

Pittsburg State University

Pittsburg State University Digital Commons

Scrapbooks, Newspapers & Assorted

Caney Valley Historical Society & Museum Complex

1894

Newspaper article, A Great Cereal, Fruit and Cattle Country, 1894

James Carswell

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.pittstate.edu/caney_scrapbooks

Recommended Citation

Carswell, James, "Newspaper article, A Great Cereal, Fruit and Cattle Country, 1894" (1894). Scrapbooks, Newspapers & Assorted. 20.

https://digitalcommons.pittstate.edu/caney_scrapbooks/20

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Caney Valley Historical Society & Museum Complex at Pittsburg State University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Scrapbooks, Newspapers & Assorted by an authorized administrator of Pittsburg State University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact lfthompson@pittstate.edu.

CANEY,
MONTGOMERY CO., KANSAS.
Rich in Soil and Scenery, Timber,
Coal and Water.
A GREAT CEREAL, FRUIT AND CATTLE COUNTRY.

In a Land of Opportunities.

BY JAMES CARSWELL.

In a basin, with central eminence, and surrounded with circling hills, is Caney, one of the most prosperous towns in the state of Kansas. The Caney river flows into Montgomery county about two and a half miles northwest of town, winds its way in a southeasterly course, and gradually approaches nearer Caney, then leaves and loses its identity in the Verdigris river, which marries the Arkansas.

Caney city is a beautiful town, with handsome streets, and buildings of masonry and frame. Its main thoroughfare is one of the busiest markets in the southern part of the state, and there are constant processions of loaded wagons, from the rising to the setting of the sun.

The surroundings are not only grandly beautiful with rolling fields calming to stretches of emerald level, and again rising to mounds and hills, while the river's timber girt adds to the scenic beauty, but lovely homes and orchards, church spires and public structures show man's handiwork in unity with nature.

Being on an elevation, Caney has natural drainage, and securing pure water at sixteen feet, and having the benefit of every breeze that blows, tempered by belting hills, it is in a country which is yours for health.

This is a banner country of agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. The soil is sandy, with a sub-strata of clay. The bottoms are a rich black loam, and in places here and there limestone soil is found.

On the Capt. J. E. Stone estate wheat averaged this year 26 bushels to the acre, and on the Morris ranch, a couple of miles away the farmers. Besides the foregoing it has coal fields undeveloped and ample indications of oil and gas.

Caney is a city of enterprising, refined and social people, and besides its Kansas and city laws, has just been blessed with a United States Commissioner. Property is cheap, lots ranging from $15 towards the station of the Missouri Pacific to $300 towards the city center. Being in Kansas, it has all the advantages of staidom, and being less than a mile from the Indian Territory, it has the advantages of that lovely country without the danger of investment and the throbbing thought of "when will that allotment come."

Caney is a young town, as, although it was platted in 1871, its real growth began with the railway, about eight years ago. The first store here early in the 70's was that of O. M. Smith, who is now in the far west. He was followed by White & White, afterwards White & Dunlap. Then E. Booth appeared upon the scene and the place grew apace. The latter is now senior member of the famous firm of Booth, Pattison & Co. Now Caney has about fifty business establishments.

The first church was the Methodist; now there are Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Christian edifices. The first school was flourishing when it had forty scholars. Now the school buildings have 400 pupils, and cost $8,000. The first hotel is part of the Forest House—now there are three hotels and numerous restaurants.

The first financeering institution was the Caney Valley Bank, and it is noted for hospitality and dispatch.

The first physician was Dr. A. M. Taylor, and he is now surrounded by gentlemen of all professions.

The veteran citizen is J. W. Hodges, Esq., who came here in 1870, before there was a sign of a village. He was born in Virginia in 1825, and was taken to Tennessee in 1833, the year the stars fell. Four years after he was taken to Illinois, raised there and became a wagon and house builder. Squire Hodges was this township's first appointed trustee and has been justice of the peace. He made the first coffin here and is still an undertaker, deals in real estate and

NEXT TO A DAILY
THE
SEMI-WEEKLY CAPITAL.

Eight pages each issue, every Tuesday and Friday, for

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR, or, together with the

Caney Chronicle,

—for—

TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

A subscription for both papers now will give you all the local news of your own county, besides the news of the campaign, the proceedings of the legislature, which meets in January, and the most complete report of Kansas news published in any paper. Also the news of the world, and a large variety of choice stories and miscellaneous literary matter.

