TENNIS SQUAD CLOSES SUCCESSFUL SEASON BY TRUNCING DREXEL, 5-1

Resume of Campaign Credits Net
Men With 6 Wins, 4 Defeats,
3 Ties.

H. SPANGLER, LEFEVER STAR

With a record of three consecutive victories, the Ursinus racquet team closed the present season by conquering Drexel on the home courts last Monday. The Bears ended the season in a blaze of glory by defeating the visitors in five out of the six matches played.

The matches had originally been scheduled for the preceding week but rain caused them to be postponed and to finally be played on the following Monday. In spite of the fact that the weather on Monday was not of the approved type for tennis, the matches were well played and were a fitting climax to the season's achievements.

Singles: Spangler, Ursinus, defeated Burkholder, Drexel, 6-2, 5-7, 6-1.

Lefever, Ursinus, defeated Brandt, Drexel, 6-2, 6-2.

Hipple, Ursinus, defeated Kingdom, Drexel, 6-3, 6-1.

Appulsehnitz, Drexel, defeated Cook, Ursinus, 6-2, 6-3.

Doubles: Spangler and Lefever, Ursinus, defeated Burkholder and Brandt, Drexel, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Hipple and Cook, Ursinus, defeated Kingdom and Appulsehnitz, Drexel, 6-1, 7-5.

The results of the racquet season this year have again proved the strength of the Ursinus tennis teams. The record stands at six victories, four ties, and three defeats. Two of the bright lights of the present campaign were the defeat of our ancient rivals, Gettysburg and Muhlenburg. Gettysburg was vanquished in all six

All Alumni who have uniforms and shoes are urged to bring them with them so as not to overtax the property custodian at the College.

If the weather is clear and the whole nine innings are played every Alumnus will be given a chance to play at his favorite position.

WILLARD MOHR MOYER—VALEDICTORIAN

Above is Willard M. Moyer, of Quakertown, Pa., better known on the gridiron, basketball court and diamond as "Wild Will." He is another one who disproves the theory that athletics and scholarships do not mix well. Besides being valedictorian of the Class of '28, Willard heads the list of the present Senior Class, who took the tests of the Carnegie Foundation with the score of 982.

CORA ELIZABETH J. GULICK—SALUTATORIAN

This talented miss hails from Perkasia, Pa. Cora not only ranks high in scholarship among her classmates but also has taken active part in many extracurricular activities upon the Campus. She has served both on the Ruby and Weekly staffs, as associate and Alumni Editor respectively, a member of the Women's Debating Club and Chairman of the Women's Dorm. Committee.

MATCHES HOTLY CONTESTED

Saturday, June 1, A Tennis Team won the first Women's match in the history of Ursinus athletics, defeating Lebanon Valley on the home courts by a score of 5-1.

The match was not such a simple matter as the score might indicate. After losing their first set, Evelyn Lake and Bernice Greenig rallied splendidly and won their singles. Melba Farnsler and Jane Bowler played the most steady tennis of the match.

The strongest opposition afforded the Ursinus women was met in the singles between Evelyn Lake and Blanche Cochran and Bernice Greenig with Janet Miller. In these matches the girls were extended to three sets. Only one member of the team, Melba Farnsler, will be lost through graduation.

Singles—E. Lake, Ursinus, defeated B. Cochran, Lebanon Valley, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

J. Bowler, Ursinus, defeated J. Miller, Lebanon Valley, 6-1, 6-4.

SENIORS HOLD BANQUET AT SPRING MOUNTAIN HOUSE

The farewell get-together of the Senior class was held at Spring Mountain House. The night and the moon was ideal; the chicken and waffles were worth fighting for; the after dinner speeches were appropriate and short; the dance was snappy, and the crowd was congenial and all in high spirits. In short, it was one grand night.

Poley has flat tire

There were no mishaps except that Horace Poley had a fat tire.

After the dinner Toastmaster and President Charles Fitzkee called on various members of the class for extemporaneous sixty-second talks. Mr. Sheeder gave a very good talk on the present and future achievements of the class of '28. The remainder of the evening was spent in reminiscing, card-playing, and dancing to the strains of the Campus Six.

