The Tower Window

HERE appears to be universal satisfaction with regard to the decision to make Highland Hall the Ursinus Varsity Club and use it as training headquarters for athletic teams. The spacious old stone mansion with its fine location and ample yard lends itself admirably to the club house idea. There will be room to house two football teams besides the coach, a trainer and caretaker and a chef.

This property will be recognized by the older alumni as the old Dr. Royer homestead in the near end of Trappe. It was purchased last September after a generous benefactor had promised to give $6,500 toward its purchase under certain conditions chief of which was the raising of a like amount to cover the balance of original cost and the expense of making certain improvements. Other friends pledged this amount during the winter, so that now the cost of the premises to the institution has been provided for. Meanwhile a new heater, new bath and toilet facilities and a new water system including an artesian well with an ample flow of water and an automatically controlled power pump have been installed. All that will be needed further will be the fitting up of employee's quarters and the equipping of the kitchen and dining room.

The place is just far enough off campus to insure quiet and rest for the athletes when needed. Only letter men and others chosen by the coach will be quartered at the Varsity Club. When the football season closes, those not qualifying for basketball and track will move to the dormitories and candidates for the latter sports will take their places. At the beginning of the baseball season a shift will again be made.

It is believed that this fine addition to the athletic equipment of the College will greatly promote the success of our teams and the welfare of the students who are so fortunate as to reside there. G. L. O.

ZWING

The Sophomores held full sway in a miscellaneous program in Zwing on Friday night. Miss Thomas and Miss Dietrich opened with peppy jazz on the ukelele. Denny entertained in his pleasing tenor with the familiar but welcome "Down on the Old Farm."

An original sketch by Schmuck followed, in which Miss Boston starred. Miss Epeheimer's vocal selection, "At Memories Gate," was well sung.

A mock gym exhibition brought down storms of applause. It included a grand march and several aesthetic dances, soulfully interpreted by Henkels, Reimert, Schmuck and Jones in the graceful costumes of the old Greek dancers.

Leonard Miller gave an interesting and helpful talk on the baseball season.

Strains from "In Heidelberg," on Mr. Corson's violin, were very much appreciated by the audience.

A good editorial read by Reimert closed the program.

The newly elected officers are: President, Mr. Evans; vice president, Miss Weldon; chaplain, Mr. Fritsch; recording secretary, Miss Fritsch; corresponding secretary, Miss Black; pianist, Miss Wertman; janitors, Mr. Novario and Mr. Barron.

H. C. BALDWIN GIVES TALK

Mr. H. C. Baldwin of the Babson Statistical Organization, gave an interesting talk to the students interested in Economics on Friday morning, May 1. Mr. Baldwin has recently returned from Europe where he has been investigating the economic problems of other countries.

The chief topic of his address was Commodity Service. He told of the difficulties and experiments of economists along this line.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS

On Wednesday evening at 6.30 Helen Walbert '26 led the Y. W. C. A. in its Eaglesmere meeting. Due to the shortness of time the regular order of the meeting was dispensed with and reports were heard from the delegates to the Eaglesmere Convention in former years.

Helen Johnson '25 spoke on the beauty and aspects of the place in general. Alice Berger '25 outlined the recreative side of the 10-days program. Harriet Smith, '26 gave an interesting account of the remarkable spirit of fellowship and sociability.

Nathalie Gretton, '25 told the girls about the group discussions, and Betty Holloway, '25 summarized the main purpose and accomplishments of the group work.

At the close of the meeting the Eaglesmere girls sang a song written by a blind girl from Hood College last year. All the speakers made a plea for interest in this year's meeting and urged the girls to begin thinking about it as soon as possible. Every effort is being made for Ursinus to have a big delegation at the next Conference, and do real credit to the College.

PROF SAWHILL ADDRESSES

Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Last Wednesday evening the Y. M. C. A. was pleasantly privileged to have as its guest and speaker, Prof. Sawhill, who showed himself to be interested in students' problems and truly deserving of the term "good fellow". Before introducing Prof. Sawhill, President Welker spoke a few words of appreciation, thanking the fellows for the honor and duty they had bestowed on him in electing him president and making a plea for cooperation in the work which the new administration is planning to do.