Address all subscriptions to
THE CANEY CHRONICLE,
Caney, - - - - Kansas.

Take the Old Reliable

MISSOURI PACIFIC

— FOR —

Kansas City, St. Louis and all points

North, South, East or West.

First class road bed, finest equipments and fastest time.

Fewer accidents occur than on any road in the U. S.

F. S. DEWITT, Agt.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Successor of the "Unabridged."
Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concern

HC

HC

OR

Come highly pleased

We have Cloth covers of all kinds

HC

Are you going

Bedroom Set Chanel
Chair
Chest

CANEY, K

Paper

A

Change Journal Oct. 24, 1894

MISSOURI PACIFIC

— FOR —

Kansas City, St. Louis and all points North, South, East or West.

First class road bed, finest equipments and fastest time.

Fewer accidents occur than on any road in the U. S.

F. S. DEWITT, Agt.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Successor of the "Unabridged." Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority. Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Sold by All Booksellers. G. & C. Merriam Co., Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Do not buy cheap photographic reprints of ancient editions. Send for free prospectus.

The surroundings are not only grandly beautiful with rolling fields calming to stretches of emerald level, and again rising to mounds and hills, while the river's timber girt adds to the scenic beauty, but lovely homes and orchards, church spires and public structures show man's handiwork in unity with nature.

Being on an elevation, Caney has natural drainage, and securing pure water at sixteen feet, and having the benefit of every breeze that blows, tempered by belting hills, it is in a country which is yours for health.

This is a banner country of agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. The soil is sandy, with a sub-strata of clay. The bottoms are a rich black loam, and in places here and there limestone soil is found.

On the Capt. J. E. Stone estate wheat averaged this year 26 bushels to the acre, and on the Morris ranch, a couple of miles away, the average was 35 bushels, and about 50,000 bushels were marketed right here. Since the Fourth of July Caney has had from four to six grain buyers and they have had lots to do, and the Caney Roller Mills consumes no small quantity. Oats this season averaged 45 bushels and flax ranged from 10 to 14 bushels to the acre, but corn is short, owing to the dry times of June, July and August, which affected the country at large.

This is the home of the wild grape, and apples, peaches and cherries grow grandly, while the vegetable gardens would delight a Teuton. It has the soil, and being on the 37th parallel, has the climate. Then the region is blest with unfailing springs, and many of the big pastures have ponds like miniature lakes glistening in the sun.

The timber includes walnut trees five feet through, stalwart oak, hickory, hackberry, ash, elm, cottonwood and sycamore, and Caney needs a furniture factory, a hub, spoke and handle factory, a box factory and a wagon factory.

This is a great cattle country, and 63,000 head were shipped in here last year to the rail and cattle ars. Now the school buildings have 400 pupils, and cost $8,000. The first hotel is part of the Forest House—now there are three hotels and numerous restaurants.

The first financeering institution was the Caney Valley Bank, and it is noted for hospitality and dispatch.

The first physician was Dr. A. M. Taylor, and he is now surrounded by gentlemen of all professions.

The veteran citizen is J. W. Hodges, Esq., who came here in 1870, before there was a sign of a village. He was born in Virginia in 1825, and was taken to Tennessee in 1833, the year the stars fell. Four years after he was taken to Illinois, raised there and became a wagon and house builder. 'Squire Hodges was this township's first appointed trustee and has been justice of the peace. He made the first coffin here and is still an undertaker, deals in real estate and is in the insurance business. He is a popular gentleman and is ever an interesting and genial conversationalist.

One of the most deservedly popular citizens in this belt of country is L. Glatfelder, who has been in the vicinity about a quarter of a century. His farm encompasses a fraction over 487 acres, part having been relegated to railroad right of way. The substantial and cozy buildings, the well cultivated fields, the lasting and sparkling spring, and, with the biggest orchard in the township, the Glatfelder place, two miles east of Caney, is a worthy home of a most worthy man. On the farm he has general purpose horses, Galloway cattle and thoroughbred Poland China porkers worthy of a fair. L. Glatfelder was born in Pennsylvania about three score years and ten ago, and he is as mentally and physically as active as many men in the prime of life. Officially he has held several positions without evolvment, being a thoroughly patriotic citizen, and is now granting unqualified satisfaction to the government and the people as postmaster and is a gentleman in word and deed. His daughter

Bedroom S
Chanel
Chair
Cen

CANEY, I

Paper

A

They also
If your buggy and at prices

SUN

We are pleased upon payment
THE CANEY
DISPATCH

FR

This is the Post-Dispatch
great State of each issue, and when you will

Combinat

(Continued on page 2)

CANEY

MONTGOMERY CO., KANSAS.

