year's annual Alumni hegira to the Mecca of the Ferkiomen Valley one of the greatest baseball teams which ever wore sliding pads. All the stars from yester year who have since been clothed in uniforms given to them by big leagues will be back to give Kichline's proteges a lesson in the national pastime. Names such as 'Jing' Johnson, '16, Jack Mitterling '14, Eddie Faye '24, 'Dok' Kerr, '16 all have appeared in the payroll of major league teams. In addition to these you will see 'Ike' Isenberg '21, 'Speaker' Moser '21 playing in the garden, and 'Limpin' Limerick' Joe Cannon '22 will do duty at the hot corner.

If the bleachers aren't filled by the promise of this aggregation, we will promise you more in this column next week.

URSINUS TENNIS TEAM WINS TWO AND TIES TWO

G-burg and Moravian Defeated; Split
Even With Leb. Valley and Temple

SPANGLER AND LEFEVER STAR

Winning two matches and tying two more was the net result of the tennis activities of the Bear netmen during the past week. The team started out in a whirl-wind fashion by winning all six of the matches played with the Gettysburg team on their own courts. On Tuesday the boys split six thrilling matches with Temple on the home courts. After a day's layoff, the Bears entertained Moravian and gave them a 4-2 lacing, then finished the week's activities on Saturday by splitting with the Lebanon Valley team at Annville.

Although the score with Gettysburg would indicate that the match was very uninteresting, this fact was not so. Most of the matches were intensely interesting throughout. Hood, of the opposing team, played excellent tennis in extending his second set with Paul Lefever to sixteen games.

Singles: Lefever, Ursinus, defeated Hood, Gettysburg, 6-2, 9-7.
Spangler, Ursinus, defeated Miller, Gettysburg, 6-1, 6-1.
Williams, Ursinus, defeated Crunlund, Gettysburg, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.
Poley, Ursinus, defeated Koch, Gettysburg, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.
Doubles: Lefever and Spangler, Ursinus, defeated Hood and Miller, Gettysburg, 7-5, 6-1.
Williams and Poley, Ursinus, defeated Crunlund and Koch, Gettysburg, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

In the Temple game, Pete Hipple signified his return to the team by defeating his opponent in two straight sets. Hipple had been unable to play before because of his recent operation.

JUNIORS WIN CLASS MEET BY NARROW MARGIN FRIDAY

Winners Garner 47 Points; Frosh
Close Behind with Total of 44
NEWCOMER HIGH SCORER

The first Inter-class Track Meet to be staged at Ursinus in a decade or so was run off on Friday, May 4. The Juniors, led by Dick Newcomer, high scorer of the meet, headed the list with 47 points. The lowly Frosh raised their heads high and scored a close second with a total of 45. The other two sister classes were equally close together, the Seniors knocking down 23 tallies and the Sophomores 20. The meet was really not decided until the last event was ended. Newcomer, Jeffers, and Keller may be said to make up the Junior team, the three of them scoring 38 points out of the team total of 47. The Frosh had their points more evenly distributed: four firsts, six seconds, and eight third places. The Seniors and Sophs each had two five-pointers, their other points being scattered.

Newcomer, with seventeen points, was high man of the meet, and thus wins the Athletic Council's medal. Lackman was second highest scorer of the meet and high man of the Senior team. His total was thirteen. Kuntz, Gavin, and Metcalf, with five points apiece, were highest scorers for the Sophs, and McBath, with ten, led the Frosh.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY GROUPS, COUNCILMEN BY JUNIOR CLASS

A meeting of the Modern Language Group was called on Wednesday, May third, by the president, Miss LaRue Wertman '28 for the purpose of electing group officers for the coming year. The results of the elections were: President, Florence Shoop, '29; Vice-President, Katherine Sanderson, '30; Secretary-Treasurer, Grace Kendig '31.

At a meeting of the English-Historical group held Tuesday in the English room the following officers were elected for the coming year of 1928-29: President, Pauline Thompson; Vice-President, Jane Kohler; Secretary-Treasurer, Evelyn Lake.

At a special meeting of the Webster Forensic Club, the following officers were elected: Charles Keller, '29, President; Harold Martin, '30, Vice-President, and Roland Newhard, '29, Secretary-Treasurer.

