Debaters Take Two From Temple Univ.

Teams Show Much Progress in Last Contests

The Men's Negative Debating team defeated the Temple University team in Beury Hall, Temple University, last Thursday evening. The audience was the smallest that either team had to talk to all season.

The decision in favor of the Ursinus team was given by Mr. William D. Harkins, a practicing lawyer in Philadelphia. The one man as judge was very favorable as Mr. Harkins weighed the evidence presented by both teams before giving his decision.

The Temple team was composed of William Litke, '28, Wallace Harris, '27, and Nathaniel Webb, '27, with Russel Helsler, '26, as alternate. Geo. Kirkpatrick, '26, Frank Strine, '27, and Allen Harman, '26 with Ralph Straley, '27, as alternate.

Dr. Owen, a professor at Temple University, acted as chairman at the debate.

Another victory was recorded in the annals of forensic activity by the affirmative debating team when it clashed wits with the Temple Arguers in Bomberger Hall on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The strong proof presented by the affirmative showed that our representatives were well informed on the

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB RENDERS FIRST CONCERT

Pleases Large Audience at St. Luke's Church, Trappe

On Thursday evening at St. Luke's Church, of Trappe, Pa., the Girls' Glee Club gave a most entertaining and delightful concert. Not too much praise can be given to the untiring industry and consummate skill of Miss Jeanette D. Hartenstine in bringing the several numbers to perfection. The audience was very large and most enthusiastically received the club in all its appearances. The soloists were likewise of the best.

The program was as follows

DR. J. W. CLAWSON ELECTED VICE PRES. OF PA. CONFERENCE

The newly organized Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, of which Ursinus is a charter member, has already taken definite steps toward the elimination of commercialism in athletics. These were taken at a meeting of the delegates of the member institutions at Harrisburg, March 8, when officers for the ensuing year were elected and important investigation committees appointed.

Dr. C. W. Prettyman of Dickinson was elected president while Dr. J. Clawson of Ursinus was honored with the vice presidency. Dr. Clawson was also chosen as a member of one of the committees.

An active organization of this calibre can scarcely bring other than good results. It is an innovation in the scholastic athletic world which merits praise and honor.

Ursinus was represented at this meeting by Professors J. W. Clawson and W. W. Bancroft.

NEW STUDENT LIST GROWING

The executive office reports that the resources of the College will be taxed to their utmost capacity next year. There are already sixty incoming students for September 1927 who have paid their deposit fee. This is far in excess of the number on the list at the same time last year. A Freshman class of 125 is expected.

Notices were sent some weeks ago to all prospective young women students that the registration of young women would close on March 15, with the result that more young women have applied for admission than can be accommodated, according to present indications.

A few dormitory accommodations for young men are still available, and it will of course be possible to place young men students with pri-

BASEBALL CANDIDATES AWAIT FIT WEATHER

Entire Squad Looking Forward to Practice on Diamond

These spring days cause our minds to wander from the lectures in the classrooms to the national pastime. When the big league teams have begun their training games in the South the baseball fever bursts forth in the colleges, and in every hand groups of students can be found thoroughly discussing the chances for their teams.

Ursinus was very unfortunate to lose two of her most valuable men last year. Haupt, who was elected captain for this year, has gone to another college. Thus we lose both our captain and star catcher. Corson's loss will be felt on both the defense and offense.

The schedule will be published in an early issue for the Weekly. An unofficial schedule, which was received from Manager Molitor, included such teams as Lehigh, Franklin and Marshall, Albright, Susquehanna, Juniata, Penn State, Lebanon Valley, Swarthmore, Bucknell, Delaware, Textile, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Captain Derk, who was elected to fill the vacancy of captainship, will lead his men from the pitcher's peak. Derk is a leader of men as well as a brainy pitcher, and under his leadership the Red team should go through the season with a high percentage.

