Our Sacred Honour

"For the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honour."
The first part of the Declaration of Independence with its glorious credo of Americanism is well known to all of us. But the President's voice rang out to the nation in those stirring last lines of the same document how many of us remembered that the Declaration of Independence demanded service from us in return for the rights of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?"
Our fortunes are a small price to pay for the freedom under which they were built up. Without liberty where would they be? We have the answer in every land where the democracy has triumphed over the autocracy. Our lives—would they be worth anything under the iron hand of a dictator? Beyond freedom to worship, to speak, to study, even to think—what could life hold to those of us who are steeped in the traditions of liberty?

H. L. Nickell Platform

TO THE VOTERS OF ROWAN AND BATH COUNTIES:
As announced in these columns several weeks ago, I am formally announcing my platform in seeking the nomination to the office of Representative from the 9th Dist. It, composed of Bath and Rowan counties, in making this announcement I feel that it is not necessary to introduce myself to the people of Bath and Rowan counties. I have lived in this section of Kentucky for practically my entire life. I have served many of you in sickness. I wish only at this time to seek the platform on which I seek the nomination and election to the office of Representative.
I am asking your vote and influence on the following platform:
1. If I am nominated and elected I propose during my term to give to both the State and National Administrations my fullest and heartiest support. I feel that the interests of the people of the State and Nation are being represented and served time and well by the present administrations and that passage of any legislation that the best service I can give to will work toward this end, that my people is to aid their governments in their efforts to build and to save America.
2. I stand for a greater and more efficient Morehead-State Teachers College. By that I do I

Grand Jury Report

We have found only a limited number of places had secured permits to operate roadhouses as required by law. We have returned indictments against those people who do not have permits and we have been told by the County Attorney and County Judge that they are not inclined to approve permits in Rowan county. With them refusing to approve permits for the operation of roadhouses we believe that a lot of the lawlessness and lawlessness in Rowan county will be greatly reduced.

We have investigated the licensed beverage dealers within the city and find that they are attempting to keep at least with the spirit of the law.

We have also investigated the city government and find that the City Council has done a nice piece of work in riding the city of sanitary sewers that were permitted to flow into the street.

storm sewers. We were not how- ever, able to investigate the fin- tions and in serious need of re- nents be made against respon- sible parties at the next ses- sion of the Grand Jury.
It has also come to the atten- tion of this Grand Jury that the assessment of the county has been done in a routine man- ner from old lists. We earnestly re- commend that the county as- sessors inquire diligently into the proper assessment and thereby prevent a blanket raise for the entire county and the placing of an unjust burden on the property owners who have been properly assessed.
It has come to our attention that there is a bridge that has been washed from its founda- tion and the Sheriff's office for the living on the creek bed and re- move this bridge, from said creek and put to some use some- thing they have been operat- ing and it is the intention of the Grand Jury to commend these men for their labors.

We have also investigated the common school system and the main trouble we find is the fact that a number of parents in the county have failed to send their children to school without a lawful excuse. In these cases we have returned indictments. Much to our astonishment, it is called to our attention that there are children in Rowan county who could not go to school for the lack of clothes and food and it is indeed appal- ling to think that in the land of plenty that there are child- ren denied an education sim- ply because they do not have the food and clothes to attend the school and we earnestly recom- mend that they be investigated by the certifying agent and the county officials and a report re- turned to the next Grand Jury. We have had before us the president of the Morehead State Teachers College and find that this great institution is being run in a manner which be- yond a doubt deserves the high- est approval of this Grand Jury. It is not only being run in a frugal and economic way but an appropriation entirely inade- quate, but has shown by the last enrollment a 20 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year; and beyond a doubt deserves the full cooperation and support of this community.

All of the officers of the court have not made their re- ports as required by law and we recommend that the proper steps be taken to have these re- ports filed.

In investigating the county property on the court house grounds, we find that the court house is in a deplorable condi- tion and in serious need of re- nents be made against respon- sible parties at the next ses- sion of the Grand Jury.

D. A. R. Plant 70 Acres Of Trees In Rowan County

The Daughters of the American Revolution and the Forest Service cooperated in 1940 in planting 70 acres of young black locust, poplar and pine trees on land near Morehead, Kentucky. Harold L. Borde, Forest supervisor of the Cumberland Forest reports that the trees are doing very well, and the plantation gives every appearance of being successful. A few years ago this land was impoverished by continual crops which resulted in destruction and erosion. These three agencies had cultivated, fire and water, had waste the top soil and vegetation which nature had begun to re-plant.

CAN'T YOU SLEEP?

If it seems as if insomnia and "nerves" caused by this run down farm land near Morehead, Kentucky, Harold L. Borde, Forest supervisor of the Cumberland Forest reports that the trees are doing very well, and the plantation gives every appearance of being successful. A few years ago this land was impoverished by continual crops which resulted in destruction and erosion. These three agencies had cultivated, fire and water, had waste the top soil and vegetation which nature had begun to re-plant.
