1942 Was A Year Of Defeats and Victories

"This has been a year of hope deferred, of tragedy, of the menacing possibility that the arsenal of death has ever faced a year in which the United States has found its soul mustered its strength organized its armies and commenced its long hard forward march to victory. It has been a year of crisis but of crisis met and endured and passed. It has been probably the turning point of the war. Thus Hanson W. Baldwin writing in Foreign Affairs said: 'The history of the past twelve months period that has just ended is the most fateful period in the nation's history if not in the history of the world. It was a period which witnessed the outbreak of lightning victories of Japan in the Pacific, the steady drive of the Wehrmacht in Europe, the campaign of Rommel's Africa Corps that brought the Germans and Italians to within 70 miles of Alexandria, and the proposed only by the remnants of the British Eighth Army. But it witnessed the American campaign in Guadalcanal the magnificent stand of the Red Army at Stalingrad and its present remorseless counter offensive and the head-on fight of Rommel's beaten forces in an unprecedented retreat. It was a grave threat to our lifeline to Australia the almost complete shipping by Axis coast of the marines, the menacing possibility that the arsenal of death might be useless to our allies. But it also saw the outburst of the Coral Sea, Midway and the Solomon Islands, the undreamed of production of ships and more ships and the development of a convoy system which enabled us to send an expeditionary force to North Africa in the largest armada of all time and lay the foundation for an invasion of Europe. It was the period in which the air power revolutionized naval warfare—the battle of the Coral Sea was fought without contact of surface vessels—and the Mediterranean and the Pacific. After the crippling blow of the sneak raid on Pearl Harbor only the weakest defense could be put up against the Japanese blitzkrieg. Today we are on the verge of a decisive battle on all fronts and Germany and Japan are in a defensive. We are able to strike the enemy wherever he may be. But the enemy is powerful. Victory is a long way off. The summer and fall of 1942 have seen a profound change in the complexion of the war. The end of the beginning is in sight."

Americans All

Last week one hundred and fifty sailors arrived in Morehead to begin their sixteen weeks of intensive training as electricians in order to be able to take care of our ships that carry our men to the battle fronts. This in itself was nothing out of ordinary for sailors have been arriving in groups of one hundred and fifty since the first of June. But what was out of the ordinary was the accommodations given the service men and other travelers on the C and O.

We know that their accommodations themselves. But as one man remarked it didn't look well to see the sailors unloading from old dilapidated day coaches and the other passengers rared back in the pullman cars.

We believe with this man that the service men should be given the very best that is available, whether it is guns, tanks, ships, food or train accommodations.

Social Security Office Opened In Ashland

Ashland, Kentucky, branch now is open every week day from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. Saturday hours are the same as those of other days under the new schedule, according to Elbert M. Bohon, manager of the Ashland, Kentucky field office in the Second National Bank Building.

"This new schedule will be in effect at once and follows Wisconsin's decision to place all federal government offices on a 48 hour weekly schedule," Mr. Bohon said.

Major Eldon Evans Is Promoted To Lt. Colonel

It is almost impossible to keep up with our boys from Morehead who are in the service. We have had so many promotions within the past year that we do not know from one week to the next just what to expect.

The latest promotion to come to our attention is that of Eldon Evans, who has been with the U. S. Army since 1940 and who went in as a lieutenant at that time has been so rapidly promoted that we are almost worried about him. Before he was scarcely in he was made a captain. Then last summer he was promoted to major and now he has been stepped up again and is now a lieutenant colonel.

Lieut. Col. Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Evans. He is thirty two years old. His wife the former Miss Lucille Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hamilton of Mt. Sterling and baby spent several months with Mr Evans in Panama, but were returned to the states as soon as war was declared. His location is not for publication, but he is probably somewhere in Caribbean Waters. His address is 5 P M New Orleans.

Kelly Boys Are In The Navy

Jack Kelley spent Christmas with his parents Mr and Mrs John Kelley. He was given a promotion a short time ago when he was transferred to the Intelligence department and moved to Washington D C. His duties as far as we can learn will be to accompany Ambassadors on their trips to other countries.

Jack and his brother Chester were in the Navy for over two years and have been in Jacksonville, Fla. most of that time. Ches received his commission as Ensign a short time ago, and is now some place in the east. Jack is a machinist.

Many Positions Are Available In State

Numerous positions with such state departments as the Division of Public Assistance, the Division of Child Welfare, the Department of Public Welfare, the Compensation Commission are now open and will be filled through open, competitive examination to be held in the near future. D. B. Palmer, merit system supervisor for the state Division of Personnel, announced today.