There is still some time to elapse before the season opens and with the new candidates there is surely to be a real fight for the respective positions. Taking all into consideration the Bears can expect a successful season.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO HOLD BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Philadelphia Alumni Association will be held on Friday evening, April 16th, at the Adelphia Hotel, Philadelphia. Invitations will go out within the next few days to alumni in Philadelphia and vicinity. It is anticipated that this year's event will surpass anything yet attempted by the Philadelphia organization. The present officers are: Rev. Charles F. Deininger, '15, president; Miss Florence A. Brooks, '12, vice-president and Mayne R. Longstreth, Esq., '89, secretary and treasurer.

MR. ROSENBERGER RESIGNS

Mr. Willard Rosenberger, who for the past two years has been secretary to the Dean of the College, has made known his resignation from those duties to take effect April 1, 1926. He will after that time become affiliated with the Financial Campaign Specialists, Ward, Well, Dreshman and Gates, N. Y. He will be located at Boston, Mass.

COURT SEASON COMES TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

Hoagey High Scorer With 177 Points

Ursinus College has just completed another successful basketball season. The results as gleaned from the number of defeats and victories do not show the full strength of the team. Won 10; lost 8. Per. .555.

The season started out with a roseate outlook, five straight victories were soon annexed to the belts of the team. The brilliant aspect was changed when we received five continuous defeats in the latter half of the season. It is hardly fair to pass over the Davis Elkins game in this resume. This fray was probably the hottest ever contested in Patterson Field Cage, the credit of the victory belongs to the concerted action of the whole team.

Captain Sterner, ex-capt. Kern, Evans, and Derk have played their last varsity games. The first three having worn successfully the Red, Old Gold and Black for four years.

Hoagey was high scorer with a total of 177 points, Evans was second with 69 points.

MANAGER

"Bill," who throughout his college career always took a great interest in athletics had the distinction of managing one of the best court teams in the past four years.

If "Bill's" business qualities and skill as presented in this season's contests are an index to his future, success will be his.

STAFFORD

"Gip," the Collegeville lad, known for his versatile qualities and especially his athletic abilities was a real leader for the Ursinus Five.

Too much praise cannot be given him for the splendid manner in which he kept up the spirit of his teammates at all times. He never had much to say but his actions proved his worth.

URSINUS LASSIES LOSE TO STRONG TEMPLE SEXTET

The girls' basketball team lost to Temple on Thursday in Philadelphia with a score of 41 to 16.

Ursinus played hard but was unable to break through the passing circuit of the Temple team, although the defense gave splendid opposition, Temple's center, Brinton, managed to get the tap-off throughout the entire game, and consequently the ball very seldom got to the Ursinus forwards.

Mickey Johnson, guard, played a wonderful defense game, showing speed and skill.

MERCERSBURG HONORS STANLEY OWMAKE

Stanley Omwake, son of Pres. G. L. Omwake, has been elected Editor-in-chief of the Mercersburg Academy News for the year 1926-27. He is a member of the Class of 1927 and will take active charge of the paper with the opening of the Spring term.

Stanley is very active in various extra-curricula activities at Mercersburg. He is well known by many students at Ursinus.

Rev. Oliver Russell Delivers Two Valuable Addresses

The Lectures "The Dream of the Future" and "Conversation" Both Highly Appreciated

The student body of Ursinus College was exceptionally fortunate in having on its list of chapel speakers the Rev. Oliver Russell, pastor of the Stephen's United Free Church in Edinburgh, who delivered a most inspiring address on "The Dream of the Future," in Bomberger Hall on Wednesday morning. The speaker introduced his subject by comparing the poet and dreamer of old with the man of today. The situation of today is so different in the lot of man. The poet of old dreamed of fictions that

1926 "DIFFERENT RUBY" ARRIVES ON CAMPUS

Prof. Franklin I. Sheeder Submits Comprehensive Review

"A Different Annual"—the much anticipated year book of the Class of 1926—is now ready for distribution. Within the next few days the student body, alumni and friends of this year's graduating class will receive their copies of the latest addition to the growing collection of "Rubies" which chronicle Ursinus history from the student viewpoint.