Professor and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder were the chaperons.

REVIEW OF TRACK SEASON; RECORDS FOR LOCAL FIELD

The 1928 Track season is over. During this season the Grizzlies have lost dual meets to Temple, Haverford, and Schuylkill, and took fourth place in the Central Pennsylvania Intercollegiate, while the relay team placed third in the annual Penn classic. In dual meets the various opponents rolled up 266 points to the Bears' total of 121. On the face of these statistics it would seem that the season was not so successful, but there is much from which to take encouragement. In the first place, it was the first season in which track has appeared on the Ursinus athletic program as a major sport with regular coach. In the second place, due to a lack of proper facilities for training, interest in track had previously been next to nothing for many years, so that such men in college who had had track experience were rusty, and required considerable time to regain their form. In the third place, considerable interest is now being taken in this sport, as shown by the number of candidates who turned out, the far

HIGHEST TEN ANNOUNCED

The Carnegie Foundation has announced that the papers of Ursinus seniors in the achievement test conducted early in May in forty Pennsylvania Colleges were the first to be received at headquarters and the first to be officially scored. The returns which have just been received, place Willard Mohr Moyer at the head of the list with a score of 982. The scores made in other institutions have not yet been announced. The highest ten scores out of the seventy-four reported were made by the following students: Willard Mohr Moyer, Charles Henry Engle, Mildred Theresa Stibitz, Melba Elizabeth Parnsler, Charles Edmunds String, Jacob Leon Stoneback, Aurelia Adelaide English, Stanley Wiegner Bauman, Reginald Humphrey Helffrich and Parker Daniel Baker.

This test is part of an extensive study of higher and secondary education in the State of Pennsylvania being made by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching under the immediate direction of Dr. William S. Leoried, secretary.

REGULAR MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES IN CHAPEL

Memorial Day services were conducted with the regular chapel exercises last Wednesday morning. After an excellent organ selection by Miss Lucus the College Choir under the direction of Miss Hartenstine rendered several appropriate numbers.

President Omwake then made a short address in which he pointed out the continued need for world peace and the place of the college in the maintenance of harmony between nations. He also paid tribute to the Ursinus Alumni who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War and spoke of the Memorial Library erected in their memory.

SUMMARY OF BASEBALL SEASON CREDITS BEARS WITH 6 WINS, 4 LOSSES

Bill Moyer Hit .488 to Lead Sluggers
With Lloyd Hoagey a Close Second.

PEP YOUNG HAD MOST HOMERS

With the regular intercollegiate schedule finished and only the Alumni game remaining on the slate, followers of Coach Kichline's baseball machine can now take inventory of the season and the sacred statistics may be bared for public scrutiny for the first time.

Won Six, Lost Four.

The bustling Bears played eleven contests, won six of them, tied one and mathematics then has it that four fell somewhere by the wayside and were picked up by alien teams. By percentage the Grizzlies played .600 baseball which also is not so bad and indeed far better than last year's mournful accounting which recorded but one fracas on the right side of the ledger. By crushing Delaware, Swarthmore, and Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus for the first time in a great many blue moons succeeded in spanking these three rivals in the trio of major sports—football, basketball, and baseball.

Moyer First Hitter

"Wild Will" Moyer continued his brilliant athletic career by coming out first in a slugging duel, nosing out "Scoops" Hoagey for honors in the hitting department. Moyer spanked the spheroid for an average of .488 in ten games while Lloyd Hoagey in eleven games banged out the greatest number of hits, twenty three, to have the second highest average of .460. Hoagey also led in total base socking, punching out four doubles, four triples and three homers for a total of forty one bases. "Pep" Young was the Ruthian slugger of the team, sending three to far distant corners of the field and racking up a total of thirty one bases.

FROSH TRIM NORRISTOWN H. S. TO MAINTAIN CLEAN SLATE

The victorious Frosh wound up their undefeated baseball season by trouncing Norristown High School 16-2 in what was supposed to be a practice affair. The murder was staged at Roosevelt Field, Norristown, on Monday afternoon.

