Home Insulation Saves On Heating

MAYFIELD — Home insulation saved an average of 33 percent on heating costs last winter for low-income homeowners who participated in the first phase of TVA's home insulation program, according to John Edd Walker, general manager of West Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative.

Both Walker and Luther Nance with Murray Electric System are calling a current home energy inspection-insulation loan program "good."

Walker told the Murray Ledger and Times recently, "The program is operating real well. We have one inspector here who has made several inspections."

Persons using TVA electricity to heat their homes can apply for a free home energy inspection and if the inspector determines a need for additional insulation, TVA will provide interest free loans for up to $300 to insulate homes.

Nance said Murray Electric System has an inspector working with the system now and another is expected to undergo training soon. "We've had about 40 inquiries about the program," Nance said.

Walker indicated WKRECC has gotten about 35-40 inquiries about the program since it started about two weeks ago.

Savings for demonstration homes averaged $120 for the winter season on electric heating bills. The reductions in heating bills ranged from 21 to 49 percent for individual homes, Walker said.

Insulation and winterizing measures for 81 demonstration homes in various parts of the TVA area were carried out last summer by local contractors hired by TVA. Local power distributors, such as West Kentucky RECC, and community agencies cooperated in selecting the demonstration homes among homeowners with low incomes who had faced high electric heating bills the previous winter.

TVA's current insulation program, which offers interest-free funding for attic insulation to consumers using electric heat, was based on information collected from the demonstration program.

"Our findings from the demonstration homes showed that many consumers, especially low-income consumers, face problems in keeping the home warm at costs they can afford," Walker said. "TVA's home insulation program is designed to help reduce electricity costs and aid in overall conservation efforts by offering no-interest loans to consumers wishing to install attic insulation."

In return for having their homes insulated, the homeowners in Phase I agreed to provide information on changes in electricity consumption and family living habits. TVA will continue to use this information to determine the effects of insulation and winterization under actual family living conditions, Walker concluded.

KIWANIS AWARD — Durwood Beatty, (left), secretary of the Kiwanis Club of Murray, stands with J. D. Rayburn, recipient of the club's Kiwanis Legion of Honor award for 1977. The award honors 25 years perfect attendance in Kiwanis.

Kiwanis Club Honors Rayburn For Attendance

The Murray Kiwanis Club presented J. D. Rayburn of Murray the "Kiwanis International Legion of Honor Award" at their Officer Installation Banquet Thursday, October 6. This award is presented to members with twenty-five years of perfect attendance in Kiwanis.

Rayburn was born and reared in Webster County. He received his Master of Arts degree from George Peabody College and his B. S. degree from Murray State University where he played guard on Murray State's only unbeaten football team of 1933. Rayburn also played varsity basketball for three years. He coached at Wheatcroft High School for two years and was football and basketball coach at Clay High School when he entered the military service in 1943 and served in the European Theater of Operation for three years.

Upon returning from service Rayburn completed the spring term at Clay High School and went to Providence High School as coach and principal. After one year, Rayburn became superintendent of Providence City Schools and served in that capacity for twenty years. He came to Murray State University in 1966 where he served as College Supervisor of Student Teaching in the Department of Instruction and Learning and after 41 years of service to education retired June 30, 1977.

Rayburn is past Lt. governor of Division 15 of the Kentucky-Tennessee District of Kiwanis International. He was a member of the Providence Kiwanis Club and held the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and member of the Board of Directors, as well as chairman of numerous committees. When he moved to Murray, Rayburn immediately joined the Murray Kiwanis Club and has served the club in many capacities. He is currently serving as a member of the Board of Directors. He was selected as "Kiwanian of the Year" by his fellow members in 1976.

One of his proudest Kiwanis achievements and an indication of his dedication to Kiwanis and the community in which he lives is his 25 years of perfect attendance in Kiwanis.

Rayburn is a member and deacon of the First Baptist Church of Murray.

Minimum Wage Almost Certain To Get Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is nearly certain that more than three million American workers paid the minimum wage will get a raise of 35 cents an hour next New Year's Day.

How big the raises will be in the future is up to a House-Senate conference committee, which will meet later this month to adjust differences between House and Senate versions of the federal minimum wage bill.

Both versions of the bill would raise the wage floor to $2.65 an hour on Jan. 1, up from the $2.30 that has been in effect since Jan. 1, 1976.

The Senate bill would provide for future increases of 25 cents an hour every Jan. 1 to a top of $3.40 an hour in 1981. The House bill would allow 20-cent annual increases, stopping at $3.05 in 1980.

The measure will directly affect a little more than three per cent of the nation's 90 million workers. Official figures show an estimated 3.1 million persons are paid the minimum wage.

The Senate passed its bill Friday, 63-24. Approval was voted for the measure after senators rejected four efforts to exempt youths under 20 from the minimum wage or set for them a wage floor 15 to 25 percent below the adult minimum.

The Senate also turned back an attempt by Sen. William Scott, R-Va., to permit employers to hire persons over 68 years old at 75 per cent of the minimum wage. The vote was 77-14.

The proposals for a sub-minimum wage for young workers were backed by business but opposed by organized labor.

The House defeated the proposed "youth opportunity differential" by one vote in September. The closest Senate vote, 49-44, was on a proposal by Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., to allow employers to hire teenagers for six months at 85 per cent of the adult minimum wage.

On another key issue, the Senate voted a modest increase in the minimum wage exemption for small business from $250,000 or less gross annual sales to $275,000 on July 1, 1978, and $325,000 on July 1, 1980. The House had voted to exempt businesses with gross sales up to $500,000.

The 'Fantasticks'

Fathers' Plans Go Awry

By JENNIFER DAY

Hucklebee and Bellomy have kids all figured out: or so they think. The fathers of two young lovers in "The Fantasticks," the Murray-Calloway County Community Theatre production, entertained the Murray Rotary Club Thursday with their notions about kids. Hucklebee and Bellomy are certain that the reverse psychology of saying no will get the desired results. In the musical "The Fantasticks" their plans often go awry.

Hucklebee is portrayed by J. William Phillips, Rt. 4. Phillips is an attorney practicing in Murray. His past performances with the community theatre include Jack Dalton in "Curse You Jack Dalton" and the part of the sheriff in "Tom Sawyer."

Bellomy is played by Mark Wilson of Pontiac, Mich. Wilson is a semi-professional singer working toward a bachelor's degree in music at Murray State University.

"The Fantasticks" will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, October 13, 14, and 15 at 8 p.m. on Sunday, October 16, there will be a matinee performance at 3 p.m.

The play will be staged at the Old Freight Depot on Railroad Avenue off Hwy. 94 East. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Tickets and reservations can be obtained by calling 759-1752. Tickets are also available from members of the theatre or at the Public Library.

SINGING FATHERS — Bellomy (Mark Wilson) and Hucklebee (J. William Phillips) sing of the troubles with their children during rehearsals for "The Fantasticks," a production by the Murray-Calloway County Community Theatre which will run October 13-16.

Otis Lovins Has Poem For Everything

By LOWELL ATCHLEY

Murray Ledger & Times Staff Reporter Name a subject and Otis Lovins can probably recite a poem about it.

In 1960 his colleagues in the Kentucky Legislature named him Kentucky's "honorary poet laureate," second to the state's official bard, Jesse Stuart.

Lovins, a 76-year-old retired Calloway County school teacher and one-time circuit court clerk, only served one term in the state House.

"I probably would have stayed there longer, but I voted for the Egg Law. (The Uniform Egg Law, which regulates the size, shape, color and general quality of eggs sold on the market, effectively outlawed direct egg sales from farmers to grocers.)

"I thought I was doing a good deed voting for it. Boy, that backfired on me. So, I turned to my old love of teaching," Lovins said.

Mention teaching and Lovins will recite John Greenleaf Whittier's "School Days":

"Still sets the school house by the road,

"A ragged beggar sunning,

"Around it still the sumacs grow,

"And blackberry vines are running,

"Within, the master's desk is seen,

"Deep scarred by raps official,

"The warping floor, the battered seats,

"And the jackknives carved initials..."

"I made $48 a month teaching school when I started," Lovins reminisces. That was in 1924. His first school was a one room affair called "Waters."

Eleven pupils attended in all grades.

"I wouldn't be as nervous if I met the President today than when I walked into class that first day," Lovins said.

The second year his class had increased to 25.

Lovins later taught school at Macedonia in Calloway County. In 1923 he entered Murray Normal School, and continued in intervals at what is now Murray State University until 1950. I guess I started in Genesis and continued on through Revelations," Lovins chuckled.

In 1939 Lovins ran for and won the Calloway County circuit court clerk's race. He served that office until 1946.

He explained: "It was while I was circuit court clerk, during a Murray Trade Day that I penned the words to A Memory of My Dad":

"I sat by my window and watched the different vehicles go by,

"There were trucks, buses and nice cars,

"But, it was an old shackley wagon that caught my eye,

"On that wagon sat an elderly man who drove an old team so slow,

"I watched as he went out of sight,

"And my mind went back several years ago..."

