Mont. & Bucks Co. Press League in Annual Meeting

College Dining Hall is the Scene of Large Banquet

Dr. Omwake acting as toast-master at the banquet held in the College Dining Hall, by the Press League of Montgomery and Bucks counties, traced very clearly the growth of the College from its beginning to its present position. He pointed out various facts to show that the people of the community derive numerous benefits from the existence of the institution in the midst and in return the College has been favored by the inhabitants of the vicinity.

He stated that since the parents are coming to the realization of the fact that their sons and daughters should receive a more liberal education Ursinus with its cultural influence is being flooded with applications for admission. Furthermore he made it clear that although the College is not attempting to outdo any other in point of numbers it is aiming to a more convenient and modern method of rendering a service of quality. In rendering this service a great handicap has been felt, so that the present financial campaign has been set in motion to help alleviate these difficulties. Since Ursinus is situated in the central part of Montgomery county it was thought that it would have a deep interest in this movement.

The leaders of the Campaign, Mr. Hedrick and Mr. Butler, then explained the service that the College has been rendering to the people of the vicinity and they concluded by stressing the fact that a campaign of this type is used mainly to increase the number of benefactors. To increase the number of benefactors a large number must be reached and it was thought that the Press League of Montgomery and Bucks counties could aid immediately by their assistance in the publicity work.

Mr. Hunsicker, affiliated with the Norristown Register, and Mr. E. S. Moser, editor of the Collegeville Independent, spoke in behalf of the Press League, stating that it would be the aim of the league to help advance the cause now on foot to the extent of their ability.

NEW CHEER LEADERS ELECTED AT MEETING

Last Tuesday evening a meeting was held in Bomberger Hall for the election of cheer leaders. The plan followed was to have a tryout for cheer leader candidates and to elect from them a Junior and a Sophomore to fill the two vacancies in the three upper classes.

Each candidate led the assembled student body in several cheers and at the conclusion of the tryouts the vacant positions were filled by acclamation. Those chosen were Claire Blum and Carl Thompson, Junior and Sophomore representatives, respectively. They will, with Augustus Welsh who is the Senior cheer leader, comprise the trio which will conduct the organized cheering at the various events at Ursinus this year.

In response to a request for new cheers many were handed in and some have been introduced. In view of the fact that three of the next four football games are to be played at home the cheer leaders are aiming to develop a cheering section which will be a credit to any college.

The social activities of the year at Albright College were opened when the combined Y's invited the entire student body to a "doggie roast" on the athletic field.

SENIOR PLAY "ARMS AND THE MAN" PROVES BIG SUCCESS AT LANSDALE

Cast Performs Nobly

Once more the cast of "Arms and the Man" took on the mannerisms and the costumes of the land of Bulgaria, this time to entertain an audience at Lansdale. The whole cast acted skillfully, with sureness and poise. They all worked in harmony and at the same time made the personalities of the different characters prominent.

The heroine and hero, Miss Catherine Shipe and Augustus Welsh, easily and gracefully carried off the well-earned first honors. Mac Donell Roehm as the attractive and changeable Sergius won much admiration, and Charles Yaukey again scored a big hit in the role of the likable, generous Major Petkoff. Margaret Ehly was splendid as the ambitious, independent Louka while Winifred Derr, (Madame Petkoff), acted cleverly in her tense and humorous scenes. David Kern filled the role of Nicola perfectly. Allen Harman was very good as a Russian officer.

This production is another one of those whose undoubted success is due to the aid and the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gawthrop. Though no longer residents of Collegeville, they were interested enough to return and work willingly to make the play a thing of real dramatic worth. The untiring efforts of Miss Ella Watkins, who acted as coach during the absence of Mr. Gawthrop greatly aided in making the play the success that it was.

STUDENT COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The initial Student Council Dance of the year, held in Thompson Memorial Cage on Saturday evening proved to be quite a success. Quite a number of couples merrily danced to the jazz strains of the Symphonic Serenaders. Many of the freshmen attended a college dance for the first time and it was a most enjoyed affair for the first year strutters to try their steps.

Elaborate Program is Announced for Entertainment

Artists of Accomplished ability Will Appear at Ursinus

The Community Entertainment Course committee has arranged a program that will be a rare treat for the lovers of the best in music and dramatics. Some of the best artists available have been secured for this year's course.