The Bears demonstrated their viciousness by blasting one of their own hurlers off the mound with little regard to his feelings or health. Dennis was the unfortunate victim to fall by the wayside and be trampled upon by his own companions.

The Milton twirler was loaned to Norristown but this apparently did not incorporate him into the Borough as he had failed to puzzle his classmates. The Norristonians were next persuaded to lead one of their own kin to the slaughter and he also was treated harshly by the Baby Bears, Sterner the first man to face him, swung at the first ball and sent it far, far away for a home run.

The yearlings, in order to be original and pull something new, ended the massacre by executing a triple play in the ninth. Coble, Sterner, Campiglio and Hunter perpetrating the deed.

Campiglio led at bat for the Frosh with three singles and followed this up by tallying three runs.

THIS SUMMER

Before a week passes by another college year will fade into the past and will be gradually dimmed in the light of coming events. There will be a period of inactivity, intellectually, at least, for many of the undergraduates who will abandon their scholarly roles for summer business occupations and various labouring tasks. The college year, September to June, seems long at the start but when it is viewed in its entirety it appears as an incredibly short period of time—too short, in fact, for all the work that should be accomplished.

There is then, work to be done during the summer months when text books are cast aside and classrooms and professors are forgotten. This summer work of Ursinus men requires neither exceptional ability nor studious application to books but merely a desire to boost the name of Ursinus and widen the field of its friends by stating the achievements of the college, not in a boisterous and boastful fashion, but in a quiet and truthful manner with a touch of pride in the activities of the Grizzlies in the classroom and on the athletic field. To boost but not to boast should be the summer aim instilled into the heart of every undergraduate, alumnus, and professor aim instilled into the heart of every undergraduate, alumnus, and professor as well.

Ursinus has been growing steadily and healthily for several years and it is now desirous to acquaint the general public of the merits and qualifications of the institution. We who are fortunate enough to return next fall have every reason to expect and anticipate a greater and more beautiful school, complete in every detail except for a much-needed science building and woman's dormitory while provision must be made in the near future for an athletic stadium.

The college administration and allied organizations have made many improvements during the current year, the most recent of these being the final construction of a network of asphalt roads connecting the various buildings.

Thousands of dollars have been spent merely to beautify the campus and its environs so that we might have one of the finest college surroundings in the East.

It is now the duty of the student body to carry the word of these improvements back to their home town and places of work so that others, who are not cognizant of the advantages of the college will be informed. In this manner Ursinus will have an ever increasing circle of friends to depend on.

The results of such a "booster campaign" cannot help but be successful. Benefits will accrue both to the individual student and to the college as a whole. To the individual it will make Ursinus a larger and finer place to live in while at the same time outside recognition of the work of the college will be facilitated when he is applying for a position in the business or professional world. The college in turn, will receive a larger flood of applications for admission which will permit greater breadth of discrimination by the faculty in the selection of the incoming class and will thus admit a maximum number of students capable of carrying out the traditions and standards of the Red, Old Gold and Black. N. M. B.—'30

THE ALUMNI HOMECOMING

This coming Commencement, the fifty-eighth in the history of Ursinus, will witness the return of many graduates of former days, for it will be Homecoming Day. A day of joy and gladness, a day of revisiting old familiar scenes, renewing old acquaintances, and entering once more into the carefree and immature life of the undergraduate. This will be a day throbbing with life, gaily and spirit, when every loyal son and daughter of old Ursinus will put aside the cares of everyday life and will awaken with a new pride in his Alma Mater.

Alumnus, we who are to soon follow in your footsteps, welcome you confident that you will depart refreshed in spirit and in purpose to take up the problems that demand your attention. No doubt, when you arrive on the campus to celebrate this memorable occasion, you will be immediately aware of the many changes that have taken place, changes that have been made possible through your loyal support and interest.

A new gymnasium, a new athletic field, running tracks, tennis courts and the two new mens dormitories will greet your eyes. In case you come in a car you can again drive around our beautiful campus on new roads.