The 1926 Ruby is an imposing volume. In size it surpasses anything of its kind yet attempted at Ursinus, and in beauty of form and arrangement it easily excels the Annuals of the past.

"Ursus horribilis" — popularly known as the grizzly bear—recently adopted as the athletic symbol of the College, has lent himself admirably to the artistic development of the book. The staff of artists deserve special commendation for their excellent work. From the cover design to the final page, old Bruin is displayed in almost every conceivable pose. The bear-track borders which appear in the fore part of the book are clever and unique, to say the least.

VARSITY FIVE NOSED OUT BY TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

On Wednesday evening the Bears finished their basketball season by bowing to Temple at Philadelphia 23-21.

The game was by far the closest guarding game of the season and lack of ability to shoot fouls cost Ursinus the game as they outscored the Philadelphians from the floor 8 goals to 7.

Temple's man for man defense gave the Bruins much to worry about and they couldn't become accustomed to it, while Ursinus five-man defense made Temple resort to long heaves at the basket.

The game started off with a running attack by Temple and the first period ended with the opposing team having an 8-2 advantage due to the Red, Old Gold and Black missing their foul tries. The remainder of the first half saw Ursinus stage a rally and when the half-time whistle blew Temple only had a one-point advantage the score reading Temple 10, Ursinus 9.

The second half was a repetition of the first with both Temple scoring one point more than the Bears due to poor foul shooting on the part of the Ursinus players.

For Temple Stackowski was the big gun with 8 points to his credit while Moyer lead in Ursinus scoring with 6 points while Evans was a close second with 5.

A large audience of students and townspeople heard the Rev. Oliver Russell, the distinguished Scottish preacher, deliver his inspiring address on Conversation in Bomberger last Tuesday evening. During the course of his address he pointed out the essential qualities of good conversation, and concluded with an appeal that everyone strive for better and purer speech.

"Conversation is the outward form and expression of the inner man," said the Rev. Oliver Russell. It shows us the character, mind, and disposition of man. There is art to conversation as there is to music and painting. It is not a gift, but can be cultivated by consistent and steady application of its laws.

He concluded his address with an appeal for everyone to assist in improving his own speech.

"Every man's conversation judges him. It is the index of his character and his mind and his disposition. Not an evil passion but will somehow cast its dark shadow there; not an unkind impulse but will mar its beauty; not a habit of indolence but will be revealed for contempt.

But as conversation is a universal

GLEE CLUB PLEASES CENTER POINT AUDIENCE

Violin Numbers by Hoerner and Scheier Appreciated

The director and manager of the Men's Glee Club have a peculiar knack of turning uncertain performances into roaring successes, and such was the nature of the mid-week concert. Given in Farmer's Hall, Center Point, under the auspices of the schools of Worcester township, Wednesday evening, March 10, the new program proved a popular number with the large audience.

The first of the new selections comprised a mixed quartette including Miss Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine, director, Miss Margaret Ehly, pianist, Harold Peterson, and Alton Peterman. This addition proved a delightful variety and was fully appreciated by the audience.

ZWING PLAY CAST MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Members of the cast of Zwinglian Literary Society Anniversary Play, "Captain Applejack," are giving considerable time in preparation to make the production one of the finest ever given at the College. The play will be given in Bomberger Hall on Friday evening, March 26, when Zwing celebrates its fifty-sixth anniversary.

Mr. William Welles, director of the play, had lengthy rehearsals last Friday afternoon and evening at which times the cast showed that they were gradually mastering their parts. The rehearsals during the week are in charge of his assistants Miss Dorothy Threapleton and Miss Ruth Eppeheimer.

The tickets for the play will be distributed to the faculty and cast this week. Members of Zwing will secure their tickets early next week and members of Schaff and other students non-society members will secure tickets at the same time. George Kirkpatrick, chairman of the Anniversary Committee, will have charge of the tickets.

A RESUME OF THE 1925-26 BASKETBALL SEASON

A casual glance at the results of this year's basketball team will show that the Bears have realized a highly successful season. This conclusion can be drawn by mirroring the situation from various angles.