Lovins says he re-entered the teaching profession in the early 50's, after working at a number of other jobs. I taught high school until the consolidation of all county high schools in 1960. After the consolidation I became head teacher and principal at New Concord Elementary. I taught there until I retired in 1966."

"If you are searching for a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow," Lovins said, "don't enter the school teaching profession. From the monetary significance you will never find the gold nugget. But, if you love young people, and can apply yourself, you will be highly compensated by the beautiful colors which that arc of light affords. That I cannot say of politics!"

Lovins recites a particularly touching poem which he wrote about his wife who died about nine years ago. "It was the biggest shock of my life. I realized the true meaning of sorrow," he said.

"I realized the true meaning of sorrow

"I fathomed the depths of despair;

"When I looked into her eyes and saw

"That life was no longer there..."

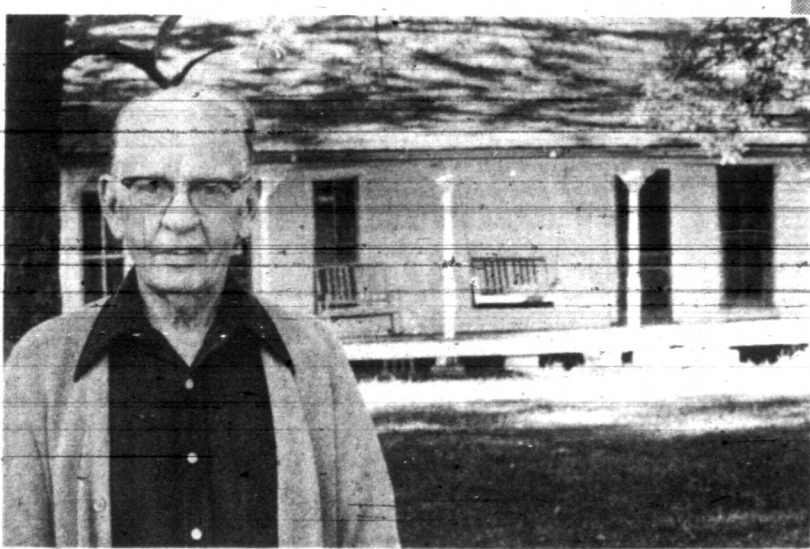

Lovins wrote in part, of his wife's passing.

Lovins' latest poem tells about his homeplace at the foot of a hill near New Concord, about 100 yards from his present home. The house, once a log cabin, is preserved much the same way as his father and mother, now dead, left it.

"The initial part of our old home place was built near, or probably during 1888. It was a log structure hewn with a broad ax. Most of the logs are yellow poplar. My father purchased the property during 1892."

"My dad, Edward Wilson Lovins, married my mother Sarah Virginia McClue on November 21, 1897, and the following day they moved to the cabin and lived on that spot until they both passed away during 1966," Lovins said.

The family soon grew to seven in all, Lovins related. "By 1908, the family had so increased that things were getting a little crowded in the cabin with its up stairs retreat and the one little frame room in the rear, so it was given a little face lifting. Two extra rooms were added," Lovins described.

Later Lovins' father had the house weatherboarded and painted. "Other than being scarred by the marks of time, the old house now stands as of then," Lovins said.

Following is Lovins' tribute to his old home place:

Old Home Echoes

As the day wanes and the sun casts its radiant beams

In the late evening glow,

The silent shadows softly fall from our homestead

Of many years ago,

The old porch swing softly sways to the melody

Of the whispering air,

While the settler seems to patiently await for

The hands that placed it there,

The branches of the red rose bush have defied

The years of passing time;

And the old mocking bird seems to croon the loneliness

Of the old home for which I pine,

The shades of night quietly fall

And cloak the sunset from the hill

From the moon-lit vale floats the notes

Of a lonesome whip-oor-will.

On memories wings a voice is wafted from this,

Our childhood shrine.

The kitchen door opens and mother calls,

"Children, it is suppertime."

In fancy, we are again seated around

The old table there.

Each head is bowed, and Dad prays

The evening prayer.

Yes, it is only a mental vision spun

From the scenes of fleeting years;

But, the lessons learned have lightened our burdens

And allayed our many fears.

As they were in the days of yore.

The children have grown old

And mother and dad are here no more.

Scenes of the past our memories can glean

But never renew.

They vanish with the passing years like vapor

From the morning dew.

With a sentimental feeling we left the old home,

With its familiar scenes and all.

But as we passed the old kitchen door there was

A mental refrain — of a suppertime call,

Otis Lovins

Children who learn proper toothbrushing techniques and make twice-a-year visits to their dentists will more likely have reason to smile as they get older advises Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of Prudential Insurance Co.

Proper eating habits can also help keep teeth in good condition, says Dr. Domm. Gum, candy and soda should not be consumed in excessive amounts.

"Cavities in first teeth should not be ignored; they should be filled without delay," recommends Dr.

emphasizes that care of the first teeth is important, so that the second teeth will have every opportunity to grow in naturally.

He adds, "When a second tooth is growing in, children should be restrained from sucking their thumbs or placing objects in their mouths which might tend to slant the tooth."

It is unavoidable, given the rambunctious nature of children, that some youngsters will lose, chip or loosen their teeth. In the case of such accidents the child should be taken to a dentist immediately, thereby increasing the chances that the tooth may be saved.

Dr. Domm also suggests that players be sure to wear mouthpieces when engaging in collision sports such as hockey, football and boxing.

Better To Lose Him Than Your Principles

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 15 and I'm going with a dude who just turned 18. He says he loves me and wants to marry me some day, but we fight almost every time we're together because he keeps trying to talk me into going all the way with him.

I told him I was saving myself for marriage and I wasn't going to change my mind, but he keeps trying to break down my resistance.

Abby, I really love this guy, but if he keeps hassling me to go all the way, I don't know what I'll do. How can I hold him off without losing him for good?

HANGING IN THERE

DEAR HANGING: Let's get one thing straight. A fellow who loves a girl doesn't hassle her to do something that's against her principles. If you lose him because you can't hold him off, you'll be lucky. Hold out for orange blossoms. He's offering you poison ivy.

DEAR ABBY: Most men think nothing of wearing a suit for four or five years—or even longer. So will you please tell me why a woman won't wear last year's dress?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Some don't want to. And others can't.

DEAR ABBY: I have a darling 6-year-old granddaughter I'll call Lisa. My son is Lisa's father, but he and Lisa's mother were never married and do not live together. Lisa's mother has lived with one man after another. Right now, the one she's living with belongs to a motorcycle gang.

You wouldn't believe the terrible filth this child lives in. She's dirty and hungry much of the time, and sleeps on a filthy mattress (which she wets) amid roaches and mice. She also has a chronic kidney condition. We live 85 miles away, and Lisa's mother sends her to visit us occasionally. When it's time to take her home, she cries and begs to stay with us.

Our doctor has prescribed medicine for the child's kidney ailment, but her mother "forgets" to give it to her. We appealed to the Child's Protective Service in the community where Lisa lives, but were told that since our son was never married to the child's mother we are not the child's grandparents, so it is none of our business! What can we do?

FRANTIC IN ARIZONA

DEAR FRANTIC: This is clearly a case of child abuse. Had you disclosed your name and address, I would have reported it promptly. I urge you to phone PARENTS ANONYMOUS at this toll-free number: 1-800-421-0353, and tell them Abby told you to call. And write again to let me know what is done. I care.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

FOR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1977

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
Avoid a tendency to "fly off the handle" if you feel wronged. If you must express grievances, do so in a diplomatic manner.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
A day you can mold pretty much to your liking. Take a firm and knowing stand early and plan your schedule smartly. Make no snap decisions, however.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
Inspired ideas may be followed by outstanding creative accomplishments. Good organizing will help to leave time for social activities.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
A good period in which to review your goals and your methods of attaining them. Even the smallest improvement could help build a sturdier foundation for the future.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Tread watchfully — to avoid needless errors and rubbing others the wrong way. Tact and understanding will do most to keep matters running smoothly.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
Emphasize your innate tolerance and good will. Avoid any tendency toward indirectness, beating about the bush. A nice personal relationship could be at stake.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
If you do not understand a situation, seek counsel from more experienced heads. It could only lead to confusion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏
You can make your personality felt in several areas now, but be sufficiently prepared in situations by which you hope to profit. Haste engendered by overoptimism would be unwise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
If intuition strongly dictates, now's the time to start making concrete plans for that new venture. Don't launch until mid-week, however.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
Don't let friends persuade you to spend too much on entertainment. In a few days, you'd regret it. Otherwise, all should go well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
False impressions, violent altercations may crop up in your vicinity. Be ready, eager to quell them. There's more than one way to get around an undesirable situation. Find it!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
A splendid period in which to renew affectionate ties through mutual interests and pleasures. Your domestic affairs especially favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with terrific enthusiasm, effecual power, fine mental processes, foresight and, in certain situations, that "sixth sense" which tells you when to move and when to stay put. The extremely versatile Libran is usually successful beyond his own dreams. A lover of music and acting, he could succeed at either. With the poise and balance bestowed upon him by his symbol, the scales, he would make an outstanding lawyer, judge or statesman. His inventiveness can take him far in engineering, architecture or designing. Traits to curb: bossiness and a tendency toward carelessness when uninterested in a project. Birthdate of: Miguel de Cervantes, Spanish writer; Leonard Wood, former Gov.-Gen'l. of the Philippines.