Professor Sawhill centered his talk around the theme, "The attitude of the college man to the common ordinary people of everyday life." He said in part: "You have all no doubt discussed the problems of the relation which should exist between professors and students. Most professors are interested in their students or they would not be where they are. I suppose that many of you feel that the professors are dried up creatures, who are not much interested in you and have not much knowledge outside of that which is contained in books. But as a matter of fact the professors know more of the things of the world than most students imagine."

"From my experiences, then, I would say that we should not assume a superior attitude to those less favored than we. There is a term in French—Noblesse Oblige—which means nobility obliges, and the college man should stand for the spirit contained therein. There are many people less favored than you who are working to keep you here and there are other philanthropic souls who are helping to make your educational advantages possible. The idea, then, is this; that after you get an education, it is your duty as well as your privilege to go out and serve others, and to give those less favored than you the benefit of what you get here."

Zimmerman Resigns

Memorial Field Cage has taken place. Instead of grotesque, dangerous and unsatisfactory stoves in the corners we now find a very efficient steam heating system. In conjunction with the heating system the cage and the field house have been connected, providing a room for the caretaker of the two places. A better lighting system has been installed. In brief, a transformation has taken place for which "Zim" deserves most of the credit.

A brief survey of his athletic record shows that in 1923 he had a winning season with a veteran combination. The past season was mediocre and prospects of the fall are bright.

After a fair basketball season in 1923 the boys this year turned in one of the most successful seasons in years with virtually the entire team returning.

With a veteran nucleus the baseball team broke even in 1924. The team has seen very little activity this year but the new combination looks well.

At present the Athletic Association is in better financial condition than it ever has been which speaks for Zimmerman as a financial manager.

As political parties change in their control, likewise with athletic coaches. "The old order changeth for the new." As yet no successor has been chosen to replace Zimmerman but it will undoubtedly be an alumnus of the College.

Ursinus alumni who will be graduated from Central Theological Seminary at the commencement exercises to be held from May 3-7 include Norman S. Greenawalt, '22, James W. Bright, '22, Franklin I. Sheeder, Jr., '22, and Loy C. Gobrecht, '22.

New Athletic Council Organized

(Continued from page 1) meet regularly on the second Friday of each month except in July and August when there will be no stated meetings.

New Finance Committee

Provision is made for a thoroughly business-like method of financing all branches of athletics. The treasurer is to receive and be custodian of all funds and make a report at each monthly meeting of the Council.

Duties of Manager

The duties of undergraduate managers are definitely specified. No undergraduate manager may exercise the functions of his office until he shall have successfully passed an examination on the Constitution, By-Laws and Regulations of the Athletic Council and shall have received a commission signed by its chairman.

undergraduate managers and may be deposed, for cause, on request of the team confirmed by a majority vote of the Sports Committee.

The status of coaches under the new system is that of instruction officers. They are relieved of all managerial duties respecting equipment, field arrangements, trips of teams, etc., and will devote all their energies to professional duties.

Alumni and Varsity Clubs

Under the Code adopted by the Board of Directors the undergraduate athletic associations (for men and for women), the Alumni Athletic Club and the Varsity "U" Club are recognized athletic organizations of the College whose activities shall be conducted under constitutions approved by the Athletic Council.

The members appointed by the Directors to serve on the Council until the close of the present year are Dr. Henry T. Spangler, Ralph E. Miller, Professors J. W. Clawson and W. R. Gawthrop, W. R. Douthett, D. L. Helfrich, L. H. Wood, A. F. Sieber and D. R. Faringer.

Take A Weekly Trip Home . . . Over The Telephone

Take Your Place in the Family Circle . . .

Since the advent of the telephone there have been fewer and fewer cases of acute lonesomeness in college dormitories!

THAT UNDERCURRENT OF LONESOMENESS! How often it is noticed, even in the active life of the most blase and sophisticated College Man!

The best-known man on the campus will tell you that he experiences a frequent desire to join the old circle back Home. He will also tell you that he does join it, every week . . . over the telephone.

Take your place in the family circle. Make a telephone date with Mother and Dad for a certain day at a certain hour, every week of your College Life.