Applications to take part in the examinations must be filed not later than January 14 with the merit system council at Frankfort. Applications forms may be obtained from county or city school superintendents, state Department of Welfare, Labor, or by writing to D. B. Palmer, merit system supervisor, Division of Personnel, Frankfort, Ky. See last week's News for list of positions available.

The minimum qualifications for many of these positions have been greatly modified because of the existing workers shortage, Palmer emphasized. As examples he cited the position of clerk typist for which the minimum typing speed requirement is now only 35 words a minute, the position of office worker for which a high school education is now the only requirement.

Examination centers selected include Ashland Bowling Green, Lexington, Frankfort, Harlan, Louisville, Murray, Pikeville, Somerset.

Ration Book Two Will Be Issued In Short Time

War Ration Book Two, which will introduce the point rationing system to the American people will make its appearance soon. The printing of 150 million of the biggest job of its kind ever undertaken. The manufacture and shipping of 60 carloads of safety paper alone required a month's extra book cost and you get almost 30 billion stamps a figure which exceeds twelve years' continuous production of the United States stamps. Shipping the books will take up the equivalent of four freight trains of 30 cars each.

Except for military needs all rationing steel furnaces for the direct fired heating system will be halted after December first their best.

FFA Boys To Collect Clothing For Russians

On Armistice Day, Senator Chandler spoke to the Assembly of the Versailles High School. During his speech, Senator Chandler made the statement that someone should start a project to collect old clothes for the Russian in appreciation of the fine work they have done in holding back the Germans and giving us time to prepare our service men for combat duty. He also stated that the Russian people are in desperate need of clothing to fight their best during the long and cold winter that faces them.

The Versailles F F A Club immediately started this project and sent out invitations to all the Future Farmer Clubs in the state to assist them in collecting these old clothes.

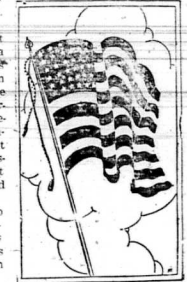

When the Morehead Chapter of F F A received this request we immediately informed them that we would do our part in collecting these old clothes.

We as F F A boys are turning in all our clothes that we do not need and we would appreciate it very much if the residents of Rowan County would do the same. Any garments that you do not need can be brought to the Morehead High School which is our depot.

We the Morehead Chapter of the state are now in the fourth year of this project.

While citizens the poor, cold Russians are counting on us to come through to supply the much needed so they can be halted after December first their best.

And the Star-Spangled Banner and a triumph shall wave Over the land of the free and the home of the brave

War Rationing Is Big News At Home

The big news on the Home Front is still the expanded rationing program set up by the Office of Price Administration. It is a part of the democratic process of assuring that our food is fairly apportioned and that a sufficient supply is kept available.

It is worked out as a balance of our own domestic needs, the needs of our armed forces, who must have the very best, and the need of our Allies who are helping us in the fight to keep Axis oppression from our common door. The OPA was directed by the Department of Agriculture to undertake the rationing of virtually all commercially processed vegetables and fruits — canned, bottled, and frozen vegetables, fruits, juices, dried fruits, and all soups. It is expected that this food rationing program will begin in February when the mechanics of the system will be ready to roll. The reason for announcing the program this

The End Is The Beginning

Watch out! Don't slacken! Don't let the dazzling rainbow of victories win blind us to the fact that the storm is not yet over, that the clouds are still dark above us. The end is not yet.

Winston Churchill warned us of that when he said this was the end of the beginning — the beginning of the end. And we must take heed.

It is the end of the beginning of the period of indecision, of the hour in which we woke from dreams of peace to the reality of war, of the days and nights in which we had to organize not only our lives but our manner of thought to food rationing ourselves to a world ruled by the exigencies of war. But the end is not yet. We cannot win the war by overconfidence, we cannot assume the game is over when the play begins to run our way. The decision will come at the end of the game when the last battle fought. We cannot leave the field until the final

We want to win this war that we may return to what we had. We do not want anything from any other nation. We want only for other peoples that freedom which we claim for ourselves. The freedom of speech, expression and religion, the freedom from want and fear.

We cannot win this war by wishing. We have to win it by work. The quickest way to win the war is the best way to win it, and this means disciplining everything that won't help in the all out effort. To win the war we must have neither idle hours nor idle dollars. But money is not enough. Production is not enough. Men are not enough. We must add to these that extra effort that all essential will to win. We must accept, we must do all we can — gladly.

We must not allow ourselves to be spreaders of rumors. We must not be disseminators of hatred toward any of our own people, regardless of class, race, creed or color. We must not be selfish hoarders. Conversely, we must have faith in the ultimate victory, while putting forth all our strength to win.