Family History Will Be Published Soon

The Calloway County Genealogical Society held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Charlie Stubblefield in New Concord to finalize plans for publishing the second edition of "Histories of Calloway County Families."

Mrs. Stubblefield presided with reports being given. It was announced that there are only a few of the first edition of the family histories are left, and those wishing copies may obtain them by calling Mrs. Stubblefield at 436-2241.

Members worked on sorting and alphabetizing records submitted for the second edition. This will contain complete records of many families in this county as well as other counties nearby. Anyone wishing to have their family history recorded may submit information by December 1. Each one is asked to list names, date of birth, marriages, deaths, children, etc., and also mention any wars engaged in during lifetime.

Mrs. Stubblefield, president, and Mrs. John Livesay, vice-president, were asked to check on prices for typing and printing. These books will be sold at cost price. Others assisting at this meeting were Mrs. Price Doyle, Mrs. Carl Lookhart, Mrs. C. Wesley Waldrop, and Mrs. John A. Nance.

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
You may be attracted to an individual who seems aloof, indifferent. Making a gesture of friendship could prove an important move in changing the situation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
A day in which to set your house in order. Check your files, correspondence, agreements. Keep your ultimate goals in mind and refuse to be side-tracked by anyone.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
Don't let a moody or emotional person get you down. Mainfain and promote your self-esteem and your innately optimistic side. It may not be easy but it will be necessary.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
Your career, ambitions and standing with business associates are highlighted now, and your feeling of optimism will be justified by events.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Wait and watch before you undertake new ventures, but do not hesitate where real advantages abound. A somewhat mild day, but "tricky" in spots.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
While there is little to prevent you from carrying on as planned, as you must, unexpected delays and details may crop up, so be ready to cope.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
You may encounter some natural differences of opinion, so adjustments and compromise will be in order. Don't yield where matters of high principle are at stake, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏
Serious thought should be given before taking serious steps. Don't let superficial attractiveness blind you to flaws at the core of propositions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
A day in which to march progressively with the best. Your deep knowledge of human nature and ability to transcend the ordinary will enhance your status.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
Poor scheduling could distract, send you completely off course in some cases. A favorable period for capitalizing on new ideas, however. Harness efforts for a concerted drive toward your goals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
Lay the groundwork for future moves now since some new-type gains are indicated — either, unexpectedly, through an avocation or, possibly, in a field other than your present one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
The vision and drive necessary to achieve as you should must come from within. Bolster your self-confidence and do not hesitate to meet challenges. Press for augmented gains.

YOU BORN TODAY are versatile, energetic, deliberate in your thinking and highly independent — too much so, at times. You have a tendency to "lash out" when displeased. Control this; also an insistence on doing things in your own way without consulting others concerned. You are unusually sympathetic. You understand the misunderstood, but not always yourself. Many fields are open to you career-wise, but notably along artistic and professional lines. You make excellent musicians, actors, writers, designers and landscape gardeners. Professionally, you could excel as lawyer, physician or statesman. Birthdate of: Giuseppe Verdi, Ital. composer; Helen Hayes, Amer. actress.

Water Heater

The water heater accounts for about 15 per cent of your total electric bill. To help you lower the cost of heating water, we offer the following suggestions.

1. When you build or remodel, place the water heater nearest the point of greatest hot water use. In some cases, two smaller water heaters in separate locations would be best.
2. Insulate the pipes to prevent heat loss.
3. Set the thermostat at about 150 degrees.
4. Stop leaky faucets. Usually, a new washer does it. Even the slowest hot water leak will eventually add up, costing money for the water and for the electricity to make it hot.
5. Take showers instead of baths. An average shower requires half the water of a bath.
6. Whether washing one spoon or a full service for eight, the dishwasher uses about the same amount of water and electricity. Wash only a full load and you'll save electricity and hot water.
7. Wash full loads of clothes and use water no hotter than necessary for a satisfactory wash.

Kentucky Residents May Get To Watch General Assembly On TV

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky residents may soon be able to watch their legislature in action from the comfort of their living rooms.

Television coverage of the 1978 General Assembly was authorized Friday by the Legislative Research Commission, which established a subcommittee to study implementation of such coverage.

"This is a great step forward in bringing the General Assembly closer to the people," said House Speaker William Kenton, LRC co-chairman.

"I believe this action equals the importance of the establishment of the interim legislative system."

The LRC, the research and administrative arm of the legislative branch, approved a motion by Sen. A.D. "Danny" Yocom, D-Louisville, to set up a permanent subcommittee on video media to study the feasibility of implementing television coverage.

The media committee is composed of the leadership of both parties in each chamber.

If such coverage is deemed feasible, the subcommittee was authorized to negotiate with the Kentucky Educational Television Authority to implement the programming.

There was no provision for expenditure of state funds. That presumably would come later.

The LRC's decision followed presentations by representatives of three nearby states in which daily or weekly television coverage of the legislature is provided through the states' public television system.

Dr. Bob Allen, director of the Oklahoma Educational Television Authority, told the LRC that televised coverage of Oklahoma's legislature "gives the public the opportunity to hear all the arguments you hear."

Allen said Oklahoma airs several programs each week during a legislative session ranging from daily wrap-ups to single-issue programs to weekend overviews.

After an initial outlay of about $500,000 for "the very best equipment," the coverage costs Oklahoma about $110,000 to $130,000 a year to produce, Allen said.

Representatives of similar programs in Florida and North Carolina told the LRC they operated on smaller budgets.

In other business, the LRC: —Established a 41-member legislative commission to review comprehensive care centers. Members of the commission would be appointed by the LRC and the governor.

The action came in response to a request by Gov. Julian Carroll last month for assistance in determining whether current services should be reduced or if new sources of revenue could be developed to provide sufficient funding to continue comprehensive care programs.

The commission will work in small subcommittees on the problem and report to the General Assembly by Feb. 1.

—Approved a five-member committee to meet with the governor to make arrangements for additional office space for legislators in January when the General Assembly convenes.

Kenton, a Lexington Democrat, appointed himself, President Pro Tem Joe Prather of Vine Grove, Sen. Tom Garrett, D-Paducah; Sen. Eugene Stuart, R-Prospect, and Rep. Harold Demarcus, R-Stanford, to the committee.

Gov. Marvin Mandel Receives Sentence

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Marvin Mandel, sentenced to four years in prison on his conviction for political corruption, says "I started with nothing and have gotten back to having nothing."

Leaving the federal courthouse after his sentencing Friday, Mandel had little to say about his future, now that his days of political power apparently are over.

"I haven't made any plans," the Democrat said. "As for immediate plans, I'm going to the (Baltimore) Colts (football) game Sunday."

Calmly but sadly, he added, "No one could enjoy ending in this fashion."

Mandel, who was governor for nearly nine years, told a crowd outside the courthouse, "I didn't do anything to harm the people of Maryland."

He is the first sitting governor to be convicted of a federal crime since Indiana Gov. Warren MacCray was convicted of mail fraud in 1924.

Acting Gov. Blair Lee, who took on that job when Mandel became ill earlier this year, will remain in the post.

Lee said recently that Mandel did not have "two nickels to rub together."

Mandel told U.S. District Court Judge Robert L. Taylor before sentencing: "I am insolvent from the point of view of visible assets. But I'm not insolvent because I have my family."

On Thursday, Mandel moved his family out of the governor's mansion into a home north of Annapolis, which had a listed rent of $675 a month. Mandel has not said how he is paying the rent.

"I have great sympathy for you," Taylor told Mandel. "You have many, many good qualities, some of which were revealed throughout the trial. But, I think you made some serious mistakes."

Mandel and five other defendants were convicted on 17 mail fraud counts Aug. 23 at the end of a 2½-month trial.

Mandel also was convicted on a single racketeering charge. The jurors found that Mandel received an estimated $350,000 worth of business interests, Florida vacations, clothing and other gifts in return for his influence on legislation benefiting his friends' secret interests in a racetrack.

The Famous New Concord Dog Dinner

A few weeks ago I noted an article in the Ledger honoring Edward Freeman, who was editor of the paper back in the 'thirties. He evidently did a series of stories of happenings in the county which are still being reprinted occasionally. The following story, which really happened, although this is a dramatized account with details added for impact, was part of a short history of New Concord which Mr. Freeman wrote. I reprint it in Mr. Freeman's own words:

"Have some of the dog, Mr. Jones?"

"No thank you, I think I'll just have some of the beans."

"Mr. Tibbs?"

"I believe not sir, I've just got through with the biggest part of a hind leg and I'm about full. I will take another glass of wine, though."

The host poured the wine.

"You know, Doctor," said Tibbs with the air of a connoisseur, "this wine is the best I ever drank. It has a flavor distinctly its own."