The following men were elected as Senior representatives to the Men's Student Council, at a meeting of the Class of '29, held last Friday: Schink, Robbins, Jeffers, Cook, and Keller.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT THURSDAY

On Thursday evening, May 10, at eight o'clock the annual glee club concert will be given in the Thompson Gay Theater under the direction of Miss Jeanette Hartenstine. This will be the first time the men's and women's clubs have given a combined program and all music lovers will find a real treat in store for them. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

STATE EDUCATOR SPEAKS

Visual education as a time saver, to enrich and vitalize instruction and to give to the pupil correct ideas and concepts, was the theme of Dr. Hoben's illustrated lecture in Bomberger Hall, Wednesday evening, May 2.

Dr. Hoben who represents the State Department of Education, was introduced by Dr. Barnard.

Dr. Hoben used slides and other material to show the value of visual education in all subjects in the school curriculum. He gave a brief outline of the Department of Public Instruction's work in visual education.

LEBANON VALLEY GAME CALLED IN EIGHTH, WITH SCORE 3-3

Lebanon Valley

After leading for seven innings Ursinus weakened in the eighth and a Lebanon Valley uprising accompanied by a violent wind storm enabled the Annville ball tossers to knot the count at 3-3 when rain halted the contest. The game was played on the Lebanon Valley diamond last Saturday.

Bears Lead

The Bears went out in front in the first inning scoring one run. Two more were annexed by Kichline's men off the slants of Zapia in the third frame. From then on, however, the Grizzlies were kept away from the home plate.

Mink, in the meanwhile, was hurling in fine fashion for Ursinus and it was not until the fifth inning that the Annville sluggers dented the rubber for their first marker.

The teams went into the eighth with the Bears still holding a 3-1 advantage. In the home half of this innig Lebanon Valley came in to bat under dark, rain-laden clouds, with a stiff wind blowing across the diamond. Conditions seem to have been favorable and they proceeded to pound out two runs to tie the score at 3 all. Before the final inning could be com-

Swarthmore

Coach Ronald Kichline's apple-crashing Grizzlies opened their home baseball season last Monday afternoon on the Commons Ball Field with a rollicking 17-6 victory over Swarthmore in a weird game of the national pastime.

Bears Hit Hard

Ursinus had little difficulty in solving the shoots of a corps of Garnet twirlers and blasted out seventeen solid smacks, six of which were of extra base variety. The Little Quakers were also long on extra base bingles having a brace of triples to their credit while the lone homer of the game—a Ruthian clout far over Bill Moyer's head in left—was a mighty blow and a four-bagger in any open field, and went to McCook.

"Scoop" Hoagey was again the heavy hitter of the fracas, contributing a triple, double, and two singles to the game. Captain LaClair and Moyer each poled out three safe taps while the Francis brothers and "Pep" Young hit safely on two occasions. McCook led the Swarthmore batters with three safe swats.

Place was Kichline's pitching selection and the big Fairview lad hurled a fine game for the first four innings. In the fifth, however, he weakened and the Garnet chased four markers across the plate, boosting their total to six, within one of tying the count. This was the closest the visitors came to scoring as "Bozo" Strine, who relieved Place at the start of the sixth held the Quakers scoreless in the remaining four frames while his teammates were piling up a large lead.

Ursinus made a good start by scoring twice in the opening stanza. pleted or the game decided rain put an end to the contest.

ENGLISH CLUB MEMBERS DISCUSS RECENT DRAMA

Recent drama formed the topic of discussion at the English Club meeting at South Hall Tuesday evening. "The Royal Family" by Edna Ferber and George Kauffman was the subject of a paper by Mary Cobb, '29. This play is built in an interesting way around the lives of the Drew and Barrymore families, so well known in American dramatic circles.

Another play of recent importance, "Craig's Wife" by George Kelly, was discussed by Mary Weiss, '29. This is an able presentation of the woman who is devoted to her house above all other things and her final need for human sympathy.

The contrast between plays and their moving picture versions was pointed out by Ruth Von Steuben, '28. Her paper also discussed the future of the "movies" as contrasted with the legitimate drama.