The bertramina is ended. Now the road lies ahead. It will be rough in many places — it will go through valleys of depression, skirt dangerous precipices, descend perhaps into quagmires of temporary defeat — but at the end it will lead, we are confident to victory and to ultimate peace for all the peoples of all the earth.

Share The Ride, Save The Tires

It is important now to start saving tires, parts, and mileage on motor cars through sharing the ride," said Don T. Moore, Fifth Regional Director public attention to the Office of Civilian Defense as he directed public attention today to the national "Mileage Rationing Campaign" that will soon be projected throughout the country with the aid of the Civilian Defense block leader organization.

This campaign, which is scheduled to start nationally on January 11, 1943, is designed to promote formation of more and more Car sharing Clubs for driving to and from work and also to give assistance in working out other neighborhood transportation problems. "The Japs hold territory that yields 90 per cent of the world's rubber supply and the manufacture of synthetic rubber is still in its preliminary stages," said Mr. Moore. "Besides, critical shortages of other materials make it necessary to keep the wear and tear of machinery at a minimum. Every mile driven brings the motorists closer to the day when he may not be able to give his car at all!"

In those states where the block leader organization has been set up and is functioning, the job of promoting the national "Mileage Rationing Campaign" will be one of the most important assignments given to the block leaders.

In calling this program to public notice, Regional Director James M. Landis, "Besides, critical shortages of other materials make it necessary to keep the wear and tear of machinery at a minimum. Every mile driven brings the motorists closer to the day when he may not be able to give his car at all!"

"The best way to win the war is the best way to win it, and this means disciplining everything that won't help in the all out effort. To win the war we must have neither idle hours nor idle dollars. But money is not enough. Production is not enough. Men are not enough. We must add to these that extra effort that all essential will to win. We must accept, we must do all we can — gladly."

"When your car owners share cars, they spare twelve tires. This is the effective American solution to the rubber shortage. I urge Civilian Defense Block or Neighborhood Leaders in communities everywhere to make house to house canvasses to explain the details of car sharing to friends and neighbors. And I urgently ask the cooperation of every car owner in this program to conserve vital material and help win the war."

There is only one supply of rubber to which we can turn with the assurance that it will solve this dilemma. This supply is not in storerooms, the banks of chemists, nor in the farmer's shed. It is on the wheels of 27 million automobiles in the world and every American with a set of tires is a custodian of this rubber supply.

"When your car owners share cars, they spare twelve tires. This is the effective American solution to the rubber shortage. I urge Civilian Defense Block or Neighborhood Leaders in communities everywhere to make house to house canvasses to explain the details of car sharing to friends and neighbors. And I urgently ask the cooperation of every car owner in this program to conserve vital material and help win the war."

Produce Much Needed Cream

America's farmers must keep an eye on the quality of their cream while they strive to produce the huge quantity of butterfat asked of them for the war effort during the new year 1943. H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago, states in a message received by Dan Brame Rowan County agricultural agent.

Mr. Darger's message was sent in connection with the scheduled observance through out the county and country on Tuesday, January 12 of Farm Mobilization Day proclaimed by President Roosevelt with the object of "ensuring for the year 1943 the maximum production of vital foods."

"Failure by many farmers to safeguard quality may result in cream so bad that state and federal laws will not permit its use for making butter a true 'Victory Food'." Mr. Darger writes. "During 1942 an estimated 30 to 50 million pounds of cream enough to make more than a thousand carloads of butter had to be rejected by creameries and cream buyers because unfit. In addition, huge quantities of finished butter were seized and condemned because made of poor cream that had gotten by. This represents not only the loss of valuable food-stuff badly needed by our armed forces; but also a loss of over five million dollars to the farmers whose latex went into Camp Shelby Miss.

The production of this large volume of unacceptable cream to the extent that we are able to whittle down the amount of poor and reject cream mentioned in the food job will be made easier."

PAUL VON HINDENBURG was a professional soldier with little taste for politics — and little love for the upstart puppetmaster, Hitler, whom he had to accept as Chancellor.

After the last war, the shrewd old Prussian put his finger on one prime reason for Germany's defeat: "America's brilliant war industry had entered the service of patriotism. . . . They understood war."

Now history is repeating itself for Hindenburg's successor!
America's war industry again is pouring out planes, tanks and guns — meeting production goals that seemed fantastic at first. Back of this fast-growing military power is electric power — far more power than Hitler and all his technicians harnessing the machines that turn out everything from bullets to battleships.

Behind the great bulk of this power are the electric companies under experienced business management — doing their job and delivering electric power in ever-increasing quantities!
And back of it all, of course, is the American way of life at work — where free men are encouraged to invent, invent, produce, and everybody benefits.