"I prepared it myself," said the doctor. He glanced felicitously around the table. The majority present seemed enjoying themselves. "Miss Calvert," said the doctor to a young woman just across from him, "won't you have some gravy. You've eaten scarcely at all during the meal."

"Thank you. Another cucumber if you please."

"You've eaten nothing but cucumbers," said the doctor. "Is there something special about cucumbers?"

"I like them," said Miss Calver.

There were fifteen or twenty persons present, all well dressed, several of them ladies. A big fellow at the north end of the table forked an appetizing morsel of stew from his plate and devoured it vociferously. "You know," he said with gusto, "I never dreamed when Old Rip here used to chew the seat of my pants when I came around that someday I'd be making a meal out of him. I remember the time..." His voice lowered as he began to talk confidentially to his table companion.

"Well," remarked a youngster at the south end of the table as he wiped his mouth nonchalantly, "if I just had a nice piece of cat, I could finish out my dinner."

"Next time, perhaps," smiled the host.

"Or even a big, fat snake," suggested the youth.

They got up presently and retired to a shade tree in the front yard. Before time for leavetaking came, the doctor rose to his feet.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "when I invited you here to dine with me today, I told you I would serve a dog dinner. I have done that, and I trust you have enjoyed a delicacy to which you are unaccustomed."

"Some of you chose to eat the yeast steak or roast beef or barbecued ham rather than the stewed dog," continued the doctor, "and that was your privilege. But I want you to know that everything you ate had dog in it. I even seasoned the wine with a big piece of dog tallow, and cooked the bread in dog grease."

"What about the cucumbers?" whispered Miss Calver faintly.

"Even the cucumbers," said the doctor. Miss Calvert gently fell back in her chair in a swoon.

Concord's famous dog dinner occurred just before the Civil War. Dr. Jim Lynch, a cold-blooded fellow who handled snakes for play pretties, was host to the dinner party to which many were invited and to which several came. Lynch was a cucumber for coolness. One day when his fellow Confederate comrades were in a pitched battle against the Yankees, he sat on a stump back of the lines smoking a pipe and yelled, "Give 'em hell, boys!"

The dinner at which Old Rip was guest of honor on the menu was given soon after the war was over. Lynch fattened the dog for two months to get him in shape for the feast.

That was one of the memorable events in the history of New Concord. The dialogue as given did not take place perhaps, but it is nonetheless true that Dr. Lynch entertained his friends (?) with a dog dinner and seasoned everything on the table with the dog.

And that is Mr. Freeman's version of the famous New Concord Dog Dinner, as written in 1938. Next week, I hope to have a story about the hanging of Pud Diggs, another well known tale of happenings in Calloway County.

1978 Radio Shack Catalog Available

The new 1978 Radio Shack catalog, the company's 30th consecutive issue, is now available from Radio Shack stores and dealers, nationwide.

The 164-page catalog includes 100 full-color pages describing the company's exclusive line of products for home entertainment, hobbyists, and experimenters.

An insert card in the catalog introduces Radio Shack's new TRS-80 Microcomputer System, which, according to Radio Shack president Lewis Kornfeld, is "the most important product ever offered by Radio Shack."

"The TRS-80's importance," Kornfeld stated, "goes far beyond the mere design, construction and sale of the fine piece of electronic merchandise. Primarily it signifies the dawn of the Microcomputer Age in respect to availability and affordability to ordinary people, schools and businesses everywhere, even for personal use and entertainment."

"Secondarily, the TRS-80 should convince millions of folks that Radio Shack is a technological company as well as a marketing company."

The new catalog also includes coupons offering two Supertapes, either reel-to-reel, 8-track cartridge or cassette, for the price of one, two P-Box kits for the price of one and any of the company's project boards for half-price.

Among the new items introduced in the catalog are: 40-channel Realistic CB two-way radios and a selection of electronic calculators ranging in price from $8.88 to $109.95 for a rechargeable printing calculator with full memory.

The new catalog also lists hundreds of specialized electronics items, parts and accessories, tools, tubes, semiconductors, wire and cable, intercoms, microphones, timers, batteries and a complete library of Radio Shack's own books on electronics and related subjects.

Radio Shack's 1978 Catalog No. 289 is available free on request from Radio Shack stores and dealers, nationwide.

Radio Shack, a division of Tandy Corporation (NYSE), has more than 6,000 stores and dealers in all 50 states and Canada, and nearly 500 stores overseas operating under the name Tandy International Electronics. The Murray Radio Shack is located in Olympic Plaza.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Beware Of Bunco—Don't Get Bilked

By Willis W. Alexander
Executive Vice President
American Bankers Association

Couple Bilk Shopper of $2,200

Authorities have found that two very human failings contribute heavily to victimization by fraud. They are gullibility and greed. Too many people, they say, are attracted by easy money schemes, and the desire for unearned wealth leads to an uncritical acceptance of such proposals.

For your own protection, you should know that there are no really new swindles, only new variations on old themes. One of the most famous is the "bank examiner" swindle. It's put into operation by a person claiming to be a bank examiner who needs help in catching a dishonest teller.

To cooperate with the examiner, the victim is asked to withdraw from his savings account a large amount of money, which will be "marked" and checked against the teller's records. The con artist promises to return the cash to the bank, but instead takes off with it.

Don't fall for this line. Under no circumstances will a true bank examiner, FBI agent or other law enforcement official request a bank customer to withdraw cash from an account.

Another famous con game is the Pigeon Drop. The victim is the "pigeon," and the "drop" is a bag of cash that one member of a team pretends to "find" on the street, after his partner has begun a conversation with the unsuspecting victim. After shrieks of surprise, the finder's conscience tells him to split the large sum of money with the other two passers-by. The two are then asked to put up some good-faith money while the finder "talks to his boss" about the split.

This swindle has been widely practiced for at least 400 years and is still going strong. Like all swindles, at the climax the "pigeon" is asked for money. Naturally, he will never see it, or his share of the "find" again.

A common technique of the con artist (who might just as likely be a very innocent looking woman as a man) is to get the intended victim so excited, so rushed, so confused that he (or she) hardly knows what he's doing. But simple precautions can keep you out of trouble. Carefulness and common sense exercised by potential victims will stop such schemes.

Cultivate a healthy skepticism of all miraculous offers and get-rich-quick schemes. Be on guard when you hear the words, "something-for-nothing," a "secret plan," or "this opportunity won't be here tomorrow." And, with any major transaction, insist on having a few days to discuss it with relatives, lawyers, bank officers or the police.

Home Federal Plans New LaCenter Office

Bob G. Sherman, president and managing officer of the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association of Paducah announced that Home Federal intends to build a beautiful new branch office facility on U.S. Highway 60 at LaCenter. Application has been made to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board for permission to build this new facility since the Board of Directors of Home Federal felt that there was a tremendous need for a savings and loan office in the western part of the state, Sherman said.

Presently, there are no savings and loan facilities serving Kevil, LaCenter, Barlow, Wickliffe, or Cairo and since the Association presently has millions of dollars worth of loans and savings from this general primary service area, the need was established to build such a facility, he added.

The public announcement was made last week whereby the association applied to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and this is in compliance with the bank board request and regulations.

The new facility would be staffed with experienced people from the home office and would be a full service office similar to all of the other offices which are owned and operated by Home Federal.

Home Federal's newest office building is under construction at 1201 Main Street in Murray, and should be open for business in March or April of 1978.

Sherman stated that it was the Board of Director's full intention to continue to expand the services being offered by the financial institution where ever there is a shortage of savings and loan facilities. The new LaCenter Branch will give the Association five offices in Western Kentucky.

Cains Participate in New Car Driveaway by AMC Dealers

Recently Jack and Lavern Cain were surprise witnesses to the most dramatic new car driveaway in American Motors history. A record attendance of over 6,000 AMC dealers and guests from coast to coast drove away in parades, of as many as 200 new Concord to celebrate the initial deliveries of the new car to AMC dealers. The police escorted parades, drove through major shopping centers and downtown areas in such cities as Miami, Portland, Dallas, San Francisco and Atlanta. The large colorful parades rivaling those of a major holiday, caught spectators by surprise and caused many of them to inquire if it was perhaps a holiday they had forgotten.

In five cities — Minneapolis, Boston, Pittsburgh, Kansas City and Los Angeles — the Concord also made its entrance by air, landing by helicopter in the middle of the mass driveaways.

The Cains stayed in the Crown Center Motel in Kansas City, Missouri, and were among approximately 135 AMC Dealers to participate in the 1978 car showing.

Tigers Grab 7-0 Win Over Trigg

Murray High Swims To Win And Spoils Homecoming For Harrell

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

It rained on Jimmy Harrell's parade Friday night. John Hina and his Murray High Tigers couldn't have been more happy.

Harrell, an assistant coach last year for the Tigers, took the head coaching job at Trigg County this past summer and Friday night, he brought his Wildcats into Holland Stadium to face Murray High in Harrell's homecoming.

"After we got on the field and it started raining, I was hoping we could get out in front early and make them play catch-up ball," Harrell said.