The MacDowell Concert Company will give the opening number of the season on October 22nd. This is a notable musical organization, being composed of soloists of experience. In ensemble numbers the voices of the singers blend in complete harmony. This concert will present an interesting program and should draw an appreciative audience.

The Scottish Musical Comedy will present Burn's "Cotter's Saturday Night" on November 18th. This is the only company of its kind in America and is composed of six pure blooded Scots. The story of the poem is told almost entirely in song and is presented in a very vivid and stirring fashion. This is indeed a wonderful chance for the lovers of Scottish folklore and song to hear a program of exceptional merit.

The third number of the course will be given by the Adanac Male Quartet, March 3rd, 1926. This is an internationally recognized quartet of singers and entertainers. All the men are notable artists and a fine opportunity is offered to hear a program presented by talented singers.

The Philadelphia Orchestra String Quartet will present the final number of the course—April 13th, 1926. This quartet is composed of artists from the Philadelphia Orchestra, which is acclaimed as one of the best orchestras in the country. This quartet is under the direction of William S. Thunder, who appeared at Ursinus several years ago with Thaddeus Rich. This quartet with its wide reputation should draw a crowd of music lovers.

The price of admission will be three dollars for a season ticket or seventy-five cents for a single admission. With such talented artists this year's course should attract large numbers.

College Orchestra Formed At Recent Meeting

An organization that should prove a valuable asset to Ursinus is the recently organized orchestra. Twenty-six musicians answered a call that had been issued and from this number immediate organization took place.

Miss Hartenstine who has been directing the glee club so successfully has been selected to have charge of the new organization. Mr. Charles Hoerner has been elected president and Miss Mildred Barth secretary. The twenty-six who have responded would line up as follows:

Cornet—Smith, Harold Perterson and Karl Thompson.

Violin—Charles Hoerner, Dillinger, Wiand, John Keyser, Bernd, Barrow, Ullrich, and Scheirer.

Trombone—Felton, Burns and Miss Hoch.

Baritone—Diehm.

Flutes—Kresge and Harman.

Bass Viol—Oberholtzer.

Clarinet—Berge.

Drums—Ferguson and Schmuck.

Piano—Barth and Ehret.

Saxophone—Godshall, Mulford and Wood.

The first practice will be held tonight, at which time tryouts will be held to determine the classification and grade of music that will be rendered.

Tennis Tournaments Now Under Way

With the new interest shown in tennis squad for the coming season, able to mold into shape a first class tennis squad or the coming season.

About fifteen aspirants have already entered the tournament which will chiefly decide the members to be chosen for the team. The tournaments are being played off according to the Round Robin System of tournaments and there seems to be an abundance of good material among the candidates.

Dr. H. E. Spangler, of Philadelphia, and Mr. H. W. Mathieu, of Trappe, alumni members of the tennis committee, have offered a loving cup to the winner of the men's singles championship in the fall tournament. This cup is to be the permanent possession of the winner.

The three members left from last year's team are Morton Oppenheimer '27, Huston Spangler '28, and Samuel Reimert '27. Among the new aspirants Joel Francis '28, and Spangler '29, are showing up exceptionally well. Mr. Mathieu has consented to act as a coach for the team, having played on the tennis team himself while attending Ursinus.

Manager Oppenheimer is busy arranging a schedule for next spring. Preparations are rapidly being made towards the improvement of the courts so that Ursinus tennis fans should be able to look forward to a good season.

LONE TOUCHDOWN GIVES PERKIOMEN 6-0 WIN OVER JUNIOR VARSITY

Scrub Team Plays Well

Ursinus College Junior Varsity travelled to Perkiomen School at Pottsville Saturday afternoon and lost, after putting up one of the greatest exhibitions of scrub football by an Ursinus team at Perky for years. After holding Perkiomen for 3 quarters and threatening to score at the beginning of the fourth an intercepted forward pass started Perky toward the J. V.'s goal line and with three minutes to play a line plunge netted them a touchdown.

Perkiomen has one of the strongest teams in the history of the school and they had to exert themselves to the utmost in order to score.

The entire scrub team gave their all with only four substitutes to pick from held Perkiomen's fifty men at bay. Never has a scrub team offered the resistance that was shown and Ursinus can feel proud of the morale shown.