Dr. Smith spoke of the decline in professional acting as opposed to the increase in amateur productions in the last few years. He also commented in a very interesting manner upon other recent tendencies in dramatic affairs.

OLEVIAN PLANS NOVEL FETE

Olevian Hall is preparing a novel affair in the form of a Lawn Fete to be held on the campus on Friday evening, May 11. Music, cards, and other novelties will be found among the entertainment features. It is rumored that homemade cake will be served with the ice cream and strawberries. The proceeds of the event will be applied to the Women's Dorm Fund.

Dear Mothers:
Saturday, May 12, will be Mothers' Day at Ursinus College. All mothers of Ursinus students are especially invited to spend the day at the College. The earlier part of the day may be spent in visiting among the students and looking over the buildings and grounds. In the afternoon the young women of the College will present the May Day Pageant.
Each Mother accompanied by her son or daughter is invited to our Mothers' Day Dinner following the Pageant in the new upstairs dining room in Freeland Hall. Each student entertaining his or her mother will be given a ticket which will admit her to the dinner as a guest of the College. Fathers and other gentlemen visitors will be served dinner in the downstairs dining room at the regular price.
Looking forward with happy anticipation to the presence of many Mothers on our campus on May 12, I am
Sincerely yours,

MOTHER'S DAY

The second Sunday in May has been set aside, nationally and internationally, as "Mother's Day." to be celebrated in some fashion showing regard for mothers. The first observance was in remembrance of a Mother who had passed on, but as the idea grew it was extended to mothers in general. All churches, irrespective of creed, have come to celebrate this day and to pay tribute to all mothers, those who are living and those who have gone on. The day is especially observed by some distinct act of kindness or remembrance. It is the occasion for sons and daughters to express their filial gratitude by visits to the family shrine to perpetuate home ties. When for some material reason such a visit is impractical, a letter or some token of remembrance conveys the loving thoughts to Mother. Carnations are the symbols of the day and these flowers carry with them the deepest sentiments of affection.

Although on this day some of us find our thought carried into the great beyond we can pay tribute to another Mother. The more fortunate of us, bearing a true affection for Mother will be only too glad to share her love. In some small way or another each one can express his appreciative regard for her infinite patience, wisdom and understanding of the ways and thoughts of youth.

Ursinus is going to show her appreciation in a small way when she throws open her gates to the mothers of her students on May Day. Perhaps your mother has been here before but with a special day set aside for her she will eagerly realize a hidden desire to see the life carried on by her sons or daughters and to mingle with their friends seeing for herself the activities, places and people which she has tried to visualize. Much sacrifice and worry of all kinds have been involved, perhaps, in sending us to college and now we are given an opportunity to show the fruits as revealed in our life on the campus. On "Mother's Day" we can show her "our Ursinus" with its campus and new buildings; we can introduce our friends; we can give her a glimpse of our activities in the May Day pageant. The climax of the day will be reached when the sons and daughters assemble with the mothers as guests to participate in the first "Mother's Day" dinner. Here we find an opportunity to "put our creed into our deed" and give a true picture of our life to someone who cares.

The College has already extended the invitation to the mothers but with your personal emphasis each one can help make "Mother's Day" a success.

TARDINESS

One of the most persistent evils existing on the campus of not only Ursinus, but of colleges throughout the country today, is this obnoxious habit of tardiness. That this is a real evil, and not the superficial imagining of the editorial brain, may be easily seen by the consideration, for a moment, of the fact that the only activities on the campus that take place at the scheduled hour are classes and meals.

Whenever any dramatic or musical production is being staged, it begins from fifteen minutes to one half hour after the designated time. The situation has become so bad that the audiences to these functions have adopted the custom of arriving late, knowing that in so doing they will still miss none of the program.

This situation finds another example in the numerous rehearsals and small group gatherings that take place from time to time. It is safe to say that they never begin at the appointed hour. Even the athletic contests of late have been getting away to a late start.

The chief blame for this condition lies with the persons who have in charge those gatherings which have just been mentioned. If they should adopt the worth-while habit of eliminating tardiness and start promptly, they would soon discover that the people who make up their audiences would begin coming at the set time, knowing that if they did not do so, they would miss something.