It didn't work that way. Shortly before the end of the first half, Keith Cartwright of Murray High recovered a fumble on the Trigg County 24. In six plays, the Tigers scored and went ahead 7-0. That's the way it ended.

"It was an awful night. I don't know if we would have won or not if we would have scored first," Harrell said.

"You have to play tough defense in that kind of weather and Murray High certainly played tough defense. When you have to play catch-up ball in a downpour like this, it's hard to do."

"They played tough as a team. We just never could block on offense. They did an excellent job in controlling the line of scrimmage," Harrell added.

The Tigers did so well at controlling the line of scrimmage, particularly on defense, that Trigg County failed to pick up a first down during the first three quarters.

It was on the second play of the fourth period when tailback James Northington rushed for a five-yard gain on a third and four situation from the Wildcat 20.

"That's our first one, can you believe that?" Harrell said as he ambled through the mud on the sidelines.

On the next play, Northington rushed for five more yards then quarterback Carl Miller followed with a 20-yard pass to Northington, taking the Wildcats to midfield for their second and last first down of the game.

Then Trigg County fumbled for the third time during the game and for the third time, Keith Cartwright recovered the ball for the Tigers. Trigg still got one more chance.

Murray was in a punting situation when the ball was snapped from the Tiger 34. The ball skipped through the hands of punter Thomas Kendall and Trigg County recovered on the Murray High 11-yard line with 2:20 left in the game.

On the first play, the Wildcats were hit with a five-yard motion penalty. After an incomplete pass, Trigg had another five-yard penalty. Then after Miller tried to pass and lost four yards, the Wildcats were again hit with a five-yard penalty.

Finally, on a fourth and 24 situation from their own 26, all the Trigg County hopes ended as Alvin Parham charged through the Wildcat line and dropped Miller for a 17-yard loss back to the Tiger 43. Trigg, having used up all of their timeouts, could do nothing but watch the clock run out.

Despite the pathetic playing

Clyde KO's Winston

MONTREAL (AP) — Ian Clyde of Montreal knocked out Tommy Winston of Ireland at 1:02 of the second round in a flyweight bout and gave Canada an 8-8 split of their international boxing show against Ireland Friday night.

Among Irish winners were flyweight Hugh Russell, featherweight Kenny Webb and welterweight Johnny Thornton.

conditions, Murray High moved the ball extremely well during the game. Grettis Bumphis finished with 134 yards and fullback Mike Hibbard had his best effort of the season with 73.

Murray ate up the yardage on their first series of the game but stalled and lost the ball on a fumble on a pitebowl play, the line of scrimmage being the Trigg County 22.

On their second series of the game, the Tigers worked down to the Wildcat five before losing the ball on downs.

It was Cartwright's second fumble recovery that eventually produced the winning margin. With Bumphis and Hibbard leading the ground charge, the Tigers moved the ball from the Trigg County 24 down to the three-yard line.

On a third and goal from the three, quarterback Greg Garland found Frank Gilliam in the right corner of the endzone for the TD. Willie Perry added the PAT and that was the game, decided right there, with just 53 seconds left in the opening half.

"They only had one drive in the whole game and we gave it to them when we fumbled the punt," Murray coach John Hina said.

"I was real thrilled with the win and particularly, the play of our defense. I was also very impressed with our offense, even though we just scored one time. But that one was enough."

"We're just completely satisfied right now," Hina added.

It was the first time the Tigers had won a game since September 9 and it was also the first time the Tigers had scored since then too.

Murray finished with 209 net yards on the ground. Trigg County, because of a couple of big losses, had no yards on the ground.

"You could certainly tell Frank Gilliam was back in there for Murray High," Harrell said.

Of course Gilliam who had missed the last two games because of an injury caught the pass from Garland for the TD and he also had a good game at his defensive end position.

"I thought Bumphis had an outstanding game for them as did Mike Hibbard. And Alvin Parham looked really tough on defense," Harrell added.

Trigg County drops to 1-6 with the loss and must play at Mayfield next week.

Murray High, now 3-3 and shooting for a 500 season, will visit Marshall County next week. The Marshals took a 7-6 win at Ballard Memorial Friday.

Leonard Silences Yanks —Royals Need One More

By Doug Tucker
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A second straight record-breaking crowd was expected to pour in from all corners of this baseball-happy community today to watch the Kansas City Royals attempt to become the first expansion team ever to win an American League pennant.

"We'll need a shoehorn, but we'll probably have even more than tonight," a club spokesman said Friday after powerpitching Dennis Leonard silenced the New York Yankee bats on four hits en route to a 6-2 victory that gave the Royals a 2-1 advantage in the best-of-five American League Championship Series.

The Royals, who split the first two games in New York Wednesday and Thursday, scheduled left-hander Larry Gura, a former Yankee who harbors plenty of resentment toward New York Manager Billy Martin, to face right-hander Ed Figueroa, Martin's choice in what will be a do-or-die proposition for the Yankees.

Leonard, whose 20-12 record this season made him only the third 20-game winner in the Royals' eight-year history, was masterful throughout the evening.

Roy White lashed a double into left field with one out in the first inning but was thrown out trying to stretch it to a triple. Leonard then retired the next 12 Yankees in order before Graig Nettles legged out an infield single in the fifth.

The Royals broke through against Yankee starter Mike Torrez in the second inning after Joe Lahoud drew a one-out walk and went to second on the first of Darrell Porter's three hits.

Fred Patek, who has hit safely in the last eight AL playoff games, singled sharply to left field and Lahoud crossed the plate as White had trouble picking up the ball.

Hal McRae, whose 54 doubles this season were the most by any AL player in 27 years, led off the third with a two-base hit and went to third when George Brett, breaking a 1-for-10 playoff slump, beat out a chopper to deep second.

Faced with runners at the corners and none out, Torrez escaped with only McRae crossing the plate by retiring Al Cowens and John Mayberry on ground balls and Lahoud on a sharp line drive to Chris Chambliss at first.

New York scored in the fifth with Nettles beating out an infield hit and Lou Piniella lashing a double off the left field wall to pull the Yankees to 2-1.

McRae, who had doubled to right in the third, led off the Kansas City fifth with a two-base hit down the left field line and came around to restore Leonard's two-run lead on ground balls by Brett and Cowens.

Torrez, the biggest winner on the high-priced, injury-plagued Yankee pitching staff this year with a 17-13 mark, was knocked out in the sixth.

After Lahoud drew a leadoff walk, Porter hit a high chopper in front of the mound which Torrez tried to catch barehanded but dropped.

Patek moved the runners over with a sacrifice bunt and, one out later with left-hander Tom Poquette up next, Martin called for his bullpen ace, Sparky Lyle.

Royals Manager Whitey Herzog countered by sending the right-handed Amos Otis, who was miffed at not starting the game, to face the left-handed Lyle.

Otis, who was 0-for-3 in the first two games, lined an 0-1 pitch down the left field line to score Lahoud and Porter and give Leonard a 5-1 cushion.

Brett's leadoff single in the seventh and John Mayberry's RBI double off Lyle sent Leonard cruising into the eighth with a 6-1 advantage.

In the ninth, White slapped a one-out double into the right field corner and one out later Mayberry's error on Reggie Jackson's grounder gave the Yankees their final run.

GET TREADY — Tiger quarterback Greg Garland fires a pass toward any receiver who might be ready to try and hang on to the wet ball. Garland completed one pass in the game and that was the win that made the difference as the Tigers took a 7-0 win. (Staff Photos by Kevin Penick)

A warm blanket for your electric water heater

... can cut a dollar or two off your hot water costs each month.

Most water heaters are inadequately insulated, wasting electricity and allowing heat to escape from the tank. You can help solve this problem by wrapping your electric water heater tank with R-11 (3 1/2-inch) blanket type insulation.

Buy the insulation at a building supply store, use twine to measure around the tank, cut the amount of insulation you need with scissors or shears, and secure it on the tank with duct tape.

Within a year you should regain the cost of the materials in savings on your electric bill. If the water heater is located in an unheated area, you'll naturally be saving more than if it sits in a heated area.

See us for more information about how to save on hot water costs.

Trinity Blasts Lafayette In Friday Night Showdown

By MIKE CLARK
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It was far from an artistic success, that showdown between top-ranked high school football teams. Louisville Trinity displayed too much defense and a fleeting glimpse of Mike McCarty in a 37-7 rout of Lexington Lafayette.

The decisive victory lifted Trinity, the top-ranked team in the Jefferson County AAAA poll, to 7-0 for the year and extended the Shamrocks' two-season winning streak to 21 games.

Too, it was a convincing indicator that it will take an inspired effort by an opponent to derail the defending state Class AAAA champions' drive toward another title.

McCarty blasted for 150 yards in 18 carries and scored a pair of touchdowns as Trinity handed No. 1 Lafayette of State AAAA its second loss in seven games.

Defensively, Trinity stopped first-half Lafayette drives at the Shamrock's 11 and one, giving in only in the third period after Trinity had built a 21-0 advantage. But the defense got revenge with a safety and a touchdown of its own, the latter coming in the fourth period when Chris Turney returned a blocked punt 10 yards for a score.