"JING" JOHNSON, '16, TO COACH LEHIGH HURLERS

An excerpt from a paper of a nearby town would inform us that Russell "Jing" Johnson, a graduate of the class of '16, will divide the duties as coach of the baseball players at Lehigh University this coming season. Fishburn will have charge of the infield and outfield work, while "Jing" Johnson will act as coach to groom the hurlers. Johnson, himself had a fling in the big leagues. He located in Bethlehem during the days of Steel League baseball and at present is employed at the plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

FRESHMEN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Freshmen class the following members were elected as officers of the first year students: President, Robert Roth; Vice President, Miss Reber; Secretary, Miss Cobb; Poetess, Miss Carter; Treasurer, Mr. Poff; Historian, Miss Schoop; Attorney, Mr. Keller.

Bears Late Rally Bumps Schuylkill by 13-6 Score

Stafford Scores Both Touchdowns in Final Period

Unleashing an aerial attack which completely baffled their opponents, Ursinus defeated Schuylkill College of Reading, on Patterson Field, Saturday afternoon by a 13-6 score. Schuylkill had a heavy line which helped to make the game interesting but more stamina on the part of the I. Gold and Black won the game.

Schuylkill started off with line plunges which brought the ball to Ursinus' 5-yard line just as the first quarter ended. At the resuming of play White plunged over for a touchdown but failed to make the extra point. From then till the end of the half Schuylkill played brilliantly in the hopes of averting defeat but the Bears began to growl and sterling work on the part of Moyer, Smith, Millar and Jones in the backfield and Yaukey, Hunsicker, Schell, Henkels and Stafford on the line turned the tide of defeat into victory.

At the beginning of the second half Coach Kichline's boys began to show the old Ursinus fight and gradually pushed Schuylkill back toward their goal line. At the end of the third quarter Schuylkill's big line began to weaken and Ursinus with the help of a Schuylkill fumble carried the ball to the 10 yard line as the quarter ended. At the beginning of the fourth quarter Bob Millar threw a pass to Stafford behind the goal line for the first Red, Old Gold and Black score of the season. Schell failed to kick the goal and the score was tied 6-6 with twelve minutes to play.

Ursinus kicked off to Schuylkill who failed to gain and punted. From then on a series of short passes from Millar to Moyer, Moyer to Stafford worked the ball on a steady march to Schuylkill's goal line. Another pass, Millar to Stafford netted the second touchdown. This time Millar scored a perfect drop kick on the try for point after touchdown.

Ursinus again kicked off to Schuylkill who worked the ball to mid-field. Denny intercepted a pass and ran for a touchdown but a penalty being imposed on Ursinus brought the ball back. The game ended a few minutes later and the Bears had their first scalp 13-6. On to Delaware!

BEGIN EARNEST WORK

The fundamental idea in going to college is to work. While this labor may be of many varied types there is one branch of duty that can not be neglected in gaining success and that is class room work. While some individuals may be able to drift along for a considerable length of time without doing much studying, they are bound to suffer for their neglect in the end. Perchance, some of the individuals may possess keen intellects and have the inborn gift to gain facts quickly and with ease. They may be able to carry heavy schedules and engage in numerous activities in addition to their regular courses. However, in spite of these facts, the best results can not be realized and the highest success can not be attained unless the individuals allow ample time for preparing their class room work before they plan extra-curricula activities.

The College year opened three weeks ago and during this time all students have had sufficient opportunity to adjust their conditions for work. However, seemingly, some individuals have not realized the vital importance of beginning earnest and systematic college studying. Numerous meetings have been announced and the importance of them was strongly stressed. Students have neglected and sacrificed their regular work to engage in these outside activities. They thereby denied themselves of the opportunity to get a good start. While it may be possible to drift along for a certain length of time under such conditions, great difficulty will surely be avoided in the end by some students if they will begin studying at once.

Tests will soon be given and let no one be caught floundering around in the dark. There is a duty to perform which no one can afford to shirk. Let all individuals remember the purpose for which they entered College and take advantage of the opportunities which are afforded to them. If this is done they will be loyal to the institution and honest to themselves and a successful year will be recorded as a result.

A COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

The forming of a College orchestra was a step in the right direction and may be a large asset to the institution. One of the best methods of instilling college spirit into the students on the entire campus is through the means of a band or orchestra. Music is pleasing to one for that which it makes him remember and that which it makes him forget. Few organizations can be formed which will yield such a dynamic sway over individuals as a band or orchestra will.

An encouraging number of students have signified their desire to try out for the orchestra and a very competent leader has consented to take charge of the organization. Hence prospects loom bright for success. However, they must have the support of every student on the campus. Co-operation is needed from the members of the orchestra as well as all individuals in the College. With the proper amount of encouragement a valuable organization will be insured.