There will be little which remains unchanged. You will greet new faces both in the student body and the faculty, who are rooting for you to come back and make this next week-end which has been set apart for you a grand, glorious, and exalted holiday. M. E. B.—'29

The Tower Window

MUCH interest is being taken in the forthcoming celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Freeland Seminary. It is hard for those who today tread the streets of Collegeville and pass up and down over the grounds of Ursinus College to picture the conditions as they existed in 1848 when the Rev. Abraham Hunsicker walked up to the crest of the hill constituting part of his farm and there among the tall oaks staked out the foundations of what is now Freeland Hall.

The first picture of the place, a wood-cut appearing as a frontispiece in the catalogue of 1853, is a view from the hill-top above the Fetterolf meadow and includes in its scope the area embraced between what are now Eighth and Fifth avenues. The immediate foreground is represented as a wheat-field. On the crest beyond stands the new seminary building.

The only other buildings in sight are the houses now occupied by Captain H. H. Fetterolf and H. M. Slotterer. A small structure resembling a work shop appears at a point about midway between Sixth and Seventh avenues, and far down the hill to the right is a group of buildings which may represent what existed at that time on the Yeagle and Poley corner. Tood's school-house which was still standing at that time was hidden from view by the Fetterolf house.

A wide path led from the highway up to the seminary, but the old maples which now stand on either side of it and along the street had evidently not yet been planted. Two round pavilions are pictured near the entrance to the building, one on either side of the path. A structure which may have been a barn appears somewhat beyond and to the left of the seminary building. A covered market wagon and a carriage drawn by spirited horses are seen on the road in front of the school. In the far-distant background there is projected against the sky the line of dense trees bordering the Perkio-men.

The following paragraph from the first catalogue (October, 1849) describes the seminary building and its surroundings:

"The Seminary edifice, an imposing structure of stone, four stories high, and surmounted with a handsome railing and cupola, occupies a beautiful eminence, commanding a delightful and extensive prospect of the surrounding country, interspersed with farms, villages and rich natural scenery. The adjoining grounds are extensive and laid out with reference both to utility and ornament, according ample play grounds for healthful exercise, with pleasant groves and walks, for more quiet recreation. To encourage horticultural taste among the students, garden plots will be furnished to such as desire to devote a part of their leisure to this interesting pursuit."

Bishop Hunsicker was a man of vision and may be credited with having foreseen some of the subsequent development which has made the Collegeville and Ursinus College of today.

BASEBALL SUMMARY AND GRIZZLEY BATTING AVERAGES

(Continued from page 1) ing home before they were retrieved. Six out of eight regulars belted the ball for over a .300 mark and are thus in the elite. Besides Moyer and Hoagey, the Francis brothers, Captain LaClair, and Pep Young hit for better than three hundred. Peters, utility, had a .500 average while Place was the best batter among the hurlers, turning in an even .300 average. The team average was also well above the .300 mark, .313.

Hoagey Most Runs

Hoagey, playing a flashy brand of ball all season, has also the credit of denting the rubber the oftentimes crossing on eighteen occasions. The Perkaskie athlete was also at bat the most number of times. Young displayed his base running ability by pilfering the greatest number of sacks, eleven. Bud Francis made four of the Bears' ten sacrifice hits to lead in that department. All in all the Grizzlies crashed out eighteen doubles, thirteen triples, and eight homers which is slugging in the modern style.

Pitching Wobbly

As was anticipated, the hurling staff was the weak link in an otherwise strong machine. Only three games were played when one twirler went the entire route, in all other cases two or three pitchers were used to check enemy batsmen. Ursinus' opponents scored an average of 7.55 runs per game off Kichline's staff and although the Bears tallied 9.64 runs per contest efficient mound work should keep runs away from the platter in better shape than this.

Riordan—Strine lead

Among the hurlers Riordan and Strine are listed as not having lost a game. Both of these men were knocked from the box, however with someone else receiving credit for the loss. Mink, veteran of the staff, holds the lowest average on paper, losing three out of five. He saw action in seven of the Bears' games, several times as a relief hurler and the way of a rescue pitcher is no path of roses. Riordan was perhaps the outstanding worker of the year, his performance over Osteopathy giving him confidence and ability.