The Trinity-Lafayette game was typical of one-sided games this weekend between ranked opponents.

No. 3 Henderson County of State AAAA earned a playoff berth by ripping No. 2

Owensboro 25-0, establishing Henderson County as the likely successor to Lafayette in the No. 1 position next week. But No. 1 isn't what it used to be, at least in State AAAA. Lafayette's defeat was the third in as many weeks for that poll's No. 1 team.

Henderson County, 6-1, got touchdowns runs of 19, 19 and 3 yards from Barry Skaggs.

In a Jefferson County AAAA showdown, No. 2 Southern walloped No. 4 Valley 48-14. Oakley Gillespie scored three touchdowns for Southern while Mike Gibson ran for two TDs and passed for a third.

Top-ranked Bardonia of State AA turned its match with No. 3 Elizabethtown of State AAA into a track meet by spanking the Panthers 27-0 on Thursday. Bardonia's Anthony Ashford carried 19 times for 105 yards and three touchdowns while sidekick Greg Hickman added 94 yards in 18 carries.

Two other ranked teams, both in State AAA, tasted defeat on Friday. No. 2 Woodford County dropped its first decision in seven starts when Shelby County eked out a 9-6 decision. No. 5 Erlanger Lloyd, 4-3, lost its second heartbreaker in as many weeks when Ted Bradford booted a 30-yard field goal with 5:55 left to play to give Newport Catholic a 10-9 win.

Two other top-ranked teams followed the lead of Trinity and Bardonia to post easy victories. Franklin-Simpson of State AAAA smashed Portland, Tenn., 47-12 and Nicholas County of State AA mashed Paris 21-7.

In other games involving ranked teams:

Jefferson County AAAA: No. 3 Louisville Bishop David, 7-0, nipped Daviess County 7-0 on Mike Herrell's 19-yard pass to Keith Scanlon in the third period, and No. 5 Louisville St. Xavier needed Kevin Wallace's four-yard scoring pass to Larry King in the second overtime period to nip Lexington Bryan Station 21-14.

State AAAA: No. 4 Lexington Bates Creek slipped by Cawood 16-14 and No. 5 Boone County blanked Covington Holmes 28-0.

State AAA: No. 4 Montgomery County, 7-1, stopped Clark County 20-0.

State AA: No. 2 Corbin, the defending state Class AA champion, clinched a playoff berth with a smashing 37-0 win over Evans. Brent Freeman scored twice on short runs for Corbin. In other games, No. 3 Mayfield crushed Hopkinsville 33-0, No. 4 Caldwell County battered Todd Central 46-0 and No. 5 Somerset battered Taylor County 42-12 as Virgil Perkins scored four touchdowns and Ron Cain passed for three.

9th Inning Comeback Lifts LA To Within One Win Of Title

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An almost unbelievable ninth-inning comeback, triggered by Manny Mota and Vic Davalillo, a pair of baseball's old men, has the Los Angeles Dodgers within one victory of the 1977 World Series today.

Mota, Davalillo and a controversial call by umpire

Bruce Froemming keyed a two-out, none-on, three-run Dodgers' ninth that beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 Friday in the third game of the National League championship series.

The Dodgers lead the best-of-five series 2-1, and go tonight with Tommy John, also a top candidate for the Cy Young Award with a 23-10 regular-season record. Carlton was knocked out in the seventh inning of the first game in the series won by the Phillies 7-5.

The Dodgers appeared dead with two out in the ninth and none on, the Phillies leading 5-3. But as Manager Tom Lasorda said later, "Sometimes that third out is tougher to get than those first two."

It certainly was for the Phillies, confident they would win two of the three games scheduled on their artificial surface field before a highly partisan crowd.

The 39-year-old Davalillo batted for catcher Steve Yeager and dragged a bunt toward second base. He beat the throw from second baseman Ted Sizemore for a single.

Then up came Mota, another 39-year-old but one of the league's premier pinch hitters. Mota, who hit .395 in the regular season, slammed a drive toward the left field wall.

Phillies' left fielder Greg Luzinski kept backing up. He leaped at the wall and had the ball in his glove but it popped out.

Davalillo puffed into third as Luzinski's throw went to second, where Sizemore failed to handle it cleanly. Davalillo, who had stopped at third, raced home on the error, and Mota reached third.

The score was 5-4, with Davey Lopes the batter. Lopes hit a sharp grounder toward third base that glanced off the knee of Mike Schmidt to shortstop Larry Bowa.

Bowa gunned the ball to first baseman Richie Hebner. Froemming spread his hands with the safe sign, and the Phillies screamed.

Phillies Manager Danny Ozark argued, but Froemming wouldn't budge.

Mota scored the tying run on the disputed single.

Reliever Gene Garber, who beat the Dodgers twice in the regular season and had an 0.82 earned run average against them, then tried to pick Lopes off first. His throw got past first baseman Richie Hebner and the pitcher was charged with an error.

Bill Russell, whose two errors in game one had led to four unearned runs in a 7-5 Phillies victory, atoned with a game-winning RBI single.

Believer Mike Garman, the sixth Dodgers' pitcher, retired the Phils in the ninth to earn a save while rookie Lance Rautzen came on to get the last out in the 8th and get credit for the victory. Garber, the first-game winner, took the loss.

Waterfowl Seasons Set At Land Between The Lakes

GOLDEN POND, KY.—Waterfowl seasons applicable to TVA's Land Between The Lakes have been set.

Duck hunting will be permitted in the Kentucky portion of Land Between The Lakes November 19-27, 1977, and December 10, 1977, through January 14, 1978. Goose season will open November 12, 1977, and close January 20, 1978.

In the Tennessee portion of the 170,000-acre public demonstration area duck season will be November 12, 13, and 14, 1977, and December 10, 1977, through January 20, 1978. Goose hunting will be the same dates as Kentucky, November 12, 1977, through January 20, 1978.

All duck hunting at the Bear Creek Waterfowl Management Unit located in the southern portion of the Lake Barkley shoreline is restricted to November 12, 13, and 14, and then to Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays from December 10, 1977, through January 20, 1978.

Goose hunting at the Bear Creek Unit is the same as the statewide season until December 10, 1977. From that date through January 20, 1978, goose hunting is restricted to Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays during the duck season.

The Bear Creek Waterfowl Management Unit is open to all other hunting seasons applicable to Land Between The Lakes prior to November 12, 1977.

It will also be open from November 15 through December 9, and again after January 20, 1978. For example, it will be open to gun deer hunting, as part of Area 14, on hunts scheduled for November 5, 8, and 17 (but not for the hunts set for November 12 and 14). Areas on Kentucky Lake around Land Between The Lakes specifically closed to hunting include:

Duncan Bay, an Eagle-Waterfowl Refuge located in the northern portion of the area, as well as Smith and Pisgah Bays in the same area. Rushing Creek Bottoms, below the Lake Front Road, and also Rushing Bay, located in the Tennessee portion of Land Between The Lakes on Kentucky Lake.

Areas on Lake Barkley in Land Between The Lakes specifically closed to hunting include:

The Crooked Creek Bay. The area from River Mile 51.0 to RM 57.3 and RM 68. to RM 70.4.

To The Point...

By Rick Morsworthy

I regret to announce that there will not be a "To The Point" column today. I'm tired, wore out, and just plain disgusted! I read all the hunting magazines, technical date, reports, get up early, hunt hard and what do I get? Nothing! I say hunters unite! Strike! Why do we have to get up at 4:00 a.m.? Those deer seem to have banker's hours. And why sit freezing in the rain all day while they lay somewhere else snuggly-poo in their little beds? No-sir-reb, we don't have to put up with this nonsense! Strike is the answer; demand better conditions, shorter hours, and more pay-offs! There seems to be a lack of communication somewhere. Don't they know we can't be expected to keep this up every day? Why, I'm lucky to stay awake halfway through "Charlie's Angels".

"Johnny Carson" is completely out of the question. The yard hasn't been mowed in weeks, and the garbage is piling up at the back door. But do we get any consideration from those animals? Heck no! They just don't care! Why should they? What's it to them if we wait in a tree half the day, like fools; letting those little black bugs eat us alive? It's nothing to them; we're not threatening their livelihoods, especially not when they never show up like they're suppose to. So fellows, grab that stand and sit on it! Just sit there in protest until one of those boogers comes along. Then you gotta negotiate! Let em know whose boss!

A couple of items that are handy to have for negotiating, are Sta-Jac arrow holders, and acorn scent. The Sta-Jac is a relatively new device for holding the arrow on the rest in nocked position. It mounts on the back side of the arrow shaft, holding the arrow securely. As you draw the shaft back, it simply pops off quietly, and remains out of the way. I did not use a holding device before-hand, but these little gadgets are worth their weight. Another new item this year, a Acorn Scent, produced by Deer Run products. For the pre-rut season; I refrain from using doe-in-heat lure, but do recommend a cover scent. Cedar, Pine, and Acorn are available, and do a tremendous job of masking your scent. The Acorn Scent is new, and smells somewhat like syrup. Spilled in the floorboard of your truck, however, it can be kinda sickening. Wednesday morning I watched two does walk in my own footsteps without the slightest sign of alarm. If you are hunting near cedars or pines, those scents are just as effective.