THE NEW ATHLETIC REGIME

The new regime established for the furtherance of better athletics at Ursinus has included every phase of sport. Tennis, which within the last few years has been more or less of a joke has now taken a decided turn for the better and all possible efforts are being made to further the interest in this sport.

This new interest shown is the result of a recent meeting held by the tennis committee composed of the Alumni members, Dr. R. H. Spangler and the captain and manager of the tennis team.

The purpose of this meeting in the words of Dr. Spangler was "to put the Ursinus tennis team on the map." In order to further the interest in tennis and cause keener competition for the team, Dr. Spangler and Mr. Mathieu have offered a cup to be presented to the man winning the singles championship in the fall tournaments now being held.

As a result of this, the try-outs for the team have been much larger than in previous years. This, indeed should be an incentive for all tennis players to try for the team. It's never too late to start and the coming or next spring should see many aspirants out for the team. Come out and support your College so that Ursinus can be represented by the best team possible.

Y. W. C. A.

On Wednesday night Miss Walbert, '26, led the Y. W. C. A. in a short, but interesting meeting. After a song, a few verses from Matthew 5 were read for the evening lesson.

The leader gave a few echoes from Eaglesmere, impressing the search of the Bible which is stressed in the plan of this year's work.

In connection with the quest for reality, Miss Walbert taught the girls the Ursinus Y. W. song, "The Search." This song won honorable mention in the contest at Eaglesmere last summer. Bryn Mawr placed first, and Westminster Normal and Ursinus merited honorable mention for the presentation of an original Y. W. song.

The plans for the year in discussion work were outlined, with a few valuable suggestions for development.

A chance for earning points under the "point system" was suggested to Freshmen girls who do not participate in athletics. This chance requires that the girls spend a few minutes in putting the Y. W. room in an orderly appearance before the Wednesday night meeting.

After singing another song the meeting was adjourned.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

SCHAFF

Schaff presented a miscellaneous program to a record attendance Friday evening, October 2.

The first number, a piano solo by Miss Vivian Waltman, was well rendered. She used "Poet and Peasant" as her number which was greatly appreciated by the audience. Miss Waltman is one of Schaff's accomplished pianists.

Miss Harriet Smith then gave two readings; the one a poem "One, Two, Three," a dialogue between two colored folks which were greatly appreciated. Miss Smith is a very talented reader and her numbers were presented in a vivid fashion.

A musical skit was then given under the direction of Miss Bernice Leo. This number was humorous and greatly appreciated. Following this Mr. Gerald Levengood gave a resume of his trip to the Middle West. His descriptions were very good and were interspersed by humorous remarks, which made his talk all the more interesting.

Miss Bertha Weaver then gave a dance. This number again showed Schaff Miss Weaver's ability as a dancer. Under the direction of Misses Lesser, Fetters, and Kresge a sketch entitled "The Wonder Hat" was presented. The sketch was of a humorous character and greatly enjoyed. Schaff Gazette was read by Miss Leo. Her editorial "First Things First" was very timely.

Schaff was glad to welcome into active membership George Koch.

ZWING

The third program of the present school year was presented on Friday night in Zwing Hall. After the regular opening exercises a miscellaneous program was presented.

The first number on the program was a ukulele chorus under the direction of Miss Grace Poley. This number represented a scene in the girls' halls. It was very original and Miss Poley is to be commended on her ability as a stage director. "The Tale," read by Miss Berger, who substituted for Miss Harter showed her ability as a reader. Mr. Paul Krasley followed with a baritone solo. He rendered an Italian Love Song very well.

"Life in the Dorms" was the fourth number on the program. It was under the direction of Mr. Miller, who was ably assisted by Messrs. Henkels, Reimert, Jones, and Clayton. This number represented a scene often played by our Frosh.

Miss Hamm and Miss Von Steuben followed with a sketch. They presented Booth Tarkington's play "The Ghost Story". This play was one of the best seen in Zwing for a long time. It required much work and the directors are to be praised on its presentation. Zwing's Review was read by Mr. Denny. His editorial was very appropriate. His jokes need not be commented as everybody knows Mr. Denny as a humorist.

Zwing was glad to welcome Miss Helen Lucas, '28, of Harrisburg, into active membership. Zwing was glad to hear from Mr. Helffrich and enjoyed the presence of Miss Weldon and Mrs. Valentine, former members of Zwing.