In the first place, the team has had an attractive and different schedule. The players have opposed some of the foremost court combinations in Eastern United States and have won more than fifty per cent of their games. Then again, the home contests drew larger and more enthusiastic crowds than were seen in Patterson Field Cage during the past four years. Naturally, this commendable spirit was due to a certain extent to the high calibre of the teams.

In the final analysis, Coach Kichline and his assistant were largely responsible for the successful season. They had abundant material around which to build a varsity but they deserve much credit for the way in which they directed the players. Prospects are bright for next year and if the student body will support the tossers as well as they have done throughout this season a satisfactory record may be assured.

SCHOLARSHIPS IN DEBATING

There is no extra-curricula activity at Ursinus that advertises the scholastic standing of the College more than does debating. So in order to have Ursinus represented in her true light, it is necessary that we maintain a keen interest in forensic circles. How can this be accomplished?

When we consider the scholarships given to students for leadership and scholastic ability, we wonder why students who possess the ability to debate, are not remembered. Surely this deserves some consideration. If scholarships were awarded to the three best debaters each year, and if the scholarships were not permanent but open to competition each year, we think that the waning interest in debating would revive and that real animated interest and rivalry would be shown not only in competing for the debating team but throughout the entire debating season.

Perhaps some one will remark that this is not consistent with the policy of Ursinus and that it would be commercializing an honorary art. But can not the same criticism be made regarding scholarships in other activities? A glance at the statistics will corroborate this statement. Thus we can readily see that in order to have successful debating teams in the future, some means must be employed to create more interest, and the plan proposed is worth trying.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. meeting, led by Helen Walbert, on Wednesday evening was open for discussion and was based upon the subject, "What the Y. W. C. A. Means."

The Y. W. to many girls means camps and conferences. It has established, in connection with these, cafeterias, and it is said that the latter commercial establishment sprang primarily from these of the Y. W. In addition to that the organization broadens interest, provides a place for recreation, and presents a different side of religious life. In the cities its clubs give its members the privileges of attending special classes which it maintains. Through world fellowship movements it creates a common interest, breaks down prejudices and offers an opportunity for service. Not only that, but it fosters worth-while ideas and develops leadership and individuality.

The great objective of the Y. W.

is to have the girls "live Jesus' law of love." The girl who is really endeavoring to live up to this will never be satisfied until she gives her best. She will not be discouraged when she thinks somebody is doing more important things, but will do what she can in the best way.

Many reasons were advanced for the seeming lack of success in all the various relationships, particularly international, such as: ignorance, race prejudice, rivalry, indifference, nationalistic feeling, jealousy, selfishness, religious intolerance, criticism, lack of appreciation, consciousness of differences, hypocrisy, tactlessness and unguided ambition. Christianity, or "living Jesus' law of love," is the one and only solution of these problems.

In closing Miss Walbert spoke of the joint Y. M.-Y. W. conference to be held at Eaglesmere, June 11-20. The theme of the conference is to be "Reality," and many competent men and women will be there to handle the various phases of the subject.

SCHAFF

Schaff Literary Society held its weekly meeting Friday evening, March 12 in Schaff Hall. The program was of a musical nature and all the participants showed unusual talent along musical lines. The fact was also revealed that the Frosh are real artists along musical lines.

The first number on the program was a piano solo by Miss Shoop. This was followed by a musical recitation by Miss Stocker. Mr. Schierer then played a violin solo. This group was composed entirely of Freshmen who made their first appearance in Schaff. Their numbers were greatly enjoyed as was evidenced by the applause from the audience.

Miss Fetters '28 then presented a musical romance. This number was greatly appreciated and it was followed with a piano duet by Miss Barth and Miss Mosser. This number was also a real presentation of musical art and these two ladies held up their reputations as accomplished musicians. The Gazette was then read by Miss Werner.