If you do happen to use the right combination, and collect your trophy, then perhaps you'd like to know just what it weighed on the hoof. Use this chart for a comparison to live weight, field-dressed weight, and freezer weight.

DEER WEIGHT

dressed	live	edible
100	129	71
110	141-2	80
120	153	86
130	167	96
140	179-80	105
150	192	112
160	205	121
170	218	130
180	230	137
190	243	146
200	256	154
210	268	162
220	281	171
230	294	180
240	306-7	188
250	319	196

One last point; even though it hasn't been extremely cold, every morning I have hunted, I have gotten uncomfortably chilled. So don't underestimate the warmth of your clothing before you start. Goodbye and good-luck.

Anglers Can Take Advantage Of Fall Fishing

By JOHN WILSON

The surface temperature at most of Kentucky's lakes is now in the mid to low 70's, a signal for those anglers who stay in the shade during the heat of summer to start getting back on the water.

Beneath the surface, the bass are starting to sense this drop in water temperature and they, like us, recognize that winter is on the way. They are beginning to stir around and become more active. They are leaving their deep water lairs where they have spent most of the summer and are prowling the shoreline in search of food.

We usually get some fairly heavy fall rains about this time of year, rains which will give some color to the crystal-clear waters of summer. The light penetrating the water won't be as harsh now, won't bother the sensitive eyes of the bass. He'll start spending more and more time in shallow water, where the temperature and light penetration are within his comfort range, and where food is abundant.

His primary food—shad—have been growing all summer and are now large enough to make a mouthful for even a lunker bass. He likes this too, because his appetite is increasing. When the water turns cold, his metabolism will slow down, he will become less active and will take less food. But now, in the fall, he is "storing up" for the lean months ahead.

The experienced angler knows all of this, is aware of what is happening in the under water world of bass, understands the physical changes in the fish's environment and the physiological changes in the fish itself. Like the bass, the bass fisherman starts getting restless in the fall. The shortening days, he knows, presage the coming of the gloom of winter when only the hardest of souls continue fishing.

Time is short and the water is waiting; conditions are right for some of the best fishing of the year. Compared to summer, the lakes seem almost deserted—the same cool water that brings the bass near the surface has also sent most pleasure boaters and water skiers to other pursuits inland. Even many sportsmen have left the lakes with the departure of summer, lured away perhaps by the call of squirrel, dove or bow deer hunting.

Yes, fall is one of the best fishing seasons of the year in Kentucky. Those surface lures which have lain in a back tray in the tackle box all summer can be brought out now and chugged or twitched along the edge of shoreline cover, cast beside stumps or exposed tree trunks or pulled enticingly over submerged logs or rocks. Spinner baits and medium running lures also usually work well at this time of year, and that old standby, the plastic nightcrawler, will take its share of fish too.

The knowledgeable fisherman also keeps alert for disturbances out in the lake, away from the shoreline. He knows that shad are schooling near the surface and that hungry fish—both black bass and white bass—often pursue these schools. At the first sign of surface activity, he moves his boat quietly into casting range and lets fly with either a surface lure, a spinner or a shad-imitating lure.

Night fishing for white bass and crappie is also productive in the fall, although the chilly nights can be a little uncomfortable. Daytime crappie anglers can also often locate schools of fish by drift fishing over submerged cover areas. And fishing the tailwaters below the dams on our larger lakes can yield a surprising number and variety of fish.

So don't put your boat and fishing tackle into winter storage yet—there's still a lot of good fishing in front of you this season.

The following rates are applicable at the family campgrounds for the winter season: Hillman Ferry, three miles south of Barkley Canal on Kentucky Lake shore in the northern portion; and Piney Campground, near U.S. Highway 79 in the southern portion, $2 per night. At Rushing Creek Campground, straddling the Kentucky-Tennessee line, there will be no camping. There will be an additional 50-cents charge for electrical hookup in each of the campgrounds. There is no charge for camping in any of the informal use areas.

The Duck Call

By Charlie McKenney
Ducks Unlimited Secretary

With the geese already moving South, and a chill in the air I thought I had better crank up the Duck Call articles for another season.

The local DU Chapter has some special events planned again this year and as always we are looking for new members.

The Murray Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold their first meeting on Thursday, October 20th, at 7:00 o'clock at the University Branch of the Bank of Murray.

I certainly want to urge all members of the local chapter to attend as well as invite anyone new to the Murray area to attend. There will be at least one film shown supplied by the National DU headquarters. For those duck hunters that have viewed DU films I don't have to tell you how great they are. Also Ben Hogancamp our local chapter president has informed me that the Regional Director for DU in our area should be at the first meeting. He will be able to answer many questions concerning this years duck populations, steel shot, and up coming laws that will apply to local duck hunters. Also officers will be nominated for next year at the meeting.

So if you want to see a great film, hear some straight forward duck talk, and meet other area duck hunters don't forget Thursday night, October 20th, 7:00 o'clock at the University Branch of the Bank of Murray.

A date to mark down on your calendar is November 17th, this is the night for the ducks or better known as the night of the local DU Banquet. If you missed last years Banquet just ask someone that attended how they enjoyed the evening and I know they will encourage you to attend this years banquet; it will certainly be a night that you will long remember.

I hope to have some interesting Duck Call articles in the coming weeks. If your readers have any ideas about an article or want my comments on any certain topic concerning duck hunting give me a call or write a note to the Ledger & Times, 103 N. 4th Street, Murray, Ky. 42071, marked Outdoor Lore and Butch will see that I get your letter.

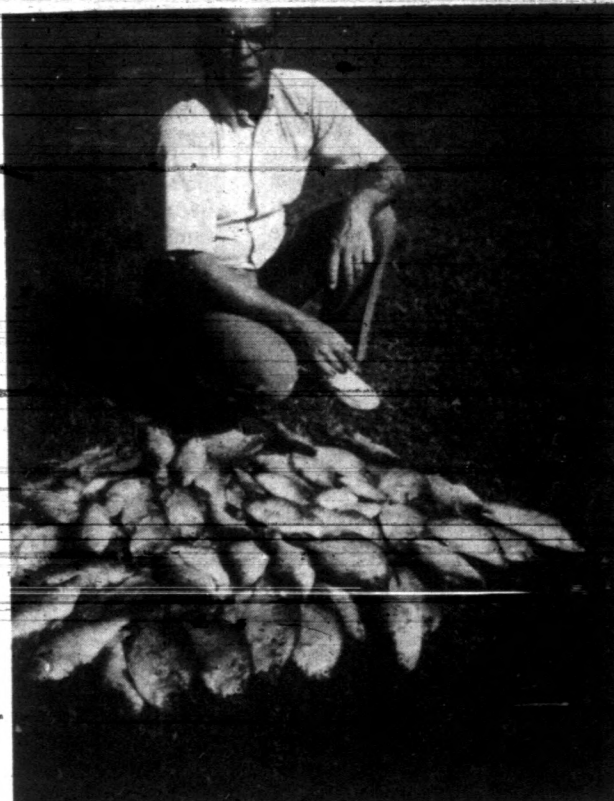

So get out your favorite duck call and start practicing NOW. Those decoys probably need a little cleaning up and restringing too. What about your old duck boat—the motor probably won't even crank? MAY ALL YOUR HUNTING BE SAFE — ENJOYABLE.

Drought Depresses Duck Breeding

The May rains may not have come in time to save the duck breeding populations from decline, according to the U.S. Department of Interior Fish & Wildlife Service. The spring's total duck breeding population was down about four percent from 1976. Mallards, usually the most numerous species, decreased five percent from 1976 and seven percent from the 1956-76 average.

Populations estimates for other species showed these percentage changes since last year:

Gadwall up 5 percent, widgeon down 1 percent, green-winged teal up 6 percent, blue-winged teal down 8 percent, northern shoveler down 11 percent pintail down 18 percent redhead down 27 percent canvasback up 2 percent scaup up 7 percent.

A 60 crappie limit was brought in by Sam Rogers last Wednesday. Sam also caught 1 bass during his trip on Barkley Lake.

Ducks Unlimited Celebrates 40th Anniversary

Four decades ago, when North America's natural resources were being abused by both man and nature, waterfowl, in particular, suffered the consequences of a hostile environment. Each year their numbers dwindled closer to extinction. Born in 1937, amidst the insecurity of economic depression and the devastation of relentless drought, Ducks Unlimited, Inc. made plans to rescue America's neglected ducks and geese. An extensive waterfowl research study made by the More Game Birds in American Foundation, found that 70 percent of all waterfowl production on the North American continent originated in Canada. Realizing that suitable habitat held the key to the success or failure of the waterfowl resource, DU began to restore and rehabilitate primeval wetlands in the vast prairie provinces of Canada. Funds derived from America's sportsmen and conservationists enabled DU to initiate construction of its habitat programs. Water control structures, such as levees, dikes, sluice gates, etc., were implemented by DU (Canada) to stabilize the habitat areas from the harmful effects of flooding and drought.