The Tower Window

A great step forward in the interest of athletics at Ursinus was taken when the Ursinus Athletic Club was opened to provide training headquarters.

Our readers will recall that within a few days of the opening of college last year, through the generous offer of a friend, the College purchased the property most familiarly known to alumni as the old Doctor Lewis Royer homestead in the east end of Trappe. The premises consist of ten acres of land with a frontage of three hundred feet on the William Penn Highway. On it, is a fine old stone mansion with roughcast exterior, a large barn and numerous farm buildings.

As the College had an overflow of men students, the house was quickly put in order and used for dormitory purposes. It was named Highland Hall and became a residence for freshmen. As such it was not entirely a success. The distance from the campus was a little too great for students who were required to take their meals at the College dining rooms. However, as the year passed another and better use suggested itself—namely that of serving meals right in the house and conducting it as a training place for athletic teams in preparation for intercollegiate contests.

This suggestion was early made to the Athletic Council and promptly accepted. During the year an artesian well had been drilled and a new hot and cold water system installed, adequate bath and toilet facilities were provided and a steam heating plant set up. During the summer the house was given a handsome coat of white and green giving it the appearance of many of the old country clubhouses so characteristic of this region. The dining room and kitchen were fitted up for service and on September 1 the place was opened for use as training headquarters. Meanwhile the Directors of the College changed the name from Highland Hall to the Ursinus College Athletic Club.

Accommodations are provided for twenty-two students. The coach resides at the club with his men as does the undergraduate manager. It has already been demonstrated that under this regime, athletes who represent Ursinus from week to week in strenuous contests can be kept in better physical condition than heretofore.

G. L. O.

W. S. G. A.

The first W. S. G. A. mass meeting of the year was held in the Y. room on Monday night.

Dr. White gave a splendid talk emphasizing the value of the college woman in world leadership, and the college as the training school for that leadership. A strong courageous character, together with a personality full of charm and tact are the essential qualities of a leader. The meeting closed with a challenge to each Ursinus girl to be and to give her best.

The inauguration of the hall presidents followed. This is a new ceremony, but it proved very impressive, and everyone present felt the sincerity of the pledge to faithful and conscientious leadership. To each of the house presidents was presented a small gavel, as the symbol of authority, to be passed on each year to the succeeding president.

The changes in the constitution were read and explained.

The meeting closed with a few words from the president, Dorothy Threapleton, based on the little slogan "Watch the slant of your sail."

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEBATERS TO MEET OXFORD UNIVERSITY

The George Washington Debating Team will meet the Debating Team of Oxford University, foremost among England's forensic stars, in Washington, Monday evening, November 2, to uphold the negative side of the question: "Resolved, That the present government in Russia should be recognized."

The George Washington Team will be selected October 1, from members of both the men's and women's teams of last year. Mr. Louis Denit, recently appointed coach of the team to succeed Mr. Philip Barnard, who has recently resigned, is whipping the team into shape, and will select the members to meet the Oxford representatives.

This is the first year that women have been allowed to compete for positions on the team to face foreign debaters, and marks another step forward in university debating circles. Heretofore the men's and women's teams have operated as separate units, but those backing the debate figure that the university can present a stronger front if women are allowed to compete for positions on the team to face the English invaders.

Last year the team was defeated by Cambridge University 683 to 442, but won a sweeping decision over the Oxford University team in 1923. The men's debating team went through their entire schedule last year without losing a debate, with the single exception of the victory won by the Cambridge men.

Y. M. C. A.

An interesting meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held on Wednesday evening, in the Philosophy room, Bomberger Hall. This meeting was on the nature of a discussion group in which several participated.

Mr. Welker, the Y. president had charge of the meeting and after reading an instructive article on "Making and keeping Ideals in College," threw the meeting open for discussion. Such things as: "The Place of Ideals in College Life," "The Value and Necessity of Ideals in College," and "How to Keep Your Ideals Intact." were freely discussed by different members of the Y.

The large number present at this meeting indicates a promising interest in the Y. M. C. A.

INTERCOLLEGIATE COMMENT

The Gettysburg College debating team will meet the Oxford University team in a debate upon the question of the Court of International Justice. The debate is being sponsored by the two boys' literary societies of the York High School.

Over two hundred new volumes have been added to the Gettysburg College Library over the summer. The majority of the books are philosophical and historical in nature.

Allegheny College is preparing for the annual alumni Home Coming Day to be held on October 10, the date of the Geneva, Allegheny game.