It is not a mark of distinction, nor is it proper etiquette to persist in tardiness. On the contrary, we may say that it is distinctly not the proper thing to do, and gives the College a very undesirable "back-woods" atmosphere.

This habit of promptness is a good and useful habit into which to fall. We smile at and condone tardiness here in our own little world, but when we get into the broader world of life, we will find that we are going to miss a lot of what is going on about us unless we "get there" on time.

WEEKLY WITTICISMS

At last Old Sol has consented to favor us with his presence. About the only people who regret this are those unfortunate opponents of the baseball and tennis teams.

Judging from the season's first three games, it looks as if the baseball team is out to score more points than the football boys did. Forty-nine runs in three games isn't at all bad, is it?

Co-ed (at her first baseball game): "What did that fellow just do?"
 Escort: "He stole third base, and now he's stealing home."
 Co-ed: "I should think he'd feel ashamed of himself for stealing that base, and want to steal home without anybody seeing him."

Now that spring has apparently come to stay, we may soon see the lusty oarsmen out on the Perk indulging in crew practice. Some of the experts graduated last year, but there are still enough left to make the race for the single sculls title a close one.

The heaven's blue is like a dome,
 The birds are soaring high;
 Spring poets always write poor poems,
 And so do I, do I.

Now that we're waxing poetical, its about time to quit. However, we must tell one joke to save the column from being a failure again. This one is about the Ursinus student who dreamed that he was eating a steak in the dining room, and awoke to find his shoes ruined.

URSINUS COLLEGE proposes to throw open her doors to alumni and friends at the coming commencement. At the last commencement season our visitors found us in the early stages of an extensive program of building and campus improvement. This year they will find this program finished or in the final stages of its completion. There will be much that will have been unchanged—enough to insure a feeling of familiarity to all old-timers. The same broad acres of shaded campus are here, the beautifully arched portal of Bomberger—"a perfect arch" as Professor Samuel Vernon Ruby used to style it—bids you enter as in the days of yore, the well-worn threshold of Old Freeland, awaits once more familiar footfalls, the giant oaks that shaded virgin forest before a school was ever dreamed of at this place and that have stood guard over every generation of students from the time of the Todds until now, lacking one—a victim of last summer's tornado—will hail the coming of all, Freeland Seminary boys and Ursinus lads and lassies alike.

The meeting of the "Y" last Wednesday evening was well attended in spite of the fine evening, and sports enticing to the outdoors. Those attending were well rewarded with an unusually interesting program. Past president Charles String occupied the chair for the last time and formally introduced the newly elected officers in the course of the evening.

Malcolm Barr and Wm. Denny shared in the conduct of the religious exercises and the singing respectively. Bill Saalman obliged the audience by singing two baritone solos with piano accompaniment by Dick Snyder. The chairman then introduced the first speaker, Prof. Sheeder who in his years as a student at Ursinus had been an active member and officer of the campus "Y."

The chairman then presented his successor in the office of president of the "Y" and asked the members to grant him their whole-hearted co-operation. Harvey Lytle pointed out that the usefulness of any worthwhile organization is determined by the attitude its members take towards it. He requested the members not to let their support of the new officers end with giving them their votes, but to substantiate their confidence by active co-operation.

The Rev. Dr. Jenny, head of the "Y" activities on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania, and well known at Ursinus from last year's Week of Prayer, spoke last. He emphasized the importance of such gatherings as the Christian Fellowship Conference at Green Lane, Pa., next June as means of furthering modern and Christian thinking. Reflecting briefly on several of the speakers engaged and on their achievements in their respective fields, Dr. Jenny concluded with an appeal to the members to avail themselves of this singular opportunity in large numbers.

At the same time there will be added acres of greensward including our magnificent new athletic grounds, three beautiful new buildings and a splendid addition to the old dormitory group in the new dining room, a half-mile of new hard road and an almost equal stretch of new amiesite walks—the latter on condition the weather and our contractor co-operate with us in pushing these improvements on to completion. It is important that our alumni and friends should see these new features for they must come to think of Ursinus in her larger aspects.