Rich in Soil and Scenery, Timber,
Coal and Water.

A GREAT CEREAL, FRUIT AND
CATTLE COUNTRY.

In a Land of Opportunities.

BY JAMES CARSWELL.

In a basin, with central eminence, and surrounded with circling hills, is Caney, one of the most prosperous towns in the state of Kansas. The Caney river flows into Montgomery county about two and a half miles northwest of town, winds its way in a southeasterly course, and gradually approaches nearer Caney, then leaves and loses its identity in the Verdigris river, which marries the Arkansas.

Caney city is a beautiful town, with handsome streets, and buildings of masonry and frame. Its main thoroughfare is one of the busiest markets in the southern part of the state, and there are constant processions of loaded wagons, from the rising to the setting of the sun.

The surroundings are not only grandly beautiful with rolling fields calming to stretches of emerald level, and again rising to mounds and hills, while the river's timber girt adds to the scenic beauty, but lovely homes and orchards, church spires and public structures show man's handiwork in unity with nature.

Being on an elevation, Caney has natural drainage, and securing pure water at sixteen feet, and having the benefit of every breeze that blows, tempered by belting hills, it is in a country which is yours for health.

This is a banner country of agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. The soil is sandy, with a sub-strata of clay. The bottoms are a rich black loam, and in places here and there limestone soil is found.

On the Capt. J. E. Stone estate wheat averaged this year 26 bushels to the acre, and on the Morris ranch, a couple of miles away the farmers. Besides the foregoing it has coal fields undeveloped and ample indications of oil and gas.

Caney is a city of enterprising, refined and social people, and besides its Kansas and city laws, has just been blessed with a United States Commissioner. Property is cheap, lots ranging from $15 towards the station of the Missouri Pacific to $300 towards the city center. Being in Kansas, it has all the advantages of staterdom, and being less than a mile from the Indian Territory, it has the advantages of that lovely country without the danger of investment and the throbbing thought of "when will that allotment come."

Caney is a young town, as, although it was platted in 1871, its real growth began with the railway, about eight years ago. The first store here early in the 70's was that of O. M. Smith, who is now in the far west. He was followed by White & White, afterwards White & Dunlap. Then E. Booth appeared upon the scene and the place grew apace. The latter is now senior member of the famous firm of Booth, Pattison & Co. Now Caney has about fifty business establishments.

The first church was the Methodist; now there are Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Christian edifices. The first school was flourishing when it had forty scholars. Now the school buildings have 400 pupils, and cost $8,000. The first hotel is part of the Forest House—now there are three hotels and numerous restaurants.

The first financeering institution was the Caney Valley Bank, and it is noted for hospitality and dispatch.

The first physician was Dr. A. M. Taylor, and he is now surrounded by gentlemen of all professions.

The veteran citizen is J. W. Hodges, Esq., who came here in 1870, before there was a sign of a village. He was born in Virginia in 1825, and was taken to Tennessee in 1833, the year the stars fell. Four years after he was taken to Illinois, raised there and became a wagon and house builder. Squire Hodges was this township's first appointed trustee and has been justice of the peace. He made the first coffin here and is still an undertaker, deals in real estate and

NEXT TO A DAILY

THE SEMI-WEEKLY CAPITAL.

Eight pages each issue, every Tuesday and Friday, for ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR, or, together with the

Caney Chronicle,
—for—
TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

A subscription for both papers now will give you all the local news of your own county, besides the news of the campaign, the proceedings of the legislature, which meets in January, and the most complete report of Kansas news published in any paper. Also the news of the world, and a large variety of choice stories and miscellaneous literary matter.

Address all subscriptions to
THE CANEY CHRONICLE,
Caney, - - - - Kansas.

Take the Old Reliable

MISSOURI PACIFIC

— FOR —

Kansas City, St. Louis and all points North, South, East or West.

First class road bed, finest equipments and fastest time.

Fewer accidents occur than on any road in the U. S.

F. S. DeWITT, Agt.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New, Approved by the Times, A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged." Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words. A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concern

LC

HC

OR

Come highly pleased

We have Cloth covers of all kinds

HC

Are you g

Bedroom St Chanel
Chair
Cen
P

CANEY, K

Paper

A

Cherry Chumchal Oct. 24, 1894

The surroundings are not only grandly beautiful with rolling fields calming to stretches of emerald level, and again rising to mounds and hills, while the river's timber girt adds to the scenic beauty, but lovely homes and orchards, church spires and public structures show man's handiwork in unity with nature.