In the business session the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing term: President, Mr. Hoerner; secretary, Miss Stocker; cor. secretary, Miss Shoop; pianist, Miss Seitz; chaplain, Mr. Moore, critic, Miss Shipe; editor No. 1, Mr. Straley; No. 2, Miss Kuder; No. 3, Miss Jenkins; janitor, Mr. Hartman; assistant janitor, Miss Sargent.

Schaff welcomed into active membership Messrs. Hartman and Metcalf and Dr. Sturgis and Miss Errett were elected to honorary membership.

ZWING

The lapse of several weeks without society meetings seemed to add interest and vigor to the programs, and resulted in the presentation of one of the best programs on last Friday night that Zwinglians have enjoyed for many a week. Every number was a feature in itself.

Miss Charlotte Berger, '28, read a cutting from Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" as an opening number. The selection was well-chosen and its rendition was of the very best.

This was followed by a musical sketch by Miss Isabel Radcliffe, '28, "Remember" and "Moonlight and Roses." The talent of Mr. Owen Jones '27 and Miss Ruth Eppeheimer, '27 made this number a delightful treat.

A sketch, "The Mayor and the Manicure," directed by Miss Evelyn Hamm, '28 and Miss Ruth von Steuben, followed on the program. The selection of characters was excellent, and the production exceeded the highest hopes of the society. Parts were taken by Miss Isabel Johnson, '27, Miss Melba Farnsler, '28, Mr. Charles Yaukey, '26 and Mr. Samuel Reimert, '27.

A mock faculty meeting under the direction of Mr. Reimert was a real climax to the evening of mirth and light entertainment. The humor and supposed reality of it won the fullest measure of applause for a truly deserving cast of clever actors.

Zwing Review was read by Miss Kathryn Reimert, '27. It consisted of a good editorial on "College Singing," and a paper of amusing jokes.

Zwing welcomed into active membership Miss Mary Rule, '29, and Miss Mary Oberlin, '29.

The Tower Window

I should like to urge the alumni and former students residing in the various localities to get together in their annual meetings. The new constitution of the Alumni Association provides for "constituent associations," and asks that each such organization hold at least one meeting a year. A number of the districts are organized and we are informed that in some of these plans for banquets or meetings of some sort are being laid.

It is highly important for the welfare of the College that the local alumni associations continue active through their officers and committees throughout the year. Meetings are necessary in order to keep in touch with the College itself, to promote fellowship among members, hear reports, and plan work. All such meetings should be planned with reference to getting the largest possible attendance. For this reason the notices should go out as early as possible in advance of the meetings. No class of people have more public engagements than college graduates, but they have few appointments more important than that calling them together for a meeting directly in the interest of their own Alma Mater.

If there ever was a time when Ursinus men and women should take an active interest in their college it is now, for in addition to the usual ties, the alumni are large shareholders in its financial resources and have a proprietary interest in the institution. It can truly be said also that the Directors and administrative officers desire to take counsel with the alumni in matters of policy, and to work for the promotion of the College in close co-operation. This co-operation cannot be had except as we get together frequently for social intercourse and the transaction of business.

The month of April will be an excellent time for the holding of Ursinus banquets throughout the field. I am sure the editors will place this paper at the service of local officers in working up these meetings.

JUNIOR VARSITY LOSES BY ONE POINT TO PENN J. V.'S

At the Thompson field cage on Saturday evening, the Penn junior varsity turned what seemed destined to be an Ursinus victory into defeat by nosing out the little Bears by a score of 32 to 30.

Ursinus scored first on a free try from the foul line and kept in the lead up to three minutes to play in the last half when Penn slowly surged ahead to victory.

The first half of the game was marked by unusual speed and the impenetrable defense of the Bruins. Penn repeatedly worked the ball up to the center of the floor where it was invariably stopped by a well formed five man defense. While in possession of the ball the Ursinus understudies worked towards their goal by well nigh perfect passing, and with accurate gauging of the basket, field goal after field goal was made, until at the end of the first half the score stood 19 to 10 with Ursinus in the lead.