There will be the usual program of events with a few extra features all of which will be announced in due time. The Ursinus Women's Club, the Alumni Athletic Club, the Parent Patron's Association and the General Alumni Association are co-operating in well-laid plans to make commencement week attractive to all.

The following classes are scheduled for reunions this year: '78, '83, '88, '93, '98, '03, '08, '13, '18, and '23. Those of the years between will find many friends of their student days here to greet them. G. L. O.

I DON'T doubt it, nor do I wonder why. Just open a tidy red tin and get that full fragrance of Nature's noblest gift to pipe-smokers. Then tuck a load in the business-end of your old jimmy-pipe.

Now you've got it—that taste—that Lead-me-to-it, Gee-how-I-like-it taste! Cool as a condition. Sweet as making it up. Mellow and satisfying. Try this mild, long-burning tobacco, Fellows. I know you'll like it.

Swarthmore Game

Hoagey led off with a single and W. Francis sacrificed him to second. Ted LaClair grounded out, third to first, Hoagey taking third on the play. Young singled, scoring Hoagey and he scored a moment later on a one base blow by Ted LaClair.

In the third the Bears boosted their total to seven. Triples by Hoagey and Moyer, Bigley's single, a base on balls and several errors provided the necessary locomotion.

From then on it merely became a matter of seeing how many runs could be chased across the platter with Swarthmore never threatening to take control of the situation.

The various high schools were striving with all their might and main to out run, out jump, and out distance their rivals. At the close of the events suitable trophies, banners, medals, and ribbons were awarded in the Auditorium of Bomberger hall to the winners of the various contests.

Osteopathy

The Grizzlies continued their mad pace last Wednesday afternoon by walloping Osteopathy 17-0 in what was advertised as a baseball game but degenerated into a half-holiday rout. The massacre was staged on the Commons field with a goodly number of bloodthirsty spectators in attendance.

"Reds" Goes "Hot"

The most satisfactory feature of the game was the superb hurling of John Riordan, the High Bridge Highballer. Riordan was Kichline's starting hurler and after getting out of a hole in the first inning he was invincible. Only three hits were made off the Sophomore's delivery and these were well scattered, one coming in the first, another in the second stanza and the last, a mighty triple by Corwin, in the seventh frame failed to produce any markers as the Philadelphia player was thrown out coming into home on an attempt to make a complete swing of the paths. "Reds" had also ten strikeouts to his credit.

Although the Bears were a little late in starting to manufacture tallies once underway Ursinus players clicked over home plate in a constant parade. The seventh was the big inning for the Grizzlies, eight runs being chased across the platter. In all the Ursinus sluggers garnered nineteen hits for a total of thirty-two bases.

Lloyd Hoagey again led in the stormy batting session, crashing out a triple, double, and three singles at five times at bat. The Perkasio athlete scored four times and pilfered two sacks to make it an all-around good day. Bud Francis came next both in batting order and number of solid smacks. The bespectacled catcher of the Bears hit safely on four occasions, walked and also had a sacrifice. The long distance honors go to Pep Young who blasted out two homers for his afternoon's contribution. Young's four ply blows came in the third and seventh. It was in the seventh when Bill Moyer duplicated his teammate's achievement by circling the paths on a long blow to left center.

When Dad was a "Modern Youth"

BICYCLES, stereopticon lectures, and the "gilded" youths with their horses and carts; at night the midnight oil burning in student lamps while the gas lights glared and flickered across the campus—the gay nineties when Dad was in college seem primitive to us to-day.

Now it's sport roadsters, the movies, and radios. At night the MAZDA lamp replaces the midnight oil in dormitory rooms, while modern street lighting sheds its friendly glow over the campus.

Without electricity we would have none of these improvements. To-day's marvel of electrical invention becomes to-morrow's accepted utility. In the coming years, by taking advantage of new uses of electricity you will be able to go so much farther that the "tearing twenties" will seem just as primitive as the "gay nineties".

Scientists in the research laboratories of the General Electric Company keep G.E. a leader in the field of electrical progress. Skilled G-E engineers develop each latest invention. The G-E factories carry out the engineers' designs with high-quality material and expert workmanship.