Being on an elevation, Caney has natural drainage, and securing pure water at sixteen feet, and having the benefit of every breeze that blows, tempered by belting hills, it is in a country which is yours for health.

This is a banner country of agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. The soil is sandy, with a sub-strata of clay. The bottoms are a rich black loam, and in places here and there limestone soil is found.

On the Capt. J. E. Stone estate wheat averaged this year 26 bushels to the acre, and on the Morris ranch, a couple of miles away, the average was 35 bushels, and about 50,000 bushels were marketed right here. Since the Fourth of July Caney has had from four to six grain buyers and they have had lots to do, and the Caney Roller Mills consumes no small quantity. Oats this season averaged 45 bushels and flax ranged from 10 to 14 bushels to the acre, but corn is short, owing to the dry times of June, July and August, which affected the country at large.

This is the home of the wild grape, and apples, peaches and cherries grow grandly, while the vegetable gardens would delight a Teuton. It has the soil, and being on the 37th parallel, has the climate. Then the region is blest with unfailing springs, and many of the big pastures have ponds like miniature lakes glistening in the sun.

The timber includes walnut trees five feet through, stalwart oak, hickory, hackberry, ash, elm, cottonwood and sycamore, and Caney needs a furniture factory, a hub, spoke and handle factory, a box factory and a wagon factory.

This is a great cattle country, and 63,000 head were shipped in here last year to the west and north.

ars. Now the school buildings have 400 pupils, and cost $8,000. The first hotel is part of the Forest House—now there are three hotels and numerous restaurants.

The first financeering institution was the Caney Valley Bank, and it is noted for hospitality and dispatch.

The first physician was Dr. A. M. Taylor, and he is now surrounded by gentlemen of all professions.

The veteran citizen is J. W. Hodges, Esq., who came here in 1870, before there was a sign of a village. He was born in Virginia in 1825, and was taken to Tennessee in 1833, the year the stars fell. Four years after he was taken to Illinois, raised there and became a wagon and house builder. 'Squire Hodges was this township's first appointed trustee and has been justice of the peace. He made the first coffin here and is still an undertaker, deals in real estate and is in the insurance business. He is a popular gentleman and is ever an interesting and genial conversationalist.

One of the most deservedly popular citizens in this belt of country is L. Glatfelder, who has been in the vicinity about a quarter of a century. His farm encompasses a fraction over 487 acres, part having been relegated to railroad right of way. The substantial and cozy buildings, the well cultivated fields, the lasting and sparkling spring, and, with the biggest orchard in the township, the Glatfelder place, two miles east of Caney, is a worthy home of a most worthy man. On the farm he has general purpose horses, Galloway cattle and thoroughbred Poland China porkers worthy of a fair. L. Glatfelder was born in Pennsylvania about three score years and ten ago, and he is as mentally and physically as active as many men in the prime of life. Officially he has held several positions without evolution, being a thoroughly patriotic citizen, and is now granting unqualified satisfaction to the government and the people as postmaster and is a gentleman in word and deed. His daughter

MISSOURI PACIFIC

— FOR —

Kansas City, St. Louis and all points North, South, East or West.

First class road bed, finest equipments and fastest time.

Fewer accidents occur than on any road in the U. S.

F. S. DEWITT, Agt.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Successor of the "Unabridged." Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted scintious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority. Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Sold by All Booksellers. G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers. Springfield, Mass.

Do not buy cheap photographic reprints of ancient editions. Send for free prospectus.

state, and after the war located in Jackson county, Missouri, then went on the plains, and upon his return to civilization, was a few years in Missouri, and in 1870 chose this region as a permanent home. Captain Stone was the first elected sheriff of Montgomery county and in that officiate made a splendid officer for four years from 1872. He was notary public for many years and justice of the peace, and is an all around leading citizen. At Caney he has 600 acres in one tract and owns other farms aggregating in all 1,200 acres. He has herds of cattle and droves of horses, is regarded as one of the best farmers in this part of the state and is a thoroughly up to the times business man and a thorough gentleman.

(Continued next week)

Bedroom S
Chapel Chin
Ce

CANEY, I

Paper

A

They also
If your bugg
and at prices

SUN

We are plea upon payment
THE CANEY
DISPATCH

FR

This is the Post-Dispatch
great State of each issue, and when you will

Combinat