The second half of the game was marked by rough playing and many long shots in which the Penn dribblers excelled. Numerous fouls were called thus making the game considerably slower than the first half, until the last two minutes when Ursinus made a valiant attempt to regain their lost lead, but two points separated them at the bell.

Newcomer and Jeffers led the Ursinus team in scoring from the field with four field goals each besides playing a fast floor game. Millar played an exceptionally good offensive game while Benner, Mink and Dougherty played fine defensive basketball, breaking down passes and shots repeatedly.

McTigue led Penn's attack with six field goals and Duncan played a fine defensive game as well as scoring from the field.

ALUMNI NOTES

After an eight years' pastorate of the Wilson Avenue Reformed Church at Columbus, Ohio, Rev. J. P. Alden, '99, has begun his pastorate of the First Reformed Church at Warren, Ohio. He is also Vice Chairman for the Central Theological Seminary Promotion Campaign in the North East Ohio Classis.

Rev. George P. Kehl, '21, of Indianapolis, Ind., was the contributor of an article appearing in a recent issue of "Church Management," a national religious periodical.

Frances C. Schlater, '21, is now located at Detroit, Mich., where he has accepted a position as assistant director of religious education.

Rev. William O. Wolford, '21, who has been located at Spinnerstown for the past few years, has recently moved to Palmerton, Pa. He is now pastor of the First Reformed Church of Palmerton.

SOPHS OUTCLASS FROSH IN ANNUAL CONTEST

On Thursday, March 11, the annual basketball game between the Frosh and Sophs was held in the Field Cage.

In this battle the Freshmen went down to defeat by the score of 31 to 14, but they played a hard game, fighting every minute. The Sophs, led by Bigley, Hoagey, and Armento, took the lead from the start and were never in danger of losing it. Bigley was high scorer with five field goals and one foul toss. Miller, for the Frosh, scored three from the field.

The rivalry between the supporters of the two teams was intense. Practically the entire student body attended the game and their cheers for their favorites kept interest at a high pitch.

On the whole the Sophomores presented a more experienced organization than the first year men. They were therefore more efficient in their passing and shooting. Despite the loss of the game, the Frosh are consoling themselves with thoughts of the victories they have already won.

Y. M. C. A.

One of the most unique Y. M. meetings of the year was held in the Philosophy room on Wednesday evening in charge of the president, Mr. Welker. The feature of the meeting was a talk on "The Four-Fold Life by 'Jobby' Johnson '29, who although new to the work at Ursinus, is by no means unacquainted with "Y. M." activities, having been connected with the "Y" at Dayton, Ohio, and an instructor at the summer "Y" camps. He was well qualified to speak on his subject having been connected with the "Four-Fold Life Camps" for the past several years. To quote Jobby, "The only way to cope with the life of the world is to be a real man, and the only way to be a real man is to be developed according to the four-fold plan of life, physically, mentally, morally and religiously." His style was easy and conversational holding the interest of all those present.

1926 Ruby Arrives on Campus

Several new features are chronicled this year. A number of pages are devoted to the various alumni organizations; the "Greater Ursinus" program is also given a place, and the messages of the three administrative officers add a note of personal interest and charm.

Photographs and snaps are always among the outstanding features of a book of this nature. They are exceptionally good this year. The campus section is particularly well done; and, being different, gives new beauty to old and cherished scenes. The grid-iron action scenes are a departure that is most commendable.

One is always interested in the dedicatory of each Ruby as it appears year after year. In selecting former Professor Gawthrop for this honor, the Class of 1926 has chosen well. His progressive spirit, his scholarly attainments and his ideals have rightly enshrined him in the hearts of those who were privileged to come under his influence.