Ducks Unlimited water control projects vary in size from small prairie potholes to wetland complexes of over 500,000 acres, and are located throughout nine of the twelve Canadian provinces. As a result, DU has completed over 1300 wetland projects and reserved 2.6 million acres of waterfowl habitat (1.3 million acres developed), which also provides living space for over 300 species of wildlife. These projects also offer irrigation and flood control for farmers and ranchers, while enhancing the aesthetic quality of the land itself.

Instead of purchasing the Canadian land outright, DU has cooperated with Canadian governments and individual land owners to secure free, long-term land leases and easements. Such an arrangement has enabled DU to develop numerous acres of needed habitat without tying up funds in real estate holdings. Out of the $66 million raised throughout its history, DU has made $46 million available to Canada for wetland development alone, or about 80 cents of every dollar donated.

Much care is also being directed toward providing suitable wintering habitat for North America's waterfowl. Ducks Unlimited de Mexico (DUMAC), has embarked on a pioneer project to revitalize 15,000 acres of wintering habitat called the Lerma Marshes. These marshes, located west of Mexico City, winter hundreds of thousands of waterfowl each year. DUMAC has also initiated a fund-raising campaign in Mexico (where from 10 to 40 million North American waterfowl winter annually), to help bolster habitat restoration efforts throughout the country. Coupled with the activities of Canada and the U.S.A., Ducks Unlimited can truly be considered a multinational conservation organization, continental in scope.

Since DU is a non-profit organization, it can do what Federal duck stamp dollars don't—cultivate habitat beyond the borders of the U.S. Waterfowl neither adhere to geographical boundaries, nor do they respond to the political climates encountered along their migration routes. Because of this, and because of DU's ability to reach beyond the borders, North American waterfowl are cared for throughout their continental migrations—something the federal government and no other conservation organization has been able to accomplish.

DU's over 900 nationwide chapter-committees form a sturdy platform from which to build its fund-raising activities. Each of these committees helps generate community participation in DU banquets and fund-raising events throughout the year, and also perform as a public information and education continuum on matters concerning conservation. These hard-working, volunteer committees have helped Ducks Unlimited expand its membership to over 200,000.

Recognizing the need to involve youth in waterfowl conservation, DU has designed a special program for those 16 years of age and under. It's called the Greenwing Program. For a contribution of $5 or more, Greenwings receive all the benefits of a regular member, and have a portion of the DU magazine dedicated to them. Though relatively new, the program has already enrolled over 12,000 Greenwings nationwide.

State governments have also joined in DU's continental approach to waterfowl conservation by making dollars available from state duck stamp programs, and specified wildlife funds. These funds are being used to sponsor various wetland projects throughout Canada, and have enabled DU to secure hundreds of thousands of acres of prime waterfowl habitat. A total of 15 states have contributed substantial revenue to support various donor projects.

In conjunction with these state contributions and other fund raising activities throughout the U.S., DU has recently undertaken a five-year program to double or triple its current Canadian wetland acreage. In order to accomplish such an ambitious goal, it will be necessary for Ducks Unlimited to raise $5 million dollars by the end of 1980. Since potential habitat

Save That Cripple

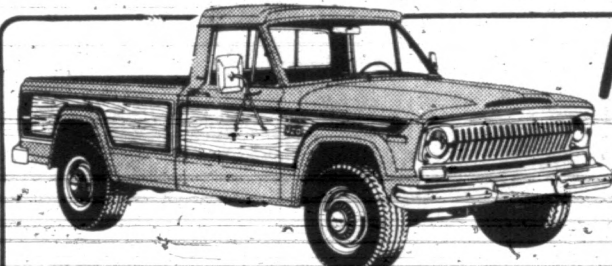

The annual unretrieved kill of ducks and geese can be considerably reduced if wildfowlers will take the following advice to heart:

1) Make a year-round practice of estimating distances. Then when you get into a blind, you'll be able to better judge when a bird is within range, and thus be able to correct a partial hit with a second or third shot.

2) Be sure of your ammunition. It does no good to accurately predict the range if you're using a load that won't reach out to do the job.

3) Use a dog. It's a proven fact that retrievers reduce losses by more than 40 percent.

Four Wheeling

By Hamp Brooks

Sitting down at the old typewriter with the brain going in one direction and the fingers straining in another, the results are apt to be somewhat startling. Read on if you wish to take your chances. In my case with the brain being the smaller of the two objects it probably goes faster. Serving on the jury panel of Judge Lassiter's court these past few weeks has found me around the courthouse at frequent times and bumping into several readers of this column.

And those occasions have been somewhat revealing and pleasurable. Serving on a jury, at least for me, will never be a pleasure. Yet as a staunch and vigorous defender for this land, its system of democracy, and the principles of justice upon which it largely preceivers I find no way for myself to step aside from this duty according to those who would claim citizenship. Even the fact that at times I don't always seem to find myself as being quite up to par with what a good citizen ought to be doesn't really help much. Churches would be just about the most lonesome place in the whole world if they didn't admit sinners.

Back to fourwheeling I had a good chuckle last week with a fellow who observed how silly it seemed that those four wheelers should spend so much time cleaning up those machines and get so great a delight in going and getting them dirty again so they could clean them up once more. Makes one wonder if all the marbles are still there doesn't it? Laughing about it is quite easy for oftentimes I have wondered the same thing myself. Worse, many is the time I have done that very thing.

There is an art to it to be quite frank.

First of all one has to get the wife and wild Indians (should I say children) preoccupied with something important on Saturday night. Like them seeing how quick a giant box of those coloring crayons will wear out being rubbed across a great expanse of sheet rock with those curly Q what-chamacallits. And her wrapped up in a genuine Saturday night one of a kind absolute honest to goodness real thing love story movies. That's the easiest part.

Now one tiptoes thru the house with the finesse of a motivated moose. First to the kitchen to seek out the squirt bottle of Joy (no dishpan hands right) and some of those offbreed scratchy pads that ought to say Brillo but don't because they sold for three cents less. Next to no less than three closets in search of the frequently changing place of the recently repaired dirt sucker upper, known to those in high circles as the vacuum machine. Recently repaired shortly after the last four wheel drive cleanup. Still tiptoeing with the dirt-suckerupper, the squirt-bottle, and the scratchy pads, one proceeds onward to the utility. Add the green cardboard make believe can of powder that can turn a Black Angus cow into a large snowball, then the jumbo size clear see thru bottle of Windex with the foolproof pumping mechanism that won't work upside down, and also the plain jugs. Nearly broke my back once sitting down in the Red Runt after applying a quart and a half of starch to the vinyl seats.

Proceeding outside with the amazing dexterity of spider man one deposits his horde of "goodies" and sets about locating the car wash bucket and the garden hose. The garden hose is found thoughtfully tied in six knots that would do credit to a sailing seaman who forsook retirement ten years previously, not to mention the fact it obviously weds your favorite lawn chair to the stoutest oak in the yard. As if someone might steal it. The car wash bucket is found in the back corner of the tree house, containing two watermelon rinds, one slightly dead bird, a sticky chocolate substance that might be the remains of a candy bar, a salad like assortment of various leaves, weeds, and other unidentified ingredients. And the liquid residues of four cans of diet drinks so thrilling to the taste that two fine young demons with cast iron stomachs surrendered.

The treasured attachment that regulates the flow of water from the end of the garden hose you wish to use has mysteriously vanished. Along with the four before it. You resort to emergency procedures automatically placing the highly skilled right thumb over the end of the hose, thoroughly and completely wetting down the esteemed four wheel drive vehicle. Not to mention the garage roof, the tool chest, the partially full bag or ready mix cement, three cardboard boxes neatly announced by the words keep dry and mostly one's self.

Minutes away from the ultimate completion of the four wheel drive bath you become confronted with the woman who lives at this house.

You conclude that the movie has ceased. From the tears streaming rapidly down the beautiful cheeks you draw further conclusions. One; maybe the movie was better than usual with a sad ending.

Two: She feels overwhelmingly guilty because she watched the movie while you worked diligently and hard. Three: maybe the children ate the box of crayons. Four; she has great fears of the lawn chair being stolen since it is no longer secured. Five; Her awe at the glistening shiny appearance of the four wheel drive has over come her.

Answer: none of the above. Fortunately you are not to blame. How could one be rightfully expected to know that the newly repaired dirt sucker upper would develop this sudden and instantaneous craving for a crescent wrench?

Maybe those missing marbles we started off thinking about are residing in there somewhere with that wrench.

A four wheelers wife is something pretty special. HAPPY FOUR WHEELING.

Marvin Jones Dies

At Home On Friday

With Rites Sunday

Marvin Jones of Hazel Route One, State Line Road, died Friday morning at his home. He was 76 years of age.

His death was due to a self-inflicted gun shot wound, according to Dr. Sledd, medical examiner for Henry County, Tn. His body was discovered in the back yard of his home, officials said.