State Game Cancelled

All the games listed in Manager Joe Armento's schedule book were played except the Penn State game which was rained out in the morning of the contest after the Grizzlies had pulled into port. The Bears started the season by winning three in a row, scoring easy triumphs over Franklin and Marshall, Swarthmore and Osteopathy. In the fourth game at Annville, Kichline's men had Lebanon Valley 3-1 up to the eighth when they tied the score and rain followed immediately.

The three day trip to Central Pennsylvania was disastrous to the Bears, Ursinus losing a slugfest to Bucknell the opening day, 13-12. The following day the one run jinx pursued them down the river and Susquehanna took the Grizzlies into camp, 8-7. On the third day, however, the one run specialty jumped to the Bears' dugout and Schuykill was defeated 10-9.

Returning to home soil Drexel was defeated 10-4 and the following week Muhlenburg, with an unbeaten team, trounced "Kick's" players under a barrage of hits, 14-1. Delaware was defeated in a close scrap 7-6 away from home, and in the last game at Franklin Field, Penn captured a hit-and-run fracas 13-7.

Next year

Prospects for next year are bright and rosy but still there's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip says "Kick" as he remembers of Cain and Karpinnen who were here last year but not this season, Moyer, Hoagey, LaClair, J. Francis and Bigley will be lost by graduation. The Freshmen, however, have had a good season and there is plenty of rugged material of varsity calibre hidden in their ranks. Sterner and Coble at second and short should be able to take Hoagey and Bigley's shoes while third will be a more or less open job. Two good outfielders will have to be drafted somewhere and this may prove the most serious problem.

Battery Strong

It is more or less openly conceded that the humble Frosh had a better hurling staff than their big brothers. Houtz and Hunter are both A No. 1 pitchers and should be a great help in the twirling line next year. The Frosh have also a good little catcher in Bob Meckley, Strine's battery mate in high school.

Whether the Bears of 1929 will be able to slug as well as this year's edition is problematical but one can look for better hurling and a steadier infield, which is some consolation.

(Continued from page 1) greater number of whom were, however, green men who needed the whole season to get on to the ways of the game. For these reasons the track future looks very bright.

Captain Newcomer was high scorer for the season, totaling 55 points, 17 of which were scored in the Interclass Meet. Black was second with 31 1-2, and Keller third with 29. Newcomer has yet to taste defeat in his favorite event, the 880-yard run.

Records for the local track in the various events and their holders are as follows:

TENNIS TEAM CONCLUDES

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

As predicted earlier in the season, Captain "Hust" Spangler and Paul Lefever were the most consistent winners for the team. This pair played both the singles and also the doubles in every contest and came through nicely in by far the majority of the matches. Third and fourth positions on the team were occupied by various members of the squad throughout the season Pete Hipple, Norman Cook, Horace Poley, Bill Willims, Gene Smith, Walter Spangler, and Dick Snyder, all serving at one time or another. In the last few contests, Hipple recovered sufficiently from a recent operation to play regularly in third position; Cook and Poley alternated in the fourth position. Since Captain Spangler will be the only man lost by graduation, the prospects for another winning team next year are especially bright.

That the schedule just completed has been an exceedingly difficult one may be surmised by glancing over the following summary. Such excellent teams as Haverford, Rutgers, Swarthmore, nd Temple, all of which represent the best competition in collegiate ranks, were met during the season. The victories were as follows: P. M. C. 4-0, Gettysburg 6-0, Moravian 4-2. A return match with P. M. C. 5-1, Muhlenburg 4-2, and Drexel 5-1. Tie scores resulted in the matches with Villanova, Temple, Juniata, and Lebanon Valley. The defeats were administered by Haverford 4-2, Rutgers 4-2, and Swarthmore 5-1. A match with Lafayette at Easton, and a return match with Moravian were canceled because of rain.