The only adverse criticism that one is inclined to make of the publication as a whole is the inclusion of a few drawings and references that are noticeable for their suggestiveness. This is not in keeping with the high standards of Ursinus Annuals of the past. All in all, however, the 1926 Ruby is a masterpiece, a credit to the painstaking work of the editor-in-chief and his staff, and an enduring monument to the Class that has sponsored it.

judge, it is also a universal inspiration. Think what these little words can do. They can raise us superior to the bounds of time and space. With the parting of our lips we can summon up spirits of all ages and make them parties to our converse. We can roam with them over the vastest fields of imagination. In these invisible characters we can read the souls of our friends and impart of our inmost souls to them. They can dispel our cares and illumine our spirits and brighten our lives. They can respond to every mood of our changing experience. When one thinks of these things, one reflects with pride and exaltation on the wonder that was wrought when man became a living soul. If we would voice this wonder, let it be by Shakespeare, the greatest master in the magic incantations of human speech—"What a piece of work is man! How infinite in faculties! In form how admirable! In action how like an angel! In apprehension like a god!"

would cease and of evil that would be obliterated. They dreamed that a little child, a picture of simplicity, would lead them. That was the vision of the men of old and no amount of disillusionment can bury that element of human life which rings eternal down thru the ages. We have today the ideal of the league and combination of nations for a better world and yet we all agree that that day has not arrived. The promise and hopes of the men of old have not been fulfilled neither have their expectations been realized. As a result many condemn religion and have no use for it. Today we see the hopes of Jesus Christ imperfectly realized and yet those who complain have not done a handful to help. Our Christian faith has not failed. It has merely been set aside by men who strive for their own good.

What is going to happen to this old world when suppressed nations awake is a question yet unforecast. No one will be able to hold them down forever. China, Africa and Russia will all rise some day. It is not a matter of education with these nations for they are clever enough without it. It is a case of inculcating among these peoples the ideals which make for righteousness and peace. The fact of the whole matter is that the nations which have adopted Christianity have rendered the greatest contributions to the world. Compared to any other we can be thankful that we live in a Christian civilization which has made the greatest progress in freedom and prosperity.

Debaters Take Two

subject Resolved: That the United States Should Join the League of Nations. A touch of humor was employed by the Templeites in the method which they used for refuting the affirmative arguments. Earl Burgard, Clair Blum and Paul Wisler of the affirmative team upheld the Ursinus side of the question. Harold Simmerman, James S. Lyons, and Harry C. Kait defended the opposition.

The judges, Russel Bachman, Esq., attorney from Allentown; Professor J. H. Eisenhauer, Principal of the Reading Boys High School, and Professor E. E. Small, Junior High School, Norristown, rendered a 3-0 decision in favor of Ursinus.

Warren Bietsch, graduate and former debater at Ursinus, acted as chairman of the meeting. He gave due recognition to the alternates of the two teams by introducing Samuel McLaughlin, former student at Ursinus, as the Temple alternate, and C. Earl Gardner as the Ursinus alternate. He kept the audience in suspense in a very novel way before announcing the decision of the judges.

gress in freedom and prosperity. The Christian religion has never failed when tried. The people who constitute the problems of today such as murderers are not Christians. It is the vast body of men who have not professed to be good but have quietly absorbed the truth that are the salt of the earth, the pledge and promise of the future.

It is easy for us who have complaints to make to throw them against the government and the church. When all men speak well of you there is something wrong. Criticism is of two kinds constructive and ill-tempered. There is no other institution in the history of the world compared to the church in bringing about vision, sacrifices and daring.

Glee Club Pleases at Center Point

For a long time the club has looked forward to the addition of violin numbers to the program, and now it is that the audience can look back with favor upon the selections of the veteran Charles Hoerner and debutant Walter Scheiter. The club was noticeably in need of string instruments, and without a doubt this number was in a large way responsible for a successful evening.

The regular numbers must not be overlooked and it was Alton Peterman, baritone soloist, and Harold Peterson, trumpeter, along with the club that formed the mainstay.

The great success of this short trip can be attributed to the sympathetic audience and the scientific construction of the hall, the best for acoustics in which the club has given a concert.

Ursinus students may well appreciate the appearance of their famed club before the College May 14, at nearly the close of its thus far successful season. Previous engagements are scheduled for Norristown High School March 18 and Darby High School March 24.