How Yale Students Earn Money

SPORTING CHATTER

"A team that won't be beat, can't be beat," said the great Mike Murphy—and the Bears proved it on Saturday.

Condition is a most important factor in the success of a football team. Our Bears showed better condition than Penn, and not a man was lost in the "battle" on Saturday.

Had the game lasted ten more minutes we would have scored a dozen more touchdowns. The Schuylkill team was "all in" and the grizzlies were just beginning to find themselves.

Apparently some of the students thought they were at a high school football game when they forgot (?) themselves and started to "boo" the referee. Don't forget "booing" is the mark of the poorest of sport followers.

Bill Stafford was a hero on Saturday. The second forward he grabbed was almost as hard to get as a ticket for the Penn-Illinois game.

Mr. White, of the Schuylkill team knew better than to try to catch any punts with the Bears' ends sweeping in on him. Our ends certainly do know how to bust 'em.

Moyer and Millar again proved to be the heroes of our backfield. Give each man twenty pounds and we could forget Red Grange and Homer Hazel.

Schell is playing a whale of a game at guard, along side of the reliable Yaukey, and Clark on the other side is a consistent hard player.

"Big Jim" Hunsicker is a most capable and valuable leader. Confidence in your men and their confidence in you is what makes a good football team.

As a closing thought remember that—"Impossibilities are only the half-hearted efforts of quitters. Die fighting rather than be a quitter."

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS RECENTLY ANNOUNCED

The Trustees in charge of the Rhodes Scholarships, which provide for three years study at Oxford University, England, have recently announced an increase in the stipend. The scholars will now receive four hundred pounds per year; and it is stated that this amount should be sufficient with economy to cover the scholar's full expenses for term time and vacation.

If any member of this year's Senior class or any recent graduate of Ursinus is interested in this Scholarship, he should apply at once to the Faculty. Ursinus may nominate two candidates to the State Committee not later than October 17, the State Scholar will be elected on December 12, and the scholarship becomes effective in October, 1926. A candidate to be eligible must be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried, must be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five, and may apply either in the State in which he resides or in the one in which he has received at least two years of his college education. The qualities which will be considered in making the selection are qualities of manhood, force of character and leadership, literary and scholastic ability and attainments, and physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways. Further information and application blanks may be obtained from Prof. J. W. Clawson.

NATIONAL STUDENT FORUM JOURNALISM CONFERENCE

The conference of June 22-29 was something new in college journalism. Press association conferences in the Spring provide intercollegiate contact, experience-swapping, necessary arrangements in detail of advertising contracts, and a resolution or two about editorial policy. But they are rapid and brief. At Woodstock there was time; there were books, reports; there was background. There were also, on separate days, Briton Hadden of Time magazine and formerly the Yale News, and Don Seitz, who writes not only "Joseph Pulitzer: His Life and Letters," but books or pirates, on Mark Twain, on Artemus Ward, the Post-Civil War Period—all the interests of a ripe old dog—while he helps make up the minds in charge of the New York World.

Editors came from East, South, West; mostly East. Harvard Crimison, Williams Record, Brown Daily Herald, papers or magazines of Vassar, Smith, Brown Women's College, Lafayette, Pennsylvania; Oberlin, Ohio; Indiana University, Parsons College, Iowa; Coe College, Iowa; City College Campus, New York; papers of Howard University, Yale, Sweet Briar, Radcliffe; here a paper, there a paper, everywhere a paper, they discussed what editors are responsible for; how news editors can make news; how the paper can become an independent organ of accuracy and power for the student body.

No conclusions were reached; nothing adopted: except everyone for himself.

Some opinions, Definitions, Ideas: Why so many papers are "glorified bulletin boards": The editor disposes space according to the importance of organizations who seek publicity, not according to the news value of what is done. He spreads announcements on the front page, with all the academic blah attached thereto by the secretary's office; instead of lumping them in a box in a corner. His freshmen heelers can't prune out the woody words. He has no list of clinches: expressions which are down, and should also be out. His freshmen have noses only for the obvious; they're young, poor things. He has no general reference books and statistics. His statistics when he has them look like a sociology report: as impersonal and officious as possibly can be. He hasn't read "The Best News Stories of 1924."

Why are women's papers poorer than men's? The men are thinking in terms of a career. The university serves only as oyster for the paper. The women are either spending time preparatory to marriage, or planning to reform, the nasty printer's-inky things.
